

KENDRICK PIONEER PASSES 92ND MILESTONE

ATTRIBUTES HEALTH AND LONG LIFE TO HARD WORK

W. T. Wright, for 39 years a resident of Kendrick and vicinity, celebrated his 92nd birthday last Monday, September 16. Born in Westville, Indiana, in 1837, Mr. Wright came west in 1864, lived 16 years in California, and then migrated to Latah County and Kendrick to establish his home for the remaining years of his life.

Mr. Wright has a short and simple recipe for health and long life, namely "hard work." Throughout the 92 years of his sojourn in this world, he has enjoyed almost perfect health, and he believes that hard work, in which there is plenty of physical activity and outdoor exercise explains his freedom from illness.

For many years Mr. Wright has followed the carpenter's trade, though at times, too, he has been engaged in the nursery business. Although in advanced years, and no longer able to ply his trade, he still finds work to do. At his home in West Kendrick he does chores about the house and barn, keeps up a beautiful flower garden, and tends his vegetables. "I still have a good garden, although I must get down on my hands and knees to pick out the weeds, since my eyesight is failing," he remarked.

Mr. Wright prides himself upon the fact that he has been a Methodist for 50 years and an Odd Fellow since 1863. It is evident that these organizations mean much to him. In speaking of his lodge membership, he touched caressingly a large bouquet of gladiolus that rested on the center table, and he remarked that these had been given to him by three of his fellow lodge men, N. E. Walker, Thomas McDowell and Bert Helpman.

Mr. Wright comes, from sturdy Welch and German stock. His father was a Pennsylvania his mother a West Virginian. His wife passed away in 1897. Since which time he has lived alone or with his children. At present his daughter, Mrs. M. Kaykendall, is keeping house for him. Other children are: Mrs. N. R. Hill of Fraser, Mrs. Enoch Harrison of Leland, and Dean Wright of Agatha.

Mr. Wright's many friends in Kendrick and vicinity, now that he has passed another milestone join in wishing him many happy returns of the day.

Reports from the grade teachers indicate that the work of that department is going nicely.

FIRST GAME OF SEASON TODAY

The day of the big game is drawing near. Genesee will be here in body Friday the 27th. Kendrick has just twelve boys that are large enough to play football. The following boys are likely to start against Genesee Friday: Mielke and Plummer, ends; Foster and Davis, tackles; Schwartz and Morey, guards; Haynes, Center; Brocke and Blevins, Half-backs; Woody, quarter; and Brocke, full-back.

FAIR PLAY!

The story of E. H. Dammarell's career as a merchant, published in last week's issue of The Gazette, reflects the wisdom of years of experience. What Mr. Dammarell has put his finger squarely upon the two chief problems of the small town merchant—the problem of credit and the problem of holding the cash customer.

That person who demands credit at home but spends his cash away from home is a poor sport. Moreover he is injuring not simply his home town and his best friend the merchant, he is injuring himself as well; for his disloyalty will eventually cause his community to decline and his own property to lose its value. Good schools, good churches, civic improvements, property, contentment,—these are the things that make a place worth living in. But they cannot be maintained except by the constant loyalty of the people themselves. And there is no finer way in the world to show one's loyalty than to spend one's cash with the home-town merchant who so loyally carries his customers thru all periods of stress, when they must have commodities but cannot immediately pay for them.

KENDRICK STILL A GREAT SHIPPING POINT

Those who lived in Kendrick many years ago when it and Juliaetta were the terminals of the Northern Pacific railway, and when these towns were headquarters for the mines, recall the village of those distant days as a bustling shipping point. Old-timers speak of the perpetual stream of freighters that came into and out of Kendrick daily, drawn by six and eight horse teams. The descriptions that are given afford a vivid picture of lively stores, colorful saloons, and rough and ready frontier life.

Kendrick was, indeed, in those distant days, a bustling little city; those of us who belong to a later generation must admit that. Since then the railway terminal has disappeared, mining activity has declined, and Kendrick has come to rely more and more, as the years have rolled by, upon her rich agricultural resources. As these resources have been developed, she has been transformed from a terminal shipping point to a prosperous agricultural center. The wealth that passes through her portals now, if less in volume, is worth more to her in one sense than the wealth of an earlier day, for her present wealth is really her own. She produces it herself, she receives the money for it, and her farmers are gradually accumulating a surplus through the years. Instead of being merely a shipping point for goods that pass through and are gone, she has become the center and hub of one of the richest agricultural regions in the west.

To prove that this is true we need only to call attention to the following estimated average annual shipments from Kendrick:

Wheat, 260,000 bushels
Beans, 5,000,000 pounds
Lumber, 100 cars
Cedar Poles, 50 cars
Cream, 4500 five gal. cans
Livestock and poultry, 60 cars

It would seem to be a conservative estimate to say that the total value of the produce listed above runs between $800,000 and $1,000,000 per year. And this amount will increase as roads improve and agriculture becomes more diversified.

INDIAN SUMMERTIME

The poets have sung of the glories of May and June, and popular song writers have immortalized "The good old summertime." But what is so rare as a day in September! With Old Sol's feeble rays gently thawing the chill from the air, with an atmosphere crisp and clear, with the foliage on the mountain side slowly bedecking itself in gaudy colors, we feel the beauty and the glory of autumn; and we welcome the Indian Summertime.

A WORTHY EXAMPLE

Dan Seiber is lonely now for his grandchildren are all in Los Angeles and in Iowa, and he must march down the western slope of life without the cheering presence of his own kin. But Dan isn't a quitter. Unable to stand the strain of hard physical labor any longer, he has become wonderfully efficient in the sharpening of knives and scissors, and he is determined, by this means, to earn a living for himself. He took an old discarded jackknife belonging to the writer and put a razor edge on each blade. He certainly knows how!

Bring your knives and scissors to Dan and let him prove what he can do. You will get a lot for your money, and at the same time you will bring a ray of sunshine and good cheer into the heart of a fine old gentleman.

Most Important Factor in Lowering Milk Cost

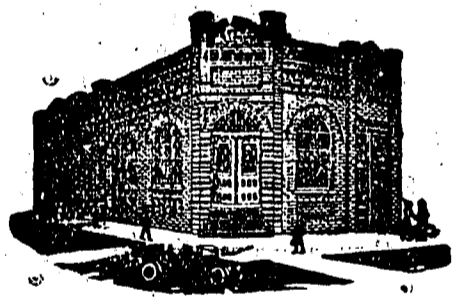

The Ohio station several years ago showed that corn silage saved the dairy farmer 10 cents a pound on the cost of producing a pound of butter, and 40 cents on the cost of producing a hundred pounds of milk. Several other experiment stations have shown figures that range from 6 to 15 cents saving on the cost of butter and from 25 to 75 cents on the cost of a hundred pounds of milk. Many of the early cow testing associations also demonstrated that the silo was one of the most important factors in lowering the cost of milk.

Classes of Feeds

Feeds are roughly divided into two classes, based upon physical characteristics and composition: (1) Concentrates, such as farm grains and milk by-products. These are heavy in proportion to volume and contain a small proportion of fiber, or woody material. (2) Roughages, such as hay, straw, silage, grass, and roots. Feeds of this class are bulky. Roughages that are high in water content, such as fresh, green grass, roots, and silage, are termed succulent feeds.

From BARN to BATH TUB

A farmer friend who owns two General Motors cars went to the city the other day and stopped in to see some cousins. They showed him around their new roof garden apartment, eighteen floors above the street, and proudly pointed out their Frigidaire in the pantry.

"Well," chuckled our farmer friend, "Mother has a garden full of old-fashioned flowers that she'd never trade for theirs . . . and as for the refrigerator, we have a bigger Frigidaire than they have!"

He also mentioned his Delco-Light power system and his DL water pump, which give him every other city convenience. As he often says himself, his farm is "General Motorized from barn to bath tub!"

It is perfectly true that General Motors, through its various units, offers even more to the farm family than to the city family. By applying methods of automobile production to home electric lighting and power plants, water pumping systems, and automatic refrigerators, General Motors can make the reliable kind of product that a farmer wants, at a price he can afford.

OBITUARY

Florence Porter was born January 28, 1856 at Greenville, Tenn. She passed away at the Troy hospital, September 19, at the age of 73 years, 7 months and 21 days.

During early childhood she experienced the terror of the raids of the Civil War, while the Hundred Day men raided the country. Her father and brothers were in the service, leaving her and her mother home alone.

At the age of 14 the family moved to Slater, Missouri, overland in an immigrant covered wagon. Here she attended the Slater High School.

On Sept. 26, 1875 she was united in marriage to Orlando Hupp. Shortly after they moved to California. In 1888 the family came to Moscow, Idaho, where they remained a few months, then moved to Little Bear ridge where they bought some land, and homesteaded what is now the Hupp farm. They experienced the hardships of early pioneer days. There being only a railroad camp at the present site of Kendrick with no roads excepting trails. Moscow was the nearest market. Mr. and Mrs. Hupp were interested in the upbuilding of this new country and helped to build the church which still stands.

Mr. Hupp passed away in 1913. Mrs. Hupp has lived on the old home, with her children, with the exception of the years of the World War when her sons served in France, she and her daughter Miss Adeline lived in Moscow.

While very young Mrs. Hupp became affiliated with the Missionary Baptist church. She was a devout Christian, having exemplified this in her daily life. She was very hospitable, dearly loved her children, their friends and neighbors.

Her interests were for the good of everyone and her influence will live on. She was taken ill on Sept. 13th. She seemed to improve at first but was taken suddenly worse, and suffered very patiently until the Eternal summons came on Thursday morning Sept. 19th. She is survived by seven children: Mrs. Mary Hogan, South Dakota; Charles, at Lake View, Oregon; Mrs. K. D. Ingle, Big Bear Ridge; Mrs. Howard Downing, Post Falls, Idaho; Harry, of Sandpoint, Idaho; Mrs. Hiram Gallaway, at home; and Orphie at Meia, Wash. A daughter Dora died at the age of 20.

BIG GAME OF THE YEAR

Football in the Inland Empire will go out in its greatest blaze of glory at the end of the 1929 season, when the selected and outstanding players from all the high schools in the district between Missoula on the East, Pendleton on the South, the Cascades on the West and Canada on the North will be massed at Spokane against a team of selected players from the high schools of that city.

The game will be played on December 7 at Gonzago Stadium.

It will bring together the stars of the great district and will furnish a game that will equal in interest to a contest between any two university teams in America—for it must not be forgotten that the great performers on the gridiron in the universities are first developed in the high schools of the land.

The entire proceeds of the game are to be donated to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children at Spokane, which institution is badly in need of enlarged quarters. As everybody knows that hospital gives free treatment to children of any color, race or religious creed who can be benefited by orthopaedic surgery. It has hundreds of cures to its credit, the children living all around the states of Idaho, Montana and Washington.

—3RD AND 4TH GRADE—

There was 100 percent attendance in the 3rd and 4th grade room last week.

The students of the third grade are enjoying the study of "The Romance of Rubber" and "The Story of the Palmolive soap." These stories have been very effectively correlated with the geography work.

There has been an addition made to the third and fourth grade library, which enables the students to obtain more information concerning geography, hygiene, and history work. The various shells, rocks, minerals, Indian Curiosities, and bird nests make studying and class recitation realistic. This also has a tendency to create more interest on the part of the student.

Idea Won Fortune
Louis Gutenberg came home from the Civil war with two army uniforms and looked around for a job. Wearing uniforms at dress parties was very much in vogue then and Gutenberg found he could rent out his two army suits for this purpose. That was the beginning of the largest costuming business in New York city, perhaps the world, and the foundation of a fortune.

Ventilation Essential

Ventilation is another essential of modern poultry housing. A good ventilation system supplies fresh air in the poultry house without making it subject to sudden temperature changes. Ventilation removes dampness and eliminates foul odors, making the flock healthier and more comfortable. Automatic ventilation systems are now on the market which consist of intake flues in the back of the house and a cupola on the roof to carry out foul air.

Immense Iron Supply

Of the world's iron supply the United States furnishes 36.5 per cent and has 10,000,000,000 tons in stock out of it in the world.

NORTH IDAHO CONSUMES MARGARINE

Latest reports to the state department of agriculture indicate that Idaho is consuming approximately 1,000,000 pounds of oleomargarine annually, it is announced by George Tucker, director of dairying, who keeps monthly records on consumption sent in by licensed dealers.

Its relationship to butter is shown by the fact that Idaho manufactures 22 million pounds of creamery butter annually of which 7 million pounds are consumed at home. In other words there are seven times as much butter consumed in Idaho as oleomargarine.

The directors records show that the great bulk of margarine is consumed in northern Idaho.

Duck and Goose Eggs

Require Much Moisture

It depends pretty much on the operator whether duck and goose eggs hatch as well in an incubator as under hens. They require more moisture than hens' eggs and usually need to be "fairly drowned" the last two weeks. It would not be practical to try to hatch hens' eggs with goose eggs in the ordinary small incubator, owing to the difference in size which would give a slightly different degree of heat on the small and large eggs.

Will-Flower Cultivation

Will-flower gardens need little care outside of the usual watering, weeding and application of manure or bone meal, but neither manure nor lime should be applied under any circumstances to plants requiring acid soil, as both are fatal to them. Acid-loving plants should be given every fall a mulch of decaying oak leaves, pine needles or sawdust. Aluminum sulfate can be used if these are not available.

Feeding for Profit

It makes a big difference how a person feeds live stock when it comes to counting profits. The cow that is not fed a balanced ration—a ration such as is required for economical milk production—cannot produce up to her capacity; an improperly fed hog cannot make pork economically and a steer fed nothing but corn and timothy hay or corn stover cannot produce beef at as low a cost as is possible with good feeding. Proper care also is a big factor.

Easier Work... Bigger Pay for Farmers

FARMERS in the Inland Empire who seek to make their work easier and productive of greater profits, end their search, as have hundreds of other farmers, with the adoption of "Caterpillar" track-type tractor power. No horses to feed, a comfortable seat to ride in, surging power ready day or night and in all kinds of weather, easy steering, independence of extra help . . . and the work is done better, quicker and cheaper.

Get Fall Work Done Quickly and in Time!

With "Caterpillar" traction bad weather is beaten, bigger and deeper set tools pulled, seed beds prepared without soil packing, plowing done easily and without riding in a furrow. The non-slip traction of "Caterpillar" means sure power, extra power and fuel economy . . . bigger crops, bigger pay and better, easier living for the entire family.

Farmers interested in greater crop profits and easier living next year and the years to come should place their "Caterpillar" Tractor order now!

Saving Feed by Culling Out Unprofitable Cows

The feed lot is often a more profitable place for old cows than the dairy barn. Cows that have reached the limit of their period of profitable production should be fattened and sent to market so that their places may be used for heifers that are coming into production.

Old cows that have started to lose their teeth, or that are no longer sure breeders, should be sold while they will still take on flesh. This pays better than to winter them with the idea of selling them in the spring. Usually such cows are in better flesh during the fall and early winter months than at any other time of the year. This means that they can be fattened and sold on the market with greater net returns than at any other season.

School Notes

Today brings the close of the first month of school. Owing to the amount of work required in averaging grades, the report cards will not be issued until next week.

There are ten girls and 18 boys enrolled in school with all eight grades represented.

The percent of attendance for the boys for the first month was 88.57; for the girls 82.35; and for the entire school, 85.47. The percentage was lowered considerably by the fact that many of the children were kept from school to help with the late harvest work.

Tomorrow (Saturday) beginning at nine o'clock the teachers and trustees of the various school districts on Potlatch ridge will assemble in the school at Southwick for their first annual Sectional Teachers' Meeting. The program calls for a number of demonstrations and "talks" by the various teachers present. It is hoped that all the teachers in this section will turn out.

From the Clouds

Approximately 16,000,000 tons of rain and snow fall upon the face of the earth every second, according to expert estimates.

A BRAVE BOY

Two little boys walked into a dentist's office.

One said to the dentist, "I want a tooth took out, and I don't want no gas, because I'm in a hurry."

Impressed by the big talk of the bold little lad, the dentist replied:

"That's a brave little boy. Which tooth is it?"

And the brave little boy said to his younger brother, "Show him your tooth, Albert."

Lots of folks are brave like that.

Poultry Facts

Spade up the yard frequently.

Fowls stand cold better than dampness.

Provide a nest for each four or five hens.

Make the house dry and free from drafts, but allow for ventilation.

Get the hens out in the sunshine and feed plenty of oyster shell to get good strong eggshells.

Market eggs at least twice a week in summer.

Build the self-feeder so that it protects feed from rain.

Select the best growing and most vigorous cockerels for breeders.

Old hens are the most common spreaders of poultry tuberculosis.

Send your big fluffy boarder hens to market. This is one way to relieve your farm of loss.

A flock of 50 ducks can be kept on many farms without materially increasing the labor needed in caring for the poultry.

Ducks do not require a large investment for houses or equipment. A tight shelter that will protect them from the weather is satisfactory.

Planer shavings give very satisfactory results when used for litter in poultry houses. Cut alfalfa, cut clover, or cut straw also give good results when used as litter.
