Messrs. Harsh and Carroll, who tied in the election for highway commissioner, settled matters at the board meeting last Saturday by drawing lots. Mr. Harsh drew the long straw and therefore got the office. "I guess I could have stood that," said Carroll later, "but the minute he had the job cinched he went and ordered me out of the office." That did look like adding insult to injury.—Deary Press.

A. A. Nelson of Troy, who was charged with being a persistent violator of the state prohibition law was ordered released and his bond of $750 returned by the probate court, Tuesday, when the court concluded that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant the court to hold Nelson to the district court. Testimony was presented before Judge Adrian Nelson, who took the case under advisement.

Nelson plead guilty to a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor in district court last April and was fined $200 which he paid.

A car of Genesee potatoes will go out the first of the week for Tennessee. It has also been stated that a car will leave about the same time for Honolulu—indicating that the people both east and west know good spuds when they see them—and they are taking no chances on buying them even when they read about them.

The Genesee non-irrigated potatoes are becoming internationally known and were quoted on the Chicago market at $1 per hundred higher than were eastern potatoes. When you say "Idaho potatoes" it means all there is in the best of potato flavor, and when you say "Genesee non-irrigated potatoes," it means the last word in the aristocratic spud vocabulary.—Genesee News.

She Was Good

A movie picture girl, home to see the folks, was told by her dad that he couldn't get the mortgage renewed on the old home place. "How much is it?" she asked. "$3,000," dad said. She reached in her silk stocking, pulled out a bundle of money, handed him six bills, $500 each. Dad looked at her roll, said, "Bessie, have you been a good girl in Hollywood?" "Well, dad," she said, "a girl who gets a roll like mine in Hollywood would have to be good."—Ex.

Specialists Write on Subjects of Interest

Poultry

Valuable birds should be treated for colds and for slight cases of roup by dipping their heads three times daily in a solution made with 7.3 grams of corrosive sublimate in a pint of water. This solution must be placed in a non-metal container and great care must be exercised because of the poisonous character of the solution. It is very effective, however, in controlling the trouble.—R. T. Parkhurst.

Agronomy

The general outlook for high class seed for 1926 planting appears favorable. Farmers can be assured of getting good seed for their new seedlings of the more important crops. Nevertheless, the same care should be taken in buying good seed as in previous seasons. Only seed of the highest purity and germination obtainable should ever be seeded on Idaho farms.—H. W. Hulbert.

Livestock

Salt is as necessary for swine as for other farm animals. A convenient way to feed it is in combination with wood ashes. One part of salt to three parts of ashes is a practical mixture. If the swine have not been accustomed to salt, however, they should not be given free access to it for a while or they may take too much.—J. E. Nordby.

In The Home

Growing children need one quart of milk in some form each day; fruit or vegetable juice (raw); two green vegetables daily; whole cereals including bread, eggs, butter and cream. Promiscuous eating between their meals should be condemned. "Pieces" when necessary, should be at regular times and the food should be suited to the child's needs. Regularity in eating is of the greatest importance.—Marion E. Hepworth.

O. E. S. Installs Officers

Canyon Chapter No. 67, O. E. S., held an interesting session last Tuesday afternoon and evening. Installation of officers was conducted at three o'clock in the afternoon. At 6:30 a delightful banquet was served by Mrs. Jones of Juliaetta. Following this there was degree work.

A number of distinguished visitors were present from Lewiston. They presented the lodge with a beautiful bouquet of cut flowers and a bouquet of carnations was also received from the Moscow lodge. A number of presents were received by several of the outgoing and incoming officers.

County Commissioner G. F. Walker went to Moscow the first of the week to attend the regular quarterly meeting of the Latah county commissioners.

Campfire Girls Organize

A meeting for the purpose of organizing the Campfire Girls was held last Monday evening at the Knepper home. Several of the ladies in town met with the young people to help them perfect the organization. Mrs. Edgar Long was elected Guardian. She has had previous experience in this work and has also been a member of the Campfire Girls when they had an organization here. Mrs. G. W. McKeever, a former member of the Campfire, was elected assistant guardian. There will also be six ladies who will act as helpers in the work that is necessary to keep the organization in good working order.

The girls expect to have a membership of nearly twenty and this number will no doubt be increased before many weeks. Some splendid times are in store for the young people. The members will be under the best of influence and the teachings of the Campfire will prove of value to the girls throughout their lives.

After the business session the girls toasted marshmallows before the fireplace and enjoyed a social hour.

Garage Burns at Moscow

Fire early Saturday morning destroyed the frame and galvanized iron building of the Idaho Garage & Motor Company, Second and Washington, Moscow, and burned 13 automobiles. Total loss is approximately $20,000. The loss of the building was placed at $7,000, with small insurance. Cars burned, together with garage equipment, made a loss estimated at $13,000. Some of the cars were insured.

There were three new Overlands and two new Oldsmobile cars among those burned, the others being stored or in the shop for repairs. The fire started at 3:30 a. m. from some cause not determined. The building was owned by A. S. Frost.

Word From Rev. J. A. Hall

Rev. J. A. Hall, of LaGrande, Oregon, former pastor of the Methodist church of Leland, writes interestingly as follows: "We enjoy reading the Gazette and hearing from so many of our friends. We get a line from so many of our friends in and around Kendrick through the Gazette it is almost like a letter to us. We spent nine years on American and Potlatch ridges and we believe we have a host of friends there. It does us good to hear from them thru your columns.

"We love our work here and it seems to be a great opportunity. This is a good city of more than 10,000 people of almost every religion, and we are in the rush."—J. A. Hall.

"The Roof of the World"

Dr. H. L. Canwright, for 33 years in west China and Dean of the medical department of West China Union University, will lecture on "The Roof of the World" at the Methodist church here tonight, January 15. Dr. Canwright knows by experience mob violence, riots, wrecks and civil war in China. He was a prisoner in China for three months during the Boxer uprising and had thrilling experiences in the civil war there.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend this lecture which is free to the general public.

Gave Himself Away

Old Story: A farmer had a hog stolen. He cautioned his wife to keep quiet, thinking they might get a clue to the thief by something they heard said. When they attended church on Sabbath day the pastor said, "I have meat to eat that you know not of." The farmer whispered to his wife, "We never did suspect him, did we?"

Dried Prunes Good Price

J. P. McLaughlin, who has handled prunes on American ridge quite extensively for several years, is marketing the dried product at very satisfactory prices, getting 9c F. O. B. Kendrick. The Lewiston Mercantile Co. has bought the bulk of his crop.

Mr. McLaughlin has a large dryer on his American ridge farm. He dried the prunes from his own orchard and bought the crop from other orchards on the ridge. His total output this season will be between 18 and 20 tons. At the present price he is netting a good profit. A year ago the market on dried prunes was 4 1/2c and 5c.

Waltz Has Topaz Mine

D. F. Waltz brought a handful of topaz crystals to town Tuesday afternoon. He found them buried between two granite rocks on his Cedar Creek ranch. The crystals look very much like ordinary glass. They are of various sizes, from half inch to an inch and a half long and from a quarter to an inch thick. They are hexagon in shape and are all pointed in a peculiar manner. They were found on granite stone and the specimens brought in by Mr. Waltz had been broken from an overhanging rock and evidently buried where they were found, probably by Indians, years ago.

Prof. Strauch made a chemical analysis of the stones and pronounced them silicon crystals. L. S. Lallatt, local jeweler said they were topaz. It seems that the crystals have many names—silicon, topaz, rhyolite, etc. apply equally as well. The stones have little or no commercial value. They are much harder than glass and will easily cut glass.

Moisture in Incubation

During the last two years the poultry department of the University of Idaho experiment station has been carrying on investigations to determine the value of sprinkling in connection with incubation.

Four different machines of the same make were used in the experiment. The eggs were weighed in grams and one egg out of every four laid by the individual hens was placed in each machine, so that each of the four machines contained eggs out of the same birds.

Machine 1 did not receive any water. No. 2 was sprinkled every morning. No. 3 was sprinkled both night and morning. No. 4 was sprinkled morning, noon and night. As far as possible all other factors were uniform.

Sprinkling twice a day gave about 10 per cent the best results, according to figures on the experiment. Poorest results were obtained with machine No. 1 in which no moisture was used. The experiments are to be continued during the coming year.

If there are no more than 100 eggs a dipper is usually used and sprinkling is done by hand, advises Prof. R. T. Parkhurst. On larger machines a cow fly sprayer is satisfactory for sprinkling, being much quicker and more thorough than the hand method.

Use of additional moisture has also obtained better results with the Mammoth incubators. On the Mammoth machines a line of pipe run above incubator and drips continuously. The water passes through the machine into the moisture pan.

Arthur Brisbane: A committee cannot run a newspaper or nurse a baby.

There is considerable speculation these days concerning the moral status of the 1926 flapper. Personally we don't believe she is half as bad as she is painted. The animal that needs attention is the lounge lizard, the sheik or the cake-eater. The typical specimen of this modern creation is the embodiment of worthlessness. You can't reform him because there is nothing there to reform. He is the real problem.

How long is it going to take the public to learn that the store at which you can buy a sack of sugar at the lowest price isn't necessarily a low-price store. Sugar has been a "leader" or "bait" for years and still seems to have its original pulling power.

Parents used to worry a great deal about son smoking cigarettes, but they have a double worry since the girls are doing it too. Why don't girls smoke cigars or a pipe?

The statement of both local banks shows an increase over the previous statements, published last September. This is a very good showing in view of the fact that there is probably 50 per cent or more of the wheat in this locality still in the hands of the growers.

Reports from the various ridges this week are to the effect that the condition of the roads is exceptionally good for this time of year. Most of the grades are in very fair condition. Wandeher gulch, which receives much the heaviest travel, has been good all fall and is very good now. It is the best winter grade in the Potlatch country.

The stories in farm journals and newspapers published in the farming communities paint a rosy picture of life on the farm. One who has never had practical experience in farming would naturally come to the conclusion that anyone can farm successfully. We read of one man's wonderful success with poultry. Maybe his neighbor has made big money on his bean crop. These are the men we hear about but it is seldom that those who have had bad luck with their poultry or their crops, are mentioned. It would give us a better balanced idea of farm life if we were to hear of the failures along with the successes.

Is Every Animal At Its Best?

Don't let your stock lose their Summer's gain through November neglect. Your animals are now going on dry feed—hay and grain.

It's a big change from the succulent, nutritious grasses of summer pastures which supply the needed laxatives and tonics.

Keep your animals' bowels open and regular—drive out the worms—keep their blood rich and keep their digestion good by feeding regularly

Don't allow your stock to "get off feed" and in a run-down condition.

Condition your cows for calving by feeding Dr. Hess Stock Tonic before freshing. Then feed it regularly to increase the flow of milk. It lengthens the milking period.

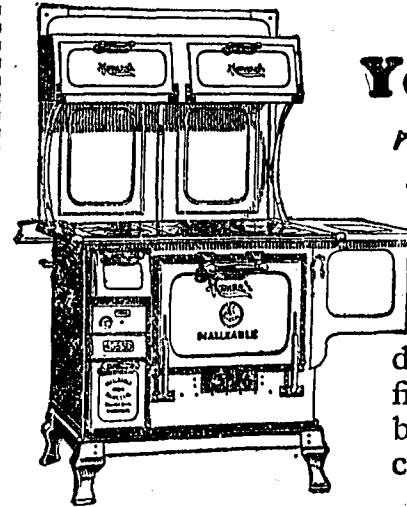

Buy Stock Tonic according to the size of your herd. Get from your dealer two pounds for each average hog, five pounds for each horse, cow or steer, to start with, feed as directed and then watch results.

Why Pay the Peddler Twice My Price?

We are authorized by the Drs. Hess & Clark Co. to absolutely guarantee that a .pail .of .stock food will increase the milk and cream supply and thereby increase your cream checks... If it don't your money is refunded. Isn't that fair?

To Turn Wood Black

One of the simplest ways to stain wood black is to drop a small quantity of sulphuric acid into a little water, and then brush this over the wood. Afterwards, hold the wood to the fire, and the result will be a fine black color that will take a good polish.

Rev. Taber went to Cream ridge to hold the funeral service of Mrs. Frank Gates, who died January 9. Mrs. Gates was born in Sweden in 1865 and came to this country after she was married and settled in Minnesota. Her first husband, whose name was Helberg, died several years ago. In 1915 she was married to Frank Gates. He sides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss, a son, Alvin Helberg of Dryad, Wash., besides a host of friends.

Mrs. Alvin Rice has been visiting at the parsonage for a few days and then returned to her home at Orofino last Tuesday. Mrs. Harrison Daugherty and children went to Pomeroy last Monday to visit her sister, and returned home Friday.

Mrs. C. J. Taber went to Lewiston last Friday returning Saturday.

Miss Edith Taber's Sunday school class was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. DeWinter last Wednesday evening after school. The children played games until refreshments were served and after supper at an early hour they departed for their homes.

Several pupils from outside schools came to Leland to take the eighth grade examinations.

Rev. Brink of the Reformed church, who lives near Yakima, preached in the Leland church last Monday evening to a good crowd. The next morning he spoke in the school. Rev. Brink was for 15 years a missionary from his church among the Navaho Indians and his lecture was both interesting and educational. He also sang one verse of "Jesus Loves Me", in the Navaho tongue to the children.

Will Hold Women's Meeting

In response to a volume of enthusiasm for a women's division of the third annual Young Farmers' conference, to be held in Spokane on January 29 and 30, a supplementary women's meet has been announced. It will be held simultaneously with the men's conference in the Davenport hotel on Friday and Saturday, January 29 and 30. And from present indications, the men's section will have to go some to outshine it.

Some of the questions already suggested for discussion are:

No. 1—How can a woman on the farm earn money on the side?

No. 2—How can farm women systematize their work to enjoy more time for self-improvement and recreation?

No. 3—How can the family ration be properly balanced during the winter when fresh vegetables are not available as they are in summer?

Many more questions of a pertinent nature will be brought to the conference, where efforts will be made to answer them after group analysis. The women's conference will be conducted similarly to the Young Farmers' meet, inasmuch as there will be no addresses, no speeches and no lectures by specialists or spellbinders. Farm women will simply bring their most troublesome problems, it will be taken up by the group and an answer threshed out. A conference leader will assist in tabulating recommendations. The success of this type of meeting has been creditably demonstrated by the two previous Young Farmers' conventions. So far as is known though, no similar regional conference for farm women has ever been held in the west.

Both the Young Farmers' conference and the women's convention will open with a general assembly in the Davenport hotel on Friday morning, January 29. That noon, attending farm women will go in a body to a complimentary luncheon provided for by the Inland Empire Relations committee of the Spokane Chamber of Commerce. Spokane county farm women will act as impromptu hostesses to farm women from other counties. This luncheon itself will be one feature of the conference, being a practical illustration of a "balanced" meal.

Following the luncheon, which is served without cost, the main women's conference will open, taking up nearly all of Friday afternoon and continuing on Saturday. Ample time will be allowed, however, for participation by women in the regular Young Farmers' discussions too, and also for a proposed tour through either a candy or cookie plant in Spokane or a drygoods manufacturing plant. Generous entertainment features are being planned, as well as genuinely beneficial discussions.

"Friend husband" will also be appropriately cared for in the Young Farmers' division. All farm men and women are invited to take full advantage of both conferences, bearing in mind that it is one farmers' enterprise which is really their own, to do with as they desire. The Washington Farmer is acting as sponsoring agency and publicity director, but a committee of 29 "young farmers" residing in all parts of the Inland Empire is directing our conferences' activities.

Both men and women are especially invited to the annual Young Farmers' banquet, to be held likewise in the Davenport hotel on the night of January 29. Many surprise features probably including an old quadrille dance, are being planned for the banquet entertainment. There are no charges to attend the conferences and the banquet other than those personally incurred for the trip to Spokane and the banquet dinner itself.

Come and bring your problems!

"Look, papa, Abie's cold is cured and we still got left a box of cough drops!"

"Oo, vot extravagance! Tell Herman to get out and get his feet wet."

Late in London

In London it is impossible to ignore the fact that you are late. The self-righteous hands of clocks point out your guilt whichever way you look. Your eye and your ear are accused on every side. You long for the courteous clocklessness of the country; there, mercifully, the sun neither ticks nor strikes, nor cavils at the minutes. —Stella Benson, in "This Is the End."

NEW RADIO RECEIVER

Don't buy a radio until you see the new 5-Tube Crossley Receiver featuring THE NEW CRESCENDON "Knob of Mystery"

Engineers have proclaimed the Crescendon one of the wonders of Radio. With this "Knob of Mystery" it is possible to get any reasonable degree of volume where other 5-tube machines whisper.

This Crescendon control of the detector tube is equivalent to adding MORE tubes of Radio Frequency Amplification.

Distant stations of reasonable power are brought in without use of amplification gained by means of the CRESCENDON but when more volume is desired, a turn of the KNOB amplifies the volume to any reasonable degree. The volume on local stations can be cut down to a whisper without destroying the quality, or it can be built up as greatly as desired without loss of perfect reception.

The New Crossley 5-Tube has a real wallop that appeals to those who desire great distance, great volume and perfect selectivity.
