KENDRICK HAS NEAR DISASTROUS FIRE

Kendrick experienced the third of series of fires Saturday evening, that have occurred in the village within the past few months, and one that might have proved very disastrous had it not been stopped where it was. The fire siren sounded, about .7:30 last Saturday evening and within a short period many residents were at dated June 5, 1930; $395.00; due $70 the scene of the blaze, which had started in a vacant room at the hear of the postoffice and which had assumed large, proportions within a very short time, is the same white The fire department was soon on the ground and two lines, of hose were laid and water was played on the blaze, which proved to be a very stubborn , one from the fact that it was at the rear of the building, near the alley and the vacant building contained nine, rooms and a hallway, making the fire exceedingly hard to fight. And, too, the fire had started in an inside room where there was plenty of trash, making it that much harder to reach. However, the fire laddies were not to be balked by a handicap like that and within an hour the blaze was under control.

The entire block, with the exception of the rooms at the rear, is occupied and the tenants were given a very bad scare. The postoffice fixtures (all that were moveable) were taken out and the mail and other valuable material was taken to the Farmers Bank for safe keeping. Onlya small amount of stuff was taken from the Raby apartments in the second story of the adjoining build-

WHEAT DROPS TO NEW LOW LEVEL FOR SEASON

Wheat prices declined to new low levels for the season during the week ending September, 13, influenced principally by heavy offerings of new Canadian spring wheat and cont firmation by official forecasts of the larger spring wheat yields in North grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. An further oslackening in inde mand, together with lower wheat prices; weakened the corn market despite official forecasts of the shortesti croji since 1981. Oats were also weakened, and llower, but barley! had independent strength as a result of continued good demand: Rye de clined with wheat but iflar held teady with current offerings meet-

Junior Epworth League

Last Saturday afternoon nineteen boys and girls met at the Methodist church and were organized into a Junior Epworth League by the pastor. The meaning of the league was explained, the pledge and motto were given and the following officers were elected: President, Joe Watts; first vice-president, Esther Aiken; second vice-president, Ada Candler; third vice-president, Margaret Davis; fourth vice-president, Cleota Bolon; secretary, Martha Whisler; assistant secretary, Jean Bigelow; treasurer, Joe Cardinal.

The meeting was followed by a social hour of games and refreshments were served by the pastor, who will be superintendent of the league.

Meetings will be held each Saturday. The next business meeting and social will be given the first Saturday in November.

Duck Season Open

The duck season opened Tuesday, but from all accounts there are no ducks in these parts only a few that Ed. Long and one or two others have penned up for their own use.

The season on native grouse closed in Nezperce county the other day, but the season on rattlesnakes is still open and a few are being bagged every now and then. Frank Crocker was out the other Sunday hunting grouse. He was unable to bag any of the feathered tribe, but he managed to get two or three fine big rattlers instead.

School Notes

High school registration has increased four this week, bringing the total up to 86. The increase in the grades was two, bringing the grade total up to an even hundred.

The Student body elected their president Monday. George Bailey was chosen for the position. He is a senior and a member of the besketball team. He is well qualified and is deserving of this honor. Accompanying officers were: Vice president, Edna Bolon, a senior, and, secretary, Eldwa Janes.

The Senior class organized this week, electing Irene Davis as president, Edna Emmett vice-president and Ted Grinolds secretary.

The Seniors have selected their class rings and they should arrive in about four weeks.

Twelve new seats are being installed in the senior assembly to take care of the overflow.

The Commercial department are getting three new Underwood typewriters to care for the large class in Typing I.

Friday will be the first football game of the season, the boys going to Clarkston to take on the high school team at that place.
