

LATAH COUNTY NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

Business conditions in Latah county are good as indicated by the results of public auction sales held over the county in the month of September, according to George Vennigerholz, deputy county assessor, who has been acting as clerk at the sales. All classes of goods have been sold at these sales and all commodities have brought good prices.

Practically all the sales have been cash sales, Mr. Vennigerholz said, with cash to the seller. Some goods have been paid for in promissory notes payable in not more than 30 days but Moscow banks are now holding little or no paper upon which money has been borrowed to make payment for the sales.

Horses and cattle are selling for less than last year at the sales. The price for horses has been cut more than in half while the price for cattle has been cut 50 per cent. The low market for horses, according to Mr. Vennigerholz, is caused by the short crop in Latah county for the last three years. The horses have not been needed and farmers are letting them go at low figures rather than feed them.

"Although prices are low on some types of goods, notably horses and cattle, the people generally are satisfied," said Mr. Vennigerholz. "The sellers figure that the decrease in price in the last three years in merely the loss of the inflation caused by the war and they are willing to take the return to normalcy calmly. Hogs are holding their own on price and the sale for other classes of goods varies according to the demand in the locality in which the sale is made."

County Agent O. S. Fletcher was in the Genesee community Wednesday treating seed wheat on several farms with copper carbonate so as to start demonstrations to compare that treatment with the bluestone treatment for smut control. In each case one to two bushels of wheat were treated. This wheat will be planted in the field and compared with the main field seeded with wheat treated with bluestone. Among those who are cooperating with the county agent in this work are Henry Flomer, Henry Lorang, Fred Hove, Arthur Tegland, R. E. Nordby, A. C. Lineham and Hampton & Driscoll.

While in Genesee Mr. Fletcher made arrangements with Chas. W. Smith, teacher of agriculture in the local high school, and O. H. Nordby to have the agriculture class of the high school cooperate with the county agent's office in treating wheat on Mr. Nordby's with a number of different brands of copper carbonate. The boys and Mr. Smith will assist the county agent in treating the different lots of seed and will make stand counts and smut counts on the various plots.

This smut control work is being carried on by County Agent Fletcher as a part of the wheat improvement project of the county extension service.—Genesee News.

A certain group of unmarried men have decided that they want to eat at their own table and being unable to gain a cook in the usual manner, have organized, rented a house and hired a cook. Hereafter their feet will be under their own board and at night they will sleep in their own house. During the long winter evenings to come they will enjoy themselves in their own sitting room by their own fire. The house is the Swedish parsonage.

Hereafter when you want Dr. Peterson, Supt. Wenig, Mr. Ekholm, Clifford Anderson, Bill Carlson, Ray Toblason, Melvin Hagan, Shorty Myklebust or J. H. Felton simply go to the telephone and call "The Gumps".

The keynote of the thing seems to center around home life for some of these men have not had a home for several years.

The battle cry of the group is "Oh Min" and frequently you hear the names "Chester", "Uncle Bim", "Andy", "Pony and cart" and other terms that bring to mind a certain current cartoon.

The greatest crime possible for a

Killed Black Bear

Claud Stanton and Chauncy Compton, while out bird hunting last Saturday in the Pine Creek country, shot a black bear weighing 250 pounds. The dogs treed the bear near Al McKee's orchard, about five miles from town. Claud had a shotgun and Chauncy a .22 caliber rifle. Chauncy shot the bear as soon as the dogs had treed it, and the animal finding it had climbed into uncomfortable quarters, went down the tree but was put up another one by the dogs. A couple more shots from the little rifle started the bear down again and as it was nearing the ground, Claud gave it two loads of bird shot. The bear tried to get away but the boys found it dead in the brush near where the last shots had been fired. While skinning it they found one .22 bullet in its heart and birdshot in its liver, so it is believed the honor of killing it falls between the boys equally.

"Gump" is for him to commit matrimony. Some one has said, tho we will not be responsible for this statement that the punishment for this great error is a fine of $10,000,000.00 and imprisonment for life. One thing we do know is that they have only single men in the group.

Due to the varied membership the group will probably have very little trouble in proceeding with and in making a success of the venture. Bound together in this manner, each with his own separate and distinct vocation the power of "The Gumps" should work for the good of the community, as well as for their own individual benefit.—Troy News.

Leonard F. Simmons died last Sunday night at the home of Mrs. M. A. Perryman on Water street at the age of 95, death being due to complications arising from old age. Mr. Simmons came to the northwest in the early 80's and settled on Fix ridge where he resided for a time, later living on Bear Ridge, where his wife died. He then came to Juliaetta and made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Collins Perryman and has lived at the Perryman home ever since. The funeral was held Monday at 11 a. m. from the Methodist church. Rev. Atkins officiating. Interment was made in the Fix ridge cemetery. Deceased was born Jan. 7, 1827, in Cataraugus county, New York state, but spent his early life in Michigan.

He was a veteran of the civil war and was with the federal troops in campaigns throughout the south. He joined the Methodist Episcopal church in Michigan and upon coming to Juliaetta united with the Presbyterian church. He was a devout christian and in late years read the Bible carefully, and was respected for his honesty and uprightness of character. No immediate relatives reside in the west, all his blood relations living in Michigan.—Julietta Record.

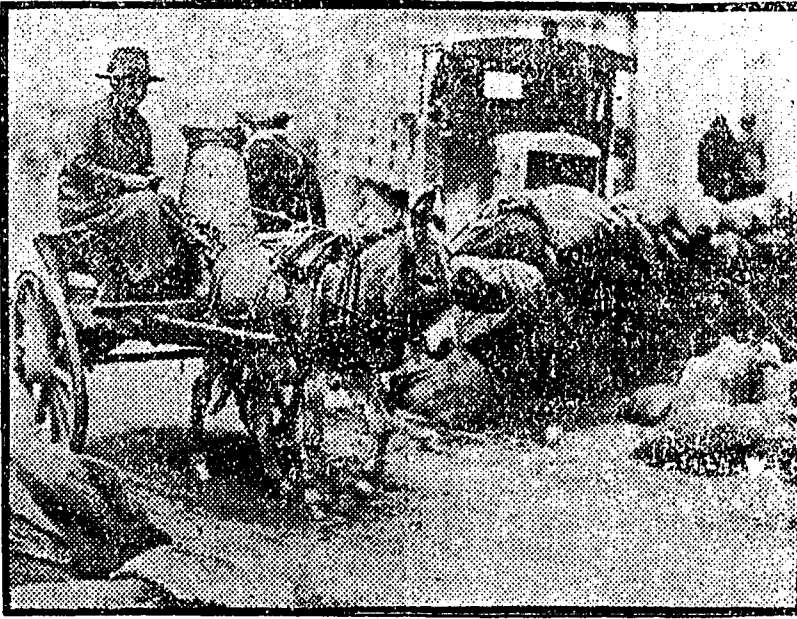

Wm. Watts of American ridge was a Moscow visitor last Saturday.

Seeks Glory in Stadium

MISS FLORIEDA BATSON of New York and New Orleans, pictured here, is captain of the All-American girls' team which will compete in the international games at Pershing Stadium at Joinville le Pont, near Paris. She has gone to Europe to take part in these events.

Passing Through the War Zone

IRELAND, as cables prove and as this picture illustrates, is far from pacified yet. The photograph shows a country woman bringing milk into the city of Limerick through one of the street barricades thrown up by the rebels. There seems to be a momentary lull in the fighting just at that spot.

Bought Cabinet Shop

E. E. Bechtol this week closed a deal for a cabinet shop in Moscow, owned by H. R. Fields, who is retiring from business. The shop has done a splendid business in the past and Mr. Bechtol believes it will be a moneymaker from the start. He has shipped the machinery, which he formerly used in his furniture store here, to Moscow to be installed in his new shop. Mr. Bechtol is an experienced cabinet maker, having had 10 years' experience in that line of work. He is now in charge of his business in Moscow. Mrs. Bechtol and the children expect to join him as soon as they find a desirable residence. They have a host of friends here who wish them success in their new location.

Notes By The Way

The times seem to be out of joint. In traveling over the state you rarely meet a man without a hard luck story. These stories, in most cases, are not the result of a grouch. The business man, and more especially the farmer, is up against the real thing—hard times.

We have met in our travels men whose highest ambition, for the next few years, is to make enough to pay taxes and interest and in many cases the outlook for success in this undertaking is very gloomy.

The booster says he sees business revival "just around the corner" but in most cases he is willing to admit that it may be only the shadow of this elusive impersonality. But with this condition of affairs this article is not immediately concerned.

Within the last month the writer has been through a number of the important cities of the state and has had the opportunity of somewhat careful observations. He does not hesitate to say that pessimism prevails throughout Idaho. High taxes and the upward trend of interest rates seem to be at the bottom of nearly all complaints. That Idaho will weather this unwelcome depression along all business lines there is no doubt but "good times" are not in the immediate future.

In our meanderings we have come to the little city of Kendrick nestled so cozily in the great canyon of Potlatch creek. From the very nature of things here prosperity ought to reign supreme. While everything is not just what it might be or ought to be, still, comparatively speaking, this is the garden spot of the state at this time from a purely business standpoint. The farmers have harvested an almost average crop of wheat and have stored away a fine crop of beans. With these two staples secured the people are well prepared to hold their own for the time being.

Of course economy must be practiced but often this kind of discipline is what we really need. While this is being done, the comforting message comes to every resident of this favored locality that there is no community in the state that is faring better or even so well as the Potlatch country. With this assurance the people can afford to look cheerful and buckle on their armor anew for greater conquests in the year to come. For greater prosperity is coming even if it is a long, long time on the way. —OBSERVER

Elizabeth McGraw

Elizabeth, year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGraw, died at Moscow, Tuesday of acute nephritis. The body was taken to the family home on Bear ridge Wednesday, and funeral services were held Thursday, Rev. C. A. Pickering having charge of the service. Burial was made in the Wild Rose cemetery. The little girl was born July 6, 1921. Her untimely death is a severe blow to the family, who have the sympathy of the entire community in their sorrow.

Gregson Sale Opened

P. F. Richardson, expert sales manager for the Gregson Sales Co. of Spokane, arrived the first of the week to take charge of arrangements for putting on the sale for N. B. Long & Sons. The sale opened yesterday with 150 people in the store at the opening hour. Mr. Richardson had arranged the stock in a very attractive manner and his sales methods are getting results. This is his second sale for the local firm.

The "Family Auto"

The total registration of motor cars in the United States on July 1, 1922, amounted to 10,845,000 compared with 9,413,000, one year before. Total world registrations are estimated at 13,000,000.

In other words the United States alone has over five times as many automobiles as all the rest of the world combined.

If for no other reason, these figures alone show why the United States should maintain its dominant position in the oil industry.

If it had not been for the initiative and enterprise of American oil prospectors and producers, one person out of every 10 in the United States could not own an automobile today nor could American automobile manufacturers be turning out about 2,250,000 cars and trucks for 1922.

Any agitation or political activity which interferes with or retards normal development in the oil industry affects our leading position in world oil production and incidentally the operation of every "family auto" in our own country.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Moscow, Idaho, on October 14, 1922, to fill the position of rural carrier at Kendrick, Route No. 2.

Leaving Kendrick

Mrs. M. A. French and son, Harold, will leave for Spokane, Saturday, October 14th, where they will spend the winter. Harold will enter the North Central High School and Mrs. French expects to take up different work until the spring millinery season begins when she will open a millinery store in another location.

"If you would learn how it feels to be in business," an observing Kansas editor suggests, "just loan all your money without note or interest and wait results."

Bought Furniture Stock

The Kendrick Hardware Co. bought the stock of furniture in the Fraternal Temple building, owned by E. E. Bechtol, and will add this line to their store. The deal was made this week. The furniture stock will be moved to the spacious hardware rooms, occupying the east half of the front, the west half being used for hardware stock and the rear for the implements.

The Thomas Bros. stated this week that they expect to have a large stock of goods to add to their present stock, some time before the holidays. They will carry a complete line of hardware, implements and furniture. It is understood that the room formerly occupied by the Kendrick Furniture Co. can be desirably rented at any time.

Loosening Wool

"One of the easiest methods of loosening wool from the pelt is by using a lime water solution," says Prof. H. Hackedorn, head of the animal husbandry department of the State College of Washington, replying to the query of a Hampton, Ore. sheep raiser.

"Make a saturated solution, allow the lime to settle, pour off the clear liquid and soak the pelt in it till the wool loosens. You will get better results if you use warm water.

"If you have only a small amount of wool to wash, I suggest that you make a strong solution of common laundry soap and water, and wash wool much as you would clothing. I have known some people to use a washing machine, and they stated that it was very satisfactory. Hot water will work much more satisfactorily than cold. After washing the wool in the soap solution, rinse it three times."

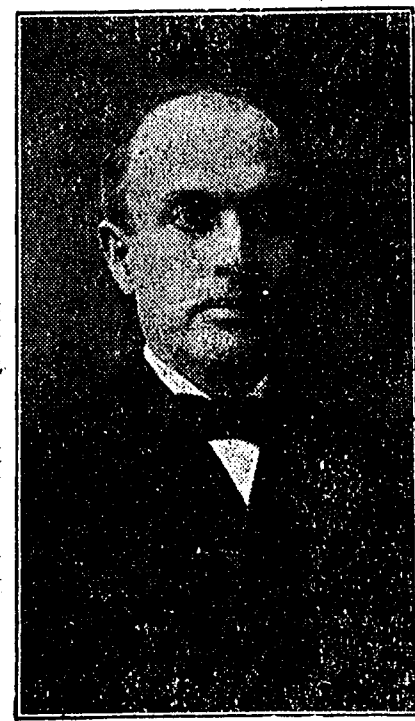

Silflow-Kruger

Miss Martha Silflow and Mr. Gus Kruger, two popular young people of Cameron, were married, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The ceremony took place at the Cameron church, in the presence of immediate relatives and members of the Luther League. The happy couple will make their home on one of the Silflow farms near Leland.

Alexander to Speak Here

Hon. M. Alexander, who is canvassing the state in the interests of his candidacy for governor, will be in Kendrick on Saturday of this week. In his tour of the state he is confining himself largely to the discussion of taxation—a subject of vital interest to the people at this time.

The ex-governor is an entertaining speaker and is entitled to a respectful hearing. If the state government is not run along economic lines the voters should know it before the day of election.

The taxpayer knows that his taxes are burdensome. There may be a remedy. If there is let's try and find it. Above all let us show the prospective governor that we have a wide awake little city and are always trying to keep step with the progress of the day.

Saturday forenoon at 11 o'clock is the date. Don't forget it.

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Events of Interest to School Patrons

The question of putting out a High School annual is being seriously considered by the High School students. This is something new for our school, and much enthusiasm is being shown by the students. A committee has been appointed to investigate and find out the approximate cost of an annual, also to find out what attitude the business men have toward it. After this committee has reported it will be voted on by students.

At the last meeting of the Student Body an Athletic Council was appointed to serve during the coming Basketball season. Those appointed by the president were as follows: Students: Egnaz Klug, Frank Brocke, Audrey Stanton, Nora Cox, Faculty members: Miss Whitney and Mr. Strauch.

The entire High School is exceedingly proud of her famous "bear hunters." When a couple of boys go out hunting for a bear with only a twenty-two rifle, a shotgun and a couple of dogs, we feel that it is indeed worthy of mention, to say the least, for many more experienced hunters are afraid to tackle a bear with such small arms.

The fifth and sixth grade enjoyed a watermelon and marshmallow party at the shooting grounds Tuesday evening.

Education Pays

Here are some statistical facts that ought to command the attention of every boy or girl who expects to make a success in life. They show that without education people in this age stand a very poor show.

During the first hundred years of our history, not more than thirty of its ten thousand men who rose to prominence were self taught; that a boy with only a grammar school education had one chance in nine thousand of reaching distinction.

A boy with a high school training has one chance in four hundred; that is, he has twenty-two times the opportunity of the boy who stopped with the eighth grade.

At 25 years of age, the high school graduate has earned an average of $500 more than the eighth grade graduate. Statistics show that each day spent in high school is worth ten dollars to the pupil, which is only a small part of the real benefit of a high school education.

Here is the outstanding lesson; The difference to your child between an eighth grade and a high school education is the difference between a life of drudgery and one of opportunity and advancement, for that child.

Parents need not worry about their children's progress in high school. They'll work hard and get all the learning the high school offers. They only want the opportunity, and you can give them that by seeing that they go through high school.—Deary Press.

Peterson Appointed Clerk

L. G. Peterson, former office deputy in the sheriff's office of Latah county, was appointed city clerk of Moscow the first of the week. He succeeds the late Judge J. K. Strong. Mr. Peterson has been deputy sheriff since 1919. He served as mayor of Kendrick for two years and is thoroughly familiar with the details of conducting a municipality.

Mrs. F. D. White and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roberts motored to Orofino last Sunday and spent the day visiting Ray Whitted who has returned from Missoula where he has been in the hospital for several months, following an accident near Orofino in which his leg was severely crushed. The limb has healed with the exception of one small sore. His leg, however, still pains him and he has to go about on crutches. He is looking fine, though, and feels pretty good. The small pieces of splintered bone can be seen under the skin where the wound has healed.—Julietta Record.

THE AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

The season is now open for all kinds of propaganda (for the newspapers)—political—from all parties: republican, democratic, progressives, and all other 'essives who think they can get a little free advertising; from the railroads, sugar manufacturers about the tariff, Philippine independence league, Hearst, Munsey, and everybody else who has an axe to grind and want the grindstone turned free of charge by the unsophisticated country editor.

The news, for one, refuses to work without pay as it is almost impossible to live very long without eating, and unless we are able to get pay for our space it is probable that the grocery man and others would eventually shut off our supply of eats on account of non-payment of bills.

The country newspapers of the United States gave away, during the war, space valued at more than three and a half million dollars and we figure it is high time to call a halt and right here is where we refuse to fight for any one but ourselves unless there is some pay hooked onto it as we are not running a propaganda paper of any kind for anybody but ourselves—and what benefit we can be to the community.

WHO IS GETTING IT?

THE most important prosperity problem for the small community is summed up in the Department of Agriculture's recent estimate that city and farm prices are so far out of line that the farmer's purchasing power is a fourth less than in 1913.

This situation vitally affects the small town, for the small town is the link that connects farm and city. When the exchange of products between farm and city is not balanced, the small town is caught in a nutcracker.

Since the farmer's buying power is a fourth less than it was before the war, the natural question is, "Who's getting more than his share?"

There are a number of answers, dovetailing into each other.

The greatest trouble is the defect in the system of distribution, by which the city man pays sky-high prices for products that the farmer literally sells for a song. The rake-off or profit to the average commission man is far too big. In the same class are those city retailers who overcharge. In many cases, the retailer is the victim of high rents.

The single-taxers pick up the argument at this point and insist that rent is what is keeping production and distribution costs so high. To some extent, correct.

As far as manufacturing industry is concerned—that is, the production of city-made products bought by the farmer—it, with relatively few exceptions, is handicapped by over-capitalization. There have been too many stock dividends and too much floating of watered stock. Thus, a business that used to make $12,000 a year profit, or 12 per cent on a capital of $100,000, now finds itself with $200,000 capital and is trying to earn the same old 12 per cent—which totals $24,000 on the new capitalization.

When price deflation is finished, some way will have to be found to deflate the over-capitalization of industry. The traffic can bear only so much, then it is bound to crack.

The farmer is between the devil and the deep sea. He not only is not getting enough for his products but he also is paying too much for what he has to buy. Like all big problems, it will be taken care of by time.

GIVE OLD FOWLS ATTENTION

Hens Intended to Be Sold Should Be Fattened and Placed on Market Soon as Possible.

Just now your greatest attention should be directed toward the care of the old hens. Those that you intend to keep over another year should be given a separate pen where you can give them additional care and a special ration to meet their requirements, but those you intend to sell should be fattened and placed on the market as soon as possible. It doesn't pay to waste time in the culling work.

Too Long Without Paint

Are You Insuring Against Depreciation

THERE'S no middle ground. Either your buildings are well protected by paint or they are going to require costly repairing or rebuilding within a few years.

Paint saves your property. It is an investment in long service—not an expense. The expense results from allowing buildings to rot. Paint now. Save repairs.

The next question is what paint to use. Use the best. It costs less in the long run. It spreads easily—saves labor cost. It covers more surface per gallon than "cheap" paint.

And the best paint will serve you five or more years longer than "cheap" paint.

Oiling Their "Shooting Iron" for Rum Hunting Off Atlantic Coast

THE United States coast guard cutter Seneca is said to be scheduled for a detail stopping hooch smuggling along the Atlantic coast. She carries some fairly heavy artillery, which the crew is to be seen here getting ready for use on her anti-rumrunning cruise. The picture was taken in the Washington navy yard, whither the Seneca was called after several months' iceberg patrol off the Grand Banks.

CATTLE TUBERCULOSIS IN U. S.

Map Made Showing Approximate Percentage of Animals Infected With Disease.

Tests of thousands of herds throughout the country have enabled the United States Department of Agriculture to make a map showing the approximate percentage of cattle in various states and counties infected with tuberculosis.

In nearly half the country, largely in the South and Southwest, it is shown that less than 1 per cent of the cattle have the disease. In other parts of the country the infection runs from 1 to 15 per cent, and in still other localities, aggregating more than 50,000 square miles, more than 25 per cent are believed to be tuberculous.

The figures are based on five years of systematic testing, and should prove of value in directing eradication work.

BEEF TOP SILAGE IN RATION

Hay Requirements May Be Lessened One-Half in Feeding for Beef, Mutton or Milk.

The best feeding practices have demonstrated that by the use of beet-top silage in the ration the hay requirements may be reduced by one-half in feeding for the production of beef, mutton, or milk. The succulent value of the silage supplements its actual feeding properties and that of forage and other feeds.

PLANT WALNUTS ON HIGHWAY

Minnesota Forester Receives 20,000 Trees for Distribution in Southern Minnesota.

Planting trees along Minnesota highways is well under way, following distribution of nearly 20,000 black walnuts, recently received by the state forestry department. The walnuts are to be planted along highways in the southern part of the state, according to W. T. Cox, state forester.

The plans of the forestry department have changed somewhat since the launching of the tree planting program, due to the fact that the demand for trees is greatly in excess of the available supply.

Classic Dancer Threatens Suit Against Millionaire

EVAN BURROWS FONTAINE, the classical dancer, is shown here.

Her beauty and grace have made her the admiration of New York theatergoers from her first appearance on the metropolitan stage.

More recently her name has been connected with reports of a suit threatened in her behalf against a son of one of the wealthiest and best known of America's great financial families. The charge of a broken matrimonial pledge is said to figure in this prospective litigation.
The name of the man against whom suit is understood to be contemplated, though not yet of court record, is freely mentioned in Broadway chat as synonymous with millions of money.

POULTRY

CLEAN EGGS ARE ESSENTIAL

Change of Nesting Material Whenever Dirty Will Help—Have Plenty Fresh Litter.

Poultrymen need not be at the nest to wipe Mrs. Biddy's feet before she enters to make her daily contribution to their profits, but if the hen house is so arranged that her feet will be clean and will not dirty the egg, it will mean added profit for him.

Dirty eggs are a second-rate product on any market; so are washed eggs.
This means that the egg must be produced clean, which further means clean nests and clean feet.

Clean nests are easy—comparatively. A change of nesting material whenever it gets dirty will do away with the danger of soiling from this source, and special care must be taken to see that the birds do not roost on the edge of the nests at night.

Keeping the birds' feet clean is a much more difficult proposition. First of all it is most essential to have a clean doormat in the shape of fresh litter and plenty of it on the floor at all times; secondly, do not let the birds out on muddy days when their feet are bound to get daubed up.

Most important of all, keep the dropping boards clean. Daily scrap-ings are preferable, but if a poultry man feels that he has not the time for this, they should be cleaned at least twice a week. A cage of one inch or one and one-half inch poultry wire tacked under the perches and over the dropping boards will prevent the birds from walking on the boards, and in-dentally will catch any eggs that are dropped in the night.

Even with this extra care, the poultryman must expect some dirty eggs, and a word of advice on how to clean them might be timely. The so-called plain dirties, those soiled by dirty feet and dirty nests, are easily cleaned with a soft, damp cloth, which should be used only on dirty spots. Be careful not to rub them dry, but to allow them to dry by standing in the air. It is very important that the gelatinous coating which seals the egg should not be soaked off, as this covering is germ-proof and serves as a natural means of keeping the eggs fresh.

Market.

MONEY FROM SUMMER FLOCKS

Seven Excellent Rules Suggested by Missouri College to Increase Profits on Eggs.

Here are seven rules suggested by the Missouri College of Agriculture that will increase the profits from the summer flock:

-Produce infertile eggs by removing the roosters from the flock in the summer time.

Provide clean nests and keep eggs clean.

Do not wash eggs.

Gather eggs twice daily during the summer to prevent them from being heated by the hen.

Keep them in a cool dry place, away from the flies.

Market them at least twice each week.

Insist that they be bought on a quality, graded basis.

POULTRY NOTES

Sell surplus cockerels as soon as marketable.

Keep growing chicks and laying hens separate throughout the summer.

Remember that little chickens do not require feeding until they are forty-eight hours old.

Some folks occasionally take the roosts down and wash them with boiling soap suds to kill all lice.

Give your hens careful attention during the molting season, and you will get many more eggs next winter.

Hens to be marketed are those that have a decidedly crooked breast-bone, scaly legs or long toe nails, or are "broken down" behind, or have abdomens that are fat and hard.

The boarder hen always jumps her board bill. Give her the crate.

Geese grow fast, and need no feed in the summer if they have a grassy run.

Filth causes more sickness than anything else. Clean up and keep things clean!

Laying hens and hens being fattened for market should not be kept in the same pen.

A cement floor is considered best for the permanent laying-house as it lasts a long time and is easily cleaned and keeps out rats.

The Key that Unlocks the Door to Long Living.

The men of eighty-five and ninety years of age are not the rotund, well-fed, but thin, spare men, who live on a slender diet. Be as careful as he will, however, a man past middle age will occasionally eat too much or of some article of food not suited to his constitution, causing indigestion or constipation, and will need a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets to move his bowels and invigorate his stomach. Hunter Carroll sent a copy of the Cherryville Eagle from North Carolina this week. It is a booster edition and a most creditable affair, loaded to the guards with advertising and booster articles. Hunter is in business at Cherryville and doing very well. He was associated with his brother in the garage here several years ago.

A double page advertisement recently cost a chewing gum manufacturer $11,000 for the one issue. To regain the mere investment he must sell 2,200,000 sticks of gum and a million people must chew gum for a day to pay for it. Every man, woman and child in the United States has heard the name of this particular kind of gum hundreds of times, yet the manufacturer continues to spend thousands of dollars in advertising. His methods refute the time-worn saying: "Everybody knows I am in business, so what's the use to advertise."

Mrs. Charles Chandler and daughter, Mary, left last Sunday for St. Maries, where they will make their home. Mr. Chandler has a position in the mills there. Mrs. Joday Long, who went to a Spokane sanatorium last week, stood the trip remarkably well and the latest reports are to the effect that she is getting along very well indeed. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Leonard Davis, who is at the same hospital, is gaining in strength. The doctors in charge have pronounced her case stomach trouble and they believe her recovery will be rapid.

He will have headquarters at Dayton, Wash., and will begin his duties there about the middle of this month. He is an excellent accountant and his services have been valuable to the bank here. His brother, who graduated from Whitman College last year, has a like position with the Standard Oil Co.

This seems to be the sales season in this locality. There is a big sale at Long's store, one at the Kendrick Store and one at Woller's Store at Cameron, all starting this week.

KILLS ANIMAL AFTER FIERCE STRUGGLE AS WOMAN LOOKS ON IN CABIN

One of the most sensational scenes ever shown on the screen is David Fielding's bare-handed fight with a wolf in "Shame," the William Fox special production at the New Kendrick Theatre, tonight and Saturday.

Fielding's wife has reached the Alaskan cabin where her husband and child are staying, and, as he carries her in, the wolf follows, snarling and leaps at the man's throat. He clutches for the beast's neck, misses, and forces his wrist into its mouth, holding the white fangs apart. Back and forth across the floor the struggle goes on. Now, for a moment, the man is on his feet, and then he is thrown by the writhing, clawing animal—but never losing his hold. Finally his free hand finds the throat of the wolf.

For a few moments, feeling the death grip in the strength of the man, the struggles of the wolf are redoubled, and the hold is almost broken. Then the beast begins to weaken, and at last gives up the fight.

It is a gripping, thrilling battle from the moment the wolf leaps at the man until the termination of the struggle, and forms a sensational incident in an enthralling story.

The Tremendous Dramatic Human Story

"SHAME"

A most remarkable picture, carrying you from Sunny Japan to the icy shores of Alaska and back to California. Don't miss the most sensational scene of a bare handed fight with a fierce, hunger-mad wolf—one of many gripping scenes.

Dear Mrs. Brown.

Mary—ponderous and slow—was scrubbing the kitchen floor, humming a lullaby melodious and soothing. Her mistress, disturbed by the slow progress of the work, happened to notice that Mary's arms moved in rhythm with the music. She therefore hit upon the happy idea of starting the phonograph the next time the floor was scrubbed, and on this occasion Mary's arms moved to the accompaniment of a lively tune.

THE MAGIC OF MUSIC DID ITS WORK

—the floor was finished in a little more than half the time and, more remarkable still, Mary was less tired than when she had to push herself to do the work. Everyone was the gainer.

This may strike you as humorous, yet it is decidedly practical. Music has magic power. It saves energy and increases efficiency. The result is the same no matter what other kind of physical labor you are engaged in. Your muscles unconsciously work faster and more smoothly.

Because of the Lack of Mental Effort There is Less Exhaustion

The world is beginning to sense the fact that music is needed wherever men and women work, whenever they rest and howsoever they may wish to enjoy their hours of relaxation.

A Brunswick in your home will make your work lighter and your play time brighter. Make up your mind right now—step to the phone and arrange with us for a demonstration in your living room this evening. Or call at our store tomorrow—absolutely no obligation involved in either case.

Very truly yours.
