

NEWS NOTES FROM KENDRICK SCHOOLS

Events of Interest to School Patrons.

The following grades of the three highest Seniors of the Class of '23, consist of the final averages for their entire four years of high school work: Nell Ameling, 93 and 10-32 per cent; Beulah Long, 93 and 7-23 per cent; Rita Leith, 92 and 21-32 per cent. Several others among the Seniors had grades bordering around 90 per cent. It is also interesting to note that only one Senior received an average of below 80 per cent.

Work on the Senior play, "So Long—$10,000", is progressing very successfully under the direction of Mrs. Strauch. Mrs. Strauch possesses both ability and experience along this line, and the play is expected to be a real success.

Several of the high school classes took advantage of last week's wonderful spring weather by going on picnics. They were greatly enjoyed by all those who attended.

A two weeks campaign against the fly family in general is being conducted by the Biology class. The class has been very efficiently organized and great results are anticipated. Each grade in school is expected to take part. Several effective demonstrations and talks have already been given to the lower grade pupils, to impress them of the dangers resulting from the presence of flies. The main object of this campaign is to destroy as many flies as possible in the early spring. Because of this, some of the business men are giving each student who turns in a certain number of flies a definite amount of credit. Those co-operating with the school are as follows: Stanton Bros., N. B. Long & Sons, Kendrick Store Co., Kendrick Hardware, Farmers Hardware, New Kendrick Theater and the Grand Theater.

All 8th grade pupils still taking physiology and geography passed in the April examinations, but two. One was in physiology and one in geography.

All 7th graders, but five, who were present passed in physiology. Some of them received good grades but not the required grade of 85 per cent.

Charles Sturdevant made the highest average in physiology, 98 per cent. The highest grade in geography which was 92 per cent, was made by Rush Chamberlain. Most of the pupils made good grades, quite a number making above 95 per cent. We are quite hopeful that the 8th grade next year will not be cumbered with any 7th grade left-over work.

Two of the 8th grade, Maude Compton and Victor Gentry, have completed the Curtis Arithmetic Tests. Hester Knepper, of the 7th grade, is on the last of these tests.

Those neither tardy nor absent from the 6th grade for the month are: Robert Dammarell, Elbert Long, Wilmot Humphrey. From the 5th are: Wilford Nowling and Howard Dammarell.

The 7th graders who passed in the State geography examination were: Hester Knepper, Shirley Clem, Ellis Carlisle, Pearl Johnson, Murry Onstott, Dorothy Holt, Margaret McDowell, Rush Chamberlain. It is notable to observe that all those who took this examination passed.

The first to finish the Curtis Arithmetic practice tests in the 5th and 6th grades are: Wilford Nowling, May Freytag, Hugh McDowell, George Atchison and Orvid Jarvis.

Yes, smoking is very, very bad for women. It curtails life, impairs motherhood and generally depletes the system. Take Mrs. Sallie Shadrick, for instance, who has lived for some years near Columbia and died last week. Ever since she was 7 years old she has been an inveterate smoker and she only had eleven children and was cut off in her prime at the age of 107.—Ex.

Death of Ira D. Bradshaw

Ira D. Bradshaw, a well known farmer, who resided three miles from Kendrick at the mouth of Pine Creek, was instantly killed last Tuesday noon by a gunshot from a 12 gauge shotgun which blew off the top of his head. His body was discovered by his wife about an hour after the accident happened. She immediately phoned to one of the neighbors and they in turn phoned to Kendrick for help. Both doctors and a number of others rushed to the scene of the accident but he was beyond human aid as it was plainly evident his death had been instantaneous.

County coroner, Dr. F. M. Leitch of Moscow accompanied by deputy sheriff Grant Robbins arrived on the scene in the late afternoon and after a thorough investigation they decided that Mr. Bradshaw had come to his death by an accidental gunshot wound.

It is said that Mr. Bradshaw left the house shortly before noon after telling his wife that he was going to feed the chickens and then shoot squirrels. Mrs. Bradshaw heard one shot and a short time later another. After an hour or more she went out to look for him and saw him lying near the chicken coop not far from the house.

Two empty shotgun shells were found one near the house and another near the chicken coop. A third empty shell was found in the gun.

The coroner's theory is that before Mr. Bradshaw fed the chickens he left the shotgun leaning against a barrel and when picking it up the hammer caught on one of the loose barrel hoops and the gun was discharged close to his head.

The body was brought to Kendrick to the Pickers undertaking rooms after the coroner's inquest. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church, Thursday morning, attended by a large body of his friends and brother Oddfellows. The Oddfellows had charge of the funeral. After the church service the remains were taken to the Juliaetta cemetery for burial.

Ira Delbert Bradshaw was born in Sullivan County, Missouri, in 1876. He was married to Laura Lewis at Kirksville, Missouri, March 16, 1898. He is survived by his wife, two brothers, W. H. Bradshaw of Hale, Missouri, and L. E. Bradshaw of Kendrick.

Mr. Bradshaw was a man who stood high in the esteem and affection of the people of this community. His kindly, cheerful disposition and splendid character had won for him many staunch friends who are saddened by his untimely death.

Wilcox on The Job

Mr. Hillyard, temporarily in charge of the Northern Pacific affairs ever since Mr. Lowry's leaving, was checked out Wednesday and A. E. Wilcox assumed his duties Thursday morning. Altho new as agent in Orofino, Mr. Wilcox has many friends in Clearwater county and leaves many at Kendrick where he has been N. P. agent for years. We might say that Mr. Wilcox has many enemies also in Orofino because we understand that what few times Kendrick has won from Orofino in baseball can be largely laid to Mr. Wilcox's door as he has been their manager for a long time and is a real ball fan. We will however, forget those defeats and welcome him to our community. His family will be here soon and reside at the depot.—Clearwater Tribune.

Has Local Huber Agency

George Davidson has taken over the Huber agency for this territory. The agency comprises the Huber bean threshers, grain separators and tractors as well as parts for these machines.

A marriage license was issued Tuesday to L. G. Hadden and Ruth Black of Moscow. Miss Black is well known in this community.

Kendrick Will Celebrate 4th

At Meeting of Business Men Wednesday Evening Decision Was Unanimous for Big Celebration

At a meeting attended by nearly fifty enthusiastic boosters for a Fourth of July celebration and a better baseball team, held at the Commercial Hotel dining room Wednesday evening, it was unanimously decided to put over both projects in a manner that will reflect credit upon the town.

After a pleasant dinner hour, a short musical program was rendered, opening with an overture by an orchestra composed of G. G. Oldfield, Walter Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, followed by a flute solo by Harold Thomas and a cornet solo by Walter Thomas. The music was a very delightful feature of the evening.

A. Wilmot presided over the business meeting, calling for expressions of opinion concerning the baseball situation. After a lengthy discussion, it was finally decided to elect a manager, Harry Stanton being chosen by unanimous vote. The baseball boys expect to elect their captain at their first meeting.

The matter of putting on a big celebration was brought up and met with enthusiasm from everyone present. There seems to be no division of opinion on this question—everyone wants to celebrate. The expression of the meeting was to the effect that this celebration, like the one given here two years ago, is simply to have a big time and every cent raised for putting on the celebration will be spent with the one object in view of making the day a hilarious event in the good old town. Work has already been started to secure attractions for the one big day on July Fourth. In fact, there is going to be so much going on that day that to take in everything you will have to be a Siamese twin with a dual personality.

An executive committee from the business men of the town was selected by the chairman as follows: N. E. Walker, R. D. Newton, K. B. Knepper, Joe Gardner, A. Wilmot and A. V. Dunkle. The American Legion will select their own committee later. The celebration will be put on this year the same as two years ago, under the auspices of the American Legion with the assistance of the business men of the town.

After discussing a number of interesting topics the meeting adjourned.

Burglars Busy

Some time during the night, Tuesday, Perryman's Confectionery and the office of the Standard Lumber Company were burglarized. At the former place they secured about $35 in small change from the cash register and a large quantity of cigarettes, according to a statement by Mr. Perryman. At the Standard Lumber Company's office they had poor pickings as Mr. Kite had deposited all of the day's receipts.

Marshal Gardner phoned to the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Grant Robbins was put on the job, and is now working on the case. The job had every indication of having been done by amateurs.

Wife Put One Over

He had been married about a year, and had taken to spending his evenings down town with the boys. One night his conscience worried him, and he thought he would phone his wife and get her to come down and meet him and have dinner with him. So he called her up.

"Hello, kid," he began. "Say, slip on some old clothes and run down and meet me on the quiet. We'll have a good dinner and then we'll get a machine and go and smear a little red paint around. How about it?"

"I'll be delighted to join you, Jack," was the reply. "But why not come up to the house and get me? There's nobody home!"

As her husband's name was Tom, he spends his evenings at home now. And his wife wears a queer smile, when he isn't looking at her.—Ex.

Justice Court News

Yesterday afternoon Marshal Gardner swore out a warrant for the arrest of Postmaster John F. Brown, for running a car without proper license. Mr. Brown was taken before H. P. Hull, justice of the Peace, where he refused to plead guilty to the charge. He was placed in the custody of Marshal Gardner until his appearance at Moscow, Saturday.

Harley Edwin Bencotter

LATAH COUNTY NEWS PARAGRAPHS

Clipped From The Columns of Neighboring Papers.

The Village election held Tuesday the 24th was well attended, there being 98 votes cast out of 115 persons registered. There were two tickets in the field, the Citizens ticket that was nominated by a mass meeting held sometime ago and which comprised of the following: W. L. Fields, who received 80 votes; Frank Vincent, who received 78 votes; S. T. Rector, 58 votes; Miles Pierce, 55 votes and W. J. Cochran, 54 votes. This ticket was elected straight.—Juliaetta Record.

It seems that at last the road signs authorized made by the commercial club last year—when that organization was still live—will be put up. Rev. James N. Pendleton, accompanied by Boy Scouts, will undertake the task.

Meyer & Son have agreed to furnish a truck to haul the signs and the start will be made from the Meyer garage Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

Rev. Pendleton and the Boy Scouts will not only receive the thanks of Genesee people, but the traveling public as well.—Genesee News.

Village Dads Met

The Village Board met in regular session Tuesday evening with all members present. Bills were allowed, election returns were examined and other routine business transacted.

The marshal was directed to install a larger overflow pipe at the public watering trough to carry off the surplus water.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the Village marshal, treasurer and clerk was passed. The salary of the marshal was raised $15 a month, making the total $115, the treasurer's salary remained $15, the same as before and the clerk's salary of $15 was also left as before.

A change was made in ordinance No. 146, Section 1, fixing the speed limit at 18 miles an hour instead of 15 and a clause added to compel drivers of automobiles or trucks to close their cut-outs while in town. The members of the council expect to enforce the speed limit and a number of arrests may be looked for in the near future.

The installing of the newly elected members of the board was held over until an adjourned session, which will be held next Tuesday evening. After that date the new board will be in power.

A permit was granted to Dr. Rothwell to build an open shed at the rear of the Kendrick State Bank building.

Contractor Breaking Camp

Campbell & Barr, contractors, who did the road work here, are breaking camp and expect to leave today. They have a contract of crushing and spreading rock on a section of highway near Genesee.

Their concrete men are tearing out several crosswalks here and will also tear out a section of the concrete storm gutters that failed to "set". It was thought the cement was either a poor grade or that it froze soon after it was put in. The former theory seems to be the logical one as the crosswalks are thick enough so that they would hardly freeze to the bottom before the cement had time to set, yet the cement is as soft at the bottom as on top.

Campbell & Barr volunteered to replace the soft places in the cement work as they wished to leave a first class job here in both their street work and road work. When the cement work has been replaced they work the have done here will be first class in every way and entirely satisfactory.

What Governs the Selection of Your BREAD

Does price influence the selection of bread you buy like many other food commodities, or is it quality plus food value?

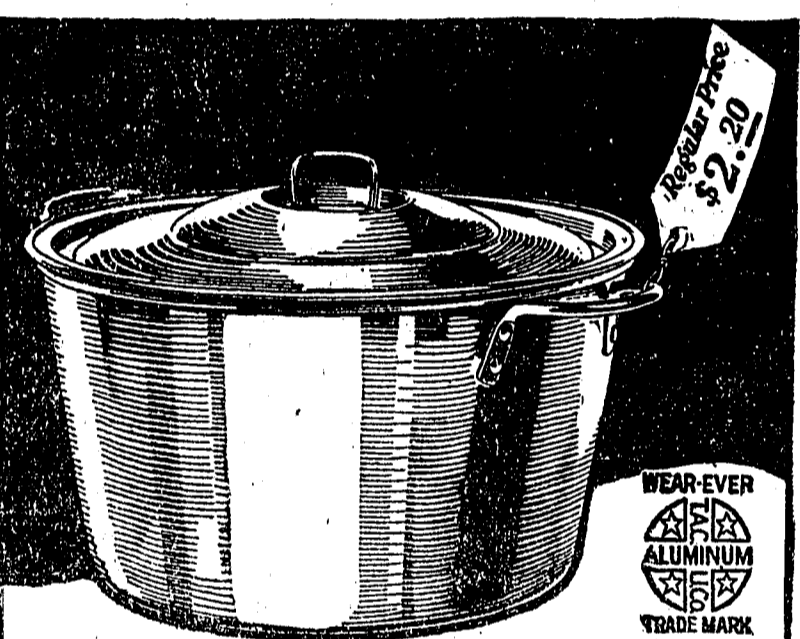

Have you ever stopped to consider why two loaves of bread may resemble each other in size and appearance and yet be vastly different in food value? Have you ever stopped to think why we prefer to pay more and recommend BETSY ROSS and HOLSUM when it would be just as easy for us to secure cheaper brands? BETSY ROSS and HOLSUM are best for that growing boy or girl—they are best for you too, because they contain the maximum of life's sustaining food value that other breads lack.

Always specify your preference when ordering and don't say bread, say BETSY ROSS or HOLSUM.

N. B. Have you tried the new HOLSUM TEA BISCUITS? There are nineteen delicious tea biscuits in a pan and are delightful when warmed for a few moments just before using.

PRODUCING WOOL IN STATES

In 1922 Total of 219,095,000 Pounds Was Reported—Wyoming and Texas in Lead.

In 1922 production totaled 219,095,000 pounds (not including pulled wool), compared with 225,540,000 pounds in 1921. COMPLAINTS AGAINST MOLES

Much of Damage Reported Has Been Due to Mice Following Underground Passages.

Many complaints concerning damage by moles in lawns, gardens and truck farms have received attention from the biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, during the past year. Much of the damage reported has been found to be due to mice following in the mole runways. This is generally the case where sprouting grain, vegetables and flower bulbs are being eaten. Moles do real damage by lifting up the soil into ridges, so that grasses or other plants are killed by the breaking or drying out of the roots. This is the more common type of injury in the Eastern states. In western Washington and Oregon and in northwestern California, moles, in connection with their burrowing activities, also pile up mounds of dirt which cover and destroy crop or forage plants and interfere with the use of harvesting machinery. Practical methods of control have been supplied to those complaining of this kind of damage, through correspondence, published material, and demonstrations.

IN PLANTING SECOND CROPS

Good Plan to Stimulate Growth by Adding Bone-meal—Scatter Over Surface Thinly.

In planting the second crop it is a good plan to stimulate the growth by adding bone meal. Scatter it over the surface thinly, rake it in, and then sow the seed. It is soon worked into the soil, and within two weeks the plants begin to show signs of the plant food they get from the bone-meal.

FINISHED LAMBS IN GOOD DEMAND

Young Animals in Farm Flock
Should Be Ready for Market
When Four Months Old.

TRY TO AVOID STOMACH WORM

Make More Rapid and Less Expensive Gains While Young Than When Older—It is of Utmost Importance to Feed Properly.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Lambs in the farm flock should be ready for market when about four months old, according to specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Reasons for pushing the lambs as fast as possible in order to market them at this early age are as follows:

Average market prices are higher in the spring and early summer.

Lambs will make more rapid and less expensive gains in flesh while young than when they are older.

Less labor and less pasture will be required for the flock.

Escape Internal Parasites.

Lambs marketed in the early part of the season escape the heat of the summer and the ravages of the stomach worm and other internal parasites. This is very important, say the specialists, as it has been found that in most instances the weight of lambs remains practically at a standstill from mid-summer until fall. If they become infected with stomach worms, as is usually the case in the farm flock, they will lose weight during this period and a large number of the animals may die.

Proper Feed is Essential.

In order to produce lambs of desirable quality and weight for the market at this early age it is necessary to feed properly both the ewes and lambs. The ewes should be brought to the lambing season in good flesh so that a large milk flow is assured. It has been found that it is not essential to feed grain to ewes suckling lambs if they are on good pasture. If the pasture is short, however, or if the ewes are on dry feed the daily addition of 1 to 2 pounds of grain per head to their ration is advisable. The lambs should be taught to eat at as early an age as possible. They will usually begin nibbling at feed when they are from 10 to 15 days old. A creep should be prepared so that they can get away from the ewes and the best quality of alfalfa or clover hay should be kept before the lambs in this creep. They should also be given small amounts of such feed as crushed corn, oats or barley with a little wheat bran and oil meal. It is important that the grain be clean and fresh and that the troughs are kept clean. After the lambs have learned to eat they should be given twice daily, as much grain as they will eat within a few minutes' time.

If the general practices outlined above are followed by the farm flock owner it will be very easy for him to put his lambs on the market at an early age with sufficient weight and condition to satisfy the buyers and to assure him of good returns.

PLANTS TO BE TRANSPLANTED

Harden Off Gradually, Giving Fresh Air and Avoid Sudden Changes of Temperature.

If plants are kept growing at a rampant pace in the warm hothouses right up to the time they are to be transplanted in the open garden they are likely to be sappy and spindling. Harden them off gradually as transplanting time approaches, give them a breath of fresh air frequently, and do not subject them to sudden changes of temperatures. If this is done losses will be less, the plants will start off much more readily and will remain thrifty throughout the season.

DANGEROUS GARDEN DISEASES

It Pays to Carefully Examine Plants Before Setting Out—Look for Yellows on Cabbage.

Many dangerous diseases are carried into gardens on plants. It pays to examine plants before setting them in the garden. Cabbage plants, for example, should be turned upside down and examined carefully for a disease known as yellows, which has been common in midwestern gardens during the last few years. Those with yellow leaves are probably diseased. Dwarfed, twisted leaves, with a dark brown streak in the sap tubes, are other symptoms of yellows.

BEWARE OF NOXIOUS DODDER

Slogan Which Seed Growers Must Adopt if They Wish to Stay in Business.

"Beware of dodder" is a slogan which clover seed growers must adopt if they wish to stay in the game. There is no weed that is causing clover seed growers more anxiety than field dodder. New infestations are being discovered each year. Like many other weeds dodder may grow unnoticed by the farmer until it has obtained a foothold that is hard to break.

LIVE STOCK LANTERN SLIDE

Series of Illustrations Has Been Prepared by the Department of Agriculture.

A series of 40 lantern slides illustrating the United States Department of Agriculture exhibit at the International Live Stock exposition, last December, has been prepared by the department, and is now available. The slides are reproductions of photographs of various portions of the exhibit. They include discussions of breeding and feeding of animals, facts and figures on extent of live stock industry, equipment of live stock farms, results of experimental work, market grades and standards, market news service, and selection and use of meats. A brief outline which points out topics of special interest in connection with each slide accompanies the series.

The set of slides was prepared by the bureau of animal industry and the states relations service, largely in response to requests from extension workers. The purpose is to make available in lantern slides the current recommendations and work of the department with respect to the live stock industry. Requests for the slides should be addressed to the Office of Co-operative Extension Work, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, through state directors of extension.

SMOOTH PEA TO START EARLY

Harder Than Wrinkled Type and Will Germinate Even When the Soil is Cold and Wet.

The smooth pea is the one to start early, because it is harder than the wrinkled type. Wrinkled peas often rot in the ground if planted too early, while smooth peas will germinate even when the soil is cold and wet.

Garden Don'ts

- Don't begin without a plan.
- Don't stunt the garden on manure and fertilizer.
- Don't work the ground too wet.
- Don't wait too late in the spring to risk some early things.
- Don't try to economize by buying cheap seed.
- Don't be stingy with seeds; use them freely.
- Don't fail to cultivate frequently.
- Don't be satisfied with a one-season garden, but plant for a succession and for all the year.
- Don't fail to rotate as much as possible.
- Don't neglect the berry plants in the garden.
- Don't let grass and weeds get the best of you.
- Don't let bugs and worms eat what you grow for the family.
- Don't waste the surplus.
- Don't lose your pep when the sun gets hot.

CHAS. RAY AT NEW KENDRICK THEATER

"Oh, the old swimmin'-hole! In the long, lazy days
When the hum-drum of school made so many run-a-ways"
Ever fragrant memories are recalled by these jilting lines from James Whitcomb Riley's poem, and when this week you see Charles Ray in the character of Ezra, the care-free barefoot boy in "The Old Swimmin'-Hole", you will live again your childhood days. While Ray has made a reputation in many juvenile roles, he is at his very best in this idyll. The laughs chase the lumps up and down our throat as you watch his love affair with the school flirt, how she jilts him and how the everfaithful Esther fixes up so prettily that he succumbs to her charms. How he gets into a dozen scrapes and the amusing way he tumbles out of them are all depicted with a freshness and charm that captivate. 18-1t

When the good old family doctor was asked about baking powders, he said:

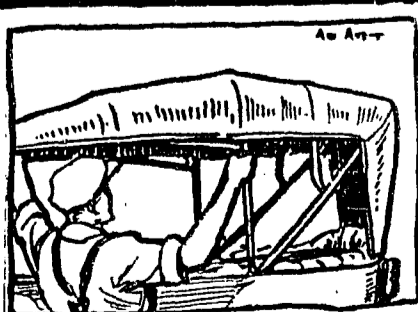

"Use Royal. It is made from Cream of Tartar and is absolutely pure. You could dissolve a couple of teaspoons of Royal in water and drink it with benefit. That's a health test mighty few baking powders can meet."

Whooping Cough

This is a very dangerous disease, particularly to children under five years of age, but when no paregoric, codeine or other opiate is given, is easily cured by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Most people believe that it must run its course, not knowing that the time is very much shortened, and that there is little danger from disease when this remedy is given. It has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, with pronounced success. It is safe and pleasant to take.—Adv.

USING NICOTINE DUST FOR PESTS

Application of New Method of Insect Control Is Discussed in Recent Bulletin.

LESS EXPENSIVE THAN SPRAY

Tiny Particles Reach Many Bugs Inaccessible to Liquid and May Be Applied With Various Devices—Avoid Windy Day.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

An important application of a comparatively new method of insect control is discussed in Farmers' Bulletin, 1282, Nicotine Dust for Truck-Crop Insects, by Roy E. Campbell, assistant entomologist, truck-crop insect investigations, bureau of entomology. This method thus far has surpassed any other known methods of controlling such important pests as the onion thrips, cucumber beetles, the melon aphid, and the pea aphid.

Nicotine dust has several advantages over a liquid spray of nicotine sulphate. Dusting requires much less weight of material per acre than spraying, and may be done in a much shorter time with a lighter and less expensive machine, in most cases at less cost for labor. The tiny particles of dust reach many insects inaccessible to sprays. Dust may be applied with hand-dusters, horse-drawn outfits, or power-operated outfits, according to the size of the acreage.

Nicotine dust is a nicotine-sulphate mixed in correct proportions with a dust carrier. Lime alone is ordinarily used for the carrier, but the addition of sulphur to the lime makes the material more effective against most insects. Several thorough applications may be necessary. These should be made when the insects first appear, before any damage is done. The dust is most effective at temperatures above 65 degrees F. and when the air is still. It loses strength if held for any length of time or if not put up in airtight containers, and should not be applied on a windy day.

Certain diseases, as well as certain insect enemies of vegetables can be controlled by adding a proportion of powdered sulphur to the nicotine dust. Several forms of chewing insects attacking vegetable crops can be controlled by adding 10 per cent of powdered lead arsenate to the nicotine dust used against aphids or thrips, and this combination treatment is advisable when dusting small plants for cucumber beetles.

Farmers' Bulletin 1282 is available upon application to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

CUTTING POTATOES FOR SEED

Many different ideas concerning cutting potatoes are held by farmers. Usually growers cut for the number of eyes rather than for a definite size seed piece. Commercial growers know that the size of the seed piece is an important factor in securing vigorous plants and good stands. Experiments have proved that as you increase the size of the seed piece you increase the vigor of the roots and tops, and consequently the yield. With this in mind pieces weighing about two ounces or the size of an egg are generally recommended and planted by successful growers.

Chamberlain's Liniment applied and a quick recovery may be expected. Mrs. F. J. Dann, Brockport, N. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment in the house and this was applied to my back. It promptly drove away the pains and aches."—Adv.
