

Was Kendrick at Elk River?

Several car loads of Kendrick and Juliaetta young men attended the races at Elk River last Sunday and all reported that they enjoyed the affair greatly. The trip was made by the way of Park on the way to the saw mill town and, after the meet was over, the party returned to Kendrick by the way of Bovill and Deary.

Most of the members of the party described the event as very peculiar in many respects, probably because of the strange actions of those participating. When the Kendrick-Juliaetta aggregation arrived at the field prepared for the races, they saw at once that they were to be shown something new in the way of running. The track was irregular in shape, instead of oval shaped as is the case with most other courses, and, at the corners of each turn, there were placed sacks of saw-dust. It developed that the runners in the following events were supposed to run wildly around the course and touch these sacks as they came to them.

The Elk River people were very glad to see the young men from Kendrick and Juliaetta and expressed their joy at the meeting by yelling and other forms of noise making. They insisted that the visitors join in the sports and showed them to the various points of the field best adapted for observation of the runners. It is true that they did most of the running but at stated times they indicated that the visitors change places with them and try their hands at the new kind of sport. This they usually did when they became tired of running around themselves and really didn't much care whether they went on without resting for a little while. They took these rests seven times during the meet and then gave the visitors to understand that they had enough for a while at least.

At the beginning of the races, they gave George Carlson, one of the young men from Kendrick, a book and pencil and told him to write down his impressions of the sports as he saw them. They told him that he could take the book home with him as a souvenir after it was all over. He didn't know exactly what was expected of him but whenever they called "error", he thought it very impressive and made a mark in the book. This was done the most times during the time that the Elk River boys were running around and the Kendrick boys all took credit for some of these so called "errors" while the saw-mill boys were doing something else.

After counting these tallies up, it was found that every Kendrick racer had at least one of the "errors" after his name in the book and some had as many as three. Frank Boyd said that he didn't care for the things anyway and refused to appropriate even one of them. Mr. Carlson saw that some would be left over so he took three for himself, just to be like the most of them. The Elk River men didn't seem to care for such things at all and were especially glad to run around the course as many times as possible and everyone yelled about it until they got hoarse. The book showed that they made the round trip twenty-two times and the visitors only did the distance twice, in fact, they didn't seem to want to run at all.

The Kendrick boys report that they had the most fun watching the Elk River boys hit a leather ball with a stick and that they watched them do this most of the time. This was done until nearly all of the balls were lost in the timber growing around the race-course. The visitors couldn't see the ball when they got up to hit it, while the other boys rested so they didn't lose any themselves. As soon as they were all tired out, they quit and the crowd seemed good-natured about it although they did make a lot of noise. One of the Elk River men made one peculiar remark; he said that he hoped that Kendrick would soon get over its baseball faze. We don't know what he meant by that.

County Clippings

Idaho Post: Deputy State Game Warden L. E. Brooks took Harry Ruby, G. Maynard, M. Busch and G. E. Sisty, all of Johnson, Wash., to Orofino Saturday, where they pleaded guilty before probate Judge S. M. Snyder to fishing in Idaho with a residence instead of a non-residence license and were fined $38.00 each. They are the same boys who were arrested on a charge of firing at the Northern Pacific train a week ago, the charge being dismissed for want of evidence.

Deary Press: George Richardson and S. B. Peterson have completed their road contract from the Latah County line to Keeler, on the Milwaukee in Benewah county, and have taken another and larger contract to build a railroad grade for the Rutledge Lumber company into the Marble creek section. They will go at their new work at once.

The completion of the road from Keeler to the county line finishes the highway from Clarkia to that point, and it is one of the finest highways in Idaho.

Juliaetta Record: Chas. Noble this week purchased the Seymour property in the south end of town, occupied by Mr. Carr, the gardener. The place contains 4 acres of ground and a nice residence. Mr. Noble traded the car in on the deal that he purchased some time ago from J. Storaaali. He had hardly closed the deal for the place when he traded it to Ed Baker for 160 acres about 2 miles above Kendrick. The place has about 35 acres in cultivation, is well watered and all fenced. There is also 5 acres of orchard on it and lots of timber suitable for wood.

Genesee News: Although we have experienced a very dry spring and summer in this section, and with the memories of two poor years preceding it, the grain growers of this part of the country have not been overly happy at the prospects of this year's crop, but as the summer proceeds and nears harvest time, prospects look better and averages made a few weeks ago will now stand revision upwards.

The News has made it its business to investigate some and talk with farmers whose opinion is worth something when it comes to estimating fields of grain, and we are happy to be able to state that Genesee, taken as a whole, will yield a fairly good crop this year. While it is true that some of the fields are either burnt or plastered hopelessly with weeds, this is not the general run. It so happens that the worst looking fields are along the main traveled roads, hence the casual traveler upon these roads has taken it for granted that the entire section is in the same deplorable condition as these.

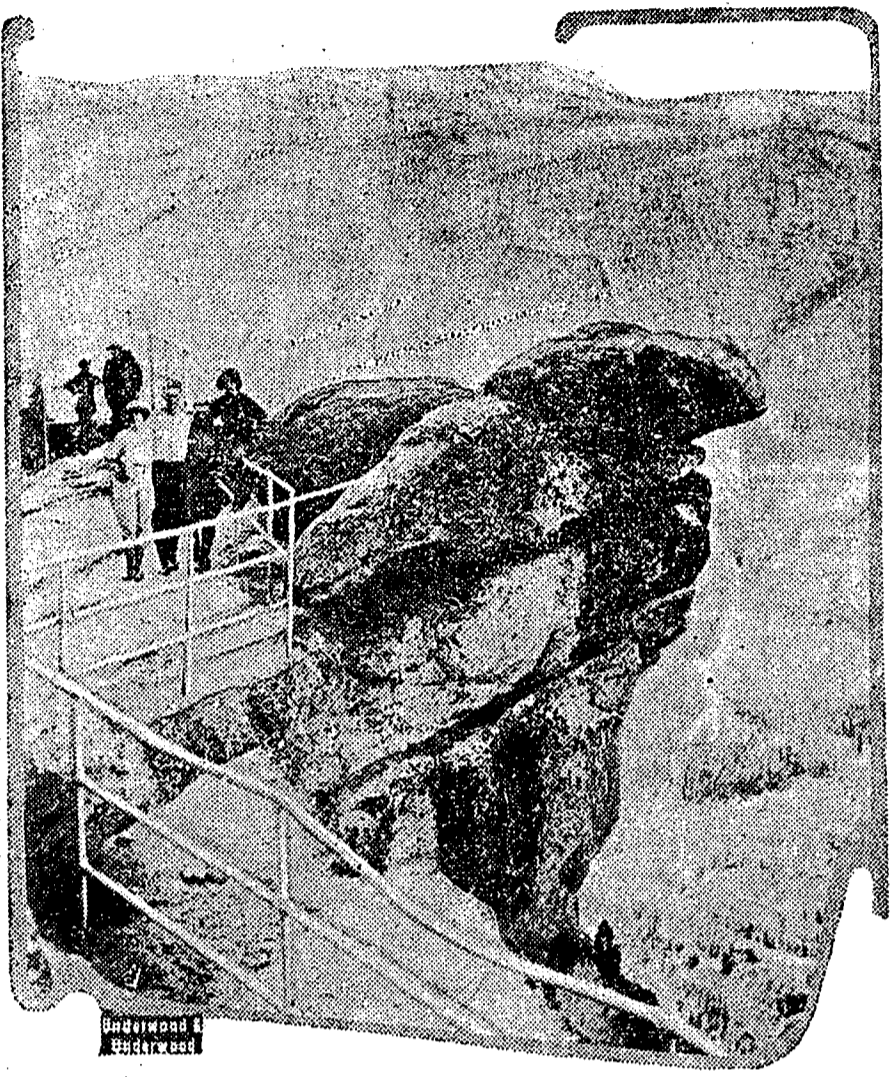

Such, however, is not the fact. According to an experienced and well-informed grower of the Thorn creek district, the average yield in that section will be close around 25 bushels. In that portion of the country the grain has taken a turn for the better and is fattening out wonderfully well with plenty of moisture yet in the ground. The hot spell is broken and it is expected that when the outfits go out into the fields to harvest that a surprise will greet them. And Thorn creek is not the only section that is showing improving in this respect. Anywhere along the Rimrock, except in the low country along the road, the fields are looking good and the owners are of the opinion that from 20 to 30 bushels will come through clean.

It is true, we have some spots not so favorable to look upon. In the Leon district probably the poorest fields are to be seen, and even there, in spots, can be found some good looking acres. Between Genesee and Moscow, to the east of the highway, the wheat is not doing so good, the ground being dry and crusty.

A grain buyer, who has just made a trip over the entire area, informs us that in his opinion, the average yield for the district will run close to 20 bushels. Some places it will run 35 bushels; others will not go five. He saw one or two fields that carried more Jim Hill mustard than they did wheat. Some farmers, he said, were plowing their fields.

Luther Hampton was in Kendrick on business, Saturday.

Famous Yosemite Park Rock Fenced

Here is the first photograph of the new fence erected by the United States government in Yosemite National Park, to keep people off the famous overhanging rock at Glacier Point. The rock sticks out into space over Yosemite valley with a sheer drop of 3,254 feet. It has been a favorite spot for daredevils to do stunts, such as standing on one hand or hanging over the edge with a rope.

Take off Two Trains

An item in Wednesday morning's Lewiston Tribune notifies the traveling public that, beginning on Wednesday, July 19th, Northern Pacific train No. 313 would be annulled and that, beginning on Thursday, July 20th, train No. 312 would also be taken off this run. A. E. Wilcox, the Kendrick agent of the Company, received official notice of the above train changes on Wednesday.

The above changes mean that there will cease to be a "morning" train into Kendrick from Lewiston after the above date and that there will also be no "night" train from Spokane. This leaves the Spokane-Lewiston branch of the N. P. with only two trains each day and these two will pass at Kendrick at the usual time, 1:25 p. m. It will be well to watch this paper for the notice of a sudden change in the above schedule.

Rognstad Gets Appointment

One of the directors of the Idaho Wheat Growers Association, as provided in the constitution of the organization, is appointed by the Dean of the College of Agriculture. Acting upon the authority thus granted him, Dean Iddings appointed A. N. Rognstad of Big Bear Ridge, a member of the organization's board of directors.

Mr. Rognstad is a practical wheat grower and has a wide knowledge of market and crop conditions obtained through constant study and application. He will be an efficient addition to the directorate of his organization. Mr. Rognstad left on the afternoon train last Wednesday to attend a meeting of the directors at Spokane.

Inspect Wheat and Potatoes

All farmers of Latah County who have wheat or potatoes which they wish to have inspected for certification as seed are requested by County Agent O. S. Fletcher to apply to him at once for inspection service. Those applying for inspection should give their names and address, community, crop to be inspected, number of acres and variety. No charge is made for inspection. Applications should be mailed or telephoned to Mr. Fletcher at once so that he can arrange for the inspection. Wheat should be inspected just before it is ready to bind and potatoes are inspected as nearly at blooming time as is possible.

Finish Powell Grade

Although the new grade around Powell Hill is not officially completed at this writing, several teams and one or two cars have been driven over the new route. It is probable the contractors will be through with their work before the end of this week. The grading is just about done and, after a ditch is dug along the upper side of the road for drainage and the rock fill on the Juliaetta end surfaced with clay, the contract undertaken by Mr. Bolen will be considered as finished. This ditching will be done by the road district tractor and the grader which is being leased by the contractors for the time necessary to do the work. The Highway commissioners are well satisfied with the manner in which the contract has been carried out and feel that the District has made one permanent step toward a down-river road to Lewiston.

Farm Bureau Picnic

The fourth annual picnic of the Latah County farm bureau was held in the Moscow City Park on Tuesday. Approximately three hundred people attended the event. A big basket dinner was enjoyed at noon, with coffee and ice cream furnished free by the farm bureau. C. B. Ross, secretary of the Idaho farm bureau federation, gave the address of the day. Mr. Ross urged the farmers present to give attention to a more diversified system of farming and urged closer co-operation among farmers. A feature of the program was music by the Big Bear Ridge quartet and a solo by A. N. Rognstad, of the quartet.

The last event of the day was an excursion over the experiment station, under the direction of Dean E. J. Iddings. Twenty-eight automobiles made the trip over the grounds. Stops were made at different parts of the station and the work of each part shown and explained.

Rattler Killed

A young rattlesnake made the sad mistake of coming in too close to civilization last week and went the route that all good rattlesnakes should go. He came down to the creek near the swimming hole, probably driven to drink by excessive heat, and was immediately met by a delegation of youngsters who removed his head, hide and rattles. The snake realized that he was not receiving friendly treatment so he did what they expected of him and died.

American Legion Notes

"Hey, Buddle, Got your kit bag packed?" This is the question that ex-service men all over Idaho are asking of one another this week.

With the opening date of the American Legion's annual convention only a few days away, every member of the Idaho Department is turning his eyes toward Nampa, where the opening gun of the big re-union will be fired Thursday morning, July 27. For three days the Legionnaires will own the city.

Advance reports received at state headquarters in Boise indicate that the round-up of ex-doughboys, gyrenes, and gobs will be the biggest assemblage of World War veterans that has yet been held in Idaho.

The call of old army friendships is so strong in the average soldier that it just can't be resisted, when a soldiers' re-union is in prospect. Hence, Legion officers say, every Legionnaire in Idaho who can possibly do so will be in Nampa for the 27th, 28th, and 29th of July.

And Nampa realizes the challenge to its reputation for hospitality in entertaining the host of ex-service men who are expected. Committees have been busy for weeks lining up a round of entertainments that will keep the delegates and visitors on the go most of their spare time.

A parade, for which visitors are asked to bring their old O. D's will feature the opening day of the convention.

This will be led by Hanford MacNider, National Commander of the American Legion, who will address a public meeting immediately after its conclusion. Two bands have been secured to furnish music for the parade.

It is expected that a large number of wives, mothers and sisters of ex-service men will accompany their men folk to Nampa, for the annual convention of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held simultaneously with the Legion convention.

A banquet on the first night, a big dance on the second night, and a promenade of the "Forty and eight" on the closing night are some of the entertainment features that have been arranged, not to mention a baseball tournament between teams of the Western Idaho League. Championship games will be played every day of the convention.

Delegates and visitors to the convention will register at the Dewey Palace Hotel and there will be assigned to rooms.

The above list, taken from the Tribune is not a complete list but it includes the precincts of Nez Perce County covered by the Gazette.

Bought Eighty Acres

Charles E. Quick, who, sometime ago purchased 80 acres of the A. H. Worsley ranch on Cedar Creek, last Saturday closed a deal with Mr. Worsley for an additional eighty. This quarter includes all the buildings on the Worsley ranch. Mr. Quick came to this part of the country from Big Hole Basin, Montana.

Will Replace Boats

Following the arrival in Lewiston Friday afternoon of J. P. O'Brien, vice president and general manager of the O.-W. R. & N. system; F. N. Finch, general superintendent of the road; W. T. Robinson, head of the department of maintenance of way men; C. F. Heywood, superintendent of water transportation for the company, and Charles Zanker, foreman of engineers, all of whom came from Portland, the announcement was made that a steamer would at once be chartered and sent to Lewiston within the next three or four weeks to take the place of the steamers Spokane and Lewiston, destroyed by fire here early Wednesday morning, and that within a short time after that the construction of a new boat would be carried on in the city.

The building of a new craft means that many thousands of dollars will be expended for labor and material. It will be of modern construction and of a sufficient size to handle volume of business offered.

The officials visited the scene of Wednesday's disastrous fire and remained for about half hour. The destruction was so complete that but little time was required to ascertain the amount of salvage. In this connection, however, the railroad company will send to Lewiston at once a crew of men to salvage the Spokane and Lewiston, and so soon as this is completed it is expected that preliminary work will be outlined for the new vessels.

The party of visiting railroad men, accompanied by Captain John E. Akins, of the steamer Lewiston, returned to Portland last evening. No estimate of the loss nor the amount of insurance carried was given out.

A number of old friends of Mr. Finch gathered at the depot to greet him and his party upon arriving. Mr. Finch stated that he was glad to get back to Lewiston and that he regretted his brief stay would not permit him to meet with his many friends.—Lewiston Tribune.

For the present the Steamer J. N. Teale will take the place of the Steamer Lewiston, on the Snake river run, until the completion of the new boats which the O. W. R. & N. officials announced would be constructed. Capt. John Akins will pilot the steamer Teale.

Surface Southwick Highway

Emery Jenks returned Sunday from spreading the surface rock on the road extending west from Southwick, the distance covered being one-half mile. The improvement of this stretch called for some very heavy work in grading, but the total cost was only $1,800. The county crushed the rock without cost and the people of that section hauled the same without charge.

This road now is in splendid shape as far as the high line of the Potlatch highway district, and there now remains to be improved only about one mile. In this mile there is only one hill to be handled, the rest of the road to be graded. This work will be carried on by money from road district No. 5's special fund and the district's portion remaining from the bond issue allotment.—Lewiston Tribune.

Not Seriously Hurt

W. W. McAllister and Andrew Galloway were badly bruised and shaken up in an accident on Bear Ridge grade on Monday afternoon. The men were driving in a grain rack and got too close to the edge of the road, allowing the wheels on one side of the wagon to slip off the grade. The rack overturned, throwing both occupants down the hill for some distance.

Mr. Galloway received bad bruises and a cut over his left eye and Mr. McAllister was rendered unconscious for some time when he struck on his head and shoulders. The men were, at first, thought to be more seriously injured and Dr. Otteraaen was called to make an examination. No bones were broken in either case and it is thought that their recovery from the accident will be speedy.

Walter McCrea, Jr., was a Moscow visitor Sunday afternoon.

A B.V.D. Correction

We recently advertised in the "Gazette", B. V. D. STYLE union suits" to describe garments that did not bear the red woven "B. V. D." label. This was an error as "B. V. D." is not a style or type of or descriptive term for athletic underwear; "B. V. D." is the trade mark of the B. V. D. Company.

The B. V. D. Company having complained of this use of its trade mark, we wish to say that hereafter, so that we may not injure the B. V. D. PROVIDE PLENTY OF WATER

Cows Must Have Abundant Supply in Summer and Winter for Profitable Milk Production.

Successful dairy farmers find that it pays to provide plenty of good, clean, cool water for milk cows. Eighty-seven per cent of milk is water, as is nearly three-fourths of a cow's body. Experimental data show that the amount of water required by cows is in direct proportion to the amount of milk produced. In the summer, the average cow will require nearly three pounds of water for every pound of milk she produces. In one experiment a cow giving 27 pounds of milk drank 77 pounds of water daily. The same cow drank less than half as much when giving no milk. In all cases, it is decidedly good practice to provide an abundance of clean, fresh water, cool in the summer and warm in the winter.

✕The dry season is here and the unusual lack of spring rains has made our forest sections a veritable tinder box. Every person and every camping party that passes through our forests should consider themselves deputy fire wardens and see that no careless act of their own or any person under their observation adds to the fire hazard in our forests.

The smoke of burning forests is a signal and a warning to all. It should teach that an excess of caution, a most meticulous care, is only wise. Vacationists of all varieties, who seek the ancient, friendly shelter of the forest, should look to their camp fires and their burned matches—not only because the law requires that they do so, but because common sense and self-interest require caution of them. None would wittingly be the source of a destruction so calamitous and irremediable as a forest fire.

Child Breaks Arm

✕Ada Candler, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Candler, living on the Brady Gulch road, met with an accident on Wednesday morning which resulted in a broken arm. The little tot was playing on a trunk and fell off, fracturing the left arm just above the elbow. She was attended by Dr. Otteraaen, who reduced the fracture and reported the little one to be resting easily.

Struck by Train

It is reported that the evening train last Monday evening struck two horses, belonging to Frank Roberts of American Ridge, near the road crossing just above the mouth of Bear Creek. One horse received a broken leg and the other suffered a torn hip. The same train is reported to have killed two cows on the right-of-way just this side of Troy.

The ice cream social given for the benefit of the Daily Vocational Bible School in the park on Friday night was fairly well patronized by the public. The proceeds of the refreshment sale just a little more than covered the expense of putting it on, leaving a small balance in the treasury.

Vacation Bible School

The Daily Vacation Bible School is nearing its close and the children are eagerly looking forward to commencement Sunday evening. The school has been a success in every way. The children have enjoyed it and obtained much to build their characters in the right way. The Bible, memory, music and habit talks have been hours of real inspiration as well as the craft period one of joy and training for cooperation and sympathy.

The instructors are thankful that they have been allowed the privilege of the joy of service in so noble a cause. Feeling they have aided in helping our children to a better understanding of God's Word and the application of that knowledge to the daily living.

Every one is asked to be present, in the park, Sunday evening and see some of the things the children have been doing. There will be plays, stories, singing, playing, and a display of craftwork: pictures, dresses, raffia-work, wood-work, hammocks, etc.

THUNDERCLAP

Manager Oldfield of the New Kendrick has arranged with the well-known Motion picture producer, Wm. Fox for the showing on Fri. and Sat., two nights only, July 28-29 of the stupendous photodrama THUNDERCLAP. Mary Carrie of "Over the Hill" fame heads the all star cast in this master production of the screen. New York newspapers say that two of the most spectacular scenes ever registered on the screen take place in THUNDERCLAP. One is the hair-raising passage of the hero down a tempestuous rapids on the top of a board, and the other is the racetrack scene, said to be the greatest racetrack scene ever staged.

This picture comes from a seven days' record run at the Casino, one of Spokane's most popular theaters and Mr. Oldfield takes pleasure in availing the people of this community an opportunity of seeing one of the big pictures of the season, in Kendrick.

CARING FOR SPRING CALVES

Young Animals Should Be Quartered in Clean Shed or Lot and Given Proper Feed.

Dairy calves should be kept in a clean shed or lot and fed regularly, according to A. C. Baer, professor of dairy husbandry at Oklahoma A. and M. college. He suggests the following feeding schedule:

First week—Feed three times a day of mother's milk.

Second week—Feed three times a day of whole milk.

Third week—Feed three times a day but substitute one-third skim milk.

Fourth week—Feed two or three times a day; one-half skim milk. Regulate the amount of milk to the size and vigor of the calf.

"After the fourth or fifth week all skim milk can be fed and a little grain, ground oats, corn, barley, and a little bran," Baer says. "Let them eat some good hay, as much as they can eat."

"Calves can be kept on pasture, but should receive some grain and hay in addition. To prevent scours, all buckets and cans must be kept clean.
The shed or lot should also be cleaned regularly."

ECONOMICAL FEED FOR COWS

Quantity of Grain Required by Animal Depends on Her Size and Milk Capacity.

Silage, fodder, shredded stover or sudan and millet hay may be depended upon for supplying carbohydrate roughness. The quantity of grain the cow requires depends upon her size and capacity as a milk producer. The most economical feeding results when cows are fed as individuals. It isn't always possible to do this on the busy farm; but sufficient attention may be given each animal to see that she receives the right proportion of feed for maintaining her milk flow.

Bumble Foot Remedy

This trouble is an abscess on the bottom of the foot caused by a splinter in the foot or jumping off a high roost. If the roosts are at fault they should be remedied.

Tie a cord tightly around the leg above the foot to control the flow of blood. Open the abscess and thoroughly clean out the core. Disinfect in a dilute solution of tincture of iodine, after which apply a generous dressing of carbolated vaseline and bandage. In two days repeat the dressing of iodine and car-bolated vaseline.

"An Unwilling Hero"

featuring Will Rogers

At the risk of his own skin, he had prevented a

But he was a hobo first and a hero afterwards and when he saw work coming, he said, "Feet do your

Will Rogers has never given a more humorous or Why Suffer from Rheumatism?

Do you know that nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism are simply rheumatism of the muscles or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment? The pain may be relieved by applying Chamberlain's Liniment, which makes sleep and rest possible, and that certainly means a great deal to any one afflicted with rheumatism.—Adv.

HATCHET BEST FOR SICK HENS

Many Reasons Enumerated Why Killing Fowls Should Be Killed Rather Than Cured.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The most reliable and profitable method for curing sick poultry is the hatchet. At least that seems to have been the experience of a large number of commercial poultry raisers. They find that it does not pay to spend much time or money in trying to bring a sick fowl back to health. One reason is that it takes considerable time, during which the bird will not be laying, and another is that a sick bird is always a menace to the rest of the flock. However, in spite of the efficiency of the hatchet as a cure, it is not good business to be careless just because such an efficient remedy is at hand. Prevention in most cases is not difficult nor costly, and pays big dividends.

The poultry flock is subject to a number of diseases, some of which spread rapidly and cause big losses. The birds may also be infested with various parasites, some of which live on the surface of the body and others in the various parts of the interior. Such parasites, whether they are outside or inside workers, are injurious because they take a part of the nourishment which should be used to put on flesh or to produce eggs, and also because of irritation and inflammation of the parts they attack.

The contagious diseases caused by germs and the weakness and loss of flesh caused by the larger parasites are the most important conditions which the poultryman must consider in order to keep his birds in health. These germs and parasites can be kept down by suitable preventative measures, and the aim of study of the diseases should be to learn prevention rather than cure. Medicines may be given advantageously at times but as a rule, as has been suggested, it is better to kill the sufferer. There is another reason not yet mentioned that makes the killing of sick birds desirable. Birds that first contract diseases are apt to be the weakest ones in the flock and should be culled out.

The more birds kept on a farm or plot of ground and the more they are crowded, the greater the danger from contagion and parasites, and the more important the measures for excluding, eradicating, and preventing development of these causes of disease.

The best way to do this is to secure eggs from a flock that has shown no indication of contagious disease for at least a year. If precautions are taken to keep the eggs absolutely clean and they are hatched in a thoroughly cleaned incubator the young chicks will have a much better chance. They will also grow up with a better chance of escaping disease if they are raised in clean brooders and kept upon ground where poultry has not run for some time.

Sometimes these directions cannot be followed explicitly. If all the available ground has been recently used for poultry, fowls should be taken from that part which is to be used for the new flock, a good coating of freshly slacked lime applied to the surface, and a few days later it should be plowed. Then it should be cultivated three or four times with intervals of a week, and finally sowed to a small grain crop. In a few months the greater part of the germs will be destroyed, but it is better to leave the ground unoccupied by poultry until a winter has passed.

It is more difficult to raise a new flock free from parasites, if the eggs are hatched by hens, for hens may carry lice and mites and various parasites. For this reason it is a good idea to select hens for brooding from a flock free from disease and pests.

To keep germs and parasites from developing to a great extent, poultry houses need to be cleaned frequently and the drinking fountains and feed troughs need a weekly washing with boiling water or other disinfectant. If any lice or mites are found on the birds or in their houses, the roosts and adjoining parts of the walls must be painted with commercial carbolicum or a mixture of 1 quart kerosene and 1 tencupful of crude carbolic acid or crude cresol, or the house may be whitewashed with freshly slacked lime and sprayed with kerosene emulsion. Dust the fowl with sodium fluoride or rice powder.

Gigglets

A stranger got off the train at a northern Washington town and went up to a druggist and asked for whiskey.

"We're only allowed to sell spirits for medicinal purposes," said the druggist.

"That's what I want it for," the stranger insisted, "this town gives me a pain."

"Willie," said the infant's mother, agitated by the sudden appearance of a rich relative, "kiss your Uncle John and then go wash your face at once."

"Why is a man like a tack?"
"Because, he can only go as far as his head will let him."—Philadelphia.

Here's where I stick for the rest of the summer, said the fly as he landed in the tanglefoot.

THE LITTLE BLACK HEN
Said the little red rooster, "Gosh all hemlock! Things are tough.

Seems that worms are getting scarcer, and I can't find enough. What's become of all those fat ones is a mystery to me;

There were thousands thru that rainy spell—but now where can they be?"

The old black hen who heard him didn't grumble or complain. She had gone thru lots of dry spells, she had lived thru floods of rain. So she flew up on the grindstone, and she gave her claws a whet.

As she said, "I've never seen the time there weren't worms to get."

She picked a new and undug spot; the earth was hard and firm.

The little rooster jeered, "New ground. That's no place for a worm."

The old black hen just spread her feet, she dug both fast and free.

"I must go to the worms," she said, "the worms won't come to me."

The rooster vainly spent his day, through habit, by the ways

Where fat round worms had passed in squads back in the rainy days.

When nightfall found him supperless, he growled in accents rough,

"I'm hungry as a fowl can be. Conditions sure are tough!"

He turned then to the old black hen and said, "It's worse with you, for you're not only hungry but you must be tired too."

I rested while I watched for worms, so I feel fairly perk;

But how are you? Without worms too? And after all that work?"

The old black hen hopped to her perch and drooped her eyes to sleep.

And murmured in a drowsy tone,

"Young man, hear this and weep, I'm full of worms and happy, for the worms are there as always—but I had to dig like 'hell'"

Oh, here and there red roosters still are holding sales positions.

They cannot do much business now because of poor conditions.

But soon as things get right again They'll sell a hundred firms—

Meanwhile the old black hens are out and gobbling up the worms.

GRAIN BOOSTED MILK FLOW

Large Increase Obtained by Minnesota Community by Feeding White on Pasture.

Twenty-one dairy herds in the Blue Earth County Cow Testing association averaged 7,120 pounds of milk and 285 pounds of butterfat per cow in 1920. Nineteen herds in the same association averaged 8,500 pounds of milk and 345 pounds of butterfat per cow in 1921. The percentage of gain in milk in 1921 over 1920 was 18.8; in butterfat, 21. The tester in charge in his annual report to University farm says:

"I attribute this gain to better care and feeding. The cows were fed a grain ration the year round, thus keeping up the production during the late summer months when it usually drops because of short pastures."

COWS ON PASTURE TOO SOON

Many Owners Expect Animals to Thieve on Thin Grass—Grain Must Be Supplied.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned.

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he can not be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seed for the garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.—AD.
