Early Resident Celebrates Birthday

Mrs. Augusta M. Harris of Ritzville (center), one of the first settlers in Adams county, recently celebrated her 87th birthday at Ritzville. She is shown here seated between two of her grandchildren, Marilyn Edwards (left) and Nancy Edwards. Mrs. Harris' husband, the late J. M. Harris, along with Will McKay, J. G. Bennett and D. Keller, came to what is now Ritzville in the fall of 1878 and took up government land. The families remained in Walla Walla until the men could build homes. They were the first and only settlers on the prairie between Cow creek and Crab creek.

FOR ORCHARDISTS

Weather conditions in the Inland Empire in the last two weeks have been favorable from the standpoint of the fruit grower.

The heavy snows have melted gradually and there has been very little runoff as not much frost was in the ground and the moisture has gone into the soil. In some fruit districts nearly a foot of snow remained on the ground last week end.

The gradual moderation of the weather, with cold nights, has held back fruit trees and buds have not swelled materially.

STUDENTS PRESENT MYSTERY DRAMA

"Drums in My Henrt," a three-act mystery play, was presented by the high school students Tuesday night, February 23, in the school auditorium, under the direction of Miss Powell.

The members of the cast did their parts very well and it was thoroughly enjoyed by a splendid audience.

Those taking part were Joe Browing, James Cuddy, Marjorie Groseclose, Lucille Stuart, Lloyd Nyc, Jack Browning, Virginia Burns, Elmo Davis and Juanita Kite.

John Halliday was stuge manager and Vera Fix was assistant director.

FEDERAL STATE ROADS SHOW VAST INCREASE

The state of Washington since 1934 has gained, through the federal road building program, 610 miles of completed highway for which the government furnished $13,481,000 and the state $1,843,000, according to a check on the latest status of the work.

$2,569,000 on Hand.

A total of $2,569,000 of federal funds remains from the original appropriations for the state of Washington for use on new road projects. In addition to this balance there are also sufficient funds to complete the 91 miles of highway of this program now under construction in the state.

Has Many Projects.

Since 1935 there have been 27 grade separations completed in the state, for which the government provided $1,009,-000. There are 14 more such projects now being completed with federal money, and there remains $253,000 unexpended and available for new grade separation work.

"One of the newest containers for these spring flowers is a wooden shoe, authentic European peasant type, which can serve as a flower pot until the blooms die, and then be worn in the garden as a gardening shoe."

SPOKANE.-Very light offerings of good cattle was made last week at Spokane. Steers and heifers held steady 1,20, while common to medium and canner and cutter cows were 25 cents lower. A few steers were good enough to bring $7.75 to $8. Bulk sales were at $7 to $7.50 per cwt. Good heifers 2.00 brought $6.50 to $7 and others $5.50 to $6.25 per cwt. Good beef cows brought $6.25 and others sold at $5 to $5.75. Veal calves sold at $9.50 down, and 2.00 bulls $5.75 down.

The hog market varied somewhat during the week. In early trading prices advanced 25 cents to 50 cents per cwt. with prime hogs selling at $10 to $10.25 but at the close of the week all advances had been lost and the market closed at $9.75 to $9.85.

There was practically no trading in sheep. A few lambs brought $8.50 per cwt.

Betty Bauers, Martha Buroker and Margaret Davis | Minneapolis, were named on the program committee. The next meeting is scheduled for March 22.

RAILROADS RAISE BUDGETS FOR 1937

Bigger 1937 railroad budgets for improvements were cited in financial circles recently as one trend which may help Uncle Sam cut federal relief expenditures.

The carriers, after almost retiring from the equipment market in the worse depression years, have embarked upon the largest buying campaign since the close of 1929 and early 1930.

Railway Age, a trade publication, reported purchases of materials, supplies, and equipment in December shot up to about $120,000,000, almost twice the comparable 1935 figure and the biggest monthly total since January, 1930.

Orders accumulating on books of equipment makers, together with increased expenditures for steel and other materials, will mean many new jobs as manufacturers expand operations.

WEATHER WISDOM

A circle around the moon means storm. As many stars as are in the circle, so many days before it will rain. When the scent of your pipe is retained longer than usual, it often forebodes a storm.

A deep clear sky of fleckless blue breeds storms within a day or two. If metal plates and dishes sweat, look out for had weather.

Blue sky in the northwest is a sign of approaching clear weather.

ENROLL BEFORE MARCH 31! Enrollment cards must be turned in 30 days earlier this year. To receive official recognition of 4-H club work, each member must have his carollment card in the county extension office before the end of March. Both old and new club members must fill out the cards and send them in, If any club does not have eards, they can contact the extension office and they will be supplied with cards,

Any group of five or more rural boys or girls with common interests may organize a 4-H club by choosing an adult leader and registering with their local assistant county

Since the time is short, every club member who is not enrolled should take time out now and mail in the enrollment card as enrollment coses March 31.

Here's Hollywood!

By JACK HARDY (Copyright 1937)

Talking with Dick Powell this week found him more than usually chatty. Perhaps the peacefulness of the forest scene in which he was working stirred his thoughts, "All this success isn't quite understandable. I certainly don't rate the tremendous income I'm getting. I have a good voice, maybe, but I'm no genius, This movie stardom is a forced build-up and I guess I'm just lucky to have so many fans."

Dick's fond hope and serious ambition is yet to become a grand opera singer. He studies for it steadily, too.

Evelyn Venable is going to have mother baby. She is more interested in having a family than a screen career. After she finished making "Happy Go Lucky" in December she said she would not make another picture for some time.

"Yes," she told me, "there will be a second one in a month. After all, I thing."

Miss Venable's husband is Hal Mohr, director-cameraman.

Generous Gene Autry, singing cowboy star, while on his recent personal appearance tour through Texas and Oklahoma, was invited to entertain the prisoners at Oklahoma State prison, Ho gave them more than an hour of cowboy songs and guitar numbers. Then a prison quartet returned the compliment, singing several numbers of which one was na original by a life-termer.

"It was perfect in rhythm and cowhoy melody," Autry enthusiastically reported, "So I bought the song to use in my next picture. An odd thing about it is that, because prisoners are permitted to be known only by number, on the screen credit will be given only

Warner Baxter threw a party on the stage for east and crew at the finish of his last picture, serving up some of his famous chili. Director Tay Garnett was presented with a rack of 18 pipes by the crew, and humorously wise cracked that he should have 12 more, or one for every day of the month. Half an hour later he did. Baxter sent out for a dozen corncob pipes to round out the month's supply.

Garden City Grange Protests Fake Ads lock.

In a protest against misleading statements contained in liquor and tobacco advertisements, the Garden City Grange of Snohomish county has drawn up the following resolution:

Whereas, in these days of business expansion and the attempts of great corporations to extend the sale of their products, manufacturers of beer, wine, intoxicating liquors and eigarettes are using the newspapers, books, magazines, billboards and radio extensively for pushing the sale of such products; and

Whereas, it is noted with alarm by thoughtful citizens that the misleading statements and propaganda contained in these advertisements as to the benefits and desirability of such products is becoming more and more extensive; that the claims made as to food values and health-giving qualities of such products are contrary to experience and the testimony of scientists, yet many of the young people and older ones as well are deceived by such alluring and untrue pictures and advertisements, and they are induced to indulge at first temperately but later become addicts and thus learn of the falsity of such propaganda when it is too late to remedy the evil results;

Therefore, be it resolved, That the voice of the Grange membership of the country be raised against a continued permission of the authorities in the use of such propaganda and advertisements, and that we hereby petition the federal trade commission to take up the matter and to adopt and promulgate such regulations as will curb such advertisements.

WHEN You Use PYROIL Why? BECAUSE:

- Less Friction Drag
- Better Compression
- Valves Perform Properly
- Spark Plugs Remain Clean

The average car owner has no accurate way of checking his actual gas mileage as there are so many varying conditions, such as proper adjustment of carburetor and timing, conditions of spark plugs, tire pressure, road and climate conditions, humidity, etc.

HOWEVER, accurate and scientific records of large fleet operators, bus, freight and taxis, all show at least a 15 per cent gas mileage GAIN after they have used Pyroil "A" in their fuel and Pyroil "B" in their lubrication.

PYROIL'S PERFORMANCE IS PROVEN PERFORMANCE

Pyroil is sold from coast to coast by all Goodyear, Goodrich, Sears and Wards stores, progressive independent service stations and garages. There is NO SUBSTITUTE for PYROIL.

PHILADELPHIA SALAD IS A HIT MONUMENTAL CO. TO MOVE SOON

The trusty refrigerator continues straight through full and winter to turn out frozen dishes that we enjoy. The next time your bridge club meets, give them this:

Mash a package of Philadelphia cream cheese until soft. Add 3 tablespoons mayonnaise gradually, mix well. Add 1/2 cup cream which has been whipped, then fold in 1/2 cup chopped pasteurized dates, 1/2 cup crushed pineapple (canned) and 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Put in freezing trays of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm. Serve on lettuce with fruit salad dressing.

Fluffy rice folded into whipped cream and combined with fruit is a quicker than the eye dessert that's good

Your Asparagus

Asparagus is too good for just a chance acquaintanceship. It is one of those foods that you like to know, and which like good books or good music, improves with acquaintance.

Know, then, that there are two varieties of canned asparagus-the white and the green. These are planted from the same seed, but they are picked differently. Green asparagus is green because the tips of the spears have been allowed to poke through the earth and see the sun for a while. White asparagus remains white because it is picked before being exposed to the sun.

January 30, 1937 Dear Aunt Marion:

I am a Yakima girl, in the fifth grade. I'll be 11 the first day of spring, May 21. I've been sick in bed with tonsil poisoning since Christmas, I was in the hospital two weeks. Dad took me in, on New Year's day, I had to eat soup the first week, but I had ice cream on New Year's day, I received p lot of letters from my schoolmates, a doll from my mother and my nurse gave me a dolly, bottle, rattle, nipple and brush set. Jenilee Jones was in the same room as I. She was in an auto accident and broke her pelvis bone and hurt her back and is kept in a cast. I don't know when I'll go back to the hospital to have my tonsils out, I've been trying to walk but I get too dizzy. I wish I were out playing in that snow. The last time I was outdoors I raked leaves. I would like to join your Children's Corner and would like to hear from some of the boys and girls. They all seem to have pets. I should have some too. My pet is a Scotty dog but he don't bite nor scratch nor bark, nor sleep nor eat. But he's a swell pet. My bestest pet is my baby sister. She's 2 years old and likes me the best, I have six brothers and three sisters. We all live in a big house on 16th avenue. Of course it's got to be big for a big family like ours. It's sure swell to have a lot of brothers and sisters. We never get lonesome. My three oldest brothers go skiing a lot. I'm going to learn as soon as I get better if there's any snow left. My 3-year-old brother, Mickie, is learning to ski on his own skis and is he cute! I'm getting pretty tired dear Aunt Marion and it's getting late. They are having the request hour over KIT. I enjoy that and the Marvel Kiddie program and Orphan Annie. I hope I'll see this in the Children's Corner and how soon may I got a pin I I think it's fun to belong to a club. Have I a twin or quints? Goodby and good luck. Your

Dear Aunt Marion: I want to thank you very much for the levely C. C. C. pin I received last evening. It came as quite a surprise to me. It's been a long time since I wrote to the Cousins, but I sure road every you before. One large reason why was letter they write. I'm the only pupil in because I have been in bed a week with school since before Christmas, because the 'flu. Today (Saturday) is the first the other three pupils have been sick with scarlet fever. But I expect them back soon. It is awful lonesome for the teacher and me. We have lots of snow up on Mingo mountain, but I don't like to sleighride alone. I wish some of you Cousins were here to join me. I was 8 years old January 14, Have I. a twin? Your niece, SYNOPSIS Driving from Chicago to a western town to meet his girl, Katherine Grant, to be married, Joe Wilson is suspected of being one of a kidnap gang and arrested just before reaching his goal. Inflamed townsfolk march to the jail to get him, but are held off by the sheriff, with tear-gas bombs. Katherine, waiting to meet Joe, hears that he is in jail at a nearby town, and, the last bus having gone, starts down the road to go to him, hoping for a lift.

CHAPTER IV. THE MOB AND THE MAN

From the windows of a house overlooking the jail at Sage, newsreel cameramen were rapidly and efficiently taking pictures of the jeering catcalling mob threatening the sheriff and his deputies. They did not dare work the furniture!" in the open; their cameras would have been smashed and themselves subjected to bodily attack. "Oh boy!" cried the head cameraman. "We'll sweep the country with this stuff! Where's Tony?"

"Taking stills," replied an assistant. "I got a spot for some swell closeups." "That's fine, but take care of yourself! This mob eats cameramen!"

"Hey!" cried an assistant at another window. "They're going to break in the jail door!"

Their supply of gas-bombs nearly exhausted, the sheriff and his deputies had taken refuge from the mob inside chairs and other furniture they had piled up against the door listening to the thud, thud of a pole the crowd was using as a battering ram.

"Lock those cell-block doors, Frank!" cried the sheriff to the lock-up man. "Boys, get the fire hose ready! We'll drown the rats! Give me the rest of those bombs. But don't shoot! No matter what happens, don't shoot!"

Above the din came the voice of Joe Wilson, only part of whose words were intelligible. "Let . . . out! . . I'll talk ... me a chance! . . . talk to them!'

With a crashing of splintering wood, the door gave way amid the cheering and jeering of the mob. The leaders burst into the room, knocking aside the furniture. Sheriff Hummell and Bugs Meyers turned the hose on them, momentarily knocking back those in the an fell on her knees, praying: "Oh God, van. The sheriff and his deputies forgive him . . . and forgive our tresswung the butts of their guns until passes . . ."

they were wrenched from their hands The mob was in control of the jail The lock-up keeper was pressed against the wall. "Give us those keys!" commanded Dawson.

"I ain't got the keys, I tell you!" "Where are they?"

Too frightened to speak, the man pointed toward an iron-barred door on the landing. A man with a picket from a fence ran up the stairs and tried to dislodge the keys. They were beyond reach.

"Get the lamp-post! We'll break it down!" cried a voice.

"We haven't got any time!" shouted Dawson. "Those militia'll be here! We'll smoke 'im out!"

"Yeah, that's the ticket!" cried ancther voice, "Get some wood! Break up

In the confusion, Joe's dog, Hash, still tied to the radiator in the sheriff's office, got loose and streaked up the stairs towards Joe's cell amid a hail of missles.

"That's his dog! Don't let her out! Keep her here with him!"

Hash squeezed between the bars of Joe's cell, crept into his outstretched arms and fell to licking his face.

Smoke began to filter up into the corridor. . . . "I turn off here, Miss," said the plumber who had given Katherine a lift in his truck. "Sage is only half a mile over thataway-where you see all the jail. They stood behind the desks, that red. Must be a pretty big fire in Sage."

With a terrified catch in her breath, and without a word of thanks started running along the branch road towards that red glare in the sky.

Breathless, stumbling, terrified, Katherine pushed her way through the mob of men, women and boys in front of the jail. She saw a lamp-post and clung to it to keep from sinking down. towards the burning building. Her face froze in stark terror.

"There he it! At the window!" cried voices. "Drive him back!" . . . "Get place was packed. The people get a back there, Wilson" . . . "What're you kick out of seeing a man burned to looking for? The Peabody girl?"

A woman held up her child to see that face at the window. Another wom-

A perfeet hail of stones rattled against the the bars.

Then Katherine's numb terror left her. She found her voice. "No! No!" in a faint. . . .

A boy, gasping for breath, ran up into the mob, crying: "Soldiers are coming! Four truckloads of 'em!" "Beat it!" . . . "The militial" . .

"Soldiers!" cried many voices and the mob began to disperse.

"I got an idea," said a miner, "We can fix it so they won't even be able to find the jail! I got some dynamite sticks!" "That's the stuff!" said his companion. They ran towards the jail.

"Wait! Here's a woman fainted," said a man retreating from the crowd. "Help her up," said the woman with him. "We can't leave her-"

A roaring explosion from the jail drowned her voice. As the roar subsided, screaming of brakes announced the arrival of the trucks of militiamen. Charlie and Tom Wilson sat in the at the headlines of a newspaper.

"Kidnapers caught; confess. G-men nab whole gang. Helen Peabody and ransom money returned.

Charlie stared at the headlines in another Chicago paper: "Innocent man lynched! Burned alive by mob!" He crushed the paper and threw it away. "Yeh, now he's innocent! Yeh."

"I can't get it out of my head," said Tom. "Can't sleep. . . . When I close my eyes . . ."

"If I could only get at them dirty rats!" cried Charlie with a vicious ex-Katherine jumped down from the truck pulsion of breath. "We're gonna go out there, Tom, and get them skunks-kill them the way they killed Joe."

"That's 10-cent store talk," said an icy cold voice behind them.

They turned, stared with bulging eyes. "J-Joe! Joe!" cried Tom. "Pull down the shades. Put out that light," ordered Joe Wilson. When they Sobbing for breath, she raised her eyes had obeyed he sat down in a chair. "Know where I've been all day? In a movie-watching a newsreel-of myself . . . getting burned alive. The death."

"But, Joe. . . . We thought. How did vou-"

"The explosion blew out the cell door. It killed the dog. Almost burned my side off. I got down a rainpipe. Swam

"Did you get-burned bad?" asked

"Yeh, but that don't hurt me, You can't hurt a dead man, I'm dead. The walls of the burning building, against whole country knows that . . . Remember me preachin' to you to live right, be decent? I tried to- People won't let you. You were right, Charlie. she cried gaspingly, and slumped down Donelli was right. I was wrong. But now I know. And I'll get 'em. I was burned to death by a mob of animals. I'm legally dead and they're legally murderers. I know 'em-a lot of 'em. And they'll hang. The law says so, But I'll give 'em a chance they didn't give me. They'll get a legal trial-a legal defense, a legal judge, and a legal death. . . . But I can't do it myself. A dead man can't file charges. You'llhave to do it for me. See this? I tore this page out of a law book in the public library . . ."

The law proved not so simple. The district attorney at Capital City was sympathetic, but what could he do without a corpse? "Every move I make I bump into a stone wall. Sure, they're guilty. The way they cleared away the debris of the jail in jig-time proves that-ashes and all dumped into the river. Before I can charge anybody room they had shared with Joe, staring with murder I'll have to prove that a murder was committed. And I can't even find one person who'll swear that at the time the jail was burned your brother was in it at all. If one person would admit it, I'd go before the grand jury tomorrow."

Charlie and Tom went to see Katherine. The doctor was just leaving. She did not know them-seemed dazed, impervious to all outside sensation. She had been in that condition, her landlady told them, ever since she was brought back from Sage. Charlie spoke to her compassionately yet eagerly,

"We're Joe's brothers, Katherine Charlie and Tom. Try to remember." At the name of her lover, a shudder passed over Katherine's face. She appeared to make a great effort to think.

After a time she recognized them.

"Charlie, Tom. . . . Oh, Charlie, I saw him . . . I saw Joe, behind the bars in that burning jail. . . . His poor face—the agony . . . the mob yelling." "The witness," whispered Charlie to Tom. "We've got 'em!"

HEAVY THAW DAMAGES BRIDGES

SUNYSIDE, Wash.-Heavy thawing last week caused virtually all roads below Union Cap to be closed to heavy hauling, O. E. Brasheurs, Yakima county engineer, reported. This was done as a protection during the period white frost is working out of them.

Weather such as that of Tuesday, last week, is not a menace to the roads as long as there is no heavy hauling on them, Brashears said.

Mail is being bauled from Clarkston "besides one settler from Cincinnati, by sleigh. Most main and farm roads are passable for sleds.

CHENEY EDUCATOR FLAYS OLD WAYS

Diseard textbooks, failures, report eards, grade competitions and similar traditional practices in the elementary grades and the way is opened for modern progressive educational curriculum, Clarke Frasier, director of training at the Eastern Washington College of Edueation, Cheney, told members of the Idaho-Washington Schoolmasters club at their luncheon meeting at the Bol-Enger hotel at Lewiston Saturday,

Speaking on "Progressive Education at Work in the Schoolnoom," he averred that outmoded subject matter currieulum set up by adults must give way for INLAND EMPIRE child development, mentally, emotionally, physically, morally and education ally."

About 30 educators from central Idaho and eastern Washington gathered for the meeting despite stormy weather conditions.

1936 Banner Year In All Farm Areas

Cash receipts from the sale of principal farm products for the year 1936 were higher than the previous year in all geographical regions of the country, the bureau of agricultural economics reported today. All states showed larger farm receipts, except Montana, Oklahoma and North Carolina,

The largest increases over a year ago occurred in the north central states where, despite the drought and smaller crops, cash receipts averaged nearly 20 per cent higher in 1936 than in

States showing the largest increase were Maine, up 51 per cent, and Minnssota, 30 per cent. In Montana, which showed greatest decrease, 18 per cent, a large proportion of the total income is received from crops, and crop production was greatly restricted by the Government payments to farmers in 1936 were smaller than in 1935 in all regions. They totaled $287,000,000 compared with $583,000,000 in 1935.

Cash receipts from the sale of farm products during December averaged 18 per cent higher than a year earlier, the bureau reported. Receipts were higher in all regions. The greatest increase occurred in the east north central states, where the income from crops was unusually large,

For the United States as a whole, income from the sale of crops in Dec ember was 22 per cent higher than a year earlier: from live stock and live stock products the increase amounted to 15 per cent.

Total government payments during the month amounted to $36,000,000 compared with $50,000,000 in December, 1935.

For the year 1936 the percentage increase in income from crops exceeded that from live stock, according to the bureau. The larger income from crops was partly the result of heavier sales of crops during the first half of the year, but was largely due to the marked advance in prices as the extent of the 1936 drought became more

Several states in the north central group recorded a marked increase in farm income for the year, the largest being in Minnesota, and Illinois. In Illinois the increased receipts came largely from sales of corne particularly early in the season when much of the 1935 crop was going to market. Improvement in Minnesota was due especially to increased receipts from sales of corn, barley, flaxseed and logs.

In the inter-mountain and far west ern states the wide variety of farm products and variations in weather conditions resulted in marked fluctuations in income in 1936. The wheat erop in Montana was sharply cut by the drought, and income for the state was lowered. Arizona had smaller reccipts from its truck crops and cattle, more than off-etting its larger receipts from cotton. The greatest increase in receipts in this area was in Colorado, coming largely from sugar beets and potatoes. California increased its income, derived especially from citrus fruits, cotton, truck crops, wheat and barley.

Notes From the Testers

"On December 18 and 19 the assistant agent attended the dairy and crops school held at Toledo and Centralia. This was an excellent opportunity to stress the importance of keeping records on the dairy cow. The assistant agent gave short talks at both meetings about testing; although no direct members were secured, several prospects were obtained." -Elbert S. Baker, Lewis County,

Doctor Heizer has traveled abroad and prepared to show the importance of long time breeding programs in developing a breed of high-producing cattle. No dairyman can afford to miss this school.

The testers' conference will be held on March 12, all day.

State Dairymen's Association Meeting Even though snow blanketed the entire west coast, many dairymen managed to find their way to the state meeting held at Chehalis. Attendance was the best that it has been for five years. It is difficult to say how large an attendance there would have been had it not been for the adverse weather conditions.

Mr. C. L. Burlingham, manager of the national dairy show, who was representing the Guernsey cattle club, proved to be a very delightful speaker. Mr. Burlingham had a slogan which served as a basis of a great portion should be for every dairyman to test sible to attain this goal, certainly the entire dairy industry would be on a ing cows as well as providing information from which to carry on a sound breeding program.

a cold frame (or a hot-bed cither) may be any size you wish, to fit old windows, or frames covered with one of the modern glass substitutes.

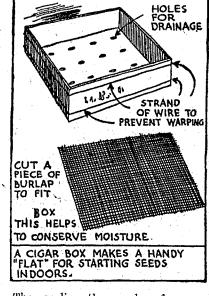

These glass substitutes are worth considering. They do not break, and the breakage of glass in windy localities is sometimes considerable. They are much lighter than glass, a merit which women appreciate. They do not let in as much light as glass, but for growing seedlings they let in enough.

The substitutes most commonly used consist either of wire screens covered with material resembling celluloid, or tabries treated with wax to make them waterproof, and let more light through. ## For Early Start

GET JUMP ON WEATHER BY PLANTING EARLY INDOORS.

The earlier the seeds of annuals which are to furnish the main summer display can be started, the carlier they will begin to bloom and the longer will be their season of beauty. Get seed boxes ready by easy stages, picking them up in convenient depths and sizes as they can be found and then when planting time comes along in March which skids along almost before you know it, everything will be ready for the spring seed sowing bee.

Get in clods of frozen earth from the garden to thaw and dry out to fill the seed boxes. After the soil has thawed and dried, bake it in a hot oven to kill weed seeds and insects that may be lurking in the soil. Stow it away and mix with a little pulverized sheep manure and have it ready to sift into the seed boxes when the time comes.

These are details usually left until the last minute, but their preparation early in the season will go a long way towards making the raising of plants from seeds a success and will do away with the usual delays. If the soil is prepared and sifted and set away, it is a short job to get the seeds planted.
