Mrs. Talbott Presented Jewel

At the regular meeting of the Rebekah lodge last Thursday evening, Mrs. N. M. Talbott received an agreeable surprise when she was presented a 15-year veteran's jewel. Mrs. Talbott is a charter member of this lodge and has served as Noble Grand. For six years she served as district deputy president, having a perfect attendance record during that time. Lunch was served following lodge and a social hour enjoyed.

The Juliaetta school board, at its regular meeting Tuesday evening re-elected the present staff of teachers for the term beginning next September, composed of the following: Superintendent, Mrs. Luna Deane; high school, Miss Edith Adriansen; grammar grades, Miss Agnes Eckerman; intermediate grades, Miss Mary Grace Brackett; primary grades, Mrs. Eula Adriansen.

Honey Taken From House

Swarms of honeybees have lived between the walls of the Will Combs home for about five years, causing a great deal of inconvenience. For the second time since their arrival, Mr. Combs has tried to remove them. Last Saturday he succeeded in putting some into hives and killing many others. He also secured about 60 pounds of comb honey.

Store Being Re-finished

Charlie Noble has been busy for several days giving his store the appearance of spring. The walls have been kalsomined and the shelves and counters have a new coat of paint.

Parents of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchison are the parents of a ten-pound daughter, born early Saturday morning.

Must Serve 18 Months

Daisy DeVoe, the blond-haired ex-secretary of Clara Bow, must serve 18 months in the Los Angeles county jail for her part in the recent unpleasantness between the "It" girl and her ex-secretary. As it was, there was plenty of "mud" in evidence, but there is no telling where it might have stopped had not the presiding judge put a stop to it.

A good fresco properly used might be a good thing of Hollywood.

WHITE WALNUTS NOT DO WELL IN THIS SECTION

According to a communication received from T. O. Greene of Juliaetta, who probably knows this section of the country better than any other one man, we took in too much territory when we suggested the raising of white walnuts in the Juliaetta section. Mr. Greene's communication follows:

"With reference to your suggestion that the Big Potlatch valley add white (English) walnuts to her products, may I offer the opinion that climatic conditions here are not very favorable to the raising of white walnuts. The white walnut trees are not very hardy, and if a sudden spell of sub-zero weather follows a period of very mild weather—starting the sap to flow—the white walnut trees are almost sure to suffer injury—if not killed outright.

"It is true that Juliaetta has boasted of a single white walnut tree that, when 18 years old, in a single season, bore 280 pounds of nuts. But the tree, while still alive, and which is now more than 30 years old, probably did not bear during all the other years of its life, as many pounds of nuts as during its one record making year.

"On the other hand the black walnut is quite hardy, and can be grown successfully in the Potlatch valley—and there should be thousands of these trees growing here to the few dozens that are now growing.

"Black walnut lumber commands a price varying from $250 to $1500 per thousand board feet, according to the quality of the lumber—the part cut from the stumps—called burl walnut—commanding the highest price.

"The nuts of the black walnut trees pay well for the space they occupy—the kernels being superior to those of the white walnuts for cakes and confections.

"From two trees the correspondent planted some twenty years ago twelve bushels of nuts were grown during a single season. By keeping them in the outside hulls they will keep sweet for two or three years, and one can count on a good crop of black walnuts about one year in two. So the 'leftovers' from one year can be used the year of crop failure—so that a supply of nuts may be had all the time.

"I planted a half dozen white walnut trees and carefully kept and cared for them for about fifteen years. Last year I dug them up, as the six trees together, had not borne more than a gallon of nuts during the entire fifteen year period.

"The black walnut trees could be planted along creeks or rivers (they thrive better with plenty of moisture). The nuts will not be large enough to pay if grown at an altitude of more than 2000 feet above sea level—the growing season being too short for the development of large nuts.

"Hoping this information may be useful to many readers of the Gazette, and that the planting of more black walnuts in the Big Potlatch valley will result—for pleasure for those who like to eat nuts—and who does not?—and for the profit of raising them for the lumber that may be cut from the trees by our children if not by ourselves. Others planted the nut trees from which we now enjoy ourselves. Let us not live for ourselves alone, but for others.

Magazine Grifters Again

Another contingent of magazine grifters were working town again last Saturday. This time some of the girls were working for a $500 prize, so they said. Of course they were—trying to work the people for that amount, or any other they might be able to wheedle out of the unsuspecting.

It is a case of graft all the way through. Buy or subscribe for your magazines at the local news store and you will always get what you pay for.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club was held at the Kendrick Hotel Tuesday evening, when some 25 or more citizens gathered to talk over the problems of our little city. The first thing on the program, of course, was a dinner served to the guests by the hotel management, after which the business of the evening was taken up and discussed.

Reports of committee chairmen were heard, Jack Carroll and Norris Walker, for the road committee, made an interesting report on the problems encountered in that department. The town has started a fund for the graveling of the streets, but at the present time there seems to be hardly sufficient money available for the necessary work. Mr. Walker, one of the Highway commissioners explained the situation regarding the rock, stating that the crusher the district has cannot crush the rock as fine as it should be for street work and that unless arrangements can be made for the purchase of additional equipment, it may be necessary to get the gravel elsewhere.

The question of issuing a community calendar was again brought up and partial report made, but the committee was granted further time for the securing of the necessary figures as to cost and other data.

At this time mention was made regarding the office service being given residents of the town by the Washington Water Power company, the statement being made that users of "juice" were not getting the service they were entitled to for the reason that the office was closed the biggest part of the time while Mr. Schupfer, the local manager, was out taking care of necessary work; that many users of juice were forced to wait long hours before they could get into the office to get necessary small electrical sundries, such as are oftentimes required on short notice; that an office girl to take care of these requirements, give information regarding the whereabouts of the manager and attend to other minor details, would be a great help and much appreciated by the patrons of the company. They had no criticism of Mr. Schupfer, the point being made that he was taking care of the business as well as anyone could do and work alone. It was the consensus of opinion of the club that Kendrick should be given the same consideration as towns of similar size and number of accounts and a committee was appointed by the chair to take the matter up and report at the next meeting.

The point was made that the meeting of the club on Tuesday nights interferred with many wishing to attend lodge and it was asked that, for the present at least, the regular meeting nights be changed to Monday night preceding the second Tuesday of each month, making the next meeting fall on Monday night, March 9.

Has Chance For Recovery

F. J. McNeal, who was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Monday afternoon, suffering from complications following a bad case of measles, is reported as doing as well as could be expected. It seems that Mr. McNeal had ruptured one of his lungs when coughing. An X-ray was made and his lung later tapped and it is now thought he has a fair chance for recovery.

SUNDAY SEES SHOOT DOPE, BUCKET UPSET

Sunday's shoot saw the local dope bucket completely upset, so far as scores went, and also saw a record for the club set, when Walt Bigham made a run of 19 straight, to finish with a score of 22 birds out of 25.

Sunday's shoot saw a large number of tie scores, which were not shot off, and rumor has it that these ties will be shot off next Sunday.

Following are the high scores on a 25 bird basis:

Walt Bigham	22
Wade Keene	19
Frank Rider	19
W. May	18
O. W. Henry	18
H. Schupfer	18
Ed Deobald	18

Sunday was also the fourth time that a score of 22 has been made on the local traps, Wade Keene, Frank Crocker and Frank Rider being the governors to make this score, but Walt Bigham's run of 19 straight is the best to date.

Considerable discussion is under way as to the advisability of moving the grounds to some position where better light can be had, as the light and background are not always of the best at the present location, but the shoots will continue to be held at the same old place until a better place can be located and secured.

It is expected that quite a large crowd will be out next Sunday, providing the weather permits, to see the tie scores shot off between the tie men of last Sunday. Many have also expressed the wish to see the four high men of the club shoot it out, with Herman Schupfer making a possible fifth, as his run of 21 is the second best score.

We Are Proud of Correspondents

The Gazette has received many compliments recently from former residents of Kendrick and contiguous territory on the number of correspondents we have and the large amount of news they send in each week. Our correspondents are the ones to be congratulated and the Gazette is willing to pass it along to where it rightfully belongs, but that doesn't keep us from being proud of them and their efforts in helping us make the Gazette a real country paper.

It is impossible for anyone to make a good country paper unless they have the cooperation and ready help of their readers, such as the Gazette has. We want our correspondents to know that we fully appreciate their efforts in every way and wish to congratulate them on the amount of readable news that they send in each week.

The "Perfect" Month

February, 1931, has been hailed by many as the "perfect" month, beginning on Sunday and ending on Saturday, but did they ever stop to remember that it has a "Friday, the 13th" in it? and that by coming in on Sunday and going out on Saturday that March also will contain a "Friday, the 13th"?

Taking these two calamities into consideration, and the fact that Sir Groundhog probably saw his shadow on his day, just what is going to be done about all the things that may happen, anyway?

Send in your news items—please.

Spring On the Way

As an indication that "spring is just around the corner," many residents of Kendrick have been "scratching around out in their yards. Many have been seen with a rake, but Mrs. H. P. Hull is the first to really uncover her bed of daffodils and tulips, exposing them to the weather. The shoots are up some two or three inches and remind one that February is considerably more than a third gone and that turbulent March is just in the offing.

IDAHO HAS SPENT MANY MILLIONS FOR HIGHWAYS

Idaho has a system of state highways which has cost more than $50,000,000 since 1913 and to bring this system to a satisfactory degree of completion will require the expenditure of approximately $33,000,000 more, it is shown in the report submitted recently to the executive board of the highway committee of 21 of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce.

The report is an exhaustive study of Idaho's highway history from the beginning until the present time and in addition is projected into the future to show what revenues may be expected and how long it will take to bring the system to an adequate degree of completion.

The length of time necessary to complete is variously estimated, depending on whether or not more or less help is received from local units such as counties and highway districts. But in all events the state's one basic income for highway purposes, the gasoline tax, has been presumed to remain intact over a period of years.

Sixteen sheets of tables accompany the report explaining in detail the facts set forth in the printed matter. The entire report is, of course, too voluminous to be reproduced here but the executive board of the highway committee has ordered the entire report printed and as soon as this work is finished copies will be available for general distribution.

Governor-elect C. Ben Ross and J. D. Wood, commissioner of public works, sat in with the committee to hear the report and expressed the opinion that if the highway program was to continue the state's revenue measures for the purpose should be undisturbed. Mr. Wood reported that the American Association of State Highway officials meeting recently in Pittsburg had urged by resolution the immediate advancement by congress of federal aid highway funds which, under ordinary conditions, would not become available until July 1, 1931.

Going a step further the association is asking that these funds be made available for 100 per cent participation in the government highway work and that the several states later reimburse the government for their share advanced. If this latter provision is carried out by congress a condition will be that no change be made in the highway revenue producing laws of the states taking advantage of advanced funds.

Have Made Improvements

Geo. Barnum has made considerable improvement at his lumber yard recently. He has transformed a portion of his lumber shed into an addition to his display room for hardware and smaller building materials, giving him a little more than 225 square feet added space to display his wares.

W. F. Behrens has also made considerable improvement on the interior of his machine warehouse and shop, moving his workbench to the rear of the building and putting in a door and several windows in the back wall, making the lighting for work much better than ever before. Mr. Behrens later expects to make other improvements in his building and equipment.

Still Have One

We still have one of those big 10-pound plus turnips, brought to this office late last fall by Chauncey Compton, and the thing has begun to grow again. We are at somewhat of a loss as to just what to do with it, and again we are afraid that if we keep it in the office it will get so large that we will have to take out one side of the building to get it away. The other one was hauled away last fall and used to feed stock during the winter.

There is no telling what might be grown here if things were actually given the necessary cultural attention to make them attain abnormal size.

MARKET IS FIRMER WITH WHEAT IN BETTER DEMAND

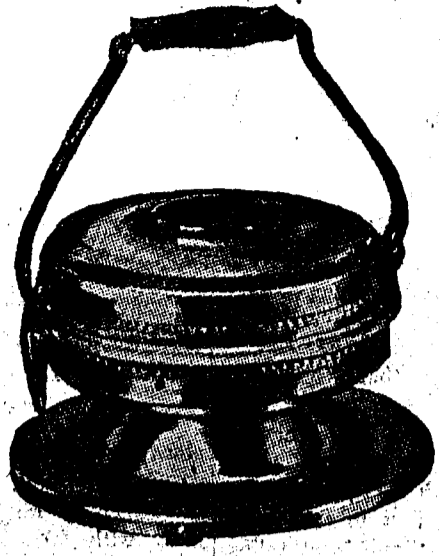

Domestic cash wheat markets held steady with prices but a little changed from a week ago. Markets continued heavy for this season of the year, with farmers selling freely at current prices, which continued to hold well above export bids and new crop quotations. Receipts at the principal winter wheat markets totaled 3,536 cars during the week, compared with 1,962 cars during the corresponding period last year. Some of this wheat was apparently two or three years' old, according to trade reports. The quality of the current offerings is good, with about 87 per cent of the January receipts at Kansas City grading No. 3 or better. The protein of the month's inspections averaged 11.93 per cent. Heavy offerings at Omaha were being shipped out, largely to Chicago and other outside areas. Trading at Fort Worth was dull, reflecting the lack of export business, and the slow domestic demand. Hard winter wheat was in fair demand at St. Louis, but inquiry for soft winter wheat was very dull, with domestic marketing agencies absorbing practically all of the offerings. Mills were taking very little soft winter wheat in that market. Milling demand was also slow at Cincinnati and elevators absorbed a big part of the offerings. At the close of the market February 6, No. 2 hard winter, 12 to 13 per cent protein, was quoted at Kansas City at 78½c to 79c and at St. Louis at 77c per bushel. No. 2 soft red winter was quoted at 80c per bushel at St. Louis and 78½c to 79c at Cincinnati.

Marketing of spring wheat also continued rather liberal, receipts at Minneapolis totaling 1,300 cars for the week. Mill buying was rather limited and selective. Domestic marketing agencies absorbed a large percentage of the daily arrivals at very steady prices. The market for durum wheat was dull and prices held practically unchanged. There were some indications that some export business may be done in domestic durum wheat, since Canadian supplies are reported to be practically exhausted. Domestic prices, however, are still above export bids.

Pacific Coast markets held practically unchanged, under a slow demand from domestic mills and feeders, and the lack of an export outlet at current quotations. Marketings at Seattle and Portland continued relatively large, but were mostly taken by domestic marketing agencies. Domestic mills took small amount and moderate quantities were sold into California. Prices remained practically unchanged, with No. 1 western white quoted at Seattle at 67½c, western red and hard winter at 65c, bluestem at 68c and dark hard winter with 14 per cent protein at 70c per bushel, sacked. Montana dark hard winter, with 14 per cent protein, was quoted in bulk at 71c, and dark northern spring at 72½c per bushel. Big Bend bluestem No. 1 hard white was quoted in Portland at 70c, soft and western white at 67½c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 64½c, all sacked. Receipts of wheat at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals during the week totaled 881 cars, compared with 662 cars for the corresponding period last year.

California wheat markets were quiet, with prices remaining about unchanged. California growers were still selling slowly and asking from $1.15 to $1.25 per 100, F. O. B. Sacramento points for No. 1 hard and soft white wheats, which was 10c to 20c per 100 over current market quotation. Northern wheat was being offered freely and millers and feeders were obtaining the bulk of their requirements from Washington and Oregon. January receipts of wheat at San Francisco totaled 5,197 tons, of which 3,516 tons were of Northern wheat. Of 68,370 tons received since the first of June, 42,000 tons were from Washington and Oregon. Less than 20,000 tons of northern wheat were received at San Francisco during this period last year. New crop prospects in California were mostly favorable, with the crop benefited by rain during the week. Low prices of wheat feeds and of poultry and dairy products, have reduced consuming demand for wheat in California this season. At the close of the market February 6, No. 2 soft winter and western white wheat from Washington and Oregon was quoted at $1.25, No. 2 hard winter with 12 per cent protein at $1.30 and No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana at $1.40.

VETERANS' DIVIDENDS TO BE INCREASED

The director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau at Washington, D. C., has approved a new schedule for dividends payable during the year 1931 on United States life insurance policies, according to information received by C. H. Huddleston, manager of veterans' administration at Boise.

Under the new dividend schedule the government, for the year 1931, will disburse approximately $8,200,000 to holders of government converted life insurance. This represents an increase of over $900,000 in payment of dividends over the year 1930. The above dividend rate is the highest ever authorized by the Bureau and is evidence of the Bureau's policy of passing on to its policy holders the benefits of favorable conditions.

This increases the amount of dividends on all plans of government convertible insurance except the five-year convertible term. This policy has had a less favorable mortality experience and has resulted in a corresponding decrease in the dividend on this plan as compared with the dividend paid in 1930.

Government life insurance is furnished to the veterans at less than cost since the government bears all expense of administration. The premiums are the net rates according to the American experience table of mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The policies include protection against total and permanent disability without limit as to the age before which disability must occur, and there is no additional premium for this benefit.

Complete information can be secured concerning the various policies issued by the United States government by addressing a communication to Manager, Veterans' Administration, Boise, Idaho.

Those taking part were: Edna Bolon, Nona McAllister, Eldwa Jones, Eleanor Herres, Allie Foster, Nellie Crocker and Hazel Reid. Two choruses were sung by the girls, with a reading and auto-harp solos contributed by Miss Teachman.

The purpose of the entertainment was to pay for new curtains purchased to curtain off the platform for future pageants and entertainments. Although the night was stormy, and much sickness in town, the proceeds paid for the curtains, and a small balance for the church treasury. The League girls sold home made candy, which netted a neat little sum for their treasury.

PLANNING BUDGET FOR THE COMING YEAR

Many Farm Women Keep Household Accounts in Connection With Their Home Demonstration Work.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

One of the New Year's resolutions made by a good many families is to live according to a budget or definite spending plan for the coming year, but unless there is also a good method of keeping track of money as fast as it is spent so that the outgo may be frequently compared with the estimate, the resolution may fall to bear fruit.

To meet this need for a practical household financial record, the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture has designed a convenient loose-leaf account book which may be obtained from the superintendent of documents, government printing office, for 50 cents. However, any ruled blank book may be arranged in a similar way, using the page-to-a-class-of-expenditure system. A square notebook opening at the side rather than at the end, so as to permit ruling columns entirely across two pages, will be found desirable.

How much money do you expect to handle next year and from what sources? Set it down at the beginning of the book. Work out an estimate of probable expenditures for the entire year, getting the whole family to help remember what will be needed, and when the estimate fits the income enter it next. There are a good many classes of expense in most families—food, housing, operating, furnishings, clothing, health, development, personal, automobile, and savings, including insurance. Allow a page or more for each. The edges of the book may be cut out for a marginal index. Provide a summary page to be filled in at the end of each month. Other pages you may wish to include will show "property owned," "household inventory," "record of insurance policies," "record of investments." The bureau of home economics has kept the needs of the farm woman especially in mind in planning the loose-leaf account book with special pages for such items as "products furnished by the farm," "garden record," "poultry record," "canned and preserved goods record," "accounts receivable," "accounts payable." Pages that do not apply to one's needs may be dropped under the loose-leaf plan.

At the head of each class of expenditures, set down the amount shown in the estimate for that purpose. Make a sort of game of trying to keep your expenses for that item within the required figure. Compare results as shown in the summary with what you expected to have to spend. This will give you an idea about planning your next budget. The record and the estimate, taken together, will show very conclusively what you are getting for your money and whether some departments of living are costing more than they should.

The home demonstration agent in this picture from Ohio is conferring with a farm housewife on her budget for next year. She is showing her how to plan her expenses and make an estimate, and how to record in a convenient and practical way the various items that complicate the rural housewife's records.

Mechanical Toys Seen

as Scientific Wonders
Among African negroes, a doll is supposed to have magical powers, and may be used to ward off evil, or offered up as a sacrifice.

Not so many years ago it was believed that to overcome an enemy it was only necessary to fashion a wax doll resembling him and melt it slowly before the fire, when he, too, would waste away with illness.

Toy animals, like those in Noah's ark, miniature picks, shovels and household articles, such as miniature tea services, were buried with the dead or were offered to the gods as imitation sacrifices. Thus a farmer would present at his temple little wooden sheep or horses; the housewife would offer small reproductions of household utensils.

Mechanical toys, such as trains, dancing bears and swimming ducks, had quite a different origin. They were produced as scientific wonders, by the great experimenters of long ago, and were regarded as playthings fit for a king. The more ignorant people believed them to be miraculous and sometimes the makers had narrow escapes from execution as wizards.

"Roses of Old Virginia"

Praised by Englishman

In old Virginia there were many kinds of wild roses. As soon as tobacco and cotton plantations were established and houses were built and there was time for beauty, a rose garden was planned, laid out and planted with native roses and the fashionable roses of the Seventeenth century which were brought over from the old country.

These rose gardens are an important and very beautiful feature of every Colonial place. They are very often walled in, and low-clipped box hedges formally divide the beds. The box may be planted in most intricate fashion, as at Mt. Vernon, George Washington's home, or it may be simpler, but it is always well trimmed and cut, as the new owners of these historic old places which were left derelict for long after the Civil war take a great pride in restoring and preserving their beauty and tradition. —Correspondent of the London Times.

Cremona Violins

Carlo Berzoni Cremona was an Italian violin maker. He lived from 1690 to 1746. This master has always been considered one of the best pupils of Stradivarius. He made several models usually flat, giving to the inferior part of the body of the instrument in width whatever the superior lost or gained in length. The sound holes, rather far apart, are very near the edges. The scroll lacks roundness, but at the same time has character. His varnish, always rich and transparent, although thick in places, varies from light red to brown red, sometimes amber yellow, and has a tendency to crackle slightly. The tone is particularly beautiful, combining refinement and power, and any violins made by this man are superinstruments.

Commemorative Stamp

The Battle of Fallen Timbers commemorative stamp issued by the Post Office department is a memorial to Gen. Anthony Wayne, and to commemorate the one hundred and fifth anniversary of this battle. "Mad Anthony" Wayne of Revolutionary war fame was called upon to end the Indian trouble at the frontier, when Harmar and St. Clair had failed. He began his campaign in Ohio in the fall of 1793. In 1794 he was active on the Maumee, and on August 20 defeated the Indians decisively at Fallen Timbers, and in August, 1795, he and 127 of the Northwestern tribes signed the treaty of Greenville, by which the United States acquired a large tract of territory.

Ancient Mulberry Gardens

Probably few of the guests at the king's garden parties at Buckingham palace associated the beautiful grounds with an attempt to found an English silk industry. In the reigns of Charles I and Charles II, these grounds were known as the Mulberry gardens, a place of fashionable resort mentioned by both Evelyn and Pepys. Dryden, it is recorded, used to repair here to eat mulberry tarts. The mulberry trees had been planted by James I to provide food for silkworms, one of his whims having been an attempt to encourage the production of silk.

History of Harpers Ferry

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., was named for Robert Harper, who founded it in 1747. He was born in 1703 at Oxford, England, and emigrated to America at the age of twenty. He bought the site of Harpers Ferry for 50 guineas—about $260—for the good will of a squatter named Stevens and a patent from Lord Fairfax. It was purchased from Harper's heirs by the government in 1794 for the purpose of founding a national armory of 125 acres. Later the site passed under the control of the new state of West Virginia.

After his second week in school, Billy came home with the announcement that an older boy was going to show him how to play a new game. "And what is the game?" asked his mother. "Hookey is what he calls it," responded unsuspecting Billy.

"You can drive all day at 60...and your Germ-Processed won't thin out!"

HOW often have you heard, "I'll have to change oil early this time because of high speed driving"? It was quite the customary thing, until Conoco Germ-Processed Oil came along. Now an all-day drive at a 60-mile speed brings no oil worries. You know that Germ-Processed oil won't thin out at high speeds; know, too, that it actually reduces motor operating temperatures because of the added "oiliness" produced by the Germ Process. The proof... at the Indianapolis and Altona races at speeds up to 120 miles an hour and in numberless individual tests... is history now. Your own experience will add to the weight of the proof. You need Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil in this day of high speed motors and high speed driving. You'll find it at the sign of the Conoco Red Triangle... the proper grade for your car at 35¢ a quart.

Attribute Quakes to Earth-Shaking Giants

In southern Italy, where earthquakes are of frequent occurrence, old peasants have many queer legends which have been handed down for centuries. In the neighborhood of Mount Etna one of the strangest of these is widely believed. The peasants will tell you that centuries ago their ancestors won the land from a race of giants. They compelled the giants to take refuge underground. There they remain and cannot escape, but from time to time they cause earthquakes, showing that they have not forgotten and that they still take their revenge upon mortals. No one knows what really causes earthquakes, though it is believed that some distance below the earth's hard crust there is a plastic layer in which tides, just like those of the sea, are set up by the attraction of the sun and moon. The crust is strained by these tides, and one day a part of it, deep down, gives way. Then the surface trembles and widespread havoc occurs as buildings rock and fall.

Riley "Checked Up"

Hamlin Garland has a new James Whitcomb Riley story in his reminiscences, "Roadside Meetings." Years ago Garland was visiting the Hoosier poet at his home and had praised his fidelity to farm life. Riley smiled. "Sometimes a country boy gives me a round turn by criticizing me on my farm poems," he chuckled. "For instance, one youngster came stepping up to me. 'You never lived on a farm,' he says. 'Why not?' said I. 'Well,' he says, 'turkey cock gobbles, but he don't kyouck as your poetry says he does.' He had me right there! It's the turkey hen that kyoucks. 'Well, you'll never hear another 'turkey cock of mine kyouckin.' I said to the boy."—Kansas City Star.

Odd Religious Sect

The word "abecedarian" is derived from the first four letters of the alphabet and is applied to one learning the alphabet; hence an Abecedarian is a tyro or beginner, says an article in Pathfinder Magazine. As an adjective the word means rudimentary. The Abecedarians were a sect of extreme Anabaptists in Germany during the sixteenth century. They were so nicknamed because they maintained that the holy spirit would grant the elect all the knowledge necessary to truth; they despised all learning, including theology, and regarded knowledge even of the alphabet as sinful.

Time Sense in Animals

Some people have the time sense, but the vast majority of the human race is sadly deficient in this faculty. But many of the lower animals possess an extraordinarily keen time sense. Note the way in which the animals at the zoological garden become restless at the approach of the feeding hour. On the farm the horses and poultry know exactly the times they are due to be fed. Ducks are particularly clever in this way, and they will raise a small riot if their evening meal does not arrive to the minute.

Saves Wear on Stockings

Every time Charley Payne, Jr., played marbles in Brooklyn his mother wondered how much longer she could go on buying stockings for the lad. Surely, she argued, there must be an inexpensive way of playing marbles without the fear of torn stockings, and so she began to work out an idea. With the aid of her husband, there presently appeared an object which was subsequently patented. It was a "device for projecting marbles and the like" and could be operated by a boy who stood up while he played.

English millers were reported to be using Australian, Russian and Argentine wheats, with about 5 to 10 per cent of Canadian grain. Australian shipments during the week totaled 4,500,000 bushels, with scarcity of money forcing farmers to sell freely. Ten full cargoes were sold during the week according to trade estimates, but foreign demand for this wheat was fairly active at around 64¢ per bushel, CIF European markets. Russia was again offering wheat and Russian shipments totaled 1,192,000 bushels. Other Black Sea shipments were small and no Indian exports were reported. North American exports amounted to approximately 7,000,000 bushels, mostly Canadian wheat. No. 2 Manitoba afloat was quoted in London at 76¢ per bushel at the close of the week. Prices of native wheats in Europe fluctuated somewhat, with French wheat being quoted at Paris at $1.81; German wheat at Hamburg at $1.75; native wheat at Milan at $1.52; and Danish wheat at Copenhagen at 72½¢ per bushel.

The Flashlight

Little Flashes of This and That

Vol. 1. Kendrick, Idaho, February 13, 1931 No. 36

Published in the Interests of the People of the Entire Potlatch Country by the Kendrick Hardware Company, Harold Thomas, Editor.

Well, here it is the 12th of February and after, and not much sign of any winter yet. Soon it will be planting time, and when you think of seeds, think of us!

Ah, But Love!

Young Scribbler and his bride were alone in their home for the first time. "Darling," she cried, "I must make a terrible confession to you—I can't cook."
"Aw, that's all right dear, I've a confession to make too. I'm a poet and there won't be anything to cook."

Tin work of all kinds, glass put in place, window shades, and many other things to help at home are found in this store.

Jim says a fat man is good natured because it takes him a long time to get mad clear through!

Trap shells, yes, we will have them soon. At what price? 95c a box—cash.

Painting? Yes, we have all that's needed for the job, you to supply the strong arm work.

Or Whoopsee!

He—If your father catches us eloping tonight I wonder what he'll say to your mother?
She—He'll probably say "Sh-It!"

Possibly true, but we don't intend to keep quiet about our fine water glasses, cups and saucers, aluminum ware and cream and green enamel ware, and many other things for the home. Come and see. And price—say you never bought goods so cheap. Real quality!

We heard a slam the other day on the simple pancake, for now it seems that a waffle is just a pancake with a non-skid tread!

Spring is in the air, and our thoughts naturally turn to the job of beautifying the home. Let us figure with you on your house paint, and remember, we have enamels, varnish, kalsomine, patching plaster, in short all kinds of decorating supplies, including brushes.

How about that pitchfork handle, that shovel or posthole digger handle? Let us supply you.

INTERESTING ITEMS FROM JULIAETTA

High School Party

An enjoyable party was given Friday evening for the high school pupils at the home of Wilbur Larkin. Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Weatherby, Mr. and Mrs. Arl Burns and Miss Mary Grace Brackett also attended. Games were played and refreshments served.

School Notes

Members of the Juliaetta school board entertained the teachers at a well appointed dinner Saturday evening in the tea-room of the Cochran Confectionery. The menu and table decorations were artistically carried out in Valentine suggestions. Immediately following the dinner interesting little pencil games were enjoyed by everyone. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Behrens, Mr. and Mrs. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Custer, Mr. and Mrs. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. Schupfer, Mrs. Deane, Mrs. Miller, Miss Eckerman, Miss Brackett and Miss Adriansen.

Miss Brackett ably reviewed three chapters of Reader's Simplifying Teaching at a meeting of the teachers Monday evening after school. A discussion of the problems presented followed. Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

Juliaetta Personals

Mrs. John Buck is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Tommy Weatherby.

Wendell Irwin left Sunday for Lewiston and will later go to Spokane for medical aid.

Mrs. Wilbur Larkin arrived from Moscow Sunday to spend several days with Mr. Larkin.

Mrs. Etta Van Horn arrived Sunday, from Seattle for an extended visit with her brother, Harve Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lew Minden of Spokane visited at the Will Combs home a few days last week. Mrs. Minden is a sister of Mrs. Combs.

Mrs. Mary Adams attended lodge last Thursday, returning to Kendrick Friday morning. She and Keith were guests of Mrs. C. S. Biddison while here.

About Sales Day

There seems to be some misunderstanding about the proposed sales-day that Mr. Hutcheson, Lewiston auctioneer, is promoting in Kendrick, to be held early in March.

Mr. Hutcheson is putting the auction sale on his own responsibility. The merchants have agreed to put on specials for that day, but with that their obligation ceases.

Mr. Hutcheson has announced that considerable farm stuff and some livestock has already been listed for the sale of which he will charge a fee of five (5) per cent. The merchants and business men of Kendrick have absolutely nothing to do with this phase of the affair.

We are making this statement, not to discredit Mr. Hutcheson, but some have the idea that the merchants of Kendrick are putting on the auction sale, the same as at the regular community sales day held last fall, when in fact the only thing they have to do with the day is making special prices on merchandise in their stores.

Among the Sick

Clyde Daugherty is said to be getting along fairly well at this time. He has been confined to his home for the past ten days with measles.

The four-months-old baby of John Riley is suffering with pneumonia, following measles.

Bob Watts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts, has been quite ill with measles, but is somewhat improved at this time.

Thos. Matson of Linden suffered a stroke on Monday and is in a very serious condition. Mr. Matson lived alone and it is understood it was some time after he suffered the stroke before his condition was discovered by neighbors.

Troy Organizes Chamber

At an enthusiastic meeting held in Troy Monday night, about 50 citizens gathered for the purpose of organizing a Chamber of Commerce. Several members were present from the Moscow Chamber of Commerce and made talks, outlining the various activities of such an organization. Officers were elected and a musical program was given by the Troy band. The next meeting of the new organization will be February 26, when a working program will be outlined.

Make Valentines

A number of Junior Leaguers met at the Methodist parsonage a few days ago, and made some little Valentines which they will distribute to some of the older people of the town with their greetings.

It is hoped to put on an entertainment with the Juniors some time this spring in the Methodist church.

MRS. JOHN RILEY DIES MONDAY AT HER HOME

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in this community in a long time was that of Mrs. John Riley, who died Monday from the effects of measles, leaving four small children, the youngest of which is four months old, which is also seriously ill with pneumonia, following measles.

Nettie Alice Cargill was born October 3, 1894, at Palmern, Nebraska, and passed away at Kendrick, Idaho, February 9, 1931, at the age of 36 years, four months and five days. She came with her parents to Juliaetta in 1907, and was married to John Riley October 3, 1914. To this union six children were born, five boys and one girl, two having died in infancy.

Deceased is survived by her husband, John Riley, three boys and one girl; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cargill of Kendrick, two brothers, Willard and Bryan of Princeton, Idaho; two sisters, Mrs. Beulah Strohm of Cashmere, Wash., and Mrs. Wm. Vaughn of Wenatchee, Wash., and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at the Pickard Undertaking parlors, the service being private, with Rev. A. E. Janes in charge. Burial was made in the Juliaetta cemetery.

The pallbearers were Ed. Grant, Roy Candler, N. E. Walker, Thos. McDowell, C. C. Compton and J. J. Pickard.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. D. Riley of Oakesdale, Wash., and a brother of Mr. Riley from Spokane.

Make Teachers' Contracts Stick

The Idaho state legislature on Tuesday passed a few bills that may be of interest to this community.

Overriding recommendations of the reference committee that the measures be not printed, the house forced printing of a bill to place common and joint school districts on a budget basis, a measure to give the board of education the right to regulate examination of students, and bill to suspend licenses of teachers where they break their contracts.

A new cigarette tax measure was introduced by the house ways and means committee, the third to appear. The others were withdrawn. The new measure provides for a $10 annual dealers license and a tax of 2 cents a package on ordinary brands of cigarettes.

Three appropriation measures were introduced, one to provide money for the veterans' welfare commission. This would increase from $60,000 to $73,000 money available during the next two years for needy veterans of the World war.

Kendrick Hoopsters Win

The Kendrick basketball team continued its winning streak by adding another conference victory to their list last Friday night when they defeated Culdesac on their own floor 41-27. The entire squad took part in this game and gave a good account of themselves. Bailey and Grinolds were high scorers.

The Clarkston team fell, at Clarkston, Saturday night in a non-conference game to the tune of 30-24. The score at the half was 17-13 in favor of Clarkston. Kendrick came back strong to outscore the Bantams 17-8 in the second half, winning the game.

The boys play Genesee here Friday night and Lapwai, at Lapwai, Saturday night. The following week, February 20, will be the last conference game, when Southwick will play here. The conference first and second winners will not be decided until the final game. It is quite possible that Troy and Kendrick will have to play a second-place tie off on a neutral floor.

Spokane Visitors

Henry Reil and Fred Heinje of Leland were Spokane visitors on Saturday of last week, returning home on Tuesday. While there they attended the German dance at German hall and report a very fine time.

The roads, with the exception of the Leland to Arrow link are in fine condition they say and the trip was very much enjoyed. Spokane is also reported to be very quiet from a business standpoint. As they left Spokane on Tuesday morning a snow was falling.

Fine Weather In Montana

A short letter from Mrs. Bert McIntire of Edwards, Montana, in renewing her subscription to the Gazette, tells something of the fine weather they have been experiencing in that state:

"We have had a wonderful winter here too, the thermometer registering 56 degrees above zero yesterday (Jan. 30). It has been sunny and dry almost all winter, and the prairie dogs are out having a good time.

"Stock on the range and in the pastures is doing very well and has not had to be fed yet, which is much appreciated by the ranchers, for last year was very dry and feed not too plentiful.

"We have to brag on an exceptional winter here (Garfield Co.) when we can, for we seldom get the opportunity. The thermometer has a way of going down to 40 below once or twice a winter and sometimes even lower. We seldom have much snow, however. Anyway, winter is almost gone and it hasn't come yet."

We are always glad to receive letters from our subscribers telling of the section of country in which they reside, as well as any news of themselves. We would like to have more of these letters from all sections of the country. Your friends like to know what you are doing as well as learn of your section of the country.
