New Gym Now Inclosed

The new High School gymnasium has been entirely enclosed and work on the interior is being pushed with all possible speed. The youngsters and the coach are chafing at the delay caused by non-delivery of brick and a few other unavoidable causes, but are watching with interest the final work on the structure.

KENDRICK LEADS IN CARLOADS—IN AND OUT

From a very reliable source we have the information that Kendrick is leading several other places in the number of carloads of various materials and products, in and out of the station.

Local records show that there have been shipped and received at the Kendrick station, 421 cars during the past 90 days, or since July 1, 1930. This exceeds the number of cars handled at Troy by 169-252 cars having been handled, in and out, during the same period.

It is also reported that this number exceeds the amount of business done by the Northern Pacific road at Moscow. This, indeed, is a very lurid feather in the cap of Kendrick.

The great trouble with too many of us Kendrickites is that we fail to appreciate the activities that are going on here. Most of us are too busy talking "hard times" and acting rather pessimistic instead of optimistic about all we have here that they do not have in many other places. Of course we all know that times have been, and still are, close, and all that, but we should be thankful that we have something here to sell or feed, instead of having been dried up or blown away as they were in many of the Central and Southern states.

We all know the farmer is not getting what he should get for his wheat, and he should have a little more for his beans, perhaps, but it is better to have some to sell even at a low price than to have none at all. Over in western Kansas they drive for miles with a header box before they get enough heads to make a trip to the stack.

This is the "cream of the great Palouse country"—and has it over many other sections of the country—let's don't forget that.

Wheat, Oats, Barley Make Good Feed

A basal livestock ration of wheat, barley, or oats, or of any two or all three of these feeds, will be widely used this fall and winter, says the U. S. department of agriculture. A mixture of 100 pounds of coarsely ground wheat and 100 pounds each of rolled barley and finely ground oats, say specialists of the department, makes a desirable maintenance ration now available at prices that compare favorably with other feeds. That this mixture should be an economical one is indicated, they say, by the supply of these grains as shown in the September 1 crop report. "At present prices the three feeds supply digestible nutrition at a much lower cost than corn does."

The mixture of one-half wheat, one-fourth barley, and one-fourth oats, the department says, will carry about 12 per cent total protein, 2.5 per cent fat, and 6 per cent fibre. It is a suitable mixture for dry cows and heifers when fed with a legume hay and silage. For cows in milk it will serve as an excellent basal ration, for the addition of some high-protein feed. It is a good feed for horses, sheep, beef cattle and hogs.

"Holiday" at The Audian

"Holiday," an unusual picture and said to be one of the best of seven of its type made within the past year, will be shown at the Audian on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. It is a good clean picture—one that anyone who likes pictures can enjoy.

A poor young man—suddenly plopped in the midst of millionaire atmosphere by being engaged to a beautiful girl—and still his head was not turned, for he loved life more than love, and rather than sacrifice the mad days of youth and a good time to making money, he—but you will have to see it to appreciate what happened to this young chap.

A thrilling story of love and of strange loyalties—not an idler, but a visionary who hungered fiercely for a holiday far away from the everyday things of life—misunderstood, day things of life—misunderstood, but staunch to an ideal. A charming girl, youth and a glamorous holiday—but hands reach out to dissipate his dream.

GAZETTE SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST ON IN EARNEST

The Gazette's big subscription contest started off Wednesday morning, October 1, in a way that is very gratifying to the publisher, several workers having called at the office and received the necessary receipt books and list of subscribers and are already hard at work in an effort to get that $50.00 in gold (the first prize).

There is still room for several more for we have a large subscription territory, and there is no limit to the amount any contestant may want to cover. If you have been holding off to see who is in the contest, you may have to wait for another week, for the names of the contestants will not be announced through the paper until next week.

This week we are giving 5,000 extra votes to the contestant who brings in the greatest number of renewals (old subscribers) and new subscriptions. This amount, added to what you will get by securing subscriptions, will swell the total to a point that is bound to be gratifying to the contestant who gets them. This week we are also going to give two tickets to the Audian Theatre to the contestant that brings in the most renewals of subscriptions. A contestant may secure both the 5,000 bonus votes and the free tickets to the theatre. All it requires to get either, or both, is just a little hustling.

There is no guess-work about it—no popularity, only so far as a contestant may have many friends who will be glad to help her, either by paying up their subscription, or assisting her to get their friends to help her by renewing their subscription. There is no limit to the number of assistants any contestant may have—the more the merrier. But its the first prize each one wants and will strive for. Some one is going to get it, and $50.00 in gold, or any other kind of money, looks pretty good these days. If you have never seen $50.00 in gold, this will be a good opportunity to get a good look at it—by winning first prize.

Contestants may send in their list of renewals and new subscribers at any time, but they must be in by Wednesday of each week in order to be counted that week. We will give you proper credit and return the unused portion of your receipt book, or send new ones. We have lots of them—and we hope they will all be used.

If you haven't already entered the contest, better come in right away and get the necessary information and equipment and get in the game. There is yet plenty of time to win first prize.

FARM SALVATION RESTS IN PORKERS AND CHICKENS

Raise more hogs and poultry and feed them grain produced in Asotin county is the remedy for farm depression offered by J. E. Heritage, county treasurer of Asotin county.

"Eggs and hogs will be in good demand for several years to come," he said, "as they are standard commodities used daily on almost every table. Hogs are becoming more scarce every day."

Eggs produced in the northwest are recognized as the best in the world, according to Mr. Heritage. He quoted from a recent article in the Pacific Poultryman by N. C. Westfield, authority on poultry and poultry products.

Eggs from the Pacific northwest which includes Oregon, Washington and Idaho, have earned in the great consuming centers of the country, even among the entire Atlantic coast, more than 2,000 miles from the point of production, the enviable position of being the highest quality eggs being sold in any of the eastern markets—and actually command a premium over local produced eggs.

Ordinarily a long journey across the continent will lower the quality of eggs; not so with Oregon, Washington and Idaho eggs. Even then the handicap has no terrors for the poultryman of the Pacific northwest.

Washington, according to statistics quoted by Mr. Heritage produces less than half the pork it consumes. The records show that more than $175,000 live hogs were shipped to Washington and Oregon from middle western states in 1929 and meat imported there represented cuts from at least 200,000 more hogs.

Figures further indicate, he said that the first five months of 1930, four hogs were shipped into the state for local consumption to every one produced in the state. Montana shipped in nearly six to every one produced in the state.

He estimates that Washington can produce 250,000 more hogs annually and not meet the demands of the people of the state.

Asotin county could easily produce five times as many hogs annually as are raised here now," he said. "In this way the surplus grain could be utilized at home and the farmers would receive much more than they do when they sell upon the open markets."

M. E. Ladies Aid Entertains

The M. E. ladies aid and friends were most pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Jas. Emmett and Mrs. John Brown at the Emmett home last Thursday. The event was in honor of the newly-elected officers for the coming year, which were as follows: President, Mrs. S. A. McAllister; vice-president, Mrs. N. E. Walker; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Watts.

The rooms were very prettily decorated with seasonal flowers. The hostesses served a dainty luncheon to eighteen members and two guests.

Mr. Groseclose was born in Bland county, Virginia, July 27, 1894, but had been a resident of Juliaetta for many years.

Mr. Groseclose had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, since he was fourteen years of age and had lived a consistent Christian life. He was well aware of his summons and had made all necessary arrangements for his funeral. He had borne his sufferings patiently and when the end came he fell asleep.

He leaves to mourn their loss his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Groseclose, four brothers, Lesse, George, Everett and Lewis, three sisters, Mrs. Lester Taber of Lewiston, Mrs. Robert Prichard of Tacoma, Wash., and Mrs. Chester Westling of Juliaetta, Idaho, besides a host of loved ones and friends.

We wish to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and after the death of our beloved son and brother. Especially do we wish to express our appreciation for the music and beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Groseclose and family.

J. C. Groseclose

J. C. Groseclose, uncle of Warner Groseclose, died on Saturday, September 27, only a few hours after the death of his nephew, at the age of nearly 63 years, at his home in Juliaetta, after a lingering illness.

Mr. Groseclose was born in Virginia, December 31, 1867. In 1903 he came to the village of Juliaetta and entered the mercantile and undertaking business, in which business he was engaged until the time of his death. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge for 27 years and was also a member of the M. E. church, South. He was also a member of the National Funeral Directors association.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Laura Groseclose; three children, Mrs. Sam Nye, Juliaetta; Blaine, Juliaetta; Robert, Walla Walla, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the Juliaetta Methodist church, with Rev. J. H. Dills, presiding elder of this district in charge. The pallbearers were Walter Cochran, Roy Harris, W. S. Larkin, Geo. McClintock, N. W. Talbot and J. S. Cox.

Mrs. Mary Fraser

Mrs. Mary Fraser passed away at her home, three miles north of Kendrick on Friday, September 26, 1930, at the age of 59 years, eight months and eight days, the cause of death being pneumonia, followed by heart trouble.

Mary Rusco was born at Portage, Ohio, January 18, 1871. Her father and mother (Benjamin and Wealthy Rusco) brought their family to the Kansas plains when she was nine years old. Her early life was spent there with her sisters and brothers.

In 1895 she was united in marriage to David M. Fraser at Ellsworth, Kansas, and to this union seven children were born, six of whom survive her. Three sons, Everett W., Kenneth L., and Elmer, all of Kendrick and three daughters, Mrs. Geo. Allen of Tekoa, Wash., Miss Opal Fraser at home and Mrs. Geo. Corus of Clarkston, Wash., besides 17 grandchildren.

In 1910 they came west, locating on a farm at Princeton, Idaho. From there they moved to Clarkston, Washington and in 1917 they came to the Potlatch country, finally locating at the present home.

She passed beyond the river to join her two sisters and two brothers, leaving two sisters, Flora Linehard of Princeton, Idaho, and Luella Crawford of Wildorado, Texas, and Lewis E. Rusco of Lapwai, Idaho.

The pallbearers were Clarence Daugherty, Sam Stanton, A. C. Deet-

WHEAT FUTURES REACHED LOWEST POINT SINCE 1907

Grain prices continued their downward trend during the week ending September 27, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States bureau of agricultural economics. Wheat futures reached their lowest point since 1907. The market was influenced by continued heavy offerings from surplus areas and only a moderate import inquiry from deficient countries. Feed grains and rye were lower with wheat, but were also influenced by some slackening in demand. Flax prices declined more sharply than other grains.

World wheat markets continued to be mainly influenced by the large available supplies in exporting areas, the keen competition among these countries to dispose of their surplus, and the tendency on the part of foreign purchasers to cover only their current requirements. The increase in world shipments for the season to date, as compared with a year ago, however, reflects the large prospective import requirements for the season.

Italy has been an important outlet for export shipments this season, and France has also made substantial purchases of foreign wheat, although her buying is restricted by the prevailing milling regulations. French wheat was more freely offered on domestic markets during the past week and prices of good milling wheat in Paris declined 3/8c per bushel to $1.51 1/2 per bushel. Offerings of native German wheat have been fairly liberal, restricting imports of foreign wheat.

New milling regulations have been enacted in Sweden, requiring the utilization of 60% native wheat in milling mixtures.

Liberal offerings of Canadian and Russian wheat on European markets have been much in evidence during the past week. Australian wheat has also been put forward freely, while offerings of old crop Argentine and Indian wheat have slackened. Crop conditions in the Southern Hemisphere countries continue favorable, although additional and generous rains are needed within the near future in Argentina, as precipitation in recent weeks has been below normal. New crop offerings from Argentine for early shipment are increasing.

Domestic cash wheat markets, while easy, did not display the same relative weakness as future, since demand from millers and feeders was fairly active and offerings were only moderate. Chicago futures lost 5/8c to 5/16c during the week ending September 26, while cash prices of representative grades at the larger markets declined only 2/8c to 4c per bushel. Receipts of spring wheat in Northwestern and Canadian markets were quite heavy this past week and hedging pressure increased. Receipts of cash wheat at Minneapolis were about the same as for the last week, but larger for the same period a year ago. From a somewhat easy and dull cash situation in the fore part of the week's local cash markets turned stronger toward the close as demand improved, especially for wheat testing 58 lbs. or better. On cars showing 59 lbs. or better, demand was sufficiently active to bring about a slight advance in premiums. 12% protein No. 1 dark northern was quoted at the close of the market September 26, at 2c to 5c over the December price of 77 1/2c; 13%, 14% and 15% protein from three to six cents over. Test weight was a major factor in determining premiums. According to grain investigations of the Minnesota inspection department, the average protein content of 2,402 cars tested during the week was 14.96%.

The durum futures market was relatively weaker than other futures, but the cash market was independent, firm, with a lighter movement and offerings and a good demand from mixed feed manufacturers. Choice No. 2 Amber was quoted at Minneapolis September 26 at 69 1/2c to 73 1/2c and No. 1 Red at 67 1/2c to 68 1/2c. The Winnipeg market was unusually weak. Country marketings continued heavy, but at the close of the week lower temperatures and snow storms interfered with movement. Threshing operations were delayed in Manitoba by high winds, and in the more western provinces by rains and snow. No. 1 Manitoba northern closed September 26 at Winnipeg at 71 1/2c per bushel.

Hard and soft winter wheats were also relatively stronger than futures, with moderate offerings in continued good request, and prices declined only about 3c per bushel. Receipts at Southwestern markets were about the

Alice Mabel Hunt

Alice Mabel Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hunt, of near Linden, passed away at the Rockford Clinic, Spokane, Monday, September 29, following an operation for ruptured appendix, at the age of 17 years and 20 days.

Miss Hunt had been working at Orofino, where she was taken ill and on Sunday was taken to Spokane where she was operated on Monday evening, passing away during the operation.

She was a very estimable young lady and her many friends, young and old, feel a genuine grief at her untimely passing. She was born at Hale, Colorado, September 9, 1913, and came to Idaho with her parents.

At the age of seven years she moved with her parents to Southwick, where they lived a short time, later moving to near Linden. Except for about a year in Arizona the rest of her life was spent at her home near Linden. She received most of her education in the Gold Hill school.

She leaves to mourn her death her father and mother, six brothers, Eldie, of Hale, Col., Denzil, Hayes, Howard, Gilbert and Lewis and seven sisters, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. James Farrington of Crescent, Mrs. Jake Peterson of Elk River, Maude, Zelma, Helen and Ruth, and a host of friends.

The pallbearers were Roy Kent, Dan Lyons, Burton Saunders, Bill Zimmerman, Raymond Lyons and Sanford Weaver.

Funeral services were held from the Gold Hill church Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, with burial in the Gold Hill cemetery, with Rev. L. E. Taber in charge of the services.

George W. Guthrie

George W. Guthrie died at the home of his brother, T. J. Guthrie, a few miles south of Juliaetta, Wednesday, October 1, about noon, death being caused by heart failure. He was born in Missouri in May, 1863.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed at the time of going to press and further particulars were unobtainable at this time.

Better Be Wary

According to Herman Schupfer there was a "vicious" bull snake at large on the sidewalks of Kendrick last Friday morning and he was positive it came in the Gazette office, as the front door was open. After a thorough search of the front office Herman decided his snakeship had gone on down the street.

Knowing Herman as we do, all we can say is that he must have been mistaken. He seemed to be traveling in the straight and narrow way but we just can't understand his story.

It's bad enough to have some of the light-fingered gentry entering places of business and abstracting money bags, without having snakes pestering a fellow. One is just a welcome in a place of business as the other.

Rains At Lewiston

Lewiston reported rains in that section last Saturday — all day and well into the night. No rain fell in the Kendrick district during that time and very little has fallen in this community during the past several weeks, and it is hoped that it will hold off until after the beans are all taken care of.

 were the best buyers of heavy test wheat of all protein strength at Kansas City, while shippers bought intermediate types and feed manufacturers took light weight and off-grade samples. No. 2 hard, ordinary protein, was quoted at that market September 26 at 75c to 77c and 13% protein No. 2 hard at 79 $\frac{1}{2}$ c per bushel. Mills were buying good protein wheat for mixing and blending at Omaha but low grade wheat was slow sale. Sales September 26 at that market include No. 1 hard winter 11.6% protein at 76c per bushel. Export sales at the Gulf were reported quite small with No. 1 hard wheat quoted at 89c to 89 $\frac{1}{2}$ c delivered on an export rate to Galveston or to Texas common points.
 Offerings of soft winter wheat were less than trade requirements. Market receipts were relatively light, reflecting the reluctance of growers to market at the prevailing low prices, as well as rather extensive feeding on farms, particularly in the soft winter wheat territory. The unusually light receipts at St. Louis forced mills to cover their needs from supplies at terminal elevators. Premiums for No. 1 red widened during the week to 8c over the Chicago December. No. 1 soft red was quoted at St. Louis September 26 at 88 $\frac{1}{2}$ c and No. 2 red at 88c per bushel. The grain market at Cincinnati was very dull with a much reduced milling demand. No. 1 red was selling at the close of the week at that market at 87c to 88c per bushel. Offerings of soft winter wheat were light at Kansas City and meta good mill demand. No. 2 soft red was quoted at 85c per bushel. Sowing of wheat in the Southwest progressed favorably under good weather conditions during the week, and early fields are up to good stands. Seeding in some sections of Kansas was being delayed until a later date to avoid Hessian fly injury. Some increase in the country movement of grain is anticipated by the trade after fall seeding is completed.
 Pacific Coast markets were relatively firmer than Central Western and Eastern markets. Free selling by Canadian exporters and offerings of Russian wheat in European markets at unusually low prices have restricted export demand in the Pacific Northwest. The prospective export movement of new Australian wheat in December was also a weakening factor. Export flour millers continued to work trade with China, but in somewhat less volume than in previous weeks. At the close of the market September 26 Big Bend Bluestem or Early Baart No. 1 hard white was quoted at Portland at 92c, No. 1 soft and western white at 77c, No. 1 hard winter, northern spring and western red at 75c per bushel, sacked, Big Bend Bluestem was selling at Seattle at 93c, western white at 79c, hard winter and western red at 78c, all No. 1 sacked.

 California markets were very dull, with a light demand from both mills and feeders. Buyers were inclined to cover only their needed immediate requirements, although considerable feed wheat was being shipped in from the inter-mountain states by mixed feed manufacturers and poultry feeding interests. Growers were mostly asking \$1.60 to \$1.70 per 100 for No. 1 hard and soft white, sacked, white bids were mostly 15c to 20c per 100 under this price. Prices at Los Angeles declined, with No. 2 hard winter in bulk quoted at \$1.47 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$1.52 $\frac{1}{2}$ and No. 2 dark hard winter at \$1.52 $\frac{1}{2}$ to \$1.57 $\frac{1}{2}$. Receipts were lighter than a week ago,

Lewiston Will Enforce Ordinance
Section 50 of the city ordinance 1050 provides it shall be unlawful for persons under 16 years to operate a motor vehicle within the city limits. Police Judge T. L. Ford said that hereafter this provision would be rigidly enforced. Many complaints have reached this office, he said, from citizens that life and property is being endangered by youthful drivers. The state law provides that minors operating cars and vehicles and violating the terms of traffic laws makes their parents or guardian responsible.

Moscow May Sell Co-Op Gas
A cooperative gasoline distribution station has been indorsed by 300 members of the Moscow grange and a committee is planning organization of the new project. The order will either erect a new station or purchase one already operating here. "Idaho is being discriminated against in motor fuel prices and the grange members are going to carry on the fight," G. P. Mix, master, said. Reduced gasoline prices at the station will probably be available to members of the grange only.

Arrested, Thanks Police

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, August 29, 1930 No. 11

Published in the interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

Hon. Hezekiah H. Hammerstring
Mr. Hammerstring is a very economical person, and was slated to cover the world series for this paper, but was unable to do so, due to the fact that they cut down his favorite tree and the new fence around the diamond has no knot holes near left field, and a cop stands on the right field side!
This fact was demonstrated a little more clearly to this paper today when Mr. Hammerstring came in to buy a small paint brush. On learning that the price of this particular brush was 35c Mr. Hammerstring asked us to take out the handle and sell it to him for 25c, explaining that he had a good handle at home. These little incidents only go to show what a splendid commissioner he would make.

NORTHWEST POTATO SHOW BE AT SPOKANE

A demonstration will be staged at the Pacific Northwest potato show to be held in Spokane, November 19, 20 and 21, to show growers the influence of seed upon the production of potatoes.

This has long been a question of vital importance both to the producer of seed potatoes and the producer of table stock potatoes, and as a measure of stressing the point the state department of agriculture of Washington has cooperated with various growers in the Yakima valley and Kittitas county with the county commissioners in raising potatoes on test plots. Samples of these will be shown at the potato exhibit to show the variation in quality and quantity as grown under comparable conditions depending upon the use of certified or non-certified seed. The plots have been a project of sufficient importance to cover quite thoroughly the entire Pacific Northwest.

The work has been done under the direction of Wendell P. Brown, district horticultural inspector of Yakima, Wash.; John M. Phelps, James W. Harris, H. H. Short and Boynton Dodge.
