

TWO DROWN AT THE LEWISTON DAM MONDAY

O'Neal Gives His Life Trying To Rescue Fellow Workman.

Clearwater river claimed the lives of two of the Fegles Construction company workmen Monday afternoon at the Inland Power & Light company dam east of Lewiston, says the Tribune. They were Charles Schlegal, of Pierce, Minn., and James O'Neal, Spokane, who have been employed only a short time at the dam.

Mr. Schlegal slipped and fell into the river from the end of the cribbing dam, which is being constructed from the south bank above the main dam, while assisting in placing a timber. Mr. O'Neal lost his life in an effort to save his fellow workman.

The current rushes past the end of the crib dam at a rapid rate, the river being 18 feet deep with most of the flow of the stream passing through a narrow section between the crib dam and the coffer-dam in the middle of the river. Mr. Schlegal was carried by the stream around the crib and as he passed, O'Neal jumped into the swift waters after him.

O'Neal is an expert swimmer and when Schlegal fell into the stream, fellow workmen set up cries, "Go in after him 'Whitey'". O'Neal going by the nickname of "Whitey." O'Neal soon reached Schlegal and in attempting to save him was grabbed and pulled under by Schlegal, but only after a struggle lasting over a minute as the bodies were swept down through the rapids.

O'Neal finally released the grip on his fellow workman, and Schlegal was not seen afterward. O'Neal was partially strangled evidently by his struggle under water with Schlegal but he came up twice before he finally went down within 10 feet of the bank, opposite the Fegles company office. When he finally went under fellow workmen were attempting his rescue from the bank. The stream is rapid at this point and as none of the men were good swimmers, no one went into the water.

A boat was secured from the beach nearby and his body was recovered in about a half hour with the use of a grappling hook. Artificial respiration was given by workmen and Dr. E. G. Braddock, who soon arrived on the scene, for about a half hour. The pulmotor of the fire department was obtained, Frank Baker, rushing to the dam as soon as possible after being notified, Dr. E. L. White accompanying him. After a half hour's work with the pulmotor it was apparent that resuscitation was impossible and the two physicians pronounced him dead.

The body of Charles Schlegal was recovered Tuesday, within 200 feet of where it went down Monday afternoon.

Idaho Banks Increase Deposits

Idaho's state banks gained $462,748.18 in deposits between June 30, 1926 and June 30, 1927, according to reports received by E. W. Porter, state commissioner of finance. This reflects sound growth because the comparisons were taken at the same time in different years. Between March 23, 1927, and June 30, 1927, the banks increased their deposits $687,772.38.

Produce Dealers' Law in Effect

Idaho's produce dealers' law passed in 1927 is in effect and the state department of agriculture wishes to appraise farmers of this fact. Thirty-five dealers representing 45 individuals have been licensed. All dealers, except those who pay cash upon delivery, come under the law. A dealer who contracts a crop must have a license, the attorney general holds. Licensed dealers who sell on consignment are required within five days after sale to report to the farmer the result of the sale and make a settlement within 30 days.

Burglars Crack Craigmont Safe

Burglars "jimmied" two doors on the Craigmont post office at an early hour Tuesday morning and blew open the safe, securing approximately $50 in cash and double that amount in stamps. The job was neatly done and officers of the town believe it to be the work of professionals. No clues as to the identity of the burglars were available.

Henry Christopf Meyer

Henry Christopf Meyer was born August 6th, 1858 in Holthusen, Hanover, Germany. He was the son of Christopf Meyer and Elizabeth, nee Nieman. He was baptized in the Lutheran faith and remained a member of this church during his entire life. In 1883 he came to America remaining for a while in Minnesota and then settling in Kansas. On the 26 day of March, 1884, he was united in marriage with Dorothea nee Munsterman. To this union eight children were born. In 1890 the family moved from Kansas to Genesee, remaining there only a short time they finally came to Cameron where they made their home. In 1918 after many years of pioneering in the Potlatch, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer retired, making their home in Spokane. About a year ago he was stricken with a serious illness and though submitting to an operation did not fully recover his health. About a month ago the old disease came back, and all medical skill proved useless. He passed away July 20, 1927. His age was 68 years, 11 months and 14 days.

He leaves to mourn besides his widow, seven children Mrs. John Groh, Bovill, Idaho; Mrs. Fred Uttke, Spokane, Wash; Mrs. Sam Widmere, Kellogg, Idaho; Mrs. Henry Brammer, Mrs. C. L. ## LOCATING THE FINANCIAL LEAKS THAT TAKE THE PROFITS OUT OF FARMING

By DAN H. OTIS

Director Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association

INDUSTRIAL lines suffer because of inefficient firms, whose officers cling to old methods and place goods on the market, even at a loss, to compete with the more efficient institutions.

Agriculture, too, has this problem to face. We find farmers who fight new methods. They retard the prosperity of other farmers by throwing on the market poor quality products, frequently produced at a loss.

The nature of the banker's business places him in a position to help this type of farmer as well as the more progressive farmer. At the same time the banker can assure himself of good loans based on the farm as a going concern.

A study of the investments, sources of income and expenses of the successful farmers in his community will give the banker a measuring stick by which to gage the hazard entailed in furnishing loans to other farmers. This study is readily accomplished through the use of summaries of farm records. In the absence of good records, survey blanks which can be obtained from the agricultural colleges, may be used for collecting the information.

A banker in a dairy district would use data similar to Farmer A's summary in the following table as a measuring stick to judge the condition of Farmer B:

	Farmer A	Farmer B
Farm receipts	$5,465	$2,214
Farm expenses	2,122	1,079
Receipts above expenses	$3,343	$1,135
Interest on total investment @ 5 per cent.	1,070	989
Net income after deducting interest	$2,273	$146
Acres	127	139
Total investment	$21,400	$19,773
Operating capital (machinery, live stock, equipment)	5,852	4,473
Number of cows	18	11
Investment in cows	$2,302	$1,205

The total investment of Farmer A is moderate with a large percentage (27 per cent) of operating or working capital. Farmer B is low in operating capital. The number of cows is also low, which is reflected in the farm receipts, these being $3,251 less than those of Farmer A. The expenses of Farmer B, although about one-half of those of Farmer A, are, nevertheless, high in the ratio to receipts.

The only way to safeguard a loan to Farmer B is to consider assets and not income. Before any loan should be considered at all the banker and the farmer should go over the situation, uncover the leaks and outline a definite program of improvement.

Diversity of Business Good Sign

	Farmer A	Farmer B
Income from crops	$1,476	$851
From dairy products	2,343	752
Sale of livestock (including increased inventory)	1,656	280
Miscellaneous income	327	181

A good diversity of income serves to protect the farmer against years of over-production of any one farm product. Farmer A has a good diver-

May Manufacture Pottery

At this time we are authorized to state that plans are rapidly maturing for the entrance here of another important clay products industry, which will utilize another valuable ingredient found in the local clay deposits. This is the ingredient used in the manufacture of fine pottery. For a number of years pottery manufacturers have been investigating the clays of this section and having them analyzed in order to ascertain whether or not they carried the ingredients wanted for the manufacture of fine grades of pottery, including fine chinaware, the raw material for which has heretofore been available only from Scotland. This clay has been found in seemingly inexhaustible quantities on the Johanson farm near Norah, which also supplies the clay used by the Idaho Fire Brick company. —Troy News.

First Load of Wheat

R. B. Parks brought the first load of wheat to Kendrick this season, delivering it at the Rockdale company, Tuesday, July 26. Wm. Wolf started hauling to the Vollmer-Clearwater tramway on Wednesday. His wheat tested 59 pounds. No reports are available at this time on yields per acre.

E. E. McDowell and son, Hugh returned last Friday from a fishing trip in the Selway country. Mr. McDowell stated that the river is too high there for good fishing.

sity of income. Notice that the leading source of income, dairy products, constitutes less than one-half of the total income. The various enterprises that make up Farmer B's diversity of business all show marked decreased income.

Quality of Business Shows Leaks

	Farmer A	Farmer B
Receipts per cow	$130	$68
Receipts per livestock units other than cows	94	32

Under the heading, "Quality of Business," Farmer B shows that his cows are bringing in $62 less per year than Farmer A's. The $68 a year which they are producing is undoubtedly below the cost of feed and keep. The income per live-stock unit is still worse, and while this farm needs more cows to increase its volume of business, it would be financial suicide to invest in the same type of cow.

This poor farmer must weed out his poor cows and feed the balance properly to get results before money is loaned to him to increase his herd with good stock.

An analysis of the farmer's records will bring out many other leaks which the farmer may not have noticed. He may be paying high prices for feed when less money spent for fertilizers and lime may enable him to raise the right kind of feed on his own farm and stop this drain on his pocket-book.

Barring temporary emergencies, farm loans handled on the basis of income, indicating a going concern, would hasten tremendously the day of a permanent and prosperous agriculture.

Fire Destroys Ford Car
A Ford roadster, owned by R. E. Procuier of American ridge, literally "went up in smoke" about 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening on the Moscow-Troy road paralleling the city limits to the south. The Moscow Volunteer Fire Department answered its second call in a period of 24 hours.

Fire starting from an unknown cause, caused Procuier and his companion hastily to abandon the car and to turn in an alarm from a neighboring house. The Moscow department responded and hand equipment put the flames out in short order. Nearly everything burnable in the front tonneau of the car succumbed to the flames.

"We were afraid that the gas tank would explode," was Mr. Procuier's only comment. Members of the fire department were working under the same handicap, with a partially filled tank under the front seat of the vehicle. The tank took fire but did not explode before the flames were quenched.—Star-Mirror.

Plants Chinese Pheasants

Hunters of the Moscow area are going to have some Chinese pheasant hunting during this fall, or at least C. E. Collins, county game warden is doing what he can to make that possible.

Wednesday morning Mr. Collins obtained 100 young Chinese pheasants from the Lapwai game farm which he distributed along streams and east of the city. The birds were from seven to 10 weeks old and were "just right for frying." The season, however, is not open yet but by early fall the pheasants will be such as to provide a choice morsel for many a Moscow table.

This was the second planting of 200 young pheasants here this season besides several groups of older birds for propagation planted by the game warden earlier in the summer.

Mr. Collins recently had called to his attention two fawn deer being held by a farmer of the county.

"This is against the state game laws," Mr. Collins said, pointing out that in this instance the doe was missing and that the farmer had acted to protect the fawn only. Other instances, however, have been reported, the game warden said, pointing to statutes which prohibit imprisoning game animals or pursuing them during closed season.—Star-Mirror.

DYNAMITE EXPLOSION FATAL TO TROY MAN

Lavine Larson Loses Life From Injuries Received Tuesday.

Lavine Larson, powder man for the Troy highway district, suffered the loss of his right arm, left hand, one eye and other severe injuries, Tuesday morning when a charge of 30 sticks of dynamite went off while he was tamping the hole. The accident occurred three miles west of Troy on the Moscow road. He died from his injuries Wednesday morning.

Larson and his foreman, S. Jensen, had placed the charge of 30 sticks of dynamite deep in the hole in the rock pit, and Larson was tamping in dirt over the charge, Jensen being over the hole, for the purpose of putting in the dirt. Larson had hold of the long iron tamp when the dynamite went off, and it flew straight into the air, jerking both his hands off at the wrist and sending particles of fine rock and dirt into his face, putting out one eye and injuring the other.

Fortunately Mr. Jensen, who was closer to the hole, was only slightly injured in the face by the fine rock.

Larson was rushed to the Troy hospital and Drs. Clark and Einhouse of Moscow were summoned to assist Dr. Meyers in treating his injuries. Mr. Larson's right arm was so badly injured by the blow that it had to be removed.

Messrs. Jensen and Larson were tamping the dirt in and about the 30 sticks of dynamite for the purpose of springing the hole so that the real charge, which was to break open the face of the rock pit, could be put in. It is presumed that the tamp in some way reached the dynamite and caused friction or a blow and set the charge off.

Mr. Larson is well known in this locality, where he formerly resided near Cameron. He is a brother of Mrs. Charles Larson, of Potlatch ridge.

The two clubs are scheduled for a tournament here some time this week.

Orofino Girl Drowned

Ila Swan, 15 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Swan of Orofino, was drowned in the Clearwater river near Orofino, Wednesday afternoon while in swimming with a party of friends. Edith Watts, age 19, went down at the same time. A bystander saw the girls go under and called to others of the swimming party to rescue them. A thirteen year old boy named Johnny Bellmer, dived about 7 feet under the water and succeeded in bringing up the Watts girl. Another boy, Jimmy Hannah, brought up the body of Ila Swan.

When the bodies were brought to shore, several Boy Scouts present started resuscitation, and Edith Watts soon regained consciousness, but all efforts to revive Ila Swan failed.

Treatment Necessary to Eradicate Little Mites

One can very readily detect mites in the house by noting either the grayish or red mites or the so-called dust that can be noted. Nests that are nailed together or roosts that are not treated will show this grayish dust. In most cases mites will indicate themselves whenever a person gets into the house. Mites are one reason why farm flocks refuse to roost in the house during the summer but prefer some adjacent building or the trees.

As a treatment it is necessary to select the material that will penetrate and not rapidly evaporate. The great objection to kerosene lies in the fact that it will kill some of the mites on the surface but evaporates too rapidly. The eggs are down in all the little cracks and the mites, during the early stage of growth, live on fifth, decayed wood and dirt. Unless the treatment can prevent the eggs from hatching, success cannot be expected.

EVERY YEAR McCormick-Deering Tractors stand stronger with local farmers. The name McCormick-Deering has become the symbol of reliable power farming because it stands for carefully built, practical, many-sided, long-lived farm power—and the kind of service cooperation we are able to offer our customers.

Men who have used International Harvester tractors—for months or for years—are steadfast friends of McCormick-Deering farm power. They will recommend McCormick-Deering when you come to buy. Other men, who risked using cheaper, lighter tractors, found themselves underpowered. They fell short of reaching full production with the least possible labor and in the shortest possible time. After this experience they were ready for new and better power. There are many like these, too, who will recommend McCormick-Deering when you make your power investment.

Fatten Ducks Intended to Be Sent to Market

Ducks to be marketed should be fattened for two weeks before killing on a ration made of three parts by weight of corn meal, two parts of low grade flour or middlings, one part of bran, one-half part of beef scraps, together with 3 per cent grit and 10 per cent green feed. The mash should be fed thrice daily. The green feed is sometimes left out of the ration during the last week as it tends to color
the meat and make it a little flabby, but it is always easier to keep the ducks on good feed by supplying the green feed. Where bolted fish can be secured at low prices, it affords a chance to fatten ducks at considerably lower price than that paid for other meat scraps.
