WHEAT MARKET UNSETTLED—STEADY DEMAND

Wheat markets were unsettled during the week ending November 29, but a steady demand for the moderate offerings of coarse grains strengthened the corn and oats markets, and prices tended slightly upward during the week, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Barley held about unchanged, but rye was weak and slightly lower. Flax held generally steady with the light current offerings readily absorbed by crushers.

Generally favorable reports from Argentine and Australia, where harvesting is now well under way, together with the pressure of accumulated stocks in European ports, were weakening influences in the wheat market. No official estimate of the Argentine crop is yet available, but trade reports now suggest an outturn around 250,000,000 to 275,000,000 bushels, which would provide an exportable surplus of new wheat around 175,000,000 to 200,000,000 bushels. New 64-lb. Argentine wheat was being offered CIF Liverpool at 74½¢ at the close of the week, but demand was limited at these prices. Marketings of new crop wheat were increasing in Australia and shippers were quoting this grain at 82½¢ CIF English markets.

Marketings of spring wheat remained relatively small, with 538 cars received at Minneapolis and 397 cars at Duluth. Mill demand was active in spite of the slow flour business and protein premiums were advanced slightly, with 12½% protein No. 1 dark northern quoted at Minneapolis November 28 at 6c to 10c over the December price of 78½¢. Protein of the cars inspected averaged 14.47%. The Duluth market was also steadier

Returns From South Idaho

W. B. Deobald and family returned Saturday afternoon from a ten-days visit with Mrs. Deobald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Wegner, at Rockland, Idaho. Mr. Deobald said that things are just about the same down in that section as here—very slow. He said the roads were in good condition and that the only place that they struck snow was near New Meadows, about 20 miles each way.

KENDRICK GUN CLUB HOLDS TWO SHOOT

Last Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and Sunday, saw two very interesting shoots held by the Kendrick Gun club with scores of various degrees, but with everyone very much interested.

With the regular throwing gun in position and an experienced loader handling it, the meet was shot off in jig time. Following are the scores for Thanksgiving Day:

Ed. Deobald	18
Roy Ramey	17
Frank Crocker	17
Wm. Heimgartner	16
Leslie Heimgartner	16
Frank Rider	15
Wade Keene	15
Marvin Long	13
Dr. McKeever	11
Frank Boyd	10

Basis, 25 birds.
Sundays shoot showed the following returns:

15 Bird Basis
J. Dempsey	5
25 Bird Basis
N. Callison	15
Ernest Roberts	15
W. McCreary	15
H. Schupfer	12
Geo. Barnum	9
40 Bird Basis
Ed. Deobald	24
Frank Boyd	23
Wade Keene	19
H. Thomas	14
50 Bird Basis
Wm. Behrens	31
Doc. McKeever	21
Marvin Long	16

It is expected that the new trap house will be in position and ready for use in time for Sunday's shoot.

These shoots are held on the flat just west of town each Sunday morning at 10:00, weather permitting. Visitors are welcome, but no children will be allowed on the grounds unless accompanied by parent.

The present membership of the club is as follows: Frank Rider, Wade Keene, N. Callison, Geo. Barnum, Marvin Long, Dr. McKeever, Ed. Deobald, W. L. McCreary, Roy Ramey, Frank Crocker, Wm. Heimgartner, Frank Boyd, Walter Bigham, Ernest Roberts and Joe Gardner. Several others have expressed their intention of joining, but have not as yet added their names to the membership list.

Anyone who is interested is asked to get in touch with Frank Rider at Long's store or W. L. McCreary at the Gazette office.

Big Sale Was Successful

The big annual sale at the N. B. Long & Sons store came to a close Saturday night and Marvin Long states that it was one of the most successful ever held, and this makes eleven of them. Last year's sale had been the biggest of them all, but this year's was its equal in value, although Mr. Long stated that about 20 per cent more merchandise had to be moved to make the volume, owing to the big reduction in prices over last year.

The management of the store is well pleased and it is evident that their customers were also well pleased with the price made, and under those conditions everyone concerned is happy.

Road Has Been Bladed

We are more than pleased to announce that the road from Kendrick to Arrow Junction has been bladed the entire distance and vastly improved. Practically all of the "crater holes," complained of recently by a Leland resident, have been filled and it is now possible to make the trip to Arrow without being thrown from one's seat.

If the road bosses only realized just how much the public appreciates this work, they would make special effort to keep the road in good condition the year round. More power to the drag.

We wouldn't mislead you, dear readers, but if you come in and pay your subscriptions, we will be extremely benefitted.

JULIAETTA ITEMS

Needle Club Meets

The Needle club members were delightfully entertained by Mrs. Edgar Wilcoxon on Wednesday of last week. Following a social afternoon, the hostess served a delicious three-course Thanksgiving dinner. Between courses, a cranberry and peanut hunt was enjoyed, dainty prizes being awarded to Mrs. Behrens and Mrs. Gruell as winners. The guests were Mesdames Biddison, Clark, Custer, Gruell, Cochran, Nutt, Behrens, Jones and Albright.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Manford Nutt entertained several guests at their home Thanksgiving day. A delicious dinner was served to Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Larkin, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Custer and niece, Leona, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell, Mrs. Lela Gruell and daughter, Lucille.

Dinner a Success

A large number of people enjoyed the chicken dinner served by the Baptist Missionary society last week.

Thanksgiving Wedding

A wedding of interest to many Juliaetta people took place at Clarkston Thursday, when Mrs. Katie Keller became the bride of William Baker of Pomeroy, Wash. Mrs. Baker made her home here for several years and is a sister of Mike Hedder.

Thanksgiving Dinner

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cox on Thanksgiving day included John Kite and family of Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. George McClintic, Walter McClintic, Mr. and Mrs. William Cox and son Hinkle and John Carlton.

New Church Furniture

The Methodist Aid has purchased new pulpit and choir chairs for the church, which greatly improve the looks of the platform.

Thanksgiving Basket

The Merry Maids class of the Methodist Sunday school presented Grandpa and Grandma Johnson, who are shut-ins, with a basket of "goodies" as a Thanksgiving remembrance. The basket was delivered by the Scouts class.

Community Christmas Tree

Plans are being made to observe Christmas this year with a community tree, program and treats. Everyone is asked to cooperate with this plan and it seems the only real drawback to it is the lack of adequate seating space.

Aid Society Meets

The Methodist Aid, which was postponed last week because of the school entertainment, met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Laura Groseclose. The regular business and devotional meeting was carried out. Lunch was served by Mrs. Groseclose and Mrs. Halliday to 14 members and visitors.

Christmas Seals

The twenty-fourth annual sale of Christmas seals to finance the anti-tuberculosis campaign in Latah county has started and will continue until December 25.

Grace Stinson is chairman of the Juliaetta precinct. Seals are available at the high school from Luna Dean and Edith Adrainson, The Cochrane Confectionery, or from the chairman.

President Hoover gives this official proclamation: The Christmas seals of the National Anti-Tuberculosis association, which are sold at Christmas time every year, provide funds for one of the most valuable of all services to mankind in helping to prevent and destroy a disease which threatens millions of homes and weakens millions of children and youth of the nation. I, Herbert Hoover, commend this.

New Stage at Gym Completed

W. C. Jones and a crew of the high school manual training class have just completed the stage in the new gymnasium. It has been completely ceiled overhead, dressing rooms have been built at each side, a curtain installed—in fact, it has been made ready for the Junior class play, to be held there Wednesday night, December 10.

In testing out the acoustics of the room it has been found that the finishing of the stage and other improvements have improved it wonderfully and that it is now easy to hear perfectly in the rear of the room.

Shade Trees Removed

The large shade trees that have graced the front of the schoolhouse grounds for many years, have been removed, for the reason that the roots had grown into the sewer and caused a breakage in the line.

SOUTHWICK NEWS

Thanksgiving day guests at the Howard Southwick home were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Southwick, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thornton, Dr. and Mrs. Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Cuddy and family and Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fry and family.

Alice Cramer, who is teaching school at Cedar Ridge spent her Thanksgiving vacation with her parents.

Mrs. Ben Cook and two children and Clara Stalaker were Sunday guests at the Dick Winegardner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Harris and Helen Lee visited Thursday and Friday at the Otto Schoeffler home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Llye, teachers in the high school, spent their Thanksgiving vacation in Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Berreman and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Betts enjoyed dinner at the Wm. Kauder home Sunday.

The Ben Presnall family and Austin McCoy ate Thanksgiving dinner with Grandma Kimes.

About sixty-five friends and neighbors gathered at the Ladies Aid hall Thanksgiving day, bringing well filled dinner baskets and enjoyed a social day together. The tables fairly groaned with the sumptuous spread, which included fried chicken, roast turkey, roast venison, pies, cakes and various kinds of vegetables and pickles and salads. A large Victrola and guitar music by Comby Perry added to the general good time. May we have many more such feasts.

The John Lettenmaier family were Sunday guests of the Joe Tschantz family.

Miss Aletha Bluit, primary teacher and her brother, Nelson, went to Kooakia Wednesday and spent the remainder of the week at the home of their parents.

Guests at the Wilmer Hanks home on Thanksgiving day were the Joe Hanks and Foster McFadden families from Lenore and the Marion Hanks family.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Longeteig and family were Sunday guests of the Harl Whittinger family.

About fifty friends of the Homer Hayward family gathered at their home Friday evening and gave them a good old-fashioned surprise. The evening was spent playing various types of games, singing, making and eating taffy and drinking cider. Radio, piano, victrola and guitar music were enjoyed throughout the evening. Last, but not least, was the sumptuous mid-night lunch.

The Frank Thornton family journeyed to Lenore Thursday and enjoyed the day with the Will Dygert family.

Gus Ziemann was a Spokane visitor from Friday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chirlie Greenwood spent several days, including Thanksgiving day, at the Frank Souders home.

Corabelle M. Teachman, pastor of the Kendrick M. E. church filled the pulpit Sunday both morning and evening. She was a guest at the Roy Southwick home from Saturday till Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Galloway from Mohler visited Saturday and Sunday at the home of her son, Pete Stump.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Betts enjoyed Friday evening at the Matt Peckenpa home.

Mrs. Harry Smith and children from Leland visited from Thursday till Saturday at the Ben McCoy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis and Herman enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the Tom Travis home at Agatha.

Sunday dinner guests at the Virgil Harris home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rogers, Adeline and Raymond and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harris and Earl.

Ross Armitage, Russell Baker and Russell Betts, who are attending the U. of I. came down from Moscow Wednesday and spent the remainder of the week at their respective homes. Russell LeBaron came with them and was the guest of Russell Betts.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hoppe are visiting in Portland at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jim McFadden.

The Chester McIver family visited Sunday at the Elmer McCoy home.

Ray Weisner from Potlatch was an over-night guest of R. S. Betts Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hayward and Rupert and Mr. and Mrs. Comby Perry were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Hayward.

Alice Cramer and Darwin Perry were Lewiston visitors Friday.

The John Lettenmaier family and Ward Helton spent Thursday and

Kendrick School Notes

The six-weeks grades were handed out this week. From all indications the grades will be lower than for the first six-weeks period. The averages however, will be made when the cards are returned.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams are working out and will be ready for the first game with Southwick, December 19.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IN CHARGE OF MRS. CARLSON

Idaho's twenty-fourth annual Christmas seal sale, dedicated to sufferers from tuberculosis in this state, started in Kendrick and neighboring districts last week-end under the direction of Mrs. A. K. Carlson, who has distributed hundreds of 1930 seals to school children here as a part of the Latah county campaign to raise funds for health work.

Last year the familiar little seals that have been sold throughout the nation for years, raised over $1,000 for the Latah county association to maintain a health nurse in northern Idaho and send children to the Rock Springs health camp at Lake Coeur d'Alene. Faced with more difficult times this year, members of the association fear that lower standards of living may lead to an increase of tuberculosis and are making every effort to increase the budget raised in this district, said Mrs. Carlson.

This year the seal bears a picture of Santa Claus carrying over his shoulder a Christmas tree which some say might well be an Idaho white pine. Across the top is "Merry Christmas" and at the bottom "Health to All." Colors are red and green, appropriate to the Christmas season.

Mrs. Carlson urges everyone to purchase seals, no matter whether the contribution be only a few cents or a large sum. The 1931 health program includes for this county a free school nurse service, expansion of the children's camps, nutrition for undernourished children, and other forms of tuberculosis prevention. The greater portion of the money raised is spent in Latah county and 95 per cent remains in Idaho. The seal sale began the day after Thanksgiving and will continue until Christmas day.

Yes, It Really Happened

The Vollmer-Clearwater has been operating its tram some these days when Mr. Onstaat reported for work at the receiving house atop the bluff he was very much surprised to see the tracks of an elk in the snow, made some time last night. They were plentiful, indicating that the animal had been in no hurry.

It is probable that this animal is one of the herd that was released at Bovill last season.

Several deer have been seen this year in unexpected places, one appearing the other day near the Ben Callison farm and one on the Wade Keene place. Mr. Keene says that he believes they are growing more numerous and considerably tamer than they have been in the past.

Friday in Clarkston at the Ed. Wetmore home.

Tax notices were received and studied this week.

Miss Abbott and Miss Eastman, who sponsored the ladies of the community club at a sewing class Monday and Tuesday were guests of Mrs. Gordon Harris Monday night.

The Roy Southwick family of Lenore spent Thanksgiving day at the Wm. Kauder home.

C. A. Betts and family, Homer Betts and wife and Russell LeBaron spent Thursday with Mrs. Emma Betts.

Ward Helton and Johnny Lettenmaier spent the day Sunday with Albert Jones.

Miss Hazel Barnett, who is teaching school near Kooakia spent her Thanksgiving vacation here with her sister, Mrs. Wilkerson.

Mrs. Rozell, who had spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Presnall, and her mother, Mrs. Kimes, returned to her home in Spokane on Friday.

Charlie Harris returned home Monday evening from a few months stay in Pullman.

If anyone finds a knife sharpening steel between the John Lettenmaier and Homer Betts homes please return it to J. L. The fact that he had it for 32 years makes it rather a keep-sake.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brammer are visiting in Spokane.

The M. E. ladies aid will hold their annual fancy work sale and supper Saturday evening, Dec. 6.

WHERE MANY ATE THANKSGIVING DINNER

The R. H. Ramey home on Thanksgiving day was the scene of a very delightful dinner party. The Rameys had sent out a call to those who had no immediate family ties in this section to come to their hospitable home and spend the day. The call included Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. McCreary and P. C. McCreary, who went in time to partake of a real banquet, made up of turkey, Chinese pheasants, chicken, and everything that is supposed to go with them to round out a real banquet, such as was set before the guests.

The long dining table was centered with beautiful yellow Japanese chrysanthemums. The place cards were miniature paper turkeys with the names of the diners written backward on them. The table was lighted with candles, a large one at each end and small ones at each plate, the small candlesticks being made of gum-drops and the handles of "life-savers." They were very unique indeed.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Long and son Roy and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Westcott and son Richard of Lewiston (old-time friends of the Rameys) came in to spend the afternoon and evening.

Bridge was indulged in during the afternoon by those who were able to play. The score cards were miniature "punkins" made of paper. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones were awarded the prize for having the largest combined score.

This is not the first time the Rameys have played "Santa Claus" at Thanksgiving time to those who otherwise might not have had the opportunity of spending the day so pleasantly.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ameling was the scene of a real old-fashioned Thanksgiving dinner last Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roberts, Ernie Roberts, Ben and Norla Callison, Mrs. Liddie Ameling and Miss Vera Ameling gathered to spend the day and properly celebrate one of the day of days—Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and two children spent Thanksgiving in Lewiston at the Phillips home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Emmett spent Thanksgiving day at the Wallace Emmett home on Bear Ridge.

There was a happy gathering for Thanksgiving dinner at the W. A. Perryman home. Those attending were Mrs. Perryman of Juliaetta, Mrs. Beard of Moscow, and Mr. and Mrs. Dumbauld of Juliaetta.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carlson entertained the Frank Rider family on Thanksgiving day.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nesbit attended a Thanksgiving family dinner at the home of their son, James Nesbit, and family at Moscow.

A delicious Thanksgiving dinner was held at the home of Mrs. N. B. Long when E. T. Long and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Long, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long and family and Elbert Long, who is attending U. of I., gathered to celebrate the day.

A family reunion was held in the form of a Thanksgiving dinner at the Clifford Davidson home. Those who gathered to eat turkey and everything good that goes with it, were B. W. Davidson and family of Pullman, George Davidson and family of American Ridge, Mrs. Carlton of Clarkston, William Watts and family of Kendrick, John Waides of Deary, and Miss Rilla Davidson of Kendrick.

Many Hunters—Few Birds

Last Sunday was the last day of the open season on chinks and huns—and many were the hunters that sallied forth with huge supplies of ammunition, hoping to reduce the bird population very materially.

The only hunter that claimed to have gotten a "bird" was Ira Bolon, who put in almost the entire day trying to find it. One would-be hunter was mean enough to say that he bet it was a "cripple." Anyway, Ira said he got it and took it home—and that was the only "kill" reported.

Presbyterian Aid

The Presbyterian Aid will meet with Mrs. Helpman on Friday of this week at 2:30 p. m. Two quilts will be made for the Lewiston Children's home. The ladies are asked to please bring their needles and thimbles.

Will Elect Officers

Election of officers will take place at the regular meeting of the Masonic lodge, Thursday evening, Dec. 11.

That's —
WITH BYRD AT THE SOUTH POLE

A Paramount Picture

Hello everybody. I have a yard to tell you and I think it will blow your hat off. It did mine. It's a piece of the hottest news from the coldest place in the world—and I don't mean Broadway. This story is truth—actual, stark, vivid truth, stranger and more weird than any fiction I ever got my hooks on.

A couple of years ago there was a young fellow who already had had more than one man's share of thrill and adventure and fame out of this dear old world of ours. He was a clean-cut, handsome young Southerner, and the Almighty had been powerful good to him. He had a fine physique and the kind of shoulders that men admire and a couple of arms that packed speed and power. Yes sir, he could box—and how!

He had no trouble getting together a bunch of fifty or more he-men food fellows like himself. They chartered a sturdy ship and after a month or so on the high seas, they vanished completely beyond the last outpost of civilization.

The thermometer dropped to 60 degrees below zero. Icy gales blew with hurricane force, butting and battering their sturdy little bark. Why, they had to blast their way through hundreds of miles of jagged close-packed ice—millions of tons of it—a writhing, crashing, groaning jam of ice that threatened every minute to crush the vessel like an egg-shell or stave in her wooden sides and send her to the bottom. It was an ordeal to try men's souls—it was sink or swim—fight or die—survive or perish—and with all of them on the verge of exhaustion, they won their battle and reached their port.

At first, tiny tents were their only shelter against the bitter cold. With the frenzy of desperate men they worked long hours to keep from perishing. They constructed rude shacks on the icy foundation.

Last Link Severed
Their ship left them—their last link of transportation with home was forced to withdraw, leaving them—forty-two men—2300 miles away from the nearest habitation.

Night came on—a night that was to last six months. In that eternal pitch blackness, the men and their leader had to call on every bit of courage and skill they owned to stay alive. Blizzards raged furiously, attacking the shacks like fierce animals trying to tear them apart and devour their occupants. Like the boom of cannon close at hand, the very ice began to split—to crack wide open with yawning crevasses, which offered death to any unwary step in the darkness, and even threatened to engulf completely this brave little band of desperate men.

The long months of cold and darkness followed one another until there was that day of rejoicing when the sun re-appeared for the first time over the black horizon. What a celebration that was! Out from under that cloud of tragedy the men smiled again—played, frolicked—smiled once more with lips still cracked from the freezing cold.

Curious Sights
Curious birds that walked like men—birds that waddled like film comedians came out of the white fastness to greet the invaders and the sun with the last word in animal comedy.

Then came preparations for the grand climax of the adventure. They dug themselves out of the twenty feet of snow and ice in which Old Man Winter had imprisoned them for five long months. The airplanes were brought out and tuned up, and one memorable morning this handsome young Southerner—the leader I first spoke of—and three of his huskiest pals, took off in the largest of the planes for the distant—even more dangerous—final goal of this great adventure. Would they ever come back? Would anyone ever see them again?

And, within a few hours after the departure, those fears increased almost to despair as the entire horizon of that bleak land of whitened isolation was suddenly blurred and blanketed out by a blizzard more terrible than any that had come during the winter.

Gripped by Terror
Those left behind were gripped by anxiety—gripped as though by hands that clutched for their throats. But after an eternity of waiting, the storm cleared, and that little band of men on the ice sighted a tiny speck far off in the sky. Closer it came, and now they could hear the hum of its motors. They were returning. They had reached their goal and were on their way back. The plane circled once and came down on the ice. In spite of the bitter cold, men threw their hats in the air. The flags of three nations were unfurled to the breeze. Cheers rose from the bearded, grizzled veterans.

All In Picture
Yes sir, it's my friend Dick Byrd I'm talking about. This yarn I'm spinning is the intimate, inside drama of dear old Dick and his immortal exploit. This yarn isn't based on anything I have read, nor yet anything that somebody has told me about. I saw it myself—on the screen. It is a truly marvelous motion picture called "With Byrd at the South Pole." Yes sir, I flew with him over the South Pole, because the actual flight is in the picture too, and it makes you feel that you're right there with him.

"Climbing Roses" in society? Sure—thing you know. And how they "do" society is amazing. 48-1

More new Christmas cards are here.

Julietta Personals

Gertrude Gruell spent the vacation with the Fix girls on Fix Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Noble of Lewiston were Tuesday evening visitors in town.

Mrs. Walter Cochran was a business visitor in Moscow the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gruell and Mrs. M. Nutt were Lewiston visitors Saturday evening.

The garage building is practically finished and Mr. Sherman has already begun his garage work.

Mr. and Mrs. William Baune spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. C. Denlar on Fix Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilcoxen were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eben Adams at Moscow on Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Creighton Biddison returned last week from a visit at Potlatch with her brother, Charles Talbot and family.

Mrs. Wilbur Larkin spent Thanksgiving here with her husband, returning to her work at Moscow Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Biddison spent Friday and Saturday in Clarkston with Mr. Biddison's mother, who was injured recently in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fix and Mrs. Lela Gruell visited Jack Fix in Lewiston Tuesday. Jack is recovering from an appendicitis operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nichols and family of Clarkston were Thursday afternoon and evening guests of Mrs. Nichols' sister, Mrs. Walter Cochran, and family.

Miss Agnes Eckerman spent the vacation at her home in Cottonwood. Mrs. Luna Deane visited at Post Falls. Miss Edith Adrianson was with relatives at Moscow and Miss Mary Grace Brackett visited her parents at Lenore.

Stanton-Eichner Nuptials

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Lewiston Business College Wednesday, November 27, at 5 o'clock, when Miss Jaunita Mae Stanton and Harley Ray Eichner were united in marriage by Justice Fred Uhlen. The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's mother, Mrs. Dot Stanton and Miss Moore. The bride wore a blue crepe dress and the groom was dressed in a dark blue suit.

Both young people were raised in Kendrick. They are very well known here, Mrs. Eichner having attended the Kendrick school for seven years, her father being interested in the Stanton Bros. Store. The groom graduated with the class of 1929 from Kendrick High school.

The Gazette joins their many friends in wishing the couple a long and happy future.

Hard Times Bridge Party

The Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club met with Mrs. L. J. Herres last week. The affair was announced as a "hard-times" party and most of those in attendance did their best to carry out the cognomen. There were "costumes" of various kinds and vintages, long and short. Mrs. A. K. Carlson received the prize for having the "worst" costume.

Bill Watts was official photographer and he is said to have procured some pictures that would command a place in any art gallery.

Kills Deer On Boulder Creek

On Wednesday of last week Leonard Wolff killed a fine three-point buck while hunting on Boulder creek. The season was open in Latah county until November 30, thus giving 15 days longer hunting period than in other counties.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Kuykendall of Leland are the proud parents of a son, who came to their home for an indefinite stay, arriving Tuesday, November 25.

Mother and babe are said to be doing nicely.

Please Bring In Fruit

All those who are intending to give canned fruit, vegetables and other things to the Orphan's Home at Lewiston are asked to please have these things in by Saturday evening. Leave at Morgans' store.

We are pleased to announce that Dr. A. E. Jones, our old reliable Spokane eye specialist, will be at the Hotel Kendrick from 1 p. m. Thursday, December 11, to noon Friday, Dec. 12. 49-2 cel of 1,000 tons of white wheat was reported sold to the United Kingdom from Portland early in the week but no sales of either wheat or flour were reported during the latter part of the period. Sales of Canadian wheat from Vancouver to the Orient during the week were reported of considerable volume at prices several cents under quotations at Portland. Growers, however, were slow sellers at current prices. Domestic mill demand was quiet and confined mostly to the higher protein hard wheats. A limited local demand for feed wheat prevailed at Puget Sound terminals, but California inquiry slackened. At the close of the market November 28 No. 1 hard white Big Bend bluestem variety was quoted at Portland at 80c, soft and western white at 70c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 68c sacked. No. 1 dark northern spring 14% protein from Montana in bulk was quoted at as colder weather with snow reduced receipts. The efforts of mills and shippers to move wheat down the Lakes before the close of navigation has reduced stocks in that market. No. 1 dark northern was quoted at 73 3/4c to 78 3/4c, and No. 1 northern at 73 to 77c. Canadian spring wheat markets were weaker than domestic markets, with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted at Winnipeg November 28 at 61 1/4c, or from 14c to 17c below the higher grades of spring wheat at Minneapolis.

Pacific coast markets remained dull and weak. Competition of Canadian wheat which is being offered from Vancouver at lower prices than domestic grain, has restricted export sales of Pacific coast wheat. One par-83c. No. 1 western white and western red sold at Seattle at 71c sacked, Big Bend bluestem hard white at 80c, 14% protein local No. 1 hard winter in bulk at 83c per bushel. Local dark northern spring, sacked, was quoted at 77c, and the same grade from Montana in bulk at 83c per bushel.

California wheat markets remained dull and about unchanged from the previous week. The limited demand from mills and feed wheat buyers was being filled principally with wheat from Washington and Oregon, since California growers were mostly asking prices 15c to 25c per 100 over current quotations on northern wheat. Some California No. 1 soft white wheat was reported sold at San Francisco during the week at $1.38, white wheat was offered from Washington and Oregon at $1.35 to $1.37 1/2 per 100, sacked, dock San Francisco. Some inter-mountain wheat was being purchased by mills for blending purposes, on the basis of $1.45 to $1.50 for No. 2 dark hard winter in bulk delivered. California points. Mixed feed manufacturers were generally using stocks purchased earlier in the season, but scattered sales of sample grade washed wheat at $1.35 per 100, sacked, on dock San Francisco, were reported.

Prices at Los Angeles were also practically unchanged during the week, with trading quiet. Mill stocks remained fairly large and new purchases are light, with current takings being principally wheat purchased earlier in the season. Offerings of feed wheat from Portland by water continue liberal at around $1.45 per 100, sacked, delivered Los Angeles. No. 2 hard winter in bulk was quoted at Los Angeles November 28 at $1.45 to $1.50. No. 2 dark hard winter at $1.50 to $1.55, No. 1 hard winter sacked at $1.50 to $1.55, and No. 1 western white at $1.45 to $1.50.

Golden Rule School Notes

Pupils receiving the second-sized certificate for being neither absent nor tardy for the first three months of school are: Irene Martin, Chester Martin, Jesse Martin and Milton Walker.

Pupils receiving certificates for the month ending November 21, are: Rolland Cuddy, Elberton Martin, Beatrice Martin.

Our conspicuous family, worthy of honorable mention, that holds first place in its majority of monthly certificates is the Martin family, receiving a certificate this month.

Last one out is it for "fox and geese!" "Sez you!" from Ernie Cowger. "Chester's it" "No, I ain't; I've already been out once," beamed Chester, glad because he had so skillfully worked out of being "it."

Miss Gibler: "Milton, how do you pronounce t-u-b-e-r-c-u-l-o-s-i-s?"
Milton: "T. B."

Frank Cowger: The hardest thing about learning to skate is the ice.

Irene Martin: "Miss Gibbs, I am done."

Miss Gibbs: "Are you tender?"

LINDEN NEWS

(Delayed)

The young people of the neighborhood gave James Keeler a very pleasant surprise when they gathered at his home Wednesday evening to help him celebrate his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent playing games. Refreshments were served and everyone left wishing him many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. C. H. Fry shipped a number of turkeys to the Spokane market. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bohn spent the day Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Garner.

The Misses Slatter and Eva Smith spent Wednesday evening at the Ray McPhee home.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Combs of Spokane called on old friends on the ridge last week. They were house guests at the Louis Alexander and W. Weyen homes while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kent and family spent the day Sunday at the Weyen home.

Mrs. Weyen and Mrs. Kent entertained at the Linden hall Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Combs of Spokane. The evening was spent playing games, cards and dancing. Everyone had a jolly good time.

C. E. Fonberg and Arley Allen were Lewiston visitors Tuesday.

William Holt of Kendrick was a guest of the Fry boys over the week-end.

Wheat Fed to Hogs Brings Profit

H. E. Eichmeyer, Wild Rose prairie farmer, has disclosed some interesting figures resulting from feeding his wheat to hogs. He obtained $150 per bushel by so doing.

"June 2, I bought 13 hogs for $194.80," said Mr. Eichmeyer. "They were fed 1200 pounds of ground wheat, 600 pounds of ground oats and 150 gallons of buttermilk, and sold at the end of the month for $242, which gave a gain of $47.20. Deducting the cost of the buttermilk, I had left $44.20 for my 1800 pounds of grain, or $24.55 per 100 pounds. The hogs were marketed at the peak price."

The Flashlight

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, October 17, 1930. No. 19

Published in the Interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

Hello, everybody! Here it is December, we know, for we just tore another leaf off the old calendar, which doesn't leave any more to tear off! Sad, isn't it?

The shortest day of the year comes this month, but don't let that worry you. Have artificial sunlight in your home with an Alladdin lamp.

Going to listen to the football games this month, the championship ones? Then come in and get a set of new tubes for the old machine first.

Johnnie, "Ma, what does 'daft' mean?"
Mother, "Sh-h-h! Your father has gotten that way over trap shooting!"

Why put off buying that new pair of scissors, that jack knife or any other kind of an edged tool? The price is more than right and we give 5% off for cash too.

Ain't It So?

If Jason could come back now and watch a Wall street broker in action he would quickly realize that he was a rank amateur at going after the golden fleece!

Have you seen that beautiful cream and green enamel ware we are showing these days? Quality? Yes! Priced right? Yes, 5% off for cash, too.

"Never give up the ship," a captain said! But high prices on hardware did give up the ship in our store.

Protecting Our Own
If the Reds sold wheat short, they are dangerous enemies. Only good American patriots are permitted to do that! Well, we never sell hardware short, but do sell quality at right prices.

We see where the coming picture at the Audian is "With Byrd at the South Pole" Boy, we thought we were there a week or so ago ourselves.

Have you seen those nifty little parlor furnaces we are showing And stove repairs, yes we have them.

Santa's coming and so is our stock of Christmas goods. Just wait and see.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades have done extensive outlining in their history and geography classes the past week.

The sale of Christmas Seals, which started Monday, has made good progress. The school was allotted 700 seals to sell this year. The school is divided into two groups: the lower four and the upper four grades, competing with each other, to see which group can sell the most seals.

The lower section made a flying start the first day. Two thermometers are drawn upon the board, one for each group. Numbers ranging from 20 to 350 are drawn at the side of each. Each morning the number of stamps sold are counted and the number shown on the thermometer by red chalk. The lower section leads at this writing with about 70 seals. A total of about 550 are now sold.

Practice for the Christmas program will start soon. Most of the noon hour will be devoted to practicing.
