LUTHERAN PASTORS MEET AT CAMERON

The Lutheran pastors of the Inland Empire, belonging to the Spokane conference of the American Lutheran church, met in Cameron October 7 and 8. Nineteen pastors were present with Otto G. Ehlen, pastor loci. Despite the rainy weather every one enjoyed the fellowship and was inspired by the devotions and the discourses under discussion. Much credit must be given the Ladies Aid and members of the congregation for serving the meals and receiving the visitors in their homes.

Rev. O. J. Wolff of Walla Walla opened the session at 9:45 on Tuesday with a devotional service. Roll-call showed many to be absent, some of who came later in the day.

The conference re-elected the present officers: O. J. Wolff, chairman; and Samuel Lentz of Medical Lake secretary.

Two lengthy papers were presented and discussed, an exegetical paper by Otto G. Ehlen on Ephesians 2, 1-10. Herein the Apostle Paul declares that the Ephesians, as also Paul, were once dead unto God and the Life that is in Him through Sin. Sin he describes as missteps from the way on which God intended us to walk and missing the high mark set by the divine Law. Such, as were once dead, have been vivified, raised, and seated in heavenly places together with Christ—namely, through God's favor and faith in The Anointed God-man, victor over death and the guilt resting on sin.

The other paper was presented by the Rev. E. C. Knorr of Colfax, Wash., entitled, "Is Our System of Religious Instruction for Our Children Adequate?"

The speaker declared that there was nothing very seriously wrong with our present education of youth in religion as to material. The shortcomings were largely in the application. The paper pointed out some of the defects and then gave many pointers aiming their correction. Teachers and pastors often lack pedagogical qualifications. One remedy mentioned was a class to study child physiology and methods for teachers. Such religious training also suffers wherever poor equipment is used; planned classrooms, maps, charts, literature, etc. That holds true of the vacation Bible school. Here discussion brought out various experiences of pastors. Some having had great success in the summer schools, others not so, due to local conditions.

One book, "Every Member Evangelism," by Conand, was discussed in conference. Rev. A. Kettner of Reardan, Wash., was leader.

Two papers could not be heard at this time for lack of time: "The Pastor's Relation to his Brethren in the Ministry," by Rev. W. Schartz of Lewiston, and "How Shall We Meet the Honest Doubter?" by Rev. W. Fritz of Pullman, Wash.

The Rev. J. Groschup of Spokane gave an eloquent address on "Keeping Luther's Catechism Before the Entire Congregation."

The Rev. Arthur Kettner of Reardan gave a devotional talk: "Keeping Prayer Aglow on the Home Altar."

On Tuesday evening the Rev. H. P. Christensen of Odessa preached in the German language. The Master sent out his disciples with "Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money, neither have two coats apiece" and when they returned He asked, "Did ye lack anything?" The disciples replied and confessed, "No, Nothing." The world is always complaining that crops are poor, or prices are bad, or business is dull, everywhere disgruntled and dissatisfied people. The natural man does not speak of his good fortune and of his great abundance. Satisfaction is a condition of the heart. Look at the great bounty and riches which God gives His Children. Then you, the Christian must confess: "No, Lord, We Lack Nothing!" So pointed out the speaker.

Parents of Daughter

Word has been received in Kendrick from Rev. and Mrs. Claude W. Groth, now located at Riverside, Wash., that a young daughter, weighing seven pounds and four ounces had arrived at their home on October 3, at 5:10 in the evening. All concerned are doing nicely.

"Mummy, you bought sister a piano so buy me a bicycle."
"What for?"
"So that I can go riding while she practices."

A Young Winter

Starting Friday morning of last week, Jack Frost put in an appearance in the canyon and made things look decidedly sick, especially the flowers, and visited the region several mornings following, making the leaves on the trees look decidedly pretty. Anyway, where can you find a prettier setting than right here in the Potlatch canyon? Huh, where can ya?

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING

The Kendrick Commercial club held a very interesting meeting at the Kendrick Hotel Tuesday evening, when more than 20 members sat down to a dinner, served by the hotel management, and which was all that could be asked for.

After the dinner had been disposed of the business of the club was taken up. The first thing on the program was the adoption of new by-laws, prepared by the committee having that work in charge. They were read by the secretary and their adoption, section by section, proceeded with. All went well until that portion pertaining to annual dues and assessments was reached, when a spirited discussion was precipitated and the section discussed pro and con for some time until it was discovered that nothing was being gained and a motion was made that the chair appoint a committee to work out an equitable assessment for business houses. All agreed, however, that it was impossible to run a commercial club, any more than any other organization, without funds. The newly-appointed committee will report at the next meeting.

C. A. Oppenborn, who has held the position of secretary of the club for the past two years, tendered his resignation on account of having removed his place of business from Kendrick to Troy. His resignation was accepted and W. J. Carroll was chosen to fill the vacancy.

W. J. Carroll of the Highway committee made report on what the committee had done regarding the road situation, the report being very gratifying to the club. The committee had met with the commissioners of the road districts between Arrow Junction and Deary and the result of these meetings had been quite satisfactory.

The question of holding a market day and free auction sales day in Kendrick was then brought up and without a dissenting vote it was decided to hold such an event in Kendrick, the date being set for Saturday, October 25.

All manner of stuff will be auctioned off free of charge and some sort of entertainment will be provided so as to make the day one of pleasure as well as profit for the farmer who may have some surplus stuff he wishes to dispose of.

Watch next week's Gazette for full particulars.

Will Hold State Convention

The state convention of county commissioners of the State of Idaho will meet at Moscow on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week—October 22, 23 and 24, at the Elks Temple. Commissioner John L. Woody is state president and states that there will be a very interesting program of subjects vital to every county commissioner in the state.

The convention will be entertained at the University of Idaho with a banquet on the evening of Wednesday, October 22, after having been shown around over the University farm. The convention will also be tendered a banquet by the commissioners of Latah county.

The attendants at the convention will go to Lewiston on Thursday of next week (October 23) where they will view the special train of blooded stock that will be on display there enroute to the Pacific International show at Portland. In the evening the visitors will be entertained by the commissioners of Nez Perce county at a banquet.

Commissioner Woody was instrumental in bringing this convention to Latah county and deserves a great deal of credit for so doing.

Moves To New Home

On Thursday of this week, Dr. Geo. W. McKeever moved into his new home, recently purchased by him from Dr. E. H. Field. Many improvements have been made in the house since Dr. McKeever purchased it and it is now a lovely home indeed.

Kendrick's big sales and market day will be on Saturday, October 25.

SUBSCRIPTION CONTEST STILL GOING VERY GOOD

The Gazette's subscription contest is still on and some of the contestants are going strong while others seem to have slackened their pace considerably. Its going to take work to win, and there are still several hundreds of subscribers to the Gazette who have not been approached and it is yet time for a good live worker to get in and win first prize, for few new subscriptions have been sent in. While the Gazette has a splendid list for a town the size of Kendrick, yet there are many who would subscribe if they were approached on the subject.

We would urge our contestants to new activity for the time is now half gone and not more than one-fourth of the available collectable subscriptions have been sent in to date. Of course you will get paid in proportion to what you do, but you surely want to be well up toward the top in prize money. We would urge you to see your friends and have them help you in this matter. There is no limit to the number of helpers you may have, but all subscriptions must be accompanied by the full amount ($1.50) before they can be accepted. A dollar-and-a-half is not much to pay for a local paper. Of course we do not pretend to compete with the Saturday Evening Post, or many of the weekly papers published in other parts of the country, but we would like to give you a real honest-to-goodness local paper. This cannot be done without the aid of the different communities we reach. Neither can we put out a paper unless we can collect for subscriptions—and that is just the object of this little contest. To collect from everyone whose date does not show that they are paid up to October 17, 1930, at least. Of course each individual subscription does not amount to so much, but when there are several hundreds of them on the list and many of them in arrears for from one to three years, it runs into money and we must collect this in order to be able to buy more paper to keep things going. We have to pay for our paper every 30 days, and surely our subscribers should be willing to pay once a year. Please pay your subscription money to one of our contestants or send or bring it to the Gazette office. It will be easier to pay it now than to let it run and get larger.

Again we urge our contestants to get busy. Go over your list of subscribers and be sure and see those you may have overlooked to date.

Death of Julius Steiner

Funeral services were held at Southwick on Wednesday, October 15, at 2 o'clock for Julius Steiner, who passed away October 11, 1930, at 12 o'clock a. m. at his home on the Clearwater river, Rev. Geo. F. Calvert of Clarkston officiating, with interment in the Southwick cemetery.

Mr. Steiner was born in Switzerland June 17, 1864, and came to the United States in 1881, settling on a homestead on the North Fork of the Clearwater, where he lived until his death. On May 11, 1904, he was married to Julia A. King. To this union two children were born, Mary U., who died in infancy, and Lola, who, with the widow, survives.

Bridge Club Entertains

The Kendrick Bridge club gave a very pleasant party Thursday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. George Leith, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Field, who will leave soon for their new home at Wapato, Wash., when the husbands of the members were also entertained. Cards were played at seven tables and high score went to Mrs. Helpman and Mrs. Field was presented a guest prize.

A dainty cafeteria lunch was served at six thirty, each table being decorated with a very pretty bouquet of seasonal flowers.

The invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts and Joe Gardner.

Bridge Club Meets

The Afternoon Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. A. K. Carlson on Monday to elect officers for the coming year. Two new members were voted in, Mrs. W. L. McCreary and Mrs. Wade Keene.

Rummage Sale a Success

The Rummage sale held by the M. E. Ladies aid netted them forty-eight dollars.

Public Sales

Your attention is called to the following sales, to be held next week:

Joseph Thornton will sell at public auction, on Tuesday, October 21, commencing at 10 a. m., sharp, 6 head of mules and 1 horse, 5 head of cattle, 18 hogs, 40 chickens, farm machinery, hay and household goods.

Geo. Christensen will sell at public sale, on Thursday, October 23, commencing at 10 a. m., 4 head of work mules and one child's outfit, consisting of cart, harness and a brown mule weighing 575 pounds, 3 head of cattle, farm machinery, etc.

The Southwick ladies aid will serve lunch at noon for both sales.

New Coat For Truck

Frank Boyd is more than scooting around in his newly-acquired big Reo Speed wagon. He also had a new coat made for it which he says fits much better than the old one handed down from the old truck. The new body gives him about one-third more hauling space than the old one.

Are You Registered?

Registration books will close on Saturday evening, October 25. If you have not registered for the general election to be held on November 4, better do so at once. The registration books are at the C. A. Oppenborn residence, where Mrs. Oppenborn will register you.

Game Season Opens Nov. 1

The open season for deer, Hungarian pheasants and Chinese pheasants in Latah county will commence November 1 and will close on the 30th of the same month—and it might be well if some of us would govern ourselves accordingly.

Bridge Club Plays

The Afternoon Bridge club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. Frank Boyd. Mrs. A. K. Carlson received high score. A dainty luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Carlson in two weeks.

Nearly 5000 Autos Licensed

Latah county has licensed more autos and trucks this year than at any previous time, according to Assessor Walter Q. Taylor, who reports the issuance of 4826 plates for Latah county to date.

Don't forget the big sales and market day to be held in Kendrick on October 25. You'll like it.

Why Leave Kendrick for Deer?

According to Wade Keene and a few others, some small town dogs were chasing a deer along the edge of the canyon over in Nez Perce county on Thursday of last week. The animal was perfectly safe, so far as the law was concerned, for the open season on deer does not begin in Nez Perce or Latah county until November 1.

KENDRICK TO HAVE MARKET DAY OCTOBER 25

At the regular meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club Tuesday night it was decided to hold a Market Day and free auction sale in Kendrick on Saturday, October 25, when everyone from the entire countryside is invited to come to our little city and spend the day with us as our guests, and also to bring in any and all surplus stuff that they would like to dispose of and it will be sold at public auction absolutely free of charge.

Kendrick has experienced a few of these market days and sales and they have proven a wonderful success and a benefit to both town and country.

While complete arrangements have not yet been made as to just what form of entertainment will be provided, yet we have the assurance of the entertainment committee of the Commercial club that there will be something worth while. The merchants will also offer special bargains on this day—bargains that will make the mail-order houses wonder why they ever charged so much for inferior goods.

These sales days have proved a success for other places as well as Kendrick. Only a couple of weeks ago the little town of Deary put on a very successful sales day and we are sure it can be made a big success right here in Kendrick. All the merchants are for it and the whole town is behind it, so all we want you country folk to do is to come in and bring your surplus stuff you would like to sell and an auctioneer will do his best to get what you think it should be worth—and all the purchaser thinks it is worth—and maybe more.

You can call on Marvin Long, president of the Commercial club, for full information regarding the day and its doings. He will also tell you where you can take what you have for sale—in fact, he can tell you all you might want to know, with the exception of the price your stuff will bring.

Make arrangements to be with us on that day. We will treat you right.

"Old Folks' Day" At M. E. Church

A very impressive service was conducted at the Methodist church Sunday morning by the pastor, Miss Teachman, when nearly one hundred people gathered to do honor to the elderly folk of our community.

About thirty of those present were between the ages of sixty and eighty-five.

The choir led in the singing of old-time hymns and also rendered a special selection, with Mrs. H. C. Schupfer at the piano.

Miss Teachman gave a very inspiring and encouraging address on the subject "Ascending the Heights, or Mountain Climbing," which brought hope to the aged that they are not going down into a valley of shades, but up the mountain toward glory and light and the joy which was set before them.

A number of elderly folk gave testimony, telling of the joy and peace they had gained in the Christian life and urging the young folk to continue in the upward climb.

Miss Teachman sang "Oh Think of the Home Over There," with auto-harp accompaniment.

After Miss Teachman had presented bouquets to the eldest lady and gentleman present the service came to a close with the people joining hands in a circle around the room and singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," followed by the Lord's prayer in unison with benediction by the pastor.

Friends of Miss Teachman from Clarkston and Nezperce were among those present.

Undergoes Operation

A. K. Carlson went to Spokane last Friday afternoon and on Saturday morning was operated on for appendicitis, with which he had been bothered for some time. It was stated that he was able to listen to the football game broadcast from Pullman Saturday afternoon, so it is presumed he is making satisfactory progress.

GRAIN MARKET WEAK WITH DEMAND ONLY MODERATE

A continued dull demand dominated the grain market during the week ending October 11, and prices remained near the low point of the season, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat prices tended downward, influenced by continued heavy Russian shipments, a disappointing export demand for North American grain, more favorable weather for completing the seeding of the domestic crop and for the development of wheat in the southern hemisphere.

Corn prices declined with wheat, but prospects of an early movement of new corn crop grain, together with increased substitution of wheat, oats and barley for corn, were weakening factors. Oats and barley markets weakened with the major grains but also as a result of some slackening in demand. Rye was lower with wheat, but demand was somewhat more active at a relatively low price at which this grain was selling. Demand for flax was irregular and the market weak. More favorable weather in Argentina and lower quotations from that country had a depressing influence.

The October 1 estimate placed the United States wheat crop at 839,612,000 bushels, an increase of about 2,000,000 bushels over the September 1 estimate. About half of this increase was in durum wheat, the output of which is now placed at 52,000,000 bushels, and the remainder in other spring wheat, estimated at 190,000,000 bushels. Latest estimates for the Northern Hemisphere countries, exclusive of Russia, now indicate a crop around 75,000,000 bushels greater than the 1929 harvest. This increase is largely offset by a reduction in the stocks of old wheat carried forward into the new crop year and also by the lower quality of the wheat in important deficit countries of Europe. Taken altogether, world supplies of wheat at the first of October, appear to be about as large as a year ago. European wheat supplies are materially below those of last year, which suggests a material increase in imports. This is indicated by the large shipments to Europe during the past two months, notwithstanding the liberal offerings of native wheats, and the restrictive legislation which is still curtailing the international wheat trade in several areas. The German import duty has recently been raised to approximately $1.20 per bushel. The Italian tariff is 86½¢ per bushel. France maintains a requirement of 90 per cent native wheat in milling mixtures and a tariff of 85½¢ per bushel, in addition to a system of refunds of import duties, equivalent to an export bounty.

The pressure of Russian offerings appears to be the principal weakening factor in the European situation. Over 21,000,000 bushels of Russian wheat have already been shipped out and trade reports indicate that an additional 20,000,000 bushels have been sold for export. No estimate of the Russian output this season is yet available, but trade agencies estimate that from 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels may be exported from this season's supply. At the close of the market October 10 Russian wheat was quoted in London at 73½¢, compared with quotations of 82½¢ for United States No. 1 hard winter afloat, 78¢ for No. 1 Manitoba for shipment from Vancouver, 74½¢ for 64½ lb. Argentine wheat and 89½¢ for Australian wheat. Overseas shipments of North American wheat since the first of August have totaled about 86,600,000 bushels, compared with 54,500,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year, but most of this increase has been in Canadian shipments, United States exports of wheat being only about 8,000,000 bushels larger than last year.

Domestic cash wheat markets generally followed the decline in future prices, and at the close of the market, October 10, were 3¢ to 5¢ lower than a week ago. Domestic demand for most classes of wheat continued fairly active, but export demand was lacking. Mills were active buyers of the better grades, while demand for feed wheat was of good volume at rationally all markets. Receipts of spring wheat continued to decrease and premiums for cash grain were increased slightly. Competition for country offerings was keener and trade reports indicate relatively firmer prices at interior shipping points than at terminal markets. Receipts at Minneapolis totaled 1,328 cars, with the protein content of the wheat

(Delayed)
School was closed on Thursday and Friday while Miss Steelsmith attended the teachers' meeting at Lewiston. Mrs. Rose Farrington took her daughter, Evelyn, to Lewiston to the doctor Wednesday. They returned on Thursday evening. Evelyn is much better at this time.

Mrs. Fred Zimmerman and children, Mr. and Mrs. James Farrington and son and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Dorendorf and sons spent Sunday at the W. L. Hunt home.

Fred and Elsie Darby of Moscow visited with their brother John Darby and family Sunday. In the evening they all visited with the Ed. Darby family near Linden for a short time.

Mrs. Anna Kimbley and children spent the day Sunday, with Mrs. Rose Farrington and children.

This neighborhood was well represented at the Farris sale near Southwick, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Forest and sons were Moscow visitors Tuesday of last week.

Return From Hunt

A hunting party composed of W. F. Behrens, Ernest Schmidt and Mel Miller, with Taylor Brothers as the packers and guides, returned last Friday evening from an eight-day hunting trip in the Selway country, bringing out with them an elk and two mule deer.

Bill says it rained on them for several days and finally turned to snow and came near covering them up, there being about a foot of the "beautiful" they had to wade through. While waiting for the weather to clear up they rain out of supplies and for a time it seemed they would have to pull some of the "back to nature" stuff that one reads about sometimes. Anyway Bill said they had a wonderful time and a good hunt, and that is what they went for.

Removed Beaver Dam

E. C. Collins, deputy game warden, came over from Moscow Tuesday afternoon and later went to a point below Juliaetta where he removed a beaver dam which had been backing water up in such a way as to cause trouble at the Leland farm.

Mr. Collins says he has torn out their dam several different times but the little workers, nothing daunted, go right to work again and rebuild it.

There is nothing like being an optimist and thinking that perhaps the next time it will stay. It might be a good idea if a few of us would imitate the little beavers and be just a little more optimistic.

A play will be given in the very near future, under the sponsorship of the M. E. ladies aid of Kendrick. 42-1

TEKEAN NEWS

The community has been repairing the Brethren church, last week and this. It has been raised and leveled, railed, papered and painted. Services are being held in the school house.

Asa Choate brought an elk home from the Selway, but returned to help others of his hunting party get theirs. The first killing frosts of the season here were on the nights of the 10th, 11th and 12th.

Ray Butler went to Nezperce to find employment but was not successful, returning home Sunday.

Mrs. James West has returned to her home after a visit here with her parents.

Tekean can boast of having snow flurries on October 14, 1930.

You men that are interested in destroying magpies (if you don't already know it), watch them in the evening and get the direction they go and locate their roosts. A large number roost together. Within a hundred yards of their roosting place, feed them out of an old pan or bucket, placed off the ground a few feet so animals will not get it. Put out feed late at night so they will get it early in the morning when they are hungry. Put out feed every night for about two weeks, to get a good sized flock to eating and then poison their feed. Any kind of cooked food, as well as meat scraps, will make good feed. Mashed potatoes is best to put poison in, so it will not be scattered. This has been tried with considerable success.

"SONG OF LOVE" IS OFFERING THIS WEEK AT AUDIAN

"Song of Love," the taking, singing drama, is a screen triumph with Belle Baker, the Queen of Song, at her best. Her portrayal of mother love and her rendition of songs with a throbbing, in "Song of Love," will sway the audience from laughter to tears.

Belle Baker, famous vaudeville headliner and star of Columbia's musical drama, "The Song of Love," is the only singer of popular songs on record who ever played Broadway for 240 consecutive weeks. In addition she holds her audience for thirty to forty-five minutes at a performance.

In addition to having a magnificent voice, she has a vivacious personality which she injects into her songs making her selections living and dramatic. These qualities strike a chord in her listeners making them more anxious for more — and more — and more.

This great artist plays a role in "Song of Love" such as she plays in real life—that of a vaudeville artist. Needless to say her characterization will be natural and full of the spontaneity that has made her so popular when she played to a flesh and blood audience instead of to the eye of the camera. Appearing with her in this film are Ralph Graves and David Durand. Erle C. Kenton directed.

At Audian theater Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

U. Bootlegger Sold "Gear Oil"

An alcohol ring which has been shipping in the forbidden beverage from California for sale to students at the University of Idaho and Washington State College is believed to have been broken up with the arrest of C. B. Lawson, 27, and his wife, Mildred, 24.

They were taken Monday night near Potlatch, but Sheriff Charles Summerfield withheld information of their arrest. He said their operations had been under investigation for three weeks by federal, county and city officers.

Ten and 15-gallon lots of grain alcohol were shipped here and to Pullman under labels of "anti-freeze" and "gearcase oil," the sheriff declared. The Lawsons came here by automobile from California September 8 and rented a house after staying several nights at a tourist park. Five gallons of alcohol were found in their car when arrested by the sheriff. One shipment of alcohol addressed to Lawson was received at a railroad station in Pullman Tuesday.

The Lawsons waived preliminary hearing and are being held in the county jail in default of $1,000 bond each for trial in district court.

STATE INSTITUTIONS

So much is constantly being printed about the institutions of the state, that the writer begins a series of essays on that subject with some apprehension. An effort will be made to make the articles interesting and valuable by confining them to items of information not usually covered.

Our institutions fall into three general classes, although the lines are not sharply drawn. These classes are educational, charitable and penal. The amount opposite the name of each institution below is the two-year appropriation made by the legislature of 1929. Note that this does not by any means give the total cost of maintenance, as every institution has sources of revenue other than its state appropriation, such as interest on endowment funds, sales of service and produce, etc.

Appropriations for 1929-1930

University	$1,388,290
University of Idaho, southern branch	315,500
Lewiston State Normal	247,658
Alban State Normal	201,358
Deaf, dumb and blind school	142,497
Idaho State School and Colony	141,776
Children's Home	17,700
Soldiers' Home	72,025
Idaho Insane asylum	213,275
North Idaho Sanitarium	177,510
Idaho Industrial Training School	216,250
Penitentiary	213,460
Penitentiary farm	75,000
Lava Hat Springs Sanitarium	34,335

The institution at Lava Hot Springs is hard to classify and its purpose, if any can be found, will be told in a special article. The money expended by Idaho on its various institutions is a generous sum when compared with like expenditures of other western states of similar wealth and population.

When it is considered that nearly 7,000 persons are included in the total population of our institutions, it will be seen that quite a percentage of our people have a personal interest in their proper maintenance and operation.

It is worthy to note that the population of all our institutions is steadily increasing, and that the aggregate cost of their maintenance for any two years always exceeds that of any like period.

In the articles following, every effort will be made to avoid opinion or argument. Facts will be printed, leaving the reader to form his own conclusions. Believing that every citizen of our state should be familiar with the workings and cost of our institutions, the writer hopes these little essays will be received with favor and will be carefully and thoughtfully read.

The Era of Wood

The era of wood promises to rival in romance the age of steel, according to a series of articles being published in the Spokane newspapers. If, or rather when, all the possibilities mentioned, become commercially possible, it should mean an inestimable volume of increasing work for the lumber industries of the Inland Empire.

Sugar, grain alcohol, rubber, fine clothes, cotton, conduit pipes, water pipes, leather, finishes for automobiles, nonbreakable glass, baking powder, foods, all from our western forests, are actualities, or possibilities of the future, according to W. B. Greely of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

"The surface is just being scratched," Mr. Greely adds, "Wood is a very complex mass. It contains raw material for tremendous quantities of finished products.

"Changing demands and further experiments will in all probability make possible an economic production of many of these now made in laboratories on a small scale.

GRAIN MARKET WEAK WITH DEMAND ONLY MODERATE

inspected averaging 14.86 per cent. Inspections for the season have averaged 14.6 per cent, which is the highest for any similar period since protein has been an important market factor.

At the close of the market October 10, 12 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern was quoted at Minneapolis at 4c to 8c over the December price of 77c. 13 per cent and higher protein sold at 6c to 9c over the December. Premiums of 1c to 2c per bushel were paid for good milling wheat testing 57½ lbs. or more per bushel. All offerings were readily taken at Duluth at slightly firmer prices. No. 1 dark northern was quoted in that market at 83c to 86c, and No. 1 northern at 82c to 84c per bushel. The durum market was independently firm as a result of active inquiry for this class of wheat for feed purposes. Mills were taking only the higher protein samples. The Duluth December price declined only 2½c, compared with a decline of 4½c on other spring wheats. No. 1 and No. 2 amber durum was quoted at Minneapolis at 4c to 9c over the Duluth December prices, which closed October 10 at 72½c. No. 1 amber was quoted at Duluth at 73½c to 80½c. No. 1 durum at 71½c and No. 2 red durum at the same price. Canadian spring wheat markets were weaker than domestic markets, reflecting the slow inquiry for the relatively large offerings from that country. No. 1 Manitoba closed at Winnipeg October 10 at 72½c per bushel.

Winter wheat markets were 3c to 5c lower, but offerings were smaller and demand was generally good. The higher protein wheats were scarce and storage stocks were drawn upon in some instances to supply current mill requirements. Light weight and other low grade wheat was readily taken by feeders and feed manufacturers, but discounts were necessary in some instances to sell the less desirable offerings. The week's inspections averaged 12.19 per cent protein, compared with 12.01 per cent for the previous week. Receipts at even important Southwestern markets totaled 2,102 cars, compared with 2,222 cars last week, and 3,200 cars at the same markets during the corresponding week last year. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted Oct. 10 at Kansas City at 71½c to 73c, with 12.5 per cent protein bringing 74 to 74c per bushel. Considerable quantities of low grade wheat were moved from Omaha to the Southeastern states for feed purposes during the week, while the better grades were taken by local mills. Ordinary protein No. 2 hard winter was quoted Oct. 10 at Omaha Oct. 10 at 72½c to 73c per bushel. Soaking rains during the week in Kansas and adjoining winter wheat states benefited growing wheat and placed the soil in excellent condition for seeding, which is reported from 75 per cent to 90 per cent completed in Kansas. Increased amounts of wheat are being fed to livestock in Colorado and growers were selling very slowly. Receipts at terminals were light, arrivals at Denver totaling only 41 cars. No. 2 hard winter was quoted in that market at 55c to 62c per bushel. A good domestic demand for wheat prevailed at Fort Worth, where No. 1 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at 89c to 91c per bushel delivered Texas common points. Export bids were out of line and no export business was reported.

Offerings of soft winter wheat were barely equal to trade requirements at the principal distributing points. No. 1 red winter was bringing 11c to 12c premium at St. Louis over the Chicago December price, while No. 1 hard winter was bringing only 3c over the December. Mills were buying slowly at the increased premiums and were drawing some of their supplies from local stocks, which are still fairly large.

Pacific Coast markets followed the decline in eastern markets although losses were not so great as at Chicago. Cash wheats were relatively firmer than futures at Portland, where No. 1 hard white Big Bend bluestem was quoted at 89c, soft and western white at 77c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 75c per bushel, sacked. No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana in bulk with 14 per cent protein was quoted at 88½c per bushel. No. 1 western white was quoted at Seattle at 77c, western red at 76c and 14 per cent protein local No. 1 hard winter at 85c per bushel. Local No. 1 dark northern spring, sacked, was quoted at 86c per bushel. Montana No. 1 dark hard winter in bulk with 14 per cent protein was quoted at 86c and No. 1 dark northern spring at 87½s per bushel. No new export business was reported either to Europe or the Orient. Australian offerings continued to undersell U. S. wheat and sales in the Orient were reported around 6c below quotations on domestic wheat.

Shanghai mills have bought large quantities of Australian and Canadian and U. S. wheat, according to a cable from that place. The reported price was from 85c to 90c per bushel. The purchases are for deliveries in February.

The San Francisco wheat market continued dull with demand for California wheat practically at a standstill and mills and feed buyers obtaining most of their supplies from northern and inter-mountain states.

Hog Off Wheat And Peas

The first annual "low cost pork production tours," which were held on September 16, 17, 18 and 19, were attended by more than 200 farmers, businessmen and Smith-Hughes students of the Palouse area. The tour centered around Pullman, Colfax, Moscow, Palouse and Tekoa. At the state college an acre of wheat exhibited was said to have been hogged off by 20 gilts which gained 550 pounds. The yield on the acre was then figured at $50.

An acre of peas was similarly exhibited to have yielded $67 in pork weight.

Year's Bean Crop Totals 200 Cars

Handlers of beans in Lewiston declare that the yield will have totaled 200 carloads this year, or an increase of 400 per cent over the abnormally low production of last year. Shipments are now being made.

During recent years bean production in central Idaho, which ships through Lewiston, Kendrick, Troy, Moscow, Juliaetta and Orofino, has slackened in line with the general trend toward concentration upon wheat and other grains. This year is believed to mark a return to the normal production of bean crops. Farmers are favoring beans as diversification crop next year, it is believed. The trend toward bean dropping away of wheat prices. Bean handlers here state that beans are much more profitable financially, as well as to soil health, than are grain in the present market.

Bean prices this year have been holding up well with many farmers getting enough crop to gross $40 to $50 an acre.—Lewiston Tribune.

Mr. Hammerstring was in the store today, bought an Alladin lamp and a jack knife and then parking himself on the counter, said, "Gentlemen, I am disgusted with this life and am tempted to quit this race." All ears, we listened for him to go on and he said, "The other day I found a lost purse and after I had given it back to her she put her hand in her pocket and said, 'Take this for a cup of coffee.'"

Jim, breathlessly, "What did she give you?"

"Mr. Hammerstring, sadly, 'Two lumps of sugar. Good-day, gentlemen.'"
