California Cackles

In a recent copy of the Gazette we saw an article showing the necessity of having a correspondent in the village of Spokane as well as in the surrounding villages. With this we are in hearty accord. But why not take a longer step forward and have a correspondent in the city of Los Angeles? This is the greatest city on the western continent.

Then for the purpose of establishing headquarters in this city of wonders, we take our pen in hand. Here are some outstanding facts in this truly great city—there is more political graft, more murders, more bootleggers, more suicides, more automobiles and more fatal accidents than in any other city in these glorious United States.

Last Sunday there were six killings and a dozen maimed. That was slightly above the average. Four deaths and half a dozen cripples is about the daily output. A few days ago an auto was quickly turned aside to avoid running over a man lying in the street but two autos following passed over the body before the tragedy was discovered. The man was pretty thoroughly killed.

Now Spokane it's your turn. This state is the proud possessor of two million automobiles. These trail eaters don't hibernate for six months in the year as they do in Spokane and surrounding villages but they are making seventy miles an hour during the twenty-four hours of every day and keep it up for three hundred sixty and one fourth days in each and every day in the year.

Not only do we travel by automobile for it is not every one who can afford these luxuries even if they can be bought for "a dollar down and a dollar a month." To accommodate these indigents the interurban railway runs cars at hour intervals day and night. On Sunday you can buy a ticket for a dollar cash. So far as we know this is the only article for sale in this glorious country where spot cash is demanded. On this ticket you can begin riding at two o'clock in the morning and continue, practically uninterrupted until two o'clock the next morning.

It was our privilege to visit the National Orange Show at San Bernardino—a suburb of Los Angeles though it is sixty miles away. Our time was limited but everything in this vast pavilion passed under our stupid gaze. They showed us how to sort, wrap and box oranges. But with all the courtesies granted us we game away without being able to give the slightest detail of anything seen or done but the firm conviction that it was the greatest thing of its kind that was ever held on this green earth.

Any item from California would be incomplete without some reference to the weather—her greatest asset. Southern California is not a place of perpetual sunshine. But according to the natives when the sun doesn't shine it is something "quite unusual." On the same basis we are having a winter that is "quite unusual." For five successive nights there were heavy frosts. The thermometer officially registered twenty-six above and it is our private opinion publicly expressed, that one suffers more from the cold here at twenty-six than you do in Kendrick at zero.

But withal California has a wonderful climate. In the parks you will see scores of old fellows basking in the sunshine in the midst of what is ordinarily called winter. One old chap recently wrote to the radio headquarters in this wise: "There are a lot of us old fellows in our little city that greatly enjoy the radio but as we loaf in the sunshine we realize that it won't be long before we hear the angels sing, yet if you could, in the meanwhile, give us a little more of Old Black Joe, My Old Kentucky Home, etc., we would regard it as a great compliment." This request was promptly granted.

Should we succeed in outwitting the auto drivers at the

Mrs. Lohman To Get Land

Tribune: A decision for the plaintiff handed down Tuesday by District Judge Miles S. Johnson in the case of Emilie Lohman against Augusta Bunsten, by which the court ordered a deed held by Mrs. Bunsten to 30 acres of land in the Cameron region cancelled. The principals to the action are sisters.

Mrs. Lohman brought suit as administratrix of the estate of the late Frederick Kuther. She alleged that the deed to the property had been executed in Mrs. Bunsten's favor at a time when their father, Mr. Kuther, was not in his right mind.

The court in ordering cancellation of the deed decreed that not only the land should be returned to Mr. Kuther's estate but also $323 Mrs. Bunsten had received in rents and profits from the land during 1927-28. He also allowed Mrs. Bunsten an offset of about $800 for money she paid out for her father during his last illness, for expense of burial and for a monument over his grave. Tannihill & Leeper represented Mrs. Lohman.

Death of Mrs. Carrie Hooker

Mrs. Carrie Hooker, for many years a resident of Big Bear ridge, passed away at her home last Friday morning at an early hour, following a long illness.

Mrs. Hooker was born at Opdal, Norway, 76 years ago. She had been a resident of the Bear ridge community for the past 28 years. Before coming to Bear ridge she lived near Genesee and was one of the pioneers of that section. Her husband, Abraham Hooker, preceded her in death nearly six years ago.

Mrs. Hooker is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Thorvald Nelson, who was with her constantly during her illness. Two sons died many years ago. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Merit Vognild of Coeur d'Alene, who is 88 years old.

Funeral services were held Monday with a short service at the home followed by a church service at the Lutheran church on Bear ridge. The Rev. Peter Hesby conducted the service. Special music was furnished by a quartet.

Those who acted as pallbearers were Halvor Lien, A. Kleth, N. E. Ware, Ole Lien, O. H. Forest and Hans Sneve. Interment was made in the Moscow cemetery.

Linden News

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Israel and family spent Sunday afternoon at the Harris home.

One Honest Engineer

The hoghead was having his troubles getting over the Crawford hill, received the following message from the superintendent: "Why the delay on the Crawford hill?" The answer was short but plain: "Out of sand." At the next telegraph office he received the following: "What were you doing on the Crawford hill without sand?" The reply, short but full, was: "Slipping."

The White Stage line made its first run Tuesday from Moscow to Bovill. This run was discontinued for the past few weeks on account of the deep snow.

Death of Mrs. Frank White

Mrs. Frank White passed away last Saturday at her home west of Kendrick, after a long illness. Alice Morris was born March 7, 1864, in the State of Illinois. She was 64 years, 11 months and 13 days old at the time of her death.

November 25, 1889 she was united in marriage to Frank White in Latah county, Idaho. To this union were born six children—two girls and four boys.

She leaves to mourn her loss a devoted husband, three brothers and one sister, and her children, Mrs. Whitted of Ahsahka, Idaho; Jesse White of Kennewick, Washington; Dewey White of Juliaetta, Idaho; Mrs. Grace Roberts of Moscow, Idaho; Elmer and Stanley preceding her in death.

Mrs. White was a patient sufferer during the long period of her affliction. Her loved ones and friends will ever remember her cheerful smile and patient spirit. She has left a worthy example of courage and cheerfulness to those who were near and dear to her.

The funeral was held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of Rev. A. E. Janes, assisted by Rev. Forbis, with burial in the Juliaetta cemetery.

Will Plant Elk in County

Ed Collins of Moscow, deputy state game warden, was in Kendrick, Tuesday. He stated that he was taking orders for elk at $8.50 a head. A carload order was placed with the federal game department and will be shipped some time in the near future from the federal game preserve in Wyoming. There are 40 elk in a carload. They will be "planted" in the Hoodoo district in Latah county. The charge of $8.50 per head is the cost of transportation, the federal game department furnishing the animals free of charge.

Clarence Bell Married

Clarence Bell, son of Rev. and Mrs. C. D. Bell of Moscow, was married Thursday of last week to Miss Rachel Perrenaud of Coeur d'Alene. The wedding took place in Spokane, at the home of Rev. E. H. Peck. Clarence attended high school here and is well known in Kendrick. He later attended the university of Idaho where he and his wife were classmates. They will make their home in Coeur d'Alene.

Improve Long Distance Service

Telephone users of Kendrick will be interested in new operating feature introduced by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for long distance service from this city.

A new practice has been devised whereby patrons of the local phone office will call for Long Distance and be connected direct with the long distance operator at Lewiston and the call placed with the Lewiston operator. When the long distance operator answer, say "This is Kendrick," give your telephone number and name, the place you are calling and telephone number of a Station-to-Station call. If a Person-to-Person call, also give the name of the party called. If a circuit is available, the call will be completed while you remain on the line.

Manager Schupfer states that 85% of the long distance calls are completed while you hold the line. This service will be put in operation March 1st.

Death of Joe Atchison

Joseph A. Atchison, age 73, passed away Saturday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Cora Hall, at Clarkston, after an illness covering a period of 15 years. He was a former resident of Kendrick, moving to Clarkston about 12 years ago. He is survived by a son, Walter, who lives in Oregon and a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Otis of Trenton, Neb.

COMMUNITY NEWS FROM JULIAETTA

Mr. J. A. McKee of Walla Walla filled the pulpit at the M. E. church, Sunday morning.

A large group of our junior people went out to the Weatherby home Friday night to a party. Judging from the talk they must have had a wonderful time.

Bert Bird was called home on account of his wife's illness. She is greatly improved at this writing.

Choir practice of the M. E. church Sunday school is greatly enjoyed. Monday night twenty-five gathered at the home of Wilbur Larkins. After practicing the songs for the school, a waffle supper was served by the host, with some of the ladies assisting. If you are not already attending Sunday school enroll with us and enjoy these social meetings.

The M. E. church aid society met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Walter Cochran. The topic was: "Making Home The Center." At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Frank Spray.

Mrs. Hammond is reported on the sick list. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Mrs. Arnold Behrens entertained a number of young people Monday night at a bridge party.

Miss Arta Groseclose left last Thursday for Joel, Idaho. She has been employed to finish the Ferndale term of school.

Mrs. Amanda Alexander and Mrs. Harold Jones spent Thursday morning in Kendrick.

Mrs. George Brown went to Spokane, Thursday, to visit her daughter and little grandson.

Mrs. Frank Rider entertained a number of her friends Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Wasmuth of Spokane, who is her house guest. Bridge was played, high honors going to Mrs. Manford Nutt. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were: Mesdames, Wasmuth, Houck, Nutt, Adams, Cochran, Neilson, Biddison, Alexander, Behrens and Noble.

Mr. Behrens who has been quite ill is greatly improved, although not out of danger.

School Notes

The Juliaetta teachers attended a meeting of the teachers of this district at Kendrick. The purpose of this meeting is to better acquaint the teachers with the new methods of instruction and to discuss the problems that come up from time to time. The teachers present claim they were well satisfied with the meeting.

John Colwell dropped out of school this week because his father, John Colwell, Sr. has taken over railroad duties elsewhere. We will all miss John with his smiling countenance. We all wish you success, Johnny.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils are busy working on their debate. Resolved, that the American Civil War should have been averted by compromise.

The intermediate grades entertained the seventh and eighth grade with a program given on Washington's birthday. The program consisted of several

Spokane Offers Farm Relief

Spokane, Feb. 27, 1929

We are suffering with a strained diaphragm resulting from the letter from Olaf. We hope that Olaf will write often and tell us how is everything in Deary.

The Troy high school band entertained our community club Tuesday noon. That such an orchestra could be developed in the brick center of Idaho indicates a true love of music or a lack of Irishmen.

We understand that more bricks are made in Troy in one week than the people in the Potlatch would like to throw at the road supervisors.

We note that Will Rogers has busted into the front page of the big newspapers. Not so far behind us at that.

We have decided to give you folks the benefit of our ideas on the farm problem. Most of the writers on this subject talk about over production of farm products. Probably they refer to the live stock industry in which case I agree with them. The trouble with the farmers is that people do not eat enough, particularly city folks. About ten years ago the doctors were all hollering about people eating too much. Now they've got everybody down to a bowl of soup and a piece of pie for lunch and they're beginning to holler that people aren't eating enough.

Get out your rooster kings and help 'em holler, folks. Get some good mottos like "Pick up a cabbage instead of a sweet." Or, "B is for the vitamin B in beans."

The farm papers ought to have a lot of propaganda in them to get people to eat more products that comes from the farm. People like to eat and the only reason they don't is that they don't figure it's stylish and healthy. You might be able to take up a collection and get a testimonial from some grand opera tenor.

The tariff is a fine thing of course. It gives the U. S. something to pay the politicians with, but in addition to more tariff the country needs more fare. If people on earth don't eat more the world won't have anything to hold it down and will go flying off into space.

So cancel your postage stamps with the slogan "Lets Eat", and run a sticker campaign with stickers urging the dear people to eat more beef, spuds, pork and sauerkraut, bread and butter. It will do us all good. If necessary turn Olaf loose on us.

I'll probably turn more farm relief loose, at least my brand of farm relief is intentionally ridiculous.

Lutie Fisk.

Select Baseball Manager

The committee of seven, appointed by the Commercial club, met Tuesday evening and selected Jack Barnes as baseball manager for the 1929 season. He was the unanimous choice of the committee. Mr. Barnes has had plenty of experience in baseball, knows the game and is also a good ball player. He is already looking around for available players.

The committee will have a plan outlined to finance the team and will present it at next meeting of the commercial club, which is the second Tuesday in March.

songs, recitations, a play "The Making of Our Flag", and a debate, "Resolved, that Washington did more for his country than Lincoln." A reading was given by Miss Stump and Miss Weitz.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils having their thoughts buried deeply in geography and hygiene responded as follows in an arithmetic class in which they had just taken up the study of triangle.

Miss Weitz: "Name the kinds of triangles." Orin L.: "Equatorial." (equilateral was the term wanted.) Woodrow N.: "Incisors." (isosceles was the term wanted.)

Jimmy's Lost Talent

A Sunday school teacher, after telling the class the parable of the talents, gave each boy a dime, explaining that they were to use their capital during the week, report on the following Sunday how much they had made. "Now, then," he said to the first boy, when they gathered a week later, "How much has your talent gained?" The boy produced 20c, the teacher was delighted. "Splendid," he exclaimed, then turned to the second boy. "How much have you brot?" "Nothing, sir." The teachers expression changed. "There, you see," he told the class. "George has used his talent, brot one talent more, while Jimmy has lost the talent he had. He turned sternly to Jimmy. "What has become of your talent?" "I tossed up with George, sir, he won."

Asotin at Kendrick Tonight

The Asotin girls will meet the Kendrick girls on the home floor tonight, March 1. We are expecting a hard fight, but will try to give them something to work for.

Leave It To The Girls!

Cold weather, sickness nor any other hardship can keep little Cleota Bolon, grade 4, and Jewel Cummings, grade 3, out of school. They are the only ones left in these two grades who have neither been absent nor tardy this year. If this good record can be kept up for three more months they will be given an attendance certificate and a prize awarded by Miss Dille.

Don't Be a Woodcutter

Once upon a time a little boy who was herding sheep on a hill side grew very lonely—you remember the story—he called "Help" once, he called "Help" twice, but the third time the wolf came! We called you once! We called you twice! Watch out for the third call and here it is! March 8th at the Kendrick Theatre, the first four grades will be ready to entertain you. Don't be a woodcutter and fail us when the "wolf" really comes. Prices are 35c and 15c.

THE KARNIVAL

In days of old, so I am told, In this bright land of ours A fairy king and queen so dear Ruled birds, bees and flowers. These fairies lived in woodland hills And loved to dance and sing, So to have a Karnival they thot 'Twould be a pleasant thing. They all were dressed in grand array, Even the clown was there Cinderella, Red Riding Hood And Curly locks so fair. "What did you say? Oh I see You're a dear little foreign miss You've come to gaily dance and sing So here the fairy kiss. Come to the theatre March 8th, And watch these fairy folk bold, You're bound to enjoy their little pranks, From the fairy land days of old.—Anon.

Seventh And Eighth Grades

The seventh and eighth grades held a patriotic program, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. They entertained the third and fourth, also the fifth and sixth grade room. Mr. and Mrs. Emery visited the school at the time of the program. Each student had a patriotic quotation from Washington, Lincoln or other prominent men of America. Katherine Emery spoke: "O! Captain, My Captain!" Evelyn Hartinger told the life of Washington; Blanche Aiken, the life of Lincoln; several songs were sung; Jack Barnes spoke a poem; the third and fourth grades then sang a song, after which they were dismissed. The seventh grade has been using Carpenters' Geographical Reader as a supplement to their geography. The room has received their pictures which they were supposed to have started the study of the first of the year. They also have new supplement books for their grammars. Miss Weaver received an exhibit from Hershys' Chocolate Company. The students find it very interesting.

Girls Win But Boys Defeated

Both the girls' and boys' teams of the Lapwai High School invaded the local gym last Friday. The Kendrick girls won a decisive victory over their opponents, but the boys found the speedy, fast-passing Lapwai hoopsters too much for them.

Although the girls' score was a little one-sided, 14-5, the game was unusually fast and hard-fought. Few girls' games afford the thrills that one did.

The boys' score was 29-17 in favor of Lapwai. Kendrick's "Dead-eye Dick," Howard Dammarell, was largely responsible for Kendrick's seventeen points and made several sensational shots.

Our boys used the five man defense, usually effective on a small floor, but were unable to intercept many of Lapwai's bullet-like passes.

School Carnival

Everybody come and help boost the school! The carnival will be at the high school this evening at 7:30. Those in charge of the hot dog stands invite you to come early and eat as much as your pocketbook will allow. However, the rest of us hope you will save some money for other things. Side shows, novelties, fortune telling, fish ponds, and even candy promise you a whole evening of entertainment.

Pictures For The Assembly

Last week, two new pictures were hung in the assembly. They were purchased from the art exhibit with the proceeds of the exhibits and a school fund for beautifying the school. One is entitled "Abraham Lincoln's Boyhood" and the other is "The Cornfield." These pictures add much attraction to the assembly and we feel that the purchase was a very profitable one.

Teachers Meet Here

The following program planned by Miss Hospers, state rural supervisor and County Superintendent, Ellen Peterson, was given on Saturday in the high school building, beginning at 9:30:

1. Talk, "How to Use a School Library", Edna Ledbetter.
2. Demonstration — Study Arithmetic, Nannie Weaver.
3. Talk, "Appreciation Reading and It's Place in School", Norma Taylor.
4. Second Grade Thought Test Readers, Earlen Stump.
5. Demonstration — Selected Poem for Upper Grades, E. Weitz.
6. Brief Review of Method and Value of Pre-Primer Picture Materials, W. Knepper.
7. Demonstration — Standard Test Lesson from Everyday Reading, Mary Adams.

In the afternoon a round table discussion was participated in by all the teachers.

Luncheon was served at 25c each to the teachers, by Miss Ledbetters' Home Economics class.

The teachers voted the meeting a benefit to all present. Those attending were Supts. Jones of Juliaetta and Beardsley of Kendrick, Mrs. Adams, Taylor and Knepper, and Misses Ledbetter, DuBois, Weitz, Stump, Nannie and Mary Weaver, M. Compton, Olive Simpson, and Dille.

The next meeting will be held in Kendrick the last Saturday in March.

First And Second Grades

The first and second grades are enjoying the new supplementary readers furnished by the district. Do not forget the program by the little folks Friday, March 8, at 8 o'clock, a varied program with something to please everyone.

Washington Birthday Program

A program was given Friday, February 22, in honor of George Washington. It being a patriotic program we also had patriotic recitations. The program was as follows:

- Song: "Battle Hymn of the Republic."
- Recitation: "Old Glory", Marjory Davidson.
- Recitation: "Crown Our Washington", William Ingle.
- Song: "Yankee Doodle."
- One half of students gave quotations on Washington or Lincoln.
- Recitation: "O, Beautiful My Country", Doris Emery.
- Recitation: "Twenty-second of February", Emma Glenn.
- Recitation: "Liberty for All", Herman Hartung.
- Song "Hail Columbia."
- Recitation by Robert Dammar-ell.
- Recitation by H. Dammarell.
- Recitation: "The Name of Old Glory", Minnie Craig.
- Song: "America, the Beautiful."

Remainder of quotations by students.
"Life of Washington", Harley Eichner.
Recitation: "Washington," by Carl Davis.

Recitation: "Your Flag and My Flag," Arthur Foster.
Song: "Star Spangled Banner."
Flag Salute.
Song: "America."
Scriptural Reading.
Address by Rev. Franklin.
Song: "Columbia, The Gem of The Ocean."

The program was enjoyed by all. We were glad to have several visitors. We sincerely hope they enjoyed the program and wish them to visit the school as often as possible.

Dignity and Drives
"Quietly and without fanfare the Lewiston Commercial club is conducting its annual drive for membership, a course that seems proper and dignified. Vital organizations in community life do not need outward promotion efforts." That from a Lewiston newspaper seems to invite the fires of boosterism.

There is a marked division of opinion as to procedure in such cases. Some take the view that the booming of every local movement on high pressure lines constitutes a reflection upon the progressiveness and common sense of the community, and creates a poor opinion of it on the outside. These declare that if a thing is worth while the home folks will put it over, and that too often brass band promotion is started by a comparatively few, sometimes selfishly actuated, who strong arm one group after another until they work up the desired fever.

The other opinion is that nothing might be accomplished without more or less acute agitation and that to attempt to do it "without fanfare or shouting" would result in certain failure of meritorious civic projects. Every community will be the judge, of course. We like the Lewiston way if success can be counted on through that dignified method. One advantage of the non-band plan is that it might minimize "drives," which is a consummation devoutly to be desired.—Guy Flenner.

THE STATE WE LIVE IN
By Byron Defenbach
Discovery Point
"They brought us word again, and said, 'It is a good land which the Lord our God doth give us.'" (The Bible)
Of the forty-eight states in the Union, it would appear that Idaho was the last in time of discovery. We are in a sense the youngest product of American civilization.

The Lemhi Valley has the distinction of being the first part of Idaho ever seen by a white man's eyes. The exact spot upon which this man stood was on the Continental Divide three quarters of a mile up a steep incline from Agency Creek, not far from the present Salmon City.

On this spot Captain Meriwether Lewis and three companions stood on the afternoon of August 12, 1805, and, according to Professor Brosnan, held aloft the Stars and Stripes. They looked westward over the Lemhi Valley to the Salmon Mountains.

Just which of these four men first saw Idaho we cannot determine. The writer would like to give credit to George Drewyer, the expedition's chief hunter. His name appears frequently in the records of Lewis & Clark as wonderfully dextrous with a gun, and able to pursue the faintest track through the forest. The reader may picture a sort of human bird dog, deploying from side to side in front of the main body. If so engaged on this particular afternoon, he may well have been the first to reach the spot where the country tips over toward the Salmon. Perhaps however, he was busy following the trail of some mountain animal that he failed to see Idaho at all. Besides, Drewyer was part Indian. Are the eyes of a half-breed a "white man's eyes?" It is suggested that one of 'em is, anyhow.
Credit for the first sight of Idaho is usually given to Lewis. He was often in the lead; he was a born leader. He had been President Jefferson's private secretary at an annual salary of $500, and had the great man's unbounded confidence. He shares with Clark the glory of leading the greatest land expedition in our history, and his name has been immortalized in many ways. Clark named the present Salmon River "The Lewis," and his own oldest son was named Meriwether Lewis Clark. Idaho has a Lewis county, a Lewiston, and the beautiful Lewis-Clark Hotel. Our state flower is the Lewis Syringa. Captain Lewis afterward became Governor of Louisiana Territory, which then comprised all of the United States west of the Mississippi. His capital was at St. Louis. In the fall of 1809 he was called to Washington on public business and stopped enroute at a nightside log hotel. During the night he died a violent death, whether by his own hand or that of a murderer, no living man knows.
His career had been a tremendous one, yet he was still under thirty-five years of age. He was buried where he died, in what is now Lewis county, Tennessee. A crumbling monument rises above the remains of the first white man who ever saw any part of the state we live in.
