Southwick News

The school at Southwick has been shut down on account of scarlet fever.

Quite a snow fell in Southwick a few nights ago.

Mrs. Dean Baker, who has been quite sick with scarlet fever is able to be up again. Her younger sister and brother were sick just before she took down and the doctor pronounced at German measles but it turned out to be scarlet fever.

METHODIST CHURCH.

Howard W. Mort, Pastor.

Sunday will be the last day the pastor will preach as pastor of the Methodist Church in Kendrick, as matters now stand, for he has been called to another field of service to take effect the first of December.

The pastor and his wife do not leave the Kendrick community without many regrets and it is with many fond memories of their past associations here that the parsonage family make their exodus to this new field of service.

We would enjoy your presence at all the services of the church.

Sunday school at 10:00 a. m.

Morning worship at 11 a. m.

Epworth League at 6:45. The pastor will speak at this service and would like all the young people to be there.

Evening song service and worship at 7:30 p. m.

American Ridge—Sunday school at 10 a. m. No morning service.

Due to the pastor leaving the first of December, no more library books will be let out for the present until the new librarian takes charge. It will therefore be necessary to call in all books that are now out so that the library can be checked up before the pastor leaves.

FARM
POULTRY

ARRANGEMENT OF DUCK FARM

Should Be Located on Light, Sandy Soil, With Convenient Facilities for Watering.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Duck farms are usually located on light, sandy soil, preferably on sloping land, where the droppings will leach freely into the soil, so that the land keeps sweet and clean. The farm should have good shipping facilities to aid both in shipping products and in buying supplies. The arrangement of the buildings should be planned to economize labor and allow for future increase of the equipment.

The incubator cellar should be convenient to the brooder house, the brooder house to the growing house

Young Green Ducks, Ready for Market.

and pens, and these buildings to the killing house. The pens in the houses, the outside yards, and the arrangement of the buildings should be planned so that the ducks may be easily driven from house to house as desired. The feed room or house should be centrally located.

Convenient watering arrangements are essential where large numbers of ducks are kept, as they require a large amount of drinking water, say poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. While ducks may be kept successfully under very intensive conditions, it is advisable to allow considerable yard space. Double yards, which may be rotated and planted to quick-growing crops, such as oats, wheat and rye, are good for intensive duck farms.

It is advisable to have a pond or stream for the breeding ducks, as they usually give better fertility under these conditions, although on some successful duck farms the ducks are always kept on dry land. The young green ducks on some farms which have a pond are not allowed to go into the water except to bathe and clean their feathers just before marketing. Other growers, however, allow the green ducks free access to ponds or streams until they are marketed.

Not Negro Songs.

Most people fancy in a vague way that Stephen Foster's songs are negro or were inspired by the negro music. But "Old Folks at Home" and the other Foster melodies are about as unlike negro music as anything could possibly be. That their words are often in negro dialect and express negro sentiments is simply a historic accident due to the fact that in Foster's day the negro minstrels, real or "cooked," were the only means of bringing music before the public.

lent medicine it is.—Adv.

A Timely Suggestion

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and before it has become settled in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.—Adv.

CARE AND ACCURACY DEMANDED IN WEIGHING HAY FOR MARKET

Accurate Weights Can Be Obtained Only if the Wagon Scales Are in Proper Working Order and the Load Is in Proper Position Upon the Scales.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A great deal of trouble and monetary loss sustained by producers and shippers in marketing hay has been found by the bureau of markets and crop estimates, United States Department of Agriculture, to be due to careless weighing.

Weighing by the Bale.

In several sections of the country it is the custom to weigh hay by the bale at the time for baling and to note the weight upon a tag made of cardboard or other convenient material attached to the bale beneath one of the bale ties. When weighing by this method great care should be taken to weigh the hay accurately. During the rush of baling operations sufficient time is frequently not allowed for the scales to come to a balance and there may be as much as ten pounds difference between the actual and the catch weight.

Special care should also be taken in writing the correct weight upon the tag, say the bureau's specialists. It is the common practice in some sections to use only numbers ending in 0 or 5 in recording the weight, and to give or take from the actual weight a sufficient amount to make a number with such an ending. For example, the weight of a bale weighing 67 pounds is written as 65 pounds and that of one weighing 68 pounds as 70 pounds. The tendency, however, is "to take" more frequently than "to give," so that it is a better practice to state the actual weight upon the tag.

Another practice which is often charged back to the producer in lower prices or in weight claims, disproportionate to the actual loss, is the use at a much later date of tag weights placed upon the hay at the time of baling. Unless hay has been thoroughly cured and has been in the mow or stack for a considerable time there is likely to be a loss in weight while hay is in storage after baling, due to additional loss of moisture. Each purchaser desires, and has a right to obtain, the actual quantity of hay for which he pays. If bales are short of the weight specified upon the tags there are grounds for a claim, either in the form of a price concession or of a weight claim. In either case the adjustment of the claim is likely to be less economical to the producer than the actual reweighing of the hay. The producer or shipper should be prepared to prove that the weight of the hay at the time of sale is correct and as indicated upon the tag.

Careless weighing on wagon scales causes as much difficulty as careless weighing by any other method. One of the principal causes of unsatisfactory weights upon wagon scales is lack of proper care of the scales and of the necessary attention to keep them in repair and in good working order. Accurate weights cannot be obtained on scales that are out of repair. Wagon scales should be inspected frequently by a competent inspector and care should be taken to see that they are in proper adjustment and balance before weighing any lot or load of hay.

Care must be taken also to see that the load is in proper position upon the scales. The load should not bind upon the scale box or building, and if the team exerts any effect upon the load it should be unhitched.

When obtaining the tare weight the weigher should be certain that the wagon contains the same equipment as when the gross weight was obtained. A good rule is to remove everything but the necessary equipment from the load before weighing.

Keep Bale Check When Loading.

If the producer or shipper loads the hay directly into the cars care is especially necessary to compute the total weight correctly. Loads are frequently distributed in two or more cars because of the variation in the quality of the hay. If the bales are tagged, a careful record should be kept of the bales placed in each car. If not tagged, the part of the load placed in each car should be weighed separately. A careful check of the total number of bales placed in each car should also be kept so that the shipper may have the proper data upon which to base a claim should any loss occur while the hay is moving to market.

The following suggestions, if followed, will greatly assist in eliminating some of the troubles caused by improper weighing methods:

When using tag weights record the actual current weight.

Have wagon scales in proper adjustment and balance.

See that wagon contains same equipment when weighing both the gross and tare weight.

When loading two or more cars keep careful record of hay loaded in each car.

Always keep a bale record, together with a weight record, of each car.

CAREFULLY CONSIDER DIVERS ENTERPRISES

Hasty Conclusions Should Be Cautiously Avoided.

No Reason for Assuming All Activities of Farm Should Be Devoted to One Big Money Crop—Study All Angles.

In making use of the results of a year's cost accounts for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the farm, hasty conclusions should not be drawn. Sometimes a positive decrease in profits may ensue if an enterprise is dropped, because, taken alone, it has failed to pay. Cows, for instance, may not be showing a net profit, but if all the cows were sold there might be no other way of using up the roughage and it would become dead loss. Labor devoted night and morning to milking and feeding cows and charged to them would be entirely lost if the cows were sold and nothing supplied to fill in the time.

The fact that the hogs or the corn crop bring in the most net money during the season is no reason for assuming that all the activities of the farm in the future should be devoted solely to hogs or corn. It may be that the keeping of cows is partly responsible for making the hogs so profitable, or that the growing of wheat, clover, or other crops in rotation with corn makes the latter crop much more profitable than it would have been if grown alone.

Similar conditions will be met with on all farms, and, therefore, no sudden changes should be made on the basis of what a single year's accounts may indicate. All angles of the enterprise should be taken into consideration.

SODIUM FLUORID POISONOUS

Care Should Be Taken That Material Does Not Get Into Drinking Water or Feed.

If sodium fluorid is used for killing lice on chickens be careful not to let it get into the food or water. Don't pour it out where the hens will drink it before it can soak into the ground. The material is rather poisonous if taken internally.

Where some of the sodium fluorid in dust form reaches the body of the operator, and is allowed to remain for several hours, local irritation and burning may occur on tender parts of the skin. In dusting large flocks it is better to use a table rather than to hold the fowls between the knees. The solution does not injure the hands, even when dipping is continued for several hours, except where there are sores, which may become slightly irritated.

Don't allow sodium fluorid solution to remain in galvanized vessels a great length of time. It is best not to keep it overnight in tubs or galvanized containers, as it will injure them.

CARS MUST BE WELL COOLED

Refrigerator Should Be Allowed to Rest on Siding at Least 24 Hours Before Loading.

The careful shipper and packer should ask the railroad to set the refrigerator car on his siding at least 24 hours before he expects to load, for no man who works to prevent decay ever loads his poultry into a car having a high temperature. Examine the car to see that when the doors are closed not a ray of light enters. See that the drain pipes are in working order; and when the car has been iced and salted for 24 hours take the temperature about four feet from the floor midway between the doors. If it is below 40 degrees Fahrenheit you may load your chilled birds with safety.
