VOLUME 31.

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1921

NUMBER 52

Over The County

Deary Press: One trouble with the people of the United States is schools deserve much credit for the that during the tat years of the war splendid manner in which the proand immediatly succeeding they gram was put on at the auditorium spent all of their earnings, or most last Friday evning. It had been arof them, in riotous living. As this ranged on short notice, only a week is a Bible term it is apparent that having been allowed for the childhuman nature has not changed very ren to learn their parts and for remuch in six thousand years. If the hearsals. Each grade had a part in entire country had observed as faith- the entertainment and they all did so fully nation-wide money saving pro- well that the teachers may feel well gram from 1917 to 1921 as it ob- repaid for their efforts. served tood saving under Mr. Hoover's direction in 1917-18 there would interested spectators who received be little or no complaint of hard the various numbers of the program times or close money.

Troy News: The cash prize offered by H. M. Driscoll for the best narrative report of the school club work done in connection with the Troy Fair has been awarded to Marian McComb. Marian, who was one of thirty competitors for this grade of the Trov schools. She was With the Old Woman Who Lived in Club and wrote the story of her sewing club activities. The award was interspersed with readings and remade by the English denartment of citations. The poem "Twas the the University of Idaho.

Juliaetta Record: Otto Kimberling, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Kimberling, who reside on the Potlatch creek below town, died Tuesday morning after a short illness from typhoid fever. Otto was the oldest boy at nome and was a great heip to his parents on the farm being of an industrial turn of mind. The many friends of the family deepty sympathize with them in their sad bereavement.

Genesee News: At a meeting of members of the classes. the Uniontown Commercial club recently it was decided regarding the general direction and route of the proposed road from Uniontown at the Washington-Idaho state line to a north and easterly direction to tap ceremony. the Idaho road south of the Anderson ranch on the Ihorn creek road, on the night train Saturday was the which, when that portion of the first announcement of their marroad is surfaced, will give them an riage which came as a complete outlet to the north.

The residents of Uniontown are | bride in Kendrick. determined to have the road and are preared to push it with all their part of her life in Kendrick where might, but there are those who she has a host of triends. She is a think the Thorn creek route would graduate of Cheney Normal and all! be the better and that when it comes taught very successfully here in to the commissioners making a de- the primary grades for two years. program at the Cameron school cision that that route will be select. | She is now finishing her second | house. ed as it will be practically a water year of school work at Leavenworth. & Miss Hannah Wegner of Spekaner grade and about a mile shorter.

Star-Mirror: The part that the high freight rates play in financial affairs of the farmer, especially, is illustrated in an incoient in which local people figure- the ship ment of a car of corn, weighing 60, 000 pounds from an lowa town to Lewiston. This corn was bought by the Mark P. Miller Milling Company of this city and the freight bills were received by Mr. Miller a few days ago. It may astonish those who have not been doing any great amount of shiping to know that more than two thirds of the cost of the corn laid down at Lewiston is in the freight. About one-third of the church in Lewiston, Rev. Henry T. family Mr. and Mrs. August O. cost of the carload was paid to the Greene officiating. Mrs. McLaughwarehouse man at the Iowa point, and it is probable that the farmer who grew the corn received at least McLaughlin is farming on Amer-$25 less than the amount paid the loan ridge, where he and his bride dealer.

The illustration is a striking one but the same thing is occurring continually, in the shipment of the farmers' product from the nearest warehouse point to the market.

the loreman noticed that 1 of the the kangaroo walk, my second men, a feeble-looking fellow with daughter talks like a parrot, my son no enthusiasm for his job, was mak- laughs like a hyena, my wife watching no attempt to work. He came es me like a hawn, my cook is as up to him and watched him half-, cross as a bear and my mother-inheartedly making the motions of law says I'm an old gorilla. When digging with his spade. "Don't be I go anywhere I want a change. afraid," said the toreman. "Lean on it now and then. If it breaks I'll pay for it."-Swiped.

School Had Tree

The teachers of the Kendrick

The auditorium was crowded with with enthusiastic applause.

A large Christmas tree, beautifully decorated by the children was the center of interest. Most of the decorations had been made by the various grades in their hand work classes.

The feature part of the program was a cantata given by the gramprize, is a student in the eighth mar grades, entitled "Christmas a member of the Priscilla Sewing the Shoe". Other numbers were vocal and instrumental selections, Night Before Christmas" was presented by the third and fourth grades in a very entertaining manner. This was followed by a song by the high school glee club, "Silent Night, Holy Night". This was the first apearance of the club, and they did so surprisingly well that it was one of the most delightful parts of the prorgam.

> After the program the members of the high school passed the "treats" for the crowd, and distributed the presents among the

Long-Varo

Miss Anna Long, daughter of tap the proposed Idaho road from Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Long of Kendrick, was married in Spokane, After considerable discussion it Thursday of last week to Mr. Frank was finally decided to ask the Whit- A. Varo, of Leavenworth, Wash. man county commissioners to build Rev. Thompson. Prespyterian mina Donahue road from Uniontown in lister of Spokane, performed the

> The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Varo surprise to the many friends of the

> Mrs. Varo has spent a greater

United States Forest Service hav- mother and sister. ing charge of the land sales depart- Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wegner, Mr. ment in the territory adjacent to and Mrs. William Rogers and son Leavenworth. He made a most rick, and Mr. Herman Wegner of favorale impression during his Asotin, visited at the home of A. F. and Children drove to Joel Sunday few days visit here.

Gropp-McLaughlin

Miss Irma Gropp of Clarkston Miss Martha Finke of Southwick week. and Earl McLaughlin of American is spending the holidays with Miss XMr. Callison, Norla and Earnestine ridge were united in marriage Hattie Wilken. Christmas day at the Methodist Mr. and Mrs. George Ehlers and lin is a popular young lady of Clarkston, where her parents reside. Mr. will make their home.

A Zoo at Home

Smithson: "Come with me to the

' Johnson: "No, thank you; I stay A gang of laborers was at work-lat home. My eldest daughter does

> H. Bleck of Southwick spent the C Miss Martha Finke is a holiday week end in Lewiston.

Some Good Advice

Mrs. Lloyd Wright

Mrs. Lloyd Wright, who will be at Clarkston at Merchant's Chapel, in Quebec and stopped at a number classified, $1,068. Saturday morning, the Rev. N. E. of places of interest in the East. Wild Rose ceinetery on Bear ridge.

John Brocke of American ridge. Her mother, Mrs. Emma Stockwell lives in Clarkston. She is survived by her husband, a son 4 years old and a baby 10 months old.

Cameron News

A nealthy and happy New Year to

Don't forget the New Year's Eve

Mr. Varo has a position with the is spending the holidays with he,

Wegner, Sunday.

Varo returned to Leavenworth her parents Mr. and Mrs. Carl interesting program at the church where they will make their home. Hartung. Miss Hartung has been Sunday evening. in Spokane for some time under the Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Roberts Cok care of a specialist.

> Quite a number of the young home Tuesday. folks attended the program at Leland last Friday.

Wegner and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wegner the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rein Sr. of Castle Rock Wash, returned home Wednesday after visiting their son, Rev. Rein in Cameron.

(Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Schultz and fàmily were Chrstmas guests at Frank Wilken's home at Fairview.  $m{\chi}$  Miss Martha Silflow entertained at 5 o'clock dinner for Miss Hannah K Miss Mamie Roberts entertained

Wegner, Tuesday. Rev. and Mrs. Rein were dinner guests at the Carl Hartung home

🕇 Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson entertained the following guests at dinner Christmas: Messrs. and Mesdames Emil Larson, Fred Silflow, Charles Larson, Clyde Daugherty, W. Hartung, and their families, and Mr. Wm. Sina and Miss Alvina guest at the Herman Wilken home. Orchestra music.

Dr. Rothwell is Back

Dr. W. A. Rothwell arrived home Beach having charge of the service. He has recently recovered from The body was shipped to Kendrick quite a serious illness which he in the afternoon and interred in the contracted while on his trip. His many friends in this locality are Mrs. Wright was a sister of Mrs. glad to see him back again.

White-Pigelow

Miss Vivian White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. White, was mairied at the Davenport Hotel in Spokane Christmas day to Mr. Eugene F. Pigelow. A. C. White conducted a drug store in Kendrick for many years. He and his family are well known throughout the Pottatch country. Mr. Pigelow is connected with a Seattle business house.

American Ridge

7 Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson to visit Mrs. Davidson's relatives. Thursday morning Mr. and Mrs. & Miss Hannah Hartung is visiting Miss Maud Eichner gave a very dinner at the Frank Robert's

Miss Gladys Woody visited with her brother, Elgin, the first of the and Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Roberts, Clarence Dougharty's. Mr. and Mrs. Dougharty, Mr. and Mrs. Kinzer and Clark Jennings of Juliaetta were also present.

Mrs. Havens and Mrs. Watts entertained their Sunday school classes at a party given at the Haven& home l'uesdy evening.

Miss Maude Eichner left Tuesday for Nez Perce to visit with her cousin, Mrs. Roy Thompson.

anumber of her friends at a party Wednesday evening. Pete Benscoter returned from Clarkston, Tuesday afternon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stockwell visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Brocke, Wednesday. Stockwell is Mrs. Brocke's brother.

The American Legion will give a by Miss Beulah Long. New Year's Dance, Monady night. January 2, at the Fraternal Temple.

Personal Property Assessed

Star-Mirror: The assessed valuacounty for 1921 is $662.869. This is of Latah County interested in en from totals prepared by Homer agricultural agent. At these meet-Estes, county auditor.

is due to the new basis of valua- communities will meet with the tion on bank stock. In previous county agent and plan community years it was assessed at its full work for 1922. Special attention value but now at two-thirds, the will be given to those lines of work same as other property. Last year that most closely affect the income the bank stock assessment totaled of the farm of Latah County. Chief $288,000. This year it is $186,238. of this are wheat improvement, roll. The Potlatch Lumber com- weed control, and poultry improvepany, in selling logged off land to ment. A number of communities farmers, holds the reservation of are interested in patato production, mineral rights, the right to work land clearing, and other special underground at any time, etc., 'The problems. commissioners held that the desire to hold these rights showed an ap- of the projects mentioned above, but parent value and that the reserva- each community will take up the tions were taxable. The valuation lines of work that seem to be most of this rights was placed at $11,540, important in that community. Dur-The reason for the lumber company ing 1921 the twenty-four organized doing this is that years ago during communities adopted an average of operation in Michigan, great copper four lines of work in addition to deposits were found on land that organization. had been owned by the Weyerthe timber was taken off.

Methodist Church Services

Methodist church Sunday. Rev. C. minister for the church will conand his family are expected here week. They will make their home will take immediate charge of the church work. He is a young man quaintances in this field, as he did ing Society of Lewiston.

W. O. W. Elect Officers

men of the World, at their regular tuberculosis, and standardization of meeting on Wednesday of last week, breeds will receive attention. elected officers for the ensuing term | Specialist help will be given those as follows: Consul Commander, interested in more profitable poul-Thos. McDowell; Past Consul Com- try production on the farm, and mander, Ira Bolon; Adviser Lieu- women and children will be providtenant, Marvin Long; Escort, Aaron ed specialist help where desired. McCreary; Banker, N. Brocke; Clerk, In addition to these lines of work, Edgar Long; Watchman, Fred Flaig; help will be given on any farm Sentry, Sam Bolon; Managers, problem in which any community Charles McKeever, E. T. Long and may be especially interested. Frank Chamberlain. One candidate Frances, Harold, Helen, Cecil and was initiated duing the meeting, Nessie spent Monday evening at after which refreshments were served.

$\chi$ Circle Card Club

A delightful evening was spent by the members of the Circle Card Edgar Long, last Tuesday evening. The usual game of progressive "500" served to pass the time very pleasantly and the fact that four contestants tied for first honors, would indicate that the hands were most interesting. Guests of the club were: Messrs. and Mesdames Joday Long. Refreshments consisting of ice cream, cake and coffee were served by the hostess assisted ton on business Thursday.

Farm Bureau Meetings

A series of community committee tion of personal property in Latah meetings reaching all communities a drop of over $100,000. Last year county agent work will be held durit was 777,850. The figures are tak- ing January by O. S. Fletchr. county ings leaders in the various lines of About one fourth of the shrinkage agricultural improvement in the One curious item apears on the tax livestock improvement, pest control.

No one community will adopt all

Under the new plan of work dehaeuser interests and was sold after cided upon at the conference of state extension specialists and other The complete valuation of personal workers of the University of Idaho property divided into convenient held in Moscow recently, a specialist subdivisons, is as follows: Horses in women's work is to be assigned to and mules, $130,745; cattle, $34,485; the northern Idaho district with sheep, $4,725; hogs; $3,516; equities headquarters at Moscow. This in state lands, $15,959; improve- specialist will give Latah County at ments on lands, $21,959; lumber, least one-sixth of her time. Classes logs, etc., $16,480; merchandise, will be conducted on dress-form $104,845; muchinery, etc., $19,300; making, millinery and sewing: and turniture and fixtures, 17,422; bank where requested special instruction stock, 186,238; farm machinery and will be given on various nutrition implements, $35,310; household problems. Communities desiring better remembered here as Bessie in time to spend Christmas in goods, $27,575; vehicles, harness, workof this nature will arrange for Stockwell, died at a Portland hos- Kendrick, after an absence of near- etc., $15,945; logging outfits, $5,001; it at the community committee pital of heart trouble, Thursday of ly six months. While he was away brick plants, $11,500; reservations in meetings. Deary, Harvard and last week. The funeral was held he visited relatives in Ontario and lands, mineral, etc., $11,540; un- Moscow communities are already organized for women's work and Total taxes extended on this val- dress-form classes have been held in these communities. A specialist in boys' and girls' club work is also to be stationed at Moscow to work in the northern district and will spend There will be preeaching at the some time in Latah County. Interested communities will arrange A. Pickering, the newly appointed for club work at the committee meeting. In general, the work of duct the service. Mr. Pickering preceding years will be carried on and extended. The experiments and from Moscow the latter part of this demonstrations on the control of wild morning glory. Canada thistle. at the parsonage and Mr. Pickering and other noxious weeds by a poison spray are to be continued and new work started. 'Wheat standardizaand has already a number of ac- tion, seed certification and distribution, and smut control demonconsiderable work here some time strations will be carried forward. ago for the Children's Home Find- The campaign against the ground squirrel and other pests will be continued. Various livestock problems. including the use of better sires. the introduction of more and better dairy stock in some communities, Wnite Pine Camp No. 204, Wood- the continuation of testing for

Sues School District

Tribune: Loyd L. Stanton yesterday filed suit in the district court against Bud Penland and school district No. 9 of Nez Perce county, Le land, Idaho, in an effort to collect Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. $74.25 which he alleges is due for carpenter work done by him on the school house in district No. 9. His complaint sets out that he labored 63% days for which he was to receive remuneration in the sum of $5 per day; that he has been paid $249.50 and that there is still due and owing to nim $74.25. He also asks for Raaberg, Hanson, F. A. Varo and lien against the school building and $3 filing fees which he paid on a for $50 attorney fees. Otto D. Burns is attorney for the plaintiff.

Herman Wegner of Asotin spent M. B. McConnell went to Lewis. Christmas with relatives in Kendrick and Cameron.

Entered as second-class matter 1892 at Kendrick, Idaho, under the Act of Congress of March, 1879.

Subscription $1.50 a year.

Foreign Advertising Representative THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The most desirable town in which to live is not always the one that has the largest business section, the finest residences. It's the town with the spirit of good fellowship that has the strongest appeal.

The following clipping, taken from a Kansas paper, would lead one to believe that farming conditions are worse there than in

"To buy a plate of corn cakes in a 2nd or 3rd class city restaurant, takes a bushel of corn at the market price. It takes a bushel of oats to buy a cup of coffee. It takes a ton of hay to pay for a room without bath in a 3rd rate hotel. It takes 20 carloads of corn to pay for a tractor and plow of the cheapest make. It takes 100 bushels of corn' to buy a pair of low-cut shoes as advertised by leading shoe stores, and it will take 1,000 pounds of calt hides to pay for that same pair of shoes. To buy a cheap pair of cotton socks costs a bushel of corn and to treat a child to an ice cream soda costs another bushel."

It is a clear case that people talk too much. The Tribune stated last week that there were approximately 5,500,000 local phone calls and 200,-000 long distance calls in Lewiston

It is reported that one of the first statements made by Eugene V. Debs on being released from the tederal the bitterness of these discoveries a prison, was that he would devote his time to the freeing of all prisoners. Probably his next step will be to endeavor to abolish all prisons. This would be in line with most a child. Full of rewards and pleasof his radical ideas.

We have thought that out of the kindness of their hearts some of our abiding city. Friendships fall through, subscribers have held off paying health fails, weariness assails him; their subscriptions for fear that the year after year he must thumb the increased revenue derived there- hardly varying record of his own from might put us in the income taxpaying class. To correct any such erroneous impression we wish to state that with the present $5,000 left about himself. Here lies one who exemption we still have a margin of thousands and thousands of dollars to go on, so you can pay any time without any financial embarassment to us. Thanks just the Raising wheat isn't a very profitable venture these days, but it is safer than raising checks.

Big Bear Ridge

Misses Nettie Lacey and Mabel Smith are spending their vacation at their homes near Peck.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Mowrey and sons of lone, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmer Dahlberg and children of Deary Mr. and Mrs. Hartwick Nelson of Agawam, Montana, are spending the holidays at the J. J. Slind home.

Miss Claribel Ingle of Clarkston, Ing food and gifts. From Scotland Wash., is spending the week at also comes the curious superstition

X John Heath spent Christmas with friends near Southwick.

Miss Neva Nelson returned to Pullman, Wash., Monday having spent the week end at home.

Miss Christina Torstad of Opdal, Norway, arrived here Friday to visit her uncle, A. Hooker. Christmas services were held at the Lutheran church by Rev. Hesby. The Christmas program given by the local schools was largely attend-

Literary at the Steele school house, Saturday evening, December

PULLETS MUST HAVE GREENS

Fowls Seldom Pick Up Enough on Free Range in Fall on Account of Plants Drying Up.

Green feed must be provided if the pullets are to grow rapidly. They seldom get enough even when on free range in early fall, for most of the plants and herbage have long since passed the succulent stage. A newly mowed field of grass or a patch of rye, wheat, oats, barley, or rape sowed especially for the poultry gives the best supply. Cabbage, chard, or beet tops may be used

The Passing Years

YEARS whose cup of life o'er brimmed With joys that could not be contained: years whose light of joy was drained;

Though on our lives are graven deep The records of your fleeting stay, When we with you did laugh or weep, You took no thought of us away.

O years to come, in silent file, Out of the future nearing fast, You soon will pass us by and, while We greet you, mingle with the past. Though on your front the sunbeams play: With garlands gay your brows be

We know, when you have passed our way, What deep regrets you'll leave be-

And yet we welcome in its turn Each new year whate'er gifts it brings

For ever in our hearts doth burn A spark of hope for better things; Ever unquenched to live and glow Till fade the stars from out the

In that great day when we shall know That all our years have passed us

Walter Lewis Patteson in the Illinois State Register.

Peace on Earth

NO LOOK back upon the past year, and see how little we have striven, and to what small purpose, and show often we have been cowardly and hung back, or temerarious and rushed unwisely in; and how every day and all day long we have transgressed the law of kindness; it may seem a paradox, but in certain consolation resides.

Life is not designed to minister to a man's vanity. He goes upon his long business most of the time with a hanging head, and all the time like ure as it is-so that to see the daybreak or the moon rise, or to meet a friend, or to hear dinner call when he is hungry, fill him with surprising joys-this world is yet for him no weakness and folly.

should go, there need be few illusions for the whole Northwest. meant well, tried a little, failed much; surely that may be his epitaph, of will he complain at the summons, which calls a defeated soldier from the field; defeated, ay, if he were Paul or Marcus Aurelius!-but if there is still one inch of fight in his old spirit, undishonored. · Give him a march with his old bones; there, out of the glorious sun-colored earth, out of the day and the dust, and the ecstacy-there goes another Faithful Failure.

Quaint New Year Customs

IN SCOTLAND New Year's day has even more importance than Christmas, Highland laddies form processions and go from house to house singing and receiv-that it is unlucky to take anything out of the house on New Year's day before one has brought something in; hence members of the family may be seen carrying a piece of coal or any small object into the house, to prevent misfortune during the new year.

A quaint New Year custom in Herfordshire, England, is to weave blackthorn into a crown, singe it slightly over a fire and stand around it repeating the words, "Old Cider." The crown is then hung up for luck during the year.

New Year celebrations in Old World | sonal campaign. countries, and children would go about the streets caroling.

In England December 25 was the New Year's day until the time of William the Conqueror. His coronation occurred January 1, hence the year was ordered to begin on that day. England, however, gradually fell into unison with the rest of Christendom, and began the year the 25th of March. The Gregorian calendar restored January 1 as the gateway of the year but it was not until 1752 that England adopted this date.

The custom of exchanging New Year presents still holds in France and the the Near East Relief at 339 Burke Latin countries.

NORTHWEST CALLS DEATH CHALLENGE

Turns Solid Front Against Starvation; Need Everybody's Help, Says Divine.

Never has the whole Northwest entered more cheerfully and earnestly into a national work of mercy than it is right now, with gifts of milk, wheat, and fruit, clothing and money, in a concerted effort to banish from Armenia, Southern Russia and Bible lands the spectres of disease and starvation that are grasping for the lives of unknown thousands of destitute women and more than 300,000 helpless orphans.

Under the general leadership of Dr. Sherman L. Divine, 722 Peyton building, Spokane, who as Northwest chairman of the Near East Relief, recently investigated conditions in Armenia, this huge Northwest empire of wealth is striving to make good as the "foster parent" of some 6,750 orphan children of the Near East. Most of these are the children of America's Armenian allies in the World War.

To do this, West Washington must provide for 2500; East Washington and North Idaho, 1250; South Idaho 834; Utah, 1250; Montana, 834, and Alaska for 83 at a cost in food, clothes and funds, of $60 for each child for the

Dr. Divine's own congregation, that of the First Presbyterian church of Spokane, is already caring for 50 of them and scores of other churches, Sunday schools, lodges, women's organizations and even children of the public schools, have accepted it as their job to care for hundreds more.

"But this is not a duty for churches and organizations and schools alone," declares Chairman Divine. "It is a work in which the aid of every individual with humanity in their heart is needed.

"Just a glimpse of those happy, sweet-faced little children I saw in our orphanages, pathetically grateful for America's care and protection, which has saved them from death, is proof enough that our work already done has been worth while.

"Just a glimpse through the orphanage windows at the ghastly contrast outside; at purple-lipped little skeletons of babies tugging at the empty breasts of dying mothers; little heaps of skin and bone and tattered rags, lying in the streets: tottering groups of women devouring withered grass; great crowds of starving, half-naked kiddies, beating at the door for admission—just a glimpse of that—is enough proof that it is everybody's task to help. I believe everybody will help."

Rushing Gifts From Here. With holiday offerings, wheat donations, generous gifts of milk, old clothes and cash, South Idaho, under the direction of Miss Z. Fay Fowler of It is a friendly process of detach- Boise, campaign director of the Near ment. When the time comes that he East Relief, is setting a rapid pace Farmers of East Washington and North Idaho are being called upon for 26 carloads of wheat, orchardists for which he need not be ashamed. Nor donations of fruit and residents of the cities and towns for clothes and cash. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cohen, room 1, 120 East First South, Salt Lake City, as Utah director for Near East Relief, is driving hard, with the support of Governor Mabey and the L. D. S. church, for Utah's share in wheat, finished food products and cash.

Montana is subscribing wheat, cash and clothing through its state headquarters of Near East Relief at 5 Montana building at Helena.

West Washington, with its headquarters for Near East Relief at 339 Burke building, Seattle, will give much of its aid in milk and flour and the rest in cash, while Alaska is expected to furnish the most of its share in cash, sent to the Seattle headquarters of the relief society.

ORPHANS ARE LEFT AT ALASKA'S DOOR

Nobody Else to Care for Waifs "Mothered" Last Year, Says Near East Relief.

Eighty-three of the Bible land's orphan babies have, figuratively, been left on Alaska's doorstep, with a note from Near East Relief saying: "Please feed them, Alaska, lest they die."

This is the same number actually cared for by Alaska a year ago, when funds for their food and shelter were raised through an appeal headed by Rev. David Waggoner of Juneau, who The wassail bowl or loving cup, is giving his aid to the effort again filled with spiced ale, was in use in this year, but cannot make a per-

"There is nothing else that we can do but to ask Alaska to care for these same children another year," states E. A. Potter of Spokane, Northwest secretary of Near East Relief. "With 300,000 starving, half naked children still outside our orphanages and 120,-000 or more inside in danger of being turned out again for scarcity of funds and food Near East Relief is in desperate need of help.

"To care for their allotment of 83 children at a cost of $5 per month, or $60 a year, per child, Alaskans are called on for a total of about $5,000. We are asking them to send their aid to West Washington headquarters of building in Scattle."

Greetings for 1922

BUSINESS is so large a part of life that we are glad it brings us friends, and we appreciate our pleasant relationship with you during nineteen hundred and twenty-one.

. We hope you had a very Merry Christmas. May the New Year find you well and keep you in good cheer.

N. B. Long & Sons

The Home of Good Things to Eat and Wear Kendrick, Idaho

New Year Parties

Here's to the old year, drink boys,

Here's to the days that have fled, Old friends, old wine, old memories; Drink to the Joys that are dead.

Here's to the New Year stretching ahead,

To the days that are blithesome and gay, May the joys of the old be the joys of the new, Its sorrows fade gently away.

NOTHER New Year comes to us with a volume all pure and unspotted, on which we history that will go on to be bound with the thousands of other records we call years. May 1922 bring us counterparts of the happiest days of the year just closing, and a heart for "any fate," and may we all learn the lesson of how "to labor and to wait."

Now for a jolly New Year's eve party that you may like to get up. Send out invitations for a "watch night" party or "remembrance" party, as one girl is going to call the intimate little affair she is arranging for New Year's eve. If you can sketch, draw an hour-glass, a "Father Time" or clock face with the hands at midnight or the last leaf on the calendar with "December 31" done in scarlet. Ask each one to tell of their happiest day in the year that is past and in what month it happened.

You may play cards, dance or "reminiscences," just as suits you best. Have a cake with 12 candles sur; rounded by a wreath of holly and mistletoe and the favors symbolic of the year's special days; for instance, a calendar for January, a Cupid or heart for February, a kite for March, a tiny umbrella for April, a posy or bouquet of artificial flowers for May, or a wee May pole; a doll bride or a basket of roses for June, a firecracker for July, a golf set or picnic basket for August, bunch of grapes or a tiny washtub for September, the latter signifying "Labor day."

Represent October with a wee jacko'-lantern cut from an orange, a pumpkin or football for November, or a turkey, and for December a miniature Christmas tree. These articles could be procured in duplicate and be used to find partners, or they may be placed in a Jack Horner ple made to represent the face of a clock, red ribbons going to each place.

This is an occasion when the fortune nuts may be used, taking perfect English walnuts and removing the ments, inserting a narrow strip of paper bearing a pleasant prophecy for the coming season, and then gluing the shells closely together. These may be gilded and passed at the table. A wise hostess who knows her guests well will be clever in making these forecasts right.

Much merriment ensues when the girls ask the boys to dance, invite them to supper, and in general reverse the usual order of social conventions.

A Stitch in Time. When the lining next the collar of your wrap begins to show signs of wear, get a few inches of wide silk military braid, matching the color, and sew it neatly over the worn part. By pulling a thread at the edge the braid will be perfectly smooth and the garment will not appear patched.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS

We extend to all our Hearty New Year's Greetings. May the year 1922 bring added prosperity and increase your happiness, is our wish.

Kendrick State Bank

IDAHO BEST FLOUR

Hard Wheat Blend

Farina, Corn Meal, Graham, Rye Flour

Feed

Ground and Rolled Feed, O. K. Scratch Feed Craced Wheat, Meat Scraps Grit and Shell

KENDRICK MILL

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Estate of Alexander Galloway, Deceased.

Notice is hereby given by the undersigned, administrator of the estate of Alexander Galloway, deceased, to the creditors of, and all persons having claims against the said deceased, to exhibit them with the necessary vouchers, within ten months after the first publication of this notice, to the said administrator at Kendridk, Idaho, the same being the place for the transaction of the business of said estate, in Latah County, State oi Idaho. John Galloway, Administrator of

Alexander Galloway, Deceased. Dated at Moscow, Idaho, December 5th, 1921.

Wedding announcements printed at the Gazette office.

Recommends Chamber-lain's Tablets

"I have frequently used Cham-Hoyt, Rockport, N. Y.—Adv.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions, and fluenced by constitutional conditions, and in order to cure it you must take an internal remedy. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years. It is composed of some of the best tonics known, combined with some of the best blood purifiers. The perfect combination of the ingredients in Hall's Catarrh Medicine is what produces such wonderful results in catarrhal conditions Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O. All Druggists, 75C.

All Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WAGNER'S GARAGE

Bring in your batteries before they freeze.

Battery Storage per mo. 50c

Car Storage per month $2.50

We rebuild batteries.

Autos Repaired Overhauled

Oxy Acetylene Welding and Lathe Work

Charges Reasonable

All work is guaranteed

Terms Cash

Barber Shop

Courteous Treatment Satisfaction

Guaranteed

William Rogers

N. R. Shepherd

The Auctioneer

TROY,

IDAHO.

DR. J. H. KELLY

Physician and Surgeon Kendrick, Idaho

Hotel Kendrick

Taylor & Erickson, Props.

GOOD ROOMS GOOD MEALS UP STAIRS

Soft Drinks and Candy

Cigars and Tobacco Commercial Trade Solicited

Kendrick, Idaho

How Not to Take Cold

Some persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, "High," not far away, but they met if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of The young bride died in September themselves. They take a shower at Spokane, where Merritt was conor cold sponge bath every day in a nected with the Spokesman-Review. warm room, avoid over heated Merritt took the body back to Tacoma rooms, sleep with a window open or for burial, then, immediately arranged partly open, avoid excesses, over eating, becoming over heated and kane, Northwest chairman of the Near then chilled and getting the feet East Relief, for enlistment in the indication of a cold, they take sailed from New York for Constanti-Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with- nople December 10. out delay and it is soon over.

COLLEGE BOYS' AID GIVEN TO ARMENIA

Montana Students in Spirited Drive: State Responds to Call for Food and Funds.

Real college "pep" and ingenuity are being injected in characteristic Montana style into Montana's own particular plan for helping to bring back life and hope into the Bible land's nightmare of famine and despair.

To a sympathetic young "army" of Montana Agricultural College boys at Bozeman, much credit is given by State Director Alexander Pringle of the Near East Relief, for forcing Gallatin county out into an early lead with gifts of wheat and cash that will result in saving the lives of hundreds of famished children in the cropless Near East.

After carrying the appeal of the Near East to practically every school in the Gallatin valley, with short talks berlain's Tablets, during the past to the teachers and pupils, and distrithree years, and have found them buting cards for pledges of aid, this splendid for headache and bilious group of Montana college boys, enthusiattacks. I am only too pleased, at astic in the new realization of what any time, to speak a word in praise their service may mean to humanity, of them," writes Mrs. Laura M. organized themselves for further service into the College Students' Near East Relief Committee. W. J. Bennett, 209 South Tracy street, Bozeman, is chairman and W. L. Lyndon, 314 South Fifth, Bozeman is secretary-treasurer.

Montana's campaign for gifts of wheat for Near East Relief is headed by Chester Davis, state secretary of agriculture, and nearly every Montana county that raised any wheat this year is rallying to the relief of Armenia and her stricken neighbor countries.

In the Near East crops were a complete failure. Now, great masses have been cut off by winter snow from their only food supply of withered grass and roots, upon which they fed like cattle during the summer, and more than three hundred thousand orphan children are struggling gamely against starvation. Their only hope is in speedy American aid.

Even in Montana counties, where crops were a practical failure, hundreds of people, who are facing a serious problem of their own, are sharing what little they have, through state headquarters of the Near East Relief, at 5 Montana building, Helena, with those vastly poorer sufferers in the Near East, who have absolutely

HONORS DEAD WIFE WITH MERCY WORK

W. S. C. Man, Left Widower, Enlists for Perilous Relief Service.

Consecrating to the memory of his deceased bride of less than a year, a perilous service to humanity in the cholera-infected famine zone of Armenia, Alfred D. Merritt, a young Washington State College man, formerly of Montana, but lately of Tacoma, has entered the overseas service of the Near East Relief.

Nearly all 1919-20 students of the W. S. C. in Pullman remember the pretty campus romance of Merritt and Miss Miriam Edey, also of Tacoma, which culminated in their marriage at Moscow, Idaho, in November, 1920.

Merritt is the son of G. M. Merritt, veteran railroad man of the West, who 20 years back was with the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific, who a few years ago was chief clerk to Former Superintendent Rapelje of the Northern Alfred D. Merritt Who Will Help Carry Mercy to Near East Needy.

Pacific at Glendive, and who today is chief clerk with the same railroad at Miss Edey was a graduate of the Lincoln High School of Tacoma, and the groom a graduate of Stadium for the first time at the W. S. C.

through Dr. Sherman L. Divine of Spo-Then, when they feel the first overseas service of that society. He

New Year festivities, adding a couple of Christmas celebrations for good measure," according to a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Our American might start his progressive holiday jaunt by going to some western European country for the approaching New Year which the United States too will celebrate. He could then travel to Greece, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, or Bulgaria in time for Christmas in those countries. Christmas is also December 25 in the countries named, according to their calendars, but corresponds to January 7 in America.

"By remaining a week in the same country he could also spend New Year Day, called January 1, but corresponding with the American and western European January 14. By pushing on and making good connections he might be able to reach Singapore, or by supplementing steamers with airplanes could reach China itself to take part in the most there ughgoing New Year celebration in the world, the Chinese New

"After the Chinese New Year celebration, the traveler could pursue his holiday hunting less strenuously for a while. He could arrange to arrive in Siam in time for the Siamese New Year on April 1, and afterward could have five months of sightseeing before reaching Arabia for the Mohammedan New Year on September 4. He could then cross the Red Sea and make a quick journey into Abyssinia to take part in the New Year festivities of that country on September 10. Returning to the Red Sea and taking a steamer north he could easily reach Jerusalem in good time for the Hebrew New Year, October 3.

"The holiday hunter would now have aken part in all the principal New Year celebrations of the world and could return to the Western hemisphere to spend the Christmas with which he is most familiar at his own hearth side. In six days less than a year he would have chalked up seven New Year and two Christmas celebrations to his credit.

"The world's multiplicity of New Year Days and Christmastides is due to the fact that our calendar is largely an arbitrary device. The earth revolves around the sun in 365,2422 days. which makes the true year a very odd measure of time. And it is almostas difficult to choose a logical heginning for the year as it is to find the starting point of a circle. Different peoples have selected different starting points and have also assumed the years to be of slightly different lengths. This has not only resulted in the years beginning at different times but has also caused the times of heginning to vary in their relations to one another from year to year. It is as though a clock had half a dozen or more hands all moving around the dial from different starting points. "The most logical starting points for the year would seem to be summer and winter solstices and the spring and autumn equinoxes; and all ofthem have been made to mark the beginnings of the years in some parts of the world. The Gregorian calendar that is now in use in the United States and throughout most of the Christian world, is the Julian calendar slightly modified. When Julius Caesar caused it to be constructed, the beginning of the year, January 1, was placed seven days after the solstice, winter and not in con-Junction with it as logic would to dictate, The Julian year was made by means of the 'leap year' device, 365.25 days long, which was an excess over the true year of 11 minutes and 14 seconds. This excess caused the nominal January 1 to creep gradually farther and farther beyond the winter solstice so that by the time of the Church Council of Nice in 325 it was eleven days beyond the solstice instead of seven.

"By the time of Pope, Gregory's correction in 1582, January 1 was 21 days beyond the solstice and Christmas 14 beyond. If the calendar had remained uncorrected, New Year Day would have gone on creeping forward, first into spring, then into summer." Use it for pads for the baby.

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union 66 QUEAL, squeal, squeal," said Pinky, Pig.

"Grunt, grunt, grunt," said "It's the best thing I ever heard of," said Brother Bacon.

"It most certainly is," said Sammy Sausage. "I've never heard of anything so nice," said Master Pinky Pig. And his mother added,

"It's fine, squeal, squeal, it's fine." "I agree," said Miss Ham. And she grunted five times, one grunt after the other to show that she agreed.

"What are you all talking about?" asked Red Top, the rooster. "You don't know?" asked all the

"Oh yes, I know," said Red Top, crowing proudly.

"Then why did you ask?" inquired Brother Bacon. "You haven't much sense," said Red "Of course I don't know, or I wouldn't have asked." "Well did I ever," grunted Miss Ham. "You said one moment ago that you did know and now you say you don't know. Which do you mean? Do you know what we were talking about or don't you?" "Yes," said Sammy Sausage, "that is what we would like to know.'

"Well," said Red Top, "I don't know, and if I had I wouldn't have asked you. When I said I knew I thought you all had sense enough to know that I was joking. It seeins that none of you can take a joke." "Take a joke," repeated Brother Bacon. "You say that none of us can take a joke. Well, why should we? A joke isn't anything to eat. What would we be doing with a joke I'd like to know."

"Yes," Porky Pig, "we'd all like to know what we would do with a joke."

And all the pigs squealed. "We'd like to know what, we could do if we took a joke. It's nothing to eat so why should we take it?" Red Top the rooster clucked and crowed and grinned.

"This is the best joke." "What do we care about it being the best joke?" asked Brother Bacon. "We've already told you we didn't care about a joke because it was nothing to eat. We don't care whether it is a best one or not. Now if you were talking about a best dish of food -that would be different."

"Yes, that would be quite different," squealed the other pigs. "I was wrong," said Red Top grinning. "Of course you have no wish to take a joke because it is nothing to eat. I meant, of course, that it was a toke when I pretended I knew what you were talking about just after, I. had asked; you that question. I wouldn't have asked you if I had known, as I have said before. And I wouldn't have bothered to have had a litle joke with you if I had thought that you didn't care about joking. In fact you care about nothing but eat-

All the pigs grinned and twisted their little tails. "We show we're regular pigs," said Brother Bacon. "We'll forget about jokes and joking then," said Red Top. "Tell me what you were talking about. I would ike to hear. I don't know really. That's the truth. And that's not a

"We were talking about it being such a good thing," explained Miss Ham.

"What is such good thing?" asked Red Top. "This idea of: New Years resolutions," said Miss Ham. "You see we heard that every year around this time folks and creatures began making good resolutions. And we've made ours. We think they're fine and we hope to live up to them." "That's good," said Red Top. "But what are your resolutions?" he asked after a moment.

"To get all we can to eat, each of us," said Miss Ham, "and never to think or worry about anyone but ourselves.'

"Well, I never," said Red Top. "You don't know much about the real meaning of good resolutions, but what should I expect? After all your are only pigs."

"Pigs with good resolutions," repeated Miss Ham.

Old Oilcloth. Do not throw away old oilcloth.

Happy New Year, Folks!

And let's all be thankful the year 1921 leaves us healthy, ----? and wise.

Also let us look forward into 1922 with a clear eye and "each try for his share without crowding."

Personally we thank the world in general for past favors and we are looking forward with eager eyes into the year 1922.

Kendrick Furniture Co.

Health-Prosperity

May They be Yours This Coming Year

We cannot insure your health but we can help you insure yourself for future contentment and prosperity which will lead to financial independence.

Our Savings Department is intended for just such a purpose. Every dollar you put into a Savings Account in this bank is a dollar saved for your future prosperity.

One Dollar will start your "Prosperity Account" Add to it regularly in amounts to suit your convenience and watch it grow. Interest at four per cent compounded semiannually.

The FARMERS BANK

New Year 1922

Our best wishes are extended to our friends and patrons for their success and happiness during the year 1922.

Kendrick Rochdale Co.

Webster -Man's Man

By PETER B. KYNE

Author of "Cappy Ricks," "The Valley of the Giants," etc.

****************

(Copyright, by Peter B. Kyne)

CHAPTER VIII.—On the steamer Webster finds: his stateroom occupied by a stranger who declares his intention of being his guest to Buenaventura. At first angered, Webster and the stranger, after a somewhat forcible argument, reach an amicable agreement. Webster recognizes him as the youth whose life he had saved the day before, though the other does not know Webster.

CHAPTER IX.—Arriving at Sohrante, Geary welcomes Webster and 'is instrumental in helping his friend's "guest" ashore. The latter is known to Webster as "Andrew Bowers." Geary houses him at Mother Jenks'. Webster gets the idea that Geary and Dolores are in love, and with the intention of giving Geary every chance he smillingly contradicts the girl's statement that they have met before.

"Did you come out and follow them?" Webster demanded briskly. "Faith, I did. Wan av them is Francisco Arredondo, a young cavalry lootinint, an' the other wan is Captain Jose Benevides, him that do be the best pistol-shot an' swordsman in the spiggoty army."

"What kind of looking man is this Benevides, my friend?"

"A tall, thin young man, wit' a dude's moustache an' a diamond ring on his right hand. He do be whiter nor most. Have a care would ye meet him around the city an' let him pick would ye go out av a night."

"Thank you, Don Juan, You're the soul of kindness. What else do you

"Well," Don Juan replied with a naive grin, "I did know somethin' else, but shure, Misther Geary advised me to forget it. I was wit' him in the launch last night."

Webster stepped out of the veranda and laid a friendly hand on Don Juan, Cafetero's shoulder. "Don Juan," he said gently, "I'm going back to the like to come with me?"

Don Juan's watery eyes grew a his head. "Whin I'm dhrunk here, sor," he replied, "no wan pays any attintion to me, but in America they'd give me ten days in the hoosegow shtay here till the finish."

He knew the strength of the Demon and had long since ceased to fight even a rear-guard action. Webster lad, but he-heput a hand under the stubby chin and tilted Don Juan's head sharply. "Hold up your head," he commanded hold up your head. Is that it?" "You're the first of your breed I ever saw who would admit he was whipped. Here's five dollars for you-five dollars gold. Take it and return with the piece intact to-morrow morning, Don Juan Cafetero."

glance met Webster's directly, wavered. sought the ground, but at a jerk on his chin came back and-stayed. Thus for at least ten seconds they gazed at each other; then Webster spoke. "Thank you," he said.

"Me name is John J. Cafferty," the lost one quavered.

"Round one for Cafferty," Webster laughed. "Good-bye now, until nine to-morrow. I'll expect you here, John, without fail." And he took the derelict's hand and wrung it heartily.

"Well," Webster remarked humorously to Dolores as he held out his cup for more tea, "If I'm not the orlginal Tumble Tom, I hope I may never see the back of my neck."

"Do you attach any importance to Don Juan's story?" she asked anxjously.

"Yes, but not so much as Don Juan does.' I greatly fear I have managed to snarl myself up in a Sobrantean political intrigue, when I haven't the slightest interest either way. However, that's only one more reason why I should finish my work here and get back to Denver."

"But how did all this happen, Mr. Webster?"

"Like shooting fish in a dry lake. Miss Ruey," Webster replied, and related to her in detail the story of his adventure with the Sobrantean assassins in Jackson square and his subsequent meeting with Andrew Bowers aboard La Estrellita.

Dolores laughed long and heartily as Webster finished his humorous recital, "Billy told me God only made one Jack Webster and then destroyed the mold; I believe Billy is right. But do tell me what became of this extraordinary and unbidden guest."

"The night the steamer arrived in port, Billy and Don Juan came out in upon the opportunity to tell Andrew launch. Gave him a little note to Billy-carried it in his mouth-inhy him-and Billy did it. I don't ferty: one joit-no more-and then know what Andrew is up to and I every man roll his own hoop. All I hope is that they don't shoot Andrew. Miss Ruey, I love anybody that can Imme, in fact-and make me like it?" "That's so comforting," she remarked dryly. Webster looked at her sharply, suspiciously; her words were susceptible of a dual interpretation. Her next sentence, however, dissipated this impression. "Because it confirms what I told you this afternoon when I read your palm." she added.

"You didn't know how truly you man that nad crossed my path. He's uncomfortably real-drat him!" "Then you are really concerned?"

"Not at all, but I purpose sleeping with one eye open. I shan't permit myself to feel concerned until they send more than two men after mesay eight or ten."

His indifference appalled her; she leaned forward impulsively and laid a hand on his forearm. "But you must heed Don Juan's warning." she declared seriously. "You must not go out alone at night."

He grinned boyishly. "Of course not, Miss Ruey. You're going to ride out with me this evening."

"I'm not. I'll not subject you to risk." "Very well; then I shall drive out alone." "You're a despot, Mr. Webster-a regular despot." "Likewise a free agent."

"I'll go with you." "I thought so. For what hour shall order the carriage?"

"Seven-thirty. After all, they'll not dare to murder you on the Malecon." "I agree with you. It will have to be done very quietly, if at all. You've been mighty nice to me this afternoon, seeress; I shall be grateful right up to the moment of dissolution."

"Speak softly but carry a big stick," she warned him.

"A big gun," he corrected her, "-two of them, in fact."

"Sensible man! I'm not going to worry about you, Mr. Webster." She nodded her permission for him to retire, and as he walked down the veranda and into the hotel, her glance followed him with pardonable femia fight wit' ye. An' have a care, sor, | nine curiosity, marking the breadth of his shoulders, the quick, springy stride, the alert, erect poise of his head on the powerful neck.

> "A doer of deeds are you, John Stuart Webster," she almost whispered. "As Kipling would say: 'Wallah! But you are a man!"

A stealthy footstep sounded below the veranda: she turned and beheld Don Juan Cafetero, his hat in his left hand, in his right a gold-piece which he held toward her.

"Take it, allanah," he wheezed in United States very soon. Would you his hourse, drunkard's whisper, "Keep it f'r me till to-morrow, for sorra wan av me can I trust to do that sameshade mistier, if possible. He shook | an' be the same token I can't face that | big man wit'out it."

"Why not. Don Juan?" wanst a week. Thank you, sor, but I'll 'tis on account av him—the eye av | ing." him—the way av him—divil such a Shure, Misther Geary do be the fine

> "Mr. Geary never put a blg forefinger under your chin and bade you

> "Tis not what he did, Miss but the way he did it. All the flends av hell 'll be at me this night to shpend what he give me-and I-I'm afraid-"

He broke off, mumbling and chattering like a man in the grip of a great Don Juan Cafetero's wondering terror. In his agony of body and spirit, Dolores could have wept for Don Juan Cafetero, for in that supreme moment the derelict's soul was bare, revealing something pure and sweet and human, for all his degradation. How did Jack Webster know? wondered Dolores. And why did he so confidently give an order to this human flotsam and expect it to be obeyed? And why did Don Juan Cafetero come whining to her for > strength to help him obey it? "That wouldn't be playing the game," she told him. "I can't help you deceive him. You are the first of your breed-"

"Don't say it." he cried. "Didn't he tell me wanst?"

"Then make the fight, Don-Mr. Cafferty." She lowered her voice. "I am depending on you to stay sober and guard him. He needs a faithful friend so badly, now that Mr., Geary is away," She patted the grimy hand and left him staring at the ground. Presently he sighed, quivered horribly. and shambled out of the patio on to the firing-line. And when he reported to Jack Webster at nine o'clock next morning, he was sober, shaking horribly and on the verge of delirium tremens, but tightly clasped in his right hand he held that five-dollar piece. Dolores, who had made it her business to be present at the Interview, heard John Stuart Webster say heartily:

"The finest thing about a terrible fight, friend Cafferty, is that if it is a worth-while battle, the spoils of victory are exceedingly sweet. You are now about to enjoy one fourth of the said spoils-a large jolt of aguardiente! You must have it to steady your nerves. Go to the nearest cantina and buy one drink; then come back with the change. By that time a launch to say 'Helio,' so I seized I shall have breakfasted and you and I will then go sliopping. At noon you to jump overboard and swim to the shall have another drink; at four o'clock another; and just before retiring you shall have the fourth and structing Billy to do the right thing | last for this day. Remember, Cafback here with the exact change." don't care. Where I was raised we let | As Don Juan scurried for salvation, Webster turned to Dolores. "He'll fail me now, but that will not be his fault If they do, I fear I'll weep. He's cer- but mine. I've set him too great a tainly a skookum lad. Do you know! task in his present condition. Nevertheless, to use a colloquial expression, pose on nie-make a mankey out of I have the Cafferty good and I'm going to keep it."

Webster went immediately to his room, called for pen and paper, and proceeded at once to do that which he had never done before-to wit. prepare his last will and testament. In a few brief paragraphs he made a holographic will and split his bankroll equally between the two human beings he cared for most-Billy Geary and Dolores Ruey. "Bill's a gambler spoke when you referred to the dark like me," he ruminated; "so I'll play safe. The girl is a conservative, and after Bill's wad is gone, he'd he boiled in oil before he'd prejudice hers."

Having made his will. Webster nade a copy of it. The copy he placed in an envelope marked: "For Jack. Not to be opened until after my death." This envelope he then enclosed in a larger one and mailed to Billy at Calle de Concordia No. 19.

Having made his few simple preparations for death, Mr. Webster next burrowed in his trunk, brought forth his big army-type automatic pistol and secured it in a hoister under his arm, for he deemed it unwise and provocative of curiosity to appear in immaculate ducks that bulged at the right hip. Next he filled two spare clips with cartridges and slipped them into his pocket, thus completing his few simple preparations for life.

He glanced out the window at the sun. There would still be an hour of daylight; so he descended to the lobby. called a carriage and took a short

Returning to the hotel he dismissed the carriage, climbed , the three short steps to the entrance and was passing through the revolving portal, when from his rear some one gave the door a violent shove, with the result that the turnstile partition behind him collided with his back with sufficient force to throw him against the partition in front. Instantly the door ceased to pivot, with Webster locked nently in the triangular space between the two sections of the revolving door and the jamb.

He turned and beheld in the section behind him an officer of the Sobrantean army. This individual, observing he was under Webster's scrutiny, scowled and peremptorily motioned to Webster to proceedwhich the latter did, with such violence that the door, continuing to revolve, caught up with the Sobrantean and subjected him to the same indignity to which he had subjected

Webster. Once free of the door, Webster waited just inside the lobby for the Sobrantean to conclude his precipitate entrance. When he did, Webster looked him over with mild curiosity and bowed with great condescension. "Did any gentleman ever tell the senor that he is an ill-mannered monkey?" he queried coolly in excellent Spanish. "If not, I desire to give the senor that information, and to tell He hung his red head. "I dunno, him that his size alone prevents me Miss," he replied miserably. "Maybe from giving him a nice little spank-man did I ever meet-God bless him! His olive features paled with anger. he trembled with emotion and seemed undecided what to /do-seeing which Webster grinned at him tantalizingly. That decided him. No Latin-American, with the exaggerated ego of his race, can bear even a suspicion of ridicule. The officer walked flercely toward Webster and swung his arm toward the latter's face in an effort to land a slap that was "meant."

Webster merely threw back his head and avoided the blow; his long left arm shot out and beat down the Sobrantean's guard; then Webster's right hand closed around the officer's collar. "Come to me thou insolent little one," he crooned, and jerked his assailant toward him, gathered him up in his arms, carried bim, kicking

Soused Him in the Fountain. and screaming with futile rage, out fountain. "Now, then, spltfire, that will cool your hot head, I trust," he admonished his unhappy victim, and returned to the hotel.' At the desk he paused.

into the patio and soused him in the

"Who was that person I just bathed?" he inquired of the excited clerk. "Ah, senor, you shall not long be kept in Ignorance," that functionary informed him. "That is the terrible

Captain Benavides-" "Do you know, I had a notion it was he?" Webster replied ruminatively. "Well, I suppose I'm in for a duel now," be added to himself as he elimbed the states to his coom, "I berns spilled, implied obedience think that will be most interesting."

John Stuart Webster changed into dry clothing and descended to the dining-room. Miss Ruey was already seated at her table and motioned him to the seat opposite her, and as he sat down with a contented little sigh. she gazed at him with a newer and more alert interest.

"I hear you've been having adventures again," she challenged. "The news is all over the hotel. I heard it from the head waiter."

"Coffee and pistols for two at daylight," he answered cheerily. "By the way, I have made my will, just to be on the safe side. Will you be good enough to take charge of it until after the funeral? You can turn it over to Billy then."

She fell readily into the bantering spirit with which he treated this serious subject. Indeed, it was quite impossible to do otherwise, for John Stuart Webster's personality radiated such a feeling of security, of absolute, unbounded confidence in the future and disdain for whatever of good fortune or ill the future might entail, that Dolores found it impossible not to assimilate his mood.

At seven-thirty, after a delightful dinner, the niemory of which Mr. Webster was certain would linger under his foretop long after every other memory had departed, he escorted her to the open carriage he had ordered, and for two hours they circled the Malecon with the elite of Buenaventura, listening to the music of the band, and, during the brief intermissions, to the sound of the waves lapping the heach at the foot of the broad driveway.

"This." said John Stuart Webster, as he said goodnight to Dolores in the lobby, "is the end of a perfect day," It wasn't, for at that precise moment ,a servant handed him a card, and indicated a young man sented in an adjacent lounging-chair, at the same time volunteering the information that the visitor had been awaiting Senor Webster's return for the past hour.

Webster glanced at the card and strode over to the young man. "I am Mr. Webster, sir," he announced civilly in Spanish. "And you Lieutepant Arredondo?"

The visitor rose, bowed low and indicated he was that gentleman. have called. Mr. Webster," he stated in most excellent English, "in the interest of my friend and comrade. Captain Benavides."

"Ah, yes! The fresh little rooster I ducked in the fountain this evening. Well, what does the little squirt want now? Another ducking?'

Arredondo flushed angrily but remembered the dignity of his mission and controlled his temper. "Captain Benavides has asked me to express to you the hope that you, being doubtless a man of honor—'

"Stop right there, Lieutenant, There is no doubt about it. I am a man of honor, and unless you are auxious to be ducked in the fountain, you will be more careful in your choice of words. Now then: You are about to say that, being a man of honor—"

"You would accord my friend the satisfaction which one gentleman never fails to accord another."

"That lets me out, amigo," Webster laughed. "Benavides isn't a gentleman. He's a cutthroat, a murdering little black-and-tan-liquind. Do I understand he wants me to tight a duel with him?"

Lieutenant Arredondo could not trust himself to speak, and so he bowed profoundly. "Very well, then, Lieutenant," Webster agreed. "I'll fight him," "Tomorrow morning at five o'clock."

"Five minutes from now if you say

"Captain Benavides will be grateful for your willing spirit, at least," the second replied bitterly. "You realize." of course, Mr. Webster, that as the challenged party, the choice of weap. ons rests with you."

"Certainly. I wouldn't have risked duel if the choice lay with the other fellow. With your permission, my dear sir, we'll fight with Mauser rifles at a thousand yards, for the reason that I never knew a Greaser that could hit the broad side of a brewery at any range over two hundred and fifty jurds." Webster chuckled fiendishly.

Lieutenant Arredondo bit his lips in anger and vexation. "I cannot agree to such an extraordinary duel," he complained. "It is the custom in Sobrante for gentlemen to fight with

"Oh, dry up, you sneaking murderer," Webster exploded, "There isn't going to be any duel except on my terms-so you might as well take a straight tip from headquarters and stick to plain assassination. You and Benavides have been sent out by your superior to kill me-you got your orders this very afternoon at the entrance to the government palace—and I'm just not going to be killed. Beat it, boy, while the going is good." He pointed toward the hotel door, "Out.

you blackguard!" he ronred. "Vaya!" Lieutenant Arredondo rose and with dignified mien started for the door. Webster followed, and as his visitor reached the portal, a tremendous kick well placed, lifted him down to the sidewalk, Shricking curses, he fled into the night; and John Stuart Webster, with a satisfied feeling that something accomplished had earned a night's repose, retired to his room his mauve silk palamas, and slept the sleep of a healthy, conscience-free ma'n. At about the same hour Neddy Jerome, playing solitaire in the Englneers' club in Denver, was the reciplent of a cablegram which read: "If W. cables accepting reply rejecting account. Job filled otherwise spells victory.

"Reprietta." Neddy Jerome wiped his spectacles. adjusted them on his nose and rend this amazing message once more. "Jumped-up Jehosophat!" he murmured. "If she hasn't followed that madcap Webster clear to Buenaventura! If she isn't out in earnest to earn her fee. I'm an orang-outang! By thunder, that's a *smart woman. All right! I'll be implicitly obedient." Two hours later Neddy Jerome received another cablegram. It was from John Stuart Webster and rend as follows: "Hold job ninety days at latest may be back before. If satisfactory cable."

Again Mr. Jerome had recourse to the most powerful expletive at his command. "Henrietta knew he was going to cable and beat the old sourdough to it," he sollloquized. He was wrapped in profound admiration of her cunning for as much as five minutes; then he indited this reply to his victim:

"Time, tide and good jobs wait for no man. Sorry. Job already filled/ by better man."

When John Stuart Webster received that cablegram the following morning. he cursed bitterly-not because he had lost the best job that had ever been offered him, but because he had lost through playing a good hand poorly. He hated himself for his

CHAPTER XI.

For fully an hour after retiring John Stuart Webster slept the deep. untroubled sleep of a healthy unworried man; then one of the many species of "jigger" which flourish just north and south of the equator crawled into bed with him and promptly proceeded to establish its commissary on the inner flank of the Websterian thigh, where the skin is thin and the blood close to the surface. As a consequence. Mr. Webster awoke suddenly, obliterated the intruder and got out of hed for the purpose of anointing the injured spot with alcohol-which being done, an active search of the bed resulted in the discovery of three more jiggers and the envelopment of John Stuart Webster's soul in the fogs of apprehension.

"Tis an evil land, filled with trouble," he mused as he lighted a cigaret. "I wish Bill were here to advise me. He ought to be able to straighten this deal out and assure the higher-ups that I'm not butting in on their political affairs. But Bill's up-country and here I am under surveillance and unable to leave the hotel to talk it over with Andrew Bowers, the only-other white expert I know of in town. And by the way. they're after Andrew, too! I wonder what for."

He smoked two cigarets, the while he pondered the various visible aspects of this dark mess in which he found himself floundering. And finally be arrived at a decision "These chaps aren't thorough." Webster decidea. "They'll see me safely to bed and pick me up again in the morning -so I'll take a chance that the coast is clear, slip out now and talk it over with Andrew."

He looked at his watch-eleventhirty. Hurriedly he dressed, strapped on his automatic pistol, dragged his bed noiselessly to the open window and tled to the bed-leg the rope he used to lash his trunk; then he lowered himself out the window. The length of rope permitted him to descend within a few feet of the ground, Webster made his way to the street unnoticed and ten minutes later uppeared before the entrance of El Buen Amigo just as Mother Jenks was barring it for the night.

He Lowered Himself Out of the Win-

(To be continued)

"Have you made any good resolutions, for the new year." "Yeseir, I'm goin! to quit bustin! men's hearts."

KENDRICK LODGE NO. 26. A. F. @ A. M.

Meets every second and last Thursday of the month E. W. Lutz, W. M. M. B. McConnell, Secretary.

W. A. Rothwell, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon Office State Bank Building

Dr. S. A. Roe

Practice Limited to Diseases of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Glasses Fitted Office Over Beach's Store

DR. A. OTTERAAEN PHYSICIAN

LEWISTON, IDAHO

Phone 832

KENDRICK, IDAHO

A. H. OVERSMITH

Attorney-at-Law

Urquhart Building

Moscow, Idaho.

Third Street

Draying

Residence Phone 726

Kendrick Dray and Ice Co.

Frank Chamberlain, Prop.

Horseshoeing

General Blacksmithing Wagon and Carriage Shop All work Guaranteed. ALL KINDS OF

Repairing neatly done.

Frank Crocker

Regular Meals 40c. Short Orders all day

Prompt Service Lunches Served Any Time

Mrs. Minnie McDowell Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the

Mother's Favorite. The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures have made it a favorite with people everywhere. It is especially prized by mothers of young children for colds, croup and whooping cough, as it always affords quick relief and is free from opium and other harmful drugs. -Adv.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

Estate of Sarah C. Darby, Deceased. Notice is hereby igven by the undersigned, executor of the estate  $\,$  of  $\,$ Sarah C. Darby, deceased, to the creditors of, and all persons having claims against the said deceased, to exhibit them with the necessary vouchers, within four months after the first publication of this notice, to-wit, December 23, 1921, to the said executor at his residence at Linden, the same being the place for the transaction of the business of said estate, in Latah County,

State of Idaho. Edward Darby, Executor of the Estate of Sarah C. Darby, Deceased. Dated at Muscow, Idaho, December 17, 1921. Orland & Lee, Attorneys for Executor, Moscow, Idaho.

BIDDY LAYING SHARE FOR HUNGRY KIDDIES

Many an ode has been written to the "little brown hen," but according to Miss Z. Fay Fowler, of Boise, Idaho, director of Near East Relief, it remains for the kiddies of Armenia to sing a new praise to South Idaho's "Biddy," so patriotic in war and productive in peace, for South Idaho's "Biddy" is playing an up-to-the-minute role as "Lady Bountiful" to Armenia's orphans in their crisis of peril and need. In the Nampa section and other districts, contribution boxes in the form of empty egg cases have been placed in some schools. To "Biddy" has been assigned the job of filling these with her eggs. These offerings are brought to the schools by the pupils and when a case has been filled it is turned over to Near East Relief."

Five dollars will pay for the care of one of the Bible land's needy orphans for an entire month in an orphanage of Near Bast Relief.

VICKREY RECOUNTS SCENES OF HORROR

National Relief Leader Views Relics of Near East Tragedies; Pleads for Help.

BY CHARLES V. VICKREY General Secretary Near East Relief, 151 Fifth Avenue, New York.

I have been in the Caucasus and in the heart of Armenia. I have seen the dead and dying of starvation. I walked through streets of once prosperous cities, where not one particle of worth-while merchandise could be seen for sale. Streets and market places are used chiefly as bartering places where people endeavor to exchange a second-hand garment, or other personal property for food with which to satisfy hunger. ·

This was last August. One's imagin-

GREETINGS FOR 1922

We wish to express to our customers the appreciation of the business entrusted to us during the past year. We assure you we will endeavor to warrant the same patronage during the New Year to come.

Kendrick Garage Company

SCHUPFER & DEOBALD

We Wish You a Happy and Prosperous

NEW YEAR

And we thank you for the generous patronage with which we have been favored during the past twelve

Our Pledge to 1922

Is courteous, efficient and economical service to the end that we may live and let live and we trust to be able to merit your confidence and support, because therein is the key to the question whether or not our dream of greater service to you is to become a

STANTON BROS.

Agents for the big IT (International Tailoring)

We wish you the best there is for 1922.

what conditions will be in February and March!

The question naturally occurs-are the people to blame, and why do they not regain self-support?

One of the main reasons is that these lands were occupied by enemy forces until the 21st of April, 1921, with no transportation or communication to the outside world. After April 21, it was impossible to procure sufficient seed and plant enough land to produce adequate food supplies. Then, too, the fact that I have stood beside heaps of human bones and half-decomposed bodies representing the remains of 500 women and children killed in one spot within the year-and these were only a part of the 12,000 non-combatants who perished in that vicinity-suggests the reign of terror that has paralyzed all normal self-supporting activi-

These people are trying to help themselves and the existing government is doing all that is humanly possible for a government to do under present conditions, but without outside help—help from the whole of America -there will be a death rate in the ation recoils before the picture of Caucasus during the coming year comparable only with that which many of our workers witnessed three years ago. Happy in America's Care.

Of course there is a brighter side-within our orphanage compounds, where the children are no longer hungry, and where they laugh and sing and play. It is a gratifying sight to see these children, thousands of them, the winter from cast-off American gar-at work making their own clothing for ments and empty flour sacks, and otherwise bending every effort to meet their own needs. These children we will probably, on present prospects, be able to keep alive, but we must face the question of how much we can do toward taking in those naked, starving little orphaned creatures outside. Because funds so far received have not come in sufficient quantity, we cannot salvage these human atoms who are pounding at our orphanage gates and on our hearts.

Americans, in your after-war calm, I plead with you, stretch out a hand to these victims of relentless war, beside whose tragedies and sufferings our gravest problems here at home are trivial. To the land where there is no food to be bought, nor money with which to buy it, I ask you to send your practical American dollars to save from death this remnant of suffering humanity that is struggling so bravely and so desperately to save itself.

FEEDING NEW CORN TO HOGS

Give Few Stalks Just as Plant Reaches Advanced Milk Stage, Gradually Increasing Amount.

A good way to accustom hogs to the new corn is to cut a few stalks of corn and throw it over the fence to the hogs just as it reaches the advanced milk stage, gradually increasing the amount until in 10 or 12 days, when the corn is well dented, the hogs are getting a full feed. Even then, it is necessary to watch them closely to see that none get off feed because of digestive trouble.

GOVERNOR OF UTAH WOULD SAVE LIVES

Mabey Says "Charity Begins at Home" But Urges Cause of Near East Relief.

Governor Mabey of Utah has given hearty endorsement of the efforts of the Near East Relief to care for the more than one hundred thousand children and the vast army of refugees outside the relief society's orphanages in the Levant, who are entirely dependent upon the humanity and generosity of his state and the rest of America for their existence. Similar endorsements have previously been given by the majority of state executives and ov President Harding.

In a letter to Charles V. Vickrey, 151 Fifth avenue, New York, general national secretary of the Near East Relief, Governor Mabey writes:

"It is with full knowledge of the rather difficult times with which we are at present confronted that I subscribe myself to the support of the

Governor Mabey

Near East Relief. Fully aware of the significance of the epigram, 'charity begins at home,' I cannot refrain from calling attention to the distress, hunger and disease which stalk the people of and do not allow hogs to run on free Armenia and other parts of Asia

As state director of the Near East Relief. Mrs. Elizabeth M. Cohen, one of the best known and most loved women in Utah, is asking her state to care for 1250 orphans of Armenia for another year, and from her headquarters at room 1, 120 East First South, Salt Lake City, she is conducting a determined state-wide campaign with that objective in view.

Utah's wheat growers are asked for a combined gift of 6000 bushels of their wheat, while other producers and the urban populations have been appealed to for cooperation in the donation and purchase of the balance toward $75,000 worth of Utah products needed to tide these children through.

The L. D. S. church is again giving strong support to the Near East Re-

STOCK

CHOLERA TAKES LARGE TOLL

Losses Have Been Greatly Reduced and May Be Wiped Out Entirely By Right Treatment.

August and September take the heaviest toll through hog cholera, the bane of swine keepers, which in years past has wiped out entire herds after an expensive season's feeding. In certain years the hog-cholera toll has run as high as 144 per 1,000 through the. United States. Preventive measures developed by the United States Department of Agriculture have reduced the toll to 38. The experts, whose work has effected this annual multimillion-dollar saving, assert confidently that the means of absolute insurance from hog cholera losses is within the reach of any farmer who cares to take the precautionary trouble and expense.

The serum treatment, developed about 15 years ago and first put into general use within the last six or seven years, gives immunity if injected in time. This serum treatment is described fully in Farmers' Bulletin 834, which should be kept at hand for ready reference by every hog raiser.

Hog cholera is an epidemic disease; that means that it spreads from one or a few initial cases. It is carried in bedding, sty refuse, feeding troughs, loading shutes, railroad cars, farm implements, clothing of laborers, and even in running water. Sanitation will cut down the danger, but it is not an absolute preventive. Unless the farmer has taken the precaution to have all of his herd immunized with serum and virus, an operation which should be done by a veterinarian or a specially trained layman, there is always possibility of the disease breaking out unexpectedly.

Cholera-Free Pigs May Be Assured if Serum Is Used in Time.

The farmer's protection lies in the fact that usually only one or two memand he should be on the watch. One or two hogs will refuse to come up to feed with the herd. They will remain hidden in the nest, and when driver from the bed their backs may be arched and they may appear cold, and shiver. The rest of the herd may remain apparently well for several days. when others are likely to be found affected in about the same way as those first eattacked. As the disease progresses the sick hogs become gaunt or tucked up in the flanks, and have a weak, staggering gait, the weakness being most marked in the hind legs.

If the lungs are affected there may be a cough, which is particularly noticeable when the hogs are disturbed. The eyes usually are inflamed and show a whitish discharge, which may cause the lids to stick together. Constipation, which is commonly present in the early days of the disease, is generally followed by a diarrhoea. As the disease reaches its height red or purplish blotches are likely to appear upon the skin of the ears, of the belly, and the inner surfaces of the

Some of the symptoms mentioned may be present in other diseases, but the owner should remember that cholera; spreads rapidly through a herd and no time should be lost in calling a veterinarian to diagnose the disease and administer the proper treatment. If the disease is cholera heavy losses can be averted only by prompt administration of hog-cholera

Autopsy should be performed upon hogs which die of any disease. Indications of cholera are described in the bulletin referred to. The most important thing is to be prepared and to act promptly.

Locate hog lots and pastures away from streams and public highways, range or highways, nor to have access to canals or irrigated ditches. Do not drive into hog lots after driving on public highways.

Do not use hog lots for yarding wagons and farm implements.

GIVE PURE DRINKING WATER

Necessary for Best Health of Fowls as All Poultrymen Know-Epsom Salts Help.

Pure drinking water is necessary, as all our good poultrymen and poultrywomen know. An occasional dose of Epsom salts, twenty grains to the quart, followed by thirty grains of bicarbonate of soda to each quart of drinking water is a cleanser reported by some of our breeders as being

Observing New Year's

EW YEAR'S day isn't what it used to be. This is in a small way attributable to the addition to the Constitution of some dry reading matter. In still greater part it is because the international obsession for celebrating whenever Father Time takes a fresh start in piloting the earth around the sun is thousands of years old. The manner of observing the day has changed greatly through the centuries.

The urge to give presents at least once a year was felt even before Christmas and Santa Claus came into the scheme of things, and the ancient Greeks, Chinese, Egyptians and Romans tendered their gifts to one another on the first day of the year. Kings got into the habit of receiving extra gifts from their subjects ion these days and liked it so well they began extorting larger and larger sums. This practice got so bad in Rome under the Caesars that Claudius called a halt.

It spread to other countries, however, and the English had their New Year's celebration spoiled annually by rapacious sovereigns until Queen Elizabeth's modest demands of her subjects cut gifts down to a minimum. In those days the celebration of New Year's day had become worldwide. With variations to suit all nationalities, it consisted everywhere of eating, drinking and motley merri-

Christopher Columbus, so far as s known, was the first white man to jubilate on New Year's day in the western hemisphere. While his ships were undergoing repairs on January 1. 1493, he enjoyed a sumptuous dinner with two savage monarchs on the island of Haiti. After this meal, history says, the discoverer of America had his first smoke of tobacco. Whether he enjoyed it is not recorded, but he left it to a later generation-Sir Walter Raleigh is generally credited with the function—to introduce tobacco to Europe.

The Pilgrim Fathers and the first families of the older states of the Union enjoyed a quiet holiday as each year came around. They feasted, but not until they had attended reigious services.

For 25 years up to the dawn of 920 and the era of war-time prohibition, the celebration in large cities became noisier and more expensive each year. Thousands used to crowd into places of merriment, while principal thoroughfares were packed with throngs of merrymakers with squawkers, clappers, bells and confetti.

Every hotel and most of the restaurants were jammed with gay diners. In 1908 it was estimated that $1,000,000 was spent in the New York white-light district on New Year's eve. After that statisticians gave up trying to figure out the sum.

SILO PAYS LARGE DIVIDENDS

Stands as Sentinel to Successful Cropping and Efficient Feeding-More Are Needed.

The silo has been the difference between success and failure on many farms where cows, beef cattle or sheen are kept. The silo stands as a sentinel to successful cropping and efficient feeding. It should be a monument to thrift and progressive husbandry on more farms. Why not ensile your corn and carry your cattle or sheep through the winter economically?

Liberty Candy.

Liberty candy calls for one cupful of white sugar, a half-cupful of water. a pound each of raisins and dates. and two pounds of nuts. Chop the fruit and nuts separately, then com- and paves the way for the more bine them. Cook the sugar to a sirup serious disease. Can you afford to that strings from the spoon, add flavor, then mix in the fruit and nuts. Spread | Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, famin a thin layer on a buttered tin, and when almost cold cut into squares.

Linden Items

Miss Hammond is spending the holidays with her parents in Spokane this week.

A large crowd attended the Christmas tree and program. Friday even-

Mrs. Vaughan and Ted and Mr. Fonburg enjoyed a turkey dinner at the C. H. Fry home Christmas

Ed Darby and family spent Christmas day with John and Elsie Darby at Crescent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Addie Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Israel and children and Eva Smith were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Lou Alexander's home, Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Longfellow, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Longtellow and ittle son were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Lyons Christmas day.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bohn spent unday with the Shingler family.

A few of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Garners friends spent a very pleasant vening at their home, Saturday.

Miss Carrie and Arley Allen spent Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs.

"Earl Langdon is threshing his

Mr. McPhee and Granvill Walleft Tuesday mornng for Long Meal dow where they will haul lumber.

Cleve and Celia McPnee and Edgar Bohn attended the dance at Cavendsh, Monday night.

Mrs. Chris Dahl and daughters, and John Charlie and Maggie Jelloberg, Ray and Edgar Bohn of Park attended the Christmas tree here Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Garner, Mr. and Mrs. D. McPhee, Cleve and Celia McPhee and Edgar Bohn spent Christmas at the George Garner

George Garner who has been suffering with lumbago the past two weeks is better at this writing.

The contest held between the Red's and White's ended Christmas morning for this quarter with a result of both sides tieing so it was decided to have a big dinner at the Cookhouse, Fridiay, January 6, at noon. It is hoped the contest will continue and everyone take as much interest as before.

Southwick News

. The Christmas prorgam given at the U. B. church was a great success and enjoyed by all.

Henry Jones is home on a visit.

Henry Lettenmaier spent Christmas at the home of his brother, John. Monday. He returned to Moscow,

An article loverlooked last week was the arrival of a boy at the home. of Tom Armitage.

Dr. Baker and wife, Lee Kirk and Homer Hayward and family spent Christmas, at the Charlie Hayward

Taking Desperate Chances

It is true that many contract seere colds and recover from them without taking any precaution or treatment, and a knowledge of this fact leads others take their chances instead of giving their colds the needed attention. It should be borne in mind that every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, makes the system less able to withstand each succeeding attack take such desperate chances when ous for its cures of bad colds may be had for a trifle.—Adv.

From 1921 to 1922

In thanking our many customers for their liberal patronage during the past year, we wish to state that if, with your loyal co-operation, our business grows as fast in 1922 as it did in 1921, we will be more than satisfied. Let us do your baking and make the New Year happy for you.

Pearson's Electric Bakery

L. E. Pearson, Prop.

How About Horse Blankets?

I have good 10 oz. white duck blankets priced very reasonably. Also some good buys in robes.

Kendrick Harness Shop

N. E. Walker, Prop.

months.

reality.

Pre-Inventory Sale

Our Pre-Inventory Sale has been a great success. Tomorrow, (Saturday) the last day, you cannot afford to pass up this sale. If you have not already been here, come in tomorrow, buy for cash and save money. Postage paid on telephone orders.

With every $20 order, Saturday, we will sell 100 pounds of sugar for $5.95.

By the way, Emil Larson won the barrel of flour given away last Saturday for the largest purchase of goods.

Happy New Year

A. H. WOLLER

CAMERON, IDAHO

News Items of Local Interest

Saturday to spend Christmas with was in the affirmative and when a Miss Viola McCallister was a Lewiston visitor Wednesday.

Roy Florance arrived from Clarkston Thursday morning to visit friends here.

A. V. Dunkle "wired" his Christmas tree for electric lights. It contained 30 small, colored light bulbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Raaberg spent Christmas with relatives in Ross Hoffman came from the tion Kooskia country Wednesday to transact business here. He extended an XMiss Bernice Gentry, who is attendabové Kooskia. He says it is just a her parents in Kendrick. question of dropping your hook in the water and pulling out a fish from a foot long on up. And along with the good fishing he has venison, elk meat, beet, chicken-not to mention the trout. The fishing a-lone would be sufficient inducement, 90 miles away.

Last week Ben Cummings went to Linden where he helped John Carr thresh his wheat crop, finishing the job the day before Christmas. The wheat had been stacked Wallace McKeever, who is study-ing dentistry at Portland, spent Christmas here with his parents.

Miss Edith Compton, who is teaching in the city schools of Boise, arrived last Saturday to spend her vacation with her folks here.

Laurel Boyd of Spokane arrived Thursday afternoon to visit his Kendrick, Idaho, will be held Tuesbrother, Frank. He is taking a commercial course at the vocational training school. After the first of the year he expects to be transferred to the University of Washington at Seattle.

Sheriff John L. Woody was trans-acting business in Kendrick Thursday afternoon.

parents in Kendrick.

Thursday, January 12.

urday to visit his mother in Kend-

Mrs. Trumbull of Spokane spent the week end in Kendrick with Charles Riggle received a letter boxes. from his son, Ward, stating that he was quite ill in a hospital at Hot Springs, Arkansas. He also mentioned the fact that business conditions there were very dull and

With every $20 purchase Saturday, we will sell 100 pounds of sugar for $5.95. A. H. Woller,

John F. Waide came over from Deary last week to spend Christmas with his faimly. Arthur L. Raahersg arrived Monday afternoon to visit a few days with his brother, Leo C. Raaberg. Miss Florence Hollada, book-keep-er in the First National Bank of Moscow, spent Sunday and Monday with her mother and sisters in on his way from Moscow, where he was transacting business.

Miss Joycie Hunt of Crescent was a Lewiston visitor this week.

Bill Zeyen of Pullman returned home Thursday afternoon after visiting friends on Potlatch ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Davis of Lew-iston were the guests of Mr. and

A large quantity of ice is being Mrs. F. E. Erickson over the week school in Moscow, arrived last Fri- enough to help devour. This was day afternoon to spend her vacation given on Christmas day by Mr. and at her home on American ridge.

Arthur Mounce and Helen Brown of Lewiston spent Christmas day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Bradshaw.

Charles Riggle is spending his vacation in Kendrick. He is teach- decorated with colors appropriate to ing the Thompson school nut far from Park. Mr. Riggle said the elegant consisting of an abundance district is badly in need of a new school house, and that the trustees plan to build one next year.

Miss Mable McKeever came up from Lewiston last week to spend the recipients of a number of usethe holiday vacation with her par- ful presents consisting of aluminum.

Last week a party on American ridge and asked if there was anyone whether he is a Methodist or a supplies and workers of Near East that people want to get off at so that of his trade because gambling is proon the ridge who could locate a lot in Baptist since the ducking he got in Relief.

Ray Snyder went to Culdesac last the Wild Rose cemetery. The reply number of American ridge men owner may have same by paying drove over to the cemetery on Bear feed bill and for advertisement. Miss Elizabeth Kern of Lewiston ridge they found 14 men waiting to and Andrew Kern of Hermiston assist them in locating the lot and Oregon arrived the first of the week digging the grave. This is a to visit their sister, Mrs. F. E. sample of the bear ridge neighborly

> Mr. and Mrs. Neal Nelson and end with relatives on American Gazette.

The Asotin County Sentinel originated a clever idea for last week's issue. An individual Christmas greeting was extended to each and everyone of the subscribers of that paper. It required several pages for publishing the greetings. Each subscriber's name was mentioned and an original greeting in connecinvitation to ye editor to go to his ing business college at Spokane, place and fish in the Clearwater spent her Chistmas vacation with > Sylvester Kazda of Southwick went to Lewiston Saturday to spend the week end with relatives.

One of the largest crowds of the season attended the American Legion dance at the Fraternal but tishing is always good when it's Temple in Kendrick last Monday

Chris Majer was transacting busi- Fred S. Beckwith, who for a numness in Moscow the first of the week. ber of years conducted a general merchandise store in Kendrick, is now selling California fruit and vinevard lands near Sacramento, California. Mr. Beckwith's store was located in the building now occupied by the Kendrick Store Co.

> Harry McKeever came up from Clarkston Sunday atternoon to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles

-Annual Legion Meeting

The annual meeting of Canyon Post No. 66, American Legion, of day, January 10, at the City hall. There will be election of officers and other important business that must be taken care of. All legion members and ex-service men are urgently requested to be present.

Leland Items

Dan Guy came over from Grange- Art Webster and family of Pa-ville to spend Christmas with his louse. Wn., are visiting relatives on the ridge this week.

The stockholders of the Kendrick Rochdale Co. will hold their regular semi-annual meeting in Kendrick, S. F. Friday evening in the 1. O. O. F. hall, which was crowded far beyond the, seating capacity. An Will Pemberton arrived last Sat- excellent program consisting of music, recitations and dialogues was rendered.

> The Odd Fellows gave a box social Thursday evening. A short program was rendered. They realized quite a neat sum from the sale of Ed Fleshman and family spent the week end in Juliaetta.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith spent Christmas in Southwick with Mrs. jobs of any kind were at a premium. | Smith's parents.

Ed Johnson is moving into the McCall house in the east end of L

Mrs. Wm. Bond visited her parents at Moscow over Christmas. XMr. and Mrs. Amel Peters celebrated their tenth wedding anniverfor their relatives. The teachers are all away this week, some gone home, some visitvisiting the latter's parents here this week.

James and Edith Winegardner Mitch Blackburn of Cavendish teachers in the Genesee schools and passed through Kendrick Thursday sister, Alice, a student of the same school are spending their vacation here with their parents.

Wilford Corkil' and mother and Miss Edna Quirk are whiting on American ridge this week

Revival meetings will begin Sunday January 1st. The pastor will be assisted by Rev. 1. N. Hughes and put up this week.

Mrs., Lucy Hoffman is visiting her children here this week.

Quite a number of Christmas din ners were given in and around Leland, but we can only give the de-Babe Callison, who is attending tails of the one we were fortunate Mrs. R. C. Smith, this being also their tenth wedging anniversary The dining room was beautifully the occasion. The dinner was of nice roast turkey and everything that goes to make a complete Christmas dinner. There were thirty-four present. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were Mrs. R. C. Smith is now the possessor of a "brand new" piano.

ridge phoned to a triend on Bear R. M. Smith scarcely knows the lake yesterday, while cutting

STRAYS: one white face yearling bull; one three year old red heifer, swallow fork and underbit in left ear, has white strip up both flanks, Louis Alexander, Crescent, Idaho, Pone 601X1.

FOR SALE: A good light car and some cash buys good 160 acres on Potlatch ridge, 150 acres cultivated, good improvements, well located. tamily of Clarkston spent the week A dandy home. Terms. Inquire

When You Are Constipated

To insure a healthy action of the bowels, correct disorders of liver, take two of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper. They will not only causu a gentle movement of the bowels, without unpleasant effects, but banish that dull, stupid feeling, that often accompanies constipation.—Adv.

NOTICE

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fraternal Temple Company will be held Tuesday, Jan uary 10, at 2 o'clock. W. M. Mc-Crea, Secretary.

Welcome, New Year

HAVE written a welcome, a rhythmical welcome. message glad-hearted and true.

want you to read it, perhaps you may need it

For it was intended for you. I have written a greeting, a versified greeting, With every word pertinent, true.

To welcome the glad year, the merry, the sad year,

The wonderful year that is new. have written a welcome, a love-inspired welcome. Read on 'till the story is through. This New Year advancing, inspiring, entrancing. This New Year depends upon you. Will you make it a treasure and fill it with pleasure,

Its skies of a heavenly hue, Will your earnest endeavor enshrine it forever.

This wonderful year that is new? I have written a greeting, a wide-scattered greeting, The best that my pencil could do, But the joy and the glory of making its story A blessing, reverts unto you. If at last you have crowned it with good deeds and bound it With kindly intents not a few,

Then through your endeavor you've hallowed forever This wonderful year that is new.

-L. M. Thornton, in Orange Judd Farmer. ALLEN TO RETURN TO HORROR SCENE

Relief and Mission Field Hero Wants to Rebuild Wreck After Moslem Raids.

In the hope of restoring his old mission buildings and resuming his formsary, Saturday, by giving a dinner er work, from which he was forced to flee over the bodies of his murdered friends at the height of the Mohammedans' orgy of massacre, pillage and burning, Dr. E. T. Allen, professor of Biblical history at Whitman College, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McGhee are Walla Walla, may endeavor to return to the Near East during the coming summer. For the last four years or so he has been aiding as a speaker in the constructive program of the Near East Relief.

Dr. Allen, one of the foremost American authorities and speakers on the Near East situation, and as such. much sought after and widely known throughout the Northwest, was, with his wife, for 13 years a foremost figure in the Presbyterian missionary of clubs to which he belongs and give field of Persia.

During the last several months of his stay in that country, he was almostly daily face to face with death, once being rescued after the Turks

As the pioneer representative of the hordes of Islam; reviving the from treating them shabbily when they starving and dying, saving the wound- pay her a visit. ed from fields of battle and massacre, and rescuing Christian women and girls from the lustful clutches of the Moslems, until finally deported with 80,000 others. Less than half these people survived the forced marches through hundreds of miles of desert heat, practically without food and with little water.

His old mission buildings were sys tematically looted and wrecked, and he and Mrs. Allen, now residing with him at Walla Walla, lost nearly all their possessions and prized personal effects along with them. All forces and factions in the Near East, the Turks incuuded, are now protecting

The New Book of 1922

The book of 1921 is closed. For us, the year held much of good. Prosperity, work that we love, and best of all, your friendship. Last Saturday was one of the biggest one-day sales in all the year. December a big month. Success such as this came because of your patronage, your confidence and your approval. We open the book of 1922 and on the first page write "Our New Year's Gift to Our Customers shall be tull value at fair prices, service, courteous and prompt, friendly personal interest. to you in the future as we have tried to be in the past."

At this time we wish to Sincerely thank you for the business with which you have favored us and solicit a continuance of the same. We wish you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Kendrick Store Company

The Quality Store

Turning the Leaf

6, 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. "I have not found today so vain Nor yesterday so fair and good

That I would have my life again And live it over if I could."

HE first conclusion that a man arrives at when he thinks of the new year is that he will turn over a new leaf, observes Laura Jean' Libbey. If he's single he resolves that he'll cut loose from the companions he has had—the jolly fellows who are not just what they ought to be. He makes up his mind that he'll quit turning night into day, larking around until the wee sma' hours and attempting to work the next day. He makes up his mind he'll save money. Instead of going out with the boys he'll hunt up the nice girls whom he knows and spend his evenings with them. From the many he will choose one girl who shall be nearer and dearer yet than all others. He thinks he has had quite enough of bachelor life—in fact that he'll marry and settle down.

The married man's thoughts are along quite a different line. He makes up his mind to cut down the number his wife the new cloak she has been pining for. He will forego the stag rackets that he has been accustomed to join in, telling his wife that he's been to a prayer meeting. He conhad built a gallows upon which to cludes to give his wife a little more pleasure in the way of outings, and to pay her pretty compliments to Near East Relief in that district, he keep her heart from withering altoclung to his task of sheltering and gether. He'll cease sneering when she protecting Christians fleeing before speaks of her relatives and refrain

The father-in-law's thoughts take a different turn. After long and serlous thought on the subject, he concludes that he will shut his eyes to his sonin-law's peccadilloes, give him a helping hand instead of grumbling at the manner in which he is keeping his daughter; that he'll not take sides with elther when a family row is on.

The free lance concludes to cross off all the married from his calling list, and to turn his attention to the women who are heart whole and fancy

The conductor on the trolley car concludes that he will begin the new year by stopping at just the corner Axes

Hardware

Aluminum Ware.

Paints

Padlocks

Yard sticks

Nails

Elbows stovepipe

Wrenches

Yankee screw drivers Emery cloth

Alerm clocks

Roasters

The Farmers Hardware Co.

elers instead of the upbraidings of irate passengers who are obliged to walk many blocks back.

The rounder who depends on the lunch counter for his daily fare concludes that he will accept a job from any man who is inclined to give him a square deal. The gambler thinks he will turn his attention from the tricks pick up a nimble penny by becoming a rousing revivalist—chasing the delil round the stump. The milkman coucludes not to stop at the town pump for a drink, the dashing chauffeur concludes to put his name and address in his identification book when he goes

But do you think that these men will keep these resolves? It is a good