Council Held Regular Session

Last Tuesday evening the town council transacted the usual business that comes before the meeting and in addition several important matters were disposed of. After allowing bills and auditing the monthly statement of the treasurer the matter of electing a new member to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Frank Chamberlain, was taken up. The board finally elected N. O. Raby by unanimous ballot and he was duly sworn in by the clerk. Mr. Raby has served the town for a number of years in the past as councilman and is well qualified for the position. The treasurer, Mr. Emery, presented the annual financial statement, which was made up in a most satisfactory manner. This statement was ordered published in the Gazette and is contained in this issue of the paper. It shows the town in fine shape financially.

Marshal Gardner was instructed to take an invoice of all town property and make it a matter of record at the office of the clerk. After a discussion of other matters pertaining to the welfare of the town the meeting adjourned.

Ole Lien and N. E. Walker returned Thursday afternoon from a business trip to Moscow.

Kendrick Needs These Three

In most every line of business Kendrick is pretty well represented but there are three things this town needs and there are good openings here for all three. One is a good lawyer—if there is such a thing. There is plenty of business here to keep a lawyer busy and he could make it pay. A local bakery is also needed and there is a good field here for that line of business as the territory is large. There is a splendid opportunity here for a furniture and second hand store, or rather, a furniture and trading establishment. A flourishing business could be built up here if the right man takes hold of it. Boost for all three of these needed enterprises.

Pleasing Card Party

Last Wednesday evening about forty guests were most pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene. The party was given in honor of Miss Almeda Hunter of Peck. Several hours were devoted to playing progressive pinochle. The high honors were won by Miss Dorothy Jones, while Mrs. Ed Galloway was given a bottle of "ketchup" for a consolation prize.

A lovely midnight luncheon consisting of sandwiches, pickles, salad, cake and coffee was served by the hostess.

The party ended with unanimous expressions of a happy evening by the assembled guests.

Word From the Halls

"On our trip from Kendrick to Portland it rained or snowed practically all the way. From Portland we took the renowned Shasta train which makes very few stops and is equipped entirely with Pullmans and has observation car, barber shop, baths, etc. On arriving at Ashland where the train stopped for 20 minutes and took on an extra engine, we were met by Mrs. J. S. Vincent and daughter, Catherine. Mrs. Vincent is the widow of a former editor of the Gazette, who published the paper in the 90's.

"We arrived in Berkeley after passing through snow nearly all the way until we got over the mountains. We were met here by Leslie Rowell, formerly a resident of Spokane. On arriving at Los Angeles we were met at the depot by Mr. and Mrs. A. C. White, Roger White, Mrs. Vivian Peglow, formerly Vivian White, all former residents of Kendrick.

"We have been taking in the sights, visiting the different beaches. We had the pleasure of a call from Mrs. J. H. Hutchison, who used to live on the ranch now owned by Chris Maier. There are a number of Kendrick people living here—M. C. Normoyle, one of the founders of Kendrick, W. D. Pemberton, John Gibson, George and Henry Meyer. At Long Beach are a number more whom we expect to meet before long. Mr. and Mrs. Trelle also live in this vicinity.

We go to Hollywood tomorrow, not to get into the movies, but to see the sights. Sunday we expect to take in Angelus Temple and hear the renowned Mrs. McPherson.

Yours for a Happy New Year,
H. P. Hull."

Successful

Once upon a time a man tried to be a doctor and fell down; tried to be a lawyer and failed; tackled salesmanship and flunked; went into business and resigned. Then he married the wrong girl and after the divorce married what he thought was a widow, but her husband turned up alive. Thinking things over, he opened an office, stuck up a sign that read "Efficiency Expert," made $137,000 telling others how to succeed.—Ex.

Mrs. Dottie Stanton of Lewiston visited relatives here for a short time Wednesday.

Wig Wag Installed

The new wig-wag and gong are now in operation at the Bear creek railroad crossing at the northeast end of Kendrick. This is a vast improvement over the former electric bell and lessens the danger of the crossing to a very large extent. If a man is blind, he can hear the gong; if he is deaf he can see the wig-wag; if he is both deaf and blind he would probably consider it a blessing if the train should run over him.

NEWS FROM THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

Clipped From Papers Published in Latah County.

Genesee Shipped Many Hogs

While hog raising has been merely a side line with most farmers of this section, yet there has been 4,310 head of animals shipped from this station during the past calendar year, the value being $99,160.17. This number was handled by the Genesee Union Warehouse company and these figures were obtained from Manager Frank Hoorman of that company. There have been enough more sold locally and at Moscow to bring the figures to the round sum of $100,000.00—a sum not to be sneezed at, to say the least.

Not many years ago most farmers scorned the idea of milking a few cows and raising from a few to a large drove of hogs, yet at this time practically every farmer makes his cream check pay his living expenses, feeds the milk to hogs and thereby has a neat sum as a surplus over and above his other farm products.

Verily, cows, hogs and chickens are not to be scorned. They make splendid till fillers and mortgage lifters.—Genesee News.

Forest Highway Projects

Three forest highway projects, included in the 1927 and 1928 program for northern Idaho forests, was completed by officials of the United States bureau of public roads, forest service and state highway department officials at Boise.

The projects provided for thru allocation of $395,000 of federal funds available include:

Construction of six miles of the Harvard-Emida highway from the summit to Emida, Benewah county and the St. Joe forest—$100,000 available in 1928—Deary Press.

Successful Trapper

Andrew Anderson a resident of Troy recently returned from his trapping expedition into the mountains above Pierce. He had to leave his business and come to a lower altitude because of the snow which covered his traps and prevented him from going over his trap line each day. Among his forty or more fur pelts were one very valuable lynx hide.

Mr. Anderson expects to go back into the mountains in the early part of the spring.—Troy News.

Again Search for Kleweno

Walter Kleweno, brother of R. C. Kleweno, missing for a month in the mountains northeast of Harvard, accompanied by David Hickman, Dewey Wardrobe and William VanHorn, left over the week-end for Grizzley camp, where they will establish a camp and remain for at least a week searching for the body of the missing man.

They intend to keep close watch of animal tracks that might lead to the body. If no trace is found of the 27-year-old man at the end of the week, the search will be abandoned, it is said.

Several hundred searchers scoured the woods above Harvard for more than two weeks in hopes of finding Kleweno either alive or dead, abandoning the search only a short time ago with the advent of snow. Scattered groups have gone into the woods from time to time since organized search ceased, but none has found the slightest trace of the youth, who became lost November 30 while on a hunting trip. #### Goes on With a Puff

A little girl buying powder for her sister. "Do you want the kind that goes off with a bang?" asked the clerk. "No, I want the kind that goes on with a puff," she said.

An exchange says that a woman is as old as she looks before breakfast.

Your friends like to tell their troubles to you, but they are not a bit interested in your troubles, so you might just as well keep them to yourself.

Governor H. C. Baldrige, in his message this week, recommends that the speed limit outside of municipal limits should be increased to 35 miles per hour. After all this is a matter of small consequence whether the limit is 30 or 35 miles per hour if the speed laws are not enforced. Anyone who drives a car can testify that speed limits in this state are practically disregarded.

Former Governor Moore in retiring from office last Monday, recommended that in conducting state affairs, Idaho should not be "penny wise and pound foolish." The state has been following the "penny wise" method for several years past in failing to provide adequate appropriations for state highway construction. The gasoline tax is the only available money for state highways and it is stated on good authority that this amount is barely sufficient for maintenance work. By including a substantial sum in the budget for construction work each year, the state might have hopes of keeping up with its neighbors on the west in road building.

Too Many Dogs in Genesee

The Genesee News complains of the fact that its town is full of cur dogs and intimates that a remedy should be forthcoming. There are two ways to "weed" them out—enforce the collection of dog taxes or borrow Kendrick's dog-poisoner. You can have the latter if you will promise to come over and get him and then shoot him when you are through with him.

In Missouri

A farm sale was held not long ago in the Missouri hills, a large crowd was present and in general things drew a good price. A good two-year old heifer brot $28, while an old coon dog with one eye out brot $32. Of course everybody in that part of the country knows that the old hound will tree coons much better than a heifer.—Altoona Tribune.

BEN FRANKLIN RATED FERTILITY ABOVE MONEY IN THE BANK

Back in the days when Benjamin Franklin trod the streets of Philadelphia, many gems of Franklin wisdom went out of that city and into the copy of books of forthcoming generations. One of Franklin's best was, "The best investment is a deposit of fertility in the soil bank—surest and pays the best." True in that day of virgin soils, and truer by far today!

Since Dr. Franklin made that farsighted observation the boundaries of American agriculture have been pushed west, south, and north in our nation. New soils have been made old soils. The preservation of soil fertility has become a problem of vital importance to agriculture.

Thousands of experiments have been made. Many commercial fertilizers have been developed. But in most sections the old reliable barnyard manure remains the outstanding fertility restorer. Always considered a by-product of livestock production, in these days of highly intensive farming it assumes a role of first importance. No farmer can afford to waste its life-giving fertility.

Common sense says that every forkful should be put on the fields. The McCormick-Deering Manure Spreader makes this a comparatively easy task. Loads can be lifted easily over the low sides of the McCormick-Deering, after which the light-draft spreader carries the manure to the fields and spreads it uniformly and finely over the ground. Some pull their spreaders with their Farmall tractors. Others use horses or regular tractors. In any event, the work they do is of the most profitable kind.

If you are not now taking advantage of the McCormick-Deering Manure Spreader, we suggest that you talk to us about one for immediate use.
