

THE STATE WE LIVE IN

By Byron Defenbach

"Such is the patriot's boast,
Where'er we roam,
Whence'er we roam,
His first best country
Ever is at home."

(Oliver Goldsmith)

On a high spot of ground in Idaho City stands the remains of the old territorial penitentiary, its walls still papered with copies of Harper's and other publications of the 70's. The building is neglected and falling to decay; if it cannot be preserved where it is, interesting parts of the structure should be added to public collections.

It has been the purpose of these brief articles to bring the people of Idaho to a greater realization of the interesting features of the state, on the theory that the more we know about Idaho, the more pride we will have in it and the greater will be our devotion to its interests. Considerable space has been utilized in a description of our wonderful system of rivers, groups of beautiful lakes, ranges of majestic mountains, and of those unique or unusual manifestations of nature of which the state contains so many. No one who has thought of those things, or seen any of them but must feel a thrill of pride that this is his state, his home.

The material resources of the state and the constructive achievements of its people have been briefly treated.

But as man shall not live by bread alone, so should not any lover of his home overlook the traditions of our past and the characters, careers and accomplishments of those men and women of the long ago whose memories throw such a glamor of glory over the state we live in.

It has been said that the people of Switzerland are the most patriotic in the world, and that they suffer most from homesickness. They not only love the natural country in which they live, but they are devoted to its government and believe in its institutions. One of the results is that the little nation has been able to maintain its integrity and its people have preserved their liberties in the face of almost insuperable difficulties.

The Fourth of July has just passed, a day set aside for the stimulation and inculcation of national patriotism. Love of country should not be limited to national affairs. It is the duty of our schools to foster local pride, and no child should be graduated until he has a thorough knowledge of his state, its natural advantages, its material resources, its unusual features, its government, and in a general way the character, and activities of its people of every section.

He who knows most about Idaho will best love it, and he who is most devoted to his state will make the best citizen.

Love of home is a high and ennobling sentiment and nowhere in all the world is there a land more deserving of the devotion of its people than is the one that you and I call "our state," the State We Live In.

In Car Accident

Rev. Ehlen had a close call last week while driving the Denner Buick on the highway near Hatwai school house. Occupants of the car were Mrs. Ehlen, Mrs. Dave Denner of Juliaetta, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Schwartz and two children and Mrs. Mueller, all of Lewiston. All were more or less bruised and received minor cuts from the accident.

Rev. Ehlen was driving the car to Lewiston at a moderate speed. A car in front skidded in loose gravel and the driver put on his brakes, stopping almost immediately. Mr. Ehlen, whose car was about 60 feet behind, was taken by surprise and was unable to come to a full stop, so swerved to the left to avoid hitting the car, and crashed into a truck. The truck was damaged slightly and the Denner Buick damaged to the extent of about $250, but no one seriously injured.

Juliaetta Melons Growing

Reports come from Juliaetta that the melon acreage in that section this season is estimated at from 50 to 60 acres. Baby melons are beginning to appear on the vines and in about six weeks or two months truck loads of these luscious citrons will be hauled thru Kendrick to supply the demand in various parts of the higher country.

Celebration Great Success

Due to the well directed energy of the committees in charge, the two-day celebration held here Wednesday and Thursday of last week, was a very successful affair. Every feature of the celebration was carried out on schedule and in a manner that was highly satisfactory.

One of the largest crowds ever assembled here took part in the festivities on the Fourth. The previous day, while a fair sized crowd was present, it was a mere handful compared to the second day. It was an orderly, good natured crowd and everyone was apparently enjoying the day. No accidents of any kind were reported.

The parade started in the morning on scheduled time, with G. P. Barnum, chairman of his committee, in charge. It was a dandy parade and was a good opener for the day's events. The program in the park and a ball game between Kendrick and Bovill were carried on at the same time. A big crowd was in attendance at both of these events. The ball game resulted in a victory for Kendrick by a score of 8 to 7. The afternoon game, in which Kendrick played Potlatch the score was 6 to 3 in favor of the visitors. They were both very good games.

One of the most outstanding features of the celebration was the music furnished by Kendrick's 35 piece band. The concerts were exceptionally fine and were highly commended by the many visitors here. It is beyond question one of the best bands ever heard in Kendrick.

The executive committee in charge of the celebration was composed of the following: W. J. Carroll, chairman; R. H. Ramey, E. A. Deobald, H. B. Thompson, Jack Barnes, G. P. Barnum, Mrs. L. J. Herres and E. T. Long.

May Produce China Clay

A plant for the treating and refining of china clay may be constructed in Moscow, according to an announcement from that town the first of the week. Estimates are that the plant would cost approximately $15,000 and would furnish employment to 20 men. It is believed there are large deposits of china or fire clay near Kendrick that only await development by some enterprising concern.

Art Wegner of Kellogg is visiting at the Perryman home this week.

ANOTHER PRINCE

Washington's diplomatic corps is now graced by another prince—Prince Anandhat Krimakara, who is the new minister from Siam to the United States. This is a new portrait.

Horace Is an Expert Fisherman

Master Horace S. Major, five, of Ocean View, Va., is an expert on piscatorial matters. He follows the movements of commercial and sports fishermen with unusual interest. And when he wants to be can doll up like a regular oldtimer. Here he is with his hat, slicker, cornob pipe and fish.

Moving W. W. P. Co. Office

The district office of the Washington Water Power Co. is being moved from Kendrick this week to Troy, which will be headquarters for the five towns—Bovill, Deary, Juliaetta, Kendrick and Troy. The move is being made because of the fact that Troy is centrally located among the four other towns comprising the district.

Jack Barnes, district manager, Tony Biehner and Gus Blum will move to Troy. Eben Adams, book-keeper, will work at Troy during the week but his family will remain in Juliaetta. Herman Schupfer has his home here and will look after the interests of Kendrick and Juliaetta.

Big Bear Ridge News

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhart Nelson and daughter, Emergene, left Monday for an overland trip to visit relatives in Missoula and Agawam, Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carlson arrived here from Wenatchee, Wn., to spend the week end with Mrs. Carlson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kloth.

You are cordially invited to come to the ice cream social given by the Ladies Guild at the Community hall, Saturday evening, July 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Ingle and son, Dwight, were recently visiting relatives in Colfax.

Miss Alene Carson of Spokane was a week end guest of Miss Mildred Kloth.

Mrs. Peter Hesby entertained the Lutheran Ladies Aid at her home in Deary, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Herbert Slocum went to Spokane last week, where she is under a doctor's care.

D. Hunter of Peck is spending the week with his daughter, Mrs. Wade Keene.

Bear ridge was well represented at the Kendrick celebration the Fourth.

Pavilion Dance Tonight

There will be a dance at Barnum's pavilion in Kendrick tonight. Music by the Red Sash Band. Everybody cordially invited to attend.

Killed Big Rattlesnake

While mowing hay Bill Hahn killed a rattlesnake on Fix ridge this week that measured 4 1/2 feet in length and 6 inches in circumference. Part of the rattles had been cut off by the mower but it still had ten left.

Mrs. Long Entertains

Mrs. N. B. Long entertained members of the Methodist ladies aid and their husbands at dinner Wednesday evening. There were twenty places at the table. Mrs. Long is a wonderful cook and it is needless to say that her guests enjoyed the occasion very much.

Juliaetta Boy Movie Star

Genesee News: Glenn Tyron was born in Juliaetta, Idaho, and received his early education there, continuing it later in Los Angeles. At the age of 14 he joined a stock company, but when it closed for the summer he used his savings to take him to New York. He played there for two years and later went on the road as a dancer. Tyron worked for a while in the Majestic Stock company in Los Angeles. Then he began playing in short comedy pictures but believed his destiny was on the stage, so returned to it in Los Angeles. Car-Lammele saw him, invited him to Universal for a test and then signed him for "Painting the Town". Tyron has also appeared in several of the most popular films of the day. He will be seen Sunday, July 7 at the Cozy theatre in "How to Handle Women."

Plant Trout in Rearing Pond

The Fish and game committee of the Izaak Walton League of Moscow planted 50,000 baby trout about an inch long in the rearing pond at the first of the week. Next fall, after the trout have reached the stage when they will be able to successfully dodge the king fishers, squawfish, etc., they will be transplanted in the headquarters of Potlatch creek. By that time they should be five inches long and when the season opens the following year should be fair sized fish.

From now until fall the trout will be fed ground beef liver and will be in charge of a man on the job constantly.

Organize Pomona Grange

A Pomona grange has been organized in Latah county when three local granges consisting of members from Moscow, Joel and Kennedy Ford met recently and perfected plans for the organization, which were in charge of W. W. Deal, state grange master.

Officers were elected as follows: L. E. Kegley, Kennedy Ford, master; Henry Bottjer, Joel, overseer; J. F. Retzel, Moscow, secretary; W. E. Cahill, Moscow, treasurer and Mrs. Bertha Gregory of Kennedy Ford, lecturer.

It is reported that two more granges will probably be organized in the county next fall; one on American ridge and the other at Deary.

"Will the anesthetic make me sick, doctor?"

"Oh, I don't think so," said the doctor.

"Well, how long will it be before I know anything?"

Came the witty interruption: "Aren't you expecting too much of an anesthetic, dear?"—Ex.

Mr. Delano made a business trip to Lewiston Wednesday of this week.

Genesee Defeats Kendrick

The Kendrick ball club went to Genesee last Sunday to take part in an exhibition game at the Rodeo coltbration, which was held there for four days. It was a battling orgie and ended with a 12 to 11 score in favor of Genesee. Tony Biehner, an amateur chucker of no mean ability, pitched for Kendrick and made a good showing.

Frank Vaughan Killed

Frank Smith Vaughan, age 61 years, a resident of the Lenore country for a period of forty years, was killed some time late Saturday when the horse he was riding turned a somersault and crushed him beneath the saddle. Mr. Vaughan had gone out on his ranch to round up some cattle when the accident occurred. When he failed to return home, searching parties were sent out and his body was discovered about 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Judging by the position in which Mr. Vaughan's body was lying, it is believed that his horse stepped into a brush covered washout while descending a hill and fell on its rider. From the nature of the injuries received it is practically certain that Mr. Vaughan died instantly.

Funeral services were held at Southwick Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock and interment followed at the Cameron cemetery.

Mr. Vaughan was a prominent farmer of the Cream ridge section and had a host of friends thruout the Potlatch country.

Mr. Vaughan is survived by his widow, Mrs. Samantha Vaughan; a daughter, Mrs. Henry Emerson, Genesee; a son, Neal Vaughan, Lenore; his father, Cornelius Vaughan, Brookfield, Mo.; a brother, R. L. Vaughan, Supply, Ariz.; a brother, Neal Vaughan, Lima, Mo.; and a sister, Mrs. C. M. Hopper, Brookfield, Mo.

Juliaetta Packing Cherries

The packing house of the Juliaetta Cherry Growers association began packing its first carload of cherries Monday morning. It is expected that it will require a week or ten days to handle the crop in that section, which is estimated at from 25 to 30 carloads. The cherries are said to be a fine quality this year and growers are hoping to realize a good profit from them this season.

Just Like Men

Little Mary was sent to watch a flock of chickens. The hens kept together very well, but the rooster was inclined to wander inquisitively toward another flock of chickens next door. "Come back here!" cried Mary. "Come back to your own family!" But the rooster kept right on. Mary looked at him a moment, disgustedly, then she said in a low, bitter voice: "That's just like you men!"

New Field Pea Variety

Idahell, a new blue seeded field pea selected and developed by the department of agronomy of the University of Idaho experiment station, was distributed to farmers in the Palouse area for the first time this season. The new variety is a semi-dwarf type selected from Bluebell, an old variety which has been commonly grown on Palouse farms for many years. Idahell has been under observation and trials of the experiment station since 1917. Over a ten-year period it has out-yielded its original parent by nearly 25 per cent.

The seed of the variety are of about the same size, shape and color as the Bluebell. However they are more uniform in size, the plants producing very few small seeds. It matures at the same time as Bluebell.

The entire seed supply available for distribution has been released for this season. Another season a considerable quantity of seed will be available for planting by Palouse farmers who will be willing to save the crop for seeding purposes.—H. W. Hulbert, Professor of Idaho College of Agriculture.

Tree Yields $80 in Cherries

A single tree of Lambert cherries yielded 800 pounds of the red fruit, it was reported Monday by J. M. McFadden of Libby street, Clarkston, with a sale value of $80. He also told of several Bing trees which produced as much as 300 pounds, meaning $30 per tree when sold.

Mr. McFadden attributes the high production to good pollenization conditions. "Cherry trees should be planted 40 feet apart with a reasonable number of good pollenizers," he said. "Under conditions of this kind when the trees are given proper care, the orchardist should have no fear of failure, although some years his crop may be light due to natural causes."

But Mr. McFadden is not a believer in cherry trees alone for financial success. In addition to a cherry orchard, a grower should have a few head of good milk cows, two or three pigs and a flock of good laying hens, he asserted.

"The cows and chickens should largely meet the weekly expense of the family, and the returns from the orchard, minus taxes, interest on the investment and insurance, should be largely profit."—Tribune.

Bear Ridge Girl a Bride

A quiet wedding took place at Moscow last Friday evening when Miss Virginia McGraw of Bear ridge became the bride of Mr. Gerald Schlottbauer of Deary. The marriage was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Bates, Rev. Clifford M. Drury, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McGraw of Bear ridge and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Schlottbauer of Deary.

The bride has been a student at the University of Idaho and expects to continue her studies there next fall.

Mathews Declared Insane

Raymond Mathews, twenty-year-old Cavendish boy, was adjudged insane last Tuesday when he appeared before the district court at Lewiston charged with the slaying of his father, Lee Mathews, prominent farmer of the Cavendish community.

The district judge appointed a commission of physicians to examine the youth. Their conclusion was to the effect that he was mentally unbalanced. He will be committed to the insane asylum at Orofino. It was stated by Latah county officers that in the event that he should be released he would be charged with murder.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Knepper and family spent a week end camping trip at Black Pine on Craig Mountain.

Crescent Clippings

This neighborhood was well represented in Kendrick both days of the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dorendorf, Mrs. Fred Dorendorf and daughter, and Mrs. Dunlap and children of Kellogg spent the week end at the Andrew Dorendorf home. Sunday they had quite a family reunion. Besides those already mentioned the following families were also present: Bill Dorendorf, Abe Dorendorf, Wm. Riley and Anna Kimbley.

Mr. and Mrs. James Farrington and son, Everett, motored to Spokane, Tuesday, where Mrs. Farrington will undergo an operation for appendicitis. She has not been well for some time.

George Souders and wife of Wallace, Idaho, spent the Fourth with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Souders.

Miss Eva Slatter and Abner Cowger were Saturday night supper guests of the Gus Farrington family.

Axel Eckman has been quite sick for the past week.

James Farrington, Albert Dorendorf and Jim, Mark and Zeb Robeson went to Elk River, Monday. The Robeson boys expect to have work near there all summer. The other two returned home Monday evening.

Work was finished for the season at Gus Farrington's sawmill, last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Hartsuff and children and Lester Weaver were Sunday evening guests at the Gus Farrington home.

Mr. and Mrs. Abe Dorendorf and sons motored to Texas ridge Tuesday for berries. M. L. Robeson accompanied them to visit his daughter, Mrs. Vester Evans for a few weeks.

Several from here are attending the camp meeting being held between here and Southwick.

Mrs. Gus Farrington and children visited Sunday afternoon at the M. L. Robeson home.

Maude Hunt is staying at the James Farrington home to take care of things while her sister, Mrs. Farrington is in Spokane.

Give Corn Water for High Yields

Need of Fertile Soil and Use of Legumes in Rotation Are Factors.

No one ever saw a good yield of corn on poor land nor during a dry season, unless the crop was irrigated. Large amounts of water are essential to heavy corn production per acre.

"Much interest has been created through North Carolina by our statement that the average acre yield of corn should be at least 50 bushels," says G. M. Garren, cereal agronomist at the North Carolina State college. "We have had a number of letters asking how to obtain such an average yield. In answering these, attention has been called to the need of a fertile soil, the use of legumes in rotation, liberal fertilization and other necessary factors.

Need for Moisture. "It is also essential that we keep in mind the need for moisture in the soil. Some investigator has found that 300 pounds of water is needed by the corn plant for every pound of dry matter produced. This includes the water evaporated through the soil as well as that transpired through the leaves."

Therefore, it is important, says Mr. Garren, that the corn grower conserve the moisture in the soil. This is the only kind that benefits the growing plant. The grower may increase the storage capacity of the soil by increasing its humus content, and he may conserve the moisture by keeping a mulch constantly on the surface. This mulch must be restored whenever destroyed, and certainly after every rain. Three inches is a fair depth for cultivation, and any implement that will produce the effect of a drag harrow may be used for the cultivations. For best results, level cultivation should be given except in a very wet season. Then drainage becomes a problem.

Conserve Moisture. Those who wish to grow 50 bushels of corn per acre must give close attention to the conservation of soil moisture. In many cases, this will call for a change of practice and the securing of more suitable implements for cultivation.

Courtship by Song
A vivid description has been given of the courtship of the golden plover: The male bird mounts about 100 feet and starts to sing, flying slowly around the spot on the beach where his desired mate is listening. Sometimes several males will vie for one mate, but they make it purely a singing contest rather than a fight. The song carries over a great stretch of moor, attracting females in the vicinity.

Black Snow
Though sometimes discredited, it is an actual fact that black snow sometimes occurs. The color is produced by the action of innumerable fungi, known as the "Microcococcus nivalis." It has also been reported from time to time that snow either red, blue, or green in color, has fallen in certain localities. This is caused by the action of such fungi. The black snow is comparatively rare.

"Whiskers" on Red Clover Due to Bug

Potato Leaf Hopper Always Attacks Smooth Variety.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Red clover in the United States grows "whiskers" that stand straight out from the stems of the plants, while in England the ancestral form of the American type is still comparatively free from hairiness.

In attempting an explanation of the change from the smooth to the hairy form, Dr. A. J. Pieters of the United States Department of Agriculture, says it is "necessary to turn to the wild red clover" to which all clovers are related and which shows a tendency toward hairiness. The possibility of producing hairy plants was therefore "in the blood" of the relatively smooth type brought from England more than 200 years ago, he says. Furthermore a few rough hairy plants may have occurred in fields seeded with the English clovers.

When this English clover was brought to America it encountered new conditions, among them a little insect not known in Europe and called the potato leaf hopper. This insect damages red clover, especially the smooth forms, doing the most injury to the second, or seed, crop. Doctor Pieters says. It always keeps down the growth of the smooth plants of European clovers grown in the United States so they will not seed well. The hairy American type is little affected, especially when there are smooth plants on which the leaf hopper can feed.

A reasonable inference, says Doctor Pieters, may be drawn from what is known to happen today, and from the known facts the most reasonable answer to the question of why American clover is hairy is that the constant attacks of the leaf hopper carried on for more than one hundred years gradually eliminated the smooth form by keeping down the production of seed, while the rough hairy form produced more seed than the other, and so constantly increased.

Favor Sodium Fluoride to Destroy Parasites

Sodium fluoride ought not be used on setting hens just before chicks or poult are hatched, because this chemical does act as a very positive irritant to the lungs and breathing apparatus of the young birds. Blue ointment is a much better agent to use for controlling lice on setting hens, but for best results it should be used a week or ten days before the hen is set.

It is possible, of course, that the breeding birds which produced the turkey eggs were a little low in vitality, or perhaps they were overfat. Generally, yearling males mated to early-hatched yearling or two-year-old hens, will give better results than matings of old toms and old hens.—F. E. Mussell, University of Nebraska.

The groom may be fooled into thinking he is marrying a cook, but the neighborhood grocer knows the wedding is going to boost the sale of canned beans.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

TRUE WEIGHT

There's more than one detail to be considered in the filling of prescriptions. Purity, strength and skillful compounding are three very necessary considerations, but there's a fourth consideration equally as important. The weighing and measuring of drugs must be carefully done. Your doctor wants an exact amount on his prescription. We give you exactly what the doctor orders. We weigh medicines on the most accurate prescription balance made. All liquid medicines are measured in carefully graduated containers. You are sure of receiving the right amount and the exact amount when we fill your prescriptions. It is a carefulness that goes with our service.
