NEW YORK CITY TO KENDRICK IDAHO

Outline of Geo. P. Barnum's Auto Trip From East.

From an educational standpoint as well as for pleasure, a coast to coast trip by auto more than repays the tourist for the time and money spent. In or adjacent to almost every town and city touched by the auto highways, are well equipped tourists camp grounds, with shade, electric lights, water, ovens and fire wood supplied free of charge by the municipality, and in the larger towns, tree oil or gas stoves, lavatories, toilets, shower baths and rest rooms. In fact the autoist can spend the season touring from point to point without a worry as to a place to eat and sleep. All that is need to make touring comfortable, is the usual equipment of bedding, tent and cooking utensils. Groceries can be obtained either on the grounds or within a block or two.

During the touring season, at almost any camp grounds will be found cars bearing the license tags of practically every state in the Union, and a good natured, happy, sociable bunch of people ready and willing to help the less experienced traveller, directing him to the best roads and camps in any and all directions.

At almost all filling and service stations along the main travelled routes, especially those maintained by the Standard and Continental Oil Companies, will be found courteous, pleasant, wide-awake employees, ready to supply you with road maps and information as to routes and conditions of roads.

The writer, with the object in view of seeing and studying the conditions of crops and business in different localities, chose a rather round about way of reaching the Idaho panhandle.

Leaving New York City, July 1st, with the car loaded with the necessary equipment for an extended tour, crossing the Hudson river to Jersey City, we picked up the Old National Highway through Philadelphia, Wilmington, Pa., and Hagerstown to Cumberland, Maryland for the first night stop—328 miles over a first class cement, macadam and brick highway.

After pitching our tent and getting supper cooked and eaten, we lit our pipes and got acquainted with our temporary neighbors.

The next two weeks were a repetition of the first day with the usual variation of good roads, bad roads, grand scenery and desert. Luck and no accidents or bad luck consisting of broken springs, slipping clutch, worn brake bands or blown out tires, all of which are an expected part of the routine of travelling by auto.

From Cumberland, Md., we followed the Old National Highway over the famous Uniontown grade to the top of the Cumberland Mountains, down through the rolling farm lands of West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana to Champaign, Illinois. From here we turned north by dirt roads and struck the famous Lincoln Highway at Dixon in the northern part of Illinois. Then westward by way of Clinton, Cedar Rapids and Marshalltown through the corn belt of Iowa to Omaha.

South from Omaha to Lincoln, Neb., where we picked up the D. L. D. Trail which we followed to Sterling, Colorado. Then northwest over the desert to Cheyenne, Wyoming, taking the Yellowstone Highway northwest through Douglas, Casper (the famous oil country of Wyoming) to Thermopolis and Cody, the Eastern entrance to the Yellowstone National Park, going through the great Shoshone Canyon and over the Shoshone Dam—one of the finest bits of or scenery and a government construction project which furnishes water for irrigating thousands of

Daring Robbery at Spokane

One of the most daring robberies ever attempted in Spokane was committed Saturday night at the Paulsen building of that city. 80 vaults were broken into and money, bonds and diamonds stolen valued at $20,000 dollars. The authorities believe that the job was done by expert yeggmen. How the robbers escaped is a mystery as it is said that three are approximately 35 persons in the building during the night hours. Vaults robbed were on eight different floors.

BIG BALL GAME SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Kendrick Haz-Bins Challenge Regular Team.

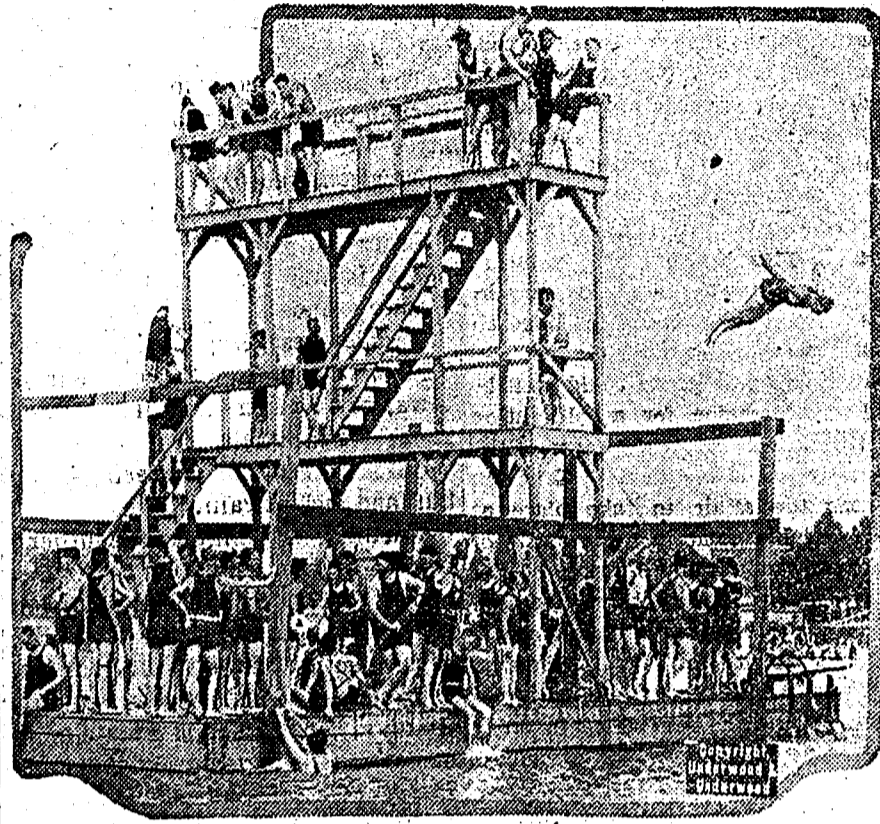

A post-season event full of inhuman interest to all real baseball fans and lovers of the kindred sports will be staged at the Kendrick ball park at half past two o'clock on next Sunday afternoon, July 30th. On this date and hour, the celebrated "Elk River Racers" will appear in public for the first time since they acquired their new art and exhibit their prowess in that line of endeavor. As their opponents in this nerve-wracking contest, there is developing an association of genuine baseball artists, known as the "Haz-Bins" and they will make their maiden trip of the year to the batting position in open sunlight and exposed to the curious gaze of the public. If you love either the sublime or the ridiculous, come out to see the slaughter of the innocents and be prepared to grin about it.

The railroad controversy and the coal strike will be compelled to sit on the bleachers and condole with county politics while this battle of the ages progresses and stars of the first magnitude twinkle on the diamond. We realize that it will be hard to give all of the candidates for the Haz-Bin team an opportunity to play. The management has already received several applications from present members of the regular team. Rank outsiders have unkindly suggested that one or two other members apply for positions but it is not known exactly which individuals they would designate. However, all free men are entitled to just suspicions in such cases.

The Haz-Bin line-up is nothing more than tentative at this writing but, since two or three notables are sure to make the team, we do not hesitate, even a little, to mention their names. It is sheer waste of time and ink to repeat that "Doc" Veon is a Haz-Bin. Everybody knows it, even "Doc"; and, in view of the fact that he was the first applicant, his name appears first on the dotted line. He really wanted to see the game and didn't dare umpire so he offered to check his judicial cap and gown at the gate and come in on the players pass. E. E. McDowell, our new dairyman, offered to leave his milk cans at the pump and be on second base, where he has been, at the stroke of the hour. "Art" Wilcox will be an addition on account of his base running and if you see him just poking along to first base with his hands flapping at his side, "razz" him a little because we think he will try to throw the game anyway. He promises to bring along the balls which the Racers brought back from Elk River and two new twenty-five-centers in addition. We won't tell you any more; you' pos-i-tive-ly must come out and see it. It will be a tragedy for some of us and a comedy for you!

One of the candidates for probate judge will umpire the game and one of the many aspirants for the sheriff's job will endeavor to maintain order. George Carlson will assess the fines and pass the hat just to get used to that line of work. If the management can successfully evade the Village anti-noise ordinance, a gong will be rung every time a Haz-Bin crosses the plate. Lemonade and ice cream cones will be sold and the proceeds used for the benefit of the ten disabled veterans now holding berths on the regular team.

WILL MACADAMIZE KENDRICK STREETS

Expect to Complete Work Before Wet Weather.

The Board of Trustees of the Village of Kendrick are advertising in this issue for sealed proposals for the construction of concrete gutters, cross-walks and storm sewers, excavating and macadamizing of streets and other work incidental to the permanent improvement of the street system of the town. This is the final step in the work they have undertaken to give our town the finest improvement which it has ever proposed, and it is one which, considered along with superb water, sewer and sidewalk systems, will put Kendrick in a class far above the ordinary small town. The Trustees are to be sincerely congratulated for their untiring efforts along the lines of permanent improvement and for foresightedness in the administration of Village affairs.

Recently, the Board entered into an agreement with a Portland firm for the sale of an improvement bond issue sufficient for meeting the cost of the proposed paving and all of the legal steps have now been made and approved by the various attorneys of both bond purchasers and the Village. The firm of Van Arsdol & Oehler of Lewiston have been engaged by the town to supervise the work and, from their general engineering reputation and record of past achievement, we can feel secure in the knowledge that the work will be well done.

It is probable that the contractor who makes the successful bid on the job will not begin actual excavation or construction until the heaviest part of the wheat hauling is over. This will be convenient for the patrons of the town and, at the same time, will give the contractor sufficient time to complete the work before cold or excessively wet weather.

CAUTION TO BUYERS OF CANNED GOODS

Examine Cans or Jars Before Using Contents.

Because it is alleged that botulism has been found in canned goods, although in small quantities compared with the amount of canned goods on the market, the United States department of agriculture has issued a bulletin containing precautionary measures to be observed by buyers of canned goods.

This bulletin has been reprinted and issued by Dr. F. W. Almond, state medical advisor, and in part is as follows:

- When buying:
- In tin—
  - 1. Both ends should be flat or curve slightly inward. Neither end should bulge, snap back when pressed, or feel loose. Make no exceptions.
  - 2. All seams should be tight and clean, with no trace of leaks.
  - In glass—
  - 1. The cover should be firm—flat or concave with seam, collar band and label—clean and free from all signs of leak.
  - 2. The contents should appear free from mold, disintegration, cloudiness or other abnormality and show no discoloration. Accept only cans in first class condition.
  - When opened—
  - 1. Suction inward is highly desirable.
  - No outrush of gas or spurt of liquid should occur.
  - 2. The odor, observed immediately, should be characteristic of the product.
  - 3. No trace of foreign or objectionable odor should be present.
  - 4. No disintegration, no mold or other abnormal appearance should be observed.
  - 5. Liquor enough to cover the food is desirable in most products.
  - 6. The inside of the can should be clean and bright, or well lacquered, not extensively blackened or markedly corroded. If you know it is spoiled, destroy it.
  - If after examining it, you can't tell, add half the volume of boiling water and boil thoroughly.

Hoffman Operates Stage

Ross Hoffman, formerly well known as a farmer in the Big Potlatch ridge section, began operating a mail stage line between Kooskia and Lowell, the latter postoffice being 25 miles up the middle fork of the Clearwater, near the mouth of the Lochsaw and Selway branches of the middle fork.

Mr. Hoffman, during the summer season, drives a truck to haul the mail and passengers as well. The stage leaves Kooskia at 9 a. m. Mondays and Thursdays, and arrives at Lowell noon of the same days. Returning, the stage leaves Lowell at 9 a. m. on Tuesdays and Fridays, and reaches Kooskia 11 to 12 o'clock. The fare for the round trip is $2.50.

Left For Hot Springs

G. F. Walker and Dr. Kelly, accompanied by Joe Gardner, Harry Stanton and son, Claud, left early Tuesday morning for the Red River Hot Springs country. Mr. Walker and Dr. Kelly will return in about a week with their families who have spent the past three weeks at the springs. Joe, Harry and Claude expect to remain there for 10 days of more after which time they will come out to Kooskia by stage, and the rest of the way by rail.

RADIO TELEPHONE AID TO RANCHING

Government Broadcasts Information to Farmers.

Radio, really means more to the rancher than to the city man. It is rapidly becoming not only his entertainment and education, but an important part of his business as well. Every farmer is a business man. He must develop and use his business sense in disposing of his produce. With market prices changing rapidly, the farmer in the past has never exactly known just when to sell his products at a fair profit to himself. It was all a gamble.

With radio, his business is no longer a gamble. The bureau of markets now has in operation a radio market news service that covers a band of territory from 600 to 800 miles wide, extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast.

The reports are literally in the air, and just as free as the air, and it is the business of the rancher to pull them down and make use of them. The department of agriculture has gone to a great deal of trouble and expense in making this news available to the rancher and farmer through radio, and it is nobody's fault but his own if he continues to lose money on the sale of his wares through ignorance of the market conditions.

There are many operations on the farm that depend a great deal upon impending weather conditions. With a radio outfit the rancher has the added advantage of learning the weather forecasts almost as quickly as they are formulated.

Market, stock and weather reports are sent out daily by a dozen stations located on the Pacific. With a high-power receiving set costing him around $200 the rancher can easily receive this information from one or more of these stations. Such information is broadcasted from Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, and Los Angeles.

Broadcasting information valuable to the rancher is being rapidly taken up by agricultural colleges all over the country. The newest developments from their laboratories are being given out to the ranchers as fast as they come up.

Such service has already been inaugurated by the University of California, while both the Washington State College and the Oregon Agricultural College have announced that they will begin a service of this kind in the next few months.—Western Breeders Journal.

Julietta Cannery Busy

The packing and canning of cherries at the Julietta cannery is finished. The crop greatly exceeded estimates of growers.

Nine carloads of Bings and Lamberts were shipped from the Julietta plant during the season by White Bros. & Crum of Lewiston, while ten tons of Royal Anns were used by the cannery. Several thousand pounds of cherries were shipped here from outside points along the Clearwater valley.

Within two weeks the cannery here will begin to put tomatoes within the tin containers. Enough tomatoes are now ripe to supply local tables. W. A. Carr will be shipping tomatoes by Tuesday or Wednesday of this week. Mr. Carr has four acres, these being divided about equally between tomatoes, watermelons and cantaloupes.

The cantaloupes will be ready for shipment this week, while by August 10, the Julietta watermelons, "the best by test in the west," will be ready to ship.—Tribune.

Viola McAllister

Viola McAllister, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. McAllister of Crescent, Idaho, was born at West Union, Nebraska, June 16, 1900. Her girlhood was spent at her birthplace and, five years ago, she came to Crescent where her parents established their new home. She was of a highly intellectual type and her education was such that it enabled her to become one of the finest primary teachers which this district has ever had the pleasure of engaging.

While in Lewiston taking summer school work, required by her profession she became suddenly ill and, despite every effort put forth by physicians she passed away early on Tuesday morning at one of the local hospitals. Her body was brought to Kendrick on Tuesday afternoon and interment was made in the Southwick cemetery on Thursday morning, Rev. Pickering officiating, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Williams of Southwick. The beautiful floral offerings and attendance of a multitude of friends at the services were mute evidence of the love and respect which she had commanded from both friends and acquaintances throughout her life.

She is survived by her father and mother and younger sister, Nona. The heartfelt sympathy of the several communities where the young lady was known are with the relatives in the dark hour of their bereavement.

H. N. Nelson

H. N. Nelson who has resided in South Clarkston for the past twelve years died today of flu-pneumonia at the home of his son N. N. Nelson on Eighth street.

The deceased was born in Norway in 1855 and came to this country at the age of seventeen and lived for a time in Wisconsin and then in Minnesota where he was engaged in the flour mill business. He was married at Hutchinson, Minn., June, 1881, to Miss Bathilda Nelson.

Mr. Nelson and family came west to Kendrick in 1900 and engaged in the milling and warehouse business. After a residence of ten years there he moved to Clarkston. Mrs. Nelson died about six years ago.

The deceased is survived by his only son, Neal Nelson of Clarkston who is with the Vollmer Clearwater Co. and a daughter, Ida B. Nelson of Portland. The funeral will be held in Kendrick Saturday and interment be made there beside that of his wife.

The Masonic lodge will have charge of the services at the grave.

The funeral of H. N. Nelson was held at the Kendrick Cemetery on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of Kendrick Lodge No. 26 A. F. & A. M. Many members of the Odd Fellow order were present and six of their number acted as pallbearers. Mr. Nelson's death came as a shock to this community since many knew nothing of his serious illness. The many floral offerings were evidence of the esteem in which he was held and the many kindly spoken words, a tribute to his character.

Mrs. George Longtie

A telegram was received Wednesday morning, by Ed Darby of Crescent, announcing the death of Mrs. George Longtie of Twin Falls, Idaho. No details of the cause of her death or as to where she would be buried were received, but it is expected that the body will be brought to Kendrick and interment made in the Southwick cemetery. Mrs. Longtie will be remembered here as Miss May Darby. She has a large circle of friends in this community and around Southwick and Crescent, where she spent most of her life.

LATAH COUNTY NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers

THIEVES WORKING HERE

Genesee News: Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Milton Rader were aroused by noise around the house. Upon investigation it was discovered that tire thieves were at work on his car. He hastily procured his shotgun and started after them, but they heard him coming and vanished into the darkness. Mr. Rader says that he could distinguish two men, but could not identify them. Next time he will give them a run for the joy of it, he states. There have been several complaints lately of similar snooking and pilfering of small articles and the prowlers should get what is coming to them in the way of a good dose of buckshot.

MAY CLOSE ELEVATOR

Deary Press: J. Q. Adams, Farmers Union official, will be in Deary Tuesday, July 25, to meet the farmers and arrive at a final decision concerning the cooperative marketing plan. At this time also the shareholders of the Farmers Warehouse & Elevator Co., Ltd., will decide whether or not the elevator will run this season. From the looks of things this is to be a pretty important meeting and it behooves all farmers to be on the job at 1:30 to take part in the proceedings. State Organizer Jorgens has been holding meetings in this vicinity recently and explaining the purpose of the Farmers Union and urging cooperation.

The farmers are urged to attend this meeting.

WILL BURY HATCHET

Juliaetta Record: County Commissioner Columbus Clark drove over the new Powell hill grade Saturday which was completed and opened for travel last week. In speaking of the matter Mr. Clark said he wanted to compliment the county and Kendrick highway district on the completion of this piece of road which he says, he considers the most important and most needed piece of road improvement in the county and means that eventually a highway will be opened up when you can crank your car in Kendrick and drive in high all the way to Lewiston. Besides it will result in bringing the two towns closer together he says. We endorse Mr. Clark's sentiments and suggest that the completion of this new grade could well be made the occasion for a jollification meeting or celebration in honor of the event by the Juliaetta and Kendrick citizens the affair to take place at some suitable point in the vicinity of the new grade. The opening of the grade removed the obstruction between the two towns and now a get-together spirit which will submerge and bury all animosity and rivalries of the past is the next thing in order for the people of the two communities. If we can get a few volunteers for pall bearers we'll dig the hole in which to lay at rest all past grievances and contentions between the two towns.

HEAD NARROW ESCAPE

Troy News: What might have been a fatal accident was narrowly averted Monday afternoon, at the railroad crossing south of town.

B. F. Steelsmith had stopped his auto south of the track to let out his children and with his wife and baby had started for town. Coming from behind some buildings he did not hear or see the north bound passenger, which he says did not whistle for the crossing, until it was nearly upon him. For some reason or other the car engine did not give the necessary power when needed and he had barely got across the track when the train went by missing the car by a narrow margin.

GOULD ENGINEER INSTRUCTOR

Star Mirror: F. A. Gould, of the University of Illinois, has been appointed instructor in the civil engineering department of the University of Idaho school of engineering, according to announcement from the president's office.

Mr. Gould is a graduate of Illinois in civil engineering, class of 1917. Since graduation, he has spent two years with the signal corps of the United States army and two years as assistant engineer with the state highway department of Illinois. He is highly recommended by Dean Richards of the University of Illinois and by C. M. Hathaway, construction engineer of the Illinois state highway department.

INTERESTING NEWS NOTES

Coeur d'Alene may be the divisional point for two mail air routes to Seattle, one from Chicago and the other from Salt Lake City, Utah.

Grasshoppers are destroying wheat in many sections of Idaho, according to agricultural officials. In Powers county one 1200-acre field is declared to have been wholly devastated by the pests.

An election held at Craigmont last week to vote on an issue of $20,000 bonds to be used to retire that amount of warrants of the old villages of Ilo and Vollmer, resulted in a defeat for the proposition.

Between 300 and 400 men are fighting fire near Clarkia. The path of the flames, according to men, covers a strip 15 miles wide and 32 miles long and is expected to reach the Montana line at any time.

At Bollin's Camp, in the Sandpoint, Idaho, Section, a saw mill valued at $40,000 owned by Somers Bros. of Saginaw, Mich., was destroyed in a recent forest fire in that section.

The program of forest highway construction approved by the secretary of agriculture, provides for an outlay of $1,269,600 for the construction of 137 miles in Idaho Forests.

Eight steel bridges, costing more than $250,000, and several road building projects, all in northern Idaho, will be placed under contracts within a month. Six of the bridges will be erected in Shoshone county, one at Sandpoint and a 600-foot bridge at Spaulding.

New York to Kendrick

acres of Wyoming land.

A couple of days touring through the park viewing the Geysers, waterfalls and scenic points of interest, then out at the west entrance, West Yellowstone and south on the Salt Lake Highway through Idaho Falls, Pocatello and Twin Falls to Boise, Idaho. Then north on the Whitebird-Grangeville cut off to Lewiston and Kendrick, Idaho. A distance by road maps and speedometer of 4156 miles in 20 days.

Among the impressions gained on the way across the continent are the following:

The East is recovering more rapidly than the West from the general after war slump.

New construction of all kinds is active from the Colorado line East.

Crops and prices through the East do not justify the prices asked for farming lands.

Middle west crops, with the exception of a strip in Carroll County, Iowa, will be extremely light owing to lack of rain fall.

Colorado crops are suffering from hail and lack of rain.

Northern Wyoming and Southern Idaho, in the irrigation districts, appear to be in the best condition as to crops and business generally, of any section of the whole country.

From an observers viewpoint, would say that Idaho as a state is in better condition generally than any state passed through on the trip.

All parts of the country are accessible to auto travel though consideration should be given as to seasons of the year and route picked accordingly.

Colorado undoubtedly has the best roads of any state in the west.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been to day had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill feeling at once strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.— AD.

WEIGHING MILK FOR MARKET

Less Trouble Between Producers and Dealers If Records Are Kept at Both Ends of Line.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Producers who ship milk to city distributors have voiced frequent complaints because of the disparity between their figures on the quantity of milk shipped and those of the dealers on the quantity received. In order to locate the cause of complaint by studying the actual loss between the country shipping point and the city plant the United States Department of Agriculture made an investigation on the Baltimore market. Records kept on more than 1,100 cans showed that the loss between the country station and the city plant was less than 1 per cent. The loss on trains, probably due to spilling, was only 0.19 per cent; and from the city railroad platform to the plant it was 0.65 per cent.

However, it was found that when the milk was weighed in the city plant there was a shortage of 2.56 per cent on the amount shipped according to can measure in the country. Of this shortage, 0.74 per cent was due to actual losses, while 1.82 per cent was the difference between can measure and weight. This is easily accounted for by the fact that cans become dented and battered, which decreases their holding capacity.

In a former investigation by the department an even greater discrepancy was found between can measure and weight, the difference being over 3 per cent. It would seem that there would be less trouble between producers and dealers if the milk were weighed at both ends of the line.

any was found between can measure and weight, the difference being over 3 per cent. It would seem that there would be less trouble between producers and dealers if the milk were weighed at both ends of the line.

Dairy cows are not profitable unless fed properly. Ensilage and alfalfa hay are the best cow feeds. The canes, kaffirs, darso, fetterita and corn are good row crops for the silo. If alfalfa cannot be grown, cow peas, soy beans or peanuts are leguminous crops to plant for dairy cow feeds.

ADVANTAGE OF EARLY BIRDS

Success of Poultry Keeping Depends Largely on Well-Matured, Vigorous Pullets.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The early bird—referring to poultry—not only gets the worm but seems to have every other advantage over the one that is hatched late. Upon early hatching largely depends the success of poultry keeping, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Early hatched chicks, they say, produce well-matured, vigorous pullets, which will begin laying in the fall and early winter. It is only from such early laying pullets that the best production and greatest profit can be secured. Early hatched chicks also mean hens which grow broody earlier the next spring, and these in turn allow early hatching to be continued to a greater degree when natural methods of incubation are relied upon.

For several years the department specialists have conducted early hatching campaigns. The movement has been encouraged by state officials and county agents until now such campaigns are conducted early in the spring over practically the entire country. Reports from poultry specialists and other sources indicate that early hatching is being practiced much more generally this spring than ever before, the favorable weather conditions being largely responsible for this fact.

CURE FOR EGG-EATING HENS

Professor Lippincott of Kansas College Recommends Paring Off End of Beak.

In answer to the many inquiries for a remedy for egg-eating hens, appears the following by William A. Lippincott, Kansas State Agriculture college:

"Hens can be cured of eating eggs by paring off the end of the beak until it is very tender. It should not be cut so as to make it bleed. After being cut back until the quick is almost exposed, give the birds some china eggs to peck at. As a usual thing they soon get over their desire to peck at anything hard and, by the time the beaks are grown out, have gotten entirely over the vice."

DAIRY FACTS

APPLE-PECTIN AS COW FEED

Pulp Should Prove Valuable Adjunct to Fare of Animal When Compared With Silage.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That dried apple-pectin pulp should prove a valuable adjunct to the fare of the dairy cow is the conclusion drawn from analyses and feeding trials conducted by the bureau of chemistry, United States Department of Agriculture, in collaboration with the Bureau of Animal Industry. This feed made a favorable showing when compared with dried beet pulp and corn silage. Apple-pectin pulp is the by-product remaining after pectin has been extracted from apple pomace, or, as it is sometimes called, cider-press cake. After the pectin has been extracted about three-fourths of the total weight of the pulp is water, rendering it subject to rapid spoilage. Heretofore it has been thrown away, but it has been found that when the pulp is dried it can be kept for a considerable time and, because of its reduced weight, handled and shipped economically. Some manufacturers have recently installed evaporators for drying the pulp in order to market the product for stock feed.

The feeding experiment included a preliminary test with one cow for a period of 20 days, and a later one with 6 cows. The dried pectin pulp was always mixed with three times its weight of water several hours before feeding. In the first test the cow was fed corn silage for 20 days, then, after a transition period of 5 days, she was given pectin pulp for 20 days, and, after another transition period of 5 days, she was fed corn silage for another 20 days. In all these periods grain was fed in connection with the roughage.

The average production during the corn-silage feeding-periods was 312 pounds of milk and 14.65 pounds of butterfat. During the period when pectin pulp was fed the cow made 356.9 pounds of milk and 15.68 pounds of fat. Although this test showed that the pulp produced 14.7 per cent more milk and 7.1 per cent more butterfat than the corn silage, the results can not be considered conclusive.

In the second and more extended experiment the pectin pulp was compared with dried beet pulp, a feed that it resembles more closely than corn silage. The 6 cows were fed for 30 days on beet pulp soaked with three times its weight of water, then, after a transition period of 10 days, they were fed for 30 days on pectin pulp soaked with a similar quantity of water. The soaking was from one feeding time to the next, but in warm weather the pulp should not be allowed to soak for more than one or two hours. The pectin pulp contained approximately 7 per cent crude fat (not all of which is true fat), 7 per cent crude protein, and 26 per cent crude fiber, as compared with 0.5 per cent crude fat, 8 per cent crude protein, and 20 per cent crude fiber in beet pulp. The two feeds are similar in being able to absorb water readily.

The cows while on the ration containing the beet pulp produced 4976.5 pounds of milk and 171.86 pounds of butterfat; while on the pectin-pulp ration they produced 4376.7 pounds of milk and 152.93 pounds of fat. Forty pounds of the wet pulp were offered to each cow daily. The palatability of the pectin pulp did not appear to be so high as that of the beet pulp, since the cows did not eat it so readily. It seems that pound for pound of dry matter the pectin pulp is superior to corn silage and perhaps intermediate between the silage and beet pulp. The loss of appetite for the pectin pulp by some of the cows may be attributed to the fact that it was the less familiar feed and that the second test was conducted during the summer when cows are more apt to tire of such feeds.

Poor Cows Don't Pay.

It does not pay to keep poor cows, nor does it pay to stint any cow in the way of the best feed money can secure.

Object in Milking.

Some farmers milk good cows for profit; others milk poor cows for exercise.

Scrub Deserves Medal.

The man who uses a scrub bull deserves a leather medal made out of the bull's hide.

A few days ago a rather bashful young woman went into Long's store carrying three live chickens. She inquired the price of chickens, and at the same time put them on the counter. Jody didn't know the chickens' feet were tied, and asked if they would lay there. She put her handkerchief and said: "No, sir; they are roosters."

The misunderstanding of words frequently causes strange answers. A child who had been taught that Socrates had a wife who was unpleasant to him, and that the great philosopher drank hemlock, when asked the cause of his death replied: "Socrates died from an overdose of wedlock."

To The Voters of Latah County:

Some good reasons why John L. Woody should be re-nominated as Sheriff of Latah County next Tuesday:

Total fines paid during my three and a half years in office $10,195.10.

Total costs paid during the same period $550.00.

Total fines and costs collected by the county during the 3½ years $10,745.10.

During those same three and one half years I have been Sheriff of Latah County, twenty (20) felony prisoners pleaded guilty, and were either sent to the state penitentiary or were paroled out by the Court, without one dollar's expense to the county for trial.

Of the 116 convictions for misdemeanor crimes during those same three and one half years, 115 pleaded and so did not cost the county one dollar for trial; and only one stood trial and was convicted.

The cost to the county for trial of all those who were arrested by the Sheriff's office during the same time would not exceed $1,000.00.

During my term of office I have recovered every automobile stolen within Latah County, a record which cannot be duplicated in many of the counties of the state.

John L. Woody, Sheriff.

MORE GRAIN THAN EXPECTED

Nezperce Herald: Hay harvest 's well along and considerable fall wheat is being cut and shocked in this territory. Threshing crews are being organized and preliminary arrangements are in progress for the big harvest only a short time distant on this prairie. The extreme dry weather only about half normal precipitation having come this way in the past six months, and the hard winter shortened the winter wheat crop to almost half in some instances, but later reports give assurance of a greater yield than was anticipated a month ago. While the stand is abnormally thin, the heads are large and well filled and 25 bushel fields will not be uncommon. Spring wheat is being held back by lack of moisture, but the cool nights with heavy dews, a characteristic condition here, have prevented burning, and a good rain this week will make the spring sowing show a fair crop.

In fact, there is going to be lots of work for the harvesters on the old prairie and it will not be long until men are needed.

FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Clearwater Tribune: What might have proved two very expensive and serious fires by the C. T. P. A. on Washington creek and one by the Forest Service on the head of the little Wietas creek are recently reported trenched and safe unless high winds arise.

The Forest Service has had 14 fires to date, the largest one of which was two acres and are all out with the exception of the one on the Wietas which reached 80 acres before being controlled. It is in an old burn and a long distance from the nearest look-out and on account of the smoky atmosphere was not seen until it had a good start. Twelve men were used to control it. The C. T. P. A. has also had a number of fires, none of which have caused much difficulty except the one above mentioned. It was reported all trenched Wednesday night and it was thought would soon be on a patrol basis. It is about 360 acres in extent, but being largely in old burn, has not done a great deal of damage. Fifty local men were used on it.

The situation in the northern part of the state is serious and fires have already caused a great deal of loss. The following is quoted from the Spokane-Review:
