LOCAL LAWYER REMODELS HOME

TRANSFORMS OLD HOUSE INTO COSY RESIDENCE

What ingenuity at a modest expense can do with an old building is being demonstrated in the remodeling and rebuilding of the old Freytag house in West Kendrick. C. A. Oppenborn, our only lawyer, the present owner of this property, has under way extensive changes along up-to-date lines that promise to make this old landmark one of the finest little homes in this community. New features which the owner is adding are enlarged cellar, laundry, hall-way, bathroom, library, additional bedroom and closets.

The editor, at the invitation of Mr. Oppenborn, has enjoyed the privilege of inspecting the now about half-completed job, of which the owner of the property is designer, contractor, carpenter, and general all-round utility man. The building, when completed, will be a credit to our city and an achievement on the part of its owner, well worthy of emulation.

Mr. Oppenborn, besides being a well-rounded lawyer of many years experience in his chosen profession, also demonstrates himself to be a master craftsman. His remodeling job, from cellar to garret, shows uniqueness and practicality of design and construction. The living rooms and kitchen, all hand finished in the natural wood, with convenient nooks, closets, chests, drawers, cupboards and the plumbing, spell the latest and best the progressive housewife could wish—a built-in china cabinet crowning the effort. A large porch across the front and east sides, and a lawn with shrubbery and flowers, will follow in due course of time. The project so far represents from two to five hours daily application, covering a period of six months, on the part of the designer and builder.

Mr. Oppenborn is a native of Michigan. He was born at Alpena, where he served as county treasurer during 1901-2-3 and 4; thereon he took up law, graduating from the Detroit College in 1907. He practised ten years in Michigan, during which he was circuit court commissioner, served a term in the state legislature and a term as prosecuting attorney. He moved to South Dakota in 1917, where he was three times elected prosecuting attorney and had a successful law practice. Suffering a nervous break-down in 1926, on the advice of physicians he sought a more equable climate and in August, 1927, after covering many of the milder regions of the Northwest, he temporarily settled in Lewiston, Idaho, and a year later permanently located himself and family in Kendrick.

With practically no income for more than a year and a half and under heavy expenses, his savings had about ebbed away, yet with a small initial payment down, he purchased the little house which is the subject of this sketch. Some needed repairs suggested the idea of remodeling it. He says: "The thing worked like magic; the out-door labor was tonic to the body and soul; the more I took of it the more I wanted. At times I was over-ambitious and did more than I should, but thereon came night and rest; sleep, beautiful, refreshing, rehabilitating, so that it seemed in the morning that I was built anew. Then I noted an improvement in my physical condition; it seemed fatigue no longer laid hold on me as it had in the beginning. Finally the picture I had dreamed took shape and the new home became a reality, and I felt as if I was surmounting what in the beginning had seemed an impossibility. More than that, I felt that life had acquired a new tone for me, and

OLD SOL STAGES WARM COMEBACK

Old Sol, as if angry at the cooling rain of last Sunday, has staged a temporary "comeback". Tuesday was one of the warmest days of the year, according to a number of old-timers who know weather conditions. Thermometers registered from 100 to 106 in various places in the village. It is predicted freely, however, that there will be few more days of that kind. A feeling of autumn is in the air, and the cool, pleasant Indian summer, with its mild sunshine, its beautiful colored foliage, and its cool, pleasant Indian summer, soon be with us.

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Walker were dinner guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Groth Wednesday evening.

INTEREST IN TENNIS REVIVES

The tennis club of Kendrick shows signs of renewed life. So many members had moved away or changed their "hobby" that the organization had become quiescent. Weeds grew in the tennis court, and it became a lonely, forlorn spectacle on main street. But several members of the club are now getting their rackets tuned up and two or three have appeared on the court. Others will be there, soon as the cool autumn days appear.

On Monday, R. H. Ramey and his nephew, Thomas Ramey, exhibited a good brand of tennis, for the entertainment of an interested crowd. Thomas Ramey, though only 17, shows some of the qualities of a champion.

PLANS FOR SCHOOL GO FORWARD

Supt. W. C. Jones of the local school is busily engaged at the school building this week rearranging equipment and setting things in order for the opening. He will shift the science laboratory upstairs and the seventh and eighth grade furniture and equipment to the lower floor. He is being assisted by the janitor, Mr. McAllister.

Mr. Jones announces that he wants as many boys as possible out for football during the first week. He expects to begin practice without delay. He has games promised already with Lapwai and Culesaac, and negotiations are under way for games with Troy, Genesee and Orofino. It is expected that there will be seven games during the season.

WARNING AGAINST INFECTION

A great number of infections of hands occur every year between August 1 and freezing time late in the fall.

All scratches and injury to skin should be sterilized as soon as possible after injury.

A few drops of tincture of iodine, the strongest antiseptic, is most sure to prevent infection. Mercurochrome is less dangerous, and is a good antiseptic. This preparation can be used in greater quantity. It can be poured freely over cuts and scratches without fear of injury.

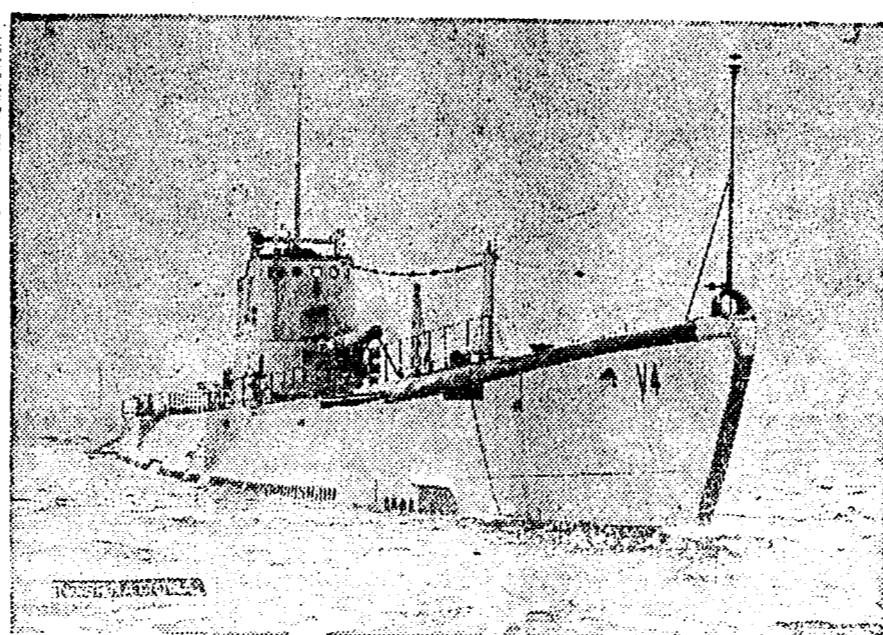

—Dr. E. H. Field.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS ARE ACTIVE

Two state traffic officers spent most of the day Monday in the vicinity of Kendrick. They apprehended two speeders, one person driving without a license and one whose car lacked a muffler. All of them received appropriate fines in justice Carlson's court.

Renewed efforts are being made of late by state officials to check violations of speed laws, especially in the cities and towns. Lewiston has tightened up, and other places in this part of Idaho are trying to observe the 20 mile speed limit.

WATCH YOURSELF GO BY

What an odd thing it would be if a fellow could stand off across the street a hundred feet away and watch himself go by! What would he think of himself, anyway? Particularly if he could forget for the time-being that the fellow over there was himself,—what then, would be his appraisal of himself? Would he notice the eccentricities of his own personality? Would he detect the flaws in his own character? Would he see with a cold and critical eye the shortcomings of his own ego? Probably he would. And then if he suddenly came to realize that the fellow across the street whom he had just surveyed so caustically, was none other than himself, what a jolt it would be to his self esteem. Like a whipped puppy with drooping head and tail, he would sneak away and be ashamed.

Perhaps it is fortunate after all that we cannot see ourselves as we really are.

There are several encouraging signs that point toward a gradual upward trend in agriculture. Prices of livestock, especially cattle and sheep, are holding up well. The federal Farm Board with its cooperative marketing assistance, is creating a hopeful state of mind. Congress is for the first time, seriously considering a tariff schedule directly helpful to the farmer. The drift of population city-ward is creating an ever increasing demand for farm products. And farmers are organizing more effectively than ever before.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that with all these factors working in favor of agriculture, the farmer may be just now entering a new era of prosperity?

FARM POULTRY

CLEAN GROUND IS BEST FOR RANGES

One of Most Important Points in Growing Pullets.

Clean ground for ranging is one of the most important points in the growing of healthy pullets which will become vigorous and profitable layers, it is pointed out by the poultry husbandry department of the Ohio State university.

"A large percentage of the mortality in the growing flock, as well as in the matured laying flock, is caused either directly or indirectly by intestinal parasites," P. B. Zumbro, poultry specialist, says in a recent extension service publication. "These parasites, as well as many disease germs, are carried over from year to year in the soil."

Zumbro urges that chick ranges be on land on which no other chicks have been raised or old hens ranged, for at least two years. Alfalfa, he says, makes one of the best chick ranges. Clover is almost as good, and blue grass comes next.

"Many poultry men think an alfalfa or clover field is too valuable for rearing chicks. This is a mistake. Poultry grown on good range will give a return equal to that from any live stock, or better. Good results can be obtained by having two or more ranges, and a crop can be grown in the meantime. This method will provide clean range and will enable the owner to have the brooder house near the farmhouse, saving time in going to and from the house. When this method is used, one acre of land should be provided for each 500 chicks."

Wonderful Feats With Turkeys Are Reported

Really wonderful results with turkeys are reported from the Ontario government turkey farm in Norfolk county. Years ago this province used to raise turkeys by the thousands but disease got in and flocks have been diminishing to such an extent that each year thousands of birds are brought in from the West. The disease puzzled people and, except where there was unlimited range the raising of turkeys languished. Even in the places where there was plenty of range, such as in the rocky districts on the edge of forest lands, difficulties in the shape of foxes and wolves were encountered. It looked for a while as if there would be practically no turkeys raised in Ontario. But Prof. W. R. Graham took hold of the thing and he soon found out that the disease came from the ground and the germs were so hardy that they could live over in the coldest weather. He adopted the plan of feeding everything in troughs and moving these troughs each day and his results have been unusually successful. Losses have been light on the experimental turkey farm and some excellent birds raised.

Poultry Notes

It pays to worm the poultry.

It requires 21 days to hatch hen eggs.

Care must be taken that chicks do not crowd in corners and smother.

Shut the sheep in at night, allowing them to bed in the corral or shed.

Coccidiosis usually occurs in young chicks from two to six weeks of age.

When the pullets are about eight weeks old, they can be removed to the rearing ground.

Tapeworms have been named as the cause of death of 50 per cent of the chickens in some flocks.

Changing breeds every year has never yet been found a safe foundation for a profitable poultry business.

A month lost in growing out pullets means the loss of a month's production next fall when eggs are a good price.

Any variety of wheat is good for poultry. In fact, small undeveloped shriveled wheat if dry is even better than the fully developed kernel.

The farmer who produces eggs of uniform color, weighing an average of 23 ounces per dozen, and which are held in a cool cellar, can ship to eastern markets by express to advantage.

The profit from the farm flock depends to a large extent on the number of eggs the hens lay.

Hens cannot lay eggs without protein. Skim milk is one of the best forms of protein for use with all classes of poultry.

Perfume Old Commodity

Perfume which we define as a sweet fragrance was one of the most useful and interesting of ancient commodities. It was used for innumerable things, but mostly for religious and medicinal purposes.

North Slopes Scanty

In normal years the north slopes of farm land yield far heavier crops than the south slopes. But this year the reverse is true. This resulted from the fact that there was but little rain last fall—but a heavy snow came and lay on frozen ground on the north slopes till late in the winter.

Coming Man Goes Back

There were no signals in the early days of railways. When drivers of trains met on a single line they had to argue it out. Later, a post was erected midway between stations so that "he who had passed the pillar must go on, and the coming man go back."

Beneath Contempt

A burglar who piles his vocation may possess a certain honor in his profession; a forger may also take pride in his ability to coin ready money, and even an automobile thief may think he is a success, but a clerk-in-chief is the lowest of all offenders.

ELK PLENTIFUL

When the season opens November 1, sportsmen should have little difficulty in killing elk in Asotin and Garfield counties, as there are between 1,000 and 1,200 male animals in the Blue mountain district where they can be reached easily by sportsmen. M. C. Martin, county game warden, reported yesterday.

Despite the fact that between 50 and 100 elk have been killed annually during the last two years in these two counties, the herds have been increasing rapidly, as indicated by the number that may be seen in different sections, according to Mr. Martin.—Lewiston Tribune.

Level and Rolling Land

The Geological survey states that when land is surveyed for division it is treated as a plane surface. Therefore, a quarter of a section of level land contains the same amount of land as a quarter of a section of rolling land, but there may be actually more surface or earth in the rolling section than in the level section.

The DAIRY

CURB DISCOVERED FOR ONION PEST

Surest Way to Prevent Flavors in Cows' Milk.

Although onions and garlic appear early in the spring and soon disappear, they last just long enough before the grass gets well started to cause considerable trouble to milk producers. Observation has shown that if a cow eats a pound of onion tops, about two hours must elapse before her milk will be free from undesirable flavors.

It is not difficult, says F. H. Button, assistant professor of dairy industry, at Rutgers university, to perceive how some cows might get even more than a pound of onion tops in a day's feeding, and thereby require probably four hours before her milk becomes normal in flavor.

Many dairymen believe that the surest remedy for preventing onion and garlic flavors in milk and cream is to keep the cows in pastures where the obnoxious plants do not grow. Where the infestation is small in area, some men eradicate the plants by spraying with orchard heating oil.

The oil destroys the plants entirely. Large areas of infested land, however, are usually cleared by fall and spring plowing and then cropping the land for three or four years with such crops as corn, potatoes, soy beans and cowpeas.

Another common practice in the production of milk free from onion flavor is to leave the cows on infested pasture only for limited periods each day, until the grass advances to such extent that it supplies the wants of the animals.

Different Essentials of Profitable Ration

Dairy cows are equipped with a large stomach, divided into four compartments. Nature intended this large compartment as a store house for roughages and gave the cow the power of rechewing the food that had been hurriedly collected in large amounts. Concentrates were not listed in the cow's original bill of fare.

Alfalfa, clover and ensilage are the three farm roughages that will furnish more pounds of digestible nutrients per acre than can be produced by any other crops. Since the dairy cow was designed to handle large amounts of roughage let these bulky feeds furnish the basis of her ration. Such roughages as there are the basis of economic feeding.

Dairy Hints

A dairy barn should be white-washed at least once a year.
Pure breeds of good quality do better in the feed lot than scrubs or common stock.
There are many dairymen who have been using hay bams this past winter than ever before.
A mod of 200 to 1,000 pounds of milk per cow is a reasonable aim for the average dairyman.

DAVIS GETS CARLSON'S GOAT

Wayne Davis was the lucky man who won "Nannie", the goat, at A. K. Carlson's Hardware Sale Monday morning. "Nannie" was awarded to Mr. Davis by a committee chosen from the crowd. The small boys of the town, who had so much fun with "Nannie", seem to feel lonesome, now that she has disappeared from her prominent position on main street.

The Carlson sale, which began Monday is continuing with success. It has attracted quite a number of people from surrounding towns, according to the Gregson man, who has charge.

The Gregson company have operated in this territory for 18 years, and have conducted eight or ten successful sales in Kendrick in recent years.

A general rain, thruout the inland empire occurred Sunday night, bringing to an end a 69 day period of drought. No rain had fallen since June 18. The refreshing downpour brought relief to weary firefighters, halted the displacement of timber in many parts of the three north-western states, cleared the air of dust and smoke, and at the same time did no harm to the harvests.

Fire that originated under the porch of the Orofino Mercantile store and the Old Shields Hardware store at 3:30 a. m. Monday morning did damage estimated at $2,000 to the two establishments, part of which was covered by insurance. Before the fire was extinguished it ate through two windows at the rear of the general store and one window at the rear of the hardware store. Most of the damage was done by smoke and water.

DAIRY FACTS

PASTURES NEEDED FOR DAIRY FARMS

Waste Seed and Labor When Planting on Poor Land.

The one big drawback to dairy farming is a scarcity of good pastures. "A good pasture is one that furnishes an abundance of nutritious grazing," says John A. Arey, dairy extension specialist at the North Carolina State college. "On such a pasture a cow may get enough to eat without having to wander over a large area for it. Too many of our so-called pastures contain large amounts of woods and waste lands and are not much more than exercising grounds for our cows. Nearly all the food a cow gets from such a pasture is used up in producing the energy to get it."

In Mr. Arey's opinion, a pasture should be regarded as a crop and so cared for. Grass seed ought to be planted on good land—land sufficiently fertile to grow good crops and then the weeds and brush kept down. If the soil is given an occasional top-dressing of manure or commercial fertilizer, especially phosphates and nitrogen, better results will be secured.

"About all the attention most of our pastures receive is a little time spent in tightening the barbed wires on a wet day," says Mr. Arey.

Seed and labor are both lost when planting is made on poor land. Sixty per cent of the average North Carolina farm land is listed in the census as unimproved but much of this land is fertile. However, it is now covered with underbrush and returns no income. Then, too, there is much rolling land in the Piedmont section that washes easily when cultivated. In other sections there are good bottoms which overflow too frequently to be safe for crops. All of these areas can be made into good pasture. Mr. Arey says that records from the local herd improvement association show that pasture has a value of from $6 to $10 per acre when cream from the cows so grazed is sold for butter making. The value is greater where milk is retailed.

Cow-Testing Increases and Dairy Profits Grow

Cow-testing association work in Pennsylvania has expanded 250 per cent since 1924. I. O. Sidelmann of the Pennsylvania State college dairy extension service, said recently. In that year there were 8,224 cows tested while last year the number was 20,272.

During the past five years the average milk production per cow in the associations has increased from 7,300 pounds in 1924 to 7,776 pounds last year. Twenty-five associations averaged more than 8,000 pounds last year, six over 9,000, and three more than 10,000 pounds in 1928.

Butterfat production per cow also has experienced a steady increase under improved management and better breeding and feeding. Five years ago the mark was 286.9 pounds per cow. Last year the figure was 303.7 pounds. This was the second year in the history of Pennsylvania cow-testing work that butterfat production exceeded the 300 mark. Sidelmann reported.

The 1924 figure for value of product was $217.50 per cow while last year it was $246.87. Feed costs have fluctuated slightly above or below $100 per cow for the five-year period. For each dollar expended for feed in 1924, dairymen in association work received $2.20. Last year the returns amounted to $2.41.

Mineral Mixtures Very Important for Cattle

The feeding of mineral mixtures to dairy cattle is very important, for dairy cows lose a large amount of mineral matter during the lactation period and do not store minerals at that time.

This is the statement contained in a report of the Colorado Dairy Herd Improvement association, by State Dairy Commissioner George E. Morton and C. A. Smith, fieldman, which has been issued by the Colorado Agricultural college.

Even when cows are on rations containing large amounts of minerals, it has been found that the addition of a mineral mixture helps prolong production a number of years, and insures a large and more rugged calf crop, the report states.

A little steamed bone meal or a mixture of equal parts of crushed limestone, steamed bone meal and salt added to the ration will insure a longer period of production, healthier cows and decrease breeding troubles.

Breeding Bull Value

It is a well-known fact that the breeding value of a bull cannot be determined until his daughters come into milk. A bull may be well bred and still not be able to transmit high producing ability to his offspring. Yet it is the rule on the average dairy farm to sell a bull when his daughters are ready to show what they can do at the pail. Bulls are usually sold before their daughters are ready to breed. Farmers should exchange sires with each other.

MAIL BOX THEFTS AID CHECK FORGERS

American Bankers Association in Nationwide Warning Exposes Methods and Gives Rules to Combat Them.

NEW YORK.—Active operations in many cities of mail box thieves, who open bank communications to customers, containing details of their accounts and cancelled checks showing their banking signatures, and use this material in perpetrating check forgeries, have led the American Bankers Association to issue a nationwide warning to its members with instructions for combating this form of crime. The warning as sent out by James E. Baum in charge of the association's Protective Department says:

"Heavy losses are being sustained through cancelled vouchers and statements stolen from the mail boxes"

School Starts at Cameron

Mr. G. F. Cridlebaugh will enter his third year of teaching in the Cameron school when school begins next Monday, September 2.

School will convene promptly at nine o'clock and the regular daily routine will be followed. Regular class work will begin as soon as the registration of the pupils has been taken care of.

In order that no delay may be caused by the lack of books, pupils are urged to have their texts and other necessary supplies the first day of school.

Parents are requested to have their children enroll the very first day. Many failures are due to a late start which often discourages a child when he finds that his class is ahead of him.

Mr. Cridlebaugh will be in Cameron, Saturday and will be glad to discuss any matters pertaining to school work before the opening day.

HOPPERS SWEEP GARDENS IN GRAND RONDE

Grasshoppers have accumulated by the millions in the Grand Ronde district in the south end of Asotin county, destroying gardens and vegetation, A. W. Norton, who was a business visitor here yesterday, reported.

Entire gardens will be stripped clean within a few hours, and almost all vegetation within their path is destroyed by these pests, according to Mr. Norton.

The grasshoppers apparently accumulated in the sidehills among the seab rock, but during the last two weeks they have been flying in swarms, covering the country for miles around.

Extend Over Canyon. The pests extend as far north as the top of the Schumaker grade, but they are not numerous in the vicinity of the Grande Ronde near the Hansen Ferry district.

This is the first time for many years that the farmers of the Grand Ronde district have had to contend with grasshoppers to such an extent. An immediate effort will be made by farmers to check them.—Lewiston Tribune.

Dairy Notes

Protect dairy cattle from direct drafts of cold air.

The best way to control off flavors in milk is to prevent them.

Cream that is too thick is difficult to handle and sample, especially when cold.

Most cream separators will do much better job of skimming the milk when it is warm.

Had you ever thought that scouring of calves may be caused by a lack of scrubbing feed pails?

The dairyman who has records on his cows can command a premium price on his sale stock.

Of the milk produced in the United States, 46 per cent is used as whole milk and 40 per cent is made into butter.

Cows are improving every day but we haven't found any cows giving dry milk, and they know better than we how to water their milk.

Experiments indicate that calves develop heavier bones, increase faster in weight, and show better physical condition if they are allowed to spend several hours in the sunlight each day.

Full-fed cows give brimming pails of milk. Feed liberally, yet carefully, of balanced rations, says Pennsylvania State college dairy specialists.

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones. Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy leg- straps are used. I guarantee the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances. 75% of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.
