Return From California Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hartung and sons, Carl and Oscar, and daughter, Selma, returned last week from a three-months visit with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mavy at Hayward, Calif., and Christ Wattenburg, at Pinola, Calif. They made the trip overland and found the roads very good. They traveled better than 4,000 miles on their trip.

Mr. Hartung has a ranch on Potlatch ridge, but says he will make his home in Kendrick in the future if he can find a suitable place to live. He is a contractor and builder.

HISTORIC ELK CITY NO MORE

A few scattered dwellings, one store building which housed the postoffice and a smattering of sheds and smaller structures are the only vestiges of the haunting glory that was once the center of one of central Idaho's most picturesque mining booms—Elk City.

Piles of ashes, black and smoldering, stand today in mockery where once great hotels and proud buildings of Elk City used to stand when 70 years ago 5,000 frenzied miners milled the streets going to or returning from their plunder grounds deep in the bony foothills of the Rocky mountains.

Fire—the first major red horror the town has known—started Monday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock and in 40 minutes the 200 people of the village saw ten large frame buildings cracker to ashes. It was over quickly. Telephone and telegraph wires were melted and the crows could not get out until taken to Grangeville. There was no fire protection available. Nothing was insured. The rates were far too high because the buildings were so old and unprotected. A conservative estimate on the loss was $100,000.

The flames started in the Scott building used as a warehouse for Perry Brothers. A keeper living in the back of the building is believed to have been responsible for the blaze although no cause has yet been established.

A brisk wind blew the fire from one building to another along the town's only street. The street is along a sloping incline and the breeze carried the fire up the hill and across the street. Citizens scurried to safety after dragging out of the buildings a few belongings. Both sides of the street were swept clean.

Lewiston Masons Visit
A large delegation of Lewiston Masons visited the local lodge Thursday night of last week and assisted in conferring the Master Mason degree upon W. C. Jones, superintendent of the Kendrick schools. After lodge work had been finished refreshments were served. A royal good time was reported.

The local lodge has received an invitation from Paradise lodge of Moscow to attend a ceremonial and 6:30 o'clock dinner on Tuesday evening, March 25, when the Master Mason degree will be exemplified. Francis Jenkins of the University of Idaho will make an address. It is expected that a good-sized delegation will attend from here.

Taylor Players Leave
The Taylor Players, who held forth in the local show house for five nights left early Wednesday morning for Craigmont, where they will show for four nights. They showed to fairly good houses and seemed to be well pleased with the patronage accorded them here.

Some people took exception to portions of the show the first night, but after that there seems to have been little or no criticism and the shows were undoubtedly as good as could be expected in a town of this size.

Many Attend M. E. Council
Those attending the Men's Council meeting at Lewiston last Monday were Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. Norris Walker, Margaret Brocke, Miss Ameling, Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Groth of Kendrick and Mrs. Mabel Hayward, Doyle Hayward, Mrs. Bateman, Edith Bateman and George Douglas of Southwick.

All report a great time of enjoyment and inspiration.

Among the Sick
Rev. Franklin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was ill a portion of last week and confined to his home.

INTERESTING NOTES OF OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL

The junior class is working hard in their preparations for the "Arrival of Kitty" at the Kendrick theater, April 11. Date Set For Contest

Tuesday, April 8, has been set as the date for the Latah county commercial contest, to be held here. Each school will be allowed to enter three people in each event—Typing I and II, and bookkeeping. The school that keeps the cup for three consecutive years will win the trophy as a permanent possession. After a dinner, to be given the contestants by the high school students, a short program will be given at which the awards will be presented. Those who are interested are cordially invited to be present at the program.

Operettas To Be Given Soon

The two operettas, "Lady Frances" and the "Nifty Shop," will be presented by the Girls' Glee club some time within the next two weeks. No definite time and place have been selected, but they will be announced soon.

Eldwa: Have you noticed that one of Alcie's legs is getting shorter than the other?

Eleanor: Yes, the doctor told her she would have to stop this business of standing on one foot every time a man kissed her.

Mr. Jones: If you heat cold water what happens?

George Davidson: Daddy's gonna shave.

Bernice: How long could I live without brains?

Edna Bolon: That remains to be seen!

Spring

Poem written by Jean Bigelow, age nine—fourth grade:

Spring has come at last!
When Mr. Winter is past—
In the fields so happy and gay,
Out of doors the livelong day.

We have been waiting so long
For the birds to begin their song.
The pussy willow is now in bloom,
And the flowers are coming soon.

The third and fourth grade debate, Resolved, "That country life is preferable to city life," was enjoyed by the students. The debaters were, Country side, Chester McAllister, Franklin Abrams, Dick Carlson; City side, Wanda Johnson, Frank Rider, Walter Frazier. The affirmative side won in the debate.

The students of the fourth grade history class appreciated learning about the dramatic life of Abraham Lincoln. It was rather interesting to learn how the play happened to be written. Roy and Albert Rockett's father died when they were small children, leaving these boys with that longing for a father's love. They always felt that Abraham Lincoln was an ideal of what a real father would be, so this awakened in them the desire to pay a tribute to such a noble character; consequently they decided to spend many months in research work with the intention of giving to our country this beautiful story. They searched the en-

He tells the sheriff, Marguerite appoints Hezekiah Bugg as paymaster. Duke and Coralie decide to steal the money from Bugg, which they do after wounding him. To Make It Last

When somebody called Billy Sunday a "fake" because his conversions "don't last," Billy is said to have replied, "Well, neither does a bath."

Unfortunately there are still some who condemn advertising because one "plunge" won't last forever.

Advertising's constat pull has been likened to the locomotive on a transcontinental train, by Wm. Wrigley of chewing-gum fame.

On a trip across the country someone advised him to stop advertising and save millions. He replied "That would be like lifting the engine off this train. For a while we would run along on our momentum, but we wouldn't reach our destination."

The successful advertisers, both local and national, become so by "keeping everlastingly at it."

Sent Body East

The body of Henry Keller of Juliaetta, who died Wednesday of last week at Lewiston, was sent Saturday morning to Cochrane, Wisconsin, where a sister lives, for burial. It was originally planned to have burial at Lewiston, but arrangements were later changed.

The Brower-Wann company had charge of arrangements.

Spring Activities Have Begun

Gardens are being plowed, yards raked, and various other spring activities are being engaged in here. Bluebirds have made their appearance and buttercups are peeping through the ground in many places—and some business men have gone so far as to wash their windows.

Improving Property

Dr. E. H. Field has improved his residence property by placing a concrete curb along the east side of his lot, adding very materially to its appearance.

The Martin Thomas home is receiving a new roof.

But Can They?

Some people are born failures, others have misfortunes thrust upon them, and still others believe they can beat Wall Street.

Surveying Columbia and Snake

Government engineers engaged in the survey of the Columbia and the Snake rivers reached Pasco Friday evening in a launch and are now carrying on soundings and investigations in that territory.

The survey is part of that being carried on under the federal government's $600,000 appropriation to make a complete investigation of the navigation, power and irrigation possibilities of the upper Columbia and Snake rivers. It will extend from Pasco to Lewiston and on up the upper Snake canyon.

Needs Shock Absorbers

It begins to look now as though what the wheat market really needs is not stabilizers but shock absorbers.

MARKET CONTINUES WEAK PRICES AT NEW LOW POINT

Grain markets suffered further declines during the week ending March 15, and prices of most grains reached new low points for the season to date, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States department of agricultural economics.

Further reductions in estimates of European import requirements, together with continuous cheap offering of Argentine wheat, which restricted the demand for the relatively large supplies of North America, were principally responsible for the continued weakness in domestic wheat markets. Generally favorable prospects for new winter wheat, both in the United States and Europe, with no indications of any material reduction in acreage, were also weakening factors.

Feed grains declined largely as a result of the weak wheat market situation but influenced also by a limited demand and shortage of storage space at terminal markets. Stocks of corn, oats and barley are all materially smaller than a year ago, but export demand is almost negligible for these grains, and current offerings are easily adequate for domestic trade requirements. Rye made further sharp declines, influenced by the lack of export inquiry and the relatively large stocks at terminal markets. Flax prices declined with other grains, and the limited offerings sold at the lowest point since early in September.

The continued weakness of domestic wheat markets may be attributed to the relatively small takings of North American wheat by European buyers, and the curtailment of importations by deficit areas as the result of larger utilization of native supplies and economies in the use of imported wheat. Trade estimates place European import requirements until August 1 at around 255,000,000 bushels to 260,000,000 bushels, and suggest that probably 180,000,000 bushels of this amount may be drawn from North America and about 75,000,000 from other exporting countries. Should these estimates be borne out North American exports during the remainder of the season would exceed those for the corresponding period last year, when overseas shipments of wheat and flour from the middle of March through July, totaled approximately 160,000,000 bushels.

North American shipments during the month have averaged about half as large as last season, and export sales during the current week were relatively small according to trade reports, because of the cheaper offerings of wheat from Argentine. Argentine shipments for the week totaled 2,258,000 bushels and Australian shipments 1,480,000 bushels. Argentine wheat was being offered for prompt shipment at \$1.06 CIF English markets and Australian wheat at \$1.18 per bushel. This compares with offerings of No. 2 hard winter for March shipment at \$1.15 $\frac{1}{2}$ and No. 2 Manitoba at \$1.18 $\frac{1}{2}$. While supplies of wheat available for export in the Southern hemisphere are much smaller than a year ago, visible stocks are fairly large.

Wheat stocks in the United States were slightly larger than a year ago. Farm stocks at the first of March totaled 129,000,000 bushels compared with 151,000,000 bushels a year ago, but market stocks now total approximately 160,000,000 bushels compared with 127,000,000 bushels at this time last season. No official estimate of mills and elevator stocks is available, but indications are that these stocks are slightly larger than a year ago. While country offerings of wheat during the week were of only moderate volume, the pressure of large market stocks and lack of export inquiry forced cash prices sharply lower, and No. 2 hard winter wheat sold at $1.00 per bushel in Central Western markets.

Soft winter wheat followed the declines in other classes and was 4c to 5c lower than a week ago. Supplies of good milling soft winter wheat are small, but offerings were easily adequate for trade needs, which were confined principally to local milling demand. Flour trade is reported slow and mills are taking only sufficient wheat for immediate needs. No. 2 Red winter was being quoted at St. Louis at \$1.16, at Kansas City at \$1.08 to \$1.10 and at Cincinnati at \$1.10 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$1.11 per bushel.

Premiums on spring wheat were reduced somewhat during the week and cash prices declined relatively more than futures at Minneapolis. Canadian markets were weaker than domestic markets, apparently reflecting

COMPARE VALUES
BEFORE YOU BUY AN AUTOMOBILE

Low charges for distribution of the new Ford save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in making the car

THESE are days when every dollar counts. The period of reckless spending is over. People are going back to the good old-fashioned principles of thrift and economy. Value is again being carefully considered.

Nowhere is this more important than in the selection of an automobile. For the purchase of a car represents a considerable investment. It should not be decided on hurriedly, but only after analyzing every important factor that concerns cost, value and performance. The time to do this is before buying—not afterward when it is too late.

ON THE basis of cost, performance and the actual comparative worth of every part, the new Ford is a value far above the price you pay. It is made of better materials and with greater care and accuracy because of the recognized efficiency and economy of Ford manufacturing methods.

The value of these methods is known and understood by millions of people. It is not generally realized, however, that these same principles of efficiency and economy are applied also to every step in the distribution of the Ford car. The low cost of selling, financing time payments, etc., means a direct saving to you of at least $50 to $75 in addition to the money saved by Ford economies in making the car. There are definite reasons why this is so.

(1) The Ford dealer does business on a smaller margin of profit because of the greater number of cars he sells. His discount or commission is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference in your favor, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

(2) No expensive extra equipment is needed when you buy a Ford. The car leaves the factory ready for use. The f.o.b. price includes a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield and an extra steel-spoke wheel, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes. Any accessories you may wish for your individual taste are sold considerably below the usual prices.

None of these charges for selling, financing or accessories is marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

Get all the facts, therefore, before you buy and figure out just what you are getting for your automobile dollars. Go beyond the f.o.b. price and find out how much more you pay the dealer than the dealer pays at the factory. Analyze the used-car allowance. Compare all charges—item for item—value for value.

WHEN you do this you will have a new appreciation of what the Ford Motor Company and Ford dealers are doing to keep down the cost of Ford cars. You will also know why it is possible to put so much real value into the new Ford and still retain the low price. The money you pay goes for value in the car. It is not wasted in excessive costs in manufacturing or selling.

THE QUALITIES OF LEADERSHIP

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

Leadership and success, in a general way, are synonymous. They are both founded upon simple codes of thought and action, upon the realization that he who wins the laurels must be a doer, not a waiter, that application of energy, not time or luck, is what counts most. A rabbit's foot is a poor substitute for horse sense.

Both success and leadership, if they be of the highest quality, are the result of service to humanity. Service has been aptly described as "the supreme commitment of life." Analyze the lives and times of all great leaders of history and you will find that those whose names are enshrined in the hearts of their countrymen are those who sought to render a needed service to the populace.

Leadership, like success, need not, however, be international or national to achieve great results. There is room for each of us to be a leader in his community, in his work, in his church, and in various organizations.

One of the indispensable qualities of leadership is the ability to persist steadfastly in the face of discouragements. If George Washington had not possessed the quality of persistence, he and his soldiers would never have survived the hunger and privations which were theirs at Valley Forge.

We have too many young men and young women these days saying a job cannot be done. Too many spend their time explaining why a thing can't be done, instead of saying, with firm resolve, that it can be done, and then going out and doing it. Anything that ought to be done is capable of being done. And anything worth doing at all is worth doing well. The fellow who handles a little job in a big way is always on the road to greater fields.

BANKERS STUDY CHAIN BANKING

The Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association has been specifically instructed by the general convention of the association to study and report on chain and group banking developments, and also on the proposal of the Comptroller of the Currency for an extension of branch banking in the national banking system, to permit those banks to conduct branches in the trade areas surrounding their locations.

R. S. Hecht, President Hibernia Bank and Trust Company, New Orleans, Louisiana, is chairman of the commission. The members are: George E. Roberts, Vice President National City Bank, New York, N. Y., vice chairman; Nathan Adams, President American Exchange National Bank, Dallas, Texas; Leonard P. Ayres, Vice President Cleveland Trust Co., Cleveland, Ohio; Frank W. Blair, Chairman of Board Union Trust Company, Detroit, Michigan; Walter W. Head, President Foreman-State National Bank, Chicago; W. D. Longyear, Vice President Security-First National Bank, Los Angeles, California; Walter S. McLucas, Chairman of Board Commerce Trust Company, Kansas City, Missouri; Max B. Nahm, Vice President Citizens National Bank, Bowling Green, Kentucky; Melvin A. Traylor, President First National Bank, Chicago; Paul M. Warburg, Chairman of Board International Acceptance Bank, New York, N. Y.; O. Howard Wolfe, Cashier Philadelphia National Bank, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; Gurden Edwards, American Bankers Association, New York City, secretary.

A survey showing the extent to which chain and group banking has developed in the United States has been made and issued in booklet form by the American Bankers Association of New York City.

SECTIONS WHERE SAVINGS DECREASED

A regional analysis of the drop in the nation's savings deposits in banks, as recently reported by the American Bankers Association's Savings Bank Division in its annual compilation for 1929 showing the first recession in national savings in the twenty years during which it has published this data, reveals that all sections except the New England and the Pacific States groups recorded losses.

The published figures showed that on June 29, 1929, the total savings deposits in banks and trust companies of continental United States stood at $25,217,656,000, which was $195,305,000 below the similar total for 1928, when there was an increase of $2,300,000,000.

The regional analysis by state groups discloses, however, that the six New England states as a group gained more than $88,800,000 in savings and 152,934 in savings depositors, while the seven Pacific states as a group gained over $79,000,000 in deposits and nearly 278,000 in number of depositors. The gains in these two sections, however, were smaller than the gains recorded there for 1928. The sections which showed losses are the Middle Atlantic States, Southern States, East Central States and the West Central States.

Our Unfranchised District Columbia

One hundred and thirty years ago our Federal government having roved relentlessly around the country searching a satisfactory home, took up its permanent abode in Washington. Congress had met in eight different cities in four different states before 1800, when the District of Columbia became its residence.

The District has attained a place for itself quite apart from its importance as the nation's capital. Approximately a half million people reside in this area, and business sections have spread rapidly, while residential districts have expanded beyond belief. Old residents love to tell visitors how they can remember when the city limits ended at such-and-such a street, and areas now well paved and lighted were once "out in the country." Washington's population, once shifting and transient, becomes more stable from year to year.

It is a curious anomaly that in this segment of a country committed to equal representation, the privilege of voting is denied citizens whose very proximity to the national legislature makes them eager and interested in national civics.

Science Aids Where Tariffs Cannot

It must be "a grand and glorious feeling" to have someone discover that you have been throwing away $10,000,000 yearly; especially if you are sitting on the doorstep of Congress holding out a tin cup labeled "Tariff."

It took a botanist from Syracuse University, Dr. Ernest Reed, to tell the beet sugar producers about increased efficiency and production in topping beets. Save an inch and a half more of the discarded tops and you save millions.

Perhaps if the sugar men of this country concentrated more on scientific research and less earnestly on legislative favors, the work of Congress might be lighter and the consumers' purses heavier.

How To Solve Prohib Question
In all the broadsides directed at Congress little is said about the one thing that would surely solve the prohibition problem—Get the people to stop drinking!

MARKET CONTINUES WEAK, PRICES AT NEW LOW POINT

The efforts of holders of wheat in that country to dispose of the relatively large supply. At the close of the market March 14, No. 1 Manitoba was quoted at Winnipeg at $1.01 per bushel, while generally comparable grades were selling at Minneapolis at $1.08 1/2 to $1.10 1/2.

Durum prices fluctuated irregularly but at the close of the week were around 7c lower than a week ago, with Duluth May closing March 14 at 91c per bushel. Very little cash durum wheat was offered at either Minneapolis or Duluth, but No. 1 and No. 2 Amber was quoted at Minneapolis at from 83c to 94c per bushel, and at Duluth 90c to 95c per bushel.

Pacific coast markets reflected the weakness in Eastern and foreign markets, but prices were not materially changed at San Francisco, where light offerings of local wheat were about equal to trade requirements. Trading was of very small volume. California farm stocks are small and offerings were principally from market stocks. Mills were slow buyers because of the dull flour business, and demand for feed wheat was restricted by cheaper offerings of barley. Poultrymen were fairly active buyers but inquiry from other sources was of small volume. No. 2 hard white and No. 2 soft white were quoted at San Francisco March 14 at $2.00 to $2.05 per 100. The Los Angeles market held steady early in the week, but declined around 5c per 100 March 14, when milling wheat was quoted at $2.12 1/2, and feed grades at $2.07 1/2 per 100. A few cars of high protein hard winter wheat were received from Utah and Idaho, but these went directly to mills which were also taking the good grades of local Baart wheat.

Markets in the Pacific Northwest declined 3c to 5c per bushel, with export demand very light and milling inquiry of small volume. No export sales to Europe were reported during the week, but one parcel of about 4000 tons was reported sold to Japan. Domestic wheat is meeting con-petition from Canadian grain from Vancouver where sales of 2000 tons to China were reported during the latter part of the week. Farmers were reported offering more freely but in general growers were said to be holding for better prices. At the close of the market March 14 Big Bend Bluestem hard white was quoted in Portland at $1.17 and at Seattle at $1.20 per bushel. No. 1 soft and western white wheats were quoted at Portland at $1.05 and at Seattle at $1.09. No. 1 hard winter, Northern spring and Western Red were quoted at Portland at $1.03.

The oats market was weak and declined along with other feed grains.

Disabled Soldiers Should File Claims

Every ex-service man who has not previously filed a claim on account of disability should take immediate action to get his claim before the U. S. Veterans' bureau, according to a statement made by C. H. Hudleston, manager of the Veterans' bureau at Boise.

Under a provision contained in the World War Veterans' act, all applications for disability compensation should be filed prior to April 6, 1930. Hudleston urges every ex-service man who is suffering from a disability which either originated in the service or could be traced to service, to file application. This should be done, even though doubt as to the origin of the disability exists.

The application can be secured from any service officer of the American Legion, executive secretary of the American Red Cross, or upon application at the local office of the Bureau.

All veterans who have filed claims with the Bureau which have been disallowed must file evidence before this date to show that their disabilities are the result of their service during the war.

World-Beating Record

Every American should be impressed by the world-beating fact that our country has maintained its basic industries, like railroads, mining, agriculture, public utilities and insurance on a foundation of private ownership and individualism and has not fallen for the delusions of socialism and communism.

European countries are dominated by government ownership and extensive socialization of great industries. They suffer from useless tax burdens resulting from tax-free government-owned enterprises. They have not adopted modern ideas of corporation management and citizen ownership. In Russia individualism has been completely crushed and property rights destroyed. Officialism reigns supreme and it was all done in the name of "liberty" and "freedom!"

A remarkable example of progress in our own country has been the history of privately owned enterprises and industries. They have shown a steady increase in service rendered and taxes paid coupled with declining comparative charges to the consumers.

Meaning of International Culture

No matter how much adventure and romance the words "world trade" might imply, we would justly resent being known among foreigners as "a nation of traders." Yet, what have we done to give our Latin-American neighbors the impression that we are anything else? Our people manifest a deep interest in English, French and other European writers, artists, and lecturers—but speak of Latin-America in terms of markets and investments. Nor have we demonstrated any urge to acquaint those nations with our own writers and artists.

However, there is some exchange of students and professors between the Americas. Prizes are awarded by the Inter-American Good Will committee for the best students of Pan Americanism, and distinguished men from all the Americas, including our own United States of America, travel from one country to the other. Still no one will contend that these things are sufficient to establish cultural bonds between nations. The artistic phases of any people are more appealing than the purely economic phases can ever be. Why neglect so long to explore for the rich nuggets of culture in our sister nations?

Home Town Thoughts

Community life is called a partnership. To draw dividends of progress, invest time and effort in home town causes.

Our home town gives most of us our prosperity. Look out how you injure that prosperity by thoughtless words or deeds.

A public movement, to accomplish its ends, has to tell the people about its efforts through the newspapers. Also if a business is to grow, it needs to tell the people about its goods through advertising.

Civic enterprise is the grease that makes the wheels turn smooth. Let's use lots of it.

IN THE HILLS
By Quentin Dammarell, Age 8
When I was walking down a path I was happy because I saw a cozy little place. There was a house; near it stood a little old hut with grass all around it. I came over to the pool where the fish were swimming. I looked up in the sky and saw white clouds floating about. I decided to go home and tell mother about this pretty place.

The Beautiful Pond
By Harry McNeal, Age 9
When I went up the river I came to a place where there was a pretty lake, surrounded by trees. I sat down on the rocks and watched the fish swim in the water. The snow up above me looked pale blue and white. I thought it was too pretty to leave so soon, so I stayed up there until morning. It was so lovely I decided to go back there again next year.

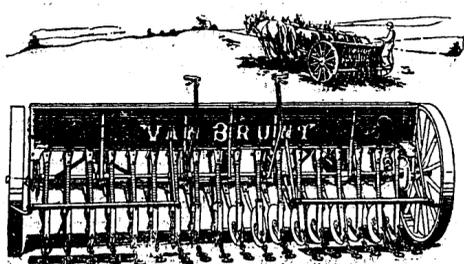

The third and fourth grade students are having individual oral arithmetic examinations, covering all of the material in the books. Strong emphasis is being placed on the multiplication tables, since this is such an essential foundation. The students receiving 100 per cent marks are: Joe Cardinal, Walter Frazier, Harry McNeal, Jean Bigelow, Dick Carlson, Larry Langdon.

Wind and Dust Storm
Kendrick and surrounding country was visited Wednesday by the first wind and dust storm of the season. The wind came from the west and it is presumed that the stuff originally came from the Snake or Columbia river sections, either one of which can furnish enough dust to muss up every home in this part of the country and have plenty to spare.
The wind is said to have reached gale-like proportions in the upper country and in the Big Bend section.

Real March Weather
Kendrick has been experiencing some real March weather during the past few days—rain, snow, clouds and sunshine. Saturday morning snow fell in very large flakes and started out as though it meant business, but it later turned to rain and by mid-afternoon had quit entirely.
Several severe cases of spring fever have developed during the past days, which malady is hard to exterminate at this month of the year.

A Son Is Born

Does Good Work On Hillsides

Here's the grain drill that does a perfect job of seeding in the hilly fields of the Pacific Northwest because it is designed especially for conditions such as are common in that section.

John Deere-Van Brunt Grain Drill With Double-Run Feeds

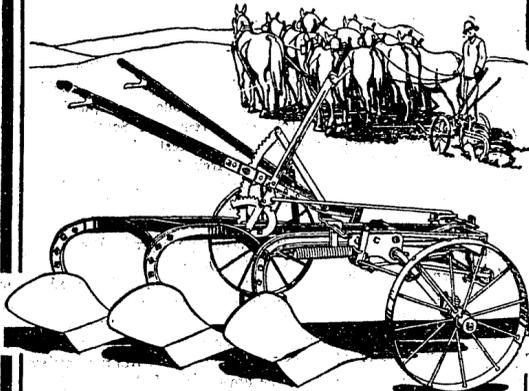

With the double-faced feed wheel, together with the adjustable gates, and the twelve sets of cogs on the multiple gear, you can plant practically all kinds of seed in 48 different quantities—dry wheat from 16 to 258 pounds per acre; other seed in proportion.

Feed mechanism is driven directly from main wheel—no skips—no lost motion. Long hub; floating axle. Strong grain box; cannot sag or buckle.

The sliding gear is always in full mesh with the multiple gear, no matter at what angle. Set the indicator latch for the quantity of grain to be sown and it will always hold the sliding gear at the proper point in the multiple gear, so that the distribution of seed will be uniform, regardless of how rough the ground is or how much the drill is jarred.

Stop in the store the next time you are in town and let us show you the advantages of this drill. We're always glad to see you.

Full Cut on Hillsides and Around Corners

Here's the plow that maintains full-width cut on hillsides and on square corners. You will appreciate these features of the

John Deere Steel Gang

The furrow wheel is set well forward and the landing wheel well back—turning is made easy and the balance of the plow is maintained at all times—it will not tip. The handy landing lever perfectly controls all bottoms at one time.

Genuine John Deere steel or chilled bottoms with quick-detachable shares—good work and long wear.

Practically all steel—the strongest plow of its type. Beams guaranteed not to bend or break.

Heavy steel braces at front, middle and rear keep the plow bottoms in rigid alignment.

Great clearance—twenty-two inches under beam.

Can be furnished in two or three-horse sizes, with seat and rear wheel if desired.

Let us show you this plow the next time you are in town
