The many friends of Rev. C. J. Atkins, pastor of the Juliaetta Methodist church, will regret to learn that he is in a Spokane hospital suffering from sleeping sickness. Mr. Atkins was stricken with the disease last week and became almost blind within a short time. Mr. Atkins went to Lewiston and consulted an eye specialist, but the affliction proved to be one which he could not diagnose. He returned home and his condition gradually grew worse when he was taken to the Deaconess hospital at Spokane this (Thur.) morning. Word has been received that states that the hospital physicians pronounced his trouble as sleeping sickness. His wife is with him.—Juliaetta Record.

At the annual election of the Three-In-One Oil Syndicate, held in Shelby, Montana, the following officers were elected: Garfield Davis of Spokane, president; Albert B. Olson of Troy, vice president, Dr. E. S. Peterson, Troy, secretary-treasurer.

H. C. Stapleton, organizer of the company, resigned as secretary, because of the demand for all of his time in caring for his interests in the Stapleton Royalty & Holding Co., of which he is sole trustee.
Troy News.

We have seen frisky motorists go tearing along the highways and laugh when some pedestrian had to jump to keep from being crushed under the wheels. If the tables could be reversed and the motorist were required to make a lightning jump to save his own worthless hide, he might do a little cussing himself. And, too, he might realize what an unmitigated nuisance he is to the public, and how low he stands in the estimation of law-abiding motorists and the public at large. Perhaps if he has any brains.

We have seen many things, in many places, and at many times, that would make many people smile—or squirm—if they were reduced to cold and unfeeling type.—Genesee News.

Just now all eyes seem to be directed to Lewiston and Clarkston, which really constitute one city, though in two states, separated by a river, but joined by an interstate bridge and a trolley line. If these towns should grow to fifty or seventy-five thousand inhabitants they will bring a degree of prosperity to the whole country. The upper Potlach will derive a direct benefit in better markets for all its produce. Lewiston promises to become a milling, manufacturing and railroad center within the next five years or less time.—Deary Press.

Cameron News

The Saturday evening dinner guests at the Rein home were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Silflow, Sr., Hannah, August, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartung and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Blum.

Miss Ida and Walter Silflow and Wilbert Bruntsiek were dinner guests at the Blum home, Saturday.

Herman Ehlers is a visitor at the Silflow Bros. home this week.

Mrs. L. Olday is on the sick list. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Last week we had real spring weather and of course mud, too, which is a close companion of spring.

Miss Laura Blum was a dinner guest of Miss Wanda Bruntsiek, Sunday.

George Wilken and Gus Blum were Lewiston visitors last week, returning Thursday.

Henry Wendt has been on the sick list. Bachelor life doesn't seem to agree with him.

Herbert Bruntsiek spent the week end at the Russel Rogers home.

Rev. Rein and family were dinner guests at the Blum home New Year's day.

Doyle Thornton was a visitor at the Bruntsiek home, Tuesday.

If the practicing continues there may be a "real" orchestra at Cameron yet.

Road Contract Let

Last week saw the mile of road northeast of Kendrick finished. This week at a meeting of the Kendrick Highway Commissioners the contract was let to Campbell & Barr for the construction of a highway from the limits of Kendrick to the boundary of the Kendrick Highway District, which is about half way between the two towns. This road will be made standard width and surfaced with 7 inches of crushed rock. Work will be pushed as fast as the weather will permit and it is believed the two mile stretch will be finished early in the spring.

In connection with this work the Latah county commissioners have promised to finish the road from the boundary of the Kendrick Highway District to the Nez Perce county line, a distance of approximately 4 miles—and then it is up to Lewiston to finish it on to Arrow Junction.

Death of Mrs. Metcalfe

Mrs. Catherine Kirk Metcalfe, well known throughout this part of the state, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Wilson, last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Death was due to old age, she having reached her 77th year.

The death of Mrs. Metcalfe marks the passing of one of the earliest pioneer residents of the Lewiston valley.

Catherine Kirk was born May 28, 1846, at Prince Edward Island, Canada, where she resided until after her marriage in 1867 to John Nelson Burns. In the fall of 1867 she and her husband moved to Sacramento, California. There they made their home until 1873 when they returned to Prince Edward Island, remaining there for several years. In 1877 they moved to Lewiston and took up a homestead within the city limits of that place. Here they lived until 1882 when they moved to the ranch now owned by A. E. Janes, located half way between Kendrick and Juliaetta, remaining there until after the death of Mr. Burns, which occurred ten years later.

Mrs. Burns was married to Laughlin Metcalfe of Athabasca, Canada, October 10, 1894. For the greater part of the past fifteen years she made her home in Lewiston.

The following children survive: Mary Burns Wilson, Kendrick; Robert Burns, Dayton; Walter Burns, Coeur d'Alene; Bruce Burns, Otto D. Burns, Lewiston, Ida Burns Bethmann, Pardee; John S. Burns, Edith Burns Hamilton, Brighton, Col.; Mrs. Anne McLeod, Brighton, Col.; two stepsons, Carson Metcalfe, Denver; and Grover Metcalfe, Spokane; sisters, Mrs. Eleanor Dent LaBole of Seattle; Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, Prince Edward Island, and a brother, Robert Kirk of Prince Edward Island; also 28 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

All of the children were present at the funeral except Mrs. Hamilton, who was not able to leave her home on account of illness in her family.

The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church at 11 o'clock, Wednesday morning, Rev. William Koper, Presbyterian minister of Lewiston having charge of the service. A mixed quartet composed of Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. O. E. MacPherson, Thos. McDowell and N. S. Walker, with Mrs. Oldfield at the piano, furnished music for the service. After the church service interment was made in the Kendrick cemetery.

Mrs. Metcalfe was a fine type of

Legion Elects Officers

Thursday night of last week the members of the American Legion assembled in the dining room of the Commercial Hotel for a big feed and incidentally the election of officers for the ensuing year. The turkey dinner prepared by the management of the hotel was all that heart could wish and put the members in tune for a harmonious business meeting.

Among other matters brought up was the possibility of putting on a home talent minstrel show here this winter. The plan met with enthusiasm and a committee composed of Harold Thomas, Don McCrea and Geo. P. Barnum was appointed to take charge.

A resolution was passed endorsing a big celebration for Kendrick July 4, 1923.

Garage Changed Hands

Ted and Brian Deobald made a deal this week with Adam Wagner for the lease of the concrete garage, which has been operated for the past year by Roberts Bros. They leased the building and fixtures and took over the stock of automobile parts and accessories. They will make this building headquarters and will use the building next to the Kendrick theater for storage purposes.

Deobald Bros. have been very successful in the garage business here and leased the larger building in order to be better able to handle their business. Leslie Roberts will remain with them and will be employed in the mechanical department.

John Galloway writes from Dinuba, Cal., that he must have the Gazette as he doesn't feel at home there without it. He says he and his gang are going to spend the winter there and will drive back to Idaho in the spring.

the early pioneers of this western country. Coming here with her husband at a time when it took real courage and thrift to make a home and to maintain it, they reared a splendid family and held a place of high esteem in this community. In the death of Mrs. Metcalfe the last chapter of a wonderful life of service, closed.

Dr. J. E. Hoyt Injured

According to the Tuesday's Spokane Chronicle, Dr. John E. Hoyt was quite seriously injured. He was making a professional call Tuesday when another car ran into his, throwing him out on the sidewalk. He extent of his injuries has not been learned.

Roberts-Procopio

Miss Elva Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, formerly of American ridge, was married Christmas day to Mr. Saverio Procopio at the home of the bride's parents in Spokane. The Rev. Wm. Niccolos of the U. S. B. Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of thirty of the friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, veil caught with Lilies of the valley. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. T. V. Asso, who was dressed in pink and carried pink roses. Mr. Asso was best man. The home was decorated in a color scheme of red and green, appropriate to the season. The ceremony was performed before a sparkling Christmas tree.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Waue Keene of Kendrick, Idaho; Mrs. George Daugherty of Juliaetta, Idaho and Mrs. Louie Procopio and daughter, Anna, mother and sister of the groom.

After a delightful wedding reception, Mr. and Mrs. Procopio left for a short trip to the coast. They will be at home to their friends after the first of the year at Harrison, Idaho.

Frank Souders Lost Fingers

Frank Souders, who was employed in the Wright mill in the Crescent country, lost all the fingers and thumb of his left hand Wednesday morning. His hand was caught in the saw and badly lacerated. He was rushed to Kendrick by automobile and from here took the 1:25 train for Lewiston for surgical treatment.

W. O. W. Install Officers

There were about 50 present at the installation of officers of the local Woodmen lodge last Wednesday night. N. Brocke served a very satisfying banquet at 7:30. Charles McKeever acted as toastmaster. Short talks were given by E. G. Dirks, N. E. Ware, N. B. Long, W. M. McCrea and K. B. Parks. After the banquet the newly elected officers were installed.

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Events of Interest to School Patrons.

A basketball game is scheduled with Kamiah for Saturday night. The visiting team is rated among the best in the state. They have suffered only one defeat this season, the Kooskia boys taking the game from them by a very small score. The Kendrick boys have already proven their ability to play a clean fast game; their ambition is to win the championship of this district, which includes the towns along the Clearwater and also Troy and Kendrick. If they are successful they will play in the tournament at Lewiston, which will take place at the close of the basketball season.

A very interesting contest in penmanship and typewriting has been in progress during the past week. Twenty tickets are being given to the winners by the management of the New Kendrick, which will admit the holders to "The Fox" the big super-production that is to be shown there tonight and tomorrow night, January 6th and 7th. In the typewriting department the students are required to write five lines of the following sentence in thirty seconds, in order to obtain a ticket: "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog". This is the shortest sentence that has ever been devised which contains all the letters of the alphabet. The students writing twelve lines in one minute receive an additional bonus of one dollar. Much interest is being taken by the students in the contest, which is shown by their earnest enthusiasm.

EDITOR ADMITS A MISTAKE

We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us. We called for 98 over the phone and got 198. We asked for a spool of No. 50 thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60. The train was reported 30 minutes late. We arrived at the depot 20 minutes after train time and the train had gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of 10 cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned a spark plug and it's run fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's issue of the paper.—Glen Elder Sentinel.

TUBERCULOSIS ON DECREASE

Prospect for Ultimately Ridding Country of Disease Looks More Promising Than Ever.

The plan for eradicating tuberculosis in cattle from entire areas, such as counties, is daily growing in popularity, according to reports coming to the United States Department of Agriculture. The disease taken hold in Michigan and is spreading rapidly. Already five counties have been freed of the plague and reports from the inspector in charge for the government show that the boards of supervisors have appropriated money and made provision for co-operating with state and federal forces. When one county joins the ranks for eradication its action stimulates others to follow. The prospect for ultimately ridding the country of the disease never looked so promising as at present, say those in charge.

"THE FOX"—TONIGHT

The Story of "The Fox" Santa Fe, a woe-begone tramp, is saved from a jeering mob in the little desert town of Caliente, by Annette, the sheriff's daughter. Santa Fe decided to stay in town. He adopts a little wail, and the two have to struggle for existence.

The tramp gets a job as porter in the bank. The leading banker, Coulter, is a political crook, leagued with a band of outlaws. Santa Fe learns much of his situation.

Coulter "frames" Dick Farwell the fiance of Annette's sister, and causes his capture by the outlaws. The boy is suspected of stealing from the bank.

The sheriff, who is in disrepute because he has not cleaned up the outlaws, goes into the desert to save Dick. Santa Fe saves the sheriff from death in a sandstorm, but is himself captured by the outlaws. He escapes, with Dick, through a subterranean river.

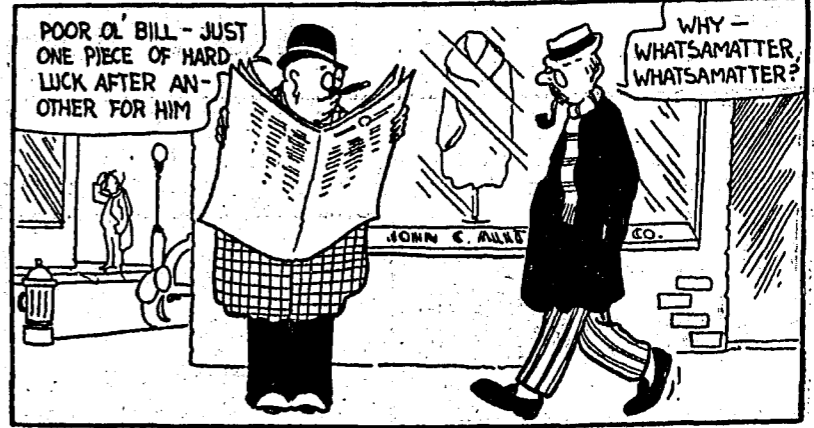

They arrive back in town just in time to save the Sheriff from a mob. Santa Fe reveals himself as a special State agent sent to up-root the outlaw gang and to catch Coulter. Aided by U. S. Cavalry and a large Sheriff's posse he leads an attack next morning on the outlaw stronghold in the painted cliffs and cleans them out.

Coulter is also taken. (Santa Fe, now the idol of the section, wins the love of Annette. At New Kendrick Tonight & Sat.

The Report of Nez Perce County Agent

Outline of Work Done by the Farm Bureau Under the Direction of Waldo W. Skuse

December 28, 1922.

DEAR SIR:—

Due to the fact that the majority of the people living in Nez Perce County are directly or indirectly interested in agricultural work, your County Agricultural Agent has prepared this summary of the annual report from December 1, 1921, to December 1, 1922, and is sending it to the farmers and some other business and professional men of the county. The completed report is at his office and may be inspected at any time.

The results secured have been accomplished by means of the cooperation of progressive farmers of the county, cooperating farmers' organizations, the Board of County Commissioners, and the Administrative Staff and Specialists of the Extension Division and the College of Agriculture of the University of Idaho.

This work is maintained by funds from the county through the County Commissioners, from the state through the University of Idaho, and from the United States through the United States Department of Agriculture. The county cost of maintaining this work this year has been at the rate of $1.547 on each $1,000 assessed valuation, or $1.547 on each $10,000 assessed valuation. Therefore, on $5,000 assessed valuation, which is said to be more than the average farmer of the county pays taxes upon, the cost of the work for the year to the average farmer is $.774, or about seventy-five cents.

Livestock Improvement.

The livestock improvement project consisted of work in some phase or other in every one of the 12 communities of the county. The county goal consisted of testing cattle for tuberculosis in every community, so far as government agencies could be utilized for this work, bringing in two carloads of high grade dairy cattle to the Peck community and one to the Lapwai community, formation of a bull association in the Peck community, three Waikiki Jersey bull clubs, feeding tests of beef cattle, cost records on pork production, records on swine management in communities of higher altitude in the county, livestock judging tour in the Leland community on hogs and cattle, and individual milk testing records established in the Peck community.

In some particulars we fell behind our goal, and in some we went ahead. There is a point to be considered here that will also apply to other projects, and that is, that our regular community program of work meetings were not held last fall, but instead, were held this spring, and there still remains considerable time for goal items not yet finished to be taken care of yet this season. Up until the present time, we have not got the carload of dairy cattle for the Lapwai community, made feeding tests on beef cattle, or kept pork production figures. We have placed five instead of three Waikiki Jersey bull clubs, received two carloads of dairy stock in the Peck community, where we plan to organize a bull association and start keeping records this coming month, and we have been able to get far more cattle tested with tuberculosis than we had thought possible at the start of the season. 1470 head of cattle belonging to 280 farmers have been tested. 10 registered bulls, 12 registered cows and 55 high grade dairy cattle have been imported. Four high quality registered boars have been brought in. We assisted in the organization of the Lewis and Clark Purebred Livestock association of 75 members who reside in this and adjacent counties. We assisted in the stamping out of an outbreak of hog cholera at a local garbage feeding plant. Out of 250 hogs, 100 succumbed to the disease and the balance were saved by vaccination. So far as we know, this is the first time that hog cholera has ever appeared in this county, and with precautionary methods, we hope to stamp out all possible outbreaks.

The short crop this season and general difficult financial conditions of the farmers have caused the postponement of many improvements, such as better barns, silos, etc., which will be built as soon as the men can work into better financial condition. There is a likelihood of the local banks establishing a rotating fund for the purchase of better quality of different kinds of livestock to be brought in, and also to finance livestock club work among the boys and girls next year. Community project leaders put in 14 days' time and they received 57 days of specialist's help, over four-fifths of this being the time of the federal veterinarian on T. B. testing.

Crops and Rotations.

The accomplishments consisted of 520 acres of certified wheat, Jenkins Club, Fortyfold, and Turkey Red varieties, 10 demonstrations on the use of green manure crops in the Lewiston Orchards, where approximately 1500 acres of such character of crops were grown on 4,200 acres of irrigated land which constitutes the district; 8 demonstrations on alfalfa growing, 13 on red and alsike clover, 7 on pasture mixtures for winter pastures, 32 demonstrations on good potato growing, 137 on sweet clover, 6 tests of sodium arsenite used as a weed spray; one demonstration completed and five more started on control of wild morning glory by the best field culture practice, and 35 farms started on a definite system of crop rotation in accordance with our rotation chart.

In response to the request that the special work on the use of sodium arsenite as means of weed eradication be furnished, we can say that for spots where field implements can be used it is not practicable to depend upon it. In locations such as in orchards, bush fruit, peaches, etc., it is probably the best method we can utilize. However, the strength of solution we have used apparently have been too strong, even the 100 to 200 to 1 proportions, and Prof. R. K. Bonnett, head of the Farm Crops department of the university, states that tests will be conducted at the experiment station with solutions of much weaker proportions.

We received 11 days of help by the community project leaders and 12 from specialists.

Poultry.

The poultry project consisted of work carried on in each of the 12 communities of the county. The county goal consisted of housing demonstrations, housing and feeding lectures by Mr. Pren Moore, the poultry specialist of the university, flocks mated by Mr Moore, and neighborhood culling demonstrations by the County Agent.

This was all accomplished in much greater proportion than the amounts of the goals set in the different communities. This cannot be said to be due to the usually specially hard work upon the part of the specialist or the county agent, but rather because of a much increased interest in this farm enterprise, due to the relative unprofitableness of other lines of farm work. So near as it is possible to estimate, there are 45,000 birds in the county and, as near as we can figure from our records, 18,000 of these have been judged the past season, and of these 7,200 have been found to be culls and were disposed of. 43 new poultry houses were built, and 81 remodeled. 360 persons are using improved feeding methods. Mr. Moore mated 25 flocks for breeding purposes, and applications have been received from 43 farmers to have their flocks mated for next season. Prof. R. T. Parkhurst spoke at each of three farmers' institutes on poultry methods. There are nine flocks of over 200 birds each in the county.

The accomplishments this season for the time invested by the project leaders, specialists and county agent, have probably been greater for this project than any other. The community committeemen have given 9 day time and specialists, 13.

Rodent Control.

All the goals of this project were accomplished with the exception of a few communities where experimental work on rats was done. However, results on these pests in other communities serve as information to the communities concerned. The 49,920 acres of private land and the 2,900 acres of public land were poisoned by 798 farmers. Mr. D. D. Green, biological assistant, went before the county commissioners and secured the appointment of the Rodent Control committeemen, as county representatives for their respective communities in the enforcement of the squirrel law. These men were duly notified by the county authorities, and in the few cases where necessary they were able to force men to poison the squirrels on land where great damage was being continually done to farm land adjacent. As to rat control methods, we secured what is supposed to be the best rat trap made, and we have not yet tested it carefully enough to see whether we could recommend it, as, so far, it appears to need a very careful adjustment. We have used the 1-B processed strychnine very satisfactorily, and, to a much less extent, the ordinary powdered alkaloid of strychnine. There yet remains much experimental work to be done, and this fall and winter will be the time when measures of this character are given more attention.

As to methods, we have found in the distribution of poison for public land that it works best when possible for the biological assistant to meet with groups of farmers concerned, mix the poison and distribute it in the group. In this manner, Mr. D. D. Green was here three different times this past season. We have arranged it so that this season has been the last one in which any renter of Indian land, excepting for the one year lease of pasture land, did not have to poison the ground himself in accordance with the clauses in the leases as written by us, so that the biological assistant next year and afterward will only find it necessary to go to the farm land adjacent to the timbered areas which are Indian tribal ground. On this project community leaders put in 11 days time and specialists spent a like amount.

Women's Work.

Practically nothing had ever been done along the line of women's work as part of the extension program in this county until this year. The establishment of Moscow as the headquarters of the District Home Demonstration Agent has made this possible to a very large extent, although Miss Ruth Fauble, head of the home economics work at the Lewiston Normal, has very generously given considerable time to the women in the Lewiston Orchards community on deferred institute work. The women's work was conducted in five communities. The county goal consisted of all possible classes in dressmaking, millinery and menu planning in the Gifford, Leland, Lapwai, Southwick and Lewiston Orchards communities, dependent upon how much service could be received from the district home demonstration agent.

These goals were accomplished in full, Miss Ada B. Irwin started off the work with dress form demonstrations to large groups of women at the farmers' institutes held last February at Gifford, Leland and Lapwai, and a millinery class and canning club demonstration which she gave at Lapwai, and Miss Clara E. Cowgill, who succeeded Miss Irwin, carried on the work with coaching of the girls' canning club at Lapwai and three-day millinery classes in each of the Southwick, Gifford and Leland communities. As a result of the work by these two women, with the assistance of the community project leaders, 80 dress forms were made and 47 hats, in addition to the accomplishments of the girls' canning club at Lapwai. This work is nicely started and has proved very popular, both women specialists doing excellent work.

Community committeewomen put in 9 days and specialists 14 on this project.

Miscellaneous.

The leaf roller made its appearance in the Lewiston Orchards and was studied in an excursion, and Prof. C. C. Vincent, head of the horticultural department of the university, will conduct control tests in the Lewiston Orchards community this winter.

49 farm account books were distributed, 25 of which were kept throughout the year and of these 8 men were assisted in keeping their records.

A dispute of the peace, whose names are Indians, but whose farm is on the Ohio state line, was oppressively imbued with a sense of his own responsibility, and never lost a chance to show his authority. One day a light arose between his son and the hired man. The justice, quick to see the situation, climbed on the barbed fence line as a better bench for justice and commanded "peace in the name of the State of Indiana." No sooner, however, had he delivered this order than he fell over backward and went sprawling into Ohio. Lying prone on the ground, he bellowed to his son: "Give him the devil, Bill, give him the devil. I've lost my jurisdiction."

The Okoke Klootkhan Club met at the home of Mrs. E. W. Lutz last Wednesday evening.

William Chilberg of Clarkston arrived Wednesday to transact business in this locality.

An Indian went to a newspaper office to pay his subscription. He insisted on a receipt. The editor told him he did not need a receipt. The Indian explained that he did; that when he went up to the pearly gates St. Peter might ask him if he had paid the editor. "If I do not have a receipt, then I have to run all over hell looking for you," explained the Indian.

T. F. Sparger recently purchased a twenty acre tract of bench land in Brady gulch, across the creek from the Blackburn ranch, and formerly owned by P. G. Candler. The land was purchased from John Reid. Mr. and Mrs. Sparger moved to their new home the first of the year.
