MARTIN THOMAS DIES AT LEWISTON HOSPITAL

Martin Thomas, one of the oldest and best-known residents of this section, passed away at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston, Tuesday morning, May 6, at 1 o'clock, death being due to a stroke of paralysis suffered just a week before while at the home of his son, Walter Thomas.

The news of Mr. Thomas' death did not come as a surprise; yet the entire community was shocked at his passing. He had been in poor health for some months, but it was not until within the past few weeks that he had given his condition much attention, he having always been a vigorous man from his younger days. A few weeks ago he began going to Lewiston to take treatments, and while his condition seemingly improved for a short time, the help received was only of a temporary nature and he was again taken to Lewiston a week ago last Monday and on Tuesday morning, following, he suffered a stroke of paralysis and he was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where everything possible was done to relieve his condition, but without avail and the end came peacefully at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning of this week.

Mr. Thomas was born in Yancy county, North Carolina, January 12, 1854, making him 76 years of age the 12th day of last January. He lived in North Carolina with his parents until the close of the Civil War, when the family removed to Kentucky, where they remained until 1870; when they again loaded their household goods into a wagon and went to Howell county, Missouri. Young Thomas was then 22 years of age and the West beckoned to him. He joined a family by the name of Vest, who were trekking toward the setting sun and in due time they landed in Colorado, where young Thomas was taken ill and where he was compelled to remain for several weeks. After his recovery he again turned his face westward, going by train to San Francisco, where he stayed but a short time, going from there to Portland, Oregon, and coming from there to a point between Genesee and Unon-ton, landing there during the summer of 1877, finally stopping at the Scharnhorst place, where he made his home for some ten years, in the meantime working on farms and saving his money, for even as a young man he was thrifty and had set his stakes far in the lead of what most young men of his day were wont to do. He bought and sold several farms in the Uniontown-Colton section of Washington, but did not engage in active farming for himself until coming to American ridge, where he bought a farm in 1887, where he resided until 1901, when, with his family, he moved to Kendrick to take advantage of the schools for his growing children.

Mr. Thomas always took great pride in whatever he did, and his farming operations were looked after with the same care that his other business has been attended to during later years. When the St. Louis Exposition was held in 1904 Mr. Thomas received a gold medal and diploma for having the best wheat on display. He likewise was so honored at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, held at Portland, Oregon, in 1905.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge but was not a member of any other organization. He entered the hardware business in Kendrick in 1912 and continued in that business until 1921, when his sons, Walter and Harold, took over the store and it has been in continuous operation ever since.

Mr. Thomas was president of the Kendrick State Bank and had large land holdings, as well as other important business interests. While of a rather quiet disposition, he was conceded to be one of the best business men of this entire region.

Mr. Thomas was married in 1887 to Miss Lucy Lemon at Moscow. To this union four children were born, three of whom survive, one daughter having passed to the great beyond some years ago. The children are Walter of Lewiston; Miss Elsie Thomas, Spokane, and Harold, Kendrick. Besides his widow and children, three brothers also survive. They are Columbus Thomas, Mountain View, Mo.; Cornelius Thomas, Olden, Mo., and John W. Thomas of Peck, Idaho. One sister, Mrs. Mary Wiley, of Birch Tree, Mo., also survives. John Thomas was the

FACTS CONCERNING THE PROPOSED NEW GYM— MANY ARGUMENTS FOR AND AGAINST PROPOSITION

For a good many years our school system has needed a good gymnasium building to adequately take care of school activities. We have one of the best school systems in the county and it is hardly fair to deprive our school children of a proper building in which to hold their student body entertainments and athletic contests, which do so much toward creating the proper school spirit in any community. Every other school around us, some of which are a good deal less able to afford a standard gymnasium building, have a building. And it is conceded by prominent educators everywhere that a school system today without a gymnasium is hardly up to standard and is badly handicapped as compared with schools that have proper means of taking care of school activities.

Many arguments for and against the proposed gymnasium building have been heard. Some few contend that it should be built down town and others that it should be built where the present high school building stands. To begin with, the writer would state that your school board is not trying arbitrarily to build in any one certain location. The members of the school board feel that, inasmuch as the present buildings are already permanently located, it would be wise to put additional school buildings in the same place. If, after the voters of this school district have approved the issue of these bonds, a different location than that suggested by the members of the school board appears feasible, and the sentiment of the community is in favor of such other location, then there is where it should be built.

The members of the board feel that the placing of the proposed gymnasium next to the high school building is logical. The students would have access to the building at all hours without coming down town and the building certainly should be a part of the school equipment and conveniently located. Also in building near the older building, heating and plumbing expense is largely avoided since the plant in the high school building can be utilized, while if built down town it would call for new heating plant and complete set of plumbing fixtures.

The writer had a heating expert go over our present heating plant and plumbing, and he tells us that the present plant, with improvements that are contemplated, will make the present system up-to-date. And he tells us that it will furnish plenty of heat for the two buildings. I might add that these repairs to the present furnace will have to be made anyway, whether we build a gymnasium or not. This is also true of some of the plumbing which is unsanitary, to say the least, and has been condemned by the state supervisor. Because of this, the members of the board saw fit to include the probable cost of these repairs in the call for a bond election.

As to the added burden in taxes: We now levy seven mills for sinking fund to retire the old bond issue, which, by the way, has been reduced to something like $8,000.00, and that by re-funding this old bond issue (at a lower rate) and at the same time financing the proposed new gymnasium issue, you will not be paying any more taxes than you are at the present time paying. On the other hand, it will probably be less. This simply means a longer period of time in which to retire the total bonded indebtedness.

Instead of being an added expense to the community, it is very probable that the proposed gymnasium building would add materially to our school working funds by bringing in more outside students for our high school courses. Any added attraction to the present school system will bring in outside students and when you are bringing up school attendance you are building up good will for the community.

We know of eleven outside new students who have signified their intention of coming here next year and the greater part of them are coming because they believe a large up-to-date gymnasium is to be provided in Kendrick and that next year's basketball team is going to be a winner. Figured in dollars and cents, these eleven outside new students would give us an added income in the way of tuition of better than $1,000 for the year. And, knowing that a higher standard of school activities has been the attraction that has seen a number of boys and girls leave this part of the country for other city schools, the members of your school board feel that the building of an adequate building to take care of our school athletics will further increase the number of new students taking high school work here.

Moreover, as a matter of community pride, we should tear down the old building we have been using for a gymnasium, since it is certainly no credit to a progressive community, and use what material we can in construction of the new building.

Your school board has considered the matter carefully and earnestly believe that it is for the best interest of our schools, as well as the whole community, to put this bond issue over. We ask you to go to the polls Saturday and vote "Yes" on the proposal to bond for sufficient funds to take care of this necessary improvement.

A. K. CARLSON,
Chairman of the Board.

KENDRICK JOINS SMALL TOWNS IN DECREASE

Kendrick, like most rural communities throughout the United States, has decreased in population from the census of ten years ago, it now being but 360. However, we would much rather have 360 real live ones than to have many times that number of dead ones.

Kendrick hasn't a single resident that isn't a booster and that does not believe in his town and the community. This is a splendid feeling to have and while Kendrick, like all other places, both large and small, has suffered from the depressed conditions, yet we are coming back in a way that will not be uncertain. After all, it is the people that make up a community that make it good or bad—morally, or from a business standpoint, so we have nothing to fear from the fact that we have lost a few residents during the past ten years.

Kendrick still have one of the largest and best trading areas in this entire section of the country and the Gazette is proud to say that its papers go into a large per cent of the homes that comprise this large trading territory. We have the names on our list and are not ashamed of the number of them.

Our town is what we make it—and not what other people say about it.

MAGPIE CONTEST IN FULL SWING—MORE ENROLL

The youngsters of this community have begun in earnest to bring in magpie and crow heads and eggs and from the way it looks now there will be very few of these predatory birds in existence after the season is over.

There are now seven in the contest and some one of them is going to get something real nice—in fact, two of them are sure of real prizes, for H. B. Thompson, cashier of the Kendrick State Bank, has received a dandy steel telescope fishing rod and a Stevens repeating bolt action rifle from the Moscow Isaac Walton club to be given as prizes to the winners, to say nothing of the one cent bounty for each egg and head, offered by the state game department.

Those who have entered the contest and the number of eggs and heads brought in, to date, are as follows:

Fred Reid	249
Jas. Bolen	236
Bob Weyen	57
Evelyn Plucker	22
Wayland Davis	15
Archie Sloan	8
Harold Ellis	3

The contestants are asked to please bring in the eggs and heads as often as possible, but not less than once a week. The birds are now hatching and it behooves those in the contest to "get a hurry on."

Never yet was their a town or home so beautiful or attractive but that it could be made more so. Elbow grease frequently does the trick.

KENDRICK AGAIN TO FRONT IN CONTEST

In the district commercial contest, held at the University of Idaho on Friday of last week, Kendrick made herself known in no uncertain way, stepping in ahead of the Moscow school for second place in the contest, Lewiston having placed first, with 28 points, while Kendrick secured 21 points to Moscow's 14. Not a bad showing for a town the size of Kendrick. Doris Emery of Kendrick proved herself the star of the entire contest by being the only contestant scoring 100 per cent, she having a perfect score in shorthand.

The scoring in the first division was as follows:

Lewiston 28; Kendrick 21; Moscow 14; Grangeville 12; Orofino 5; Cottonwood 1. Craigmont, Genesee, Pierce City, Elk River and Deary did not place.

While Lewiston was winning school and individual honors, Kendrick stepped in to take the prize for team honors.

Cups were awarded first place team winners and ribbons to second and third place team winners. Gold, silver and bronze medals were awarded individual winners.

In the Typing I contest, Kendrick did not place. In typing II, second place was secured by Eleanor Herres, who made an individual score of 82. In Shorthand I the Kendrick team was second, with Doris Emery making a 100 per cent individual score.

In the bookkeeping contest Kendrick took first place, Doris Emery securing individual honors with a score of 96 per cent.

Again Kendrick is justly proud of her representatives at the district commercial contest, and from the fact that the Kendrick representatives fell only seven points behind such a school as Lewiston, speaks volumes for the commercial students and their instructor, Mrs. Jarvis.

The Gazette joins the entire community in extending congratulations to the students and Mrs. Jarvis on the splendid record made.

GAME FARM HATCHING MANY PHEASANTS

The Idaho state game farm at Lapwai now has 2,300 Chinese pheasant eggs under domestic hens and 26 Chucker partridge eggs setting. It is expected an additional 2,000 eggs will be set every eight days, if the farmers of the central Idaho country will provide the necessary setting hens. At the present time Superintendent James Marshall is encountering considerable difficulty in securing the needed setting hens and with an increasing demand as the season advances, it is probable the state farm will draw on all parts of the five central Idaho counties.

The setting boxes this year are protected by a new building erected under the direction of Superintendent Marshall. This building is expected to eventually house the entire operating unit of the game farm and has ground dimensions of 50 by 210 feet. The portion devoted to the setting boxes will be left without flooring and without sides so that there will be plenty of air and the roof will keep off the intense rays of the sun. The other portion of the building will be floored with cement and siding installed so that it will provide quarters for the feed cooking plant, feed storage and incubator department.

In addition to the hatching of the thousands of Chinese pheasants, the farm will later in the season secure quail eggs as well as Hungarian pheasant eggs which will be handled at the farm where arrangements have been made for the handling of these eggs in large quantities.

The farm, under Superintendent Marshall, has been much improved and the hatching quarters enlarged to take care of a much larger output than ever undertaken before.

Preparing To Rebuild

The work of cleaning up the debris of the fire at the Behrens garage and machine shop was started Monday morning and will continue until all is cleaned up.

Mr. Behrens states that he will rebuild just as soon as the building that remains has been cleared of rubbish.

Junior Prom May 9

The Junior prom will be given tonight (Friday, May 9) in the Fraternal Temple. The Junior class is working hard to make this event a success.

WHEAT MARKET LOWER AS PROSPECTS IMPROVE

Grain markets were mostly lower during the week ending May 3, and prices of May wheat in future markets reached the lowest point of the season, under the influence of improved prospects for both winter and spring wheat and continued slow foreign demand, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Feed grains were meeting a fair demand at most markets, but prices generally declined in spite of the moderate offerings. Rye was lower with wheat, while flax had independent weakness.

Crop developments were the principal influence in the wheat market. North American wheat prospects were much improved during the week by good general rains which greatly benefited winter wheat in Texas, Oklahoma and most of Kansas and furnished an ample supply of moisture for germination of spring wheat in most parts of the northwest. In some areas of the southwest the moisture came too late to more than check deterioration, according to the trade reports. Private estimates give the condition of winter wheat May 1 at from 77.5 per cent to 80 per cent, with an abandonment of approximately 10.5 per cent. This condition of abandonment would indicate a crop around 35,000,000 bushels below last year's harvest. Seeding of spring wheat in the United States is practically completed with a reduction of acreage of about 7 per cent in bread wheat and 15 per cent in durum, according to trade estimates. Cool weather has retarded growth of early seedings but has favored the development of a stronger root system. Canadian spring wheat seedings were 60 to 70 per cent completed at the close of April in Alberta and Saskatchewan, but about 80 per cent seeded in Manitoba, according to reports to the Manitoba Free Press. General rains improved soil conditions in the Prairie Provinces.

The condition of the winter wheat crop in Europe continues generally favorable. Recent warm rains in Danubian countries have been beneficial and crops are well advanced. The outlook in the Mediterranean countries of Italy, France and Spain is favorable, although the outturns may not equal the unusually large harvest of 1929. Conditions are good in the Scandinavian countries and in Northwestern Europe, but growth has been somewhat retarded by low temperatures. Conditions are about average in Russia, with the acreage sown to wheat reported slightly in excess of that of a year ago. Seedings in some areas are backward. Harvesting is now beginning in North Africa and although some local damage has occurred, the general situation is favorable. New crop wheat from these countries usually begins to move to the market in June.

Foreign demands for North American wheat continued disappointing, notwithstanding that Southern hemisphere shipments decreased materially. About 1,500,000 bushels were shipped from Argentina during the week and about the same amount from Australia. North American export sales were estimated at about 3,700,000 bushels, but these were mostly Canadian manitobas and durum. Several parcel lots of United States wheat were reported sold to the United Kingdom from Portland, and about 250,000 bushels of hard wheat from the Gulf were included in the sales reported. United States No. 2 hard winter for May shipment was quoted in Liverpool May 2 at \$1.14 $\frac{1}{2}$, compared with quotations of \$1.14 $\frac{1}{2}$ for 63 pound Rosafe, \$1.25 $\frac{1}{2}$ for No. 1 Manitoba afloat, and \$1.20 $\frac{1}{2}$ for Australian wheat for May shipment. French wheat was being offered for export at 99c per bushel CIF England. Some Indian wheat was reported sold for May and June shipment to Ireland at \$1.19 per bushel. Moderate amounts of wheat from Russia and Danubian countries were also being offered in competition with American wheat. Stocks of grain in the Continental ports of Hamburg, Bremen, Rotterdam, Antwerp, Genoa and Naples totaled about 3,617,000 bushels, a reduction of about 90,000 bushels during the past two weeks. Liverpool port stocks totaled 4,864,000 bushels.

Domestic cash wheat markets were relatively firmer than futures, with

SCHOOL NOTES

Doris Emery Wins Shorthand

Under an eighteen point handicap the Kendrick High school commercial team won second place competing with seventy students of all the schools in the Central Idaho district. Not entering two teams—typing I and Shorthand II—they still lost first place to Lewiston by only seven points. Winning two out of the five individual first places, a second in Typing II and a second as team in Shorthand I and a first as a team in Bookkeeping they won 21 points, against Lewiston's 28, Moscow's 14, Grangeville's 12, Orofino's 5 and Cottonwood's 1.

Individual and team awards were as follows:

Typing I—Team, Lewiston, first; Grangeville, second; Moscow, third. Individual—Edna Scott, Moscow, 92.5, first; Josephine Hazelbaker, 92, second; Wilma Isabell, 87.5, third, Lewiston.

Some Startling Figures A few days ago the Free Press came into possession of a bulletin issued by the United States Department of Agriculture showing the actual figures for exports and imports of dairy products, oleomargarine and eggs for the month of October of last year. We were amazed at the amount of the imports into this country of those items which are so vital to the prosperity of the American farmer. It is a fact that the price paid for butter in Wisconsin is largely based on the market price of cheese in many instances. Look at the sixty-two million pounds of foreign cheese brought into this country to compete with and to lower the price of our own cheese and we begin to see a little light of the why of our small butter price. Then ten million pounds of dried eggs in the total have been brought into this country since January 1929 to November 1 and we get a little more light on the cheapness of eggs from our own farms. —The Reedsburg, Wis., Free Press. Average Gas Used Car owners in Washington used an average of 530 gallons of gasoline in 1929 and those of Idaho an average of 411 gallons, according to Frank W. Guilbert, manager of the Inland Automobile Association, A. A. representatives in this area.
 Mr. Guilbert bases his statement on the fact that the motorists of Washington used 233,333,570 gallons of gasoline for a total registration of 440,302 while Idaho cars totaling 118,408 used 48,658,984 gallons.
 Pointing out that 13,400,180,162 gallons of gasoline were consumed throughout the nation last year, according to figures compiled by the bureau of Public Roads, the A. A. club executive said that the gasoline tax has become an important factor in the cost of motor travel.
 "During 1929," he continued, "a total of 20 states raised the rate one or two cents a gallon. The one-cent increase was effective in Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Minnesota, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming, while the two-cent raise went into effect in Georgia, Louisiana, Montana, Nebraska, Tennessee and Texas."
 The line-up of gas tax now stands with three states having a six-cent tax; eight a five-cent tax; 19 a four-cent tax; one a three and one-half cent tax; 10 a three cent tax; and seven states and the District of Columbia a two-cent tax.
 It isn't always the size of the sheet it is printed on that makes some newspapers "small."

WHEAT MARKET LOWER AS PROSPECTS IMPROVE
 The limited offerings of good milling wheat bringing slightly higher premiums than a week ago. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted May 2 at Kansas City at 95c to 96c per bushel, with 13 per cent protein bringing about 2 1/2c premium over these prices. No. 2 hard winter with 11 per cent protein was quoted at Omaha at 95 1/2c and No. 2 hard winter at Denver at 84c to 94c per bushel. Premiums on soft winter wheat were the largest on the crop at St. Louis, where No. 2 soft red winter was selling at 15c over the Chicago May price, which was equivalent to about $1.16 per bushel. The increased premiums were the result of the very light offerings of good quality soft winter wheat and a good milling inquiry for country-run grain. Milling demand at Cincinnati however, was quiet with Southern mills practically out of the market. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted in that market at $1.09 1/2 to $1.10. No. 2 soft white wheat was quoted at Denver at 90c to $1.02 per bushel.
 Spring wheat offerings were very light but milling demand was active. 12 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern was selling at Minneapolis May 2 at 3c to 6c over the May price of $1.07 1/2. 13 per cent protein was bringing 6c to 8c over the May, 14 per cent 7c to 9c over and 15 per cent 3c to 10c over the May. No. 1 dark northern was quoted at Duluth at $1.03 1/2 to $1.11 1/2 and No. 1 northern at $1.01 1/2 to $1.09 1/2 per bushel. Lake shipping was officially opened during the week and some wheat began to move eastward by boat.
 Durum wheat had some unexpected strength at times during the week, but prices declined about 1c and May durum at Duluth closed May 2 at 90 1/2c. There was some export inquiry but sales were only of scattered lots. No. 1 amber durum was quoted at Minneapolis at 90c to 97c per bushel and at Duluth at 92 1/2c to 95 1/2c. No. 1 durum was quoted at Duluth at 90 1/2c. No. 2 mixed at 85 1/2c to 92 1/2c and No. 2 red at 87 1/2c per bushel. Canadian spring wheat markets were also lower with No. 1 Manitoba quoted at Winnipeg May 2 at $1.05 1/4.
 Pacific coast wheat markets were dull and lower. Future markets at Portland and Seattle followed rather closely the decline in Eastern markets. Cash prices held about unchanged on soft wheat, but declined about 1c per bushel on Big Bend bluestem hard white. This wheat was quoted May 2 at Portland at $1.17 per bushel for No. 1 sacked. No. 1 soft and western white wheats were quoted at $1.05 and No. 1 hard winter, northern spring and western red wheats at $1.03 per bushel. Local demand was quiet and export sales consisted of parcel lots totaling about 8,000 tons, mostly to the United Kingdom and about equally divided between hard winter and western white wheats. Holders were not selling freely notwithstanding new crop prospects were materially improved by warm showers. Some new wheat was reported sold for July delivery at $1.05 for white wheat and $1.03 for red wheat. The slow export inquiry was reflected in the smaller exports out of Columbia river markets. These totaled slightly less than 850,000 bushels for April compared with a little over 1,000,000 bushels last April. Exports for the period July to April this season totaled 17,419,000 bushels, compared with 20,871,000 bushels shipped out during the corresponding period last year. Demand at Seattle was almost entirely from mills and was of small volume. No. 1 white and red wheats were quoted in that market May 2 at $1.06 with Big Bend bluestem hard white selling at $1.17 and 14 per cent No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana at $1.12 1/2 per bushel in bulk.
 California wheat markets were very dull. Prices at San Francisco were practically unchanged, but the tone of the market was weak for both milling and feed grades. Mills were buying but little wheat and were reducing stocks. Mixed feed manufacturers and other users of feed wheat were also reducing stocks because of the approaching new crop offerings. Local wheat was being offered at $2.05 to $2.07 1/2 per 100 for No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white. Northern wheat was being quoted at $1.95 to $2.00 per hundred delivered, sacked, on the dock at San Francisco. Mills were buying principally wheat at San Francisco during April totaled 6,739 tons, compared with 4,724 tons last April. Slightly over one-half of the April receipts this year were of northern wheat.
 Wheat prices at Los Angeles declined about 5c per 100, largely as a result of liberal offerings. No. 2 soft white wheat from Washington and Oregon was being offered at $2.00 to $2.05 per 100 basis Los Angeles, while No. 2 hard was offered at $2.15 per 100. Local No. 2 soft white was quoted at $2.05 and hard spring frost damaged wheat from Utah and Idaho at the same price.

4-H Boy Makes Big Profit
 Over at Wilbur, Washington, Robert McKay, 12-year-old son of James McKay, county leader of 4-H clubs, has distinguished himself in animal husbandry and demonstrated the financial benefits of 4-H club work.
 With a litter of 11 pigs he cleared $150. He reports having fed 70 bushels of Federation wheat and 700 pounds of tankage costing $35, 700 pounds of alfalfa meal costing $11 and 2000 pounds of wheat middlings costing $37, besides a little pasturage and skimmed milk, covering a period of six months.
 The boy had all the care of the pigs and a few days ago marketed them in Spokane for $262. In 12 months he has raised $425 worth of pigs from one brood sow.
 His gain is a marked contrast to that of his father's gain on wheat. The 70 bushels of wheat, plus $83 worth of other feed, produced 2400 pounds of pork in the 6-month-old pigs, while the day after they brought him the $262 his father sold 300 bushels of the same wheat for $249.

Be Sure to See This John Deere Rod Weeder

This efficient tillage tool is a real time-saver and profit-maker for the farmer who wants to destroy weeds on a big scale.

It is furnished in six sizes: the 8-, 10- and 12-foot sizes for use with either horses or tractor, with or without rear raising device and transport wheels; the 16-foot single-unit double drive, and the 20- and 24-foot double-unit right- and left-hand drive Weeders for use with Tractor.

A flexible tractor hitch is furnished for the double-unit Weeders, as well as for the other tractor-drawn Weeders. This flexibility is a very desirable feature, especially when the Rod Weeder is used in uneven ground.

You'll like the way the John Deere gets the weeds. The high carbon steel rod revolves at a depth of two inches or more, rooting out the weeds and grass, leaving the fields clean.

In fields subject to soil drifting, the use of a rod weeder will reduce drifting to a minimum.

Boise river a few miles above the present capital city and on the 19th of August arrived at Fort Boise, where they abandoned the wheels of the cart. This wagon has a distinction similar to that of the woman. Each was the first of its class to get into Idaho.

The party went on to Walla Walla, from where the Spauldings proceeded up Snake river to the Clearwater and up the latter stream some twelve miles, where they founded the Lapwai Mission which is still in existence although its life has not been continuous.

One of the first things accomplished at Lapwai was the planting of an apple tree. The next important occurrence was the birth of Idaho's first white child, another Eliza, later known as "Eliza Spaulding Warren" who died at Cataldo in 1919. Idaho's first white woman, Eliza Hart Spaulding, died in Oregon in 1851.

Thus ends the chronicle of Idaho's first white woman, first white child, first mission, first wagon and first apple tree.

Frost was reported on practically all of the ridges Wednesday morning, in some places the dandelions were said to have been made quite black by the frost—too bad it couldn't be for all time.

The mercury reached 30 at some time during Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, on the hill, but nothing seemed to have been injured by the low temperature.

IDAHO'S FIRST WHITE WOMAN

The story of Idaho's first white woman also has an apple tree in it, although instead of dealing with a Snake, her experiences were mostly with the Nez Perces.

Thirty-one years after the first white man came into Idaho, a newly married New York lady acquired deathless fame by becoming Idaho's first white woman. This was Eliza Spaulding, nee Hart, wife of "Hank" later known as the Reverend Henry H. Spaulding.

Eliza was rather tall and slender in form, with brown hair, blue eyes, coarse features, dark skin, a husky voice and retiring nature. Her health was not good, and during the historic journey her life was several times despaired of. She is said to have been a good cook and to have had the qualities of courage and of firmness.

When it became known that Mrs. Spaulding and her friend, Mrs. Whitman, were to accompany their husbands from Independence, Missouri, to Walla Walla, many of the best informed western travelers, such as George Catlin, freely predicted that the women would never survive the journey.

The expedition entered Idaho at Bear river on July 22, 1836. Arriving at Fort Hall they were given a dinner of dried buffalo meat, turnips and mountain bread made of coarse flour mixed with water and roasted in buffalo grease.

They camped at the mouth of the Portneuf, passed American Falls and Raft river and continued down the south side of the Snake to a point about fifteen miles southeast of Glens Ferry. Here it was decided to break up the only wagon the expedition had, although they continued to drag the running gear with them. Continuing down the south bank they crossed Snake river three miles below Glens Ferry, the women fording the stream on horseback. There are few men who would care to repeat this experience today. Turning northwest they reached the
