NEWS NOTES FROM THE KENDRICK SCHOOLS

What The Students Are Doing This Week.

The General Assembly program last Friday, was conducted by the seniors as follows: Bible reading by Dorothy Holt; Program by primary room, Fashion Show; Songs, "Pata Cake," "Mary Had a Little Lamb," "The Muffin Man," "Hickory, Dickory Dock," "We Brush Our Teeth," "Baa, Baa Black Sheep," "The Sun Bonnet Babies" by Cleota Bolon and Evelyn Brown. "Nonsense Rhyme" by Phyllis Thomas. Short play by Claude Cook and Wilbur Corkill.

Monday morning, Rev. Mitchell gave a very interesting talk to the General Assembly, which was made up of all the high school and the grades. The talk was about Palestine and was illustrated by pictures and articles that he brought from that country.

The Ancient History students have been giving reports on various leaders of the Roman Empire.

The English IV had a very interesting debate. The subject was "Resolved that Immigration is Detrimental to the United States." Those on the affirmative were: Lizzie Jones and Hester Knepper, and Wilbur Corkill and Claude Cook were on the negative.

The high school has a new set of Encyclopaedia. These books are much appreciated by the students, as the others were quite out of date.

The high school students have been taking a great deal of interest in their program.

The Girl's Glee club has sent for a new song. It is a trio called "Peggy." The club is very anxious for this to arrive so they can start practicing on it.

The high school girls are organizing a baseball team. The athletic association have ordered balls and a bat.

The girl's basket ball party, last Friday, was postponed for a week, because some of the girls were unable to come. The party will be given this Friday.

Thirteen of the children in the primary room bought the book "Work and Play with Words." They find it very interesting. The lesson consists of word matching and coloring by directions. These books cost only forty cents and are very educational.

The first and second grades are learning some new songs: "Pit-a-pat," "The Shoemaker's song," "My Dolly's Name," "Miss Mary," "My Teddy Bear," "Pussy Mitz and Doggie Spitz," "Oats, Peas and Beans," "Teeter Totter," "Jack and Jill," "Mud Pies," "Hot Cross Buns," "The Gingerbread Man" and "Sleepy Head."

For language the children learned the following poem, John Knepper was the first to learn it: "Jack and Jill went to school"

To get an education,
They had to cross a railroad track

And pass a filling station.
But they were taught so well at school,

No broken crown got they
'Tis sad such caution was not taught

In Mother Goose's day."

The children of the primary room decided that they would have a dress-up day, Friday. Their costumes were admired by the high school. In their part of the assembly program they gave a fashion show as follows: Evening frock, Wanda Johnson, Kitchen frock, Milton Wilkins, Hiking suit, Cleota Bolon; Afternoon dress, Jewel Cummings; Little Sheba, Phyllis Thomas; The three flappers, Evelyn Brown, Quilty Perryman and Donald Carlson

The seventh grade wrote on arithmetic last Friday. Questions were sent by our state superintendent. The grades tallied exactly with the class work. The highest grade was 98 and the lowest 29. There were 5 in the

Red Clover Seed Production

Farmers thruout the state are extremely enthusiastic about red clover seed production, says C. B. Ashlon, Field Agronomist and State Seed Commissioner. The survey of the clover seed situation indicates that Idaho farmers can profitably continue to keep red clover in the rotations.

The good prices of recent years, will have a tendency to increase the acreage. It is the history of the clover seed industry like other industries, that high prices stimulate acreage. Many farmers will hesitate to purchase clean seed because of the initial cost of the seed and often times resort to the planting of cheap seed which invariably is not profitable for a seed crop. The resultant crop is very likely to be weedy and will not command the price equivalent to the present price or price of number one grade seed. The planting of inferior seed will not bring profitable returns and the grower will condemn the red cover seed industry when he is at fault.

If the grower cannot afford to plant the recommended amount of 8 to 10 pounds of high quality clover seed per acre, it would be better to plant less seed of good quality than a surplus amount of inferior seed, to contaminate the good, clean, well prepared seed bed.

Ordinarily in the spring a nurse crop is planted with red clover. The best nurse crops are: Trebi barley and Federation wheat, because these varieties produce less foliage and can stand up under a generous supply of water. It is necessary, in order to obtain a good seed stand to use about 80 pounds of grain instead of 100. Perhaps farmers in Twin Falls, Jerome and Gooding and parts of Lincoln counties adhere to the Dick wheat as a nurse crop.

The clover ordinarily is seeded with the grass seeder attachment on the grain drill and is broadcast ahead of the grain. The seed is covered with the chains and discs of the drill. The land should be rolled after seeding.

Federation wheat and barley should be drilled in early. If the seed is planted early in Boise Valley it is often possible to remove the grain crop and harvest two to three bushels of clover seed the same season.

The quality of seed is the most important factor. Get state tested seed. A two ounce sample should be sent to the State Seed Laboratory, Noble Building, at Boise, or to Branch Laboratory at Moscow, for analysis. The report on the lot will indicate whether or not the seed is desirable to put into the soil.

Entertained Campfire Girls

The Campfire Girls were very pleasantly entertained by Nettie May McDowell Monday evening. A part of the evening was devoted to play practice as the girls are planning to present an oriental play, with special features, at an early date. Refreshments of ice cream and assorted cookies were served. The next meeting will be held at the Cummings home.

Former Kendrick Agent Dies

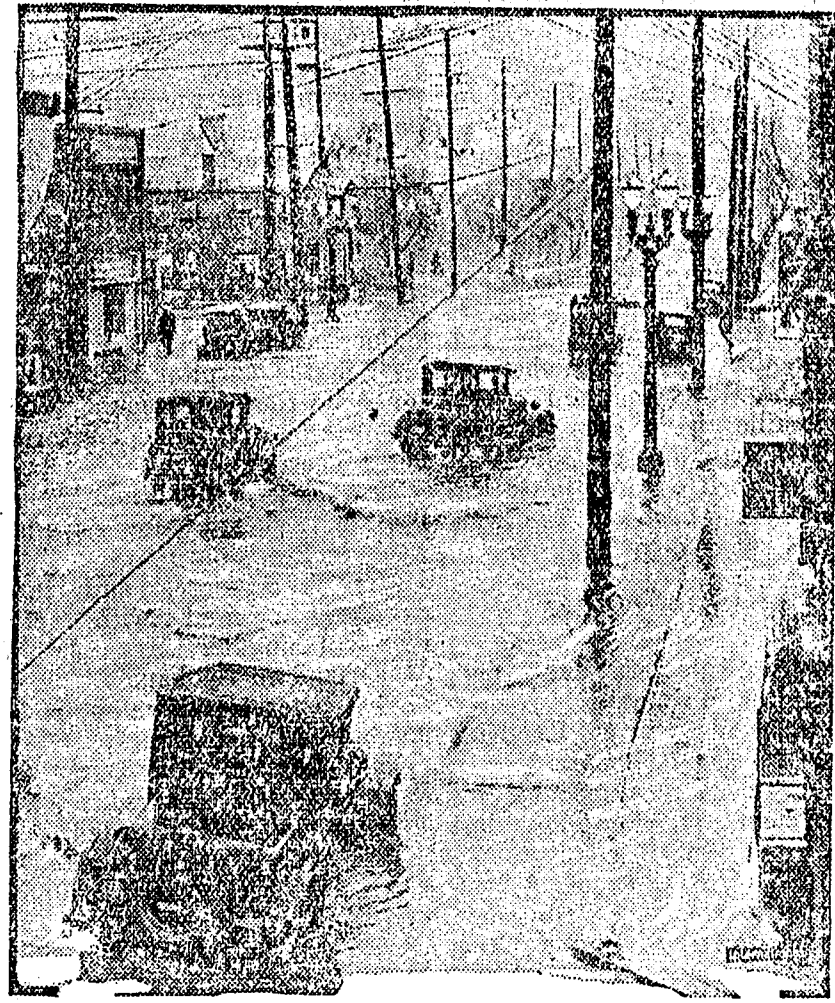

Edward Johnson Miles, station agent in Kendrick in 1904, passed away at his home in Culesac last Monday morning at the age of 70 years, death being due to a heart attack. He was agent at Culesac for 23 years and had been in railroad work for 52 years. He is survived by his widow and 13 children.

In the way of review the 8th grade is drawing maps showing the movements of the armies during the Civil War.

Walter Sparber in Business Law: "A man paid for a dozen laying chickens. He found them lying dead. The question is was it a valid contract?"

Terrific Storm Sweeps California

California, especially the southern part, was devastated by a storm of extreme violence that lasted over a period of several days and resulted in severe floods. A score or more of lives were lost and the property damage was reported as very heavy. The above photograph shows the streets of Los Angeles converted into rivers. Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes there and in other cities. The city of San Diego was virtually isolated and many refugees had to be taken from there by steamers.

Entertains at Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas entertained the Okoke Club at a bridge supper Friday evening at 6:30. Mrs. Thomas, assisted by Miss Eleanor Herres, served a most delicious two-course supper, at four tables. The tables were attractive in St. Patrick decorations with dainty baskets and place cards carrying out the color scheme. Each table was centered with a basket of delicious home-made candies. Following the supper the guests were entertained by several beautiful musical numbers, after which bridge was the center of interest. Mrs. Anderson secured high score for the ladies and was presented with a pretty vase, while Mr. Knepper was high score for the men and received a deck of cards as prize. Mr. Emery was a guest of the club.

Evangelistic Meetings Successful

The evangelistic meetings, closed at the Methodist church last Sunday evening, and were a great success from every standpoint. Large crowds attended and keen interest was shown during two weeks the meetings were in progress. Rev. Taber has had wide experience in evangelistic work and is a very interesting speaker. The service Sunday night was particularly impressive and the congregation taxed the capacity of the auditorium. The best of spirit and harmony prevailed at all of the meetings.

He Almost Yelled

Old story: Scotchman and wife wanted to take a ride in a flying machine. "$15," said the aviator. "Too much—will give you $5," said the Scotchman. Aviator was a sport said: "I'll take you both up, give you all the stunts—it will cost you nothing if you don't yell—$15 if you do." They went up. He gave them everything he had, turned the machine over several times, did perilous dives, went up in the sky out of sight. No yell. Came down, and said to the Scotchman, "You win—you didn't yell." "I almost yelled once when my wife dropped out," said the Scotchman.

Monday evening a reception and social good time was held at the Epworth League hall in honor of the choir and Miss Rodgers of Asotin, who conducted the singing during the series of meetings which ended last Sunday evening.

Leland News

The Old Fiddler's Contest held in the I. O. O. F. hall last Friday evening was attended by one of the largest crowds that has gathered in this community in a long time. All of the music was exceptionally good. It was not an easy matter to select the winner. Prizes were awarded as follows: Mr. John Lewis, first prize, consisting of the clock given by DeWinter & Goudzward and one year's subscription to the Gazette given by the editor of the Kendrick paper; second prize to Monte Stephens; third prize to A. P. Stephens. Following this the audience made up a purse and awarded as follows: Mr. Davis, $5.00; Mr. A. P. Stephens $3.00; Mr. John Lewis, $2.60. Many compliments were received on the splendid program and everyone reported a very enjoyable evening. $61.55 was received, which finished paying for the material for the new sidewalk.

Ernest McVicker of Fix ridge spent the week end with Raleigh Smith.

Miss Bonnie Craig is spending several days visiting with her sister in Lewiston.

Mrs. Vester Whiting and daughter, Esther, were visitors at the Claud Craig home Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fleshman and family were visitors at the Willard Kite home in Kendrick, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Powell were Sunday guests at the E. L. Gallaher home in Juliaetta Sunday.

Mrs. L. L. Davis is quite ill at the present time.

Mrs. Hugh Parks and two children of Fairview, and Miss Elizabeth Hund spent the week end with their mother, Mrs. Jennie Hund.

Representative, Jesse Hoffman and family, who have been at Boise for the past two months, have returned to their home at Leland.

Mrs. Haight and family who have been visiting in Colfax for some time arrived home Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Gibbs were Sunday dinner guests at the Virgil Fleshman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith and daughter, Hene, were Sunday dinner guests at the J. M. Woodward home.

Messrs. Forest Gallaher and Eugene Taylor of Juliaetta, stayed all night at the Calvert home, and took in the contest Friday evening.

E. L. Gallaher of Juliaetta was a guest at the home of his son-in-law, Clifford Powell Friday.

Commercial Club

The commercial club held rather a brief session last Tuesday evening in order that the members might attend the benefit show after the business of the club had been transacted. Twenty-five members were present with Chairman Joday Long, presiding.

Under the head of committee reports the membership committee reported a paid-up membership of 32 and this number is expected to be increased to 50 by next meeting as a number of old members have not yet paid their annual dues and several new members are in prospect.

G. P. Anderson suggested that the club sponsor a farm institute to be held here probably some time the last of this month or first part of April. It is hoped to get County Agent Taylor interested in the institute and also to secure the co-operation of the extension department of the university. It is believed that the institute might be made a very interesting and profitable affair for all concerned.

Marvin Long, chairman of the baseball finance committee, reported $62 in the baseball treasury. This is a good showing in view of the fact that at the February meeting of the club the baseball finances were $45 in the red.

Other matters were discussed and the meeting was then adjourned.

Court Orders New Trial

Orofino—Acting upon an order signed by District Judge Edgar C. Steele, Sheriff Ernest G. Anderson will leave for Boise to return with Dominico Poglianiich, now confined in the state penitentiary under a life sentence, but whose case has been remanded by the state supreme court for new trial.

Poglianiich entered a plea of guilty to first degree murder February 16, 1926, before Judge Steele at Orofino, following the killing of Harry Wells the previous day in the Pierce City region, where Wells had gone to remonstrate with Poglianiich, who was located on land claimed to be possessed by Wells.

Poglianiich claimed he entered a plea of guilty while he was beside himself with fear over threats and treatment alleged at the hands of the officers.

Big Crowd at Horse Sale

The horse sale last Saturday afternoon drew a big crowd to Kendrick and the horses brought fair prices, although they did not sell as high as expected. A beautiful team of black horses, six years old and weighing close to 3400 pounds, was sold for $160. This team during the war would easily have brought $600.

There were fifty head of horses on sale and all but about fifteen head were sold Saturday or have been sold since at private sale. More than three carloads of Montana horses have been shipped here within the past 30 days and evidently the demand has been more than supplied.

The sale aroused considerable interest as there were farmers present from all parts of the Potlatch section.

The junior league of the Methodist church held a weiner roast last Monday afternoon. A fine time was reported by the little folks.

Mr. Gallaher was one of the participants in the Old Fiddler's contest.

Tuesday evening the local high school entertained their parents and friends at a party in the basket ball hall. After spending the evening playing games, contests, races, etc., light refreshments were served. About 70 people were present.

The pupils of the high school are practicing a three-act play to be given in the next few weeks.

The ladies aid will give a community play soon.

NEWS FROM THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

Clipped From Papers Published in Latah County.

Want Streets Surfaced

Fifty citizens and taxpayers of the village of Deary filed with the village trustees last Tuesday night a petition asking that a number of streets and avenues be hard surfaced, and that an election be called to vote on the question of bonding the village for not more than $4,000 for that purpose.—Deary Press.

Kendrick Mystery Club

Kendrick (Special)—The days of the old vigilantes and of the more recent Ku Kluxers is revived in a paid notice published in this week's Kendrick Gazette, which bears all the forceful intonations of the former and the secrecy of the latter.

The notice, as appearing in the newspaper read as follows:

"The Mystery Club will begin its operations in this community on March 11, 1927, and all law violators are warned to leave this section of the country or positively cease their illegal actions by that date. Please take notice and govern yourself accordingly. "The Mystery Club."

Just what it portends, who its sponsors are, or what action will be taken, is a "mystery." It is presumed to be a warning against practices which have been common in Kendrick for several months, which include dog poisoning and other law infractions.

Kendrick is wondering what will happen next Friday, March 11, or if there will be any sudden exodus from the village.—Star-Mirror.

The people of Kendrick haven't been wondering anything about the above mentioned paid ad in the Gazette as they were wise enough to recognize it as a moving picture ad stunt. This dark, deep mystery is a picture entitled "The Mystery Club."

Lucile Moser Married

Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Moser announce the marriage of their daughter, Lucile Consuelo, to Mr. James Edward Burnett of Boise. The marriage took place in Spokane on the evening of Saturday, February 26, the ceremony being presided over by the Rev. Bishop Cross of the Episcopal church.

The bride is one of the most popular members of the younger set of this city.

Mr. Burnett is a prominent young business man of Boise. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and until recently was a member of the senior class of the University of Idaho.—Tribune.

Ethel Custer Married

Miss Ethel Custer, a former operator on the local telephone exchange, was married February 28, to Mr. F. C. Schuler of San Francisco. The wedding took place at Sacramento, which is the former home of the groom.

Mr. Schuler is in the garage business at San Francisco. Mrs. Schuler will remain with the Pacific Telephone Co. until she and her husband move to Sacramento where they will make their home. They are now staying at 1120 Hyde Street, Apt. 36, San Francisco.

Big Crowd at Benefit Show

The benefit picture show given at the New Kendrick Theatre last Tuesday night, drew a big crowd the house being practically filled. A good musical program featured the entertainment. The net proceeds were over $30. This sum will be used for the purchase of music for the Presbyterian orchestra. Mrs. Correa furnished a number of original paintings to be used as posters for advertising purposes.

JULIAETTA COMMUNITY NEWS

Musical Program

Last Wednesday evening a rather impromptu program was given at the Methodist church. It was gotten up by the Ladies Aid only a day or two before, and talent of all kinds were shown. The entertainment, which lasted about two hours, consisted of solos, duets, trios and quartets, both vocal and instrumental. If so much local talent was brought out just by slight preparation, what could be done with a week's preparation? More of such programs can be looked for in the future.

Do You Belong?

Do you belong to the Fraternal and Social Society of Spendthrifts? If you do just stop long enough to figure out what returns your certificate of membership will net you for the enormous dues you are paying out every week. Where are you going and how much is it costing you to get there?

Just because a young man spends all he earns is no sign he is having a good time. He thinks he is. He goes his way, and he cannot understand why his neighbor, who earns less salary than he does, always seems to have money when he needs it. A spendthrift travels a road that leads to only one end—needy and dependent old age.

Wholesale Nationalization
Citizenship has often been conferred on large bodies of people by the annexation of territory as a result of cession or conquest, and it was in this way that the inhabitants of Louisiana, Florida, Texas, Alaska and Hawaii became citizens of the United States. This is known as "naturalization by incorporation."

"ABRAHAM LINCOLN"
By Wilbur Corkill

There probably is no better example of pure, clean manhood than that shown by the life and works of Abraham Lincoln, the greatest of American men. Every boy should read the story of his life and come to appreciate what it means.

Lincoln, the sixteenth President of the United States, was born in a little log cabin in the backwoods of Kentucky, February twelfth, eighteen hundred and nine. He belonged to the poor white class indeed, his father could neither read nor write. But, like most great men Lincoln had a very good mother, who, although far from learned, taught her son all she could. She died while he was but nine years of age. He never forgot her teachings and many years later, when in the White House, he said, "All that I am or hope to be, I owe to my sainted mother."

His early life was that of a backwoods man filled with such experiences as backwoods men have. As a boy he knew little of the school room, having only about one year's training at the crude schools of the time, however, he had determination and fought hard for an education, borrowing books where-ever he could and reading them eagerly. When a young man he split rails for his father and many a time while resting, he would be reading some borrowed book. Yet, although greatly handicapped he developed into a youth of manly character. He was tall and ungainly, but his homely face was so strong and kind that everyone trusted him. Because of his honesty, clearheadedness, simplicity, breadth of mind and unselfish ways, he was often chosen to settle disputes and difficulties among his friends and neighbors. By his perseverance and determination to face difficulties he obtained an education in law, after which he gradually won a reputation as a debator and public speaker. Through these virtues and manly characteristics he rose to the highest ranks of manhood and became a leader in the affairs of the nation.

When the ship of State was thrown into stormy seas, where it was in danger of being engulfed, he became President of our country. Although it was a heavy and untried burden for him, he weathered the storm like a veteran, striving to keep the flag flying and the Union intact.

Hundreds of stories are told of his great heart and almost boundless sympathy, one of the things which caused all people to be his staunch friends. The generals of the Civil War were deeply attached to him, and the ranks of soldiers who fought under these generals almost worshipped this stalwart, noble man. He was familiarly known as "Honest Abe," a name which he lived up to fully. He was always ready to give help and encouragement to all in trouble and his smile was never wanting. His friendly smiles gave the defenders of the union heart to fight for the principles for which the Union stood. Through his efforts the war for right was won, which forever freed the slaves. Just as the war closed and the Union was more firmly established than ever before, he fell by the hand of a cowardly assassin, mourned deeply, not only by his own people, but by the world at large.

Abraham Lincoln believed in preserving the nation by all means. His greatness consisted in his devotion to the cause of equal justice to all men. "I am not bound to win," he said "but I am bound to be true." When Lincoln was fighting against slavery he said, "I know there is a God, and that he hates injustice and slavery. I see the storm coming and I know his hand is in it. If He has a place and work for me as I think he has, I believe I am ready, I am nothing, but truth is everything." Lincoln is loved and honored today in the land of his former enemies, who have placed his monument in the most prominent places among the honored and great of their countries. He has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt the solemn fact that character is greater than power, money, position, education or any other possession. Lincoln is occupying the highest ranks of fame in America today because he more nearly measured up to the standard than any other American, yet while he lived he was the most abused man among living men, and if he could rise from the dead and behold the great honor bestowed upon him by a grateful nation, he would be the most surprised man in the world.

Lincoln's life should be an inspiration to every boy. He was familiar with all the principles which combine to make a straight forward, God fearing man. He loved the wild things of the woods, from the smallest to the largest and he loved to roam in the great out of doors. He had

SAY, MISTER!

How about that watch that has been lying in the dresser drawer for years, with a broken spring? That Family Clock that is trying to hide its face with its hands but they don't move any more? Bring them to me, I'll restore them to life for a very small charge. LaHatt, the Jeweler. 8-1f a high sense of honor, as was plainly shown all through his life. He loved his country above all things, he lived, worked and fought for it, and finally gave his life for it. The path which started at the door of a little log cabin and lead to the White House marked all the way with friendly smiles and deeds of kindness, shows that one who has well defined ideals and stands by them unmoved by difficulties and obstacles, can, and usually will become an eminent man. So let us remember the life of Abraham Lincoln as that of a man who made use of every opportunity and thus climbed to the top of the ladder of fame and glory.
