

Red River Springs Trip

Dr. Kelly, Mrs. Kelly and Eloise and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Walker made a successful trip into the Red River Hot Springs country, leaving Kendrick on June 30th. Their report of the trip will be interesting to any individuals who desire to combine a little practical road building along with a trip into the wilds with fish as an excuse.

The party left, by the way of Leland, Cavendish and Peck, at three thirty in the afternoon and were in Nez Perce in time for supper that evening. Camp was made in Lawyers Canyon for the night and an early start was made next morning, going through Winona and crossing the Clearwater at Kookkia. Advantage was here taken of the last gasoline supply point before reaching Elk City. Leaving Kookkia at eight o'clock, they passed through the town of Clearwater and started up the eleven mile grade, making most of the hill on low gear and arriving at Mountain House at noon.

They reached the Newsome at three o'clock and tried fishing for the first time in that creek but luck was poor because of the placer mining operations above the point where they reached the stream. Just enough were caught to make out the evening meal.

The party left the Newsome, after a good night's rest, and arrived in Elk City at about noon, with twenty four miles of the roughest going still ahead of them. The first twelve of these were done in about two hours, which brought them to the Rangers Headquarters. At this point, the "main road" was left behind and the trip up Red River begun. The introduction to road building was given along that stream and, since there had been no vehicles over the route since early winter, progress was slow. It took six hours, five people, four cylinders and three gallons of gas to get through the next three miles and all concerned think they should be credited with their road tax in exchange for their efforts. They were not so tired, however, that they overlooked the fish because the records show that Dr. Kelly landed a sixteen inch trout without having to ask the rest of the road crew for help.

The Hot Springs were out a short jaunt the scene of the party's recent labors and they lost little time in selecting a camp site and improving it. You could hardly call it a "camp", however, because they had ice water on one side of the tents, hot water on the other and bath tubs all around. They made the most of these city conveniences, nevertheless, and, after establishing camp, took alternate plunges in the swimming pools and drinks of mineral water of varying temperatures.

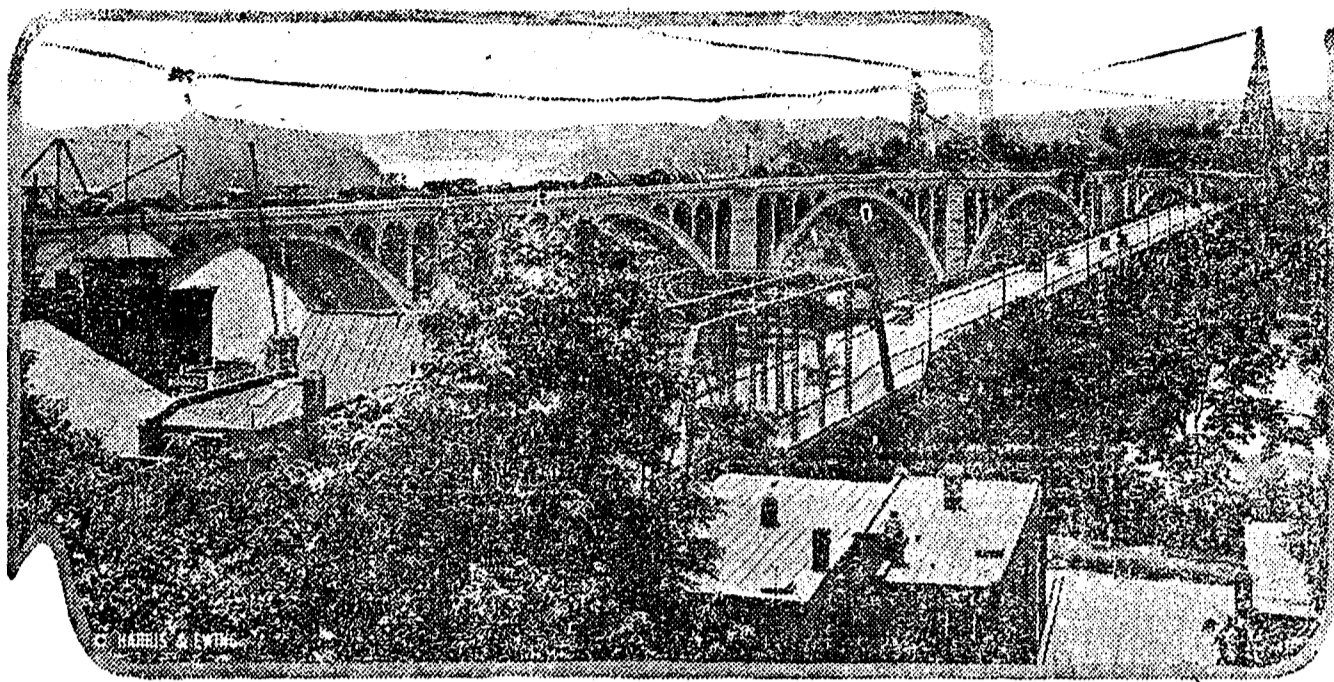

The owners of the resort showed them every consideration and spent much time in pointing out the interesting features of the locality which included an honest-to-goodness elk lick. They even called out a real live elk and showed him off for the benefit of the visitors. Ice cream and cake was served by Mr. and Mrs. Meinert, the resort operators, and a pleasant afternoon of visiting was enjoyed by the party.

They retired early that evening and, after arising at half past three the next morning, the Doctor and Mr. Walker left their better halves to enjoy their surrounding for a month and started for civilization. They solemnly promised their wives to take two days to the return trip, but they desired to hang up a record, so drove straight away for Kendrick the same evening.

A negro was receiving bricks at the top of a ten-story building in Los Angeles, where some repair work was going on. Another negro on the ground was loading the bricks on the carrier. The negro above accidentally dropped a brick, hitting the one on the ground squarely on the head.

He was very indignant and yelled to the one above, "Be a little moah careful up thar, nigger. That brick hit me and made me bite mah tongue."—Saturday Evening Post.

Key Memorial Bridge Nearing Completion

The Francis Scott Key memorial bridge across the Potomac at Washington is nearing completion and will be dedicated and opened to traffic on New Year's day, 1923. It will replace the old bridge which also is shown in this photograph.

Winter Chautauqua

According to the last issue of the Latah County Press, the town of Deary, and its tributary country, is seriously considering the development of a series of home talent entertainments to be produced during the late fall and winter. The proposed entertainments will resemble to a large extent, the usual so-called Lyceum Course and if the boosters of the idea meet with anticipated success, the home talent series will supplant, in a very pleasing manner, the usual winter affiliation of professional amateurs ordinarily dropped into our midst by Portland amusement concerns. Deary proposes to uncover the latent abilities of many home grown artists and put on a winter chautauqua of her own make. It will be safe to bet at least one season's Chautauqua deficit that the idea will prove a howling success in practice and be met with the instant approval of its patrons.

If they find it absolutely necessary, they will bring in additional "talent" from the outside to deliver the addresses peculiar to such programs but, essentially, they favor a strictly home talent series. The several other Latah County communities of less than a thousand population would do well to watch the result of the Deary project or, better yet, set a similar plan in motion at the same time and compare notes with other towns making the same effort. Home talent productions have a peculiar charm for the average person and, since they always "fill the house", the time-honored deficit ceases to be a bugbear to the community.

Let us try it in Kendrick and then, as the Deary paper goes on to say, "other towns, with their costly outside attractions, worrying about the guarantee and figuring out the individual pungle, would sit up, take notice, and then faint with envy".

Vacation Bible School

The D. V. B. S. started Monday morning with a rush and everything working harmoniously and all enjoying the work. The enrollment is sixty-three, divided into three divisions, with a corps of ten regular instructors.

Some of the following remarks express the sentiments:

"He won't quit picking cherries for fear of getting fired. Gee! I'd get fired, for all the fun I get out of the D. V. B. S."

"This hammock weaving is the most sport I've ever had anywhere." "I'll sure be here tomorrow, I wouldn't miss for anything."

What the instructors say: "I had the children very attentive and anxious to learn."

"An opportunity for service, no lover of children can afford to miss".

"It is surely the Lord's work and is proving very much worth all the effort put into it."

"It's a joy to see rows of eager little faces waiting to see what is coming next."

Many other remarks of encouragement from both children, instructors and parents have been made, which owing to the lack of space and time we are unable to publish.—Rev. G. A. Norton.

Farm Bureau Picnic

The fourth annual picnic of the Latah County Farm Bureau will be held in the Moscow City Park, next Tuesday, July 18th. Arrangements have been practically completed for the big event. C. B. Ross, secretary of the Idaho Farm Bureau Federation, will deliver the address of the day. Mr. Ross has been connected with the state organization since its inception, first as president and since that as secretary, and is in close touch with conditions affecting farmers and business men of the State. He will have a message for all concerned in the progressive development of farming interests in Idaho. Music will be furnished by the popular Big Bear Ridge quartet, made up of farmers living on Big Bear Ridge.

The first event of the day will be the big basket dinner at twelve o'clock sharp. Ice cream, coffee and sugar and cream for coffee, will be furnished free by the farm bureau. The address of the day will be delivered immediately after dinner. Music will be furnished at opportune times by the quartet. The last event of the day will be an excursion over the Experiment Station, under the direction of Dean E. J. Iddings.

Erick Oiler, president of the county farm bureau, states that the picnic is not for farm bureau members only, but for all farmers and others interested in the farmers' problems, and that all such people are invited and urged to attend this big annual picnic.

Water System Extension

The municipal water system is receiving considerable attention from the Village Board this week. The latest improvement is in the form of an extension of a main from the corner at the E. P. Atchison residence to a point near the railroad crossing leading to the upper warehouse of the Kendrick Warehouse and Milling Company. This main, which will be three inches in diameter, will serve all of the houses on that part of the flat with city water and will also provide pressure for a fire hydrant which will be located at the end of the line. This hydrant will give much needed protection to the warehouses in that locality and should be a factor in the reduction of insurance rates now prevailing.

The work is being rapidly done by Joe Gardner, water commissioner, and two helpers and will be completed as fast as the material arrives on the ground. Quite a little credit is due our water department for the effectual manner in which it has cared for the town supply and it is through its efforts that we are now blessed with a surplus of water at the dry season. The continuous overflow at the reservoir is a noisy testimonial to this fact. It gives us a secure feeling to have Mr. Gardner say, "If we need more water, I'll go up and open up another spring."

Hood Property Sold

A deal was closed Tuesday, by G. F. Walker, whereby Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bump of Spokane, Wash., became the owner of the Mary Hood property, now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. A. Otteraaen. Mr. and Mrs. Bump will make their home here. Mrs. Bump has two sons living in this vicinity, Fred and Frank Crocker.

Mr. Bump is a retired physician, having graduated from the Boston Medical College in 1874. He moved to Seattle in 1892, where he practiced medicine for some time. He has spent the past 13 years practicing in Spokane, but has now retired from active service.

Have You Registered?

The greatest danger to American institutions lies in apathy of conservative voters who, by failing to vote, allow a small minority to inflict its will on the majority of the people. In many primary elections from 15 to 20 per cent of total registered voters choose candidates to go on ticket at general elections.

The same procedure takes place in regard to initiative measures placed on the ballot. Particularly is this true where unusual taxation measures come up at special elections, those who have pecuniary interest in the measure vote for it and thus a minority of registered voters will load a city, county or state government with a burden of debt which all must pay.

Every citizen should see that he is properly registered and go to the elections and vote, as a matter not only of good citizenship but as a business proposition. The average business man would be most indignant if the charge were made that he allowed third parties to contract debts in his name and then objected to paying them. What is the difference if a business man allows himself to be loaded with a burden of tax debt simply through his negligence or laziness in failing to go to the polls and fulfill his duty as a citizen in voting for sound men and measures.

The attention of the people of Kendrick is again called to the fact that in order to vote in the primaries on August 1st, every person must register whether he voted previously in this precinct or shirked that duty. Mrs. W. M. McCrea is the local registrar and will have the books open at the Farmers Hardware Company's store every Saturday until the closing day, July 29th. The registrar is compelled to do that much according to law but Mrs. McCrea will multiply that convenience by at least six and register you at any time, exclusive of Sundays, until your chances to vote have dwindled to nothing on the evening of the 29th of July.

The Gazette has received a card from the postmaster at Anacostone, Washington, notifying us to stop sending the paper to J. T. Schmidt and giving for the reason that Mr. Schmidt was dead. It is understood that Mr. Schmidt was well known in the surrounding country, having worked for many farmers in this district.

County Clippings

Julietta Record: The work on the remodeling of Farmer's Union Warehouse at the depot is nearing completion, the roof is now all on and it is likely that all the flooring will be laid by the last of the week. The warehouse as now remodeled is 50 feet wide and close to 250 feet long. This however, is not as much room as is really needed, and at least 100 or 150 feet more extension could be used to great advantage were the ground space available for the purpose. The approaches and driveway are yet to be built but this will not require much time. The office will be separate from the main building and will be located on this side of the railroad track opposite the receiving door of the warehouse. It is to be built yet.

Troy News: Carl Anderson and Olof Johnson left Wednesday morning for Lewiston where they begin their activities in the Anderson & Olson grocery store.

Messrs. Anderson and Olson have rented a building in a fine location and will open a complete grocery store in the near future. Shelving is being put in and fresh goods are beginning to arrive.

Olof has been engaged by the new firm and will move to Lewiston later on. He will be greatly missed, not only at the Anderson Grocery where he was a big factor in that business, but by the local Legion Post, of which he was adjutant and one of the most earnest workers in that order. Lewiston will gain a young man full of pep and industrious.

While Messrs. Anderson and Olson will move to Lewiston this Fall, they will devote part of their time to their business places at Troy.

Idaho Post: On motion of Prosecuting Attorney John Nesbit the case against five young men from Johnson, Washington, Glenn Maynard, Matt Busch, Tena Willoughby, Glenn Sisty and Harry Ruby, charged with firing a rifle at the Northern Pacific passenger train, at a point near Joel, south of this city, Saturday night, was dismissed this morning.

The boys who were arrested at Elk River Sunday night, where they had gone to fish, claimed that they were shooting firecrackers at the roadside when the train came by, and their story was corroborated by Pullman parties who drove by at that time and stated that the boys were shooting firecrackers. Members of the train crew were unable to swear that a gun had been fired, and the road officials asked that the case be dismissed.

The boys are all members of pioneer families and have clean records, and the dismissal of the case meets with popular approval throughout the district.

Julietta Record: The Julietta cannery opened Wednesday for the season and cherries are now being received for canning and shipping. The Royal Anns, Bings and Lamberts will be received at the cannery when delivered. Only the Royal Anns will be canned, the others will be packed and shipped. Plans have been made for canning quite a lot of tomatoes this season.

Bleck Granted Divorce

Henry Bleck, defendant in the Bleck divorce case which has been running at the district court, Wednesday was granted divorce decree on a cross-complaint, the court deciding that most of the cruelty was on the side of the plaintiff. Edith Bleck, the plaintiff, was given the custody of the child and is to receive $20 monthly toward its support. The personal property is to be divided equally.

Business Trip

Mrs. M. A. French left Tuesday morning on a business trip to Spokane and was met at Pullman by relatives from Montana who are touring Washington and Idaho to find a permanent location. Mrs. French will buy Fall millinery and expects to have the Fall Opening September 1st. She will be gone two weeks.

Marvin Vincent was a Lewiston visitor Wednesday.

Many Seek Governorship

With two passive candidates in the field for gubernatorial honors on the democratic ticket, Former Governor M. Alexander and Judge W. M. Morgan, former chief justice of the supreme court, and the possibility of two candidates on the republican ticket, Lieutenant Governor C. C. Moore of St. Anthony, who has announced his candidacy, and probably Mayor E. B. Sherman of Boise, interest in the political campaign in Idaho is at high tide, states a Boise dispatch.

It is conceded that the southeast section of the state will support Lieutenant Governor Moore almost to a county and that he will have quite a following in the southern section, and some in the north. Friends of Mayor Sherman assert that he can secure the southwestern counties and probably most of the north and with an aggressive campaign believe he will receive the nomination at the republican state convention at Wallace August 22.

The fact that there is an anti-primary and primary fight on in the republican party is causing much speculation, the Boise writer says, and before the convention candidates will be required to announce their stand on this issue.

In the democratic ranks interest is even more keen as it is conceded that the party has as candidates the two strongest men that it can produce. Two years ago Judge Morgan was urged to become a candidate on the democratic ticket but refused. This year he has taken an active interest in politics and a week ago announced he would accept the nomination if tendered him. On the same day Mr. Alexander made a similar announcement.

Predictions are now being made that Twin Falls, Bannock, Ada and Canyon counties will send instructed delegates for former Governor Alexander, thus giving him the support of the four largest counties in the state, and that he will have added strength from other agricultural counties.

Judge Morgan is expected to develop his greatest strength in the north, where he resided many years and is well known. Those who are furthering his candidacy are against instructed delegates.

Court News

Court news of interest to local readers follows:

Susan Carr, of Lihden, Idaho has petitioned the probate court for letters of administration upon the estate of her deceased husband, John O. Carr. Judge Nelson has fixed July 17 that date for hearing upon petition. The petition recites that John O. Carr died in Clearwater County, June 28, 1922, leaving an estate of real and personal property in Latah County of an approximate value of five thousand dollars. The surviving wife is named in the petition as the only heir.

An action was instituted Friday in the probate court in which the Vollmer-Clearwater Company Limited is plaintiff and G. G. Compton defendant, in which plaintiff alleges that defendant is indebted to it for goods, wares and merchandise in the sum of $97.92, and asks for judgment against defendant in said amount. An attachment was issued and levy on real property in Kendrick has been made.—Moscow Star Mirror.

Edith Bleck vs. Henry Bleck. Defendant order to pay sum of $75 as suit money on or before July 11, 1922.—Lewiston Tribune.

Bunger-D'iberville

Miss Cordelia Melvina Bunger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bunger of Southwick, was married Wednesday, July 12, at Lewiston, to Jean Phillippe D'iberville, of Seattle, by Probate Judge, C. A. Woefflen. The happy couple will make their home in Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. D'iberville, better known here as "Delia" Bunger, has a host of friends in this community and around Southwick. She is a charming and accomplished young lady and was very popular among the younger set of this vicinity.

C. L. Guy was a visitor in Moscow on Friday of last week.

Thirty Fourth Birthday

Genesee News: With this issue the Genesee News begins its thirty-fourth year. Seems a long time, doesn't it? Many of our readers were still in their swaddling clothes when this little paper was launched on the sea of journalism. Yes, some of them were yet unborn. Many important events have been recorded in this paper during this long period—important to this community, at least. Were its pages turned back they could resurrect divers memories of the past—some sorrows, some laughs, some frowns—ghosts of the olden, golden days of yesteryear.

The little country paper is not as large as its city contemporary, but it is vastly more precious. While the metropolitan paper gives you the daily record of world's events, its murders, suicides, achievements and various forms of iniquities; while it tells you all about ruthless wars and fallen empires; while it champions the money barons of the country in their program of robbing the poor, etc., it is not so near the heart as is the unpretentious little country newspaper.

The country paper fulfills a more useful, therefore more important mission. It is a part and parcel of your daily life. It has a soul. It breathes with you. It is sympathetic, it is charitable, it is the balance wheel of the community. Day by day the editor of the home paper picks up the threads of the daily life of the town and country, carefully weaves them into stories that please its readers and tactfully dobs over the parts which may cause some one to grieve and feel dismayed. Its characters are its neighbors. Its theme the home and church and school.

In looking over the old files of the paper we ran across the announcement of a birth. That's over twenty years ago. Today that babe is grown to manhood and is a respected citizen of the community. Another column revealed the announcement of the marriage of one of the popular young belles of the town. Today this motherly matron is proudly watching the growth of her children. In another place we noticed the obituary of a respected former citizen. His name is inscribed on the tombstone in the little cemetery on the hill. Is he forgotten? Yes, dear reader, he is all but forgotten, except for the name on the slab, the name in the little country paper and the withered old lady who puts flowers on the mound on occasions, except for these he is forgotten. Seems funny, doesn't it?

No wonder the home paper has a place in the home that the city paper can't usurp. So handle it with care, good reader, for its pages contain the story of your life, your community, your achievements and your sorrows. It is your paper. And in conclusion we wish to thank our readers for the many kind acts bestowed upon us in the work of collecting this record of community life and in presenting in panoramic form the story of life as it is lived in this, our home town. And as we begin our thirty-fourth year, we renew our allegiance and fidelity to the welfare of the place we have chosen to call home and we shall continue to do our utmost as long as the good Lord will let us remain.

Better Power Service

The new power line which is being built by the Washington Water Power Company from Lind, Washington to Pullman by the way of Colfax is now under construction and will probably be completed within ninety days. It will tap the Long Lake line of the so-called Intermountain Power Company at Lind and, from that point, follow along the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad to a point near Castleton, Washington. This will probably be used in the electrification of the remaining link of the C, M & St. P. R. R. between Avery and Othello. From Castleton, the line will run directly to Colfax and Pullman, supplying an additional source of power to Moscow and the Palouse country in general.

In the event of line trouble between Spokane and Moscow, it will be a simple matter to switch over to the new power line with but slight interruption. The new line will be far better than the existing line and the power company will make a greater effort to keep service on it because of its relation to railroad work. There will be a practically insured service to this country after the new project is completed.

Kendrick, Troy and Juliaetta will receive the full benefit from this improvement because the local power company purchases their current from the Washington Water Power Company at Moscow and that point will be the terminus of both lines. Past interruptions in summer service have been caused by electric storms in the vicinity of Tekoa and Rockford which locality will now be avoided by the new power line.

Out-door Service

A union church service was held in the park last Sunday for the first time this summer. A good attendance greeted the combined efforts of the ministers in charge and demonstrated the fact that the ordinary individual will turn out for an out-door meeting during the hot weather when the thought of going into a stuffy building for the same purpose would be distasteful. The band stand was used for the pulpit and a sufficient number of benches with "backs" on them were grouped around in amphitheater formation. Services will be held at the usual hour in this location during the summer until chilly evenings make it impractical.

DAIRY COWS RETURN PROFIT

High-Producing Animals Are Usually Most Economical in Matter of Food Consumed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

High-producing dairy cows are nearly always economical producers, says
the United States Department of Agriculture in replying to an inquirer who asked for a comparison of purebred and grade cows as to economy of production. If a herd of purebred cows has greater ability to produce milk and butter fat than a herd of grades, it will return more milk and butter fat for the feed consumed. As a rule purebreds are bred for high production, and just to the extent that they are

Sorub Cows Are Not Worth Their Keep.

higher producers than the grades they may be expected to return more for the feed they use. But purebreds are not always high producers.

The ratio is not constant between the quantity of feed consumed and the quantity of milk produced. The records of cow-testing associations show that the cows that produced 10,000 pounds of milk a year ate only 65 per cent more feed than those that produced 5,000 pounds of milk a year.
The cows that made 7,500 pounds of milk a year ate only 21 per cent more than those that made 5,000 pounds of milk a year. These figures are based on thousands of records.

FALL FRESHENING IN FAVOR

Cow Will Produce 10 to 15 Per Cent
More Milk and at Time When Prices Are High.

The fall-freshened cow produces 10 to 15 per cent more milk than the spring-freshened cow, according to the dairy department of the North Dakota Agricultural college, while the large production of the fall-freshened cow comes at a time when dairy products are highest in price.

POP CORN UNCERTAIN CROP

Cost to Produce Is Considerably
Higher Than Ordinary Field
Corn—Average Is Low.

Pop corn grown in 1922 is not marketable until June, 1923, and is a very uncertain crop for the average farmer to grow who is not in touch with the market. The average yield on the 13,000 acres grown last year was 20 bushels per acre. It costs considerably more to produce a bushel of pop corn than a bushel of field corn and under present conditions it appears that unless a man has been growing this crop for a number of years and is reasonably sure of being able to find a good market he had better not grow it this year.

CARING FOR ASPARAGUS BED

Yield and Quality of Crop Depend Greatly on Cultivation and Fertilizer Given.

Cultivate and fertilize the asparagus bed so that the crowns may develop properly during the summer and be able to produce a heavy crop of shoots next summer. Remember that the yield and quality of the asparagus depend largely upon the treatment given the asparagus this year.

COMBATING GARDEN INSECTS

Farmer Should Provide Himself With Supply of Arsenate of Lead and Slaked Lime.

Provide yourself with some powdered arsenate of lead and slaked lime for combating biting garden insects, such as potato bugs. Secure a small bottle of nicotine sulphate (black leaf 40) for sucking insects such as melon aphids or plant lice.

Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.—Adv.

POULTRY

RUNTY HENS NOT DESIRABLE

Investigation Shows at Least One Fowl in Fifteen is Undersized and Hence Unprofitable.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Runtiness is not so conspicuous in the poultry flock as it is among other farm animals, yet it is a factor to be considered, and it is possible that in some cases it is of great importance. Certain it is that undersized fowls are not desirable, and it has been the experience of many farmers and poultrymen that they can be almost, if not entirely, eliminated. This is the conclusion that may be arrived at after a study of the figures and comments obtained by a preliminary investigation

Good Feeding and Care Will Practically Eliminate Runtiness.

tion of runts and their remedy conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The information was obtained from nearly 1,000 farmers to whom questionnaires were sent. Although these farmers were considered to be better than the average, they reported that 7 per cent of their animals were undersized to such a degree as to be called runt. This means, if the percentage holds true for all farms of the country, that more than 14,000,000 animals, not including feathered stock, are runts. In addition 6 1/2 per cent of the poultry on these farms was undersized, which means that there is, perhaps, even a higher percentage for the total farms of the United States.

Inbreeding and poor matings, as a cause, are the principal factors distinguishing runtiness in feathered stock from that in other farm animals. It is the consensus of opinion of 474 poultry owners, in all parts of the country, that the following causes are chiefly responsible for the runts found in feathered flocks:

	Per cent.
Poor feeding	17.9
Inbreeding and poor matings	13.7
Inferior breeding stock	13.1
Parasites, especially lice	12.4
Neglect	11.4
Poor housing	7.0
Late hatching	6.5
Overcrowding	5.9
Diseases (roup, diarrhea, etc.)	5.3
Low vitality of chicks	3.4
Selecting poor eggs	2.4
Total	100.0

Early hatching is of more importance, according to the comments of poultrymen, than the figures in the table indicate. It appears that relatively few flock owners are familiar with the advantages of early hatching, but those who do their hatching early find it a distinct benefit. For instance, one farmer says, "Last year all of my chickens hatched after the first of June were runts. Those before that were normal and were laying in October. The same care and feed were given to all of them." Another observes, "When I get my chicks hatched in April and May I do not have runts in my flock." Still another estimates that one-third of late hatches are runt. "Hatch no chicks later than May 1," he says.

Of equal interest are the warnings against inbreeding. "We have no runts in our poultry" is the statement of a Virginia farmer, who adds, "We buy purebred cocks from a different strain every year." "Keep purebred fowls and change the sire every year" is the injunction of another poultryman, and his experience is typical of many others. Farmers' experiences with early hatching tally with the results of experiments by the bureau of animal industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. In these experiments the early hatched chicks showed a marked superiority over those purposely hatched late. There was a noticeably steady degradation in size and type of the late chicks compared with those hatched early.

From these side lights it is easily seen that the questions of runtiness and good live-stock management are closely related and are tied up with economic factors of great importance.

DETERMINE EGG PRODUCTION

Much Depends on Kind and Amount of Feed Given—Hens Must Be Fed Regularly.

The one most important fact for all farm poultry keepers is that egg production is determined directly by the kind and amount of feed given and that in order to insure heavy laying the hens must be fed grain regularly and must have dry mash continually available.

Five Poultry Factors

There are five major factors in profitable poultry production, says N. E. Chapman, poultry specialist at University farm—breeding, feeding, housing, management and care. "These are the essentials; combined they will put the poultry business on a practical business basis," he says. "A start can be made with hatching eggs, day-old chicks or a few head of breeding stock of high production. The surest way to success is to grow into the poultry business."

MARKS OF GOOD DAIRY COW

Angularity and Leanness Should Be Apparent When in Milk—Mammary System Important.

A good dairy cow should show angularity and leanness in appearance when in milk. A feminine head; a bright, full eye; a wide muzzle and large open nostrils indicate dairy temperament. The chest should be full and deep, giving ample room for large heart and lung development. A long, deep, wide body with well-arched ribs gives room for handling large amounts of feed. And of extreme importance is a well-developed mammary system made up of long, branching milk veins entering large milk wells; teats of convenient and uniform size, good shape and well placed in the udder and an udder that is large, well shaped and has a mellow, flexible handling quality.

DAIRY COWS WORK HARDEST

Animals Give From Five to Ten Times Their Weight in Milk—Need Best of Feed.

People seldom think of the dairy cow as a hard working animal, yet it is a fact that she works harder than other domestic animals. Every year she gives from five to ten times her weight in milk, containing as much actual dry matter as do the bodies of two or three steers. It requires approximately the same amount of energy to produce 20 pounds of milk as it does to plow an acre of land. This gives us some conception of the enormous amount of work the cow does and indicates why she should be well fed and cared for.—Utah Farmer.

Best Roughage for Cows.

Clover hay is one of the best of all roughages for the cow. It furnishes large amounts of crude protein so essential to milk production and is palatable and much relished. Clover hay is unusually rich in lime and lime is also needed.

Plant Food Removed.

A ton of butter removes only seventy cents worth of plant food from the farm, while the sale of the feeds that produce it would carry away over $400 in soil fertility.

Cow Has One Purpose.

A dairy cow has one purpose, which is to produce, and this the cows of the recognized dairy breeds do more profitably.

Keep Fire in Tank-Heater.

Ice water is fine in summer, but keep the stock from it in winter by keeping a fire in the tank-heater.

Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy

Every family should keep this preparation at hand during the hot of the summer months. It is almost sure to be needed, and when that time comes, is worth many times its cost. Buy it now.—Adv.

invites its customers to share in the ownership of the company.

To enable our customers to become partners in this company, we offer an opportunity (for customers who are not now stock holders) to subscribe at par ($100 a share) for not to exceed five shares of the stock of the company, now paying 7 percent dividends, upon the following terms and conditions:

Price	$100 a share
First payment in cash with subscription	$20 a share
Second payment, September 1, 1922	$20 a share
Third payment, October 1, 1922	$20 a share
Fourth payment, November 1, 1922	$20 a share
Fifth payment, December 1, 1922	$20 a share

Stock will be delivered early in December and will entitle the owner to all dividends paid after December 31, 1922.

Subscriptions—which must be made on blanks furnished by the company—will close July 22, 1922.

As there is only 1000 shares of stock available, the company reserves the right, in case of oversubscription, to allot the stock and to fill orders for one first, two shares next, three shares next, four shares next and five shares last.

A Sound Investment

The Washington Water Power Company has $32,000,000 invested and has paid dividends continuously for 22 years. The present dividend rate is seven per cent a year. The proceeds from the sale of this stock will be used to finance the operations of the company.

A Policy of Cooperation

We believe it will be to the interest of the company and those it serves for our customers to become stockholders. We believe it will promote that cooperation which must exist between our customers, our employees and the management for our customers to have a direct personal interest in the company. For these reasons this offer is limited to customers who are not now stockholders.

Applications

Applications will be received at the office of the Company in Spokane or at any of its offices in the Inland Empire. Applications blanks and any desired information can be obtained at any such office or from Mr. V. G. Shinkle, Treasurer, at the general office of the Company at Spokane.

Get Cow Into Shape.
In order to get the cow into the best physical shape for the calving time, it is advisable to feed her some linseed oil, a quart of the raw product per dose, as this will clean out her digestive tract.

Value of Boarder Cow.
Saving $55 or $60 worth of feed for a boarder cow added to what she'll bring as dressed meat means maybe a hundred dollars in the pocket, which isn't a bad price for a cow that's no good anyhow.

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from the disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping-cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—Adv.

GLEANINGS

Sheriff John L. Woody of Moscow was in Kendrick on a business trip last Wednesday.

The park lights have been turned on for the summer to wipe out the dark corners that ordinarily prevail in the city shade factory.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Petrick at Seattle, Wash., July 11th, a nine pound son.

Tom Long, "Barney" Oldfield, R. D. Newton and A. K. Carlson left last Saturday in the Carlson car for a weeks fishing trip in the North Fork country beyond Pierce City and the Bungalow. Everyone should prepare to hold their faces straight when we hear about the "big ones" that ruined good fishing tackle or pushed the lid from the basket in making a "get away".

Announcements were received here this week of marriage of Miss Esther Hood to Mr. Frank Oakes. The marriage took place at Davis, California, and the happy couple will make their home at Los Angeles.

Don't forget the ice cream social for the Benefit of the D. V. B. S., Friday evening, in the park.

G. F. Walker reports the crops around the Nez Perce country to be normal.

Mrs. N. M. Larson, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Cook of Leland, returned to her home in Portland, Oregon, Tuesday morning.

Miss Florence Hollada, who has a position as book-keeper with the Moscow First National Bank, is spending her vacation in Kendrick with her mother and sisters.

Mrs. S. P. Callison returned from Coeur d'Alene, Monday evening after spending the past three weeks visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Lewis and also with her brother, Guy Lewis. Mrs. Callison says that her father has been quite poorly for sometime.

Miss Ellen Erickson, of Spokane spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Thomas Cook of Leland, enroute to Portland.

Mrs. Etta Vicks visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wood of Moscow, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Klawunder and Mrs. Weyen of Medical Lake, were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rogers, Tuesday. They have been visiting near Cameron.

Mrs. Aaron McCrery and three children went to Sweetwater, Idaho, Tuesday, to spend a couple of weeks with Mrs. McCrery parents.

Mr. Snyder of Culesac, spent Tuesday in Kendrick with his son, Ray.

Dr. Otteraaen was called to Juliaetta Tuesday to attend the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hutchison, who contracted blood-poisoning in her foot. It seems that she had run a sliver in her foot sometime ago but the wound did not heal. She is reported to be getting along nicely now.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Phil Elvy of Southwick, Wednesday, July 12, an 11 pound boy.

In a letter to E. P. Atchison, mailed at Missouri Valley, Iowa, July 6th, George Barnum states that he is headed west, by auto, but owing to a cloudburst at Missouri Valley he was unable to get thru and would be held up there for a couple of days.

The steamers Spokane and Lewiston, owned by the O. W. R. & N. Co. and used on the Snake River for grain hauling, were totally destroyed by fire at Lewiston, Wednesday morning at 4 a. m. The loss is estimated at $100,000.

Mr. Kaytor of Peck was in Kendrick this week on business and was visiting relatives on American ridge.

Game Warden Brooks of Moscow was transacting business in Kendrick Wednesday.

Rev. Pickering attended the Methodist conference held in Moscow, Tuesday.

Miss Nellie Buckles of Agatha was visiting relatives in Kendrick, Thursday.

Percy Ware returned from Lewiston, where he has been working during the past month.

Dr. H. R. Veon, our local dentist, left last Saturday on a business trip to Walla Walla, Pendleton and Boise. He will attend a convention of the Idaho Dental Association this week and expects to return next Monday.

Ullie Ellis left on Monday morning for the Coeur d'Alene country where he expects to obtain work in the mines of that section.

An item in the Tribune states that Mrs. Glenn Porter, who has been living in Lewiston since the close of school at Culesac, spent the Fourth with her husband who has charge of the road construction at Mission Creek.

Miss Josie Cramer of Moscow visited her Kendrick friends for a few days during the early part of the week.

John Wade, well known Kendrickite now sojourning at Deary, spent the week end with his family at Kendrick. With reference to crop conditions in the immediate vicinity of Deary, Mr. Wade believes them to be quite a little below the average to say the least. Fall wheat will probably yield twelve to fifteen bushels and spring grain promises to make fair hay if it grows high enough to get caught by the binder. Beans as usual are the saving factor and there will be a bumper crop if present indications may be taken into consideration.

Mrs. Rufus May and Pearl and Gertrude May were listed as patients discharged from St. Joseph's Hospital at Lewiston last week.

Train Schedules Changed

The night train from Spokane, formerly due in Kendrick at 9:02 P. M., now is usually half way to Juliaetta by that time. Its scheduled time has advanced about five minutes and is now due at 8:58 P. M. It is well to remember that any train may leave a station, if prepared to do so, at the time appearing in its schedule. The above schedule will hold good until further notice.

The travelling public may well take note of the fact that there has been one or two changes in the schedule of trains coming into Kendrick. The afternoon train from Spokane, formerly arriving in Kendrick at 1:23 P. M., now is due at this point at 1:25 P. M., in other words, two minutes later than before. The train from Lewiston passes the Spokane train in Kendrick as usual and is also due at 1:25 P. M.

A baseball benefit dance will be given at the Fraternal temple, Friday, July 21.

"SURE FIRE"
"Sure Fire", coming to the New Kendrick, Friday and Saturday, July 14 and 15, is one of the most entertaining pictures that has ever thrilled an audience. Smiling Hoot Gibson is the star of this intriguing, lovable Universal romance of the west in which pretty Molly Malone has the supporting role. Jack Ford directed the picture, adapted from Eugene Manlove Rhodes' novel, "Bransford of Rainbow Ridge".
