

LATAH COUNTY NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

Deary Press: N. B. Mamer, Spokane air pilot has contracted with the Potlatch Lumber Protective Association to patrol the forests of this section during the fire season this summer. The experiment made along this line last year, in which W. D. Humiston, C. J. Nogle and other officials of the association and the Potlatch Lumber Co. were taken over the territory by Mr. Mamer in his airplane, so impressed the officials that they have had no hesitancy in contracting with the pilot for his services.

It will be remembered that this paper published a communication from Mr. Mamer last year on the subject of air patrol for forest fires. Under the present contract, Mr. Mamer will fly a minimum of two and one-half hours each day, accompanied by a trained observer, who will report the location and extent of fires to the chief fire warden. Two planes, especially ordered for this work, will be used. Mr. Mamer will make his headquarters either at Bovill or Elk River.

Troy News: "Troy needs a doctor." This seems to be the words on everyone's lips. It has been several weeks now that this community has been without a doctor and it has made it mighty inconvenient for those in need of one. We believe there is sufficient business in this locality to warrant a young, good physician to locate here; one with a pleasing personality and who can "deliver the goods" in all emergencies.

Juliaetta Record: Frank Nutt and Selma Gardner were united in marriage a few days ago at Clarkston. The groom is a brother of Manfred Nutt, of Juliaetta, and spent the past summer here gardening on the W. W. Bowker place. The bride is a resident of Asotin. Mr. Nutt is employed on the Asotin Sentinel and the couple will make their home at that place.

Star-Mirror: During the next ten days residents of Latah county will be asked to contribute enough for the support of 46 Armenian orphans now being cared for in the orphanages of the Near East relief. As the cost for caring for each child is $60 a year, the amount required for the 46 children is $2,760. No campaign will be made but churches, lodges and clubs will be asked to raise $5 or more each month, thus "adopting" one or more orphans.

The allotments have been made as follows: Moscow, $1,260; Potlatch, $360; Genesee, 240; Troy, $180; Juliaetta, $180; Keldrick, $120; Deary, $120; Bovill, $120; Harvard, $60; Princeton, $60, and Avon, $60.

A year ago under the leadership of J. D. Davis, Latah county contributed wheat, flour and beans to the value of $3,710.33 in addition to $564.05 in cash and 1922 pounds of old clothing. The railroads carried the contributions to Seattle without charge and the "Iowan" carried the food and clothing to New York. From New York the relief material was shipped to Batoum on the Black Sea and distributed among the orphanages in the Caucasus.

The Vincents Entertain

The Vincents, American-Hawaiian entertainers, gave a varied program at the Methodist church last Tuesday evening, a fairly good sized crowd being present. The program consisted of a number of entertaining musical numbers and a clever chalk talk. The gross receipts from the entertainment amounted to $25.

Domestic Science

The domestic science department is one of the most interesting in our school, and especially to the ladies.

There are two classes; the first or freshman year is devoted entirely to sewing, and the second or sophomore year takes up cooking, and the study of composition, manufacture and food value, of different food materials.

The problems of the first year class have been to study and use commercial patterns. They draft their own patterns for such things as bloomers and night-gowns, and learn ways to place patterns so as to save goods, and give best results.

Aprons were another garment finished during the semester. The class is now working on pajamas which are a more complicated step of bloomer making and involves all knowledge acquired while making bloomers.

In the second year class or cooking the girls have studied cheese, meats, flour, classification of foods, and ways of serving.

This division of the domestic science department is self-supporting, as each girl pays her share of the bills for supplies. It may be interesting to note the different things the girls did this year to lessen the amount each had to pay. They took orders for cooked foods and hardly a week passed without at least one or more of these to be filled. Christmas they put on a candy sale, besides this they served two dinners to the "Good Fellowship Club."

However the most successful way the girls raised money was by giving their public dinner. This brought the net returns of $20; and lessened the expenses for the eighteen weeks to $15; making the fee to be paid by each girl of one dollar. Considering that the second year cooking is a more advanced course than the first year, the expense would be more than the elementary course. Owing to the fact that there was nothing in the way of supplies donated to the department, as there had been in some of the previous years to keep down expenses, the fee was a comparatively small amount.

Last year the domestic science girls took one semester of cooking and one of sewing giving them one half year of each subject.

In order that the second year class could have a full year in each subject they are now taking up sewing for the second semester.

The class is working on pattern drafting. They will soon finish their first problem or that of bloomer making and will then begin a more difficult piece of work.

There are many interesting things in these classes and the department would be glad to welcome any visitors who are interested in the work.—A. B. S.

Death of Mrs. Beekley

Information has been received here to the effect that Mrs. Annie M. Beekley, formerly of this place, died at her home in Prosser, Wash., February 24. Death was caused by a tumor on the head from which she had suffered for several years. Her daughters, Mrs. S. M. Lawrence and Mrs. George K. Slind, were with her at the time of her death. Interment was made in the Prosser cemetery, by the side of her husband, I. B. Beekley, who died nearly two years ago.

According to a report of the Indian agent at Lapwai, the annual death rate of the Nez Perces is greater than the births. Reasons given are that the Nez Perces are living in crowded quarters, as many as 14 Indians living in two small rooms. Tuberculosis results. An attempt is being made to compel the Indians to live in more sanitary homes. Better hospital facilities are also being advocated. Other tribes over the country are increasing because of better living conditions, so it is reasonable to suppose that the Nez Perces may also be increased in numbers.

Tasting 449 Varieties of Beer At English Exposition

A SAD sight for wets in this dry land! These are beer tasters at the brewers' exposition at Royal Agricultural Hall, in the London suburb of Islington. And think! there were 449 kinds of beer for them to sip and pass judgment on.

Erickson's Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Erickson entertained the Circle Card Club and a few friends at a most delightful "500" party last Tuesday evening. The dining room of the Commercial Hotel was beautifully decorated with crepe tissue paper, in all colors of the rainbow. There were six card tables, each one decorated in a different color scheme to carry out the rainbow idea. Scores were kept with colored ribbons to match the tables at which the hands were being played.

First prize was awarded to Bob Spencer and the consolation prize to Mrs. Harold Thomas. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

In addition to the regular members of the club, the following guests were present: Messrs. and Mesdames Walter Thomas, Leith, Snyder, Harold Thomas; Nell Ameling, Beulah Long, Rita Reith, A. E. Wilcox, Bob Spencer and Tom Long.

Last Saturday night the Jake Newman home near Southwick was the scene of a very pleasant card party. The University of Idaho won the Pacific northwest conference championship Wednesday night at Spokane by defeating the University of Washington 24 to 21 in a post-season game. Idaho will now meet the University of California to decide the Pacific coast championship.

Good Fellowship Club Met

On account of the entertainment at the Methodist church Tuesday night, the meeting of the Good Fellowship Club was postponed until the following night. After the usual sumptuous dinner, served by the Methodist Ladies' Aid, the business of the evening was disposed of, the program then following. A resolution prepared by a committee of three, was introduced and unanimously adopted. Following is a copy of the resolution:

WHEREAS, the violations of law, particularly in regard to the illicit sale of liquor and the resulting influence, within the Village of Kendrick has been increasing to such an extent that it is endangering the morals and good name of our Village, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED, that we, the members of the Good Fellowship Club, do heartily commend the Village Trustees and Village Marshal for their efforts to enforce the law and uphold the morals of our Village, and we do hereby earnestly pledge our support to the said Village Trustees and Village Marshal, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that one copy of this resolution be sent to the Village Trustees and one copy to the Village Marshal.

After a general discussion of numerous interesting topics, the meeting adjourned.

Death of Dr. D. Smith

Dr. D. Smith, who for the past thirty years practiced dentistry in the Potlatch country, passed away at his home in Kendrick last Friday morning, death resulting from a prolonged attack of pneumonia. He had been ill a greater part of the winter.

Last fall Dr. Smith moved his dental headquarters from Southwick to Kendrick. He had purchased new equipment throughout and had just completed its installation when he was taken ill. He was never able to return to the office again.

Dallas Smith was born at Vinton, Iowa, October 15, 1859. He came west in 1890 and on July 14, 1896, was married to Carrie E. Reeves. To this union two children were born, Mabel and Merit. A greater part of the past 3 years was spent in and around Southwick, where he practiced dentistry and had farming interests.

The deceased is survived by his wife and two children; two sisters, Mrs. Mahinda A. Hull of Walla Walla and Mrs. E. V. Slade of Aldin, Minn, and one brother, D. M. Smith of Walla Walla.

Funeral services were held at Southwick, Sunday morning, Rev. C. A. Pickering, Methodist minister, having charge of the service. Interment was made in the Southwick cemetery Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Raise More Hogs

According to a communication received from the Portland Union Stock Yards Co., the farms of Oregon, Washington and Idaho are not producing enough hogs to take care of the local demand. As a result, dependable records show that 448,332 live hogs were brought to slaughtering pens in Portland, Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane during 1922, from the Dakotas and Nebraska. The average value of these hogs was $20 per head. At that rate nearly nine million dollars was sent from the northwest to increase the business of the farmers of the Mississippi Valley.

Doing Good Work Here

Campbell & Barr, who have been doing the street and road work here, have certainly treated this community in a way that has made them many good friends in Kendrick. They have been accommodating in every way and have extended many favors to the town and the highway district. They have been as loyal to the town as any of our residents, buying everything they use from local business houses. They have also decided to buy their truck and automobile licenses in Kendrick Highway District, which will mean $200 or more income for this district. This is only one of the many courtesies which they have extended. We hope that next winter they will get the contract of building the road from Arrow Junction to the county line, as their work here has been first class in every way.

Indian Agency Robbed

The door to the vault in the office of the United States Indian agency at Lapwai was blown by safe crackers about 2 o'clock Monday morning. Liberty bonds to the amount of $1200, cash amounting to $25 and a number of farm mortgages held by Indians, were taken. There was nothing left to indicate the identity of the robbers.

Farm Bureau Meeting Here

A special meeting of the farmers of this community will be held at the city hall, this morning at 10 o'clock. Squirrel poisoning supplies will be delivered. At this meeting other lines of work for the community will be discussed, projects will be selected and project leaders and community chairman elected. County Agent Fletcher will be present at the meeting.

Betsy Ross and Holsum Win

Last month the makers of Betsy Ross and Holsum, in competition with nearly 200 loaves, won first recognition and received the Harry M. Freer Trophy, a large silver cup, for having the finest loaf of bread in the United States.

You may see a picture of the cup in our window

The winning of this cup by the Spokane Bakery Co. has a particular significance to the people of the community. It is positive proof that Betsy Ross and Holsum Bread is as good as we have always claimed it to be—as good as can be made.

HAM, BACON and LARD

These spring mornings, together with fresh eggs at a reasonable price, suggest bacon or ham and eggs for breakfast. Our bacon and ham is strictly a home product, made of hogs grown by Potlatch farmers and cured and smoked right here in our plant. It is needless to say that the prices are just right—so is the meat. Get the habit and patronize one of the few strictly home industries.

Wealth That Works

Money saved and deposited in a bank is wealth that works. Wealth that works is capital. Unlike brain and muscle, it does not wear out or deteriorate. It grows and improves.

The only gain from labor is what is saved. Labor, therefore, makes wealth and when wealth works it is capital.

Capital at work pays wages, which, when saved, creates more capital. Labor is the producer when labor saves.

Several Experiment Stations Have Tested It and Found It to Be Most Excellent Feed.

Hogs will eat a limited amount of alfalfa hay after becoming used to it. Several state agricultural experiment stations have tested this out. In almost every case the addition of alfalfa to a grain ration reduced the cost of gains and improved the condition of the hogs. At one station the best ration found for fattening hogs was corn and alfalfa in the ratio of nine to one. Alfalfa is an ideal feed for brood sows, and there is less trouble with hog diseases when it is fed liberally.

POINTS ON POULTRY CULLING

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In selecting the future flock it is well to discard the young cockerels and pullets that are slow in growing and feathering, and also those that have crooked beaks, backs, legs and tails.

The winter flock of chickens should consist only of the best grown pullets of the year which hold out some prospect of "earning their keep." Culling is usually begun in July and August by successful poultry raisers, and by the end of September all nonproducers should be weeded out of the flock, with a consequent reduction in the feed bill. Hens which have been fed for more than a year and which molt during July and August are likely to be stackers and should be the first to go. The chances are they will not lay again for some time, the poultry specialist of the Alabama experiment station believes. It is usually advisable to standardize the flock by having all of one breed, but there are special conditions under which the raising of two breeds is advised. Those having mongrel chickens will find it profitable to develop a purebred flock, the United States Department of Agriculture advises. This can easily be done within two or three years by buying a few settings of eggs of the desired breed for hatching purposes. Recent investigations at the U. S. experiment farm indicate that quicker results may often be obtained by such a purchase than by grading up the mongrel stock.

Every Cap Fits Every Head

SUGAR

Big speculators are in control of the sugar market and have forced the price up by broadcasting the report of a sugar shortage.

Government experts advise there is no shortage of sugar and that there is a sufficient supply for everybody with a considerable carry-over at the end of the season. It is simply a matter of price.

The only way to fight the speculators is to use less sugar. With a sufficient supply of sugar in the country, a falling off in the consumption of it is sure to bring the price down. If every person in the United States will use 10 per cent less sugar this year than they did last year, the speculator's bubble will collapse, but if everybody turns speculator the price will continue to soar.

Retail prices of sugar may vary according to the extent of speculating done by individual merchants. Buy where you can buy cheapest but don't plunge. Every sack that is sold helps the speculator raise the price of the next sack.

Buy Less and Use Less

Corn syrups contain only a small percentage of sugar and have not yet advanced in price.
