

NEWS NOTES FROM THE KENDRICK SCHOOLS

What The Students Are Doing This Week.

The first grade is reading a new reader, that is really a second grade book. The second graders are reading their ninth book and are half way through it.

The primary room had special lessons in art work during their reading period class, as they are well advanced in reading.

Monday, they pasted poems in their poem booklets. Tuesday, they cut from colored paper, and mounted them on white paper. Wednesday they colored and cut a rabbit in black and white. They mounted it on black paper with a strip of green at the bottom for grass and blue at the top for sky.

Last week the primary pupils covered shoe boxes with bright crepe paper of various colors. These are to be used as Easter egg baskets. They will be filled with straw and sprinkled with scraps of cut paper.

The room decorations for April have been completed and will be put up next week.

The children are learning, from flash cards, to read street signs.

A Grammar Intelligence Test was given to the high school students, Friday. The three highest grades were made by Doris Emery, Shirley Clem and Helen Emmett. The highest for various sections were: Punctuation, Helen Emmet; spelling, Howard Dammarell; good use, Shirley Clem and Elbert Long; Verbs, Hester Knepper and Elbert Long; sentence punctuation, Doris Emery; sentence structure, Shirley Clem.

The seniors had the highest class average. The next in order were: freshmen, juniors and sophomores.

The average for the 30 pupils who took the test was 69.7 per cent errors, and the total amount of errors 2091.

The general assembly program was given by the sophomores as follows: Bible reading, William Ingle; "His First Shave", play by Elbert Long, Raleigh Smith, Harley Eichner and Bernard Jones; Reading, Mabel Taber; General song; Reading, Walter Sparber; Song, Sophomores male quartet, Elbert Long, Bernard Jones, Manning Onstott and Bill Ingle.

The two new songs ordered by the Glee Club have come. The girls started practicing on them Wednesday.

90 Day Suspended Sentence

Archie Benjamin, of Little Bear ridge, who has spent the last two months in the Latah county jail awaiting trial on a charge of indecent exposure, was brought before A. K. Carlson, local justice of the peace, Monday afternoon, by Deputy Sheriff Roy Garrison. He was sentenced to 90 days in jail, but the sentence was suspended on condition that Benjamin leave the state. Arrest was made by Latah county officers last January.

Install Gasoline Tank

The Continental Oil Co. this week installed a 15,000 gallon gasoline tank at their oil station here. The tank will be used for the new ethyl gas which will be sold by the company in this territory this season. With the installation of the new tank the storage capacity at the local station is 50,000 gallons, which includes one tank of coal oil. Mr. Sturdevant, local manager, states that other improvements are contemplated in the near future.

Baseball Practice Sunday

Manager Bolon announced yesterday that if weather conditions are favorable baseball practice would be held Sunday afternoon. All baseball men are urged to be present.

Fred Bolon arrived yesterday to visit his brother, Ira.

Letter From the Hills

Berkley, California. Well, here we are on our way home, cannot say when we will reach Kendrick—it depends on our pocket book and from the way it is diminishing, it won't be long. I saw a very appropriate sign the other day which said: "Visit California for change and rest." I find that the porters and bell hops get the chance and the landlords the rest.

Since my last letter we have been busy taking in the sights, which are many and varied. We were at Long Beach for two weeks stopping at the Schuyler Hotel on Ocean Avenue, where we found comfortable rooms.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carlson, former residents of Kendrick, (Mrs. Carlson formerly Edith Compton) came up to Los Angeles and took us down to Long Beach. They are nicely situated there and have a lovely home. Mr. Carlson is connected with the American Hardware there and Mrs. Carlson is teaching in the city schools. She recently received a state life certificate to teach in California. While we were there our own children could not have done more for our comfort than they did.

Mr. and Mrs. James Emmett, former Kendrick residents, were always ready to take us sight-seeing. To tell of the many things and the grand sights we have enjoyed would make this letter too long, but must give you a brief account of our visit to the Catalina Islands. Mr. and Mrs. Emmett took us to Wilmington, the seaport of Los Angeles. This is a hand-made port, the breakers running miles out to sea. Here we met Mr. and Mrs. A. C. White, also former Kendrick residents, who accompanied us to the Islands. We took the steamer, Catalina, and were soon on our way across the 30 miles of water between the mainland and the Islands, made famous by the Wrigleys of chewing gum fame. This is also the home of several noted writers, among them Zane Grey and Gene Stratton Porter. Their beautiful mansions stand on the mountain side.

The Island is about 30 miles long and is very mountainous. The business done there is made up principally of hotels, cafes, curio shops and things that interest the tourists. There are several trips made from the Island. One in the glass bottom boat through which one can see at the bottom of the ocean, the different species of fish, shrubbery, rocks, shells, etc. A trip to Seal Island and a drive around the Island and over the mountains are both very interesting.

We are visiting my nephew, Captain Fisher of the Navy, who resides at Berkley. Mrs. Hull has been calling by phone some of her old time friends, who reside in this locality. We know we shall have an excellent visit here as Captain Fisher is a royal entertainer. When I get home will try to tell you of some of the many places of interest where we have been. Regards to all—H. P. Hull.

Directed Spokane Orchestra

Eighteen prominent Spokane musicians, under the direction of Walter Thomas, presented a concert program Tuesday night over radio station KIIQ. The program was sponsored by the Spokane Coyotes, the radio frolic fraternity of the Spokane Advertising Club. A number of Kendrick radio fans listened in on the program and were delighted with the music.

School Election April 16

The annual school election will be held here Saturday, April 16, according to an announcement by Miss Ellen Peterson, Latah county school superintendent. One trustee will be elected to fill the expired term of E. J. Emery. The hold over members of the local board are N. E. Walker and A. K. Carlson.

George Reads George's Address

Senator Walter F. George of Georgia was selected to read Washington's Farewell Address in the senate on February 22, Washington's birthday.

Farm Institute Here Tomorrow

All Day Session Beginning at 10:30 A. M. Meetings for Both Men and Women

Tomorrow is the date set for the farmers institute to be held in Kendrick both morning and afternoon. The morning session, which will be devoted to the subject of poultry, will be for both men and ladies. It will be held in the New Kendrick Theatre, starting promptly at 10:30. Mr. Parkhurst, head of the department of poultry at the university will have charge of this meeting. He is an authority on this subject and his talk will be valuable to anyone interested in increasing the production of the farm flock. The information which Mr. Parkhurst will give is not theory or speculation; it will be hard facts derived from experiments that have been proved by experience. Don't miss this part of the institute program.

At 1:30 p.m. the men's meeting will be held at the theatre. C. C. Vincent, head of the horticulture department of the university will speak on the production of certified seed potatoes. This is a subject that is of vital interest to the potato growers of North Idaho as many of the irrigated districts of the northwest are looking to this comparatively small area for their seed potatoes. This branch of farming promises to become an important one as the demand for good seed is becoming greater every year. In order to receive the benefit of the better price, potatoes sold for seed must be certified. Mr. Vincent will explain the method of raising certified seed.

J. M. Raeder, assistant plant pathologist of the university will talk on potato and bean diseases. He will bring slides for this lecture which will be thrown on the screen. This will be a very interesting talk and should be well

Death of Oliver Cargill

Oliver M. Cargill, age 37, died Sunday at the Sacred Heart hospital in Spokane, where he was taken about a month ago suffering from an infection of the knee, caused by a bruise.

Mr. Cargill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Cargill of Juliaetta community. Several years ago he farmed one of the Vollmer-Clearwater ranches west of Kendrick. Recently he had resided on the C. L. Williamson place near Princeton. Besides his parents he leaves his widow, Mrs. Mary Cargill. Funeral services were held in Juliaetta yesterday.

Percy Ware was transacting business in Lewiston Tuesday morning.

Death of William Jones

William Jones, who farmed in the Southwick community, died suddenly yesterday morning from heart disease. He had been taking medical treatment at a Lewiston hospital last week, returning home Saturday. Thursday morning he told Mrs. Jones that he felt better than he had for some time. A short time afterward he dropped dead.

Mr. Jones is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Joe Tschantz and Miss Edna Jones, both of Southwick.

At the time the report was received here, no arrangements had been made for the funeral.

W. L. Hedges of Moscow was transacting business in Kendrick last Friday.

Organize Valley League

Manager Ira Bolon represented Kendrick at the baseball meeting held at Lewiston last Friday afternoon. It was decided to organize the Valley league again this season, comprising a six-team circuit. The towns included in the league are Clarkston, Pomeroy, Kendrick, Juliaetta, Coldspring and Lapwai. Pomeroy took the place in the league held last year by the Lewiston Red Sox.

The Valley league held its election of officers and chose E. M. Turner of Clarkston as president and Les Robinson of Lewiston as secretary-treasurer. Plans for the season's schedule were left with the secretary.

The league schedules will begin April 17, leaving decoration day and one other Sunday open before the season ends July 4th. This is done so that teams may be able to play a few independent games with other teams which were not invited to join the league.

Provision is made for the two leading teams of each league to meet in a championship tournament during the Fourth of July period, at some place to be determined by the league officials. The celebration which offers the most in prizes will probably be given the series.

Beat This Old Egg, Genesee

The Genesee News has been talking about big eggs recently, and so far, has the Potlatch country slightly at a disadvantage. But after all, what is an egg. Why, it takes three dozen of them to be worth the price of a good meal.

Now the Gazette would like to start something worth while and is prepared to demonstrate the fact that the Potlatch country can grow the biggest man in Latah or Nez Perce counties. We therefore enter the name of Leland Houck of Juliaetta as this Potlatch country's candidate for the biggest man in the two best counties of Idaho. He weighs 297 pounds before breakfast. Now can you beat that, Mac? If, by any chance you can produce such a splendid specimen as this we are prepared to back our candidate with a side bet of a fifteen years' subscription to the Gazette against any kind of a Ford car, that our man can outrun any man of his weight for a hundred yard sprint and he can eat more big Genesee eggs than any 297 pound man in this neck of the woods. Genesee, do your stuff!

Entertained at Bridge Supper

Last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Anderson entertained at a seven o'clock bridge supper, guests being members of the Okoke Club, Miss Hooker and Mr. Emery. The long table was very attractively centered with a large cluster of daffodils, with their green and yellow forming the keynote of the color scheme which was carried out in very clever place cards, pretty linens and other table appointments.

A delicious two-course supper was served by Mrs. Anderson, assisted by Marjorie Davidson. During the supper hour Messrs. Ramey and Anderson carried out a clever stunt, much to the embarrassment of some, and to the delight of other guests who were "next" to the secret.

Several hours were devoted to the game and then scores were tallied, the highest score for the ladies was won by Mrs. Ramey, while Mr. Daubenberg carried off the big score for the men.

School Health Inspection

Mrs. Wann, who is sent out by the State Anti-Tuberculosis Society, to inspect health conditions in the schools of the state, was in Kendrick yesterday in company with Miss Ellen Peterson, Latah county superintendent of schools. They examined the students, making a chart of each individual's physical condition.

Prominent Family Leaves

It is with regret that the News chronicles the departure of George Saad and family from Troy. They have made their home in Troy for the past 24 years, and Mrs. Saad lived here for several years before her marriage. They left on Sunday to make their home in Potlatch, where Mr. Saad is opening a shoe repair shop. He will stop enroute a few days in Spokane, while Mrs. Saad visits her sisters in Moscow. They will be greatly missed by their friends here, who are pleased, however, that they are not locating too far away to visit Troy easily whenever the roads are car fit.—Troy News.

Some "Cackle Berry"

We know good and well we have the Kendrick Gazette this time, for we have an egg, produced on the Arthur Hampton farm and is said to have been laid by one of his late pullets. The "berry" measured 7/4x8/2 inches. If Kendrick has anything to cackle about, let them produce it.—Genesee News.

That Genesee pullet is doing pretty well for a youngster and is only half an inch behind that monster egg laid by Ben Callison's hen in 1924, which was only 3 inches less than a foot in circumference. But of course, a 1924 egg is pretty old, so if some of the progressive Potlatchers in the vicinity of Kendrick will hang a football in front of the nest of one of their promising pullets, we will look forward with confidence to a Potlatch egg that will put Genesee out of the running.

Fishing Season Correction

Fishing season for Latah county streams will open May 15 and the Elk River region will open June 1 and continue to September 30, according to corrected information received from Boise this week.

Through misinformation from Boise last week, the season in the Elk River district was set as open during April and May and closed during the remaining spring and summer months, but should have been stated closed during the two months and open from June 1 to September 30.

Latah county streams open May 15, or two weeks ahead of the usual season, the Elk River district remaining the same as last year. The Elk River region and tributaries are closed during the months of April and May and October and November, at which time the stock of Eastern Brook trout spawn. It is the only variety spawning twice a year.—Star-Mirror.

St. Patrick's Party

Mrs. Cook and Miss N. Weaver gave a "St. Patrick's Party" on Friday evening. They entertained the school faculty, the school board, and a few friends. The evening was spent playing different card games. At mid-night refreshments consisting of sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake and coffee were served. Misses LaPine and Walker each rendered two piano solos. Mr. McGregor gave a reading. All were thoroughly enjoyed. Everyone departed at a late hour for home, having spent a very enjoyable evening.

Face The Sun!

Don't hunt for trouble, but look for success! You'll find what you look for—don't look for distress! If you see but your shadow, remember I pray, that the sun is still shining, but you're in the way! Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk. Don't think of your worries, but of your work. The worries will vanish, the work will be done—No man sees his shadow who faces the sun.—Exchange.

Soy Beans Are Better

Protein Feed Than Corn

It is usually a good practice to sow soy beans with corn when the corn is to be hogged off, because the bean supply is a better protein feed than corn, and for this reason the soy beans are worth more than the corn they displace in the crop. From a soil fertility standpoint the beans would not have a high value, though there might be some. It depends on conditions a good deal. On very poor land or land very low in nitrogen and humus, the soy beans would have more value; but on good corn land which will grow 40 to 50 bushels of corn per acre, the beans would be the most likely to have derived about all the nitrogen they contain from the soil, and hence there would not be any new supply of nitrogen added to the soil.

High-Yielding Pear Tree

The Bartlett pear produces most of its fruit on spurs which ordinarily live for many years. One of the requisites of a high yielding pear tree is that it have an abundance of vigorous spurs well distributed over the tree. The pruning should be of such a nature as to avoid shading the spurs by dense foliage; to keep the fruiting wood in a healthy, vigorous condition; and to provide new spurs to replace the old and weak spurs, as well as those which are injured or broken off during harvest.

Turbulent River

The minimum outflow of the Ganges river is 36,000 cubic feet per second; the maximum outflow, 494,000 cubic feet per second.

Benefit of Superior Food
Authorities on the subject of diet have observed that children of Japanese parents born in this country are larger at all ages than are Japanese children born and reared in Japan. This is because of the superior food supply in this country.

Good Feed Needed

Many dairy calves are neglected during the winter months because the owners feel that feed is too expensive and that it does not pay to give the calves proper care. Calves should have skim milk at least until they are six months old. They will come through the winter in fine shape when this is available along with a limited amount of grain and good alfalfa hay.

POULTRY

PLAN INSPECTION OF LIVE POULTRY

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Agreements establishing a live poultry inspection service in New York city have been signed by the New York Live Poultry Commission Merchants association, the Greater New York Live Poultry Chamber of Commerce, and the United States Department of Agriculture. It was announced today. The service goes into effect November 15.

The agreement is the outcome of efforts by New York poultry interests to establish better business methods in the industry. The department was asked by the trade to make a survey of conditions in the New York market, with a view to putting into effect an inspection service under government supervision.

The survey, made last August, indicated the practicability of the work to be financed by the trade, and in conjunction with compulsory inspection of all live poultry arriving at New York, under board of health regulations, the department worked out an inspection system which has been approved by the trade.

Inspectors are to be licensed by the Department of Agriculture, the poultry to be inspected for condition, and later for class, grade, and quality. Inspection certificates under the agreement are to be joint certificates of the Department of Agriculture and the two co-operating organizations.

Inspection fees are to be fixed by the secretary of agriculture, and the inspection work conducted in line with the sanitary code of the New York city board of health, as well as with the laws and regulations of the states of New York and New Jersey. The agreement is to run until June 30, 1927, unless terminated at an earlier date by mutual consent. It may be renewed, however, at expiration.

Green Feed Important for Layers in Winter

Green feed is important in the ration of hens in winter. A California bulletin tells of a request from some of their breeders for help in combating a disease which resembles roup in many respects. The station found that it was not roup for it could not be transmitted from one hen to another. Further investigation showed that the flocks were affected with a nutritional disease on account of lack of green feed in the ration.

A good many people supply this green feed by sprouting oats or by having a supply of root crops. Some could improve their ration and overcome a good deal of their trouble by making use of the shattering leaves from clover or alfalfa hay. If the shatterings, which in the majority of cases are mostly leaves, are picked up and given to the hens in the morning they will eat a lot of the leaves and smaller stems. The coarser material will make excellent scratch material in which to feed the grain portion of the ration. These shatterings make a good substitute for other green feed.

Poultry Notes

Sprout oats for the poultry flock.

The big, fat, yellow-legged hens seem to be doing anything but laying eggs.

The average egg production, the country over, is said to be 130 per hen per year.

Cod liver will help keep the poultry flock in good health and keep the eggs coming this winter.

Many eggs will stand 20 pounds pressure on the shell. The average is about fourteen or fifteen pounds.

The production of winter eggs requires care and feed which make the conditions as nearly like spring as possible. The person who feeds his hens nothing but corn, oats and wheat will be disappointed.

Hatching eggs should be not only fertile but also standard weight, clear, sound, fresh and uniform in shape and color.

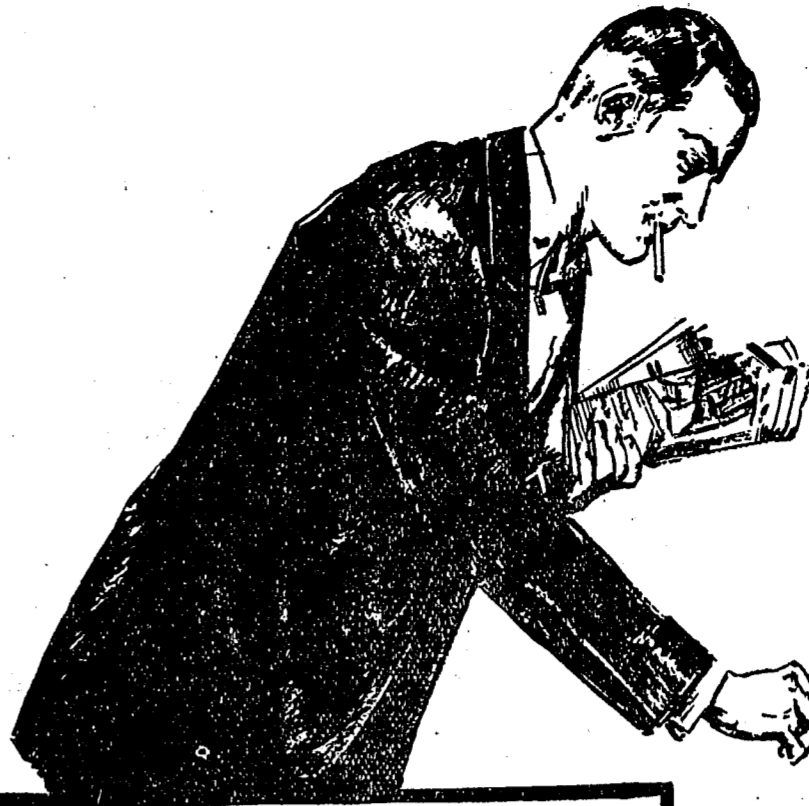

Growing chickens, like all other young and growing animals, need large amounts of high-protein feed for muscle and bone building.

Breeding hens should be kept out in the sunshine as much as possible. Every time the sun shines they should be driven out, if they don't go on their own accord.

One thing for the poultryman to remember: Old hens need more feed than pullets need to produce a dozen eggs.

Best results can be obtained if the brooder house is ready, the stove in place and the heat properly regulated before the chicks arrive.

Winter seems to whet the appetites of chicken thieves; and locks are no good. One man trained a lot of hysterical Leghorns to squall lustily at any sound to the henhouse.

This modern age likes the mellow mildness of Camels

TRY Camels and you'll know why they win the modern world. Mildness and mellowness. The smoking wish of this exacting age is realized in Camels. Such taste and fragrance as never came before from a cigarette. A mellow mildness that can result only from superb blending of the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos.

This age demands the best of everything—and it finds its ideal smoke in Camels. Nowhere else can you find such smoothness, such ever-dependable goodness as here—

Long-Row Garden Big Labor Saver

Greatly Increases Amount of Vegetables One Man Can Tend Properly.

One of the things that helps the American farmer produce half of the world's food supply with one-tenth of the world's man-power is the long-row vegetable garden, says B. L. Weaver of the olericulture division, college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

"The chief item in vegetable production is man labor. Long rows spaced to allow the use of horse or tractor-drawn tools greatly increases the amount of vegetables that one man can tend properly. If sod strips are left at the ends of farm gardens, almost all hand labor may be eliminated. For the small, long-row garden the wheel hoe will greatly facilitate cultivation. Enthusiasm Lacking.

"Accustomed to out-of-door tasks, the farmer lacks the enthusiasm that his city brother manifests in gardening. The farmer is inclined to look upon the garden as a necessary evil, and often confines it to a poorly chosen site of inadequate area, and leaves the care of it to the wife. The value of a garden should give it the best site available and an area sufficient to supply the needs of the family throughout the season.

"In a Missouri experiment with a large and a small garden, over a three-year period, net yearly average returns were: for the large garden, one-fourth acre, $134.17; for the small garden, one-twentieth acre, $47.23. On the basis of man labor, these gardens paid $1.78 and $1.63 respectively for every hour spent in their care. In addition to its economic value, the garden furnishes a supply of healthful, nutritious food of the highest quality available for consumption.

Adequate Plan Essential. "The best results cannot be obtained without an adequate plan for the garden operations. Such a plan is given in Circular 273 of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois. Approximate planting dates, the kinds and varieties to use, the amounts of seed required, and a detailed plan are given. By a little study, the plan may be adapted to gardens of varying size and shape.

"Variety selection, companion and succession cropping, good seed and good plants, soil fertility, cultivation, and insect and disease control are all factors in the making of a productive long-row garden on the farm or the city lot. Neglect of one or more of the factors mentioned will decrease the productivity of the garden. A good site, a good season, plus a little study and work assures a garden that one can be proud of."

Advice Free

There is nothing so cheap as advice, more especially if you are not particular about the kind. There is so much advice afloat that even the humblest can have a plenty. From the street corner orator to the housewife's admonition to the neighbor over the back yard fence, advice, free as the air, is always in circulation. There are many grades of advice, but the kind most valued is the kind that is SOUGHT. The banker handles money and is in touch with financial deals of many kinds. Are you a patron of the bank? Do you need advice? Would you like to know what someone thinks who ought to be in a position to know something about business deals? The banker is busy with his own affairs, but he is not too busy to give you his frank opinion if you ask for it. That is the kind of advice that is worth having, the kind asked for, and even that kind does not cost you anything.
