

B. B. Stag Club Party

The Big Bear Ridge Stag Club held a Valentine party at the Taney school house last Monday evening that was pronounced by those present to be the social event of the season, and the "best ever." The party was given by the Club in honor of the ladies and nothing was left undone to make the evening a most enjoyable one.

There are two entrances to the school house and two cloak rooms. One entrance was reserved for the ladies and the other for Stags, and as the guests came they were met at the door by two good looking young men who checked their wraps.

When the crowd had gathered a whistle by one of the Club members outside caused a stampede of the stags among the audience, in the general direction of the signal. Shortly after the curtain was raised on the stage and the members of the Club appeared in a body and sang "Hail! Hail! The Gang's All Here", accompanied by the orchestra. They again resumed their places in the audience and the other numbers of the program were rendered, consisting of an address of welcome, several vaudeville sketches with musical numbers during intermissions. The last number and the feature of the evening was a stag dance, put on by four stags and a dummy woman, known as the Club Favorite. The orchestra furnished the jazz for the feature. After two encores one of the dancers fell off the stage with the "Favorite" and "queered the show".

The vaudeville sketch, a surgical operation, caused a great deal of hilarity. One of the Stags suffered the amputation of a perfectly good hind leg, which was carelessly thrown to the audience after it had been severed in the approved manner with a butcher knife and meat saw. The "hard boiled" indifference of the surgeons created a vast amount of admiration among the spectators, and instead of sympathy, the unfortunate patient was greeted with hilarious mirth as he hopped off the stage on one leg.

Another sketch which brought tears of compassion to the eyes of all married men present, was an exhibition of hubby trying to take care of the baby, while wife was jazzing around at the picture show. There wasn't a dry eye among the married males at the conclusion of the sketch.

After the program the ladies indulged in a tug of war. A beautiful prize cake was awarded to the winners, who felt highly elated over their success. Their joy was short-lived, however, as the cake proved to be a frost—just a piece of frosted wire netting. It looked good but it had no other value.

After indulging in a splendid lunch, served by members of the Club, the balance of the evening was devoted to games. The conclusion of the affair was "Good Night Ladies", sung by the Club members.

The decorations used for the party were appropriate to St. Valentine's Day. The hobo vaudeville artists even going so far as to have their ragged clothes patched with red hearts.

Following is the program for the entertainment and the menu for the banquet. At the last minute the Club made a few changes in both, but as it was the printed copy distributed among the guests, it is being published as handed in:

Farm Bureau Meeting

The annual county-wide business meeting of the Latah County Farm Bureau will be held at Morrill Hall, the agricultural building at the University of Idaho, Moscow, at 1:30 p. m., Wednesday, February 23rd. The time and place for the meeting was decided upon at a meeting of the executive committee of the farm bureau held in Moscow on Friday, February 11th.

At this meeting the work of the farm bureau for the past year will be discussed and plans will be made for the county-wide work of the bureau for the coming year. Projects, or lines of work, will be selected and leaders elected for these projects. The men elected as leaders of the projects will make up the executive committee for the coming year, and the officers for the executive committee for the ensuing year will be elected from men elected project leaders. A number of other important matters will be up for consideration.

F. L. Williams, State leader of county agents, has been invited to address the meeting.

Mr. A. S. Lyons, president of the Latah County Farm Bureau, urges every farmer to attend the meeting.

Bootleggers Sentenced

Star-Mirror: Wednesday was a hard day on bootleggers in Latah county. Judge E. C. Steele, of the district court, gave heavier sentences than at any time recently, when five men came before him on pleas of guilty of illicit dealing in liquor.

John Mowbray and Vernon H. Wiggins, of Spokane, arrested at Kendrick recently with $300 worth of cocaine and four quarts of alcohol in their suit cases, pleaded guilty to having liquor in their possession and were each sentenced to serve four months in the county jail.

Joe Rivers, arrested by Deputy Sheriff Pat Malone, at Bovill, for having liquor in his possession, pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $200 and sentenced to serve four months in the county jail. He has been under suspicion of being implicated in the making of "moonshine" according to the statements of officers, and Deputy Sheriff Malone says Rivers was intoxicated when arrested in his "shack" at Bovill.

Joe Rudniger, of Spokane, and Jesse Lamb, who were arrested by Chief of Police Grant Robbins, last week on a charge of having liquor in their possession, when a barrel of fermenting mash and a gasoline stove were found in their home on Third street, a block from the Methodist church, pleaded guilty to the charge and were each given 60 days in the county jail. They had been in jail 10 days but got no credit for that time, their sentence beginning the day it was administered by the court. The county jail is well filled now, having just a dozen inmates of whom nine are serving sentences for illicit dealings in liquor. The number of inmates is the largest in many months.

MacPherson's Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. MacPherson entertained the Circle Card Club at their home last Friday evening. The evening was devoted to "500" with three tables. Mr. and Mrs. Braden were guests of the Club. The rooms were decorated in a manner suitable to St. Valentine's Day. After several hours of interesting hands, Mrs. MacPherson served refreshments consisting of sandwiches, salad, pickles, cake and coffee. This was the second meeting of the Club which will hereafter meet the second and last Tuesdays of each month. Mrs. Braden and Mr. Boyd made the highest scores of the evening.

Following is a list of those present: Messrs. and Mesdames. Leith, Boyd, McCrery, Kite, Braden and MacPherson.

Masons Entertain Ladies

The St. Valentine's party given at the Fraternal Temple last Monday evening by the Masons of Kendrick Lodge No. 26, was a great success. A crowd numbering about eighty people attended.

The festivities began about seven o'clock with a splendid banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. N. Broeke and Mrs. John Broeke. The tables were decorated profusely with red and white carnations and were fairly groaning under the weight of the chicken dinner which the Broekes so delightfully prepared.

After the banquet Barton's Orchestra of Lewiston rendered a short program which was a very pleasing feature of the evening. Then followed a picture show, during the progress of which the orchestra played. The rest of the evening was devoted to dancing.

There were a number of the older brothers and sisters who still clung to the more ancient customs of the fraternity. They wanted to "square dance". However, it developed that out of the entire number assembled no one knew how to call the dances. Sheriff Woody came to the rescue. He said that his deputy, Mr. Smummerfeld, was a past master at calling square dances, so a messenger was sent after Mr. Summerfeld, who was prevailed upon to desist from still hunting long enough to preside at the dance. He knew his lines all right, and Brother Watson of Troy had the square dance of his life.

The orchestra was then asked to play a two-step. They didn't know just what a two-step was but somebody suggested that it was "some thing like a fox trot," as nearly as he could remember, so they transposed a fox trot into a very presentable two-step and saved the day. The orchestra didn't have a very lively time of it, but they were good sports and played anything that the dancers desired.

The hall was beautifully decorated with a shower of hearts, suspended from the ceiling by threads. There were five hundred hearts in the shower. Other valentine decorations gave a very pleasing effect in the soft red light shed from red tissue covered globes suspended from the ceiling.

The record of this party in the archives of the lodge will mark this as one of the most successful of the many like events held in the past by Kendrick Lodge No. 26, A. F. & A. M.

School Notes

Monday was the scene of much excitement in the grade rooms. It being St. Valentine's Day, they celebrated it with Valentine boxes.

The returns of the seventh and eighth grade examinations in history and physiology, have been received. Practically all those taking them passed.

Asotin High School comes here to play K. H. S. boys a game of basket ball, Saturday night. This may be your last chance to see a game this season, so be sure to come out and witness this one.

Rock Encased Skeleton

Lewiston Tribune—Workmen in the employ of the Houser Construction company, who are building a portion of the Lewis and Clark highway, recently unearthed a human skeleton encased within a solid rock. It was only after the rock had been blasted that the skeleton was located. The find was made just east of Arrow, near where many skeletons of Indians have been unearthed of late, which indicates a possible aborigine burying ground at some time in the past. How the body became encased in the solid rock, however, is a problem which local archaeologists have been unable to solve, though one theory advanced is that the rock was of soft sandstone when the burial took place, and has since hardened, like concrete, by contact with the elements.

The natural tomb that enclosed the skeleton, is just above where the bones of an Indian were found during the year 1898, when grading was being done for the railroad. The remains of the Indian, which were found at the time, according to Enigneer C. C. Van Arsdol, bore a necklace of about 15 to 20 elk's teeth, as well as one of the very few medals given out by Lewis and Clark when they blazed their trail through this section. The grave also contained a number of copper implements which were tempered to a very high degree of hardness. The science of making implements out of copper is not understood to have been known to the Indians of this section at that time, and have only been found in the United States among prehistoric remains. It is believed that they were obtained through the intertribal trading that was carried on, from the Mexicans, to the south, or perhaps earlier from the Aztecs of that country. The material found in the grave indicated the occupant had been a man of prominence in his tribe, possibly a chieftain.

The elk's teeth, from being in contact with the copper, were colored an attractive green, and were taken by the muckers employed in the railroad construction work to Lewiston, where they were passed over the bars in the saloons for drinks. It was not long, however, before they were being sold about town at from $25 to $50.

It was in this locality, also, that the fossil remains of a prehistoric animal were found not long ago.

Successful Revival Meetings

The revival meetings at the Methodist church ended last Sunday night. Rev. Greene delivered a short but very pointed and effective sermon that might well be taken to heart by those who were fortunate enough to hear it. Fifteen members were added to the church as a result of the meetings, which were in progress for two weeks. The church was taxed to its capacity to accommodate the congregation Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Daugherty of Leland went to Spokane Friday to visit relatives.

Charged With Embezzlement

Nez Perce Herald: A representative of the Averill Machinery Company arrived in this city from Spokane last night and filed a complaint with Prosecuting Attorney Pennell charging Alfred A. Crow with embezzling funds belonging to that company. The necessary details were arranged and Sheriff W. J. Smith left this morning for Craigmont, where it was known Crow had been for the past several days, and finding him there, put him under arrest. He returned shortly with his prisoner, and this afternoon the latter was taken before Probate Judge Ellis, where he waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the district court.

Mr. Crow has been in this section the past eight months, during a portion of the time being employed as selling agent and collector for the Averill company. It is alleged in the complaint that while acting in this capacity he made a collection of some $300 from Wm. A. Eastman last October and appropriated the same to his own personal use.

Mr. and Mrs. Crow and their two children have resided at Nezperce during the time he has been engaged in work on the prairie, and the friends and acquaintances they have made among our people are much surprised at this turn of affairs.

Pleads Not Guilty

The case of Alfred Crow, who is charged with embezzlement, was brought before Judge Scales at Lewiston Monday morning. He pleaded not guilty and his trial will be held at a later date.

Jenks-Dunham

A quiet wedding took place Saturday evening at the Methodist Church at Lewiston, when Miss Edith Jenks, daughter of Mrs. Sylvia Jenks of Lewiston, was married to Mr. Earl Dunham of Idaho Falls. Rev. Henry T. Greene performed the ceremony in the presence of Miss Mamie Kunes of Lewiston and Elmer Stone of Pomeroy, an uncle of the bride.

The bride was tastefully dressed in a dress of French grey Georgette crepe while the groom wore a suit of brown.

The bride is well known at Crescent where she has a wide circle of friends, it having been her home until a year ago, when she moved to Lewiston.

Mr. Dunham is an ex-service man and has made many friends since coming to Lewiston. He has employment with the Troy Lumber Co. of Clarkston, where the happy couple will make their home.

Entertain At Cards

Mrs. E. E. Bechtol and Mrs. Leo Raaberg entertained the members of the Okoke Klouthman and their husbands at cards last Friday evening at the Raaberg home. Four tables were devoted to progressive "500". Mrs. A. V. Dunkle carried off the prize, a book by Rudyard Kipling. One of the features of the evening that caused considerable surprise was the fact that three of the ladies held higher scores than any gentleman present—a very unusual occurrence.

The rooms were prettily decorated in a manner appropriate to the valentine season. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames. Dunkle, McConnell, Newton, Knepper, Carlson, Raaberg, Bechtol, McCrea. George Carlson was a guest of the Club.

Wheat Growers To Meet

There will be a meeting of the Wheat Growers Association at the Union school house on Fix ridge tonight, (Friday). Tomorrow night a meeting will be held in the school house on American ridge at 7:30.

Highway Commissioners Met

The commissioners of Kendrick Highway District held a very important meeting last Saturday and disposed of a large amount of business. At nine o'clock in the morning they got together unofficially to talk over some of the important matters which they expected to dispose of during the regular meeting in the afternoon.

At the usual time they called the meeting to order and disposed of the regular routine of listening to the minutes, allowing bills, etc.

Road overseers for the ensuing year were appointed as follows:

District No. 1, American ridge, N. Broeke; District No. 2, Big Bear ridge, N. E. Ware; District No. 3, Texas ridge, Jack Bailey; District No. 4, Little Bear ridge, Henry Emmett.

The schedule of wages was fixed for labor at 40 cents an hour; road overseers, 50 cents an hour; teams $2.00 per day.

Considerable time was spent discussing the advisability of purchasing a rock crusher for the district. It finally developed that the sentiment of the Board was unanimously in favor of a crusher. It then remained to select the type of machine and it was finally agreed to buy a Champion. An order was placed with representatives of the Company, Mr. Davis and Mr. Rowe, for a 10x20 crusher. This machine has a capacity of 18 tons or 12 yards an hour. It weighs 17,000 pounds and is mounted on trucks, so that it can easily be transported to any part of the district with the tractor. The price of the machine was $3492.90 F. O. B. Portland. It was to have been shipped at once, so the commissioners expect it here within a few days. The big Yuba tractor belonging to the district will furnish the power to operate the crusher.

The commissioners have had a number of offers from farmers and others, that if the district would grade the roads and crush the rock, they would help to have it hauled on the roads. With a continuation of this co-operative spirit there can be considerable permanent road building done in the district this spring.

The commissioners paid $2,000 on the tractor which was purchased last summer.

At nine o'clock p. m. the meeting adjourned.

H. S. Girls Serve Banquet

The domestic science class of the Kendrick High School, under the direction of Miss Esther Lowery, served a delightful banquet to the school board and their wives, the faculty and Dr. Ph. Soulen of the Department of Education of the University of Idaho. The preparing and serving of the banquet gave the members of the domestic science class an opportunity to put into practice some of the theoretical work which they have been doing in the class room. The tables were tastefully arranged and the banquet served very nicely.

Those present were Professor Soulen, Mr. and Mrs. Walker, Mr. Stanton, Mr. Lutz, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, Misses Hood, Lowery, Little, Malloy, McKinnon and O'Conner.

During the course of the dinner the teachers and members of the board of trustees had an opportunity of consulting with Dr. Soulen on any questions which concerned the welfare of the school. It was a very interesting hour and was productive of a large amount of profitable information.

Dr. Soulen intimated, after a thorough inspection of the condition of the school, which he had made during the afternoon, that it would be put on the accredited list of schools of the state. While he hasn't the authority to directly place the school on the accredited list, his recommendation goes to the Board of Education and they generally follow out his wishes. An accredited four years' high school course is a very good showing for a town the size of Kendrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed King of Orofino and Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Petersen were visitors at the J. C. Petersen home, Saturday.

A program was given at the Teakean school on Lincoln's birthday, in the presence of a few of the school patrons.

Effects of Constipation

Constipation causes a stoppage of the sewerage system of the body. The poisonous refuse matter that should be carried away is retained in the system and often poisons the blood and causes numerous disorders. No one can afford to neglect his bowels. A dose of Chamberlain's Tablets will afford relief. Avoid drastic cathartics as they take too much water out of the system and their use is likely to be followed by constipation.—Adv.

Kendrick Highway District will be well equipped with road-building machinery when the new rock crusher arrives. A big Yuba tractor, grader, roter and crusher will make a combination that ought to be amply sufficient at this time to meet the needs of the district along that line. The commissioners deserve credit for buying the best machinery obtainable and all of it has the capacity to do any work that can be done with this kind of machinery.

While the question of state division etc is being discussed, why not form a new county comprising what is known as the Potlatch country with Kendrick as the county seat? It would be a very rich county and the county seat would be centrally located. The people residing within the boundaries of the proposed county would have common interests and could handle their affairs in a very satisfactory manner. Some day maybe we will have a brand new "Potlatch County."

Let's give our highway commissioners all the assistance we can to get actual road construction work started. They are spending a good deal of their valuable time looking after the interests of the district and they will welcome all of the cooperation that can be extended to them. They worked from 9 a. m. Saturday until 9 p. m. getting the affairs of the district in shape and outlining work to be done this spring. They don't get a cent for this work, so we ought to be duly appreciative of their efforts.

The Juniors meet at 3 o'clock and it is surprising how much the children are learning about the Bible. The child who doesn't attend is missing a valuable training.

EXERCISE FOR SOWS NEEDED

Feed for Animals Should Be Scattered Around Floor to Compel Them to Hustle.

Sows due to farrow in April or May ought to have some bulky feed. Prof. J. H. Sheperd of the North Dakota Agricultural college reports that the herdsman at the agricultural college feeds a pound to a pound and a quarter of grain per 100 pounds weight of sow and a little alfalfa hay to give plenty of bulk. He also advises making the sows take exercise, scattering their feed around on the floor so they will have two hours or more of work in picking it up. Another good thing about alfalfa hay is that it keeps them on their feet quite a little while. Pigs from sows which have had plenty of exercise and bulky feed are usually much stronger than those from fat, lazy sows.

FORDSON

For thirty-five years Henry Ford, a farmer's boy, has been working on the problem of a successful tractor for the farm, and for the past fourteen years has devoted much time and a vast amount of money to the development of the present Fordson Tractor. Today that tractor is in use on nearly 200,000 farms and if you have any doubt as to the satisfaction it gives to those who are using it, call in or send and get the booklet, just issued by the Ford Motor Company, and called "The Fordson at Work" and read the testimony which is there given by the multitude of owners of Fordson Tractors. No evidence can be more conclusive than that of the man who actually knows by personal experience and this is the line of testimony carried in this little booklet. If you cannot call for it, write, drop us a postal and we will mail it to you without charge. It is so valuable you ought to have it because it is the open door through which the farmer will pass from the hard working drudge to the comparative comfort of the manufacturer. The Fordson makes it possible for the farmer to plan and direct, while the machine will do the work. It presents the widest latitude for the farmer to exercise his brain power and plan how he can get the most from the soil, knowing that the Tractor will do the hard work, do it better, do it quicker, and therefore do it more profitably. This means not alone in the cultivation of the soil, in the harvesting of the crops, but in a hundred and one different demands that are made for labor—cutting of ensilage and the filling of the silo; cutting of wood; operation of the washing machine; in the lighting of the house with electricity; supplying the house with running water; bringing to the farmer's wife and daughters the convenience of the city, relieving them of much of the hard, unpleasant part of housework. The price is within the reach of any progressive farmer—only $865.00, including pulley, extension rims, fenders, canopy top and filled with fuel and lubricating oil, and we have a competent man to instruct you in handling it.

VIGILANCE NECESSARY TO KEEP CHICKEN HOUSE FREE OF MITES

For Small Coops a Hand Atomizer Will Suffice for Applying Insecticides.

Poultry raisers are all too familiar with the common red or gray mite which infests poultry houses. In general those who are making a specialty of poultry raising have comparatively little trouble with mites, or at least they keep them reduced to a point where they are of little importance. On the other hand, farmers and others who raise poultry as an incident to other operations frequently find their chicken houses overrun by mites.

Detecting Presence of Mites.

The attack of this blood-sucking mite is of an insidious nature which does not readily draw attention to its presence, and often the poultryman is not aware of an infestation until he is attracted to it by the irritation produced by mites on his own body through coming in contact with the infested coops. The presence of the pest may readily be determined, however, by the detection of small areas on the boards specked with black and white as though dusted with salt and pepper. This is the excrement of the mites, which are hidden in adjacent cracks or rough places. More careful examination will reveal masses of mites in hiding, together with their eggs and the silvery skins cast by the young.

In moderately infested poultry houses the injury to the fowls is not easily apparent, but the constant blood loss and irritation are shown by decreased egg production and the poor condition of the fowls' flesh. In heavily infested coops, it is not unusual for the chickens to become droopy and weak, with pale comb and wattles. Sitting hens desert their nests and thus ruin the eggs or, as is often the case, they are found dead on the nest, being killed outright by the attack of thousands of mites. In extreme cases a considerable number of fowls succumb, even though not sitting, and all are so weakened as to be very susceptible to various diseases.

Owing to the fact that mites feed during the night and secrete themselves in cracks and crevices during the day, their presence very often is overlooked until a very heavy infestation has developed. In such cases they should be attacked energetically. Although not hard to kill, the greatest obstacle is the difficulty of reaching them in their hiding places. Dust baths will not control them, as, at most, only the few which remain on the chickens during the daytime will be destroyed.

The first step necessary to destroy the mites is to get rid of the hiding places so far as possible. The roosts should be taken down and all unnecessary boards and boxes removed. In heavily infested houses the mites are to be found in all parts of the building, including the roof. Where they are less numerous the infestations usually are confined to the roosts and nests and the walls immediately adjacent. For small coops a hand atomizer will suffice for applying insecticides as sprays, but for larger houses a bucket pump, knapsack sprayer, or barrel pump is desirable. A rather coarse spray should be applied from all angles and thoroughly driven into the cracks. The floor also should be treated, as many mites fall to the floor when the roosts are being removed.

In tests conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture during the last two years a considerable number of materials used as sprays have proved effective. One of the so-called wood preservers was found immediately effective, and its killing or repelling power lasts for months. As this material is rather expensive (about $1 per gallon), and is too heavy to spray well, it is advisable to reduce it with equal parts of kerosene.

Crude petroleum is almost as effective, retains its killing power for several weeks, and in most localities it is very cheap. It will spray better if thinned with one part of kerosene to four parts of crude oil.

It has been found that one thorough application of either of these materials will completely eradicate the mites from an infested chicken house, but ordinarily it is advisable to make a second application a month after the first, and in some cases a third treatment is required. These subsequent applications may be made with a brush, using the materials undiluted and covering only the roosts their supports, the walls adjoining, and the nests if they are infested. This method of application is effective for the first treatment also if the houses are not heavily infested. Poultry should be kept out of the treated buildings until the material is well dried into the wood.

Using Pure Kerosene.

Pure kerosene and kerosene emulsion in double the strength ordinarily applied to plants will destroy all mites hit, but these substances have not body enough to destroy those mites which are in more protected situations, and several applications at ten-day intervals are needed to destroy all the mites.

Arsenical dip, such as is used to destroy cattle ticks, has been found fairly satisfactory for use against chicken mites. Several applications are required to eradicate the mites from poultry houses.

SHOCKED CORN GOOD SILAGE

Refilling Silo With Surplus Even in Middle of Winter Is Most Economical Practice.

"Corn cut at the proper time and put into the shock can be made into good silage, even in the middle of the winter," says Alvin Kezer of the agronomy department of the Colorado Agricultural college. "Of course, such silage will not be as palatable as when siloed early and there will be more mechanical waste of leaves and other parts of the corn plant because the shocked corn had been stored for part of the winter, either in the shock or in stacks. But if this dry fodder is run through a silage cutter and the proper amount of water run in with it, it will make good silage and a much more palatable feed than the dry fodder, which will be eaten by the stock with less waste."

"Sometimes, shocking the surplus corn after the silos are filled and refilling from the shocked corn is a very economical practice, a practice worth remembering, especially when the capacity of the silos is not great enough to take care of the entire crop. It is a good way of improving a valuable feed."

VERMIN CARRY HOG DISEASES

Lousy Animal Will Consume More Feed Than Clean One, According to Many Experiments.

A hog affected with lice can't make as profitable use of his feed as one that is free from this pest. No successful hog man will dispute this statement; yet, judging from the condition of some farmers' hogs, it is doubtful whether all realize that it really costs money to feed lice. However, feeding experiments have been conducted from time to time which show plainly that a lousy hog consumes more feed per pound of gain than a clean hog. This loss of feed, however, is not the only reason for keeping hogs free from lice. Lice are also disease carriers. They will carry infection from one hog to another and that, perhaps, is as strong a reason for holding lice in check as any other.

VENTILATION FOR POTATOES

Tubers Tend to Sweat Upon Being Put Into Storage and Air Is Needed to Dry Moisture.

Large piles of potatoes should have ventilation channels provided, either by lattice work or by rows of crates. Potatoes tend to sweat upon being put into storage. Ventilation is necessary to dry this moisture. Only a general rule can be given, but potatoes should be kept as dry as possible, yet avoiding shriveling, and should be kept as near the freezing point as possible, yet avoiding freezing.

LABOR RULES COST ROADS MILLIONS

Public Directly Interested in Effort to Stop Drain on Carriers' Income.

BIG SUMS FOR WORK NOT DONE

Railways Asking Labor Board to Abrogate Wasteful Agreements Made Under Federal Control.

"The entire country, its consumers, its farmers, its workmen, and even the railway employees themselves, are directly interested with the railroads in cutting down railway operating expenses."

This is the keynote of the case presented by the railroads to the United States Railroad Labor Board, now in session in Chicago.

The railroads have submitted evidence to the board to show why the National Agreements affecting railway shop labor should be abrogated, believing that this is a vitally important step in the process of reducing operating expenses.

This step is not only necessary to insure adequate earning power to the railroads, but will make possible an ultimate reduction in rates.

The agreements were made by the Railroad Administration just before the end of Federal control. The sum total of the rules and working conditions provided by the National Agreements have increased the operating expenses of the railroads by hundreds of millions, and have decreased the efficiency and output of the employees in other ways resulting in losses which cannot be calculated in dollars and cents.

For several weeks the railroads have been multiplying instances of the absurd and extravagant results of the labor rules fastened upon them by the National Agreements.

In one case cited before the board a machinist was paid 10½ hours' wages for work all performed within eight hours. This case illustrated the effect of the rule that for each "call" the worker is to be paid five hours' wages even if he works only ten minutes.

The case of a car repairer on the Virginia Railway, who was recently paid over $1,000 for services which were never rendered, and in addition the same amount of overtime as was made by his gang, was another example.

In connection with the rule that none but mechanics or apprentices shall do mechanics' work, the following was cited to indicate its unfairness:

Five Hours' Pay for 30 Minutes' Work
"The El Paso & Southwestern Railroad recently had an engine set out at Douglas, and about the time it was ready to go to its train it developed that a window light was broken in the cab. It was necessary for the foreman to call a carpenter to do the work that he could have performed himself in a few minutes. The train was delayed one hour and 30 minutes, and the employee called to do the work was paid five hours for work requiring 30 minutes."

The inefficiency created in inflexible application of the rules contained in the agreements in question was illustrated in the following actual case which recently occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad:

"An engine was placed in the shops for certain repairs. Because of the provisions of the National Agreement, it was necessary that members of five crafts perform parts of this work; formerly, the entire operation was performed by the members of but two crafts."

$6,500,000 for Work Not Performed
How the railroads of the country were compelled to pay almost $6,500,000 in the first six months of 1920 for service not rendered because of the effects of but one of the 182 rules included in the Shop Crafts National Agreement was shown in the testimony.

This punitive payment for work never performed was required by a clause in the National Agreement, which provides that when employees are required to check in and out on their own time they will be paid one hour extra at the close of each week.

The rigid classifications of labor, when taken in connection with the rule that requires that a man must have four years' experience before being employed to perform any of the work listed in them, result in paying rates applicable to men who are supposed to be fully qualified for work which does not require men of four years' experience.

To illustrate how the inflexibilities of many of the rules now enforced operate to mulct the railroads of large sums for services which in the absence of these rules could be obtained for relatively moderate sums, evidence was laid before the Labor Board showing that three men who were employed at a small pumping station in Michigan, performing unskilled work, would, when classified under the rules, receive an excess of pay amounting to more than the value of all the water pumped and current generated at this station.

The Chicago testimony contains literally hundreds of instances such as these, all supporting the contention of the railroads that the labor rules under which they have been forced to work are such as to prevent the "honest, efficient and economical management" demanded by the Transportation Act.

The great majority of guinea fowl are raised in small flocks of from 10 to 25 upon farms in the Middle West and in the South, but a few of the large poultry raisers, particularly those who are within easy reach of the large Eastern markets, make a practice of raising a hundred or so guineas each year. Many farmers keep a pair or a trio of guineas more as a novelty than for profit, and from these a small flock is raised.

Warns of Marauders.

The guinea fowl doubtless would be more popular on farms were it not for its harsh and, at times, seemingly never-ending cry, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Peculiar Cry of Guinea Gives Warning of Marauding in Poultry Yard.

Agriculture. However, some people look on this cry as an argument in the guinea's favor, as it gives warning of marauders in the poultry yard. Similarly, their pugnacious disposition while sometimes causing disturbances among the other poultry also makes them show fight against hawks and other common enemies, so that guineas sometimes are kept as guards over the poultry yard. Often a few guineas are raised with a flock of turkeys and allowed to roost in the same tree, where they can give warning if any theft is attempted during the night.

Used as Substitute.

The value of the guinea fowl as a substitute for game birds such as grouse, partridge, quail and pheasant is becoming more and more recognized by those who are fond of this class of meat and the demand for these fowls is increasing steadily. Many hotels and restaurants in the large cities are eager to secure prime young guineas, and often they are served at banquets and club dinners as a special delicacy. When well cooked, guineas are attractive in appearance, although darker than common fowls, and the flesh of young birds is tender and of especially fine flavor, resembling that of wild game. Like all other fowl, old guineas are very likely to be tough and rather dry.

CLEVELAND H. DODGE

New York Business Man Describes Vast Armenian Work of Near East Relief.

Cleveland H. Dodge, New York banker and business man, director of the National City Bank, and treasurer of The Russell Sage Foundation and of the Near East Relief, declares that "a nation has been saved by American philanthropy, and the generosity of the American people through the Near East Relief, in its work for the Armenians."

"The lowest official estimate indicates that one million persons are living today who would not be alive had it not been for this relief." Mr. Dodge continued, "I have an autograph letter from Dr. H. Ohandjanian, president of the Armenian Republic, in which he writes: 'America literally saved us from starvation.'"

"Wholly aside from adults who have been saved from starvation, we today have in orphanages and elsewhere under our care 110,000 homeless, fatherless or motherless children who are absolutely dependent upon us. This is exclusive of 63 hospitals with 6,552 beds, 128 clinics, rescue homes for girls and unnumbered thousands of refugees who are being helped through our industrial relief and in other ways.

"The Near East Relief has during the past four or five years commissioned and sent to the Near East more than 1,000 American relief workers, of whom 500 are still in the field, all of them working at great financial sacrifice—the standard of salary being $50 per month and maintenance—and many of them facing great personal danger and hardship in the performance of their life-saving service. A score of them have died from typhus or other diseases more or less related to their faithfulness in the performance of relief service.

"Nor is that all. We have raised and disbursed during war times and in a war-torn area, in large measure under enemy control, more than $41,000,000 in cash, and, including flour, Red Cross and other supplies administered by our agents, a total of cash and supplies in excess of $50,000,000. The official reports show that on June 30, 1920, we had in orphanages 54,000 children, and that we are partially supporting outside of the orphanages 50,039 children, making a total of 110,000 boys and girls now under the care of the Near East Relief."

Mr. Dodge considers the work of the Near East Relief one of the most stupendous undertakings of disinterested philanthropy the world has ever seen.

"In countries whose population totals more than 30,000,000 souls, American idealism exemplified by the work of the Near East Relief constitutes today a torch of enlightenment and an influence for peace throughout the whole Near East," he maintains. "Our American ideal of liberty, industry and helpfulness has brought us as a people happiness, prosperity and fulfillment. Out of the fullness of this heritage we are furnishing a faithful and undaunted Christian people the brotherly aid which will enable them to reach the same fulfillment that God has given us."

"It is an achievement of which every American may well be proud."

It Gets the Butter

Two gay young frogs from inland bogs,
Had spent the night in drinking;
As morning broke and they awoke,
While yet their eyes were blinking,
A farmer's pail came to the swale
And caught them quick as winking.
'Ere they could gather scattered senses
Or breathe a prayer for past offenses.
The granger grave—that guileless man—
Had dumped them in the milkman's can.
The can filled up, the cover down,
They soon are started off for town.
The luckless frogs began to quake,
And sobbed up on cold milk shake.
They quickly find their breath will stop
Unless they swim upon the top.
They swim for life and kick and swim,
Until their weary eyes grow dim.
Their muscles ache, their breath grows short,

And gasping speaks one weary sport—
"Say, dear old boy, it's pretty tough
To die so young, but I've enough
Of kicks for life, no more I'll try it,
I was not raised on a milk diet."
"Tut, Tut, my lad," the other cries,
A frog's not dead until he dies.
Let's keep on kicking, that's my plan,
We yet may see outside this can."
"No use, no use," faint heart replied,
Turned up his toes and gently died.
The brave frog, undaunted still,
Kept kicking with a right good will,
Until, with joy too great to utter,
He found he'd churned a lump of butter,
And climbing on that chunk of grease,
He floated round with utmost ease.

MORAL

When times are hard don't fret and frown,
Don't get discouraged and go down,
But struggle still—no murmur utter—
A few more kicks may bring the butter.
