Big Tramway Repaired

The tramway running from the Vollmer-Clearwater warehouse to the top of the hill, almost half a mile in length, has been put in first-class condition preparatory to handling the big wheat crop that is expected in this section this fall.

The cable has been spliced, new sheaves (or pulleys) have been put in place and the towers overhauled. This cable and other equipment has been doing duty for the past 28 years—and is apparently good for many more.

KENDRICK PARK POPULAR PLACE FOR PICNICING

There are not many who seem to realize that Kendrick has one of the prettiest little city parks to be found in this entire section of the country. It is well cared for and there is an abundance of grass and shade. There are also benches and other conveniences for the picnickers. Several very pleasant occasions of this kind have been held there within the past week.

On Tuesday of last week the Long family held a very pleasant picnic-reunion in the park. Those present were Mrs. N. B. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Long and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Elbert Long and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Varo and sons of Kettle Falls, Wash.

A reunion of the C. C. Blackburn family was held there on Sunday last, the occasion being the eightieth birthday anniversary of Mr. Blackburn. There were many relatives present and they all came with well-filled baskets and a splendid time was had. Those making up the party were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Blackburn, C. M. Blackburn and family, Mrs. Pitcher and son, E. E. McGuire and family, Thos. King and family, Jess Denner and family, Lesco Reece and family, Miss Reece, Jeter Candler and family, Mrs. Cargill, Mrs. John Ryder, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Raby, Oscar Raby and Earl King and sister of Seattle.

Another very pleasant occasion was the picnic party that gathered for a reunion of the Stewart Compton family. The party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ware, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ware and Mrs. O. E. McPherson and family of Salmon, Idaho.

Gayle Bolon, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bolon, entertained 18 of her young friends at a picnic in the park Wednesday afternoon in celebration of her eighth birthday anniversary. Games were played and a very enjoyable time was had by the youngsters.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Bolon.

Maggie Contest Will Cloe June 20

The maggie contest, which has been going on for the past several weeks, will be officially closed on Friday evening, June 20, so it behooves all contestants to have the bird heads and eggs at the Kendrick State Bank by that time so Mr. Thompson can count them and give each contestant due credit. The closing date has been sanctioned by the Izaak Walton League of Moscow, the donors of the two fine prizes to be awarded to the two contestants who have the most heads and eggs to their credit at the closing date.

The standing of the contestants on Wednesday of this week was as follows:

Sherwin Schmidt	495
Fred Reid	429
Jas. Bolon	333
Edgar Heath	323
Adolph Demler	94
Bob Weyen	57
Edgar Davidson	50
Evelyn Plunker	22
Archie Sloan	8
Oscar Hartung	7
Elmer Emery	7
Harold Ellis	3

The final figures and the prize winners will be announced next week.

Five-Hour Day At Mill

Announcement has been made that the working day will be cut to five hours at the big mill at Potlatch, without any lowering of wages, the change to be made Monday, June 16. Two five-hour shifts will be employed during the forepart of the week and full-time shifts on Fridays and Saturdays. An over-supply of lumber on hand is the reason for curtailing production.

PEDDLER SEASON HAS ARRIVED—BEWARE OF THEM

With warm weather, and the closing of schools of various kinds throughout the country, peddlers of all kinds and sorts, peddling everything imaginable, will be coming in—and it is a very good idea to be careful what you buy and how you buy it.

The first "harbinger" of the peddler horde was in town the other day taking subscriptions for magazines. He may have been all right and perfectly honest (but there are many who are not. If you want a good magazine of any kind you can always subscribe for it right in your home town for the same price as a peddler will ask you for it, or you can buy it at your local news stand right here in Kendrick. If you cannot get what you want there, come to the Gazette office and we will get it for you just as cheaply as any peddler—and we will guarantee you will get just what you subscribe for.

Not only magazines, but almost everything from picture frames to cream separators are sold by peddlers. Beware of them. Get prices from your home merchants. They are the ones who make all the comforts you enjoy in your little home possible. They are the ones who pay the taxes and keep things moving. Trade with them in preference to anyone else—especially peddlers. There isn't a dealer in Kendrick who will not get you just what you want, in case they do not happen to have it in stock. When you buy from a home merchant you are not buying a "pig in a poke" or getting a grab box. You know what you are getting. Try the home dealer first—no matter what you may want.

Much Road Work Being Done

Work was started Tuesday morning on the job of oiling the Culdesa hill, on the North and South highway. It is expected to have that part of the work completed in 16 days. As soon as this work is completed the spreading of oil on the 36-mile stretch between Thorncreek and Potlatch will be started, the same company having the contract. An 18-mile stretch between Grangeville and Cottonwood will be resurfaced preparatory to oiling a little later.

Work on the Lewiston spiral hill highway has been temporarily stopped because of lack of equipment which has been transferred to other jobs but will be resumed in about ten days. On this project the sharp curves are being widened and visibility increased. The principal curves to be widened are the hairpin turn above the hill service station and one just outside the city limits.

Roads are generally in fine shape for this time of the year. Mr. McCreeley declared. The four and a half mile link of new road between the hill and Genesee is progressing nicely and should be completed about the first of August.

President Makes Official Visit

Rebekah Assembly President Mae Arnold made an official visit to Kendrick Star Rebekah lodge No. 21 on Tuesday, June 3, and a very pleasant and profitable meeting was held.

After the lodge session Mrs. Edgar Long, assisted by Mesdames Hill and Cook, served a delicious 7 o'clock dinner in honor of the president. Several of the brothers joined in the social part of the meeting after the lodge session. The male quartet gave several numbers which were greatly appreciated. Mrs. E. H. Emery, accompanied on the piano by Mr. Emery sang two lovely solos. Mrs. C. A. Oppenborn, acting as chairman of the refreshment committee, served a dainty luncheon.

Mrs. Arnold was entertained in the home of Mrs. Sylvie Cook while in Kendrick.

Several of the local Rebekahs motored to Juliaetta on Thursday evening, June 5, where they again enjoyed an evening with Mrs. Arnold. The Juliaetta ladies served a much appreciated lunch.

All Odd Fellows and their wives are requested to help observe Memorial day on June 15, by attending special services to be conducted by Rev. Taber in the Presbyterian church at 11 a. m. A basket dinner will be eaten in the city park.

"Why do you build a two-car garage when you can afford only one car?"
"Oh, I want it wide enough so my wife can back in."
She's so distant.

GENERAL BUSINESS CONDITIONS IN COUNTRY

The following, on general business conditions throughout the country has been received from the National City Bank of New York City and gives sane reasons why conditions are as they are and a probable remedy:

The condition of general business has continued unsatisfactory during May, and business men who have been hoping for a definite turn in the situation have had to reconcile themselves to further waiting. Business, indeed, has shown a progressive increase in activity as compared with the early months of the year, but this has had to be viewed in the light of the normal seasonal tendency which is always upward during the spring. When allowance has been made for this seasonal factor it is not clear that much in the way of general business improvement can yet be claimed.

All of which is in accord with experience that it requires time for industry to rid itself of unsound conditions which invariably creep in during periods of extended prosperity. That the pace of business and speculation last year was excessive is now clear to everyone. Considering the extent of overproduction in some lines, the unprecedented scale of the stock speculation and the degree of disorganization resulting from these extravagances, it is not surprising that the recovery should be slow.

The thing, however, to be guarded at the present time is an excess of pessimism, just as an excess of optimism was the basis of danger a year ago. Last year a great many people could see no limit to the possibilities for expansion; now, some of these same people seem to have lost all confidence in the country's capacity for recovery. Undoubtedly the one viewpoint is as unwarranted as the other. It is true that the situation is not without serious complications, including the world-wide scope of the reaction, the fall in commodity prices and accumulation of stocks of raw materials. We do not wish to minimize these difficulties, but we are impressed with the recuperative powers of the country as demonstrated repeatedly in the past.

So long as prices are falling it is natural for buyers to hold off, both because of a lack of confidence engendered by the fall and because of a desire to buy at the lowest possible levels. During this period of suspended activity stocks pile up in the hands of producers or primary distributors, where they acquire an exaggerated significance by reason of being in the show window of "visible supplies." Once, however, prices are believed to have touched bottom and buyers who have been holding off come in to replenish their depleted stocks, it is often surprising how quickly the bugaboo of excessive stocks is dissipated. Only recently we have seen how this works in the case of copper. With the cut in the price of the metal to 12 1/2¢, orders placed during May were the largest for any month in the history of the industry. While the stocks continue large, the situation in the copper industry has been materially improved by the breaking of the deadlock between producers and consumers.

It is a common saying that such and such a person could not stand prosperity, and experience has shown that the business community cannot stand prosperity indefinitely. Such periods induce heavy investments of capital for increasing production, and the industrial equilibrium is not always maintained. Management, lulled to a false sense of security by easy profits, tends to relax that constant vigilance over costs which is the price of economical operation, permitting carelessness, extravagance and neglect of sound business principles to undermine efficiency. Costs and prices rise, speculation develops, and the business situation becomes honeycombed with weak spots which give way under strain.

It is characteristic of good times that a great body of indebtedness is created to be paid in the future. The expenditure of these capital sums is one of the features of the good times, but if the investments prove unprofitable or not promptly remunerative this pace of expenditure cannot be maintained and reaction follows. It is an old saying that people go into debt in good times and pay their debts under the pressure of the bad times.

After some considerable discussion it was decided to hold meetings during the summer months. Announcement of time and place will be made in due time through the columns of the Gazette.

Finish Spreading Rock

If the weather man is on his good behavior it is expected that the work of spreading rock on the Cedar creek road will be finished this week, when the contractors will have put on some 1300 yards. This should help very materially.

Open Season for Candidates

The first day of the "open season" for candidates was marked by the filing of their names by J. H. Felton of Troy for prosecuting attorney, and Arnold S. Lyons for the office of county commissioner in the second (Moscow) district, the former to succeed Abe Goff and the latter to succeed Rudolph E. Nordby. Both filed on the republican ticket.

There will undoubtedly be plenty more candidates who will file before the primary, to be held August 5.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Perhaps one of the most interesting meetings ever held by the Kendrick Commercial club took place at the Hotel Kendrick Tuesday evening, when some 25 members were present and partook of a veritable banquet, prepared by Mine Host M. O. Raby and his aides, which was thoroughly enjoyed and loudly praised by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

After the dinner had been partaken of and the tables cleared away the business of the club was taken up, when the chairman of several of the standing committees made reports, some of which were of much interest to the club and to the town. Among these was that of W. J. Carroll, chairman of the committee on roads, who made report substantially as published in the Gazette some time ago after a committee had visited state highway representatives at Lewiston and which was of much interest generally for that is one subject that is near to the hearts of everyone really interested in community development and betterment.

Dr. Field, chairman of the committee on education, made a very interesting short talk along that line and gave insight to several questions that will be before the state legislature during its coming session, some of which concerned our own school.

C. A. Oppenborn and M. O. Raby both made short talks along the "booster" line which were agreed to by all present. Mr. Oppenborn said all should stick together and follow out a concrete program. Mr. Raby expressed and emphasized his faith in the future of Kendrick and the surrounding territory.

W. J. Carroll also spoke along the same line and about industrial activity, after which he presented a proposition that had already been taken up by residents on Big Bear, and that is regarding oil and gas strata that is said to exist in the Big Bear section. It was finally decided to bring a geologist here to make a survey of the situation.

The fact being noted that many of the trees on the hill across from the depot were dying, the secretary was instructed to write to the forestry department of the University of Idaho and also to the United States forestry department to ascertain what might be causing the trees to die. This is one of the beauty spots of Kendrick and it would indeed be a calamity to have anything happen to the beautiful evergreen trees thereon.

The secretary was also instructed to write a letter of appreciation to the Moscow Chamber of Commerce for the splendid entertainment they were responsible for, given here recently.

Several other questions of minor importance were discussed, which will be taken up from time to time as the occasion demands.

There was a spirit of universal harmony throughout the meeting, with some good-natured "jabs" now and then. Everyone present was an optimist—which counts for much when it comes to accomplishing things.

New officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, F. M. Long; vice-president, W. J. Carroll; secretary, C. A. Oppenborn; treasurer, E. H. Emery. A rising vote of thanks was extended R. H. Ramey, the retiring president, for the efficient way in which he had handled his office during the past year.

After some considerable discussion it was decided to hold meetings during the summer months. Announcement of time and place will be made in due time through the columns of the Gazette.

Finish Spreading Rock

If the weather man is on his good behavior it is expected that the work of spreading rock on the Cedar creek road will be finished this week, when the contractors will have put on some 1300 yards. This should help very materially.

WHEAT STILL UNSETTLED—CROP CONDITION FACTOR

Wheat markets continued unsettled during the week ending June 7, with crop developments the dominating factor, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Prices were not materially changed although quotations on winter wheat declined slightly, with premiums being reduced on a new crop basis. Feed grains were mostly steady under a good demand for the moderate offerings. The rye market was dull and featureless but flax advanced slightly, influenced by less favorable prospects for a new crop.

Prospects for the 1930 wheat crop in the Northern hemisphere appear to be about as favorable as a year ago, with local damages in several important winter wheat producing areas largely offset by more favorable conditions in other winter wheat districts and in spring wheat areas. Harvesting of domestic winter wheat has begun in the southwest, and the first car of new wheat was received at Fort Worth from central Texas during the week. The crop is ripening rapidly in Oklahoma and Southeastern Texas, but the grain is heading short on some districts in the western part of the wheat belt. Private trade estimates placed the winter wheat crop about 35,000,000 bushels; below last season's harvest, based upon condition at the first of June, and the spring wheat crop at about 25,000,000 bushels above last season's production, suggesting a total outturn of all wheat of a little over 800,000,000 bushels.

The Canadian crop averages from four to five inches high and is well rooted and of excellent color, according to the Manitoba Free Press. Dry, cool weather has retarded growth however, and the crop has lost most of the advantage of the early start. Warm weather with good rains are needed since rainfall during April and May was relatively light.

Conditions in Europe continue generally favorable with no marked reduction from last year's outturn in prospect. The condition of winter wheat in Germany is favorable. In the countries of the lower Danube crop conditions are more favorable than last season when unusually heavy winter killing materially reduced the final outturn. The largest acreage since 1927 is reported in France, but production is expected to be below the unusually large crop of last year. Prospects in Italy indicate a crop of 25,000,000 to 45,000,000 below last season, according to official trade estimates. A considerable part of this reduction is in the Southern Provinces where much of the durum wheat is produced. The Spanish crop is now placed at the record figure of 161,000,000 bushels, which is somewhat more than domestic requirements.

Shipments and offerings from the southern hemisphere continue light, but export inquiry for North American wheat is still dull, with sales only of about a million bushels reported for the week. This light demand for North American wheat may be attributed to the larger utilization of native wheats and the prevailing trade restrictions. The French wheat import duty has been increased to 85¢ per bushel, with 97 per cent native wheat required in milling mixtures. Italy has a duty of 86¢ per bushel, while the German tariff has been increased to 97¢ per bushel and milling regulations require utilization of 50 per cent native wheat in milling mixtures, have been extended to June 30. Wheat imports are prohibited in Spain so long as the domestic price in one month does not exceed $1.76 per bushel. United States wheat continues to encounter sharp competition in India and Argentine wheat in the European markets. On June 6th the 62 1/2 pound Argentine Rosaf was selling in Liverpool at $1.17 1/2, compared with quotations of $1.17 1/2 for No. 2 hard winter from the United States and choice Karachi wheat from India. French parcels were being offered at $1.01 1/2 and No. 2 Canadian Manitoba at $1.25 1/2 per bushel, with only small amounts being taken for export and with mills supplying only current needs.

Market stocks in North America are being reduced slowly. 147,068,000 bushels of Canadian wheat are still in store in North American markets, while stocks of United States wheat in store in the United States and Canada, total approximately 125,000,000 bushels, or about 23,000,000 bushels.

KENDRICK DROPS GAME TO LAPWAI INDIANS

On the local diamond last Sunday the Lapwai Indians took advantage of numerous errors and some hits in the third and fourth innings of the game here and pounced onto Kendrick for eleven runs before they could be stopped. This accounted for all the scores gathered by either team during the game.

The Kendrick boys were at a loss in hitting against the slants and speed of young Raymond, the Indians' pitcher, only getting three hits; one a three-base hit by Chuck Levitt, but who failed to score when he was tagged out at home on a close play. The local boys just did not have their rabbit's foot in the right pocket. However, they pulled three fast double plays in the last part of the game just to show there was still some pep left in them.

Cecil Chamberlain started off nicely, turning the Lapwai batters back one, two, three, for the first two innings, until errors ruined the game in the third inning. He was relieved by Dammarell in the fourth, who held Lapwai scoreless the balance of the game.

The Orofino team, managed by A. E. Wilcox, will play here next Sunday, June 15. This promises to be a good game as "Art" will spare nothing to beat Kendrick on his old stamping grounds. A. E. managed the Kendrick ball team for several years while agent here for the N. P.

WHEAT STILL UNSETTLED
CROP CONDITION FACTOR

els more than a year ago. About 57 per cent of the public and private elevator space, usually utilized for the storage of grain in the United States markets, was filled at the first of June. This compares with about 55 per cent at the corresponding period a year ago.
Cash markets were relatively weaker than futures for winter wheat, reflecting the approaching movement of new crop grain. Local mills were the principal buyers but were taking only sufficient wheat for immediate needs. Hard winter wheat prices declined around 2c per bushel and soft winter 3c to 5c in the principal distributing markets. On June 6 No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Kansas City at $1.01¼, at Omaha at 98c to 99c and at Denver at 87c to 89½c per bushel. No. 1 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Fort Worth at $1.10 to $1.10½, delivered Texas common points. One car of new wheat received at that market during the week graded No. 3 red, tested 59.6 pounds per bushel and sold at $1.20.
Spring wheat cash markets were generally steady with premiums for high protein types increased sufficiently to offset the decline in future prices. 12 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern sold at Minneapolis June 6 at the July price of $1.05½ to 9c over 13 per cent protein brought 4c to 6c over the July price. No. 1 dark northern was quoted at Duluth at $1.05½ to $1.14½ and No. 1 northern at $1.04 to $1.10. Durum wheat was in poor demand. Prices declined about 3c per bushel during the week with Duluth July durum quoted June 6 at 93¼c.
Pacific coast markets were mostly inactive because of the light export inquiry and limited takings by local mills. Prices at Portland declined about 1c during the week with No. 1 Big Bend bluestem quoted June 6 at $1.17, No. 1 sft and western white at $1.04½ and No. 1 hard winter, northern spring and western red at $1.02½ per bushel sacked. Montana dark northern spring in bulk with 14 per cent protein was quoted at $1.15 and No. 1 hard winter at $1.13 per bushel. A few parcel sales about equally divided between red and white wheats were made to the United Kingdom during the past two weeks; but there was practically no trading with the Orient. The sharp reduction in silver exchange has restricted buying with the Orient and Chinese dealers are reported to have requested the cancellation of old contracts and to have asked deferred deliveries. Shipments out of Columbia river ports from July on through May have totalled 18,450,000 bushels this season against 21,679,000 bushels last year. New crop prospects in Washington and Oregon continue favorable, but farmers are not pressing old crop grain upon the market and 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 bushels are yet available for market, according to trade estimates.
California wheat markets continue dull and prices tended lower with the approach of a new grain crop. Quotations at San Francisco were lowered 5c to 7½c per 100 during the week with No. 1 hard and soft white wheats quoted in that market June 6 at $1.85 to $1.90 per hundred. Some new crop wheat was being contracted on the basis of $1.75 to $1.80 per 100 for No. 1 hard white sacked and delivered at San Francisco. May receipts at that market totalled 6,510 tons, of which slightly over 4,000 tons were of northern wheat. Old wheat stocks in California are low and prospects for the new crop are irregular. A good yield is in prospect in the Sacramento valley and in irregular parts of the San Joaquin but the crop is heading short in other areas because of lack of moisture. Harvesting has begun but is not expected to be general for two or three weeks as the ripening has been retarded by cool weather.
The Los Angeles market held nearly unchanged during the week with good milling wheat selling around $2.05 to $2.10 and feed wheat $1.90 to $2.00 per 100. Mills were fairly active buyers of baart wheat, but offerings were principally of feed types with a good proportion of northern wheat shipped by water from Portland. Local wheat was principally from the San Joaquin valley.

Pullets and Hens Pay
Better if Kept Apart

In order to lay the maximum number of eggs during the winter, pullets that are ready to lay must be well fed during the fall and winter months. They should be well developed and carry a surplus of fat before they are placed in winter quarters. Since these birds are ready for egg production, they should be given feed that will enable them to lay during this season of high prices. Allowing pullets free range to a good laying mash will bring them into production and make them return a profit during the winter.
After they stop laying in the fall, there is a natural tendency for hens in the old laying flock to eat much less mash than they have been eating. It, therefore, is a good plan to increase the grain allowance in order to keep them in good flesh. The hens which are to be used as breeders next spring should be given a vacation this winter so that the hatching eggs they lay will produce strong, healthy chicks.—Illinois College of Agriculture.

Daring Voyage

John Traynor and Ivan Olsen were the first to cross the Atlantic ocean in a rowboat. On July 8, 1881, they left Bath, Maine, in a rowboat named City of Bath and reached Falmouth, England, August 24 of the same year.

Wifely Immolation

Suttee is the name of the former practice in India for a wife to place herself upon the funeral pyre of her husband, and be burned alive. This practice is now illegal, although some writers claim that it is still continued in secret. Similar customs prevailed among Comanches, and throughout the Congo region in Africa; also in Polynesia and Malynesia wives were sacrificed.

Improve Peanut
Ration for Hogs

Value of Tankage Studied in Series of Tests Made at Beltsville.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Peanuts are used to a considerable extent in hog feeding in the peanut-growing areas of the United States, says the United States Department of Agriculture, and are usually fed alone or with mineral supplements only. The efficiency of peanuts for growing pigs is very materially increased, however, according to the department, when tankage is included in the ration as a protein supplement.
Tests at Beltsville.
This conclusion is the result of a series of feeding tests recently completed at Beltsville, Md., by O. G. Hankins and J. E. Zeller, of the animal husbandry division of the bureau of animal industry, and conducted in connection with the study of peanuts in the soft-pork problem.
Because many young pigs are commonly fed peanuts without protein supplements, the question arose as to whether the prevailing method of feeding was producing the best possible results. Three experiments were undertaken in which different rations were compared. In the first experiment, the investigators fed two lots of pigs shelled peanuts and minerals, one lot with tankage and the other without. In the second experiment the rations were the same as in the first except that the peanuts were unshelled. The third experiment was similar to the second except for a change in minerals.

The results are noteworthy in showing the value of tankage as a supplement to peanuts and minerals in the ration for young pigs, and are discussed in Technical Bulletin 110-T, entitled "Correcting the Inefficiency of Peanuts for Growth in Pigs," just issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.
Results Summarized.
As an average of all the experiments, say the authors in summarizing the results, the feed cost of 100 pounds of gain, not including minerals, was $9.02 for the tankage-fed pigs and $17.80 when no tankage was fed. The cost of the minerals did not exceed 35 cents per 100 pounds gain for either group.
The results also show that peanuts with only mineral supplements are not efficient for pigs in the early stages of growth. The addition of tankage more than doubled the daily gain of the pigs in the experiments.
The amount of each nutrient consumed per unit of gain was also much less for the tankage-fed pigs than for those not receiving tankage.
A copy of the bulletin may be obtained free as long as the supply lasts, by writing to the office of information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

CONTRACT FOR NEW GYM LET TO LEWISTON FIRM

The contract for the building of the new school gymnasium was let to Jordan & McPhee of Lewiston, they being the lowest bidders for the job, the net price being $7,426.00 after deductions had been made and a few changes in the original plans made. The original bid was $7,800.00. The bid is covered by the customary bond for good faith.
The dimensions of the building are as follows: Sixty by 106.4 on the ground, with a 20-foot 6-inch wall. The walls are to be of brick, eight inches in thickness, with twelve 16x20 pilasters—six on each side. The playing floor will be 42x72 feet in size with a nine-foot seating capacity on each side. The ceiling will be finished with plaster board salvaged from the old gym.

CAMPERS MUST CARRY SHOVEL, AXE AND BUCKET

If you are figuring on taking a fishing, or just a camping trip, onto any of the forest reserves, it will be necessary to equip yourself with a shovel, axe and bucket before you will be allowed to enter the reserve, according to Paul Gerrard, forest ranger for this district.
The following information has been prepared by the forestry department:
Hereafter parties camping on the national forest during periods when camp fire or special entry permits are required, will obligate themselves to carry an axe, shovel, and folding pail, according to Major Evan W. Kelly, regional forester at Missoula. The regulation is printed on the face of the new special camp fire permit, among other rules to be followed, and no permit will be issued unless the applicant subscribes to the terms of the permit. Pedestrian travelers only are excused from the regulation.
The axe to be carried must weigh at least two pounds, the shovel must have an over-all length of at least 30 inches, and the pail a capacity of at least a gallon.

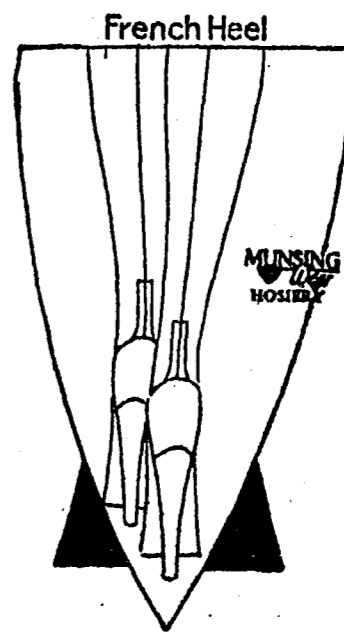

"It is not the wish of the forest service to impose an undue burden upon parties using the forests," said Major Kelly, "but to have the proper tools at hand in time of emergency often means checking in its first stages a fire which would otherwise become large and be expensive to repress. Cases are on record where fires which, when first discovered, might have been put out easily by one man and a shovel, have spread rapidly to blazes of large proportions because the proper tools were not available.
"Outside of fire control purposes the tools are useful aids in properly caring for and putting out the camp fire. The axe is useful in clearing away brush and small trees in order to make the camp fire safe. The shovel and pail are indispensable to properly extinguish it. No fire is safe until it is dead out. Dirt and water properly applied are necessary means."
Mr. Gerrard, when here, made arrangements with W. J. Carroll, at the Farmers Bank, to handle applications for fire fighters, should a call be made for men in that line, with the instructions to give preference to home men over "floaters." This will be the policy of the forestry service and is indeed a very commendable one.
Full particulars may be had from Mr. Carroll at the Farmers Bank, Kendrick.
