KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, THURSDAY, JULY 18, 1940

NO. 29

WHAT HAPPENED HERE 20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Clearwater Good Roads Dis- highway commissioners Mon- warded to Engineer Eugene the contract for the con- of a link of the Lewis and Highway, which will extend point near Arrow to Myrtle. total distance of the project is and six-tenths miles, while that under contract embraces one three-quarter miles. The cost is $47,000. On July 23 the highway district commissioners, in session with the state and fed- government, will award a con- for the five-mile link between Arrow and Arrow Junction and that award made, it is prob- additional contract will be to complete the entire Myrtle- Spalding-Arrow link will cost $100,000.

Clarence Fry, Elmer Shingler, M. Newhall and Mr. Denny returned their trip to California Wed- day. They traveled a distance of 1,500 miles from the time they left Kendrick, June 5. They visited all principal cities along the Cali- coast and did not turn the Mexican border at Tijuana.

Mr. Leitch, now residing near Garfield, Wn., proved to be the oldest settler present. As well as being a settler, he had carried mail from Spokane to Lewiston in 1876. Mr. Stanahan proved to be next oldest, his date being 1879.

At the election of officers held later in the day Dr. Hoyt of Spo- kane, was elected president; and Walter Thomas, also of Spokane, as secretary. And Spokane was chosen as the assembly spot for 1941.

Everyone attending reported a most delightful day—with the renewing of old acquaintances a real pleasure.

The coffee and iced lemonade in copious quantities proved a real treat for all, and vote of thanks was extended the Moscow folk for their fine hospitality.

We were unable to learn who had traveled the furthest to attend—but undoubtedly many miles were rolled up by the group.

There was a very substantial Ken- drick delegation of present residents in attendance, although, for some reason or other, many of the "old guard" were absent, possibly due to the unseasonably early harvest and the rush of haying. To attempt to name them all would be almost an impossibility.

Sign-Up Meetings Completed
Latah County has just completed their community sign-up meetings held in the various districts for 1941 winter wheat plan and applications for 1941 crop insurance.

The average percentage of sign- up for the 1941 winter wheat plan in the county was 61 per cent. Of the number of farmers signing their 1941 winter wheat plan 72.4 per cent signed for 1941 crop insurance. The total number of crop insurance applications signed as of the sign- up meetings totaled 654, which is an all-time record for the third year that the crop insurance program has been in progress.

The consensus of opinion among the majority of the farmers in the county as to why crop insurance is a sound policy is due to the fact that the farmer who has all-cover- age knows he will have 75 per cent of a crop to market and such crop can be marketed for not less than the loan value if he is in compliance with the Agricultural Conservation program.

In other words, crop insurance, along with wheat loans, is attempt- ing to stabilize the farmers annual income. If, however, the farmers production is above normal and the market price of wheat is above the loan rate, the farmer has the op- portunity of taking all of these in- creased advantages.

A number of farmers who were unable to sign a 1941 winter wheat plan and crop insurance application at the scheduled meetings will have up to August 31, 1940, to sign their papers. It is suggested that if those individuals who did not sign at the meetings, but have intentions of signing, contact their local com- munity committeemen for their dis- trict he will assist them in signing their papers.

New Bridge Completed

The new bridge over the top of the "slab" at the mouth of Brady gulch, was completed and opened to travel last Thursday evening, and it is indeed a real improvement.

Edgar Dammarell of the state highway maintenance department and Edgar Long, village marshal, with other local help, worked with the state crew.

Big yellow state guard posts have been put at its sides, and flasher markers installed in the end guards. It is a real improvement, indeed.

KENDRICK PIONEER PICNIC PROVES REAL SUCCESS

The annual Kendrick picnic, a yearly rendezvous of old-time and present residents of Kendrick and vicinity, held this year in the city park at Moscow, was a real suc- cess, with an estimated 250 in at- tendance. The former Kendrick resi- dents now living in Moscow, had charge of the program, and they did a really fine job of it—furnish- ing the music, which consisted of solo numbers by Miss Joy Bell, and a fine selection of numbers by a CCC quartette. C. T. Stranahan of Lewiston was the speaker of the day, all of which was greatly en- joyed.

A Mr. Leitch, now residing near Garfield, Wn., proved to be the oldest settler present. As well as being a settler, he had carried mail from Spokane to Lewiston in 1876. Mr. Stanahan proved to be next oldest, his date being 1879.

At the election of officers held later in the day Dr. Hoyt of Spo- kane, was elected president; and Walter Thomas, also of Spokane, as secretary. And Spokane was chosen as the assembly spot for 1941.

NORTHWEST WHEAT MAR- KETS HOLD ABOUT STEADY

Wheat markets in the Pacific Northwest did not follow the sharp declines at important midwestern markets during the past week and cash prices held about unchanged from a week ago, states the Agri- cultural Marketing Service in the Weekly Grain Market Review. De- mand was not urgent from the trade but extremely light offerings by growers at country points tend- ed to hold the market steady.

Cash wheat prices at Portland on July 12 were shown as: soft white, western white and western red, all at 73c, and hard red winter at 72½c per bushel, all basis No. 1 grade in bulk. Indemnity payments on flour for export at the close of the period was 90c for the Phil- ippines and $1.20 per barrel to China and Hong Kong. Flour sales were reported only moderate during the week.

Trade reports indicated that two parcels of wheat were sold to the United Kingdom and one to Shang- hai during the week under the ex- port subsidy program from this area, with the exchange situation restrict- ing further sales to China, both for wheat and flour. Domestic flour business was reported slow and mill demand for cash wheat was only moderate to light. However, the principal factor in the cash wheat market situation in Portland was the lack of offerings from growers at current values, which are only around the lower levels. Wheat re- ceipts by rail during the week to- taled 444 cars at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals, much of which represented deliveries on earlier sales. Crop conditions are now an increasingly important mar- ket influence with trade reports in- dicated that the Northwest spring wheat crop is in need of rain. Har- vesting of winter wheat in main producing areas now is in progress, but with samples showing some light test weights and smut con- tent above normal. Wheat millfeeds are holding steady to firmer. Cash wheat prices at Seattle on July 12 were: western white, western red and hard winter, 72½c per bushel.

The San Francisco wheat market was only moderately active but held somewhat firmer than other domes- tic markets during the past week. In contrast with the rather sharp declines at midwestern points prices of California wheat held practically unchanged from a week ago. Dis- appointing California crop outturns and light marketings by growers were largely responsible for market firmness since demand was rather slow. Conditions on July 1, pointed to a California winter crop of 337- 500 tons, a decrease of around 35- 000 tons from the June 1 forecast and almost 100,000 tons below the May 1 expectations.

Marketings of wheat at Kansas City in the 6 day period July 6 to 12 of 9,750 cars established a new high record for any Saturday through Friday period in the history of the market. Quality of the week's arrivals averaged somewhat lower than earlier. Millers, merchan- disers and storage interests were all buyers on a large scale.

The cash wheat situation at Min- neapolis showed some irregularity. Receipts were only moderate but demand held indifferent. Arrivals totaled 371 cars of all classes, and Duluth unloaded 133.

Receipts of wheat at Chicago were considerably heavier this week due to movement of the new crop, most of which is going into storage with only a small proportion being ap- plied on previous contracts and a still smaller proportion offered for sale in the cash market. Quality of arrivals were very good, grading mostly No. 1 and No. 2 red winter, dark hard, hard winter and a good proportion of mixed wheat, soft red winter and hard.

Favorable harvesting conditions prevailed throughout most of the winter wheat belt during the week and cutting was about 90 per cent completed in the eastern two-thirds of Kansas and had extended to northern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Lack of moisture threatened dam- age to spring wheat especially in areas of light soil. Conditions were less favorable than during the pre- vious week in western portions of Minnesota and the crop made good to only fair progress in North Da- kota.

The condition of spring wheat in Canada at the close of June was about 10 per cent lower than on June 30, 1939, when rainfall was exceptional during June.

Prospects remained unfavorable in the Danube basin, where official and private estimates now suggest an outturn of 165 to 170 million bush- els under last year, when the pro- duction totaled 453 million bushels. The loss of Rumanian territory to Russia comprises about 25 per cent of the arable land in Rumania. This area in 1938 produced about 20 per cent of the total Rumanian wheat and corn crops. Harvesting made favorable progress in Italy and winter crops were reported maturing satisfactorily in western Europe. Spring crops, however, were suffer- ing from dry weather.

In the southern hemisphere, heavy rains continued to retard seeding in Argentina, while dryness over the entire country was giving the wheat crop a poor start in Australia. Ac- cording to trade figures, rainfall in northern Argentina since the first of January has been more than four inches above normal and in the south more than eight inches above normal.

HARVEST TIME IS HERE AGAIN!

Where Are You Making Those Necessary Purchases?

Did You Ever Figure Out The Cost Of Out-Of-Town Buying? Do You Believe It Pays?

We all realize that in this busy harvest season no one has much time to read — but we do believe that anyone will do a bit of reading to save money — and money can really be saved! Did you ever stop, take a piece of paper and a pencil and figure out just what it costs you per mile to run your car or truck? We'll wager that at some time or another you have. Now it's easy to see that it costs money, and the fewer miles you drive to do your shopping the more you can spend on that fishing or vacation trip. Isn't that a fact? And besides the cost per mile to operate your car, your time must be figured as worth something!

Now, with these thoughts as a basis, can you afford to do your trading out of town? With their low overhead, Kendrick merchants and business men can serve you as cheaply as the "out of town merchant." A nationally advertised, quality piece of merchandise or fine services, are readily obtainable here. Is it good business to go out of town, or to "mail order" for merchandise or other things. For to the "foreign purchase" must be added the mileage costs of your car, and the cost of your own time.

We believe that a few minutes with a pencil will serve to convince you that not only is Kendrick your home town, but the cheapest place in which to trade! Try it out a few weeks. It's our firm belief that you will become a Kendrick booster from that time on.

Remember, you'll find friendliness and real service in the home town, too. They know you, know your needs.

We are prompted to sponsor this message to the people of Kendrick and vicinity through our interest in community welfare.

The John Darby family and Edw. Darby and son attended the Kendrick Pioneer Picnic in Moscow on Sunday.

Mrs. Julia Ekman, who has been up on the ranch a few days, returned to her home in Juliaetta Friday evening.

Correction: In last week's Clippings, we stated that Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Souders returned to their home in Kellogg on Saturday. Mr. Souders did return, but Mrs. Souders stayed for a longer visit. Friday of this week Mr. Souders came back to take his wife home, and they left Sunday. We understood Mrs. Axel Swanson and Mrs. L. A. Watson, mother and sister of Mrs. Souders, to have said: "We don't know what we'd have done without her." They have both been on the sick list and Mrs. Souders' visit was very timely.

Labor Laws.
 The Senate has not made any progress with House amendments to the National Labor act, and therefore the old Labor board remains in power and the Wagner act is unchanged. The House went to bat on these issues and voted for changes in the Labor board. The probabilities are the Senate will be "too busy" with political and domestic questions to complete legislation on this subject, for fear of losing a lot of votes in the coming election.

Dr. McWilliams Heard From

Big Double Bill
 This week you will have an opportunity of seeing a real "Missouri" show at the Kendrick Theatre, one of which is a real "western"—"Days of Jesse James," in which is retold many of the exploits of James, one of the "best-known" bank robbers and desperadoes that ever lived, killed and robbed. A reward of $50,000 was once placed on the head of James and his gang of outlaws.
 The other feature will be "In Old Missouri" with the Weaver Brothers and Alvry. This group has been on the silver screen here once before and really needs no introduction. It is said to be a real life story and one that will be enjoyed by all.
 Why not support your home town merchants. They deserve it!

WE NEED MORE CONTENTED COWS
HAROLD THOMAS, Editor

EDITORIAL

Well, Folks—Seems like harvest didn't come on this year—it just dashed in—for here we are right in the middle of it in just about the middle of July. Well, things like that have a habit of happening, just as regularly as its time to pull the old cows, pay taxes and vote at elections. And it won't be long until our crop of political candidates will have to be harvested, also. One nice thing about it right now, however, is the fact that we haven't time to stop and talk to the politicians, or listen to their line of chatter over the air waves. It's really too bad that you can't store all the hot air they're spouting and use it to heat the house with next winter. It might be good for something if we could.

By the way—are you making use of your locker box? If not, why not, and if you haven't one, why not? Come in and talk it over with us.

Customer: (In drug store on Sunday morning): "Would you please give me two nickles for a dime?"

Druggist: "Here you are and I hope you enjoy the sermon."

A good memory test: Try to recall the things you were worrying about last week.

Husband: "I locked the car up before we left, and now, confound it, I've lost the key."

Wife (helpfully): "Never mind, John, dear, it's a swell night, so let's ride home in the rumble seat!"

First Steno: "Why, dearie, the boys run after my kisses."

Second Steno: "So what? After mine they limp!"

Several from the ridge have been on the sick list.

Distribute Salt For Big Game

Distribution of 90 tons of coarse and sulphurized block salt in big-game regions of Idaho has begun, so says Owen W. Morris, state fish and game director.

The salt is being distributed by conservation officers with the assistance of the forest service and the grazing service.

"This year's big-game salt distribution program is the largest ever undertaken by the department," Morris said, "and instead of having the salt delivered to warehouses before being distributed as in previous years, we are having it delivered directly to points of entry into big game areas."

"The salt will be distributed in all of the counties of Idaho where big game is found. Last year the department distributed 44 tons of salt."

No One Has "Right-Of-Way"

On narrow mountain roads, no one has right-of-way, warns Harry M. Rayner, commissioner of law enforcement.

Usually preference is accorded the car going up a steep grade, and the car on down-grade backs to a turning-out spot. If the dangerous edge of the road is the right of the down-grade car, it should back up past the turning-out place and then go forward, so as to take its place on the outside of the roadbed.

Courtesy and common sense should govern at all times; no hard and fast rule can be laid down that will meet all situations fairly.
