Many Go To Big Bear

A truck load and several car loads of people went from Kendrick to attend the play, "Arizona Cowboy," and the dance given afterward and a splendid time was reported. Some of those who happened to be just a little late reported the "S. R. O." (Standing Room Only) sign out when they arrived.

They reported the play as first-class and the dance a "dandy." What more could be asked?

TO VOTE ON GYM BONDS SATURDAY, MAY 10TH

A call for a special election appears in this issue of the Gazette, signed by the clerk of the local school district, asking that a special election be held in this school district for the purpose of voting $9,000.00 in bonds for the purpose of erecting a new and modern gymnasium and repairing the steam heating plant now in use in the school building.

It is stated by the members of the school board that the school tax will be no higher than at present; that the benefit to be derived by the district and the students will far outweigh the small expense the district will be put to; that practically every school of any size has an up-to-date gym; that the one now used by the Kendrick students is a disgrace to the district, the town and those who are compelled to use it for athletic purposes.

The proposed new gym will be erected on ground now owned by the district, just west of the school building, far enough away so as not to interfere with the light necessary from the windows. It will be of brick construction, 60x100 feet on the ground, with a 22-foot ceiling. The basketball floor will be 42x72 feet, with a nine-foot space completely around it for spectators, and a stage across one end of sufficient size to accommodate almost any sized show or entertainment. It is also proposed to use the heating plant now in the school building and all that will be necessary to heat the new gym will be the extension of the steam pipes and the placing of a few radiators.

If the necessary permission is given the board of education to erect the new gym, the old one will be torn down and as much of the material used in the construction of the new building as can be done.

While the election calls for bonds in the sum of $9,000.00, it does not necessarily follow that all that amount will be used for the erection of the new building and repairing the school house furnace. It is stated that only as much as necessary will be used, but it is better to be safe than sorry. Architects estimate cost for an expenditure of between $7,000 and $7500.

A. K. Carlson, who is one of the prime movers in the enterprise, can give anyone interested in the proposition all the necessary information regarding the intentions of the board.

Cherry Blossom Festival

The second annual Lewiston-Clarkston Cherry Blossom Festival will be held on May 16 and 17 and arrangements are being made to present a better parade and bigger celebration than last year's event.

All communities in central Idaho and southeastern Washington have been invited to send Princesses to participate in the festival, and the entertainment committee is planning on having forty young ladies, representing as many communities, as the guests of the Cherry Blossom Queen during the festival. The Princesses will have a prominent part in the parade, the coronation ceremony and in all public affairs where the Queen and her court will appear.

A number of communities have announced that they will choose their princess by giving a Princess Ball, tickets for which will bear the privilege of 100 votes for a princess candidate, and the proceeds will be used for some sort of community benefit.

The festival program provides for such a variety of entertainment that it will be attractive to old and young alike. A beautiful parade will be given each day; there will be a revelry of band music, baseball games, boxing matches, night shows, merchants' and manufacturers' exhibits, athletic events as well as the Queen's ball and numerous other features.

MAKE STATE ROAD TROY TO LEWISTON

Any contemplated road construction south from Troy should be considered of more than ordinary importance. A south road will not only traverse highly developed agricultural territory, which merits the best road that can be provided for it, but it will also bear toward an intersection with the main highway artery of the state, namely the North and South State Highway, and would be one of that trunk line's main laterals. It will be the main thoroughfare from this part of the country to Lewiston, and will also be a short cut from the Lewiston country north to the Moscow-Bovill state highway, which it will intersect at Troy.

Therefore, a road south from Troy is entitled to sufficient consideration to be designated as a state road, with the same attention and benefits that are given to the other state highways. The road will go down the hill at some point to be decided upon as the most practical. Whether via Kendrick or Juliaetta is for the folks interested to decide—the north end of it could be easily located down American Ridge.

This country needs a "straight shoot" to Lewiston, and we'd sort o' like to whisper to the Lewiston folks that they might find it profitable to cultivate us a little one way and another up this way. It's down hill from this part of the country to Lewiston. Therefore it is up-hill from Lewiston to this section. More ways than one, it seems like.—Troy News.

Caused Much Anxiety

Ralph Hoskins, 413 Maple street, Clarkston, reported to the Lewiston police force Thursday evening of last week that his wife, aged 68 years, had been missing from her home since 9 o'clock that morning.

When Mrs. Hoskins left her home she told her husband she was going over to Lewiston and would soon return, but she failed to put in an appearance and her husband becoming much worried, notified the police of both cities and the search was continued all that night, without result. It later developed that Mrs. Hoskins had come to Kendrick for a visit with Mrs. E. H. Emery, whom she had known for many years. It was through the agent for the Northern Pacific at Lewiston, who had remembered selling her a ticket last Thursday morning, and a telephone message here gave Mr. Hoskins the desired information and he came Friday morning in an automobile and took her back to her home. Her mind is just a little bit inclined to wander and she followed an inclination to come to Kendrick.

Beginners Band Organized

Pursuant to the call made by A. K. Carlson last week for all those interested in music and especially becoming members of a beginners' band, to assemble at the city hall last Friday evening, a goodly number were present and a start made, but Mr. Carlson states that he wants as many more as have already signified their intention of taking up the work. He also states that those who begin now will be able to join the regular band inside of six months. This should indeed be encouraging to the beginners and cause them to put forth extra efforts in that direction.

Mr. Carlson states that the regular practice meetings of the old band will be held and he urges all to be on hand every meeting night.

Porter Says Wheat Men Helped

Operations of the federal farm board, through government sponsored cooperatives, have greatly eased the situation in the north Idaho wheat country, E. W. Porter, state commissioner of finance said on his return to Boise from a trip to the north.

Wheat growers, he said, are able to face the next crop year without a heavy carry-over on their hands. There is a considerable volume of unsold wheat, he said, but he added that the farm board has been lending in cash actually more than the market value for wheat. "As a result," Porter added, "farmers and the banks which finance them are 'sitting pretty'."

PIONERR, 82, SAW THE EARLY "WEST"

Mrs. Maderia Pierce, one of Juliaetta's oldest citizens, recently celebrated her eighty-second birthday anniversary with a group of her friends and relatives about her. She has been a resident of the Palouse country for nearly sixty years and a resident of Juliaetta for the past forty-four years, formerly being at Moscow and near where Moscow now stands.

Mrs. Pierce was born in Philadelphia in 1848. At the age of 16, then married, she set out for the West with a caravan of 16 wagons. The trip was a harrowing one, punctuated with Indian raids, narrow escape from a massacre and hardships of travel.

Reaching a sheep camp near the present site of Pullman, the Pierces decided they had gone far enough west. Later they cast their lot with settlers near Moscow, where a fort was maintained for protection against the red-skins.

Mrs. Pierce organized the first Sunday school in Juliaetta and for many years was its superintendent.

A selection was written and given in song by a neighbor, reviewing Mrs. Pierce's life from childhood.

Those who attended the party were "Aunt Dora" Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jessup, Mr. and Mrs. O. Dumbauld, Mesdames E. Buchanan, L. Buchanan, Tabor, Gallaher, Robinson, Stinson, Combs, Trepany, Miller, Greene, Groseclose, Fowler, Heins, Mr. Goodman of Silo, B. C. The children present were Rex Tabor, Donald and Dorothy Miller, Frances and Madeline Pierce, Pearl Winters, Phyllis Johns.

Masons Visit Moscow

Quite a large delegation of Kendrick Masons went to Moscow Tuesday afternoon to be guests of the Moscow lodge at a six-thirty banquet and to witness the exemplification of the Master Mason degree by past masters of the Moscow lodge. A wonderful time was reported by those attending from here. The principal address of the evening was made by Past Master Francis Jenkins; also an address was given by Dean Eldridge of the University of Idaho.

Among those in attendance from the Kendrick lodge were B. F. Nesbit, E. T. Long, Dr. Geo. W. McKeever, Wm. Freytag, E. A. Deobald, J. L. Woody, F. W. Jarvis, C. A. Oppenbarr, Thorvald Nelson, E. H. Dammarrell, M. O. Raby, Paul Schulze, Wade T. Keene, Dr. Peterson and Frank Green, the last two being residents of Troy but members of the Kendrick lodge.

Lukens To Name Officers

Secretary of State Fred E. Lukens came from Boise to Lewiston Monday night and spent a day in the city. Five new traffic patrolmen, three of whom will replace others resigned, are expected to be installed in north and central Idaho on this trip. Among these will be an officer to take the place of Ernest Robinson, of Lewiston, who resigned to enter federal prohibition work.

Several have applied for the position. Other replacements will be at Coeur d'Alene and St. Maries, while new men will be installed at McCall and Grangeville, the latter city being a part-time station.

Crescent Postoffice Be Discontinued

A bulletin has been sent out from Washington, D. C., notifying postmasters that the postoffice at Chescent, Idaho, will be discontinued April 31, and that all mail intended for that point will, after that date, be sent to Southwick, from which place it will be handled by rural carrier.

This is the second postoffice in that section of the country to be discontinued within the past year, Linden having been discontinued after the office burned last summer.

"Prairie Rose" Enjoyed

The home-talent play, "Prairie Rose", put on by the ladies aid of the Presbyterian church of Kendrick last Friday and Saturday nights, was well attended and much enjoyed. The play required much memorizing and there was no prompting necessary, showing that more than the ordinary amount of work had been put on preparation of the play.

A very neat sum was netted for the ladies.

INDIAN WOMAN FOUND DEAD NEAR JULIAETTA

As the result of an alleged drunken party staged Thursday night and early Friday morning at the home of Dave Slickpoo, Indian, between Arrow and Juliaetta, Lizzie Smith, 25, half-breed Nez Percé, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, living at Garden gulch, one mile southeast of Lapwai, is dead.

She came to her death from suffocation in which liquor played a part, Dr. J. M. Lyle, county health officer, said, following an autopsy conducted on the body at the Brower-Wann parlors at 8 o'clock.

The young woman's body was found by a stranger who drove up to the Slickpoo home at 5 o'clock Friday morning. Seeing her lying prostrate on the bed, and windows of the house broken and furniture wrecked, the man drove to Lapwai and informed the authorities.

Sheriff Harry Dent was notified and with Lincoln Shropshire, acting county attorney, and Alex Williams and Sam Cash, both Indians, who had been at the Slickpoo house Thursday night, drove to the place and took charge of the body.

Williams and Cash reported the tragedy to the sheriff a few minutes after that official had been advised from Lapwai. Both were unable to tell a coherent story of what happened at the home, saying they were too drunk to remember when they left.

William Smith, father of the victim, employed at the Indian agency at Lapwai, was not aware of his daughter's death until 2 o'clock in the afternoon. He came at once to Lewiston and after he had conferred with the officers requested that an autopsy be held. No marks of violence were found on the body.

Smith said that at 6 o'clock Thursday evening, Williams and Eller drove up to his house and asked for his daughter. A few minutes later she returned and told her parents that she was going out with the men for a ride. The father advised against it. When she did not return he considered that she had spent the night at the home of friends, he said.

According to evidence collected by Sheriff Dent, the party was attended by Virgil Eller, Lizzie Smith, Dave Slickpoo, Alex Williams, Jim Cash and an Indian girl whose first name was said to be Jeanette.

They all drank heavily of moonshine, Jim Cash said, and the party ended in wild hilarity.

Cash said the Smith woman went down from the effects of liquor before the others, who continued to drink. When they left the home, Cash said, she was reclining on the bed. Dr. Lyle said she may have died before the party broke up.

The young woman was found face down and fully attired lying on a bed in another room in the house from that in, which the drinking took place. The sheriff found a quantity of moonshine whisky in the house and brought it to Lewiston.

Shropshire said that he would carry on investigations to determine who furnished the liquor.

Besides her parents, Lizzie Smith is survived by three sisters and three brothers, Edna, Ivy, Pauline, Joe, Jack and William Smith, all of Lapwai.

Big Benders Reseed

L. H. Daugherty returned Tuesday from a ten-day trip to the Big Bend country. He states that practically all of the wheat in that section of the country had to be reseeded, making the coming crop all spring wheat or nearly so. His son, Frank Daugherty, had to re-seed 600 acres.

Mr. Daugherty also stated that few fields around Oakesdale, Garfield, Belmont and contiguous territory were looking good. He has been farming for the past forty-two years—and should know.

The Trans-Siberian railway, which stretches over 10,000 miles, is the longest in the world.

MARKET HAS FIRMER TONE —FEED GRAINS ADVANCED

Wheat markets strengthened materially during the week ending April 5, influenced principally by less favorable crop prospects and an improved demand, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States department of agricultural economics. Feed grains advanced with wheat but an active inquiry for the diminishing supplies was also a strengthening factor. Rye was independently firm on a good domestic milling demand. Flax was dull with the light offerings meeting rather slow inquiry. Trading in cash grain markets was of very moderate volume because of the light offerings. A large percentage of receipts at some points was on earlier sales.

Reports of deterioration in the winter wheat areas of the United States as a result of dry weather was the principal strengthening factor in the wheat market. Moisture is badly needed in Oklahoma and in the southern and western portions of Kansas and marked signs of deterioration are appearing in those areas. Additional moisture is also needed to put the ground in good condition for spring seeding in the northwest and in Canadian provinces. Seeding has started in southern Minnesota and in some South Dakota points, but seeding operations in the spring wheat areas have been generally retarded by cold weather.

European demand appears to be turning more to North American wheat and trade estimates placed North American export sales for the week at around 5,500,000 bushels. These, however, were principally of Canadian manitoba and durum wheat. Offerings from the southern hemisphere were reported diminishing, but Australia and Argentine shipments for the week totaled 5,120,000 bushels. Argentine wheat is still selling below other wheats in the English markets. 62½ pound Rosaf was sold for immediate shipment in London during the week at $1.19½ compared with offerings of United States No. 2 hard winter at Liverpool at $1.21½. Harvesting is in progress in India. The quality of the new crop is considered satisfactory, but no exports from that country were reported. While European shipments are diminishing, several European countries appear still to have sufficient to meet local requirements. Further protective measures are reported being planned by Germany, where prices of domestic wheat have been advanced to $1.78 per bushel, the highest price since August, 1929, rye at Berlin is now quoted at $1.00 per bushel, or the highest since December 31, 1929. The French government has appropriated nearly $8,000,000 for the establishment of emergency grain stocks at various centers in that country.

Domestic cash wheat markets were rather inactive because of light offerings. Receipts of spring wheat were hardly sufficient to establish a market and quotations were largely nominal. 12 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern were quoted at Minneapolis at the May price of $1.12 to 2c over. 13 per cent protein was quoted at 2c to 4c over, and 14 per cent at 4c to 6c over the May price, which advanced 3½c during the week. Durum prices advanced along with other classes of spring wheat, but not quite so much. May durum closing April 4 at Duluth at 98½. September durum closed at that market at $1.02½. Canadian markets advanced slightly more than domestic markets with No. 1 Manitoba quoted at Winnipeg April 4 at $1.12½ per bushel.

Hard winter wheat markets advanced 3c to 4c per bushel but cash offerings were relatively small. Receipts were of moderate volume but a large percentage was on earlier sales. Mill demand was fairly active and elevator stocks decreased. Ordinary protein No. 2 hard winter sold at Kansas City April 4 at $1.05 with 12½ per cent protein quoted at $1.05 and 13½ per cent at $1.06 per bushel. Mills were the principal buyers at Omaha, where No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at $1.04 and No. 3 hard winter, 14 per cent protein at $1.05 per bushel. Some wheat was sold from that market to St. Louis and Chicago and elevator stocks decreased. A fair milling demand for wheat was reported at Fort Worth, but there was practically no export business except a few sales of wheat already at Gulf ports, which were reported below replacement value.

Baseball Meeting Held

A meeting of baseball fans and a few supporters was held at the city hall Wednesday night. While the attendance was not what it should have been, there were several prospective players in attendance, as well as a few business men who are interested in the sport and are willing to back the right kind of a team and manager with their time, and money, if necessary.
No manager was decided upon, but it is expected that one will be selected within a few days and then the boys will be ready to begin active work. It is proposed to have an all-home team and an extra effort will be put forth to make the team self-supporting. No outside players will be hired, as has been done in the past, according to those who are working on the matter. This will please all local fans, for little interest can be aroused in a "paid" losing team—and less money could be secured this year than in former years for that purpose, according to those who are familiar with the situation and have had to help foot bills in the past.
There is no reason why Kendrick cannot have a good all-home team, as well as other towns. There is plenty of good local timber and they should be given the preference.
Let's all get behind the boys and give them a chance to show what they can do "on their own."

FARMERS SHOULD GIVE ACCURATE INFORMATION

It is to the interest of every farmer to do his best in giving complete and accurate information in the 1930 farm census, declares Dr. Paul A. Eke, economist with the University of Idaho college of agriculture experiment station. He feels the legality of the request should be of minor importance in a whole-hearted cooperation with the census enumerators.
In this day of large-scale cooperative marketing under the direction of the Federal Farm Board, and of attempted stabilization of production and prices through agricultural outlook reports and stabilization corporations, the Idaho station economist says accurate information is essential to success.
A beneficial public policy toward agriculture must rely upon facts such as are gathered by the census, continues Dr. Eke. The census will have important bearings on such matters as taxation and freight rates. Allocation of public funds for the control of diseases and pests, for general research, for inspections and law enforcement, and for general public services are dependent upon accurate information as to the location and extent of the various agricultural enterprises. Moreover, census data helps explain the present location of markets and variations in prices between the large central domestic and foreign markets.
Civic and community welfare associations as well as farm organizations, are also dependent upon census data in inaugurating programs for local development. And lastly, the information derived from the census will give the individual farmer as well as organized growers a chance to adjust their forces to meet the competitive struggle in which agriculture finds itself, not only in the competition of farmer with farmer, but in dealings with corporations selling to or buying from the farmer and also in the great struggle of the agricultural industry as a whole against other large national and world industries.
Some of the important new features of the census are: an enumeration of taxes paid by the farmers, the movement of population to and from the farm, other occupations of the farm operator during the year, crops planted or to be planted for harvest during the coming season of 1930, a more complete enumeration of forest products taken from the farm, the separation of crops grown on irrigated land from crops grown on non-irrigated land, and the location and enumeration of all irrigation projects serving even less than five farms.

Childhood Tuberculosis

An intensive attack on tuberculosis will be started on April first under the general direction of the National Tuberculosis association and its more than 1,400 affiliated state, county and city associations.
This is the third nation-wide educational campaign urging the early discovery of tuberculosis. The Idaho Anti-Tuberculosis association, with the aid of its 44 county associations and committees will attempt to reach every person in every nook and corner of the state with the slogan of the campaign, "Protect the Children from Tuberculosis."
Prevention of tuberculosis among children will be the keynote of the campaign, which will be entirely an educational effort seeking to impress upon the public the fact that the disease usually begins in childhood. All literature issued in connection with the campaign will bear a child's picture and blaze forth the message to parents with the following specific advice, "Keep them away from sick people," "Insist upon Plenty of Rest," "Train them in Health Habits," and "Consult Your Doctor Regularly."

The message will be broadcast through the public press, the billboards, the radio, exhibits, movies, pamphlets and public talks. The State medical association, the women's clubs, the parent-teacher associations, the religious, civic and fraternal groups will all be asked to co-operate in the campaign with the state and county tuberculosis associations.

"Are Idaho children in danger of tuberculosis?" will be the universal query. The answer, experts tell us, is wherever there are young children living in homes in constant contact with active tuberculosis, they will undoubtedly become infected. To prevent infection from developing into disease is the reason for this campaign. Approximately 200 persons die each year in Idaho from tuberculosis. There are from 1200 to 1500 cases throughout the state. Undoubtedly there are hundreds of young children in danger of infection. If parents can be reached with this message, we may save them.

Jimmy's Essay on Girls

I told papa that I wanted to write about girls this week and he told me to go ahead as I know now as much about them as I will ever know. Mamma then gave him a dirty look and I went out to hunt for my pencil and paper.

I think girls are funny. They say one thing and mean another. An example of this is Flossie who lives next door. She said she liked me best but she lets Billy Flynn carry her books to school. When I told papa that he said it was just like a girl. And papa ought to know because he has a lot of girls' pictures in his desk. Mamma found them and papa told her they were old ones and mamma said she didn't believe it, but she must have because she gave papa a kiss.

One thing I have found out is girls only want me to play with them after I come back from the store that sells candy. Mamma says that's all right as I should be generous but when you give candy to girls but foolish as they don't have anything more to do with you after it is all gone. —Jimmy.

Kitty Bender Arrives Tonight

Tonight, Friday, April 11, is your chance to see Kitty Benders, the famous actress from New York, at the Kendrick theater. She and her troupe are coming sometime Friday. Don't fail to see her at the Kendrick theater, at 8 o'clock.

Among the people in her troupe she is bringing with her are a negro servant, played by Walton Morey; a bellboy, whose part is taken by Ted Grinolds; Mr. Winkler and his sister, played by George Bailey and Eldwa Jones; Mr. Winkler's choice of a suitor for Jane, taken by Claude Woody; Jane, who does not approve of Mr. Winkler's choice, Eleanor Herres; Bobbie Baxter, a friend (?) of Jane's, Athol Pearson; and last, but not least, is Kitty, played by Bessie Blevins.

"No Account David"

The Seniors have changed their play from the "Jade God" to "No Account David." They feel that this play is more suited to the talent of the class than the other. Practice will begin as soon as the books arrive, and it is expected the play will be given in about a month. Watch for the date!

State Exams Given

The latter part of this week the students in the eighth grade have been taking the state examinations. Teddy Davidson and Lois Woody from the American ridge school are taking the examinations as well as the pupils from Kendrick.

Seventh and Eighth Grades

In a questionnaire in the seventh and eighth grade room was a question, "What do you intend to be after finishing school?" The answers were varied, and a summary follows: Aviators, 4; teachers, 5; private secretaries and stenographers, 5; and one each of mail clerk, civil engineer, detective, farmer, nurse, and coach. Some boy, with a sense of humor, noted that he would probably be a man, and one girl noted that she'd probably be a college girl. Well!

The eighth graders are taking the state exams now, as a review of the year's work. These will not count as finals, but the exams given in May will settle the matter. Friday the graders take hygiene and geography exams.

Kenneth Brocke is about ready to return to school—probably next Monday. He says he likes vacations, but not those brought about by appendicitis operations.

Thomas Blevins, Josephine Davis, Roy Long, all have perfect attendance records for the first seven months of the year. We'll see how they last through the spring weather.

The water fountain sprung a leak Wednesday and sprinkled the hall nicely before the flow could be stopped.

VENTILATION FOR BARN ESSENTIAL

It Will Promote Health and Comfort of Dairy Animals.

Ventilation is necessary for the health and comfort of animals. It will preserve the building and contents from mold and rot, due to excessive moisture, and will aid in the prevention and control of disease. There are barns today where the construction is such that there is ample movement of air through leaky walls, hay chutes, silo chutes, and stairways. Such buildings in extreme weather, however, become too cool for dairy cattle to give economical production.

For the best results we must admit fresh air, remove stale air, and control temperature and humidity.

A system for ventilation consists of openings or inlets to admit air, openings or out-takes to remove air, and some means of creating a movement of air.

The factors having the greatest effect on neutral ventilation are the heat which is supplied by the animals in a building.

Since the heat to create an air movement through a barn must be furnished by the animals in the barn, it is evident that the kind and size of animals and the construction of the barn must be carefully considered. A cow or horse weighing 1,000 to 1,200 pounds will heat approximately 600 cubic feet space in a well built barn. Only such space as an animal can heat should be provided. For dairy barns the ceiling height should not be over six feet in the clear.

The King system of taking foul air out of the barn near the door and admitting fresh air near the ceiling has proved very satisfactory, and is the most widely used.

Definite rules for the King system of ventilation are:

1. The stable should be of tight, warm construction.
2. Allow 600 cubic feet of space for each 1,000 pound animal, or equivalent.
3. Intakes should be many and small.
4. Intakes should be located every 8 to 12 feet around the building.
5. Intakes enter at ceiling, open at outside about 4 feet lower.
6. Intakes should be insulated.
7. Out-takes few and large.
8. Out-takes draw from 15 inches above floor.
9. Out-takes equipped with heat door near ceiling.
10. Out-takes insulated, straight, high, and fitted at the top with a roof ventilator.
11. Allow one square foot of out-take flue for four 1,000 to 1,200 pound cows or horses, or equivalent in other live stock.
12. Total capacity of intakes should be equal to or slightly greater than out-takes.
13. Air can be drawn to the out-take a maximum of about 30 feet.
14. One roof ventilator for each 35 feet in length of a barn 36 feet to 40 feet wide.

Incompetent Feeder Can Reduce Milk Production

One member of a dairy herd improvement association was engaged in business that kept him away from home most of the time. He left his dairy herd in the hands of an incompetent feeder who dished up the feed with a scoop shovel and fed all the cows alike, regardless of production. Such feeding did not result in greater profits. In fact, that herd that year was carried at a loss.

The wise dairyman strives to build up a high producing dairy herd that will naturally bring an increased yield and increased net profits per cow when each cow is fed according to production. From such cows and from such herds only can the dairyman hope to get 100 per cent more milk from 50 per cent more feed.

Dairying Very Rich in Three Kinds of Gold

Dairying is rich in three kinds of gold—yellow, green, and white, and all three golds are as good as cash money.

The yellow dairy gold is the cream, ready to be sold for cash any day in the week. The green dairy gold is alfalfa and other legumes that feed the cows and build up the soil. And the white gold of dairying is the skim milk—not a by-product of no importance, but a golden stream of feed value for which no adequate substitute has ever been found.

Dairyman's Obligation

Theoretically, the dairyman's obligations of producing and delivering a clean, sweet milk end when the bottled product is set on the doorstep, but practically it does not end until that milk is consumed. It is imperative, therefore, that he deliver the milk at the doorstep at a temperature which will insure its keeping below the danger point—50 degrees Fahrenheit—even though it is left there half an hour. Thoughtlessness and carelessness in delivering cause complaints.

Last Call to Veterans

A telegram received from Birgadier-General Frank T. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans' bureau called particular attention to the fact that April 6, 1930 is the last day for filing claims for disability compensation by veterans of the World War. As a result C. H. Hudelson, manager of the U. S. Veterans' bureau at Boise, has made arrangements to take care of a large number of veterans who will no doubt avail themselves of this privilege within the next week. Special arrangements have been made for conducting examinations upon veterans and all the facilities of the local office are being taxed to capacity.

Christian Science Sanatorium in California

SAN FRANCISCO: Under articles of incorporation already filed with the Secretary of State of California, permanent trustees took over on March 26 the ownership of the property and buildings which are to accommodate the Christian Science Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast. The Association, which will open its doors to guests about the middle of May, was established in accordance with Section 8 of Article I of the Manual of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Benevolent Association for Pacific Coast is the third large charitable institution established by The Mother Church, totaling an investment of over $4,000,000. The Christian Science Benevolent Association, located in Chestnut Hill, Mass., was chartered in 1916, and The Christian Science Pleasant View Home, located in Concord, N. H., in 1925. While all three of these corporations are independent from a legal point of view they are under the control and supervision of The Christian Science Board of Directors.

The California property, known as Arden Wood, is a thickly timbered, 16 acre, piece of rolling land situated on the edge of San Francisco, its general location being between Twin Peaks and the Ocean. The Sanatorium is sheltered from the prevailing winds by the hill which forms the principal topographical feature of the property. No public roads or ways cross it, but paths will be arranged extending from the Sanatorium through the woods, making a feature of a small ravine which runs along the east boundary.

The Sanatorium, designed by Henry H. Guttererson, Architect, is of steel and reinforced concrete done in a modernized Breton style, with high central pavilion, tall classic

French windows and steep-sloping, red tiled roof. It will contain accommodations for 120 guests and associates.

Within the last few weeks a substantial piece of property jutting into the principal tract, formerly held by the city of San Francisco for school purposes, has been purchased to secure additional quiet and freedom from outside disturbances.

The Board of Trustees of the San Francisco institution will be in constant touch with The Christian Science Board of Directors as are the Boards of the two New England institutions.

The three Trustees of the new corporation are Mrs. Gertrude M. Glass, George D. Greenwood, and Marvin R. Higgins. Wilson D. Clark has been appointed Manager-Treasurer. All of these officers have been actively interested in Christian Science work for many years.

MARKET HAS FIRMER TONE —FEED GRAINS ADVANCED

ues. No. 1 hard winter, ordinary protein, was bringing $1.14 1/2 to $1.15, basis delivered Texas common points. Soft winter wheat strengthened along with those for other classes of wheat but was influenced also by very light offerings and a fairly active milling demand. No. 2 soft red winter was selling at St. Louis at $1.20 to $1.24 per bushel. Demand was principally from mills in nearby territory. Milling demand was active at Cincinnati where No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at $1.19 to $1.19 1/2 per bushel with the very light receipts below current trade needs.

Pacific coast markets were slightly firmer as a result of the advance in eastern markets, but trading was limited. Export bids were below current quotations at Portland and Seattle, and no export business, either to the Orient or Europe, was reported during the week. Domestic milling demand was dull and export mills reported a fairly slow inquiry for flour for export. Some export mills were reported to be closing down with others operating only a part of the time. Cash prices held practically unchanged with Big Bend Bluestem No. 1 hard white quoted at Portland at $1.24 and at Seattle at $1.25 per bushel. No. 1 soft and western white wheats were quoted at Portland at $1.12 and at Seattle at $1.13 with hard winter, northern spring and western red quoted at Portland at $1.10, with western red quoted at Seattle at $1.12. 14 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana was quoted at Seattle at $1.20, with No. 1 dark hard winter selling at the same price. While crop prospects for both winter and spring wheat are reported fairly good in the Pacific Northwest, holders are not selling freely and around thirty to thirty-five million bushels of wheat remain in all positions in that area, according to trade reports. Exports from Columbia river ports during March totalled 581,000 bushels, compared with 1,578,000 bushels in March 1929. Exports since the first of July totaled about 16,569,000 bushels, or around 3,000,000 bushels less than for the corresponding period last year. Domestic grain bags were reported quoted to growers at country points at around 10 1/4 each and Calcutta bags at around 9 1/2 c.

California wheat markets advanced around 5c per hundred, but demand was not active and the advance was largely the result of higher quotations in Eastern markets. Country stocks of wheat in California are light and firmly held, but new crop prospects are generally favorable. Mills took moderate amounts at San Francisco but flour business was reported generally dull. Inquiry for feed wheat became slightly more active during the week. Receipts of wheat at San Francisco during March totaled 7,335 tons, according to the trade reports, over half of which originated in Washington and Oregon. No. 1 hard white and No. 2 soft white wheats were being quoted at San Francisco April 4 at $2.05 to $2.10 and heavier dockage wheat at $1.95 to $2.00 per 100. Calcutta grain bags for June and July shipment were quoted at 8 1/2 c.

Receipts of wheat at Los Angeles were ample for the quiet demand but offerings were readily taken. Arrivals were principally of medium grade Baart, Bunyip, Federation and Sonora, but some eastern and hard red winter was also received. No. 2 soft white wheat was quoted at $2.12 1/2 to $2.15 and No. 2 hard white at $2.17 1/2 to $2.20 per 100.

The oats market strengthened as a result of a good demand but influenced also by the advance in corn prices. Offerings are of only moderate volume and have been slightly below trade requirements, with the result that market stocks have been slowly reduced during the past few weeks.

W. W. P. Promotions

W. F. Miller, auditor, has been elected to a new position of comptroller and L. E. Morse, secretary and assistant treasurer has been elected treasurer of the Washington Water Power company, according to the announcement of M. W. Birkett, vice-president and general manager of the electric service company, following a meeting of the board of trustees. Both promotions take effect immediately.

Mr. Miller has been auditor of the company for a number of years and in his new position as comptroller his duties as auditor will merge with those of comptroller, which will call for a closer touch with the financial affairs of the company.

"The promotions are in line with the policy of the company of filling the higher positions from within its own organization," said Mr. Birkett.

The Iliad of the Northwest

The Wilson Price Hunt expedition occupies a less prominent place than it deserves in the memories of our people. In successful achievement, in profound influence on our history, it was inferior to the earlier journey of Lewis and Clark. But in dramatic interest, in terrible individual experiences, in tragic hardship and privation, it has had no superior in the history of exploration. Its most striking incidents occurred in Idaho, the state which, oddly enough, has done least to perpetuate by monument and marker the spots and trails of the awful journey of the Astorians of 1811.

John Jacob Aster, promoter of the expedition, founder of the family and fortune which still survive under his name, was a native of Germany. Coming to New York, he entered the fur business, operating around the Great Lakes, and accumulated what was then considered great wealth. The success of the Lewis and Clark and succeeding expeditions attracted his attention to the virgin field west of the Mississippi, and he set out to dominate the fur trade from St. Louis to the western sea. He sent an ill-fated ship around the Horn, and about the same time sent a land expedition across the continent under the leadership of his principal partner, young Wilson Price Hunt.

In the spring of 1811 the Hunt party of some sixty people, largely French-Canadian boatmen, started up the Missouri river, thus following the trail of Lewis and Clark to a point now in South Dakota. Here they turned somewhat southward, traversing Wyoming instead of Montana, crossing the divide in the former state, coming into Jackson's Hole and the shadow the the Tetons. They crossed the Teton pass and arrived in early October at the deserted post of Andrew Henry, on Snake river just below where St. Anthony now stands. Here they made the serious mistake of abandoning their horses, and took to fifteen cottonwood dug-out canoes.

A fairly accurate journal of the trip was kept, and it is still possible to approximately locate the scenes of their experiences in what is now Idaho. They lost a boat in rapid water above Idaho Falls, portaged around those cascades and American Falls, and lost another canoe with its steersman at Milner.

Here they cached part of their supplies and proceeded on foot in three groups. One under McKenzie went by way of the Weiser and Little Salmon rivers to Whitebird, thence into the Clearwater and to Lewiston and on to Astoria. Another party followed the south or west side of the Snake to below Muntington; this was led by Crooks and was later joined by the third party under Hunt himself.

This last group is the one of most interest to our history. It consisted of twenty-three people, going down the north side of Snake river. The party camped on or near the sites of the present Hagerman, Bliss, Glens Ferry, Hamlet and Grandview. Here a second almost fatal mistake was made. Hunt left the river near the mouth of Canyon creek and crossing the dreadful desert perhaps not far from the present Mountain Home road, on November 21 found relief in an Indian camp where Boise now stands.

Wifely Immolation

Suttee is the name of the former practice in India for a wife to place herself upon the funeral pyre of her husband, and be burned alive. This practice is now illegal, although some writers claim that it is still continued in secret. Similar customs prevailed among Comanches, and throughout the Congo region in Africa; also in Polynesia and Malaya, where wives were sacrificed.

Explaining Light

Light is radiant energy. Modern scientists say there are many lines of evidence showing that light is simply electrical waves. The waves which are called light because they happen to affect our eyes are not essentially different from the longer and the shorter ones which we make use of in other ways.

DAIRY INDUSTRY TO BE COVERED BY FARM CENSUS

The dairy industry has been given a prominent part in the farm census which is to be taken by the Bureau of the Census beginning April 2 and ending May 1 this year. The various questions to be asked dairymen are expected to yield basic and current information which will enable federal and state agricultural economists to help dairymen formulate a program of future development for the industry. This phase of the census is regarded as of special importance by specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture, in view of current conditions in the dairy industry.

The dairy sections of the census will get information on the number of milk cows on farms and the quantity of milk produced in 1929. It will get the number of cows milked which are of beef or dual-purpose breeding; the quantity and value of milk sold; cream sold; butterfat sold; butter sold; and the number of cows being milked at the time the census is taken, which will be in April, together with the daily production of milk at that time.

Among the dairy questions to be asked, will be questions as to the number of yearling heifers; the number of heifers born in 1928 being kept mainly for milk cows; the number of heifers born in 1928 being kept mainly for beef cows or beef production; number of cows and heifers born before 1928 being kept mainly for beef production; total number of cows and heifers milked during all or any part of 1929; number of cows and heifers milked; the number which is mainly of beef or of dual-purpose breeding; the gallons of milk produced in 1929; the pounds of butter churned in 1929. The census will collect figures also on the number and breed of registered cows, heifers and heifer calves.

Cost Cannot Be Disregarded. Unfortunate, perhaps, but it is no doubt true that many persons cannot afford to order what they want without thought of cost. The Heavens In April

The following interesting article by Wickliffe R. Smith of Southwick appeared in the Lewiston Tribune of Tuesday morning and shows more than a casual study of the astronomical bodies of the heavens.

The most beautiful and conspicuous object in the evening sky during this month is Jupiter, the giant of the solar system. It is very brilliant now and in a fine position for observation. At dark it may be seen just west of the meridian and east of the V-shaped group of stars called the Hyades.

Jupiter is more than 1,300 times as large as the earth. Its diameter is 88,000 miles in length, while that of the earth is only 8,000 miles. It has seven moons, some of which are blue, some red and some yellow. These moons are believed to be inhabited as they have atmosphere and other requirements for sustaining life.

Jupiter turns on its axis rapidly—so fast that if it rotated a little faster it could not hold itself together but would spread out in the sky like a great coat of paint. As a result of this rapid motion Jupiter is flattened at the poles and bulges at the equator. This mighty giant of the solar system is, or seems to be, a world in the process of formation, cooling ever so slowly, in preparation for the race of people who will some day call it home. Some one has said that this planet represents tomorrow, the earth today and our moon yesterday.

A year on Jupiter is nearly twelve times as long as a year on the earth; but a day there is only about ten hours long, as a consequence of the rapidity of the planet's rotation. It takes 10,445 of them to make a year. As the axis of Jupiter is almost vertical, or nearly perpendicular to the plane of its orbit, there are no changes of season there such as we have here, and the days and nights are always equal, or nearly so.

During the next four or five weeks let us notice how Jupiter is moving eastward from the Hyades. Though the movement seems slow, the speed is nearly 500 miles a minute.

In the south and just west of the meridian is Sirius, the brightest of the fixed stars. This giant sun is more than 1000 times as large as our sun and 200 times as bright. If placed beside our sun, the difference in brilliance would be about the same as that between a bright electric light and the light of an old oil lamp.

Town Takes On Clean Appearance

Our little city has taken on a decidedly cleaner look during the past two days and is now pretty well cleaned up, ready for her new spring clothes, which will be along just as soon as the locust trees come into bloom.

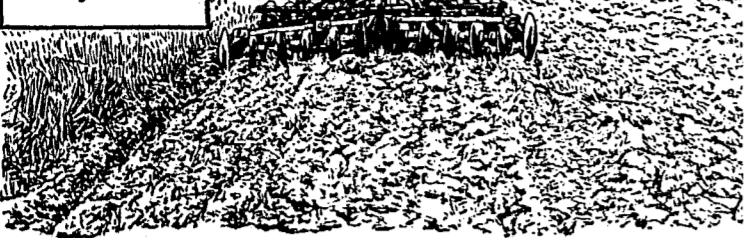

There were many loads of trash taken from lots and piled in the alleys in readiness for the city truck, which took the junk to the dump ground Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and things now have a decidedly cleaner look.

Apricot and Cherry Bloom

Apricot and cherry trees are in bloom in this section and they are indeed a beautiful sight. The wonderful sunny, warm

John Deere CH
Tractor Disk
Harrow
Working in Heavy Stubble

The Heavy-Duty Harrow for Your Difficult Disking Jobs

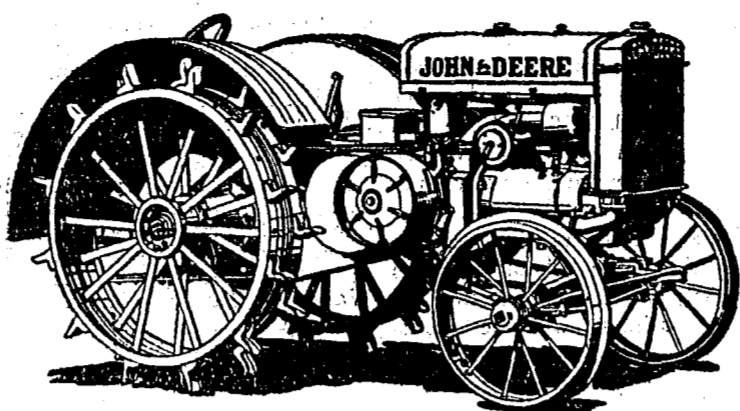

For those difficult disking jobs where extra strength and penetrating power are so essential to good work you need the John Deere CH Tractor Disk Harrow.

The CH with disks spaced 9 inches apart is unusually effective in grain stubble, in heavy weed growth and trash, cornstalks, orchard cover crops, and other difficult field conditions.

Where extra weight is required, weight units can be readily attached between disks. Frame and braces are exceptionally strong. Heat-treated, alloy-steel disk blades outlast other types and hold their edge longer. Separate angling controls on front and rear gangs—you can change either or both without stopping or backing.

Come in and see this sturdy, heavy-duty harrow. We can furnish the CH in 5- to 10-foot widths with regular spacing of disks; in 5-1/2-, 7-, 8-1/2- and 10-foot sizes with disks spaced 9 inches.

Great Power—Light Weight —DEPENDABILITY—

You Get Them All in the JOHN DEERE TRACTOR

In the tractor you buy, you want ample power to do your field and belt work on a large scale.

But you don't want to drag around a lot of surplus weight to eat up power, fuel and oil.

It's the successful combination of great power, light weight and long life that makes the John Deere the outstanding value in the tractor field today.

On farms of all sizes, in all parts of the country, this powerful tractor is establishing records for low fuel and oil consumption—for low up-keep—and for continuous uninterrupted service month after month, year after year.

Let us show you why the John Deere is the tractor best suited to your farm needs.
