NEW RECORD IN CATTLE
TUBERCULIN TESTING

Steady progress has been made in the tuberculin testing of cattle in the United States, and in November 1929 more cattle were given this test than in any month since the beginning of the eradication campaign, says Dr. A. E. Wight, in charge of tuberculosis eradication campaign, U. S. department of agriculture. The total number of tests made by State and Federal veterinarians in November was 1,207,537. Of this number 17,567, or about 1.4 per cent indicated the presence of tuberculosis in the animals.

"Previous to last November there were nine different months in which the number of tests made per month exceeded 1,000,000," says Doctor Wight, "but in no case did the number reach the 1,200,000 mark. The exceptionally large number of tests in a large area in Minnesota during the month. The testing work in Minnesota is being done in the extreme northern part of the state, and several of the counties have already been officially designated as modified accredited areas."

In order to qualify as a modified accredited area, a county must have reduced the extent of tuberculosis among its cattle to the point where not more than 0.5 per cent of the cattle react to the tuberculin test. The results of the tuberculin test. The results of tuberculin testing in December are not yet available.

Earth's Waters

If the earth were a perfect sphere it is estimated that it would be covered by water to a depth of about 9,000 feet, or nearly two miles. The exact volume of water contained in the oceans is, of course, not known—only an estimate is available.

ECONOMY

As the use of electricity increases its cost decreases.

After the first block of kilowatt hours is used each month, all additional electricity comes to you at a lower rate.

It is true economy, therefore, for you to make full use of your electric service.

A call to observe the Lord's Day, this man ought to do, and in a small way help to repay the many blessings that we are enjoying from the hand of Almighty God. Wouldn't it be a grand sight on a Sunday morning to see Father, Mother, with their families going to the house of God, at least once a week? Do you think that our Heavenly Father is exacting too much when he asks for one day a week to be set aside for worship? This alone, would strengthen our morals to the high standard we are all striving to bring about. In view of these vital facts the Presbyterian Church extends a cordial invitation to the Kendrick folk. We will be glad to welcome you next Sunday morning, Sunday school at 10, preaching at 11, Christian Endeavor at 6:30 P. M. Cottage prayer meeting every Wednesday night at 7:30. Everybody welcome.

Mr. Bechtol Invents Toy
Elmer E. Bechtol, who prior to 1922 was in the furniture business in Kendrick for seven years and since that time has been in the cabinet business in Moscow, sold his cabinet shop recently in order to turn his entire attention to putting his invention, the "Joy Toy," on the market.

Mr. Bechtol left ten days ago for St. Louis, where he will confer with several toy manufacturers who have approached him with the idea of making and distributing the "Joy Toys." He expects to be in the east from three to five months. His family will remain in Moscow for the winter at least.

A corporation was formed to finance the distribution of the toys and Mr. Bechtol has acquired control of it.

Road Down South Side Clearwater

Steps necessary to obtain rights of way down the south side of the Clearwater river from the Orofino bridge to the Clearwater-Nez Perce county line are to be taken at once by the County commissioners of Clearwater county, according to final action taken at the meeting of the board last Monday. The commissioners at that time signed contracts with the state, covering the distance of 5.81 miles.

The road will be an important link in the Lewis and Clark highway. The action of the commissioners getting behind the construction recommendations of the state highway department has found approval in Clearwater county. The road will join into the highway efforts now in process by the Nez Perce county commissioners who still have only a few rights of way to obtain on the Nez Perce county project from Cherylanes to the county line.

Contract for construction of the entire job from Cherylanes to Orofino down the south side of the river may be let at the same time, according to current reports regarded as authentic at Orofino.

Accidents of Mental Origin. Ninety per cent of accidents are of mental origin, according to Dr. Harold S. Hulbert of the Department of Mental and Nervous Diseases, University of Illinois. In an address before the National Safety Council, Dr. Hulbert explained that these accidents are not the result of insanity or mental incompetance, but thoughtlessness or carelessness. This authority says that a person who is comfortable in mind and body, adjusted to his working and domestic life, and is, not ill, perplexed, discontented or fatigued stands but a small chance of becoming the causative factor in an accident. On the other hand, anger, fatigue, surprise and other such factors are the causes of many accidents, says Dr. Hulbert. We cannot, of course, cure such emotional disturbances as anger and surprise, nor can we offset fatigue, but the public should understand these causes of accidents and guard against them. A worker who grows tired should become more careful because of it. An automobile driver who is suffering from some slight illness should watch his driving more carefully, than when he is in good health. Once we manage to exert some control over the mental hazard, our accident record will begin to decrease.

Much Poison Bait Placed Forty cars, each carrying from two to five sportsmen, placed poison traps over the country for predatory birds Sunday. All important creeks were patrolled and the bait planted, 300 pounds of the government approved poison distributed in all. Another drive will be made two weeks from Sunday, according to Dr. J. W. Brett, president of the Izak Walton league, under whose direction the drive of Sunday was executed. Magpies and crows began to feed on the poison baits almost at once after they were placed high up from the ground. It is said that the cold weather will keep the poison effective longer than if weather conditions were warmer. "We began getting results at once", said Dr. Brett, upon his return Sunday afternoon. "We had a fine turnout and game conditions are sure to show the results of the campaign." A total of 104 pieces of bait were placed on the Pottlatch creek zone alone.—Lewiston Morning Tribune.

The Meanest Bandits After three bandits had emptied the cash registers in a drugstore in Seattle, holding two pharmacists at bay with revolvers, one suggested: "Let's take their pants so they can't follow us." Later the police discovered the pants of H. W. Peters and Allan Main on a street and returned them to the shivering owners.

CRESCENT CLIPPINGS Alva Hudson has been quite sick for the last week. The doctor has been called several times. There is not much change at this time. Stephen and Terry Lockhart were absent a couple of days last week, and Teddy and Floy Dorendorf were absent one day on account of sickness. It is reported that the thermometer registered 35 degrees below zero down by the creek Monday night. That is much colder than most of the thermometers in the neighborhood registered, however.

Coyotes Follow Trappers Coyotes are following the trap lines in the mountains so closely that trapping is not profitable, according to George Endlehorn, who has a trap line running from Five Mile cabin on the Oro-grande over the Hunch, across the Weitas, by Margary cabin and on to Horseshoe lake. The coyotes tear trapped animals to pieces for food, spoiling the hides. An unusual sight this year in the snow wastes are to see deer and elk on the north slopes and bucking three to four feet of snow for food. Customarily at this time of the year they are on the south slopes. Forest Ranger W. L. Clover and Rex Truttton returned Tuesday from Bungalow. They went in from Pierce in two days and came out with the tractor as far as Pierce.—Orofino Tribune.
