

1929 CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE OPENS

PLAN BIGGEST SALE IN HISTORY OF STATE

The Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis Association announces the opening of the 1929 Christmas Seal Sale. Plans are in readiness in every county for the biggest sale in the history of the state. Funds raised through the sale of the gay little health seals will go into the budgets of twenty counties for support of the public health nurses who are working in the homes and schools of the state; for the support of the children's summer health camps, where frail bodies are restored to health; for the health education program in the schools of the state, public and parochial, and for which Idaho has received national recognition this year.

Look for the Scarlet Double-barred Cross

The design of the 1929 Christmas Seal is that of a bell-ringer in scarlet ringing a great bell against a brilliant blue background. The symbol of the tuberculosis campaign, the double-barred cross, in scarlet, is in the lower right hand corner. The seals can always be distinguished from the commercial seals often sold by children, by this cross.

At ten o'clock in every city and town in the U. S. the school bells, church bells, fire bells, will ring in the opening of the seal sale. Over the radio, through the press, from the pulpit, will be broadcasted the message of the Christmas Seal. Its great life-saving mission is known everywhere, and it should be a matter of pride for every citizen to see that no letter or package is mailed during the month of December without being decorated with this bright messenger of health.

Ninety-five cents out of every dollar remains to work in Idaho—five cents goes to support the great national campaign with its splendid research program. It means something to every citizen to know that a fraction of his money is being expended in the laboratories of the nation to find a cure for tuberculosis, and for every citizen and his family.

JULIAETTA ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell entertained at pinechle Friday evening. High scores went to Mrs. Crayton Biddison and Frank Rider. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rider, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Behrens, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Gunther, Mesdames Jones, Biddison, Custer and Nutt.

Saturday shoppers at Lewiston were Mrs. A. Alexander, Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. E. V. Adams, and son; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell, and Mrs. Manford Nutt.

Mrs. Arnold Behrens and little son motored to Lewiston Sunday to visit with her sister over Thanksgiving.

Morris Hanebett is spending a few days in town.

Mesdames A. Alexander, Leiland Houck, E. V. Adams, Manford Nutt, motored to Moscow Tuesday evening to attend a party of the O. E. S.

Tom Stenson is spending a few days in Lewiston.

HIGHWAY WORK GOING ALONG IN FINE SHAPE THESE DAYS

Johnson & DeAtley are pouring gravel over the highway at a rapid pace these days. The stretch from the foot of Neva hill to near Kameron is practically completed. The new surfacing material looks good and from all indications will make a fine road. The continual running of the heavy trucks over it is making it like a paved highway. Car owners will now be able to run out of Elk River early in the spring.

AMERICAN RIDGE

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Davidson entertained about thirty guests at dinner Sunday, Nov. 24. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Waide and children of Deary; Mr. and Mrs. Byard Davidson and children, Pullman; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Watts and children, Kendrick; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Longe, Genesee; and Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Taylor, Moscow.

Mrs. John Roberts paid a visit to her many friends on the ridge last week.

A petition was circulated this week for Ira Havens to serve as highway commissioner in Kendrick Highway District. The election is to be held December 2.

J. L. Woody made a business trip to Moscow Monday in connection with his official duties.

Carroll Cox returned to Moscow Sunday to complete his duties on the jury.

The telephone company will hold their annual meeting next Tuesday, at Bethel church.

Ralph Woody is hauling posts for Warner May this week.

CARD OF THANKS

To those who tendered their sympathy and assistance, and for the beautiful floral tokens in our bereavement of wife and mother, we convey our heartfelt thanks and deep gratitude.

We wish also to thank the many friends for their many kindnesses to our loved ones during her long illness.

Miss Olive M. Petrushek, field secretary of the state chamber of commerce, was a Kendrick visitor Friday, looking after the interests of the state chamber in this region. Miss Petrushek visits north Idaho twice each year. She plans to attend a meeting of the Commercial Club in Kendrick next spring.

Park Cox was up from Lewiston over Sunday.

Mrs. Crayton Biddison entertained the M. E. Ladies' Aid at her home Tuesday afternoon. While some of the ladies gave a program on Korea, others worked on "hokers." The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Haliday, served dainty refreshments.

Arnold Behrens left Sunday for Boise on business.

School dismissed Tuesday evening for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Alice Saunders of Vancouver, B. C., is a guest of her brother, Tom Stenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Noble motored to Wierpe Sunday to spend the day with Mrs. Noble's sister.

Mrs. Sam Athens, our high school teacher who has been ill for the past two weeks is no better. Her daughter, Mrs. Mae Brooks from Seattle who has been here caring for her, left for her home Sunday. Another daughter and granddaughter from Post Falls, Ida., arrived Tuesday to be with her mother, also a trained nurse from Lewiston.

Charlie Carlton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Carlton of Fingerprint, was operated on for appendicitis Monday, at Lewiston.

KENDRICK FLOOD OCCURRED IN 1900

Only Two General Fires

Mrs. Mary Deabold and Mrs. Bigham, seeing the inquiry in last week's Gazette regarding the date of the Kendrick flood, went to the cemetery on American ridge and secured the date on the tombstones of the three Hamley children. These children, Emma, Mattie and Clara, were drowned in the Kendrick flood. The date is January 12, 1900. J. F. Brown, who saw the flood, confirms this as the correct date.

In regard to the fires in Kendrick, it must be explained that the writeup two weeks ago is misleading. There were only two general fires, but there was a store fire at another time, which destroyed Mr. Hull's business, so that he actually experienced three fires, as stated. Mr. J. F. Brown says that the first fire was in the summer of 1891, the second, in August, 1904.

PIONEER CAMERON MATRON SUCCUMBS

HAD RESIDED IN CAMERON SINCE 1886

Mrs. Herman Wilken passed away at her home near Cameron, Thursday Nov. 21, after an illness of three weeks, at the age of 69. She was among the pioneer residents of this region, coming here with her family to make their home in 1886, when the Potlatch region was but a prairie, and the nearest trading center was Lewiston. Mrs. Wilken has been a member of the Lutheran Church since early in life. She had been an invalid for the past 2 1/2 years, since falling and fracturing her hip. She bore all her sufferings with Christian fortitude, never complaining, and always most considerate of others and at the end went peacefully to her eternal rest.

Born Emilie Hettenmeier at Milwaukee Jan. 10, 1860, she was united in marriage to Mr. Wilken at Meriden, Minn., on May 31, 1876. Ten years later they came to Cameron to reside, living on the same place until the time of her death.

She leaves a widower and ten children, one son having died some years ago. The surviving children are John H. Wilken and William C. Wilken of Walla Walla; Herman C. Wilken, Mrs. Anna Carper and Mrs. Ernestine Schultz of Spokane; Frank Wilken, George Wilken and Mary Wilken of Cameron; Mrs. Hattie Johnson of Peck; and Emil Wilken of California; one sister in Minnesota and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last Saturday with a prayer service at the home, and funeral services at Cameron Lutheran church. She was laid to rest in the family plot at the Cameron cemetery. Rev. Ehlen conducted the services. Pall-bearers were: Fred Mielke, Carl Koeppel, Herman Blum, Carl G. Wegner, Amos Spekker and George Ehlers.

There were many beautiful floral offerings.

BIG BEAR RIDGE

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid invite you to come to their dinner and annual Fancy Wash sale at the Taney School house, Saturday, Dec. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Lein and son Henry spent Sunday at the Einar Brusith home in Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones were dinner guests at the Ira Havens home on American ridge Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Comstock and children recently returned here from La Crosse, Wash.

J. P. Barackman spent the week end at his home in Moscow. Thorvald Nelson is serving as

ODD FELLOWS ENJOY GET-TOGETHER AT LEWISTON

About 25 members of the local lodge of Odd Fellows went to Lewiston Tuesday evening and conferred the second degree on four members, two from their own lodge and two from Lewiston Lodge. The trip was made in response to an invitation from the Lewiston Lodge who came here on Nov. 16th to confer the first degree. There were about 130 members present at the meeting representing some ten or a dozen towns tributary to Lewiston.

Following the meeting a banquet was served in the dining room of the building.

These meetings among the lodges are very beneficial in bringing about harmony and good fellowship among its members.

Kendrick male quartet furnished several delightful numbers during the evening.

KENDRICK DEVELOPS LOGGING INDUSTRY

PINE LOGS AND CEDAR POLES ARE SHIPPED TO DISTANT POINTS

The logging industry has recently become an important activity in the vicinity of Kendrick. Two contractors, C. A. Hendrickson and W. R. Jacks are operating from the Cedar Creek country, hauling pine logs for shipment to Lewiston; and Pat Updike has been engaged for some time in the cutting of Cedar poles for shipment to Minnesota.

Mr. Hendrickson is operating on the Whistler-Kjos place, 7 1/2 miles from Kendrick, on the Cedar creek watershed. Only one or two trucks have been hauling until recently. Up to a week ago, 125,000 feet of logs had been delivered in Kendrick. Seven trucks are now in operation, with a hauling capacity of 40,000 feet a day. Mr. Hendrickson has nine teamsters and nine cutters in the woods in addition to the seven men who are driving the trucks.

The logs are 16 feet long and their range in diameter from 18 inches to 3 1/2 feet. An impressive heap of them has lain near the track at the east end of town, awaiting the extension of a spur so that they could be loaded for shipment. The spur was completed recently and the logs are being moved out rapidly. Logging operations will continue at least till the first of the year, unless rain and mud hinder hauling.

Mr. J. W. Kerr has shipped 19 cars of cedar poles from Kendrick to Sandpoint since the first of June. The poles are treated at the plant there to preserve the wood. Most of them will be used in telephone and telegraph service.

Now that logging has become active in this region again, several business men have expressed the wish that a mill might be constructed here. Although there has been talk of a mill at various times none has yet materialized.

A new woodshed and garage at the Methodist parsonage has just been completed by Rev. Mr. Groth.

a juror in Moscow.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid held a quilting Bee at the home of Mrs. Ed Lien Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones entertained a number of friends Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Meyers of Lewiston.

Progressive Pinechle was enjoyed. High scores being carried off by Miss Carter and Wallace Emmet. A lovely supper was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Carter came down from Post Falls, Monday for a visit with her daughter, Miss Bessie Carter at the Ernest Jones home.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF FARMERS

Latah county committeemen of the North Pacific wheat growers, Inc., have set Wednesday night, Dec. 4, as the date for a mass meeting to be held at the Elk's temple, Moscow, for the purpose of organizing a local cooperative association under the regional and national marketing agencies. Farmers from all over Latah county are urged to attend this very important meeting.

LINDEN

Mrs. Clem Israel and new son returned from Lewiston Wednesday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Bird Banning.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Whybark and son William spent the week end with relatives on Bear ridge.

Grandma Keeler went to Kendrick Monday to visit friends.

Miss Eva and George Smith were Lewiston visitors Monday.

Charley Zimmerman of Elk River spent Sunday with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Wilcox were Lewiston visitors the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Alexander and family spent the week end with relatives in Clarkston.

There will be quarterly meeting at the church here Saturday evening and Mr. Calvert of Southwick will preach on Sunday.

Clarence and Sanford Weaver have returned to their work near Bovill after helping care for the sick folk at home.

All the sick people on the ridge are better at this writing.

AUTHORITY SAYS BUSINESS O. K.

Anyone who owns outright securities in our major industries would be foolish to sell them at low prices because of the recent slump. There is no indication of a business depression in 1930. This is the view of Hugh Bancroft, publisher of the Wall Street Journal and other financial and economic periodicals.

Comparisons between the conditions of the present and the panics of 1907 and 1921 rest on a false analogy. In those years, according to Mr. Bancroft, firms were carrying heavy inventories of goods purchased at prices above their current value. Leading corporations were in debt and were forced to borrow. Today, business has large cash reserves and is lending instead of borrowing.

The New York Stock Exchange, working in the interests of the investing public, has recently demanded from all its members complete daily reports covering stocks borrowed, from whom and for whose account, all stocks loaned, and a list of stocks which they failed to deliver. Apparently every effort is being made to protect legitimate investors and discourage professional manipulation.

SALE, DECEMBER 14.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will have their Annual Chicken Dinner and Fancy Work Sale in the basement of the church, Dec. 14th.

Dinner will be served at 6 P. M. Come expecting a real feast. Prices—Adults, 50c. Children, 25c.

Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met last Thursday at Mr. E. H. Dammarell's home. They will meet Dec. 5th at the home of Mrs. Wm. Watt.

REMEMBER THE BAZAAR!

Don't forget the dinner and sale which will be put on by the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid at the Commercial hotel, Saturday, December 7. Here's your chance to solve that gift problem, and to enjoy a wonderful feed.

Miss Hazel Stanton went to Lewiston Saturday returning in the evening.

NEWSY ITEMS FROM NORTHERN IDAHO

SUMMARY OF EXCHANGES FOR BENEFIT OF GAZETTE READERS

There is movement on at Troy to have a local fair at that place next fall.

Thirty-five thousand sacks of wheat have been moved from Asotin by steamer during the past few days.

Quite a number of central Idaho wheat growers attended a meeting of the newly organized North Pacific Grain Growers Cooperative association with members of the federal farm board at Spokane, November 16. $75,000 will be spent by the Washington boxed apple bureau, for advertising purposes during the coming year.

R. E. Shepherd of the Spokane Land Board is advocating the building of large storage plants for wheat in Spokane. His idea that wheat from the four northwestern states should be shipped to Spokane for storage, however, is being opposed by a great many smaller places, on the ground that such shipment would be costly and uneconomical.

Sheriff Campbell of Weiser arrested his own son for violation of traffic laws recently, a fine example of impartial enforcement of the law.

W. D. Vincent, state commissioner of education, says that movies are not a cause of crime among youth. A survey which he has made shows that lack of parental control is the greatest cause of children's drifting into evil ways.

George E. Erb, Lewiston attorney, was elected president of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce at its last session in St. Maries.

An automobile load of furs valued at $5,000 was brought into Lewiston recently from Burns, Ore., by Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Lowe and included 400 coyote hides and about 100 bobcats and badgers.

Moscow—Latah's county jail was being filled last week with federal prisoners sentenced at the Coeur d'Alene term now in session. 16 prisoners were brought here Tuesday by Sheriff Charlie Summerfield and Deputy J. P. Jordan, who made a special excursion to the lake city to return the prisoners. Although the men sentenced were not from Latah county, they were placed here because other jails are now overcrowded, it was explained. The total number may be raised to 30 or 35 before the term is out, the officers expected. The highest number ever in jail here before, including county prisoners, was 42.

The Cottonwood creamery, which has been idle for some time, is being overhauled and new machinery installed. The plant will be in operation again in the near future.

W. D. Humston, lumberman, declared recently that the only way to save the lumbering industry was to utilize waste. By converting waste into auto fuels and chemicals the industry can be made to pay a profit, he said, instead of operating at a loss.

Agent J. W. Thometz says it is his hope Nez Perce county will develop a great poultry industry. He believes, conditions are favorable and that this region may become "a second Petaluma."

A commercial flying service on regular schedule will be established between Lewiston and Orofino as soon as the Orofino airport is established and approved. Both passenger and freight service will be maintained.

It is reported that the unemployment problem in Lewiston is "unusually serious" as the present time.

SOUTHERN IDAHO BASKS IN WEALTH

Northern Idaho farmers should lend an attentive ear to a story of southern Idaho farmers related in Spokane by Guy Flenner, pioneer resident and newspaper man of southern Idaho. He says that farmers of southern Idaho have had one of the most prosperous years in history. Most important, of course, is the reason he gives: southern Idaho farmers are better off than they have been for several years. Instead of raising and shipping wheat the farmers have taken to putting their crops into hogs and hog products and butter.

Diversified farming has pulled southern Idaho out of the hole. This year Twin Falls north side irrigation project alone has raised and marketed to advantage $2,000,000 worth of beans. Peas are being shipped from thousands of acres to San Diego this year.

It is a practical lesson in the blessings of diversified farming.

The diversified farmer's money stays in the bank longer than the straight wheat farmer's. It stays longer and is added to oftener. The wheat farmer has an annual turnover, whereas the diversifier may have weekly or semi-weekly cash receipts. On top of that, the diversifying farmer does not need to draw on the bank for living expenses as freely as the wheat specialist does.

Most of the wheat money banked in the fall flows out before spring. It takes more money to raise wheat than almost any other crop, because wheat has in it no particle of home support outside of its surrender value. Vegetables, eggs, chickens, cream, butter, turkeys, all may be used at home when there is an excess above market requirements. Not so wheat. It has to take what the market offers. It has no value to the grower except its sale price. And he no more sets the sale price than he sets the interest rate on Wall street. And he never will, either, unless the cooperative marketing plan being pushed by the federal farm board shall prove helpful in that direction.—Lewiston Tribune.

THE MERCHANT AND THE FARMER

By T. J. SULLIVAN

It is an old and universal saying that the prosperity of the country—all the country—depends upon the quantity of products raised on the farms and the prices the farmer gets for his products. No other industry so seriously affects the business interests of the country as a crop failure or low prices. If the crops are generally good throughout the country, and the market prices are good, business feels its effects in every department of industry. But should the crops fail, or the market be low, both the farmer and the merchant feel the ill effects, the farmer because he cannot meet his obligations to the merchant, and the merchant because he will be obliged to carry the farmer until his farm yields a favorable and profitable crop.

As the farmer and the local merchant's interests seem to be mutual, it would naturally follow that the merchant and the farmer should work in harmony. The merchant always buys his produce from the farmer, and never for one moment thinks of sending out of town for rural produced necessities. But for some reason or other the farmer does not follow the practice of reciprocity, but, on the other hand, buys a great deal of his household necessities in the big cities. This is an injustice, not only to the merchant but to the farmer himself, as it reduces

Freight Department Tells The Story

Not a day passes that goods of almost every description, from soap to farm implements, including gasoline engines, manure spreaders, seel planters, cream separators, cooking stoves and heaters, clothing, groceries, and what not, are seen at the local freight depots and express offices addressed to local farmers.

If you would depend upon your neighbor in time of adversity, why not depend on him in prosperity? Isn't the man whose hand you would like to grasp the man to whom you ought to hand the dollar that you have to spend? Why send it away to a general merchandising house in some large city which would be interested in a death in your family merely because it offered a possible chance to sell you a timbstone or a crepe band for your hat?

You know that your neighbors are reliable, that they can be depended upon, that they would come to your aid with sympathy or material help did the occasion arise. Then why not show that you appreciate their good qualities by doing business with them regularly and as a matter of habit? They know you and are interested in you. The big city merchandise house is merely interested in getting your money.

Miss Deagan and Miss Stump spent last week end at Moscow, Miss Deagan taking teachers examination.

The Lohese club enjoyed an old-fashioned box social followed by games, in the basement of the Presbyterian church Friday evening. Rev. Franklin, as auctioneer, demonstrated his skill both as a humorist and as a salesman.

Spokane last week after inspecting the mines of the Coeur d'Alenes, said that the Bunker Hill is spending $500,000 to double the capacity of its lead smelter at Kellogg.

Spokane, Wash.—D. F. Mitchell, president of the Spokane Poultry Breeders' association, sponsoring the Western Royal Poultry show, to be held in Spokane December 9-14, reported for the first time in a number of years it will be a "blind" show with no coops marked with owners name until the birds have been judged. "This is the system that was long in vogue until a few years ago," said Mr. Mitchell. "It encourages entry of birds by breeders who have not exhibited."

Spokane, Wash.—Idaho ranks third among the states in bean production with a total estimated yield of 2,116,000 bushels as compared to a harvest of 1,476,000 bushels in 1928.

Federal officials, who began a drive against rum law violators in North Idaho two weeks ago, are following up their campaign vigorously. Thirteen more arrests were made Tuesday at Wallace, which brings the total number of arrests up to 80.

The women debate teams of Whitman, W. S. C., and U. of I., will debate the question, "Resolved: That the Preponderance of Women Teachers from the fourth to the ewelfth grade is Detrimental."

President Hoover has issued an appeal to the States to speed up public works in order to prevent a possible business depression, and Governor Baldrige wired the President that Idaho would cooperate in the plan. There will be 4 1/2 millions spent on highway construction alone, in Idaho, during the coming year—$800,000 from the federal government, and $2,500,000 from the gasoline tax.

Thirty-four students graduated from the Lewiston Normal Wednesday morning.

THE JUGGLER

Fifth and Sixth Grade News

Catching the Turkey.

When it's time to catch the Turkey,

He seems to know what's coming.

For when I try to catch him

He certainly keeps me running.

When I catch him I have to laugh

Because he's caught so soon,

And what Thanksgiving comes,

I know just when it's noon.

By Joseph Watts.

The Pilgrims, their misfortunes and their joys have made a very interesting topic for the fifth and sixth grade language classes.

The pine needle baskets have been varnished, making very pretty pieces of artwork.

First and Second Grades.

The second grade has been studying the life of the Pilgrims in America, bringing out points about their homes; landing; relations with the Indians; the first Thanksgiving. As follow up work they have made a Pilgrim sand table, showing Pilgrims, Indians, log cabins, wild turkeys and the Mayflower.

In connection with Thanksgiving stories the first Grade have had as picture study: Pilgrims Going to Church.

Freshmen Have Party.

The Freshmen class had a party Thursday, November 21.

It was held at the school house and most of the Freshmen attended. Games were played and then a lunch consisting of Jello, cookies and punch were served. All reported having an enjoyable time.

Student Wins Medal

Doris Emery has won her gold Remington medal for writing between sixty or seventy words a minute for fifteen minutes with not more than six mistakes. Although she is not a typing student she is eligible to try for the medals offered.

B. B. Girls Begin Practice...

The Basket Ball girls have begun to practice in earnest.

Many are the groans that issued from owners of stiff legs, arms and fingers. The girls are going to have suits this year, but have not decided on the color as yet.

Boise.—Highways, consolidation of governmental units and forests were the three outstanding topics brought before the annual meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce for discussion, according to L. F. Parsons, secretary of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, who attended the meeting at St. Maries. Mr. Parsons was president of the chamber last year and is succeeded by George Erb of Lewiston.

The chamber authorized the appointment of a committee whose duty it will be to find ways and means of financing the completing the state highway system throughout northern Idaho within a reasonable length of time.

It was agreed that the present method which consists of the state, county or highway district and the federal government co-operating in financing the construction of state highways, does not provide funds fast enough for the development of the state highway system to meet the state's transportation needs.

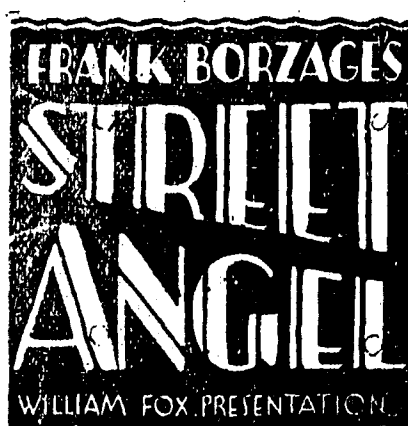

The federal government finds itself in this same predicament concerning the construction of highways across public domain and congress is working a solution of the problem.

The chamber feels that the rapid development of highway transportation has reduced the need for so many smaller units of government such as school and highway districts and is going to make a study of this situation. It feels that administrative costs can be materially reduced by consolidating a great many of these smaller units and that not only cheaper government but better government will result. Better roads and more rapid means of transportation make it possible to bring to gether in a short time a great many school children whose educational needs can be cared for by one large administrative unit rather than several small ones. Where such conditions exist the North Idaho chamber feels a financial saving and improvement in educational opportunity can be made.

In a resolution the chamber asked the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce to name a committee of not less than five nor more than nine members to make a study of the entire timber resources of the state, including their management and control, and recommend ways and means for the future administration of these resources to the best interests of the state as a whole.
