Town Girls Are Victors

In a warmly-contested game in the school gym on Monday night of last week a Girl's Town team defeated the local high school girls' netball team by a score of 13-5. The town team is feeling just least bit "upplish" over conquering opposition team.

A previously-played game between the same teams the Town was victorious by a score of 13-5.

KE PASSES CLARKSTON HOME

Brocke, a former resident of the Kendrick section, passed away at his home in Clarkston on Friday, January 2, 1930, the immediate cause of death being heart failure.

Brocke was born February 6, 1857, near Genesee, in what was then part of Nez Perce county. He resided there with his parents until about ten years of age, when he moved with his parents to a farm on American Ridge, in 1888. He was married to Miss Etta Stockwell, a resident of Big Bear ridge, October 30, 1901. To this union one son, Donald, was born.

Mr. and Mrs. Brocke continued to reside on the farm until about a year ago, when they went to Clarkston to make their home, where they have since resided.

Mr. Brocke is survived by his widow and son, Donald, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brocke of Kendrick; three brothers and three sisters, Charles Brocke of Oakland, Cal., Nicholas Brocke, Jr., San Francisco, Joseph Brocke, Spokane, Mrs. H. P. Wilcox, Lewiston, Mrs. Etta Haggist, Portland, Mrs. Amelia Leland, San Francisco.

The funeral rites were in charge of the Masonic lodge, the ceremony being held at the grave. Burial was made in the American Ridge cemetery on Sunday, January 4, at 1 p. m.

The pallbearers were Ira Haven, Ben Callison, Harry Benscoter, Clarence Dougherty, Harley Eichner and Harry Ameling.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the Masonic lodge for their kindness and the beautiful floral offerings, and also do we wish to express our gratitude to our friends and neighbors who so willingly helped us in our time of need.

Mrs. J. I. Brocke and son, Donald, Mr. and Mrs. N. Brocke and family.

Narrowly Escapes Injury

Annabell Deobald, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, had a very narrow escape from serious injury last Sunday afternoon when a door of the car in which they were riding flew open and she fell out.

The family were on their way to Lewiston for an afternoon's drive, when, on rounding the curve near the Arrow Junction school Annabell noticed that one of the rear doors of the sedan was not closed and reached over in an endeavor to close it. The swing of the car on the corner, together with the pull of the wind jerked the door open and she fell from the car onto a ridge of rock in the middle of the road, skinning her hands, face and knees. The car was moving very slowly at the time or the hurts suffered might have been far more serious.

Gun Club Thawing Out

Sunday, with the advent of warmer weather, saw a slight increase in the number who wanted to try their skill on the elusive, hard-to-hit clay birds and the following scores were the result, based on 25 birds:

Frank Rider	16
Joe Gardner	16
O. W. Henry	15
Frank Crocker	14
M. Long	13
Frank Boyd	13

Due to the absence of all Masonic members of the club the number present was far less than usual. At the next regular shoot, held Sunday, it is hoped to have a full turnout of at least three squads.

Visitors are always welcome at these shoots, but no children are allowed unless accompanied by parents.

Miss Stump In Arizona

GRAIN MARKET SHOWS SLIGHTLY FIRMER TONE

Domestic grain markets strengthened slightly with the beginning of the New Year, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Some improvement in the domestic wheat market situation in Canada had a strengthening influence on the domestic wheat market, but the situation generally remained about unchanged, with southern hemisphere wheat more freely offered in foreign markets. Reduced marketings of corn, together with a continued good demand, strengthened the corn market, and prices tended upward. Rye, oats and barley were firmer at the close of the week, influenced principally by the strength in corn. The flax market steadied with other grains, but reflected a slow demand from users.

Holiday dullness continued to prevail in world wheat markets. Some improvement in the financial condition of grain marketing agencies in Canada had a strengthening influence at Winnipeg and the market was generally strengthened. The Liverpool market held practically unchanged, with southern hemisphere offerings increasing. Showery weather has delayed harvesting in Argentina and the quality of the wheat in some areas has been lowered, according to trade reports. Moderate charterings of ocean space at 12½¢ per bushel have been made, and 6½¢-lb. Rosaf wheat for January-February shipments was being offered in English markets at 61¼¢. Australian harvesting has also been delayed, and charterings are from 18¼¢ to 20¼¢ per bushel were reported relatively small. Australian wheat is being offered in English markets at 73¼¢. Russian shipments continue of fair volume, but North America is now supplying the bulk of the world shipments. North American exports of wheat and flour for the week totaling nearly 5,000,000 bushels. Most of these shipments, however, are of Canadian wheat, which is being offered for shipment by January 15 at 71¼¢ CIF Liverpool for No. 1 Manitoba. Continental European markets were dull during the holiday period and prices held about unchanged. Native wheat at Paris was quoted at $1.74½, at Hamburg $1.67½, at Genoa $1.43½, and at Copenhagen at 70¢ per bushel.

Domestic wheat markets were held practically unchanged, and current offerings were being readily taken at steady prices at most markets. Receipts of both winter and spring wheat were of fair volume, with growers generally selling rather freely since current cash prices are being maintained well above an export basis and also considerably above new crop futures. Receipts of wheat at seven of the larger winter markets totaled 2,169 cars, compared with 2,553 cars the previous week, and 2,340 cars the corresponding week last year. Arrivals at Kansas City were fairly large and while readily taken, went largely into storage, with the result that public elevator stocks increased nearly 1,000,000 bushels, making the total not much below that of last August. With more corn and other grains in store than in August, elevator space in that market is becoming rather scarce. No. 1 hard winter wheat with protein up to 12½ per cent was taken at 70¢, No. 2 hard winter at 69¢ to 69½¢ and No. 3 at 68 to 68½¢.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were steady, with prices at Portland and Seattle held unchanged from a week ago. Growers were reported selling more freely at the steady prices. The recent postponement of the reduction in freight rates, together with the approach of tax paying time, March 1, was also tending to increase the country marketings. At the close of the market January 2, No. 1 hard white Big Bend Bluestem or early hard variety was quoted at Portland, at 71¢, soft and western white at 67½¢, hard winter, northern spring and western red, at 65¢ per bushel, sacked. Future prices were held at 65¢ per bushel for January and 68¢ for May delivery. With current quotations well above an export basis, no new export business in either flour or wheat to Europe or the Orient was reported. Cheaper Canadian quotations are supplying the Oriental demand and European bids were about 5¢ below current quotations on domestic wheat. Local mills were taking small amounts of wheat for do-

Idaho Is a Leader In Farm Electrification

 STATES CROSS-HATCHED—10 TO 25 PER CENT OF FARMS WITH HIGH-LINE ELECTRIC SERVICE
 STATES IN BLACK—LESS THAN 10 PER CENT OF FARMS WITH HIGH-LINE ELECTRIC SERVICE

Today Idaho ranks eleventh in the nation in farm electrification—30.20 per cent of the farms of this state are already electrified.

The chart above shows the development of farm electrification throughout the United States. It shows that Western farmers have been quick to utilize electric service, for greater efficiency and comfort on the farm.

Statistics from which the above map was drawn, show that there are 12,571 electrified farms in this state!

This widespread use of electricity on Idaho farms is proof of the liberal extension policies of the private electric service companies. Electric service is constantly being made available to more and more farms in Idaho.

GRAIN MARKET SHOWS SLIGHTLY FIRMER TONE

California wheat markets remained quiet, with prices practically unchanged. California growers were still holding supplies and asking 10c to 20c per 100 over quotations on the northern coast. California wheat was being offered at $1.20 to $1.30 Sacramento Valley points, or $1.45 to $1.55 delivered at San Francisco. Buyers were generally bidding $1.35 to $1.40 delivered at San Francisco for No. 1 hard and soft white wheats. Northern wheat was being offered at $1.30 to $1.31½ for No. 2 soft and western white wheats. California poultry feeders were purchasing fair quantities of sample grade washed wheats from Washington and Oregon at $1.27½ delivered at the dock at San Francisco or $1.35 delivered at Petaluma. No. 2 dark hard winter from inter-mountain states was quoted at $1.45 to $1.50 in bulk, delivered at California points. Mills were taking moderate amounts of this wheat for blending purposes. Receipts of wheat at San Francisco during December totaled 9,847 tons, of which 8,232 tons were northern wheat. Nearly half of the wheat received at San Francisco since June 1 came from Washington and Oregon.

Postoffice Business Increased
It is indeed gratifying, in the face of the fact that practically all lines of business have fallen off, to learn that receipts at the local postoffice for the past year have increased in the total of $238.03 over those of 1929.
The stamp sales of the office increased $248.71 over the sales of 1929, but other departments of the office fell off sufficiently to over-balance a portion of this gain, leaving the total gain at $238.03.
The Christmas mail showed a gain of $105.00 over that of 1929, which is also gratifying, and the number of packages of various sizes were more numerous than a year ago.
The average scholar doesn't care how quick Christmas comes.

The Flashlight

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, December 19, 1930 No. 28

Published in the Interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES TO EVERYONE

Ho, hum! Well folks, here it is 1931. We can't say that feel any different this year than we did last, though the calendar says we are older. Well, never am I supposed to say I'm getting old, but I do feel that the price of hardware in Kendrick still lower, and don't forget, 5% off for cash.

We note that the gun club was frozen up Sunday and only four case-hardened shooters on the job, well, we were almost froze up ourselves.

Jim—Well what happened to McTavish?

George Wright—Ed. Deobald told him he could get his pants pressed free by letting a steam-roller run over them.

Jim—Why did that kill him?
 George—Ed. forgot to tell him to take them off.

Sure that Scotchman was close, but our hardware prices are closer. Just think, a dozen clip-proof, tinted water glasses for only 89c and a set of six cups and saucers, white, for only 57c. What more could anyone ask?

We note where Rolla Clark of St. Louis has made his living for five years by eating tacks, glass and razor blades. Well, we have the first and last mentioned, but who the heck want to eat 'em.

Did you break that axe handle the other morning? Well, never mind, we have lots of them and they are priced right.

What did you say? Lamps, electric or kerosene? Yes, we have both and believe me they are dandys.

We note where a man clove-formed a woman in England and cut off her hair. Well, he couldn't have been using a pair of scissors sold by us or the job would have been so slick as to avoid comment.

Nails, hammers, screws, hatchets, axes, wedges, chisels, hammers, saws, planes, jack-knives, every sort of edged tool right here at this store, the "Store of Exceptional Service".

KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY, JANUARY 9, 1931

NO. 2

FARMERS ADVISED TO RAISE LESS SPRING WHEAT

Wheat farmers of northern Idaho can well afford to materially reduce their spring wheat acreage, substituting carefully selected crops, says H. W. Hulbert, head of the department of agronomy of the University of Idaho, college of agriculture.

The need of other sources of income, and the low price of wheat should make this statement particularly interesting to wheat farmers of northern Idaho. Also, Prof. Hulbert points out, winter wheat yields spring wheat by fifteen to twenty per cent. This is the result of ten-year average yields where four commonly-grown varieties each of winter and spring wheats have been tested at the experiment station at Moscow. Replacement crops for spring wheat acreage must be based on two factors; the possibility of utilizing substitute crops within the section, and the local climatic conditions.

Spring barley and oats are suitable grain crop substitutes, he claims. Spring barley, because of greater yield, is the better choice. Over a ten-year period it has yielded 15 per cent more per acre than winter wheat and nearly 1500 bushels more than spring wheat. The average grown is dependent on the possible utilization in feeding and the demand from the market.

Peas make a satisfactory substitute crop but at present pea acreage should not be materially increased if they are to be used as a crop. As a thrashed crop for feeding purposes peas outyielded wheat a ton to the acre by spring wheat, which has about the same yield per pound, for livestock feeding. Expansion depends on the use of peas for hogging or pasturing with hogs.

Soy beans can be grown instead of peas in the western sections, Prof. Hulbert continues, but they are strictly a winter season crop they cannot be grown profitably beyond the border of the present bean growing areas and should be considered as a crop to be utilized locally for feed. They also make an excellent crop to supplement corn in finishing.

In certain parts of northern Idaho, red and alsike clover and alfalfa can be used for seed production. Certain portions of the prairie section produce excellent yields of alsike clover, and this crop makes a good rotation with wheat. Red clover produces profitably at Moscow and certain other areas. Alfalfa produces abundantly on the higher lands north of Bonners Ferry. It also has produced satisfactory yields at Moscow for each of the past five years. It requires a special stand for seed production, which depends on careful and painstaking methods. Hay stands have no value for seed production of alfalfa. Grass seeds produce high yields and farmers in the Palouse area have grown them with considerable profit.

Careful cultural methods are necessary if a high quality crop is to be produced. Alfalfa and red clover hay can be grown to the extent of the market needs within an area. Sweet clover is a satisfactory pasturage if livestock is a part of the farming system. Peas and oats seeded together make good annual hay crops, if needed.

Many farmers believe an occasional year of fallow essential in the control of annual weeds. The fallow year would replace a portion of the spring wheat crop. When such fallow is plowed early and carefully cared for, it will assure a higher yield of winter wheat the following season. Detailed suggestions for the replacement of the spring wheat crop in northern Idaho will be available soon by the college of agriculture. These suggestions will be based on years of experimentation and observation. They will be released to assist in the development of a long-time agricultural program for this area.

KE PASSES BROTHERS HOME

Brocke, a former resident of the Kendrick section, passed away at his home in Clarkston on Friday, January 2, 1930, the immediate cause being heart failure.

Brocke was born February 6, 1888, near Genesee, in what was then Nez Perce county. He resided there with his parents until ten years of age, when he moved with his parents to a farm near American Ridge, in 1888. He was married to Miss Etta Stockwell, daughter of Big Bear ridge, October 10, 1901. To this union one son, Donald, was born.

Mr. and Mrs. Brocke continued to reside on the farm until about a year ago, when they went to Clarkston to make their home, where they have since resided.

Mr. Brocke is survived by his widow and son, Donald, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brocke of Kendrick; three brothers and three sisters, Charles Brocke of Oakland, Cal., Nicholas Brocke, Jr., San Francisco, Joseph Brocke, Spokane, Mrs. H. P. Wilcox, Lewiston, Mrs. Etta Haggist, Portland, Mrs. Amelia Leland, San Francisco.

The funeral rites were in charge of the Masonic lodge, the ceremony being held at the grave. Burial was made in the American Ridge cemetery on Sunday, January 4, at 1 p. m.

The pallbearers were Ira Haven, Ben Callison, Harry Benscoter, Clarence Dougherty, Harley Eichner and Harry Ameling.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the Masonic lodge for their kindness and the beautiful floral offerings, and also do we wish to express our gratitude to our friends and neighbors who so willingly helped us in our time of need.

Mrs. J. I. Brocke and son, Donald, Mr. and Mrs. N. Brocke and family.

Narrowly Escapes Injury

Annabell Deobald, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, had a very narrow escape from serious injury last Sunday afternoon when a door of the car in which they were riding flew open and she fell out.

The family were on their way to Lewiston for an afternoon's drive, when, on rounding the curve near the Arrow Junction school Annabell noticed that one of the rear doors of the sedan was not closed and reached over in an endeavor to close it. The swing of the car on the corner, together with the pull of the wind jerked the door open and she fell from the car onto a ridge of rock in the middle of the road, skimming her hands, face and knees. The car was moving very slowly at the time or the hurts suffered might have been far more serious.

Gun Club Thawing Out

Sunday, with the advent of warmer weather, saw a slight increase in the number who wanted to try their skill on the elusive, hard-to-hit clay birds and the following scores were the result, based on 25 birds:

Joe Gardner	16
O. W. Henry	15
Frank Crocker	14
M. Long	13
Frank Boyd	13

Due to the absence of all Masonic members of the club the number present was far less than usual. At the next regular shoot, held Sunday, it is hoped to have a full turnout of at least three squads.

Visitors are always welcome at these shoots, but no children are allowed unless accompanied by parents.

GRAIN MARKET SHOWS SLIGHTLY FIRMER TONE

Domestic grain markets strengthened slightly with the beginning of the New Year, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

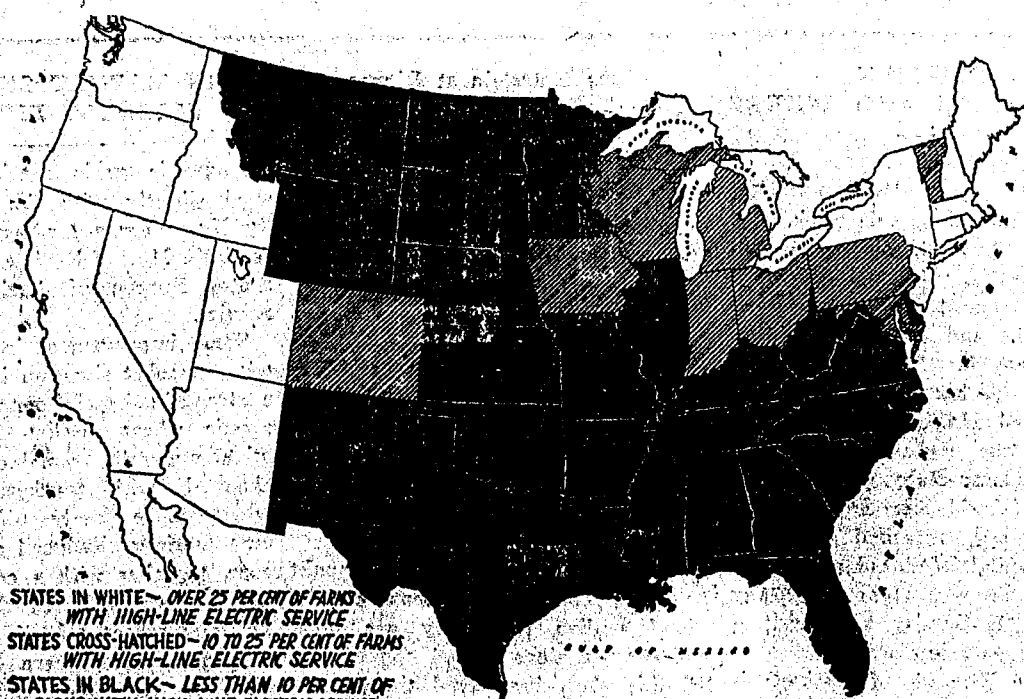

Some improvement in the domestic wheat market situation in Canada had a strengthening influence on the domestic wheat market, but the situation generally remained about unchanged, with southern hemisphere wheat more freely offered in foreign markets. Reduced marketings of corn, together with a continued good demand strengthened the corn market, and prices tended upward. Rye, oats and barley were firmer at the close of the week, influenced principally by the strength in corn. The flax market steadied with other grains, but reflected a slow demand from users.

Holiday dullness continued to prevail in world wheat markets. Some improvement in the financial condition of grain marketing agencies in Canada had a strengthening influence at Winnipeg and the market was generally strengthened. The Liverpool market held practically unchanged, with southern hemisphere offerings increasing. Showery weather has delayed harvesting in Argentina and the quality of the wheat in some areas has been lowered, according to trade reports. Moderate charterings of ocean space at 12 1/2c per bushel have been made, and 6 1/2c lb. Rosate wheat for January-February shipments was being offered in English markets at 6 1/4c. Australian harvesting has also been delayed and charterings at 18 1/4c to 20 1/4c per bushel were reported relatively small. Australian wheat is being offered in English markets at 7 3/4c. Russian shipments continue of fair volume, but North America is now supplying the bulk of the world shipments. North American exports of wheat and flour for the week totaling nearly 5,000,000 bushels. Most of these shipments, however, are of Canadian wheat, which is being offered for shipment by January 15 at 7 1/2c CIF Liverpool for No. 1 Manitoba. Continental European markets were dull during the holiday period and prices held about unchanged. Native wheat at Paris was quoted at $1.74 1/2; at Hamburg $1.67 1/4; at Genoa $1.43 1/2; and at Copenhagen at 76 1/2c per bushel.

Domestic wheat markets were held practically unchanged and current offerings were being readily taken at steady prices at most markets. Receipts of both winter and spring wheat were of fair volume, with growers generally selling rather freely since current cash prices are being maintained well above an export basis and also considerably above new crop futures. Receipts of wheat at seven of the larger winter markets totaled 2,169 cars, compared with 2,553 cars the previous week, and 2,340 cars the corresponding week last year. Arrivals at Kansas City were fairly large and while readily taken, went largely into storage, with the result that public elevator stocks increased nearly 1,000,000 bushels, making the total not much below that of last August. With more corn and other grains in store than in August, elevator space in that market is becoming rather scarce. No. 1 hard winter with protein up to 12 1/2c per cent was taken at 70c, No. 2 hard winter at 69c to 69 1/2c and No. 3 at 68 to 68 1/2c.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were steady, with prices at Portland and Seattle held unchanged from a week ago. Growers were reported selling more freely at the steady prices. The recent postponement of the reduction in freight rates, together with the approach of tax paying time, March 1, was also tending to increase the country marketings. At the close of the market January 2, No. 1 hard white Big Bend Bluestem or early baart variety was quoted at Portland at 71c, soft and western white at 67 1/2c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 65 1/2c per bushel, sacked. Future prices were held at 65c per bushel for January and 68c for May delivery. With current quotations well above an export basis, no new export business in either flour or wheat to Europe or the Orient was reported. Cheaper Canadian quotations are supplying the Oriental demand and European bids were about 5c below current quotations on domestic wheat. Local mills were taking small amounts of wheat for do-

Idaho Is a Leader In Farm Electrification

STATES CROSS-HATCHED—10 TO 25 PER CENT OF FARMS WITH HIGH-LINE ELECTRIC SERVICE
STATES IN BLACK—LESS THAN 10 PER CENT OF FARMS WITH HIGH-LINE ELECTRIC SERVICE

Today Idaho ranks eleventh in the nation in farm electrification—30.20 per cent of the farms of this state are already electrified.

The chart above shows the development of farm electrification throughout the United States. It shows that Western farmers have been quick to utilize electric service, for greater efficiency and comfort on the farm.

Statistics from which the above map was drawn, show that there are 12,571 electrified farms in this state!

This widespread use of electricity on Idaho farms is proof of the liberal extension policies of the private electric service companies. Electric service is constantly being made available to more and more farms in Idaho.

TEKEAN NEWS

On New Year's morning when Mrs. Fred Choate went out to feed her chickens she found only one live hen, the rest of them, 42 in all, lay dead on the floor, and back in one corner of the building she saw a cat. She called Mr. Choate, who came with a gun, and shot the animal, which proved to be a young lynx.

Mrs. Wm. Groscluse called on Mrs. Asa Choate Monday.

Miss Nickitie Baugh and her brother, Reece, who spent the holidays visiting at the home of their uncle, Simon Baugh, went back to Lewiston Sunday.

The two little boys of Mr. and Mrs. Lesco Reece are both sick this week.

The new church bell has arrived but has not been put up yet. As soon as the weather permits, we hope to have it put in place.

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, December 19, 1930 No. 28

Published in the Interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

Well, it does rather seem like spring might be just around the corner, but even so, we still think you'd like those little parlor furnaces we are showing.

Doctor (to fair patient): "You certainly have acute appendicitis."

Fair Patient: "Oh doctor, you flatter me."

Shotgun shells that give a real pattern. Try them, trapshooters.

Took a spill the other night while stumbling around in the dark? Well, carry one of our lanterns and it wont happen.

Small boy: "I'm afraid of going to the hospital, mother. I'll be brave and take my medicine, but I ain't going to let them palm off a baby on me like they did on you, I want a pup."

Come in here for your hardware needs, we won't palm off anything on you that you don't want.

Hardware and fencing costs are lower now than they have been for years. Why not start planning now for this type of work that you are going to do in the spring?

Many farmers are butchering these days and we have received a number of compliments on the quality of our knives that they are using.

Hunting coyotes? Then let us supply you with real hard-hitting, accurate ammunition. Priced right and 5 per cent off for cash, too!

The name of Tiffany on a set of silverware has thrilled many a maid about to be withdrawn from circulation. Many a perfectly good husband has been drowned in Campbell's soup.

Spend these long winter evenings at home in comfort. Read by the clear light of an Alladin lamp. There's one for every purse and purpose.

Take a slant at the shooting scores, they are improving. We guess they must have used the suggesting of a member that if the birds were tied on a string, they would last longer!

Mr. Sparber is hardly a man that would be taken to be past eighty years of age—in fact, he doesn't look to be within several years of it, yet he will be 82 years young next March 13. His wife is some nine years his junior, and they have been married for more than 51 years, a privilege allowed but few. Mr. Sparber has never been what you might call ill, and from present appearance he will be here for many years yet to enjoy life.
