

LATAH COUNTY NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

Satisfactory progress is being made on the Moscow Bovill state highway in this district east of Deary. The right-of-way has all been cleared and the first half mile of the road will practically be completed today by the grading crew. Up to this time most of the work has consisted of putting bridges and clearing the right-of-way. The open weather will enable the workmen to keep things going in good shape and it is thought that the road can be made available for use as a sled road this winter.

Highway District No. 4 has started work on the Helmer end of the road, to connect just west of that point with this district's operations. District 4 has already completed the road from Helmer to Bovill. By next year District 3 hopes to be able to commence work on the state highway west of Deary, to join the eastern end in the Troy district at Dry Creek.

The right-of-way for the road in this district has been somewhat costly, but in the main the owners of the land crossed by the road did not receive excessive amounts when all is considered. The individual damage in some cases was considerable. Practically the whole map as regards roads will be changed on this five mile strip and some of the land owners will have to make expensive readjustments. However, it is admitted that the road is being put where it belongs. It will become a permanent highway and one of the finest and most useful thoroughfares in Latah county.

In spite of numerous complaints of one kind and another it must be admitted that since the organization of the highway districts this part of Latah county is getting a lot of good roads, which would not have been the case had matters been left as they were before. We have built for ourselves more and better roads during the past four years than all the boards of county commissioners for the previous 30 years had built for us, or would have built for us in the next 30 years, as things had been going. Maybe the board did pay stiff prices for some of the rights-of-way, but no doubt the same strips would have cost more ten or even five years hence, and the country is getting the roads now at the time they are vitally needed to aid development.

The beavers in the mill ditch in the city park are again causing trouble. The animals have constructed seven dams in the mill race in the lower end of the park, and despite the work of Street Commissioner Frank Taylor to destroy the dams, the busy little creatures get busy at night and rebuild them. They had dammed the ditch so effectively that the water had been turned from its channel and spread over the road near the culvert in the lower end of the park. Mr. Taylor says that they have placed rocks on one of the dams that he thinks will easily weigh 20 pounds, and how the little animals get them there he can't understand. Mr. Taylor has turned the water out of the mill ditch at the head gate in the hope that the animals will move their location. The only way to get rid of them, it seems, is to capture them, and a permit to do so has been applied for from the game department and it is expected that they will be trapped later. They have been doing considerable damage in the park for the past two or three years.—Juliaetta Record.

Residents of Troy are enjoying radio concerts this week. A. V. Dunkle has brought his receiving outfit from Kendrick, while engaged in his line of work in the village, and the same is installed at the Troy Telephone office. Quite a number gather at the office each evening to get in on the entertainment. Reports have been received from Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle, Spokane, Denver and Toledo. We understand Mr. Solberg is figuring pretty strong on getting a outfit of his own.

Ship Ton of Poultry

Poultry shipments from Kendrick have been heavier than usual this fall. Nearly every train that left Kendrick during the past week took from one to half a dozen crates of live poultry. The first of the week N. B. Long & Sons shipped a ton of dressed poultry and it was an exceptionally fine shipment, consisting of turkeys, ducks, geese and chickens. Ernest Schmidt of Leland shipped 175 dressed turkeys to the Spokane market.

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Events of Interest to School Patrons.

Regular practice for the high school play, "All On Account of Polly," to be given just before Christmas, began Monday, under the direction of Miss Whitney and Prof. Daniel. The cast is as follows: Ralph Beverly Oscar Raby Polly's guardian.
Baldwin, Merit Smith His son.
Peter Hartleigh, Arthur Pickering Prospective son-in-law.
Silas Young George Brocke A Money Lender.

Mrs. Clarence Chadheld, A climber, Beulah Long Marie, Elsie Bird A maid, Miss Rimbrandt, Violetta Riley A manicurist.
Miss Bushnell, Artylee Hollada A hair dresser.
Poudgy, Dorothy Erickson Tommy's sister.

Examinations are being taken by the high school students as this week ends the second six weeks of school.

Melvin Murphy and Glen Jones enrolled in the third grade Monday.

The balcony built in the gymnasium by the manual training boys is a structure which shows their ingenuity and constructive ability. It was well tested out by the large crowd which it accommodated last Friday evening, and was found to be a very great improvement over the old plan of the crowd occupying a large portion of the floor space. Several of the business men have asked that another such structure be built along the west side.

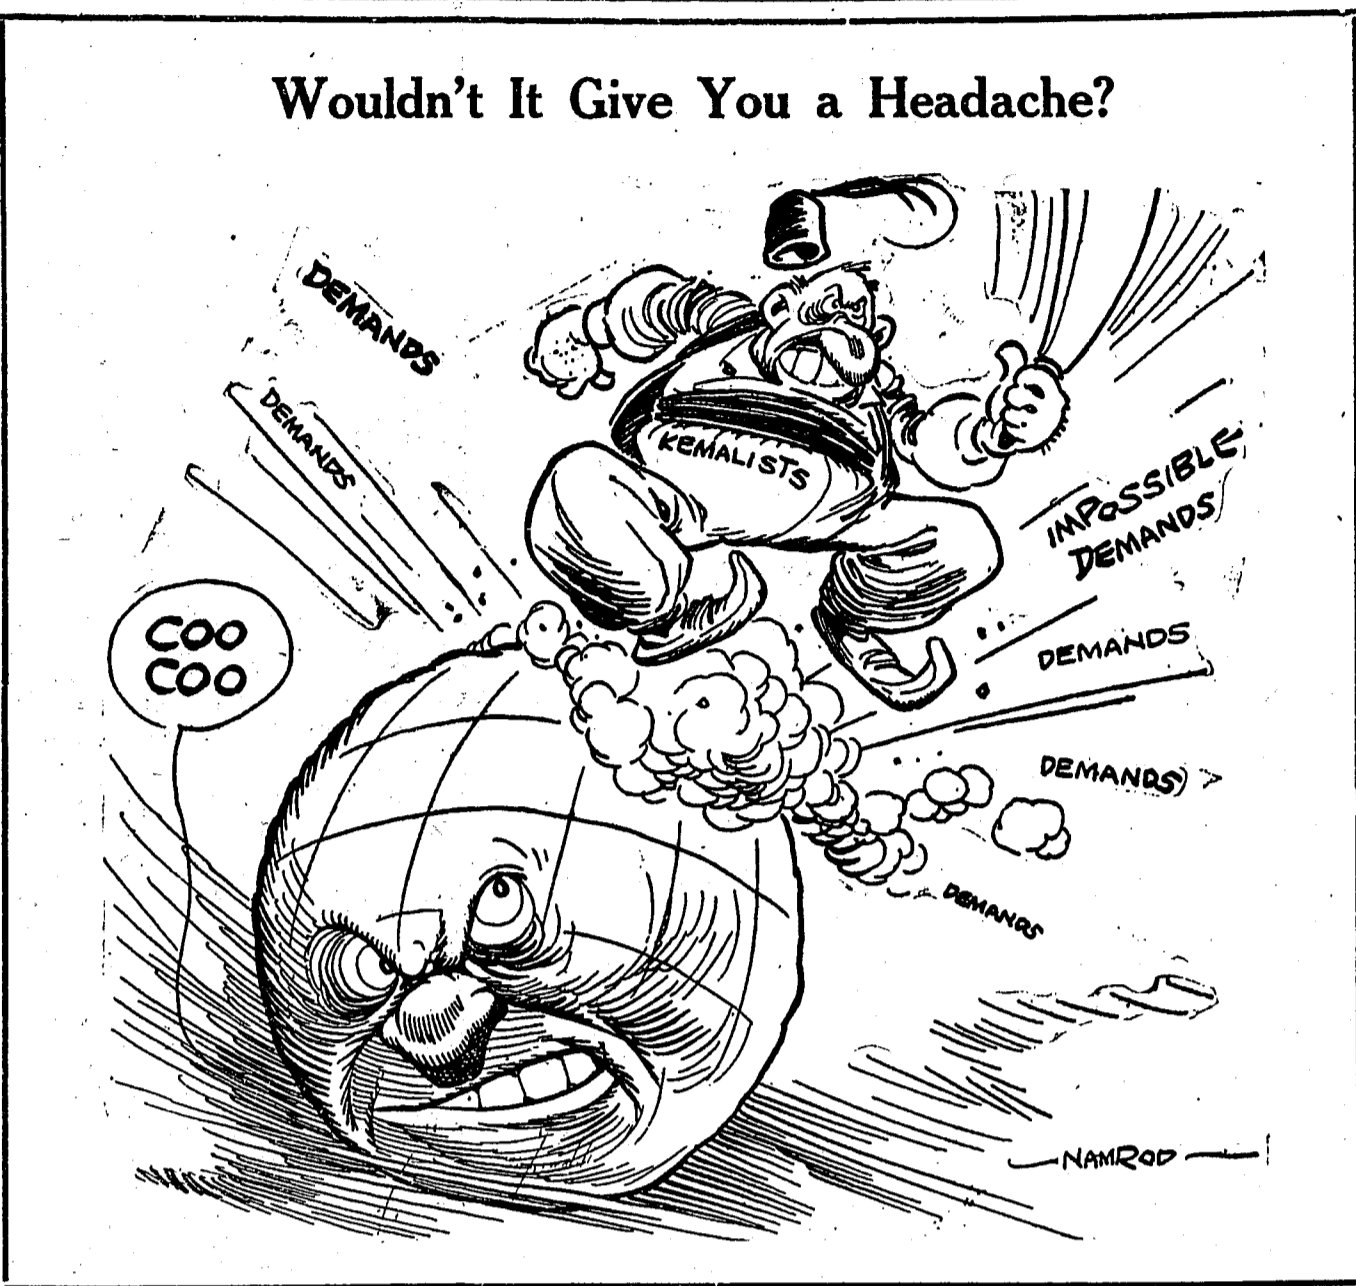

The following students of the seventh and eighth grades got above 90 in their six weeks examinations taken in geography: Pearl Johnson, Muriel Onstott, Ellis Carlisle, Shirley Clem, Maude Compton and Wilson Rogers.

Hupp-Galloway

Miss Adeline Hupp and Mr. Hiram Galloway, two popular young people of this community, were married at Moscow last Saturday afternoon. The following account of the wedding appeared in the Daily Star-Mirror:

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, when Miss Adeline Hupp became the bride of Hiram Galloway, Dr. H. O. Perry officiating.

The bride is a popular young lady of Kendrick, daughter of Mrs. Florence Hupp, a pioneer of that place. The family resided in Moscow for some time, while Miss Hupp was a student in the university. She is an accomplished young lady, a member and a zealous worker in church circles. The groom is a prominent young farmer and after a two weeks' honeymoon at Cœur d'Alene and Spokane, they will be at home on the groom's farm near Kendrick.

KENDRICK HIGH LOST AND WON

Girls Defeated 22 to 17—Boys Win by 9 Points.

A very large and enthusiastic crowd attended the games between Troy and our home teams last Friday evening. The game was a double header, the girls playing first. The line up for Kendrick was as follows: Forwards, Dorothy Stanton, Elsie Bird; center, Nora Cox; guards, Dorothy Jones and Ida Morey. Audrey Stanton substituted part of the second half in place of Ida Morey.

Both teams played a good game, the score at the end of the second half being 17 to 22 in favor of Troy. This game showed that with practice and the attainment of speed, our girls team will equal if not excel Troy's team. The girls had only practiced a little over a week, and these practices had been interfered with by other school activities.

Parent-Teachers Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Parent-teachers at the Methodist church at 7:30 Wednesday evening, December 6. A program has been arranged and refreshments will be served. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

Will Install Planer

George Barnum purchased the stock of lumber at the old Sturdevant lumber yard, recently. The lumber was in the rough. Mr. Barnum went to Troy, Wednesday, after a larger planer and expects to surface all of his lumber and get it in marketable condition. He stated this week that anyone who wishes to get shavings to use for bedding for stock, may have all they want free of charge.

North Idaho Meeting

The annual meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce will be held in Lewiston, December 11 and 12. The speakers before the sessions will be the legislators-elect from the ten north Idaho counties. It is not the purpose of the chamber to bring the legislators together for any special purpose but it is believed that a better understanding of the north Idaho problems can be secured from such a conference and recommendations have been made by the program committee that the speakers bring before the general meeting the matters that are of special interest to their respective counties.

The regular business of the North Idaho chamber will be transacted, officers will be elected and reports from committees named at the Wallace meeting in June will be rendered. One of these committees is engaged in gathering data from the several counties, the purpose being to prepare and circulate a booklet confined entirely to the north Idaho counties and the opportunities offered prospective home-seekers.

It is expected every city, village and commercial organization in north Idaho will be represented at the Lewiston meeting.

Potlatch Highway Election

There were 15 votes cast at the Potlatch Highway District election at Leland last Tuesday. Charles Hill, Archie May and J. M. Woodward were elected to serve as commissioners for the ensuing term. Following is a list of the candidates and the votes each received: Charles Hill, 134; Archie May, 80; J. M. Woodward, 76; Carl Hartung, 74; George Ehlers, 64; Enoch Harrison, 1; Jos. Tschantz, 1.

Circle Card Club Party

The Circle Card Club was very enjoyably entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kite, Tuesday evening. Some interesting hands of "500" were played during the evening and when the final score was counted Theo Hanson was awarded the prize. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

ROAD BUILDING MAY TAKE BIG BOOM

Is Now Up to Highway and County Commissioners

While the contract has not yet been signed, the Kendrick Highway Commissioners have decided to give Campbell & Barr the contract of crushing the rock and putting it on the road between the Bear creek bridge north of Kendrick and the mouth of Wandcheer gulch; also on the two mile stretch between the town limits and Hamil Hill, which is about half way to Juliaetta and is the boundary of the Kendrick highway district.

The day that this contract is let will be a red letter day in the history of the Potlatch. It will be the beginning of permanent trunk line road building, which is the start for better roads all through the Potlatch country. G. F. Walker, local highway commissioner, stated Wednesday that the contract would probably be let before the end of this week. A very reasonable bid has been received from Campbell & Barr, the same firm that is doing a most satisfactory job surfacing the streets of Kendrick.

Plans now outlined by the highway commissioners are to begin spreading rock north of town as soon as the street work here is finished, which will probably be before the middle of December. The road bed on this stretch will be ready for the crushed rock by that time. It is planned to make a 16 foot wide rock surface on this mile of road. When this has been finished, providing weather conditions are favorable, work will be started on the two mile strip below town.

It is understood that the Latah county commissioners will consider the proposition of finishing the remaining two miles from the Hamil Hill to the town limits of Juliaetta, at their next meeting December 4. The feasibility of pushing this road down the Potlatch as far as the Nez Perce county line is so apparent, that any money appropriated for its construction would certainly be considered well spent. Lewiston has repeatedly guaranteed to meet this road at the county line with a highway from Arrow Junction, which would mean a surfaced road down Potlatch canyon all the way into Lewiston. It would put the Potlatch country on the map as it should be.

We hope to be able to announce in

DIVERSIFIED FARMING SAYS DEAN IDDINGS

Crop Rotation Methods Must be Followed

Dean E. J. Iddings, of the college of agriculture at the University of Idaho, who arrived at home Thursday night from a ten days' trip through southeastern Idaho, came back more than ever convinced that diversified farming, including a rotation of crops, and the raising of some livestock, is essential if Idaho farmers are to prosper as they should in the future, says the Star-Mirror. The dean has long been a disciple of diversified farming, and has grown stronger in his belief as a result of conditions in the farming districts in all parts of the state the past two years.

Dean Iddings accompanied the moveable schools to a number of points on the upper Snake, and also visited the substations in south Idaho and consulted with the extension workers, farm agent leaders and farm agents.

The potato situation has proven a handicap to many farmer, in the southeastern part of the state, Dean Iddings stated. An enormous crop has been grown all over the country, and this, coupled with the car situation, has made it impossible to market much of the Idaho crop at a profit. Some potatoes have been shipped at a fair figure and some farmers have picked out the bakers, and disposed of them at a good price. Many, however, have not been able to get a market that would justify handling the crop, and as a result there are many acres of potatoes still in the ground. The indications are, the dean said, that the acreage of potatoes next season will be much smaller than this, throughout southern Idaho.

The livestock situation, generally speaking, is much improved, Dean Iddings stated. The buying power of the sheep men's dollar is now greater than before the war. The beef cattle condition has improved in the past few months and poultry and dairy products continue to sell at a reasonably satisfactory price, bringing the farmer a better profit, on an average, than any other products.

The upward tendency in the wheat market has been a benefit to some, especially in districts where the land values are comparatively low and where there is moisture to grow a fair crop, such as in the Teton basin region.

The farmers, Dean Iddings says, are continually looking with more favor upon a real diversified farming program which will include the growing of a variety of crops, proper rotation, and also the raising of some livestock, the principal crop in the various sections depending upon the adaptability of the region.

Another prominent factor in many of the agricultural districts, according to the dean, is the failure of farmers to produce the greater part of their living on the farm, such as poultry and dairy products, pork, vegetables, etc. Some 20 years ago it was characteristic of the western farmer not to grow any of the so-called stuff, but to farm only in a big way and to buy everything for his table, most of it at that time being shipped in from the east. There is still too much of that practice, Dean Iddings states, farmers paying out cash to someone else for supplies which they could grow successfully on their own farm, and thus effect a great saving.

On the whole, Dean Iddings states, there is a general tendency toward methods of farming which will mean more certain prosperity throughout the state.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the winter is over and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon

Much Attention Is Given to Fertilizing Soil for Grain Crops—Grass Is Neglected.

Why is it that pastures are overworked and neglected? More attention is now given to fertilizing ground for grain crops than ever before, but not much attention is given to pastures. Those who have areas which they wish to keep in grass may help matters very materially by applying ground limestone to these lands.

STORAGE CELLAR MOST ESSENTIAL

Growers of Fruits and Vegetables Lose Money Every Year by Selling Crops Early.

SELLS ON FLOODED MARKET

Produce Can Be Kept in Concrete Room for Long Period Without Loss Due to Decay or Sprouting—Materials Needed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Fruit and vegetable growers are deprived of millions of dollars each year because they are forced to sell their products as soon as harvested. Products sold on a flooded market mean low prices and sometimes a loss, but this is what the producer must expect when he sells during an over-production period. Unless he has storage facilities in which to hold his vegetables or fruit until the prices rise, he must sell or lose out entirely.

The rise in prices during the storage period is very strongly marked. For instance, a table showing the eight-year average price for potatoes in the United States indicates that in March, April and May they were 38 cents a bushel more than in November and December.

Benefits of Cellar.

A good storage cellar also makes it possible to keep vegetables and fruit longer for home consumption. Vegetables that must be stored in the ordinary cellar soon decay and in the spring when the temperature rises vegetables that have not decayed will sprout, which decreases their food value and makes them unfit for market. Fruits and vegetables can be stored in concrete storage cellars for a long period without any loss or depreciation due to decay or sprouting.

It is best to build the storage cellar on a north slope and have the entrance facing north. Double doors enclosing a small vestibule are desirable, as they permit filling and emptying the cellar with the admission of a minimum of warm air.

Storage cellar walls made of dense concrete will keep out the excess moisture of the earth while water held in sumps at the base of the intake ventilators will give air entering the storage cellar the proper amount of moisture.

Reinforce the Roof.

The roof must be reinforced lengthwise with one-half inch steel bars placed two feet apart, center to center, running the full length of the structure. Five-eighths square bars five inches from center to center should be placed crosswise. These steel bars should be embedded in the concrete 1 1/4 inches from the bottom of the roof slab. The walls of the storage cellar should be of a 1:2 1/2:4 concrete mixture. This means one sack of cement to 2 1/2 cubic feet of clean, screened sand to 4 cubic feet of pebbles or crushed rock, which should also be clean, hard and varying in size from 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches. Use only enough water to make the concrete a jelly-like mass.

For a storage cellar 20 feet long, 12 feet wide and 7 feet, 6 inches high, the following materials will be required:

- 16 1/2 cubic yards of sand.
- 28 1/2 cubic yards of pebbles or broken stone.
- 121 sacks of cement.
- 120 feet of 1/2 inch steel bars.
- 720 feet of 3/4 inch steel bars.

CHAPPED TEATS DURING FALL

Cold Weather Is Blamed for Annoyance—Also Caused by Milking With Wet Hands.

Sore teats often cause annoyance during the fall season. This trouble may be caused by cold weather, by milking with wet hands or other local irritation. When a cow is so affected she does not stand quietly for milking on account of the pain.

The trouble is usually remedied without much trouble. The application of vaseline for a few times on the first appearance of the trouble will usually check and cure it. If severe, the teats should be thoroughly washed and softened with warm water, after which glycerin or tannin which may be had at any drug store may be applied with advantage. One application followed by the use of vaseline at each milking for a few days will usually entirely cure the trouble.

BETTER PROGENY BY CULLING

Improvement Made in Flock by Getting Rid of All Hens Except Most Prolific Layers.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That culling the poultry flock to get rid of all those birds except the vigorous, prolific layers results in noticeable improvement in the progeny is shown by recent investigations at the United States experiment farm, Belts-villa, Md. The late moulters selected from a flock of 100 Rhode Island Reds in the fall of 1920 laid seven more eggs per bird during their second year than the original flock as pullets. They were used as breeders the following spring, and the first Red pullets to commence laying in the fall of 1921 were found to be the offspring of these late-moulting hens. Their pullets in a period of seven months have already averaged about two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock.

But it is not alone in number of eggs that the late-moulters' progeny excel, but also in the value of the product, as the distribution was more even, a much larger proportion of the eggs being laid during the winter months. In the last seven months the daughters of the late moulters not only averaged two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock, but the value of their product was, figuring at the same prices, about $1.04 per bird more during the same period. It is expected that this margin will increase during the next five months.

FEEDING METHODS FOR EGGS

Methods Adopted by California Community Result in Better Health of Laying Flock.

A mortality of less than 10 per cent for the year among hens entered in the egg-laying contest of Sonoma county, California, last year is reported to the United States Department of Agriculture by local extension workers, who worked out the feeding formula used in the contest. The health record of the hens entered and their laying average of 176 eggs per hen for the 364 days have led many poultrymen to adopt the management and feeding methods used in the contest. It is estimated that 50 per cent of the poultrymen of the county have changed their method of feeding during the last five years, due to extension work influence.

TRADE-MARK ON FRESH EGGS

New Jersey Organization Making Use of Small Sticker on Produce Sold by Members.

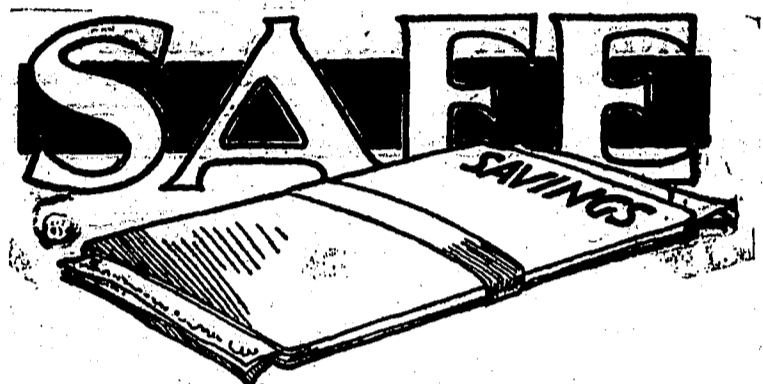

A small trade-mark sticker is now put on all eggs sold by members of the North Haledon Leghorn club in Passaic county, N. J. This organization was formed as a result of a meeting of poultrymen of the community with the agricultural extension agent to discuss the development of the poultry industry in that section. Each member pays two cents per bird owned, 8,000 birds being pledged at the first meeting of the club. All members use the trade-mark and guarantee eggs sold under it.

HOW NOT TO TAKE COLD

Some Persons are subject to frequent colds, while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take a shower or cold sponge bath every day in a warm room, avoid over heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, avoid over eating, becoming over heated and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over.—Adv.

WAKE UP!

THE LID IS OFF AND THE BIG BOOM IS ON

Have you awakened to the fact that a tremendous development program has been launched, and that a wonderful boom is now on in the great Kevin Sunburst oil field, made world famous by the Gordon Campbell discovery well, The Sunburst Oil and Gas Company's big commercial well, and the activities of our trustee, Mr. H. C. Stapleton? Mr. Stapleton came into this field one year ago last March when this was the wildest kind of a wild cat. Like Gordon Campbell and many others, he pinned his faith to the sweet grass arch of northern Montana, believing this would soon develop into the leading oil field of the nation. He was one of the organizers of the Troy Sweet Grass Oil Company, and the Three-In-One Oil Company. Both very successful developing companies.

As time went on, watching the larger oil men and their activities, he learned that the real cream of the oil industry was in a royalty company, where you buy royalties in proven territory and get your share of oil when the ground is drilled, at no expense to the company whatever. When officials of larger oil companies seek investment in a proven oil field they buy up landowners' royalties which they consider the cream of the oil industry. The true worth of the landowners royalties is never appreciated until the royalty checks begin to filter through the mails. The landowner who knows their true worth usually sells about half of his royalties to meet his immediate obligations. Knowing there is oil under his lands, his remaining half will keep the wolf from the door for the rest of his life. Necessity has been the mother of opportunity in the Sunburst field since many landowners have had to sell part of their royalties for just what they could get to pay off their indebtedness, thereby saving the balance for themselves, giving opportunity for the company with money to pick up the bargain.

Lucky is the man who had a one per cent royalty in the tract in which the Hogan well was drilled, making five hundred barrels a day. That well alone makes five barrels a day for the Man with a one per cent royalty. At present low prices one dollar per barrel is five dollars per day.

Just say he has one per cent on forty acres on this tract. On forty acres eight wells can be drilled. Eight times five dollars is forty dollars; an earning of forty dollars per day. Thirty days ago that royalty might have been bought from five to ten dollars per acre.

How would you like to be getting one barrel out of every hundred produced on these tracts by the Hogan, Midnorthern, Davey or the Gladys Bell producers?

How would you like to invest a few dollars in a company that will participate in the production of just such wells as these last mentioned, where you know you are bound to get a square deal? Are you willing to risk a small sum against the prospect? Here is an opportunity that will not last long.

We might say right here for your benefit that we have royalties and holding enough at the present time to make us all rich when the ground is drilled but we want your cooperation and support that we may acquire more, and make this one of the greatest oil companies that ever existed. We are not a drilling company, therefore all money invested in new royalties, all as favorably located, which my experience from the earliest inception of this field backed by mature judgment of values tells me where and when to buy. Your interest certificate is just what the name implies, an interest in the company; and you share in all the royalties and holdings which we now have or will ever acquire.

A Word About Royalties.

A royalty is an interest in the land, an absolute vested right to a share of the oil and gas as produced from the land, and runs forever. They are usually acquired by purchase direct from the landowner, who leases his land to an independent concern for oil development purposes, reserving a portion (commonly 12½ per cent) of all oil gas produced. This portion comes to him net, without reduction for costs of drilling or production. A one per cent royalty interest in a tract of land entitles the owner to one barrel out of every one hundred barrels of oil produced from the land. In older producing fields where oil has been found and produced for many years, a royalty interest sells from $10 to $500 per acre. A one percent royalty interest in lands in production here should return during the life of a well from $400 to $2500 per well or $100 to $1000 per acre, and such royalties can now be had from $3 to $25 per acre. The landowners are hard pressed for money due to years of crop failure, mortgage, and other indebtedness, and a like opportunity to make investments will probably never come again.

This syndicate will not engage in well drilling company promotion or any other undertaking that will involve a gamble or a risk, and we have every reason to believe that with sufficient funds at our control we can and will operate, so as to return large and certain profits to those who pool their money with us in this enterprise.

We believe that profits can be realized far greater in this than in any other line of business, and without chance of loss of investment.

Beneficial interests are being offered at par at one dollar each, and we believe that in the next few months all of the interest up to our limit of $250,000 will have been disposed of. We invite your cooperation. Send check, draft or liberty bonds for the amount you desire to subscribe.

GLEANINGS

The remainder of the Kendrick Furniture stock was sold this week to a man who runs a furniture and second hand store at Moscow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lutz and children went to Lewiston Wednesday to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Lutz' parents.

Wm. Departee was in Lewiston this week on business.

A dollar bill sent out by the North Chicago Chamber of Commerce two weeks ago with a blank card attached, that its travels might be recorded, returned home this week. It had changed hands 31 times. 5 times it was in a salary envelope, 4 times was spent for cigars, twice for candy, once for a "nifty collar," 3 times for ties and twice for meals. On one occasion it was exchanged for a package of cleaning powder. It never even went near a church.

Owing to the fact that the Gazette went to press a day early this week to make room for Thanksgiving Day, the news columns had to be neglected.

Roy and Fred Florance and Dan Guy have entered the Lewiston Normal this term. It won't be long until three dignified school masters will be out looking for a job.

Mrs. Wm. Rogers and Mrs. August F. Wegner were Lewiston visitors the first of the week.

Rev. Wm. T. Russell of Lapwai delivered a stereopticon lecture at the Presbyterian church last Monday evening. His subject was "The Voyage of Life", and it was presented in a very interesting manner.

Another man qualified for the meanest man in the world contest last Sunday night by stealing Bob Bigham's largest hog from the pen. Bob could ill afford to lose it at this time and the man who took it is just a plain crook.

Bob Spencer went to Spokane last Saturday to take medical treatment for an injury to his back.

Rev. W. T. Russell will hold services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

W. M. McCrea was unable to be at the store Saturday and Monday on account of illness.

Mrs. Theo Hanson returned the first of the week from a visit at Lewiston.

Neal Nelson of Clarkston was transacting business in Kendrick Tuesday.

They have even got to naming the bees. An Alabama man paid $150 for a half interest in "Achievement Girl," a queen bee whose colony last year set 1 of the 3 world's records. The queen is to be shipped to Alabama this winter and then shipped back to North Dakota next spring.

Jody Long went to Spokane, Thursday morning, to spend Thanksgiving with his wife.

A New Yorker with 13 letters in his name who lived on 13th street, stole $13 worth of lace from a shop on that street and was the 13th man sentenced by the police judge on Friday the 13th. The judge gave him 13 months instead of taking into account the mitigating circumstances.

Following is a question in which we are particularly interested: Is your Gazette subscription paid?

John Johnson and son returned last week from a hunting trip in the upper North Fork country near the Bungalow. They brought two elk back with them. The first day after reaching the hunting grounds they located the elk and the next day went out and shot two. They had four horses and a heavy hack part of the way in and packed the rest of the way. This is their second successful trip in the past two years.

E. G. Dirks of Lewiston was transacting business in Kendrick, Wednesday.

Street Work Progressing

The street work is progressing in a most satisfactory manner. Weather conditions have been extremely favorable this fall but few delays being occasioned on account of bad weather. Last week the first course of crushed rock was practically completed, with the exception of a short stretch at the north end of town, on which the grading was not finished.

Work started the first of the week spreading the clay binder and second course of crushed rock. This is the top coat and is crushed very fine. When rolled it makes a splendid surface. With the two big crushers grinding day and night, a block of street work is rapidly finished.

At the north end of town near the Bear Creek bridge considerable grading has been done. The road has been widened and straightened and the hill near the bridge put on an easy grade.

With continued favorable weather the job will probably be completed before the middle of December.

Something to Think About

A men's discussion class is being organized to meet in the Presbyterian church during the regular Sunday school hour on Sundays. The class will select its own subjects for discussion and much interest has already been shown. The subjects will be live and vital questions with something to think about and talk about.

Next Sunday, December 3, Mr. Daniel will speak to the class on the question of "What is Religion and Why is Man Religious?"

Mrs. J. M. Woodward was a caller, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Corkill and Mrs. Virgil Flesman.

Mr. and Mrs. Houck of Juliaetta spent the past week visiting at the John Glenn home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Helton were Sunday visitors at the Marvin Vincent home at Leland.

Walter McCall spent the week end at the home of his cousin, Dave Schoeffler.

Wilbur Corkill has been on the sick list for several days but is now able to resume his school work.

Virgil Flesman and family were dinner guests, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Daugherty.

A surprise shower was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Corkill, Friday evening. A nice crowd was present and the evening was spent in social chat and eating popcorn and apples. Mrs. Corkill received quite a number of very nice and useful presents.

Mrs. Albert Kuykendall and two children are visiting at the home of Mrs. M. Kuykendall.

Wayne Kuykendall has gone to Wallace to work in the mines with his brother, Jack, who has been there for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Flesman, Floyd Flesman and Miss Boyd were visitors at Juliaetta and Kendrick, Saturday.

Herman Silfow and H. Ehlers spent Sunday with the Frank Wilken family.

Virgil Flesman and daughter, Alvira, spent Friday and Saturday in Lewiston. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilken, Miss Boyd and Messrs. Herbert and Leonard Wolf attended the dance at Cameron Saturday evening.

SCHOOL NOTES

Both the 4th grade pupils of Fairview school passed in the tests sent out by Miss Gilson last week. They were Josephine Wilken and Clair McCall.

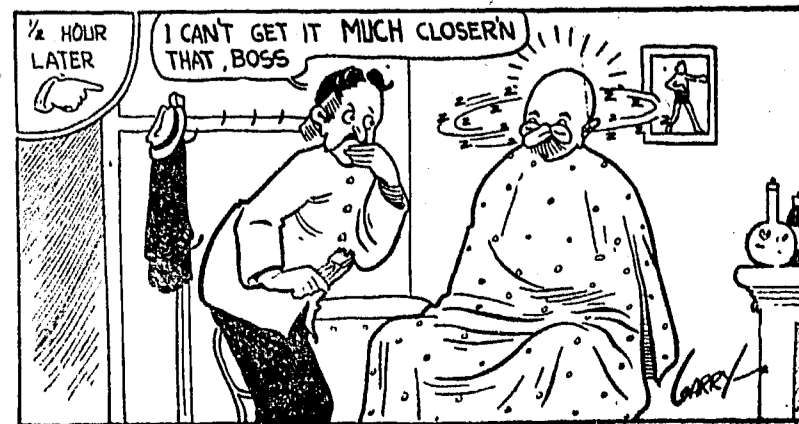

Mrs. McCall visited school last week. We certainly enjoy people coming to visit us.

POULTRY TERMS

A poult is a turkey in its first year.

By a trio is meant a male and two females.

What is known as a yearling hen is one having laid 12 months.

A breeding pen is usually made up of from six to fourteen females and a male.

A setting of eggs is usually counted at 12, although many poultrymen give 15 eggs.

When a chicken weighs between two and three pounds it is called a spring chicken.

A pullet is a female less than a year old, and when over that age it is a hen.

A stewing chicken weighs about three pounds and a rooster four or more pounds.

A broiler is a bird weighing two pounds or less and which is six to twelve weeks old.

A male bird less than a year old is known as a cockerel. When over a year old it is a cock.

A poultarde is a pullet deprived of the power of producing eggs, with the object of great size.

Cramming is a system of forcing feed into young fowls, either by hand or machine, so as to put on extra flesh.

The male chicken is a cock and a male goose is a gander, the male duck a drake, the male turkey a tom or gobbler.

A capon is a male bird deprived of its generative organs for the purpose of improving the weight and delicacy of its carcass.
