COMMUNITY CHRISTMAS TREE ENJOYED BY ALL

Kendrick's first community Christmas tree was a wonderful success. Not only were the kiddies delighted with what took place, but the grown-ups enjoyed it as well.

Promptly at 7:30 o'clock in the evening the crowd gathered around the large tree that had been set in Main street. Christmas carols were sung under the leadership of Roy Ramey and a short talk was made by Rev. A. E. Janes, all of which were listened to with close attention.

After the short program at the tree had been completed, signal lights were flashed to let old Santa know that the program had been concluded and that the children were waiting for him. And sure enough, within a short time sleighbells were heard in the distance and good old Santa himself came galloping up to the tree with a sleigh-load of goodies for the children. With the aid of a few helpers, that good old fellow gave each boy and girl a nice bag of sandy, nuts and a big juicy orange, just to show them that he had not forgotten them. Some 200 bags of goodies were distributed to the youngsters.

It was indeed a joyous occasion and a custom that should be carried out each year.

Our street is beautiful with evergreens and each and every one who had a part in this work, financially or otherwise, should feel that he has done something worthwhile to make the youngsters happy and please many of the older "kids." It's good for the town and good for the people. Let's make up our minds right now that we are going to do this same thing again next year.

Home Talent Play Great Success

And when we say it was a success, we mean just what we say. A large crowd was present to witness the performance of "Climbing Roses," sponsored by the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church, and all were of the opinion—"It was one of the very best plays that has been given in Kendrick for many years." Each and every member of the cast did themselves proud and showed that their coach, W. J. Carroll, is entirely within his sphere in that line, for had Mr. Carroll not been able to give the necessary instruction, no matter how good the actors may be, a unity of action could not possibly have been had. Those taking part in the play give Mr. Carroll the lion's share of credit for the splendid success of the play. It would hardly be possible to individualize the players, so we are going to leave it to the general verdict—that it was a splendid play splendidly portrayed.

Those taking part in the play were Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mrs. N. E. Walker, Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mrs. A. K. Carlson, Mrs. W. J. Carroll, Miss Earlen Stump, Mrs. W. C. Jones, R. H. Ramey, W. C. Jones, N. E. Walker, Wm. Watts and Bob Dammarell.

Miss Stump Honored

Mrs. Wm. Jarvis gave a very pretty party last Monday evening in honor of Miss Earlen Stump, teacher of the first and second grades in the Kendrick schools for the past year and a half, who left this Thursday morning with her brother-in-law and sister for Arizona, where they expect to make their home.

A very delightful time was had and delicious refreshments served by the hostess. Besides the hostess, Mrs. Jarvis, those present were Misses Tekla Jarvis, Zelma Roe, Priscilla Baker, Josephine Deagan, Earlen Stump, Mrs. O. J. Morehead and Mrs. W. C. Jones.

Miss Stump was presented a very pretty guest prize.

Masons Install Officers

At the regular meeting of the Masonic lodge held December 11, the following officers were chosen and installed for the ensuing term: M. O. Raby, worshipful master; Geo. W. McKeever, senior warden; H. B. Thompson, junior warden; Wm. Freytag, treasurer; C. A. Oppenborn, secretary; Paul Schulz, senior deacon; Lestes Nelson, junior deacon; Frank Nesbit, chaplain; John L. Woody, marshal; W. C. Jones, senior steward; Manford Nutt, Junior steward; N. Brocke, tyler.

Blasting Work Completed

The work of blasting off several slanting places on the Big Bear ridge road was completed last week and all concerned are much pleased over the improvements made in the road.

Drilling has been going on at the quarry up Brady Gulch for the past several days, but the snowy weather has put a stop to it for a time, at least. It was hoped to get enough rock torn loose this fall so that work could be started early in the spring.

Eastern Stars to Install

The Order of Eastern Star will install their newly-elected officers on Tuesday afternoon, December 30, commencing at 2 o'clock. Mrs. J. S. Heckathorn of Moscow is expected to be the installing officer.

Suffers Stroke

W. T. Wright is very ill, having suffered a stroke Tuesday morning. His condition is considered very grave.

Mrs. Raby About Recovered

Mrs. Oscar Raby, who was brought from a Lewiston hospital recently after an operation, is getting along nicely. She returned to Lewiston last week, where she had her tonsils removed.

Entertained at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson entertained at dinner on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Helpman, Hugh Helpman, Jr., and Miss Priscilla Baker.

"PEACE ON EARTH— GOOD WILL TO MEN"

By Evelyn Gage Brown

"Peace on Earth"—how much those three words mean! What a glorious picture of human mappiness they bring to our minds and hearts! "Peace on Earth"—peace between every neighbor, every sect, every creed, every race and nation on earth. Peace! no dissension, no turmoil, no hatred—anywhere.

How better can we bring this ideal condition to pass, than by fostering Peace in the human heart, Peace in the human mind? By spreading the Christmas message of "Peace on Earth" wherever our words can be heard and our thoughts be carried? For by sowing the seed—as surely as seedtime is always followed by harvest, just so surely will it some day bear fruit of Peace on Earth. Dreams must come before deeds, hopes before fulfillment, and thoughts before things can be brought into full manifestation. Every good wish, every happy greeting that carries this message of "Peace on Earth," does just so much to bring about this wonderful condition where Peace will be a glorious reality.

"Good Will to Men"—more words of vital import—the open sesame to Peace! There can be no Peace on Earth without Good Will in the hearts of men—everywhere. The angels' message of those long centuries ago, is just as fraught with meaning today, just as much a message for us of this modern world. Disarmament, Peace Conferences—all must come to naught unless there is first Good Will to Men. Capital and labor cannot clash, sect cannot war against sect, race cannot take up arms against race, nation cannot mobilize to crush nation—so long as there is "Good Will to Men" in the hearts of mankind. Could we hurt those for whom we have a feeling of Good Will? Could man kill with love in his heart? Could there be wars if the whole world were filled with the Christmas spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men?"

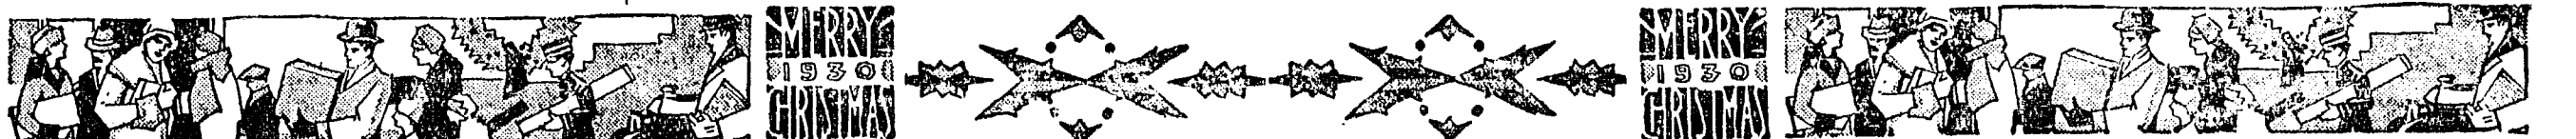

More and more the power of thought is being understood, and we are learning that Mind is the master of things. No matter what may be our religious beliefs, the majesty of the inner man is being realized and used—the domination of man is being proven—the Christ is being born anew. And at this special season when we celebrate the birthday of Christ—The Prince of Peace—when the heavenly tidings of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men" is heard on every hand—what more fitting time to stop and ponder on the meaning of Christmas, the importance of the day, and the beauty and power of the "Good Tidings of Great Joy"—as applied to the mighty world problem of Peace.

Let us all spread the glad tidings to the uttermost parts of the earth—wherever our greetings can go. Let each one of us do our bit to keep alive the Christmas spirit and make it a living, and breathing reality—not only at this special season but through every day of the year. Let us spread Peace with Christmas thoughts. Let us scatter Good Will to Men—first in our own hearts and minds, then in the hearts and minds of others by our thoughts of friendliness, good cheer, brotherly love. And when mankind everywhere is filled with this spirit of Good Will, then will follow the "Peace on Earth" for which men have died, wars been fought, speeches made, and treaties signed—all in vain. Then will Peace on Earth become at last a glorious and a permanent reality.

Delightful Sleighing Party

A sleighing party was enjoyed by a large party Sunday evening, December 21, in honor of Miss Earlen Stump, who will soon depart for Arizona to spend the winter with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Emler.

After the sleighing everyone returned to the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albright, Juliaetta, where a delicious oyster supper was served. Those present were: Miss Earlen Stump, the guest of honor, and Messrs. and Mesdames Fred Albright, Jess Cox, Arnold Behrens, E. P. Wilcoxon and William Spray and Messrs. Eugene Taylor, Frank Neel and Jay C. Fowler.

SCORES DROP AT LAST
GUN CLUB EVENT

At the shoot held Sunday, December 21, the scores of everyone took a neat tumble, just what the reason was is not known, although several theories have been advanced, but the best one seems to be that of the sun shining on the snow, and the pink of the target showing, gave off something of a glare that made shooting hard.

Following is the score for the ten bird event:

Frank Crocker	7
Ed. Deobald	7
Joe Gardner	6
W. May	5
W. Bigham	2

Following is the score for the 25 bird event:

Ed. Deobald	16
B. Callison	14
W. May	14
W. McCreary	14
Wade Keene	13
Joe Gardner	13
Frank Crocker	11
M. Long	11
Walt Bigham	11
Frank Rider	9

Considerable discussion is underway regarding an invitation extended the club by the Winchester Gun Club to come and shoot with them any Sunday and a number are in favor of doing this. Discussion is also underway as to how often the regular shoots shall be held, every week or every two weeks.

These matters will be discussed at the next regular shoot held Sunday, December 28, and also the possibilities of a special shoot on New Year's Day. A quorum was not present at the scheduled meeting Monday night, so these matters will be discussed Sunday following the shoot.

BIG BEAR RIDGE NEWSLETTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fairfield are the proud parents of a baby girl born Sunday, December 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Emmett were Lewiston visitors Saturday. They drove home in a new Chevrolet sedan.

Gerald and Wm. Ingle are home from Moscow for their Christmas vacations.

The three schools closed Wednesday for the vacation, the teachers going to their homes. Verna Fairfield to Clarkston; Elaine Davis to Bovill and Pearl Underdahl to Moscow.

The program and Christmas tree was enjoyed by everyone who attended Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones and Miss Lizzie Jones were shoppers in Lewiston Saturday.

A number of friends and relatives enjoyed a birthday dinner with Mrs. Robt. Clemmenhagen, Sunday, Dec. 21.

Mrs. Frank Whitcomb returned to her home Monday after spending several weeks in Moscow, where she has been taking medical treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollis W. Sherbon spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Jones. Miss Othella Kleith, who is attending school in Lewiston, is spending her vacation at home.

Henry Galloway is home from Seattle to spend Christmas with his mother, Mrs. Kate Galloway.

Attend Family Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bolton and Walter Bowman of Cave Gulch went to Walla Walla Sunday where a family reunion of the DeFord family was held, at the home of Mrs. Bolton's brother, C. W. DeFord. A splendid time was reported.

BURNING WHEAT BURN-ING UP SOME FOLKS

In the past two or three weeks we have seen many articles in as many different papers regarding the burning of wheat for heat, the principle place of comment seeming to be a discussion of the burning going on at Nez Perce, and most of the articles are condemnatory in their tone. Personally we can see no reason for condemning any man for burning any sort of fuel that will produce the heat, and since there is admittedly a large surplus of wheat in this nation, and all over the world for that matter, why not get rid of at least a portion of that surplus through fire. Many of the articles go on to say that it is a crime to burn fuel for the human body when there are so many people who really need it. All very true, but why doesn't the Federal Farm Board distribute some of its wheat? Get rid of some of the thousands of tons it owns?

The tiny bit of wheat that can be burned in stoves is but a drop in the bucket, and what can the burners of Nezperce do to help them? Nothing! Then why condemn a man for saving a few dollars by burning a fuel of which there is a huge surplus? When the price of other commodities goes down to correspond with the price of wheat, then let them speak! The men who wrote the condemning articles possible dictated their opinion to a stenographer, while sitting at a polished mahogany desk in a steam heated room, and neither knew nor cared what the farmer was receiving for his wheat at his point of shipment. Perhaps he knew the price of wheat at Chicago, but what does that mean to us? By the time transportation is paid on that wheat we are money ahead to have burned it for fuel.

The writers of these same articles suggest feeding the same to cattle and hogs. Fine. But where are these animals coming from at a moment's notice? It is not as easy as it sounds, for the price of wheat does not advance any money to permit of immediate purchases of these things, but perhaps he doesn't know that. As time goes on these things will all be on our farms, but it takes time to get them. It's not as easy for the farmer to get the necessary sheds and machinery to feed and care for animals as it is for the writers of these condemning articles to purchase a new multicolor press or a battery of linotypes.

Things will adjust themselves, but in the meantime, let's hear no more condemning of the farmer for burning wheat or any other product of his that possesses no really marketable value.

Community Watch Night Service

A community union watch night service will be held in the Methodist church, Wednesday evening, December 31, beginning at 8 o'clock. The tentative program is as follows:

8 to 9 o'clock—Social service prayer and praise.

9 to 10:30. Games and a general good time, under the direction of the Epworth League.

10:30 to 11:30. Social hour, with light refreshments, served by the Ladies Aid.

11:30 to 12. Closing devotional service, with brief address by the pastor. Everyone is cordially invited to come and help make the closing hours of the old year happy and profitable.

An Appreciation

The American Ridge school appreciates the help and courtesy extended to them by the people of Kendrick in the preparation of their Christmas tree and program. Sincere thanks are extended to all.

AT THE AUDIAN

"The Rogue Song"

As announced last week, this wonderful musical comedy will be seen at the Audian Theatre on Christmas day (evening). Also Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. Lawrence Tibbet, a Metropolitan opera star, appears in the leading male role—a new personality, with a voice to ring 'round the world. He comes to capture picture audiences as he captured the charmed circle of the Metropolitan's diamond horseshoe. What a picture is this daring, spectacular drama of a bandit lover and a ruby-lipped princess. Happy, passionate, tuneful. It is the greatest miracle of the talking screen—entirely in Natural color. You'll miss the thrill of a century if you fail to see this singing masterpiece. More exciting than any picture you have ever witnessed. More daring than any love drama within your memory. The story is based on the operetta, "Gypsy Love," by Franz Lehár.

Do not get the idea that this picture is "high hat" and beyond the understanding of the average person, it is far from it, it's a clean, wholesome pleasure picture.

The tendency to laugh at the theoretical expert is not always an indication of better sense.

GRAIN MARKET UNSETTLED FEED GRAINS ARE LOWER

Domestic grain markets continued unsettled during the week ending December 20. Wheat futures for old crop grain were fairly steady, but increased offerings of cash wheat lowered premiums at several markets; according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Corn declined rather sharply during the week as marketings increased and demand remained of only moderate volume. Oats and barley markets weakened with corn. Rye declined with feed grains, and flax was slightly lower, influenced by further declines in Argentine prices and a slow crusher demand for domestic seed.

While domestic wheat markets held fairly steady, largely as a result of an active support of old crop futures, foreign markets continued weak. The efforts of exporting countries, particularly Russia, to dispose of their supplies, has resulted in relatively large world shipments this season. About 300,000,000 bushels of wheat, including flour, have been shipped from the principal export countries since the first of August, and over half of this amount has been exported by Canada and Russia. While world shipments to date are much larger than for the corresponding date last year, they have now fallen behind the record shipments of two years ago. Market stocks of wheat however, are still large, the world visible, according to trade estimates, totaling about 541,000,000 bushels at the first of December, compared with 528,000,000 bushels at the first of November, and 523,000,000 bushels December 1, 1929.

Prospects are still favorable for large wheat crops in the Southern Hemisphere. An official estimate placed the Australian crop at 215,000,000 bushels; which if realized will be much the largest harvest obtained in that country. Rains during harvest caused material damage in some areas, according to trade reports. New Australian wheat is on its way to Europe, and is being quoted CIF English markets at 81c per bushel. Harvesting is now well underway in Argentine, and threshing has begun. The crop is officially estimated at about 271,000,000 bushels, or roughly 100,000,000 bushels over the 1929 harvest. Shippers are pressing sales of new wheat at 65c per bushel CIF European markets, but are reported to be meeting a dull demand. Low grain prices are reported to be causing land-owners to reduce rents 15% to 50% in that country.

Winter wheat seedings in the United States this fall were reduced 1.1% from the acreage seeded last year, and 1.4% below the average seedings of the past five years. The acreage seeded to winter wheat is estimated at 42,042,000 acres. This is substantially above the intended acreage as reported in August, the increase being almost entirely in the area from Illinois southwest to Texas and north to Montana, where drought conditions prevailed in August, but where favorable fall precipitation permitted the seeding of about the usual acreage. The condition of winter wheat December 1 was estimated at 86% of normal, or about three points above the ten-year average and slightly above the 86% reported December 1, 1929. The condition is very low in the eastern half of the drought affected area, where fall moisture was insufficient for germination and early growth of the crop. It is particularly favorable in most of the Great Plains area and close to average in most other sections. Revised figures for the 1930 crop place the production of winter wheat at 604,337,000 bushels, Durum at 55,665,000 bushels, and other spring wheat at 190,963,000 bushels, giving a total crop of 850,965,000 bushels, compared with 809,176,000 bushels produced in 1929.

Domestic cash wheat markets held fairly steady although cash premiums were lowered on some classes of wheat at several markets. Current receipts were of moderate volume and were mostly readily taken by mills, industries and feeders. Cash prices declined about 2c on the higher protein types at Kansas City, where No. 1 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted December 19 at 71c, 12½% protein at 72c and 13% protein at 72½c per bushel. No. 1 soft red winter sold in that market at 78½c to 79c. Choice milling wheat was in good demand in Omaha but low grades sold slowly. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at 68c, and No. 1 hard winter at 69c per bushel. Mills were bidding 79c in Texas where No. 1 hard winter delivered Galveston export rate or Texas common points, but sellers were holding mostly for 80c per bushel, now and bad roads reduced marketings in the inter-mountain states and receipts at Denver were relatively small. No. 2 hard winter was quoted FOB Denver or delivered Colorado common points at 48c to 55c, and No. 2 northern spring at the same price. Receipts at Chicago were mostly on previous sales. No. 2 hard red winter was quoted nominally in that market at 78½c, and No. 2 soft winter at 81½c per bushel. Increased receipts from Illinois and Missouri points gave the St. Louis market a heavy tone, since demand was only moderate. No. 2 soft red winter sold in that market December 19 at 82c and No. 1 hard winter at 78½c per bushel. Trading at Cincinnati was principally in grain from elevators. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at 85½c to 86c per bushel.

Pacific Coast markets continued inactive, with domestic markets held well above world prices. Exports of wheat and flour from the Pacific Northwest have become almost negligible, although supplies in that area are still relatively large. Local quotations at Portland and Seattle are 5c to 10c above Canadian prices at Vancouver and quotations on Australian wheat in European markets. No export sales were reported during the week and mill demand for wheat was of small volume. At the close of the market December 19, No. 1 western white wheat, sacked, was quoted at Seattle at 68c, and western red and hard winter at 66½c per bushel. Local No. 1 hard winter, sacked, was quoted at 76c per bushel and the same quality from Montana, in bulk, at 77½c, local No. 1 dark northern, sacked, with 14% protein at 76c and the same from Montana in bulk at 78½c per bushel. Big Bend bluestem, sacked, was quoted at Seattle at 74c and at Portland at 76c. No. 1 soft and western white sold at Portland at 67½c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 65c. No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana with 14% protein sold at 80c per bushel, in bulk.

The San Francisco wheat market was dull and featureless, with prices practically unchanged from a week ago. Demand both for milling and feed grades continued very light, and requirements of both mills and feeders were being supplied largely from Washington and Oregon markets at prices below local quotations. California growers were asking $1.20 to $1.30 per 100 net for No. 1 hard white, and No. 1 soft white, at Sacramento valley warehouses, which would be equivalent to $1.45 to $1.56 delivered San Francisco. No. 2 soft and western white wheats were offered from the north at $1.32½ to $1.35, sacked, delivered dock San Francisco, while washed samples from the same area were quoted at $1.27½ to $1.30 per 100, which would be equivalent to $1.35 to $1.37½ delivered Petaluma. No. 2 dark hard winter from Idaho and Utah was quoted at $1.45 to $1.47½, in bulk, delivered California points. Old No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white, sacked, were quoted at San Francisco at $1.40 to $1.45 per 100.

The Los Angeles wheat market declined about 5c per 100 during the week under a quiet demand. All classes of trade were reported well supplied until after the first of the year and buying was only for immediate needs. Mills were receiving California shipments on previous purchases instead of later in the season as is usually the custom. About half of the current requirements of the feed trade are being supplied from Washington and Oregon, according to trade estimates. No. 1 soft white was quoted at Los Angeles at $1.45 per 100, while considerable club wheat was offered at $1.40 to $1.42 per 100. No. 2 dark hard winter was being quoted at $1.50 to $1.55, No. 1 hard white at $1.45 to $1.50, and No. 1 Western white at $1.40 to $1.45 per 100.

Foreign wheat markets were mostly lower during the week. Winter Is Upon Us

Well, California weather is not good for people in this section of the country at Christmas-time, anyway. Kendrick has a blanket of snow some five or six inches deep and up on the hills they have about a foot. The mercury managed to get down to 11 above on the school-house hill Wednesday morning, and reached a point a few degrees lower in the canyon. However, even old Santa, is glad to have just such weather as we are experiencing right now.

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, December 19, 1930 No. 28

Published in the Interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES TO EVERYONE

Well folks, here it is almost time to tear another sheet off the calendar; seems only yesterday that we tore one off! How time does fly! Oh, Say, that reminds us, do you get up by one of our alarm clocks and light an Alladdin lamp to see your way about the room, and then do your chores by one of our lanterns? If not, why not? All are priced more than reasonable with 5% off for cash.

Will the party holding No. 98 please come into the store by Saturday or before.

Wife—The dressmaker says she won't make me another dress until you pay her account. Husband—Splendid. I'll write and thank her!

Just think, two things are coming down these days, snow and the price of hardware in Kendrick. Just come in and let us prove it to you.

We notice that they are burning wheat for fuel in many places. Well, we don't know how much heat that will produce, but we do know that those little parlor furnaces we are showing are sure heaters.

Lady—Why do you call this sandwich a ham special? Soda Fountain Clerk—Because it has some ham in it.

When your radio doesn't do it stuff as it should, get some new tubes. We have them for every size and make of set. Priced right, too!

And say, doesn't it get tiresome working in wood with tools that are not just right? It surely does, but why do it when we have all kinds at the price you can afford to pay.

What better things can you buy with that Christmas check than something for the home? Let us suggest dishes, tinted water glasses, cooking utensils in that beautiful cream enamel ware or in aluminum, we have every conceivable useful piece. Then let us suggest a clock, silver, carving sets, percolators and what not.

MISS ZELMA ROE WED AT WALLA WALLA WEDNESDAY

Miss Zelma Roe, teacher of the third and fourth grades in the Kendrick school, left Wednesday afternoon for Lewiston, where she was joined by Roland Wilkins, they motoring to Walla Walla, where they were united in marriage at 8 o'clock, Wednesday, December 24. The young couple were accompanied by the immediate members of their respective families. After the ceremony they left immediately for a honeymoon trip to the coast, visiting Portland, Seattle, and other points.

The bride was attired in a beautiful green chiffon dress, while the bridesmaid, Miss Edabelle Jacobs, wore a peach taffeta dress. The best man was Chester Wilkins, brother of the groom.

Miss Roe is the daughter of Dr. S. A. Roe of Lewiston and is a very estimable young woman, who has made many friends in Kendrick during her short residence here. She has a host of friends in Lewiston, her home town.

The groom is a rising young man in the business world at Lewiston, being superintendent of the Spengler bakeries at Lewiston and stands high among his friends and acquaintances.

After the holidays Mrs. Wilkins will return to Kendrick and resume her work of teaching while Mr. Wilkins will continue in his present position.

The Gazette joins with their host of friends in wishing them health and happiness throughout life.

Must Be Cash

At the beginning of the New Year the Gazette will ask that all who order butter wrappers or put in a classified adlet, pay for them during the current month. We have a number of orders for butter wrappers that were filled last spring and summer — and they are still unpaid. These items are too small and the profit on them so very little that we cannot carry them on charge accounts for more than the month in which they are ordered. We have many dollars worth of locals and want ads. on our books that have been forgotten about by those who ordered them.

We are not "taking a shot" at anyone in particular. The main idea is to impress the fact on the minds of all who order butter wrappers and place locals of any kind that we would like to have them pay for them within the current month after ordering same. We are always glad to accommodate people—but please help us accommodate you.
