LUMBER CITY

GIVES SACRED CONCERT IN COMMUNITY CHURCH

The Methodist choir, whose sacred concert in Kendrick recently has been the subject of much favorable comment, made a trip to Potlatch Sunday evening where they repeated the concert before a fair sized audience in the community church of that place. The singers were Mrs. Field and Mrs. Groth, and Mr. McDowell, Mr. Ramey, Mr. Hill, and Mr. N. E. Walker. Mrs. Alberta Schupfer accompanied at the organ. Others who made the trip were Mrs. Hill, Herman Schupfer, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lons.

The visitors speak enthusiastically of the welcome extended to them by the Potlatch congregation. Mrs. George Anderson musical director there formerly lived in Kendrick, where her husband was cashier of the Farmers Bank. She had charge of the choral society here.

The Community Church at Potlatch seems to be working out quite successfully, and the Kendrick visitors feel that the same plan might well be put into operation here.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

The Southwick High School will present the play, "The Road to the City" at the Southwick Gymnasium, November 27, at 8 o'clock. Admission, 15c and 35c.

WHEN DID KENDRICK FIRES AND FLOOD OCCUR?

Linden, Idaho
Nov. 19, 1929

Kendrick Gazette
Kendrick, Ida.

Dear Editor,

I never wrote a piece for a paper in my life. But—after reading about Mr. H. P. Hull in last issue of the Gazette I was tempted to write, as there was such a mistake in the date about the last fire in Kendrick. I am always interested in reading about the old pioneers, as we are pioneers. My Uncles John and Jesse Michael, being the last that are living here on the homesteads they took up in the spring of 1891. John Michael says that H. P. Hull came to Kendrick after we came here, still it might have been the same year. We know and respected Mr. Hull. The paper states there were 3 fires in Kendrick while Mr. Hull was in business. I can't recall but two. As near as I can figure the first one would be the summer of 1891. I remember the flood but not the year. I know there was a big fire July 7, 1904, as John Michael lost his house and contents July 4, 1904, and 3 days later Kendrick was burned, as John went down on the 9th to get supplies and all he could get in the way of shirts was a denim jumper and a blouse. Mr. Hull was very kind and did all he could to help. Uncle found some gold money that was in the house. As in those days people didn't think to put their money in the bank, of course it was all melted. Mr. Hull sent it away to the mint for John and got him the value of it.

Now if the Editor prints this I'd like for some old timer to write and give us the dates of the 3 fires and the flood. Wasn't the flood about 1897 and hasn't there been another fire since 1904? If so what year?

Respectfully yours,
Annie Morrison

REFORESTATION

Under the provisions of Idaho's New reforestation law, the Potlatch Lumber Company has asked the forestry board to set aside considerable territory in Latah and Clearwater counties for reforestation.

The law provides that logged off or burned over land not more valuable for other purposes, may be set aside as reforestation districts and given preferential taxation until the new crop is harvested.

At that time a yield tax will be collected to make up for the suspension of taxes during growth.

A hearing will be held in Moscow on December 12th to determine if the land designated is more valuable for growing timber than for other purposes and to assess the amount of income from the land for grazing. —Troy News.

Mrs. Elmer Keeler from Cedar Creek was a luncheon guest of Mrs. McAllister Wednesday.

THANKSGIVING DINNER AT JULIAETTA

The missionary society and the ladies of the Baptist Church will give a Thanksgiving dinner at Juliaetta in the city hall, Wednesday, November twenty-seventh. Everybody is invited to come.

I.O.O.F LODGE ENJOYS GET-TOGETHER

The full degree staff of 21 members of Lewiston Lodge No. 8, I.O.O.F. came to Kendrick Saturday night to put on the first degree of Odd Fellowship. Three new members were initiated into the first degree, two from Kendrick and one from the outside.

The meeting seemingly was a get-together, for delegations were present from the various lodges of this vicinity. From Deary there were 15; from Southwick 4; from Leland 5; and several from Troy.

A suggestion was made that get-togethers should be held frequently, and the Lewiston Lodge invited the other lodges to meet at Lewiston in a grand get-together on the evening of the 26th of November. All the delegations welcomed this invitation and promised to be present.

Addresses were made during the evening by representatives from all the lodges. Not the least enjoyable feature of the evening was a bounteous feed.

FIX RIDGE

G. F. Denmler and Walter Denmler, Adolf Giese and Howard Hutchison left for California recently to spend the winter.

Reverend and Mrs. Otto G. Ehen and Mrs. Augusta Hain visited at the home of Mrs. Dave Denmler Sunday evening.

Mr. Rollien Dickerson

Dear Sir,

I am receiving the Gazette every week on Monday and like the paper fine and enjoy reading the news it contains.

I was just wondering if you could get any news from Texas Ridge as that is the ridge I lived on for 20 years. But if it is too much trouble don't bother.

I was thinking that Texas Ridge news was overlooked.

Yours truly,
Jacob E. Gibson

Note: We think Mr. Gibson is right. Will not someone send in items from Texas ridge?—The Editor.

TWO DANCES IN KENDRICK

There will be a dance at Brown's Hall, Friday evening, Nov. 22; also a Thanksgiving Dance, Thursday evening, Nov. 28.

Fine music and best dance floor in the Potlatch country—Admission $1.00 Ladies Free.—J. H. Evans.

L. J. Pearson and R. H. Pearson and their families motored to Lewiston Sunday to visit relatives and friends.

C. F. DeLano visited his son in Lewiston Sunday. His son will come to Kendrick at Thanksgiving time to enjoy a dinner prepared by his father, who is bathing temporarily.

Grant Bateman had the misfortune Monday to turn his truck over on the Cedar Creek grade. He succeeded in righting it, together with the load of Cedar Posts, and came on into town without much damage.

Mrs. DeLano writes to her husband from Long Beach that "if you can live on climate, this is the place; 98 in the shade and no shade." She says that 3,000 men have recently been laid off there in the oil fields.

JULIAETTA ITEMS

The residence property known as Front home was sold with all the furniture. We have not learned the new owners name.

Mrs. Kate Crutehfield left Thursday of this week to visit a few days at Arrow.

The Baptist ladies will have a chicken dinner at the I.O.O.F. Hall on next Wednesday, Nov. 27. The public is invited. We have not learned the price, but know it will be worth your time and money.

Ernest Taylor is having a new roof covering put on his mother's property on State St. On Thursday of last week Mrs. Will Noble entertained the Needle Club at her home. She had beside the Club members: Mrs. Cecil Gruell and Mrs. Torpe as guests. The ladies spent the afternoon with needle work till six o'clock, when the hostess served a delicious two-course luncheon. In the kitchen Mr. Noble presided having as his guest Walter Cochran and Arnold Behrens. The balance of the husbands of the Club members were out of town.

Mrs. Athens, our high school teacher who has been seriously ill for a week is somewhat better, but it will be some time before she can continue her work in the school. In the meantime Mrs. Greene is taking her classes.

Among the Lewiston visitors Monday were Leland Houck, Mr. Johns and Orve Poole.

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Nutt entertained at dinner in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Gruell's Birthday on Sunday. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell, Mr. and Mrs. Evertt Custer, Mr. Albert Gruell and daughter Leona, Mr. Ernest Taylor, Mrs. Sam Gruell and daughter, Gertrude.

MRS. EMMA HECK

Berkeley, Calif.

Many friends and relatives attended the funeral of Mrs. Emma Heck, wife of John Heck, and mother of Mrs. Meta Rodgers, on Thursday, Nov. 14, in Berkeley, Calif. where she died as she had lived, doing for others.

Mrs. Heck dropped dead with a neighbor's child in her arms on November 8, 1929. She was a resident of Kendrick for several years where she made friends who knew of her kind deeds and who will grieve the passing of a dear friend. The floral offerings were abundant and beautiful. She was laid to rest in the Sunset Memorial Park, Berkeley, California.

Mrs. J. W. McConnell, wife of a former governor of the state and mother of Mrs. Wm. E. Borah, was a passenger in the big tri-motored plane which assisted in the dedication of the Moscow airport Monday afternoon. Mrs. McConnell, who is 84 years of age, can well remember the days of the ox-team and the lumbering stage coach and enjoyed the thrill of the airplane ride fully as much as those many years her junior.

Improvement of the channel of the Snake river between Lewiston and Pittsburg Landing will be commenced by engineers of the United States war department at a low water stage next summer, according to assurances received recently by the Lewiston Chamber of Commerce.

As the result of the terms of a will filed at Lewiston 75 percent of the estate of the late Edward Burns will be turned over to the St. Joseph hospital and 25 percent to the Children's Home. The estate is appraised at $13,000.

Bill Stober, a young giant from Clarkston, has won a place for himself on the freshman rowing crew at the University of Washington. There is a good chance that he will win his numeral in the big race with the University of California next spring.

The people of Gifford are soon to start the construction of a fine community hall to take the place of the one that was destroyed by fire last summer.

The Adventists are building a new church at Culldesac.

The Asotin county commissioners are making plans for the expenditure of $169,000 on roads, construction to start next spring.

Local people should feel proud of the fact that our own county commissioner, John L. Woody, has been elected president of the state county commissioners' association for the coming year.

The federal authorities have so far inducted 44 citizens and officials in the rum cleanup in North Idaho. All members of the Mullen council except one have been caught in the net.

There is some agitation in Lewiston now in favor of a permanent exhibition building to house the choicest exhibits from the county fairs of north Idaho. By this means the resources of this vast region could be shown to visitors at all times in the year.

Moscow has leased an 85 acre airport site on the North-South highway south of town.

St. Maries and Orofino have recently acquired "Talkie" theatres.

The highway between Elk River and Owens will be graveled, work to start at once.

Grangeville will have a new $25,000 Lyric theatre.

Idahoans purchased 700,000 pounds of Oleomargarine last year. Sales in north Idaho were greater proportions than in any other part of the state, which doesn't encourage the dairy industry very much.

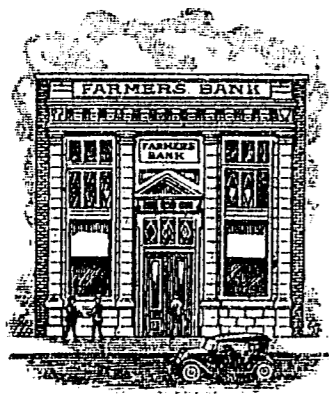

The Deary Enterprise, recently established by Ben S. Nelson, is getting off with a flying start. Every business firm in town is represented in its pages.

Thirteen men and women were arrested at Lewiston Sunday in a sweeping liquor cleanup, instituted by county officials.

Rails made on hotels and rooming houses revealed liquor and empty jugs in abundance.

"This is a county cleanup, a part of our general policy to enforce the laws here, declared prosecutor Durham.

The Columbia Gorge Motor Coach service has been extended from Spokane to Lewiston via Colfax, Pullman and Moscow.

THANKSGIVING— THEN AND NOW

In a very special sense Thanksgiving is the farmer's day, the day of thanks for the harvest. Not a bumper crop was that of 1621 either. The fruitage of 20 acres of corn, 6 acres barley and peas, and some garden vegetables—just enough to sustain life and hope in the 55 Pilgrims who survived the first hard year in America.

Many of them had never farmed before. They had been tradespeople in the homeland. But how they had worked and watched and prayed over that little first planting. Their very lives had been at stake. The Indians had helped. And God was good! Now they would all pause and give thanks.

To barley loaves and fishes they could add pea porridge, corn bread, deer steaks, turkey and other wild fowl, pumpkin pie, grapes and frugal garden dainties, aplenty to warrant sharing the three-day feast with nearly a hundred bidden tribesmen led by Chief Massasoit.

Our mighty nation that has sprung up from the little seed plot on the bleak Atlantic coast, is humble enough still in spirit to bow the head in thanksgiving. Next Thursday, mindful of the President's proclamation, we will all follow the Pilgrim habit and give thanks. Not everyone will be able to gather around a groaning board, but few indeed are there so unfortunate as to find no cause to respond sincerely to the call of Governor Bradford of Plymouth, and "after a special manner to rejoice," for the portion received in goods during the twelve-month past.

WILL WHEAT COME BACK?

Seeing that wheat prices have fallen to new low levels in recent days, farmers who have held their supply feel uneasy and anxious. Those who declined to sell in August at $1.08 or $1.10 because they confidently expected the price to go still higher, are now wondering whether wheat will ever get back to anywhere near that figure. Altho superficially the situation may appear discouraging, there are a few fundamental facts that should be pointed out at this time to reassure the anxious farmer.

President Hoover stated recently that the decline in grain prices was merely in sympathy with disturbances in the stock market; and that as the stock market becomes stabilized, grain prices will tend gradually upward. There appears to be sound reason for the President's confidence, for the United States Department of Agriculture, with official information from every quarter of the earth, declares that the world wheat crop is 500,000,000 bushels less than it was last year. The Department shows, moreover, that the European crop is smaller than it was last year, and that Europe's importations of wheat will almost certainly equal if not exceed the unparalleled importations of last year. The United States has already exported 16,000,000 bushels as compared with 11,000,000 bushels at this time a year ago, and as exports continue wheat prices should tend upward. Finally, it should be pointed out that the Argentine, which normally produces 320,000,000 bushels, will produce this year, according to the most reliable reports available, not to exceed 223,000,000 bushels.

When all the above facts are considered it seems a fair assumption that by late spring, or earlier wheat prices will have risen to a point equal to or higher than those of August and September.

THE ADVERTISEMENTS IN THE PAPER

Have all been written by merchants who want to get to the people of this community the news of their store and the merits of their merchandise. Each one presents in a form that can be read in a few minutes, information that it would require hours of shopping to gain. Each merchant has set forth clearly the choice offerings of his store for this week. Read the advertisements. They are full of information as to what the stores have on sale this week, they tell of the quality and the price at which it may be purchased.

AGRICULTURE OUR FUNDAMENTAL INDUSTRY
From time immemorial agriculture has been the basic industry of mankind, and so it is today in this country. Whatever may become of our present era of prosperity, the industry of agriculture will outlive the storm. As luxury and pomp subside, the fundamental needs of man must be largely supplied by agriculture. The coordination of the nation's power into great trusts and combinations of wealth will come to naught and fall of its own weight, if the basic economic condition of the country is not sound. No other single factor contributes to that soundness of agriculture, and it is to the farmer we sound the warning "don't give up the farm now." Analysis of every existing condition in the business structure shows emphatically that the real age of agriculture is just beginning. The government is taking steps to create more profitable markets for farm products, which in itself will and is enhancing the value of land and making its earning power greater. There is no question in the minds of those who are in position to know that there is an underlying current at work by great combinations of wealth to acquire the land of the country, but if the farmers will hold on to their lands this can never be accomplished. Land values are constantly increasing—so keep the farm.

A SAWMILL NEEDED

Now that the shipment of logs has become an important industry in this community, there is a revival of talk about the possibility of a sawmill. There have been prospects of a mill at various times, but none has ever been constructed near Kendrick. This is unfortunate. A small payroll, added to the abundant resources Kendrick already has, would make this a community hard to beat for its size.

STATE OF IDAHO EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT BOISE

A Proclamation by the Governor

The prayer of thanksgiving for a bountiful harvest and material welfare, uttered by our Pilgrim forefathers in 1621, is repeated from generation to generation by ever increasing numbers of a grateful people. Today, in a land blessed among the nations of the earth, the citizens of every state in the Union gladly respond to the call to give expression to the gratitude we owe to God for His guidance in the ways of peace and happiness; for His divine favor which has bestowed upon us abundant blessings.

This year, perhaps our greatest cause for gratitude and which is undoubtedly uppermost in the minds of all citizens, is the more hearty and sincere acceptance of the movement for world peace. By the cultivation of the spirit of good will among the peoples of the world may be found the tie that binds the hearts of all mankind in human love and fellowship, and may mold a sentiment so strong that no nation will be swept off its feet by unholy and unwise ambitions, or untruthful propaganda. Every opportunity given men to build up and strengthen this tie is a blessing to the world.

THEREFORE, I H. C. BALDRIDGE, Governor of the State of Idaho, do hereby proclaim the day designated by the President of the United States, Thursday November 28, 1929, THANKSGIVING DAY, and a legal holiday in the State of Idaho.

I respectfully suggest that the day be observed by all our citizens in a spirit consistent with its meaning, assembling in their respective places of worship or in their homes, for the purpose of gratefully acknowledging and returning thanks to Almighty God for the benefits received during the past year, and invoking the continuance of His favor.

It is also recommended that the national flag be displayed on public and private buildings.

(Seal)

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of Idaho, at Boise, the capital, this ninth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine.

(Signed) H. C. BALDRIDGE, Governor.

Attest: (Signed) FRED E. LUKENS, Secretary of State.

PENNY LAUDS AGRICULTURE

The following words were spoken by J. C. Penney at the Dedication of the J. C. Penny Hall in Portland.

"To the young people—the future agriculturists of the country—for whom this hall is built, I want to say a word as to the dignity and nobility of agriculture. Aspiration has sometimes been cast upon agriculture and it is often regarded as a humble and unattractive vocation. The farmer needs not apologize for his business, which can be made a profession by the application of science. No occupation affords more unlimited possibilities to the young person with scientific bent; and in no industry is the field for research more exhaustless.

"To the farmer belongs by right the simple dignity and native pride that comes from knowing that he is working in unison with Life's forces and helping the earth to bring forth her increase. I wish that I might imbue these future agriculturists with a sense of their responsibility. Better cows means a more adequate supply of superior milk, which in turn means healthier babies, children and adults. Contribute to the science of breeding better livestock and you are adding directly to the health and welfare of the nation, not only
