Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

Speaking of spuds of various kinds and sizes, John Bromeling brought some to town the other day that would make any one sit up and take notice. They are what is known as "Pink Eye" and are a very pretty potato indeed. The one brought to the News office measured 5x7 1/2 inches and weighed 2 1/4 pounds.

Cecil Bumpass has a spud on exhibition in his shoe shop window that somewhat resembles an octopus, caused by a second growth. The big spud weighs four and three-quarter pounds—but it had to take two "grows" to accumulate that much weight.—Genesee News.

True it is that these are not very prosperous times for the country. Some think times are actually so hard that they can do better elsewhere. That is a mistake in most instances. Our advice to the people of this section who may have such notions is to get rid of them, stay on the job. Other sections are having their troubles too. This country is going to come back and those who stick will come back with it.—Deary Press.

The Christian church people of this place Monday deeded the Juliaetta church building to the East Washington and North Idaho Baptist Convention, and the Inland Christian Missionary Society pledges to the Christian Church people here $1000 in cash any time they desire to build a church in Juliaetta in the future. In the transfer the Christian church people at Ritzville, Wash. are given the use of the Baptist church there by the Inland Christian Missionary Society, which becomes owner of the Ritzville church property. The Juliaetta Baptist people will now have full use of the Christian church here in which they have been holding their services for some time past.—Juliaetta Record.

Two more farmers on the road to prosperity. Wednesday saw the placing of two imported Jersey cows on the O. S. Nelson farm and one with C. W. Thompson. These animals were purchased from Mr. Williamson of Moscow, who is doing a great deal towards bringing the farmers into their own by shipping in high grade stock and selling them at a fair price. People are realizing more and more that scrubs are only "boarders" and that it is the high grade stock that brings in the cash. We did not get the pedigree of the above animals but will have them for our next issue.—Troy News.

E. E. Bechtol, well known business man and cabinet maker of Kendrick, recently purchased the cabinet shop of H. O. Fields of this city, and will make the establishment one of the most progressive establishments of its kind in the Palouse district.

The deal was consummated October 15, at which time Mr. Bechtol took charge of the business. Mr. Bechtol has been located for the past eight years at Kendrick, being in a similar business there and comes to Moscow with a wide range of experience in cabinet making and all lines of interior wood work.

Mr. Bechtol has already begun an extensive remodeling and enlarging of his shop, and has ordered new pieces of machinery which will be installed in a short time. It is the plan of the new proprietor to install equipment such that furniture and cabinet work suitable for sale in the retail furniture market can be made. He will also continue to do any kind of piece work or special construction that Moscow residents or business men may desire, a stated that there was no work too delicate, nor work too large and rough for them to tackle.

Mr. Fields was forced to give up his business due to ill health. He will remain in Moscow, however, and will do contracting work. About four men will be employed steadily when the new equipment arrives and everything is running in good shape whereas but one man has been employed in the shop during the past several years.—Star-Mirror.

Celebrate Armistice Day

Plans are now being made to put on a big Armistice Day celebration in Kendrick, Saturday afternoon, November 11. A program is being arranged and it will probably consist of an address by a good speaker, music and other interesting features.

It is proposed to have a free matinee in the afternoon and in the evening a big bonfire and free lunch. The celebration will be for everyone in the surrounding country. It can be made a most enjoyable occasion if everyone enters into the spirit of the day. A more definite outline of the events of the day will be given in next week's issue. In the meantime, plan to be there.

More Building Activity

Building operations have been a large factor in the revival of business this year, as building expenditures enter into a great variety of industries and extend over the entire country. The West Coast Lumbermen's Association, which covers the western part of the states of Oregon and Washington, reports a production from January 1 to September 6 of 2,833,057,638 board feet, as compared with 1,633,051,237 in the corresponding period last year.

The F. W. Dodge Company, reporting building contracts in the 27 northeastern states for the first eight months of this year, says that the aggregate, $2,362,872,000, is not only the largest amount for the first eight months of any year on record, but is greater by $7,000,000 than the total for the entire year 1921. The outstanding feature of the Dodge report for the month of August is the increase in industrial plant construction, which amounted to 21 per cent of the month's total, which is a higher percentage for this era of construction than in any month since 1920.

Residential building still maintains the lead in August with $100,882,000 worth of contracts, or 31 per cent of the total. Public works and utilities amounted to $49,852,000, or 15 per cent; business buildings, $38,122,000, or 12 per cent; and educational buildings, $32,055,000, or 10 per cent.

Construction started in the Central West (Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Missouri and portions of eastern Kansas and Nebraska) during the first eight months of this year has amounted to $680,050,000, an increase of $36,000,000 over the total for the entire year 1921.

The great amount of house-building has stimulated the house-furnishing trades. Furniture, carpets, stoves, etc., are moving well. Prices are stronger in carpets and rugs.

The complaint from many industries of a shortage of labor, confirmed as it is by wage increases, shows that employment is now practically full, and that the earnings of labor in the town industries are such as to support a good volume of trade.

Notwithstanding the great expansion of capacity during and following the war, and the recent consolidations of steel companies, which are supposed to put restraint upon rival activities, enlargements are being planned. The Briar Hill Steel Company, of Youngstown, is contemplating expenditures aggregating $10,000,000. The Carnegie Steel Company has begun the construction of a by-product coke plant to cost $35,000,000.

Returns From Hunt

Claud Craig, Archie May, Bill Bond and Ernest Schmidt returned recently from an elk hunt in the upper Clearwater country. They went to Lowell and then followed the Selway river for several days, penetrating the heart of the Idaho big game country. Only one elk was bagged and it took 7 shots to kill it. Deer were plentiful but the party had their plans set for bigger game. Not enough time was allowed for the trip or the hunt would no doubt have been more successful. Weather conditions were ideal and a splendid trip is reported. The wonderful trout fishing in the Selway made up in a measure for the lack of elk.

Rev. D. L. Clarke and Rev. C. A. Pickering were Moscow visitors Saturday afternoon.

Lots of Jack-o-Lanterns For HALLOWE'EN

THIS little girl evidently is going to have a job on Halloween. She's coming in from the field in charge of a whole load of raw material for all the jack-o-lanterns she's likely to have time to make for the occasion when all the witches and goblins and other assorted kinds of spooks turn out and "make a night of it"—so legend says. The little girl doesn't look as if she were afraid of them a bit.

Death of H. M. Smith

H. M. Smith, a well known resident of Juliaetta, died Wednesday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, from injuries received a few hours previous, by a falling tree. He and his nephew, Jimmy Smith, were cutting wood on the A. G. Wilson place, several miles above Kendrick, Wednesday morning. As a tree which they were cutting, started to fall, Mr. Smith in attempting to get away, fell directly under it. The trunk of the tree fell across his chest, crushing him under its weight.

Jimmy tried to get up as soon as possible and his uncle crawled out from under it, but never regained consciousness afterward.

A phone call was sent from the Wilson home for Dr. Otteraaen, who arrived at the scene of the accident 27 minutes later. The injured man was rushed to Kendrick in the Doctor's car with the idea of sending him to a Lewiston hospital on the afternoon train, but he died in the auto a few minutes after arriving at the depot.

The body was taken to Juliaetta where funeral arrangements have been made for this afternoon.

H. M. Smith is survived by a wife, a married daughter, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Amos Nigh. He was a brother of "Doc" Smith of Linden who preceded him in death a few years ago. He was a man of fine character and well thought of in this community where he made his home for many years.

Honored on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Slind of Bear ridge were pleasantly surprised Friday night of last week by a number of friends and relatives, the occasion being the 40th anniversary of their wedding. The evening passed most delightfully and at 10:30 a most satisfying lunch was served. A feature of the refreshments was a beautiful center piece, used with 40 lighted candles. After extending hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Slind upon their reaching the 40th milestone of a happy married life, the guests departed about midnight, having spent a very pleasant evening.

T. A. Walters Spoke Here

T. A. Walters, of Caldwell, former attorney general of Idaho, spoke at the New Kendrick theater, Wednesday night. His talk was confined principally to state issues and he dealt largely in figures and facts showing the increase in taxes during the past four years under the Davis administration and the economic failure of the cabinet form of government in this state. He is a fluent speaker and held undivided attention of his audience.

Our Local Candidate

Next Tuesday the voters of this community will be given an opportunity to lay aside politics to the extent of casting a solid vote for George L. Carlson for assessor of Latah County. He is our local candidate and as such deserves the most hearty support we can give him. His ability to handle the office in a most efficient manner, is beyond question. The fact that he is an ex-ervice man is also deserving of consideration.

The following clipping comments quite favorably upon Mr. Carlson's candidacy:

Latah County would be fortunate if it could have for Assessor a man of the ability of this candidate. He has lived in Latah County for about twenty-two years, during which time he has farmed its soil with a marked degree of success and also managed a mercantile business in a satisfactory and profitable manner.

Mr. Carlson is still a young man, clean, capable and patriotic. When the World War broke he enlisted at once and went overseas with a flying squadron, where he remained until after the close. He served with young Roosevelt and assisted him just before he met his death. It is not often that the voters have an opportunity to vote for one so splendidly qualified to attend to the duties of this office, and, if elected, the voters will never have reason to regret having placed in the office of Assessor, one who has always made good, and can and will give a fine account of himself in this very important office.

Republicans Hold Rally

The republicans of this county opened their speaking campaign here last Saturday afternoon with a big rally at the New Kendrick Theater. Congressman Burton L. French and former Lieutenant Governor Herman Taylor were the principal speakers. A good sized crowd attended the meeting.

Mr. French, who is a most popular speaker, especially in this, his old home community, talked on national topics. Mr. Taylor confined his speech principally to state issues. E. W. Lutz, republican precinct committeeman, presided at the meeting.

Oversmith Will Speak

It is reported that A. H. Oversmith, prominent attorney of Moscow, will speak in Kendrick, Monday, November 6, on political issues of the day. He is making a tour of the county campaigning for the republican party.

The residence of W. C. Johns in Juliaetta was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon.

Nigh-Snyder

Miss Edith Nigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Nigh of Juliaetta, was married Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 to Mr. Raymond Snyder of Kendrick. The ceremony took place at the Methodist church at Lewiston in the presence of a few friends and relatives, Rev. Mark Pike officiating.

After a brief honeymoon the young couple will make their home here, where they have a large circle of good friends. Mr. Snyder is a popular clerk at the Kendrick Hardware where he has been employed for several years.

A Moonshine Row

Andrew Dickenson is in the Latah county jail charged with the manufacture of intoxicating liquor and John Engberg is still in a partially dazed condition with unrecognizable features as a result of a battle with Dickenson Sunday night, three miles from Deary, says the Star-Mirror.

Sheriff John L. Woody and Prosecuting Attorney John Nisbit were called to Deary late Sunday afternoon by report of a murder. Dickenson, with Engberg unconscious, beaten up beyond recognition and under the belief that he had killed him, told neighbors to call the sheriff.

Sheriff Woody and Mr. Nisbit rushed to the Engberg farm of 40 acres, three miles out of Deary, and found both men under the influence of liquor and Engberg in a dazed condition. Dickenson was placed under arrest and the place was searched for liquor. A quantity of mash was taken, and this morning on a second search a complete still was unearthed by the officers.

Dickenson and Engberg quarreled Sunday afternoon. Engberg said that he had protested against Dickenson making liquor on the place and that Dickenson had proceeded to beat him up. The house looked as though it had been hit by a cyclone when the officers arrived. Dickenson used his fists and anything he could reach in the battle, and Engberg apparently retaliated. Dickenson, however, inflicted severe punishment upon his opponent in the battle with no holds or blows barred.

Dishes, furniture and all loose throwable materials were used in the battle. Practically every window in the house was broken from the conflict by flying missiles. Dickenson emerged from the conflict with a pair of puffed and bleeding hands and one or two scratches on his face.

Engberg's face was beaten beyond recognition and he was unconscious for so long that Dickenson believed that he had been killed. Dickenson went to neighbors with instructions to call the sheriff preparatory to giving himself up.

Dickenson was renting the Engberg 40 acres. Engberg is employed by the Potlatch Lumber company as a blacksmith in one of their camps. Dickenson was arrested on Sunday night and held in the Latah county jail. The Engberg place was searched again Monday and the complete still discovered. Dickenson was brought to the Latah county jail Monday morning.

Maier Sues on Land

Chris Maier has filed suit against Henry Uklenkott, Aloyse Walter and his wife, Louise Walter, alleging that he as defrauded in an exchange of property between him and Uklenkott, and now held by Maier, being covered by a mortgage held by Mr. and Mrs. Walters, says the Tribune.

Maier, so the complaint sets forth, swapped approximately 232 acres near Southwick for what to him was represented to be 172 acres in the vicinity of Lewiston, but which later turned out to be only 135 acres. He at the time assumed $9,000 of a $16,500 mortgage held by the Walters, and paid upon that the amount of $4,500.

He asks the cancellation of the trade and damages to cover his loss through the deficient acreage, the payments made and other expenditures made by him amounting to $7,500.

More Equitable Adjustment

Those of us who live in the cities must consider a more equitable adjustment of farm earnings. That is an unsolved problem that needs study by bankers and business men.

"We do not need any boom, nor do we need to expect any extravagant returns, but good times seem assured." Never was such an opportunity offered for public officials to make a reputation for business administration in public affairs.

Supposing that a governor decided to make a record for himself from the standpoint of efficiency and economy. Supposing he could consider state affairs in the same light as private business with an eye to making various state departments money makers for the general fund or as nearly self supporting as possible. Supposing such a governor would spend a year or two personally in checking up departments that might be consolidated, numerous department heads that might be eliminated under consolidated departments, savings that might be made by weeding out dead timber that accumulates in any large organization whether private or public, and putting the whole state organization on a strictly business basis.

No one but the governor of a state is in such an ideal position to bring about improved administration in state affairs. The governor who would devote his term of office to applying business principles in state activities would make a name for himself that would give him any higher office in the power of the people to grant. We need leaders in public office, men who appreciate the honor of their position and who are not afraid to direct the people along sound lines. With such a policy in state affairs we would see the same condition reflected in the smaller political units. We have many good public officials who could carry such a policy into effect if they could tear themselves away from the idea that every move they make must be for political expediency for the purpose of securing votes, rather than as a matter of business to save the taxpayers money.

TO THE VOTERS:

Look up the record and the ability of the candidates for Clerk, Auditor and Recorder of Latah County and the voter will undoubtedly learn that Harry A. Thatcher, republican, possesses the best qualifications of the two men.—Advertisement.

In looking over the past records of county officials it is a noteworthy fact that County Attorney John Nisbet and Sheriff John L. Woody have excellent team work in matters pertaining to their official duties, which are closely connected in the matter of preserving the peace and ridding the community of criminals and undesirable characters.

During their term of office there has been paid into the county treasury $13,668.18 in fines as compared to $3,133.30 during the previous four years. They also have a high priced car taken from a Spokane bootlegger. Fifteen men have been sent to the penitentiary for felonies, five men to the asylum as drug addicts. Every automobile stolen in this county has been recovered.

Whatever else may be said of County Commissioner Columbus Clark we believe his work as a county official has been done with the view of serving the people as a whole and giving the county the best service of which he is capable. Of course no public official escapes criticism from some source no matter how well he may perform his official duties, but this should not and seldom does work to the disadvantage of faithful and capable public servants.—Advertisement.

BLACK MAGIC

ELECTRICITY, generated at Niagara Falls, eventually will be sent through the air by wireless to cities and farms hundreds of miles away.

This is predicted by Dr. E. F. W. Alexanderson, chief engineer of the Radio Corporation.

The possibilities of such a development are amazing.

Fuel experts are beginning to agree that the solution of the coal problem is to burn the coal at the mines, using the heat to produce steam, which in turn would operate engines attached to huge dynamos. The electric current, thus generated, would be sent to far-off points to furnish light, heat and power for a country on an electric basis. It would save costly transportation in coal cars.

Scientists are working out methods by which high-tension current can be sent great distances. It is not improbable that the transmission will be by radio before the perfection of devices for sending the current through wires. At present a high-tension current can be sent only a limited distance, though Steinmetz in recent months has sent a terrifically powerful current 1000 miles, experimentally.

Picture the future, with the farm and home equipped with switches which, turned on, would pluck out of the air the heat, light and power sent by radio from 1000 or more miles away.

In the old days, that would have been called witchcraft, Black Magic. Yet, today, it sounds plausible, even probable. The old-time alchemists and witches, in their wildest dreams, never imagined anything a tenth as wonderful as the actual scientific accomplishments of the generation in which we live.

SOY BEANS TAKE PLACE OF OATS

Production of Seed During Past Few Years in Corn Belt Has Become Profitable.

SEEKING COMMERCIAL OUTLET

Possibilities of Utilizing Crop for Oil and Meal Had Much to Do With Increased Acreage—Grower Afforded Cash Crop.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The soy bean is rapidly taking a place as a major crop in the farming systems of the corn belt, replacing oats to a considerable extent and taking part of the corn acreage. Although primarily used for forage, pasture and ensilage, the growing of seed during the last few years has been a very profitable industry. The production of seed has now increased to the point where the supply greatly exceeds the demands for planting.

Seek Commercial Outlet. County soy-bean associations, growers, county agents and extension officials, notably in Illinois and Indiana, have concerned themselves in the development of a commercial outlet of the seed. As a result, the production of oil and meal from corn belt grown soy beans seems to be definitely assured for the season of 1922. Several mills in Indiana and Illinois have become interested in the possibilities of the soy bean as source of oil and meal. Two mills in Illinois have planned to use about 750,000 bushels this season, while other mills are planning on a smaller scale.

Although definite figures are not available on the acreage of soy beans in the various states, reports to the United States Department of Agriculture indicate very large increases in acreage for seed production and forage purposes throughout the northern and corn belt states. The possibilities of utilizing domestic grown beans for oil and meal no doubt had much to do

Ready Market Indicated.
The various ways in which the soy bean and its products are utilized in the United States indicate a ready market for the commercial production of soy-bean seed. Soy-bean oil is largely used in the manufacture of soaps and paints, and it is also used in the manufacture of lard and butter substitutes, rubber substitutes, linoleum, printing ink, and as a salad oil.
The cake or meal is a superior cattle

HOGGING OFF CORN AND PEAS

Mixture Makes Reasonably Good Balanced Ration and Animals Thrive Well on It.

In hogging off corn and cowpeas,
the pigs and hogs eat the beans only, and not the vines and foliage. This legume seed is relatively high in protein, balancing the starchy corn. The mixture makes a reasonably good balanced ration; the hogs grow on it and gain in both flesh and fat; and there is more of the mixed feed than with corn alone.

Save Repairs Paint Now

It Costs More to Rot a Building
Than to Paint It

A GOOD way to determine how much it costs to rot a building is to find out how much lumber, needed to repair or rebuild, would cost.

You'll find that it costs several times as much as the paint which saves repairs. Paint your buildings when they need it. Rotting property is wasteful and extravagant.

The most economical paint, in the long run, is the best paint. It's easy to apply—saves labor cost. It covers more area per gallon than "cheap" paint.

The best paint serves five or more years longer than "cheap" paint.

The best paint is economical because it is scientific in formula and preparation. It is right.

We've made best paints for 73 years—to meet the weather conditions in the West. They contain the finest materials—PIONEER WHITE LEAD, pure linseed oil, pure zinc, and pure colors—combined in scientifically exact proportions with long-time skill.

SPREAD OF FLAG SMUT OF WHEAT

Area in Which Infected Fields Have Been Found Has Increased 700 Square Miles.

GROW RESISTANT VARIETIES

Spores of Disease Are Carried From Field to Field—Farmers in Infested Area Are Urged to Consult County Agent.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Although there have been no serious commercial losses in this country resulting from the spread of flag smut of wheat in the region adjacent to St. Louis in Illinois and Missouri, the area in which infected fields have been found has increased since 1921 from 72 to about 700 square miles, and the United States Department of Agricul-

Flag Smut of Wheat—Smuted Plant is Stunted—Compared With Healthy Plant.

ture believes that attempts at eradication are likely to fail and that, in order to check the spread of this disease, attention should be given to the growing of varieties immune or highly resistant to the disease. In Australia, where conditions are similar to those in some parts of this country, fields sometimes show losses as high as 20 per cent and the infection in general is like that of bunt or stinking smut in our own wheat-growing regions. In two states where this smut has been found parts of fields have shown losses as high as 20 per cent, but it is doubtful if field losses there have ever been as much as 5 per cent of the crop.

Highly Resistant Varieties.

A number of varieties of wheat grown in this area have been found not to take the disease at all, or to be highly resistant to it. Of the soft red winter wheats, Red Rock, Stoner or Marvellous, Fulcaster, Mammoth Red and Dietz are in this class. Of the hard red winter wheats, Illinois 10-110, Kanred, Illinois 12-41, and P-1068, are highly resistant, if not immune. Numerous other strains and varieties have shown high resistance, but some varieties that have been very popular in this district have been found to take flag smut infection very readily.

Wind Carries Spores.

Investigations indicate the probability that the spores of the disease are carried by the wind from field to field, and for this reason it is doubtful if any quarantine measures can be effective in preventing its spread. There is strong indication that the growing of resistant varieties is the least expensive and most dependable method of preventing loss. Crop rotation also will help to keep the disease under control, for, unless a variety is completely resistant, growing wheat after wheat will increase the infection in a field.

Farmers within or near the infested area are urged to consult with their county agents or state experiment station and arrange to get supplies of these recommended varieties for sowing this fall.

RAPE IS IDEAL FOR PASTURE

Found Especially Valuable in North Dakota Because It Is Not Injured
by Frost.

In North Dakota they have found that an ideal fall pasture can be provided by sowing two or three pounds of rape seed per acre in the corn at the last cultivation. If the corn is to be hogged off, rape will furnish an ideal pasture for the fall season. It is especially valuable because it is not injured by light frosts. In fact, it has been found good for forage purposes until time of severe freezing.

PORTABLE HOUSES ARE BEST

Make It Possible to Keep Young Growing Fowls on Fresh, Uncontaminated Land.

On a recent visit to a large practical poultry farm, it was observed that good use was being made of a number of portable poultry houses. These were of good size and were on runners made of heavy joists. The runners were braced against each other, so that a horse could be hitched to the front and the house hauled anywhere. This made it possible to keep the young growing birds on fresh, uncontaminated sod, which was always sending up a good lot of fresh grass.

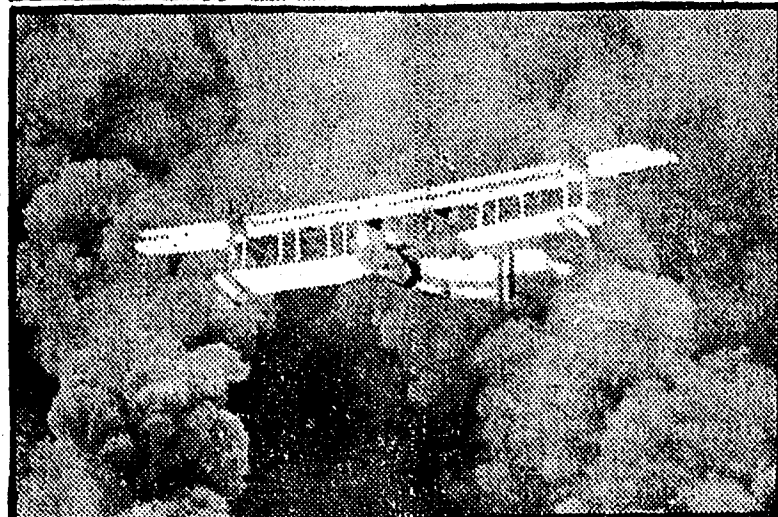

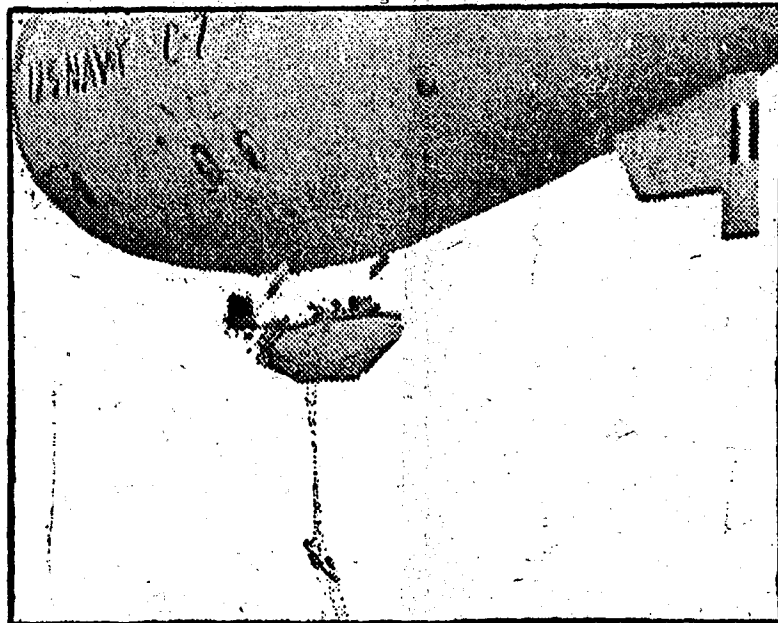

When the movable houses were pulled away from each place where they had been for a few weeks, the rains soon washed the droppings into the soil. This nourished the grass and improved the land. In no case was the sod eaten down till the ground was bare.

For small chicks the same plant used small coops on two wheels that could easily be pushed from place to place by hand. In this way they never were troubled with gapes or contaminated soil.

HOW NOT TO TAKE COLD

Some Persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid over heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, avoid over eating, becoming over heated and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over. —Adv.

What Aviators Are Doing Over Land and Sea

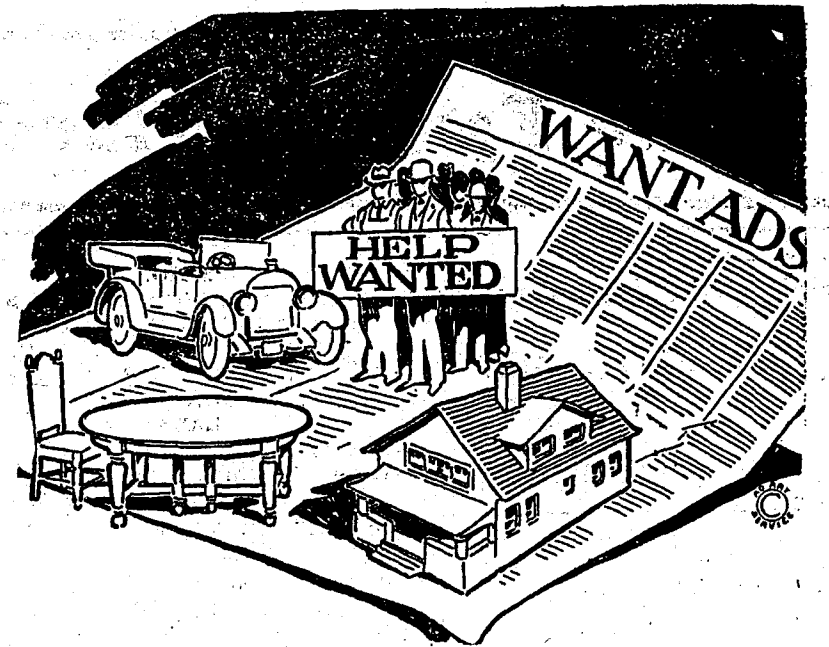

It takes time to dock a big airship, just as it does to dock a big ship of the sea. When a great water-borne vessel wants to drop her pilot or take on a man or two, she doesn't maneuver her vast bulk up alongside a wharf. She simply stows up a bit, perhaps barely stops, casts a Jacob's ladder overboard, makes the necessary transfer in a minute or two, and away she goes. Uncle Sam's dirigibles are changing crews now in the same way. One is shown here making a shift in just this fashion, in the air. Below is a photograph of a navy bombing plane flying over the smoke screen spread by destroyers of the United States Pacific fleet.

In vain the sign boards glisten with warnings wide and high, for men won't "stop, look, and listen" and consequently die. Each day we order caskets for men killed by trains; the coroners with baskets pick up the strewn remains. It ought to be a warning, and yet alas, alack—the prudent sign boards scorning, we cross the railroad track; and now an engine busy comes whooping up the rails, and hits our priceless Lizzie and thru the air she sails. A sparkplug and a piston is all that's left of Liz, but we will not look or listen as merrily we whiz. While the coroner is keeping his tab on our remains our stricken aunts are weeping and cursing railroad trains.—Walt Mason.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION

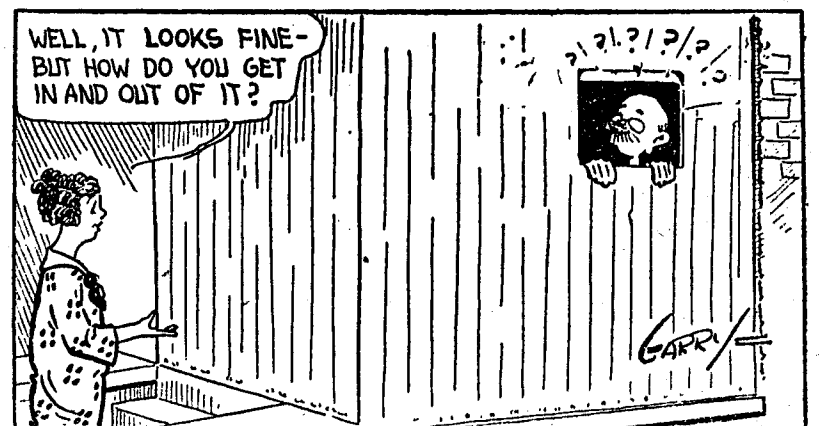

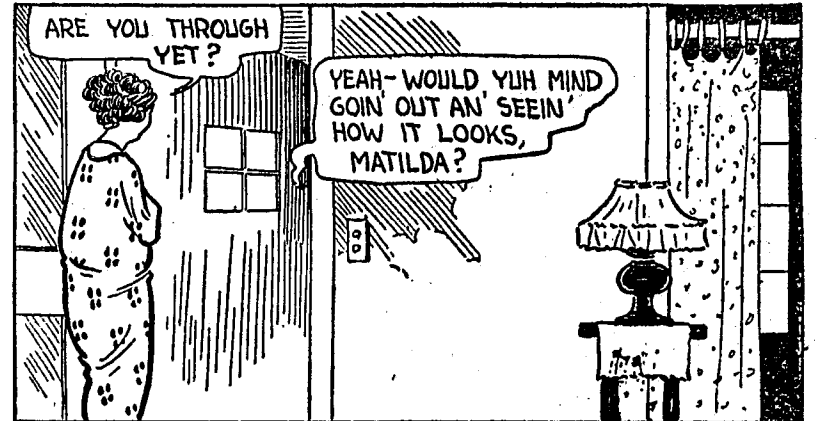

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the first indication of a cold appears and before it has become settled in the system. There is no danger in giving it to children as it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

George Holbrook had a narrow escape last week while driving his Ford down Hubbard gulch. The hub broke, which put his brakes out of commission, and he started down the grade on high at a pretty fast clip. There was but one thing to do—bank the car—which he did. It rolled over several times, throwing Mr. Holbrook from under it. He escaped with but a few minor bruises and the Ford was damaged only to the extent of a smashed top and broken windshield.

He flourished his long whip and very deftly snapped off the lizard's head. Further along the road with skillful precision he picked a horsefly off the fence with the same weapon. His skill as a marksman was next exhibited on a chipmunk that showed its head above the ground. The white man with him said: "Sam, take a crack at that," pointed to a hornets nest. Sam grinned and replied: "No, suh, no, suh, boss; them fellahs is awganized."

H. J. Alexander, president of the First National Bank of Denver, upon returning from the convention of the American Banker's Association in New York where nearly 12,000 of the country's bankers assembled, says "that optimism and confidence in returning prosperity were reflected in all the public and informal sessions. "That optimism was infectious," said Mr. Alexander, "and brought quite a lot of it home with me. Nationwide prosperity is swamping the railroads of the country with freight offerings, and I find much to inspire confidence in good times during the next three years."
