Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

Genesee News: Kendrick seems to be one of the most popular small towns in this section of the country and is fast taking on city airs.

For about the 'steenth time in the past few years a store was burglarized there one night last week and the robbers have been caught and placed in the county brick-pile, commonly known as the jail.

It's a cinch that all the robbers are amateurs or they would be able to get out at their will.

Deary Press: The commissioners of Highway District No. 3, at their meeting last Friday, decided to sell $10,000.00 bonds for the purpose of beginning work on this district's portion of the Moscow-Bovill state highway.

The State Department of Public Work has recently adjusted the claim of this district for work done on the state highway to December 31, 1920, reimbursing the district one-third of the outlay. The sum repaid to the district was $914.11.

This highway districts share of the fourth issue of state highway bonds is $4,726.19. Deducting the above reimbursement, it is found that the amount of state money available at this time, contingent upon the district providing two dollars for each one dollar provided by the state, is $3,812.08. It is for the purpose of meeting the state's requirements that the present bond sale is proposed.

It is likely that the work will begin at the east line of the district and proceed westward, opening the road on the survey between Deary and Helmer. This will mean the elimination of the Benson bill—the most dangerous spot between Moscow and Bovill. How much work will be done between Deary and the Troy district cannot be definitely stated at this time.

Juliaetta Record: John Behrens has closed a deal whereby he becomes owner of the O. H. Dasch property on Main street. It is a fine property comprising a nice residence and three lots, and is located next to Arnold Behrens' home. Mr. Behrens recently sold his ranch on the creek near town and moved to the Dasch residence when he vacated his ranch. After looking around town for awhile he decided that this property suited him better than other property for sale so decided to purchase it. It will make Mr. and Mrs. Behrens a fine home.

Star-Mirror: Clarence Herrington, of Moscow, pleaded guilty Monday morning before Justice of the Peace W. G. Barge to a charge of temporarily appropriating an automobile. Justice of the Peace Barge gave Herrington a suspended jail sentence of 30 days, dependent upon good behavior, and after Herrington had paid all costs and had agreed to pay for any damage to the automobile.

Herrington took the automobile owned by C. H. Patton, Friday afternoon and drove to Cheney, Wash. He was arrested at Palouse Saturday on his return trip to Moscow by City Marshal Frank Dailey upon information furnished by Sheriff John L. Woody of Latah county. Herrington was forced to spend Saturday night in jail at Palouse. He was accompanied from Cheney to Palouse by two Palouse girls.

Troy News: Mrs. Burges had a narrow escape Tuesday when their well caved in, letting her go down with the earth. Her quick action in grabbing onto a plank saved her from going into the water, although her feet were touching the water.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Gustafson of Texas ridge, April 17, a boy.

Elmer Henry Keeler

The funeral of Elmer Henry Keeler was held at the hall on Cedar Creek ridge, Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, in the presence of a large crowd, the hall being too small to accommodate all those who came to pay their last respects to their departed friend and neighbor. After the funeral sermon the remains were buried in the Linden cemetery.

Elmer Henry Keeler was born at Baldenville, New York, April 8, 1867. He died April 20, 1922. July 15, 1887 he was married to Elizabeth Godwin at Baldenville. To this union 9 children were born of whom four survive: Mrs. B. Miller, Mitchell, Nebraska; Mrs. Gus Farrington, Mrs. Francis Stevens and Gertrude Keeler of Linden. He is also survived by his wife, Elizabeth Keeler and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Keeler, and two brothers, James of Alliana, Nebraska and Charles of Kendrick.

Elmer Keeler had a host of friends in this community. He was a man of splendid character and kindly disposition. His death last week cast a shadow of sorrow over the entire community.

The Value of Service

The doctor who answers a hurry call with the greatest possible speed is more valuable than a physician of equal skill who drives up to the patient's door at his own convenience. Service counts. It is worth money. Who is there who doesn't agree with this general principle? And doesn't it apply also in the buying of merchandise?

The progressive merchant in your own trading center gives service along with the goods. He has a selection of merchandise continually in stock. You don't have to wait. When you enter the store you are able to see the article itself in which you are interested. You see it with your eyes, feel it with your fingers; note its actual size, shape and color; compare it with other goods at different prices, and, if it is what you want, take it away with you.

If you have questions to ask, you are given an explanation on the spot. The answer given your first question may suggest another query. It is answered within half a minute of the first interrogation. No time is lost. You benefit from the dealer's practical knowledge, from the fact that he is on the ground and ready at all times to see to it personally that the article he has sold you gives satisfaction.

The wise buyer will not forget that such matters have a dollars and cents value and should enter into the reckoning whenever a price comparison is being made.—From The Idaho Farmer.

Wage Scale Recommended

At a meeting held in Moscow recently, the executive committee of the Latah County Farm Bureau voted to recommend the following wage scale for work up to haying time: $1.50 and board per day, or $35 to $45 and board per month, for single men; man and wife, $60 to $70 and board per month; and cooks, $25 and board per month. This scale is practically the same as those set by Whitman and Walla Walla Counties in Washington, and Umatilla County in Oregon.

Death of Faye Catlett

Faye Catlett was born April 22, 1909 at Winona, Washington and died, April 25th, at the age of 13 years and 3 days. His school days were spent in Spokane, Gold Hill and American Falls, where he finished the 8th grade at the age of 12. He was an excellent student and excelled in all his studies. He was loved by all for his cheerful, happy disposition.

He is survived by his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Catlett; two brothers, Joseph and Harold and one sister, Lucile, besides a number of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the family home near Kendrick, Thursday morning, Rev. Pickering having charge of the service. Interment was made in the Kendrick cemetery.

Orofino Papers Combine

The Orofino newspapers have been merged, the Republican Publishing Company having purchased the Tribune from I. R. Crow, who has been the editor and publisher of that paper for the last ten years. The Tribune has been suspended, and in the future the field will be covered by the Clearwater Republican, under the management of Messrs. Hamilton & Johnson who assumed control of the paper a short time ago when the publishing company was re-organized. It is understood that the Republican will be conducted in the future more as a community newspaper, rather than along partisan political lines.

The Tribune was founded in 1905 and in the spring of 1912 W. C. Foresman established the Republican, but retired from its management shortly after the close of the campaign of that year. Mr. Crow is as yet undecided where he may relocate, but will take a short vacation before engaging in business again.

Testing Out Road Paving

At Portland, Oregon, in 1915, six types of paving were laid on the Linnton road and examination of them would settle a lot of questions as to the best paving.

The road has carried all the traffic from Portland to Astoria, heavy passenger and truck traffic, and the test has been severe on all types of concrete, wood block, bitulithic and combinations.

The wood block on concrete cement soon "blew up" and had to be replaced in 1920 with asphaltic concrete. Two mixes of cement concrete have also gone to pieces badly. Without cushion they would not stand.

In 1920 these two types were resurfaced with asphaltic concrete. The paving brick section has been repaired in places but still stands. The bitulithic section shows depressions but not a crack or upheaval.

Asphaltic concrete on concrete base shows a few depressions but has the smoothest surface, and on the old macadam base the bases have given away in a few places.

Church Ventilation

One evening the good dominie of a certain church was eloquently addressing his congregation on the beauty of sticking to the straight and narrow path when he suddenly paused, glanced around the room, and beckoned to the sexton:

"Jones," said he, as the sexton approached the pulpit, "open a couple of windows on each side of the room, please."

"Beg your pardon, Sir," returned the sexton with a look of surprise. "Did I understand you to say open the windows?"

"Yes," was the cold hard reply of the dominie. "It is not healthy to sleep in a warm room.—Idaho Lutheran.

Control of Noxious Weeds

The Board of County Commissioners of Latah County, the county farm bureau, farmers of the county, and the county agricultural agent, are co-operating to work for the control of noxious weeds in Latah County. On January 20, 1922, the County Commissioners issued a weed order declaring all of Latah County to be a weed district, and notifying all land owners to control, destroy, or exterminate all Jim Hill mustard, tan weed, wild morning glory, and Canada thistle before July 1, 1922.

At the annual meeting of the Latah County farm bureau held in Moscow on March 15th, the members voted to stand behind the County Commissioners in their fight to control noxious weeds and also voted to have community leaders of the weed control project report cases of negligence in the control of noxious weeds to the County Commissioners.

On April 19th, the County Commissioners appointed farm bureau weed control project leaders as reporters and requested these men to report cases of negligence to them. Committeemen appointed reporters in the territory tributary to Kendrick are: American Ridge, George T. Davidson; Big Bear Ridge, A. N. Rognstad; Cedar Creek, C. E. Fongburg; Kendrick, J. K. Reid.

Cases of negligence brought to the attention of any of these committeemen will be reported to the County Commissioners, who will meet on May 22nd, to hear complaints.

Farmers in all parts of Latah County are cooperating with County Agent O. S. Fletcher to learn and demonstrate better methods of controlling noxious weeds, especially wild morning glory and Canada thistle. Forty-six demonstrations will be conducted to show the effect of a poison spray of sodium arsenite in the control of wild morning glory. Twenty-three such demonstrations will be conducted on Canada thistle, and four on quack grass. Results secured last year indicate that this spray may prove to be successful in the control of these weeds.

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Interesting Figures on Study
Hours and Grades

The moving picture show given by the school last Friday night was a success as a good show but financially it was a failure. The Literary Society went behind about $5.

The senior class of this year is made-up of but four students, Carrie Bunger, Opal and Agnes Jones, and Norla Callison. However the class has in quality what it lacks in quantity. The average grades, for these students, for the entire high school course, are: 88.4, 86.4, 85½ and 85½. In no case have any of the Seniors received a grade below 75 per cent in any subject.

Of the 168 grades given to all high school students in the last 6 weeks, 10 were D's, failure; 74 were C's, passing; 60 were B's, good; 39 were A's, very good; 5 were incomplete. This would indicate an opportunity as well as a necessity for more home study.

A questionnaire to the students of the high school to determine the average amount of home study per week showed that over two thirds of the students study less than one hour per school night at home. The amount of home study is clearly shown by the following: Number of students and hours of home study per week: three 0; three 1; nine 2; eight 3; three 4; four 4½; five 5; three 5½; five 6 to 12; two 12 to 20.

If a student is carrying more than three subjects there should be a necessity for home study as the student will not have sufficient time to get all his studies in school.

The Health Crusade Banner has been won by the 3rd and 4th grade room. This room also won the Health Crusade Pennant earlier in the year. However all rooms made a very creditable showing in the Crusade work and much credit is due the teachers as well as the students for the entire success of the crusade.

The domestic science girls are going to conduct a candy sale of home made candy at the opening of the new theater, this evening. Everybody bring an extra quarter.

Road District Bring Suit

Star-Mirror: Suit to recover $500 for attorney's fees was filed Tuesday in the Latah county district court by Clarence H. Fry, Frank C. Lyons and Fred Darby, as commissioners of good road district No. 1 of Latah county. The defendants named were J. T. Kimbley, Frank Sladoski, W. Nedvidek, Axel Eckman, United States Fidelity and Guaranty company.

The complaint of the good road district commissioners alleges that they became indebted in the sum of $500 for attorney's fees as the result of an action for an injunction filed against them by the present defendants. A temporary injunction was obtained but the permanent injunction was denied and Judge E. C. Steele's denial was upheld by the state supreme court.

Upon filing the prayer for the injunction the present defendants, then plaintiffs in the action for the injunction, were required to deposit a surety bond of $500 with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company.

As a result of the action seeking an injunction the commissioners became indebted for $500 attorney's fees and the action filed Tuesday is to recover the $500.

The Nations Business gives a picture of the year 1893: "Nearly 600 banks in the United States suspended payment, there were 16,000 commercial bankruptcies. Greece was in the 'abyss of insolvency,' Italy was on the brink. In Russia, famine, pestilence prevailed, in Australia nearly every bank of consequence had closed its doors. American farmers were so hard pressed that they could hardly buy smoking tobacco. Such were the conditions in 1893, as revealed to the newspapers, magazines of that time. Looking back on them, the period from which the world is now emerging does not seem so gloomy after all."

Beer and light wines would put the bootlegger out of business, according to the New York World, tho it doesn't explain how. They would put the saloon keeper in business. But the saloon keeper and bootlegger flourished before the Volstead law, and would flourish if it should be repealed. Enforcement of the Volstead act is what will put the bootlegger out of business and the sooner the better.

Far be it from us to play with such dynamite as the the Irish question; but the following story, related by an Irishman in discussing the Anglo-Irish treaty, is too good to keep. The story concerns Mrs. O'Brien and a fish peddler, Golstein, by name, who had stopped at her door with a cartload of pickerel. "How much are yer fish, Mr. Golstein?" "8c a lb., Mrs. O'Brien." "I'll take 2 of thim. How much will they be?" Let's see: 8 pounds - 8 times 8 are 64. Take 'em for 75c, Mrs. O'Brien. Thank ye, Mr. Golstein, I'll do that. Ye're always good to the Irish—I'll say that for ye."—From Nuggets.

FINE SOIL FOR ROOT CROPS

Carrots, Parsnips and Salsify Want to Grow Straight, but Clods Work Injury.

Do you want long, straight carrots, parsnips, and salsify, or crooked, forked ones? Ask your wife; she has to peel them. All these roots have good intentions; they want to keep straight, but they cannot stand adversity nor withstand temptation. If they strike rocks or clods on the way down, they become forked or twisted, and if lumps of stable manure are in the soil, they bend toward these or send out branches in that direction. Dig extra deep, making the soil fine and mellow where these crops are to grow, and see that all manure is finely pulverized and all fertilizer thoroughly mixed with the soil.

GROW CROP OF LATE CABBAGE

Land That Has Been Utilized for Peas, Potatoes or Beans is Usually Made Use of.

Late cabbage is usually grown on land that has been utilized for peas, early potatoes, or beans during the early part of the season. The seed should be sown in a seed box or a special outdoor bed four to six weeks before the plants are needed for setting. The seed should not be sown too thickly, and it is a good plan to thin the plants to an even stand in the seed bed, so they will develop uniformly. The land on which late cabbage is grown should be well fertilized, and the plants set 18 to 20 inches apart in rows three feet apart.

PUSHING ROAD CONSTRUCTION

Marked Improvement in Economic Conditions for Highway Building in United States.

Economic conditions for highway building in all parts of the United States have shown marked improvement. Railroad facilities for handling road-building material are much improved. Labor conditions have been such as to aid road building. The increasing number of unemployed men and the depression generally causing more men to be thrown out of employment, have been favorable to contractors in pushing road construction.

Fine Paper From Truck Patch.
 Swiss chard is a vegetable which is not very highly esteemed though it has a great deal to recommend it. It grows profusely in almost any part of this country wherever planted. It has been recently discovered by some experiments in a sugar mill at Yakima, Wash., that the stalks and leaves of this plant are capable of making a very superior paper resembling the parchment made by the Japanese.

The Monarch.
 The form of the oak tree is the true embodiment of nobility, for when grown fairly and naturally it is a perfect emblem of its qualities, so firm set, so massive, and strong; you may always know it instantly, whether as a wintry skeleton form, bare, and gnarled, and angular, or in its summer garb of rich and finely massed foliage, always the monarch of the woods.—Miss Henrietta Dumont.

 A missed opportunity is like the sun in the heavens. At midday, when it is nearest us, we cannot perceive it sufficiently clearly; the white glare is too much for our eyes. POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK IS OBSERVED

May 1 Sees Inaugurated First General Campaign of Kind in Service.

Without the Postal Service, business would languish in a day, and be at a standstill in a week. Public opinion would die of dry rot. Sectional hatred or prejudice only would flourish, and narrow-mindedness thrive.

It is the biggest distinctive business in the world and it comes nearer to the innermost interests of a greater number of men and women than any other institution on earth. No private business, however widespread, touches so many lives so often or sharply; no church reaches into so many souls, flutters so many pulses, has so many human beings dependent on its ministrations.

"Postal Improvement Week" has been set for May 1, by the Postmaster General. This is the first general campaign of its kind in the Postal Service for several decades. Business men and their organizations, large users of the mail, newspapers, motion pictures, advertisers, and the entire organization of 320,000 postal workers are to be enlisted in this country-wide campaign of interest in postal improvements. Your help is vital. Address your letters plainly with pen or typewriter. Give street address. Spell out name of State, don't abbreviate. Put your return address in the upper left hand corner of envelope (not on the back) and always look at your letter before dropping in the mail to see if it is properly addressed. This care in the use of the mails is for your benefit and speeds up the dispatch and delivery of mail matter.

If you have any complaints of poor service make them to your postmaster. He has instructions to investigate them and report to the department.

COURTESY

It sticks in human relations like postage stamps on letters. The POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT expects it to be used by its postmasters and employees in dealing with the public.

Help them in its use beginning with POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK, May 1-8, 1922.

THANK YOU

WITHOUT STREET ADDRESS YOUR MAIL IS DELAYED AT OFFICE OF DELIVERY

The Dead Letter Office has been in existence ever since Ben Franklin started our postal service. Even then people addressed mail to Mr. Ezekiel Smithers, "Atlantic Coast," and expected Ben to know just where Zeke lived.

Perhaps they had Zeke's address in letters up in the garret, maybe a chest full of 'em, but then it was easier to let Ben hunt Zeke. Today people are addressing letters to John Smith, New York, N. Y., or Chicago, Ill., thinking Uncle Sam can locate him, which is just as incomplete as was Zeke's address of yore. The Postoffice Department asks you to put the number and street in the address. It helps you.

Trinidad Col.

How do you expect the Postal Clerk to know whether you mean Trinidad, California, or Trinidad, Colorado?
ALWAYS SPELL OUT THE NAME OF THE STATE IN FULL IN THE ADDRESS.

"MORE BUSINESS IN GOVERNMENT"

This apt phrase was used in President Harding's first message to Congress and applies particularly in postal management where postmasters are being impressed with the fact that they are managers of local branches of the biggest business in the world.

HERE COMES A STRANGER!

Let's make our post office look neat, Mr. Postmaster. Straighten up the rural letter box, Mr. Farmer. Tidy up some, Mr. Rural Carrier. First impressions are lasting. Maybe Mr. Stranger, taking notice of these improvements, will come back, bringing you benefits. Start these with "POSTAL IMPROVEMENT WEEK" May 1-8.

HUMANIZING THE POSTAL SERVICE

"There is no unimportant person or part of our service. It is a total of human units and their co-operation is the key to its success. In its last analysis, postal duties are accommodations performed for our neighbors and friends and should be so regarded, rather than as a hired service performed for an absentee employer."
—Postmaster General Hubert Work.

HORSE-RADISH DOES NOT REPEL ENEMIES

Pungent Qualities of Plant Do Not Discourage Bugs.

Entomologists Report New Pest in Form of European Webworm Which Also Attacks and Injures Turnips and Cabbage.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Even the pungent and tear-starting qualities of horse-radish are not sufficient to discourage insect enemies. In addition to two other specific and two incidental pests preying upon this plant, entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture report a third specific enemy, known as the European horse-radish webworm and described in a bulletin of that title, Department Bulletin No. 906, just issued.

The caterpillar, which does the most destruction, is of medium size and is also known as the purple backed web-worm, as well as by its regular name. While favoring horse-radish, it is also known to attack turnip and cabbage, and after feeding on the lower surface of the leaves sometimes webs them together near the ground. When abundant, it attacks the stalks even down to the roots. It was first discovered in injurious numbers in Virginia, near the District of Columbia. In 1919, and occasional attacks have been noted in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, and Wisconsin. The moth of the species is rather a bright ochre yellow, with a wing spread of about 1 inch, peculiarly spotted. The eggs are deposited in compact masses containing from half a dozen to a score. They are a little brighter green than the leaf, and each egg is surrounded by an irregular ring of yellow spots.

The webworm may be controlled by arsenicals and by hand-picking on horse-radish, and more readily on other crops by fall and spring plowing and frequent cultivation.

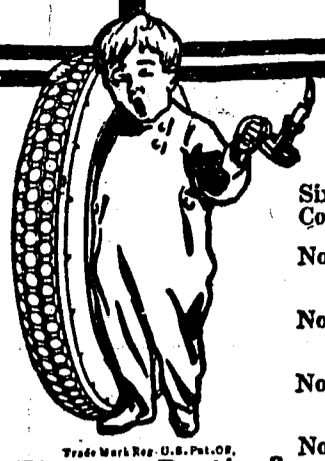

TEST SEEDS BEFORE SOWING

Of Big Advantage to Farmer to Determine Purity and Germination of Various Grains.

Whether the seed is for sale or for his own use on the farm, the farmer will find it to his advantage to test his seed, or have it tested, for purity and germination. In making a purity test, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, it is customary to determine the percentage of pure seed, inert matter such as dirt, chaff, and broken seeds, and foreign seeds, including weed and other kinds. A sample is taken varying in weight from 1 to 100 grams or more (a teaspoon for the clovers and small-seeded grasses, a tablespoon for the grasses, and a considerably larger amount for cereal grains), depending upon the size of the seed being examined. For the germination test usually two lots of 100 seeds each are placed on or between blotting paper, cotton flannel, or such material, and kept in a room or chamber at a temperature of 60 degrees to 80 degrees F. for 8 to 28 days, depending upon the kind of seed being tested.

Samples for purity and germination tests may be sent to the seed laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., or to the nearest branch seed laboratory of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C., or to the nearest branch seed laboratory located at Lafayette, Ind.; Columbia, Mo.; College Station, Tex.; Corvallis, Ore. and Berkeley, Calif.

much to do with the value. The most

GROW CUCUMBERS ON FENCES

Plants Require Considerable Space, and for That Reason Are Not Suitable for Small Garden.

Two to five hills of cucumbers usually will produce enough for the ordinary family. Cucumbers require considerable space, and for that reason they may not fit into the scheme of small gardens. It is possible, however, to plant the cucumbers along a fence or near a building and train the vines on a support of wire or strings so that they will not encumber the ground or occupy the space required by other crops. In making the hills or the row in which the seeds are planted, a small amount of well-decayed manure should be mixed with the soil. A little fertilizer also helps, but it should be used carefully to prevent injury.—United States Department of Agriculture.

MONEY FOR CONCRETE ROADS

Sum of $635,000,000 Recently Appropriated by States and Counties for Construction.

States and counties of the United States have recently authorized $635,000,000 bonds for road construction, much of it of concrete. $301,000,000 bonds are passing through the process of authorization and the federal government has appropriated $200,000,000 toward road construction, making a total fund of over $1,200,000,000 for good roads.

"The Mysterious Rider" is a picturization of Zane Grey's "best seller" released by Hodkinson. It has lost nothing in interest or humor or suspense in being transferred to the screen. On the contrary, all of its original values have been greatly enhanced. Furthermore, it is a remarkably beautiful picture, for the scenic settings were chosen with extreme care. So when you see "The Mysterious Rider" you will see a production that fairly teems with action, set in surroundings that will delight the eye.—Adv.

WAY TO PLANT IRISH POTATO

Crop Not Particularly Adapted to Small Gardens and Requires Well-Prepared Soil.

While Irish potatoes are not adapted to growing in the extremely small garden, most gardeners prefer to include them in their list. One peck of seed Irish potatoes will plant about 300 feet of row. It seldom pays to plant home-grown seed and it is much better to use the home-grown potatoes on the table and purchase seed that has been produced in some locality especially adapted for seed growing. Potatoes require a well-prepared, rich soil, and it pays to use commercial fertilizer, well mixed with the soil of the hills or the rows. The seed should be cut two eyes to each piece, with plenty of potato attached. One piece should be planted in each hill and covered to a depth of about 3 1/2 or 4 inches. The rows should be at least 30 inches apart and the hills 12 to 15 inches apart in the row.

Canada's National Parks. The Canadian national parks comprise an area of about 6,000,000 acres. They are sanctuaries for wild fowl, deer, mountain sheep and goat, moose, elk, bear and buffalo, and a tourist wonderland of forest, well-stocked streams and lakes, glaciers, hot springs, waterfalls and mountains.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Of Cash Discount System

To our Customers and friends:

To meet the general demand for more goods for the same money, we have had under consideration for some time the adoption of a plan which would meet the approval of our patrons and be mutually advantageous and fair to them as well as ourselves. To do that, we had to adopt a method that would make it worth while for those who are in a position to pay cash, to do so, and at the same time enable us to extend a fair amount of credit upon reasonable terms to customers desiring it.

The plan which has appealed to us and which we believe will commend itself to our patrons, is a cash discount system, and therefore, hereafter, we will give a 10 per cent discount on all purchases of merchandise which are paid for at time of purchase. We except from this rule binder twine and items which are quoted on a special net cash basis.

We take this opportunity of thanking our patrons for past business and in anticipation of their continued patronage, we assure them that we shall devote our best efforts to serve them as well in the future as we have in the past.
