DIVORCE BUSINESS HAS FAIR START AT CAPITAL

The arrival in Boise last week of a wealthy looking individual who seemed to have no particular business to transact is causing considerable speculation on the part of that element of the citizenry that is interested in knowing everything that goes on.

The interested ones are wondering if this person is not, as the robin is of spring, a harbinger of the divorce season. As a matter of fact, many have covertly expressed the opinion that this person is destined to be either the first or among the first to take advantage of Idaho's new divorce law.

This interest in the new-comer is purely impersonal and only natural, because the new law goes into effect May 5 and even now residences might be in the process of being established. The unofficial opinion of legal men is that an application for divorce may be filed at any time after May 5, provided the three-months residence requirements have been complied with.

Naturally Idaho citizens with an eye to business are on the outlook for indication as to what, if anything, this state may expect in the way of a divorce industry. With an idea of throwing some light on this question the Idaho News Agency last week conducted a quiet survey of the situation and received the following information and impressions:

There have been received by attorneys of Boise alone more than fifty inquiries from persons or representatives of persons contemplating divorces, it is estimated. Also several inquiries and at least one reservation have been received by the Boise chamber of commerce and hotel managers.

And what is more important, one Boise business man whose word is not to be questioned states that already several persons who expect to secure divorces have arrived in Idaho and are now establishing residences. The only logical conclusion is that Idaho is, at least receiving serious consideration among the divorce seekers.

The investigation also revealed the fact that Idaho is not, public opinion to the contrary notwithstanding, in competition with Reno. "Reno can have the fast traveling set," one leading citizen said. Idaho is a law-abiding state and we have nothing to offer them. However, there are many quiet, retiring, respectable people who wish to secure divorces and do not care for the wild gaiety of Reno night life or for the stigma that is attached to Reno divorces, and it is this class of trade that Idaho expects to attract."

In this regard Mayor James P. Pope of Boise said: "There will be no letting down of the bars for the divorcees. Boise is a decent city for decent people to live in and the new-comers, although we welcome them with open arms, will be required to conduct themselves with the same decorum as is required of our regular citizens. We will not throw the city wide open, as Reno is reported to be."

The state of Idaho is not without attractions for divorcees of the higher class and especially those who care for wholesome amusements and outdoor sports, the boosters declare.

"We have the finest country in the world and the most hospitable people to be found," one said. "Idaho offers hunting, fishing, hiking, mountain climbing, horse-back riding, polo, tennis, golf, swimming, beautiful scenery, paved streets, excellent highways, magnificent dude ranches, beautiful homes, splendid gardens, excellent libraries, churches and schools, culture and refined society—in fact, everything that makes for healthful and enjoyable living. So why should persons seeking a divorce go to a state where there is nothing but sage brush and sand and gambling halls when they can come to Idaho."

Potato Growers Warned

Potato growers have been warned by C. C. Teague, vice chairman of the farm board, that unless acreage is reduced they "may expect the lowest prices they have had for years."

Farmers' intentions to plant indicate a ten per cent increase in acreage of late potatoes over last year. This would mean a yield of 430,000,000 bushels as compared with 361,000,000 in 1930, when, Teague said, "great difficulty" was experienced to sell at a satisfactory price.

Bridge Club Entertains Husbands

At a very cleverly appointed 6:30 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, members of the Bridge club entertained their husbands and a few invited guests at six tables of bridge. Mrs. Harold Thomas won high score for the ladies, while Roy Ramey made high score for the men. Dr. and Mrs. Morehead and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harris were invited guests.

FUNERAL OF GEO. GARNER—BURIAL AT GOLD HILL

George Anderson Garner was born at Linden, Idaho, on November 30, 1888, and passed away at his home April 4, 1931, after a lingering illness of more than two years, at the age of 42 years, four months and four days.

Mr. Garner had spent all of his life at Linden, with the exception of two years, spent with his parents at Thornton, Washington.

He was united in marriage to Miss Mattie McPhee January 15, 1913. To this union six children were born—three sons, Melvin, Archie and Marvin, and three daughters, Maxine, Thelma and Eileen, who, with their mother, survive. He is also survived by his mother, at Bend, Oregon, two sisters, Mrs. Sylvia Perry, Bend, Oregon, and Mrs. Walter Ragsdale, Spokane, Wash., and two brothers, Ruben Garner, Elk River and Charlie of Southwick, beside a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Monday, April 6, from the Gold Hill church, with Rev. L. E. Taber in charge. Burial was made in the Gold Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Walter Ragsdale and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ragsdale of Spokane were in attendance at the funeral.

We wish to extend our thanks to the many friends and neighbors for their help during the sickness and after the death of our beloved husband and father.

Mrs. Mattie Garner and Children.

Death of Mrs. Morrison

Mrs. Annie Morrison, a resident of the Gold Hill section for many years passed away at her home on Thursday morning, April 9, after an illness of several months, at the age of 53 years and 27 days. She had been in failing health for the past year and had been confined to her bed since last October.

Martha Annie May Woodard was born in Kansas, March 13, 1878. She came to Idaho with her grandmother and uncles in 1889, in a covered wagon, and settled on a homestead near Linden, with many other early pioneers.

She was married October 28, 1903, to James Morrison, who preceded her in death by fifteen years. She has since made her home with an aged uncle.

She leaves to mourn their loss, a brother in Illinois, a sister in Kansas, three uncles and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held from the Gold Hill church Friday afternoon, April 10, conducted by Rev. Corabelle M. Teachman, pastor of the Kendrick Methodist church. Music was furnished by the choir of the Gold Hill church. Burial was made in the Gold Hill cemetery.

Entertain Grand Master

The members of the local Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges entertained Grand Master D. I. Combs of Kellogg and the members of Leland and Juliaetta Lodges at their regular session meeting Saturday night, April 11, when Grand Master Combs made a short but very interesting and instructive address to the Odd Fellows, after which the following program was given:

Song by all present, led by Thos. McDowell.

Song by male quartet.

Song by Mrs. E. H. Emery, accompanied by Miss Doris Emery.

Questions by members to Grand Master.

After the entertainment a splendid luncheon was served in the dining room, with the following committee in charge: Thos. McDowell, chairman Roy Ramey and Frank W. Ellis.

The reason so many judges are unsympathetic with men in cases of domestic difficulty is because so many judges are men.

KENDRICK COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Kendrick Commercial club held another of their always interesting meetings Monday night at the Kendrick Hotel. There were 22 present who did ample justice to the splendid meal provided by the hotel management and presided over by Mrs. Raby.

After the dinner tables had been cleared and "smokes" started, and the business of the evening was taken up, the first thing being the reading and approval of the minutes as read, after which came the reports of committees, most of which said they had "nothing to report."

N. E. Walker reported for the committee on highways, stating that a delegation had gone to Lewiston the other day to meet the state road officials, but that they were informed that the question of financing farm-to-market roads could not be taken up before next fall, and that no state money would be available for some time yet. However, the committee has not given up hope and will not allow the state to forget that we need their help. However, again, it will be necessary for the Kendrick Highway district to have the necessary money to match state money before any allocation can or will be made for highway purposes. It is up to the people of this district to raise the necessary money by a bond issue. It will not be necessary to use the money until such time as state money can be secured, but it will be absolutely necessary to have the money ready, or no state money will be forthcoming, according to the report made.

The question was brought up regarding the condition of the old Vollmer-Clearwater grain tubes that have been an eye-sore to the town ever since they were burned, several years ago. Something should be done to make them more presentable, at least. If the elevator was again put in action, it would be a good thing for the town for the reason the town would derive considerable revenue in taxes, whereas at the present time it is stated no taxes are being paid on them. This matter will probably be taken up at a later meeting of the club. Their rebuilding would probably be the means of giving at least one more man a job—which would help some.

The question of celebrating the Fourth of July in Kendrick was at this time brought up and discussed at length, it finally being decided that a committee should be appointed to make a report at the next meeting of the club on the feasibility of putting on a celebration. The general sentiment of the business men of the town will be found in another article in this paper.

The question of backing a baseball team for Kendrick was also taken up and discussed. Frank Boyd, manager of the local team, stated that they are not going to ask for any large amount of money, but that they would like to have the business men help them buy balls and bats, which they will undoubtedly do.

H. B. Thompson made mention of the fact that something should be done regarding a magpie contest this spring and a committee was appointed to take the matter up and make the necessary arrangements. Prizes will be given to the boys bringing in the most heads and eggs, the same as last year, only it will be handled by the Kendrick Commercial club instead of the Izaak Walton league of Moscow. An effort will be made to get the state bounty of one cent an egg or head. Some $15 in prizes will be given the winners, and a banquet will be tendered them at the end of the season, the same as last year. All contestants should get in touch with Mr. Thompson at the Kendrick State Bank at once.

A letter from the Lewiston Commercial club regarding a bounty that is to be paid to the children of school districts in Nez Perce county and Kendrick Joint district was read. This matter will be taken up in the Kendrick school and the districts of Nez Perce county.

Monday night's meeting was conceded to be one of the best meetings ever held by the club.

Moves Family and Business

L. S. LaHatt has moved his family to the Rigges residence, at the lower end of Main street, and his business to the small building adjoining the Perryman confectionery, where he will be found in the future.

SHALL WE CELEBRATE THE 4TH OF JULY IN KENDRICK?

One of the all-important questions being discussed in Kendrick at this time is, "Shall we celebrate the 4th of July?" The matter was taken up and discussed at length by the Commercial club last Monday night and a committee was appointed to bring the question to a head—but right now it is a foregone conclusion that we will celebrate in the good old-fashioned way, as the people of Kendrick have been in the habit of doing every two years.

Just to get the sentiment of the business men of the town regarding the question, we have made it a point to interview every business man in town regarding his attitude toward a celebration this year, and the following is the result:

Geo. Barnum—We have been in the habit of celebrating it is our turn, and it is up to us to put it on.

Deobald Brothers—We are in favor of the celebration; should get behind it and make it a good one.

E. H. Dammarell—If it is decided to have a celebration, I am with them.

B. F. Nesbit—If it is decided to celebrate, I will do my part.

A. K. Carlson—I am not in favor of a celebration.

W. F. Behrens—I am for a celebration. We have always had a good crowd and a good time.

Wade Keene—I'm neutral, but if it is decided to celebrate, I am in on it.

Art Perryman—I am in favor of a celebration and will do my part toward putting it on.

Silvie Cook—It's Kendrick's year to celebrate and we should go through with it.

N. E. Walker—As far as I am concerned, I'd just as soon not celebrate, but in case it is decided to celebrate, I am with them.

J. F. Brown—It has been the custom for many years to celebrate and the people expect it. I'd like to see a nice, clean celebration.

Kendrick Rochdale (Wm. Watts)—We are co-operating with the majority 100 per cent.

N. B. Long & Sons—We are heartily in favor of a celebration. We owe it to the people.

Dr. Morehead—I am heartily in favor of a celebration.

Dr. McKeever—We should celebrate, by all means.

Farmers Bank—We're with the crowd.

Kendrick State Bank—It looks like a celebration—and we're for it 100 per cent.

There are a few who did not wish to be quoted on the subject, but who did not say they were against it. Everyone has a perfect right to their own opinion and we admire them for stating it. We did not get the opinion of the business and professional men for any other purpose only as a news item and not for the purpose of trying to coerce anyone into favoring a celebration if they did not want it. We explained that we were asking for our own information only. We are not a member of the committee and have nothing to do with the matter only to boost it in case a decision is made to carry the idea through.

The committee appointed to have charge of the matter of celebrating on Wednesday prepared a ballot and visited every business man in the town. He was not asked how he felt about the question but was asked to cast his ballot for or against, which was entirely secret as no name was to be signed to them. The voter was also asked to state how much he was willing to give to help put on a celebration—this also being secret.

The result of the ballot was as follows: For a celebration, 25; against, 14. Donations pledged, $135.00.

The report will be turned over to the Commercial club at its next meeting for final decision.

The majority were for a celebration, so we're for it, and you had just as well get ready, for it's going through—so it seems.

Two Boys Asphyxiated

Lorence E. Prine, 20, and Homer MacFarlane, 22, two of Lewiston's most popular young men, were found dead Sunday morning in the apartment in the rear of the grocery owned by Oren Prine, father of Lorence. The boys had gone to a dance Saturday night and returned to the store about 12:30. They apparently put a coffee pot on the gas stove. This boiled over and put out the blaze which resulted in their asphyxiation.

Gasoline Being Stolen

Complaint is heard from many quarters about owners of automobiles losing gas out of their parked cars, especially those who have allowed their cars to stand at the curb all night. It has reached a point where owners of cars are getting up in arms and the light-fingered gentry who are lifting gasoline may find themselves in serious trouble, some perhaps with a sprinkling of bird-shot.

A FEW HIGH LIGHTS OF LAST WEEK'S NEWS

Politics held the lime-light in last week's news, which chronicled the passing of the speaker of the house of representatives, the relegating to the shelf of the mayor of Chicago and much discussion as to whether the Democratic party shall be on the wet or dry side of the fence in the 1932 election.

The week's news review sums up about as follows: Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the national house of representatives, died, adding more confusion to a political situation already acutely confused by the narrow margin of power in the house.

William Hale "Big Bill" Thompson, Chicago's grandstanding mayor, was defeated for re-election by Anton J. "Tony" Cermak, who promised to sweep the city hall clean, by the largest majority in Chicago's history. In Big Bill's own words: "He's through!"

Captain Harlan Pefley, of the Marine corps, who was born and raised in Boise, was killed last week by Nicaraguan insurgents.

Julius H. Jacobson, federal crop statistician for Idaho, reported last week that the 1931 crop outlook for the Gem state is bright. His reasons: a mild winter, excellent snow protection, an early spring, a good ground season.

Senator W. E. Borah urged the federal government to control the price of petroleum products, including gasoline. In this regard it might be noted that gasoline dropped to a price of 20 cents per gallon in Jerome and Shoshone last week. Bill also asked the Red government of Russia to allow a couple of American flyers to land in that country—and the request was granted.

William Gibbs McAdoo, former leader of the Democratic party, declared that unemployment is the major issue facing the national parties and asserted that the Democrats, if they insist on presenting the liquor question as a major plank, invite "certain and disastrous defeat."

Had Narrow Escape

Hi Galloway is perhaps one of the luckiest men in this part of the country. While out hauling a "V" drag over the road with six horses, up on Little Bear ridge, Wednesday morning, the blamed thing struck a rock—and the first thing Hi knew he was underneath the drag—and just how he got there, or how he got out, will always be a mystery to him.

Anyway, he was jammed beneath the thing in such a manner that it was hard to extricate himself. He yelled at the horses to stop, which they did, and Hi raised the drag off himself, which took no small amount of strength as the drag weighs hundreds of pounds. When he took stock of his injuries he found that he had a welt on one side of his head and a very sore arm, besides being pretty badly jammed, generally. He is carrying his right arm in a sling and the attending physician said that it had probably been dislocated and again jammed back into place by the drag.

Hi is congratulating himself on being able to be around—and it was indeed a very narrow escape from death.

Girls Organize Campfire

Last Thursday afternoon a group of girls met at the home of Mrs. W. B. Deobald for the purpose of starting a Campfire Girls organization.

At this meeting the following officers were elected: Guardian, Mrs. W. B. Deobald; Burned Cummings, president; Kathryn Emery, secretary; Rowena Ramey, treasurer; Mary E. Thompson, vice-president; Maxine Keene, song leader; Phyllis Cummings, scribe.

The girls expect to have many enjoyable times during the coming vacation.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER WITH OFFERINGS SMALLER

Domestic grain markets strengthened somewhat during the week ending April 11, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Moderate domestic marketings, smaller shipments in the southern hemisphere and rather unfavorable weather conditions for spring seeding in Canada, were strengthening influences in the wheat markets. A steady inquiry for the lighter receipts of feed grains brought very slight advances in prices of corn, oats and barley at some markets. Rye strengthened with wheat and flax closed slightly higher than a week ago.

The domestic winter wheat crop continued to make favorable progress. The condition, April 1, was reported at 88.8 per cent of normal compared with 77.4 per cent April 1, 1930 and 72.9 the ten year average for that date. The preliminary reports indicate that an abandonment of about 4 per cent for the United States as a whole, or about one-third of the ten-year average of 12 per cent. The April 1st condition indicates a probable total winter wheat crop of approximately 644,000,000 bushels, assuming nearly normal weather conditions during the remainder of the growth period. This compared with about 604,000,000 bushels harvested last season. Practically all of the increase is in hard winter wheat, of which a crop of about 405,000,000 bushels is indicated.

The probable outturn of soft red winter wheat is about 194,000,000 bushels, or about the same as last season. The probable outturn of fall-sown crops of white wheat is about 45,000,000 bushels or practically the same as was produced in 1930.

European crop prospects were not changed materially during the week. Beneficial rains were received in Spain and Italy. More favorable weather in France benefited crops and improved conditions for spring work. Cold, wet weather during the month of March was unfavorable for winter grain crops in Rumania and Hungary, where a decrease in acreage in spring wheat and an increase in corn acreage is expected. The condition of winter grains in Bulgaria and Yugoslavia is good, although some flood damage is reported in the latter. Crop prospects in Germany were less favorable at the first of April than a year ago. Unseasonably cold weather in northwestern Europe is causing some apprehension of crop damage but no serious injury is yet reported. Weather conditions in North Africa are generally favorable.

European wheat markets were generally steady, with a more active demand prevailing for foreign wheat in continental Europe, particularly in Germany, as a result of new milling regulations permitting the reduction of the proportion of native wheat from 65 per cent to 50 per cent for millings during April and May. Considerable trade has recently been reported in lower grade wheats in northwestern Europe. Offerings of native wheat in France were light and small millers have petitioned the government for an increase of 10 per cent in the milling quota of foreign wheat. Quotations on foreign wheats at Liverpool were not materially changed. Some Canadian wheats were being offered slightly lower than a week ago, while Argentine quotations were advanced very slightly. At the close of the market April 10, 63 lb. Rosaf for April shipment was quoted CIF Liverpool at 61½¢ and 63½¢ lb. Barusso at 61¢ per bushel. Western Australian wheat due to arrive sold at 66¢. No. 2 Manitoba was offered at 73½¢ and No. 1 Manitoba at 74½¢ per bushel. Sales of around 4,000,000 bushels of Canadian Manitoba and Durum were reported during the week to England, France and Germany, with one cargo to Greece from the Pacific coast.

Domestic cash wheat markets strengthened as a result of moderate offerings and a more active inquiry from domestic mills for current requirements. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal southwestern markets totaled 1,928 cars. This is about 600 cars more than the previous week and about 850 cars more than for the corresponding week last year. Ordinary protein, No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Kansas City at the close of the Market April 10 at 74¢ and 13 per cent of the same grade at

Honesty In Advertising

Advertising reflects the character of one's business. Its real purpose is to acquaint customers and prospective customers with the new things that are developed for their comfort and convenience.

Read and believe advertising. It is written for your benefit, that you may profit by a saving of time, labor and money. Kendrick merchants sell and recommend nationally advertised products that are deserving.

You know Gazette advertisers personally, know that they have an interest in the present and future welfare of yourself and your community.

All trade is based upon a desire for goods. Necessity is, mostly, an augmented desire. Advertising has the function of reminding people of their requirements, but its greatest function—a prime factor in all progress and prosperity—is the creating of new desires.

Why Admire Russia

Newspapers over the nation are giving columns of editorial comment to reasons why and why not America should admire Russia in its efforts to grab a place in the industrialized world.

Probably the nation is overly credulous about the Russian economic whirlpool. After all, Russia, in building railroads, tilling wheat, reducing illiteracy, buying logging machinery and shop tools, has only shown genius enough to adopt methods which America has already developed. There does not seem to be any good reason why our people should become bug-eyed over these results.

Modern nations have builded upon rock. Russia is building upon the sands. It is one thing to admire the courage of a madman, but it is another thing to endorse his note for payments to be made in cultural advancement 200 years from now.—Lewiston-Tribune.

The Maggie Contest

The Kendrick Commercial club will this year handle the magpie contest and it is expected that several prizes will be given to those bringing in eggs and heads as scheduled below.

A system of points has been worked out, which will give each contestant a certain number of points for each egg and head turned in, the points to be given being as follows:

For each magpie egg, one point; for each head, two points. Crow eggs, five points; heads, 10 points. Hawk eggs, 15 points; heads, 30 points.

An effort will also be made to have special prizes given contestants for certain eggs and heads, which will be announced later.

Suffice it to say that the prizes will be well worth working for and it is to be hoped that the youngsters of the entire countryside will get busy—and right now is the time to start.

Flowers Disappearing Nightly

Now that spring is here the usual spring flower "horror" are on the job and many people are reporting the cleaning of their flower beds of every blossom. This work is evidently being done by youngsters or some one else too lazy to grow their own flowers, for goodness knows anyone can raise beautiful blossoms in this fertile Potlatch valley of ours. But be that as it may, flowers are disappearing regularly. The heaviest losers to report so far are Mrs. Flora Long and Mrs. H. P. Hull. After hours of work and many dollars invested it is disappointing to arise in the morning a find one's flower garden flowerless. Surely these have been thoughtless pranks and will not happen again.

Play Much Enjoyed

The all-high-school play, given in the Audian Theatre Friday and Saturday nights of last week, was greeted by good houses both nights and was conceded to be one of the best school plays ever given here. Those taking part carried their roles well and showed thorough training and a knowledge of dramatics that would do older heads credit. Each and every player is to be congratulated, as are the coaches, Mrs. W. J. Carroll and W. C. Jones.

The special numbers given by both the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs and the mixed chorus were much enjoyed as was shown by the generous applause given.

Those taking part in the play were very pleasantly surprised at the close of the play Saturday night, when Mrs. Carroll treated them to a tasty lunch.

The Kendrick diamond is not yet in shape for a game, as all the damage of the high water has not been repaired. However, it is expected that the diamond will be in shape for use by the time regular games are called.

D. L. Jain of Genesee became a member of the association at this meeting. Mr. Kerry of Clarkston, who was greatly interested in the rabbit business, was a visitor.

The association meets the second Tuesday of each month and anyone interested in the raising of rabbits is always welcomed by the association.

"IN GAY MADRID" AT THE AUDIAN APRIL 17, 18, 19

A Spanish setting was selected for the locale of Ramon Navarro's all-singing and dancing picture, "In Gay Madrid," which will be at the Audian Theatre Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, April 17, 18 and 19.

The chief sequences of the picture take place in a small Spanish university town and advance report it that the atmosphere and general feeling of the picture is somewhat in the manner of Navarro's previous success, "The Student Prince," in which he co-starred with Norma Shearer.

"In Gay Madrid" is an adaptation of the Spanish classic, "La Casa de Troya," written by Alejandro Lugin, and concerns the son of a marquis who when he is sent to university involves himself in a romance which is almost brought to a tragic end because of his previous affair with a Madrid dancer.

It is said the production has been ingeniously fitted both as regards settings and costumes. Musical attractions include six songs sung by Navarro and a male chorus of fifty trained voices.

ARROW JUNCTION AIRINGS

The delegates that represented Arrow in the district conference of the Methodist church, South, that was held in Troy, Idaho, Thursday and Friday of last week, were Mrs. Raleigh Albright from the Women's Missionary Society and Mrs. G. H. Gibbs from the church. The other delegates, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smith, were unable to attend. All the sessions were inspiring and the delegates left with a feeling of gratitude for the plans and earnest efforts of the conference officers that made them so.

Craigmont Postoffice Robbed

Yeggmen forced an entrance to the Craigmont postoffice Saturday night or Sunday morning, blew off the outer door of the large safe, rifled the compartments of the strong box and made off with about $112 in currency and about $285.00 in stamps. A small amount of change, registered mail and parcel post was not molested.

Entrance to the office was by a small window at the side about six feet from the ground. The burglars used a ladder and upon getting inside went to the rear of the building, used as a city hall and jail, took possession of two quilts and a double blanket. After soaking these they covered the safe, before setting off a charge of nitro-glycerin to deaden any report. The door was torn from its hinges.

Regular Train Service

Regular train service was established with Lewiston on Thursday night of last week, 24 hours ahead of the predicted time. A temporary track was built around the washout and a safe crossing made. Work in the rebuilding of the permanent grade was begun Monday morning and will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Cars have been going through for more than a week, and while some of them made a good many bubbles and considerable fuss at crossing, all got through without much trouble. Thirty minutes with a ditching spade would have lowered the water at the crossing several inches.

It is true, of course, that "poets are born, not made," but just because you've been born doesn't signify you are a poet, although a good many people seem to think it does.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER WITH OFFERINGS SMALLER

7 1/2c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter sold at 1/2c below No. 1. Mills were active buyers of choice milling wheat at Omaha, where No. 1 hard winter was quoted at 73c to 74c per bushel. Milling demand was of sufficient demand at Fort Worth to absorb the light offerings and considerable amounts from storage. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at 81 1/2c to 81 3/4c delivered Texas common points. Offerings of wheat were somewhat larger at Denver but demand was more active and current offerings were readily taken, with No. 2 hard winter quoted F. O. B. Denver or Colorado common points at $2 to $4c per bushel.

Offerings of wheat at Chicago were much heavier than for some weeks, but interior milling inquiry was of good volume and the market strengthened slightly. No. 1 hard and red winter quoted at 82 1/2c to 82 3/4c per bushel. Prices at St. Louis advanced about 1/2c, with the light track offerings meeting good mill demand. No. 1 hard and red winter sold at 81 to 81 1/2c and No. 2 red winter at 80 1/2c per bushel. Trading was very light at Cincinnati because of the small offerings. Inquiry from Southern mills was more active and prices advanced 1/2c, with No. 2 soft and hard winter quoted at 80 to 83c per bushel at the close of the market April 10.

Spring wheat markets were also steady, although receipts continued fairly large. Mills bought more actively, but were taking only sufficient for current requirements. No. 1 dark northern sold at Minneapolis and Duluth April 10 at the May price of 78 1/2c to 3c over. Durum wheat advanced nearly 1c under a steady inquiry for the moderate arrivals. No. 1 and 2 amber durum was quoted at Minneapolis at 68 1/2 to 74 1/2c and at Duluth at 72c to 74 1/2c. No. 2 red durum sold in the latter market at 63 1/2c. The Winnipeg market was also firmer during the week and No. 1 Manitoba northern closed at that market April 10 at 58c per bushel.

Pacific Coast markets also had a firmer tone although demand was not of large volume. Local prices continue above an export basis at Portland and Seattle and export flour business slackened as a result of cheaper offerings from other countries.

Domestic mills were taking only sufficient amounts for immediate requirements. New crop futures prices advanced about 1c at Portland and Seattle largely in sympathy with the advance at Eastern markets. Cash wheat prices also advanced slightly with No. 1 western white wheat being quoted April 10 at Seattle at 69 1/2c, western red and hard winter at 67c and No. 1 hard white bluestem at 70c per bushel, sacked. 14 per cent protein No. 1 hard winter in bulk in Montana was quoted at 73c, No. 1 dark northern spring at 75c per bushel. No. 1 hard white bluestem, soft white and western white all sold at 68c per bushel, sacked at Portland, with No. 1 hard winter, northern spring and western red quoted at 65c per bushel. March shipments of wheat and flour from Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 2,367,000 bushels, making a total for the season of 38,644,000 bushels, compared with 42,470,000 bushels for the corresponding period last year. March shipments went mostly to California and the Orient.

California markets advanced 2 1/2c to 5c per 100, influenced by continued dry weather throughout the state, which threatens serious damage to the new crop. Rainfall in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys has averaged only 50 per cent of normal this season and present indications are for yields materially under a year ago. California growers were selling slowly and mills and feeders were buying only sufficient wheat for current requirements. Mills continued to obtain most of their wheat from Washington and Oregon and of the 76,862 tons received at San Francisco from June through March, approximately 48,000 tons were of northern wheat. Bay region stocks of wheat April 1 totaled only 10,873 tons, compared with 19,499 tons a year ago. At the close of the market April 10 No. 2 soft and western white wheats from Washington and Oregon were quoted delivered docks at San Francisco, sacked, at $1.26 1/2 to $1.27 1/2, and No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana at $1.35 per 100. Western red feed wheat was quoted at $1.32 delivered at Petaluma. No. 2 dark hard winter, 13 per cent protein from Idaho and Utah was quoted in bulk at $1.35 per 100 San Francisco and $1.37 at Los Angeles. No. 2 hard winter, 12 per cent protein, was quoted at San Francisco at $1.30 and at Los Angeles at about $1.35 per 100. No. 1 hard and soft white local wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.25 to $1.30 and at Los Angeles

Deer Creek and Waha Closed
 What was perhaps the final official act of R. E. Thomas as state fish and game warden before he became warden of the state penitentiary was to close all of Lake Waha and Deer creek from its mouth to its source to fishing this year.

A letter dated March 31 was received Saturday by Astor A. Seaborg, deputy game warden.

Trout recently planted in Deer creek are too small for good sport and spawn-bearing steelheads were recently planted in the lake. Request for closings was made by Niles Wynkoop, president of the Isaac Walton league.

Fishing for trout in Idaho will not be legal until the morning of April 16. The open waters will be the Clearwater and its tributaries to the mouth of Kassel creek in the south fork, up to the old Lowell postoffice on the middle fork and up to the mouth of the little north fork.

Hashimuri Togo on the Banana

The banana are great remarkable fruit. He are constructed in the same architectural style as the honorable sausage. Difference being, skin of sausage are habitually consumed, while it are not advisable to eat rapping of banana. Banana are held aloft while consuming, sausage are usually left in reclining position. Sausage depend for creation upon human being or stuffing machine, while banana are pristine product of honorable mother nature. In case of sausage both conclusions are attached to other sausages, honorable banana on opposite hand, are joined on one end to the stem, other termination, are entirely loose. Finally, banana are strictly member of the vegetable kingdom, while affiliation of sausage is often undecided.

EVERY MAN'S FARM HIS OWN KINGDOM

"The farmers of the Inland Empire need not depend upon wheat alone; this is a section of the country pregnant with possibilities," said Colonel Edward N. Wentworth, Chicago, director of Armour's live stock bureau, addressing the Spokane Chamber of Commerce Agricultural Bureau.

Pointing out the fact that approximately 75 to 85 per cent of the hogs or hog products consumed in Washington alone are imported from 500 to 2000 miles, Colonel Wentworth urged the Inland Empire farmers to study the question of livestock.

"The wheat growers of the Inland Empire face today what the wheat growers of Minnesota and the Dakotas faced 20 years ago. Today the backbone of the latter's agriculture is not a single-crop system of wheat growing, but involves the wheat growers of Minnesota and the greatest production of dairy products in relation to population anywhere in the United States," Colonel Wentworth added.

"This year the Dakotas rivaled the great lamb-feeding districts of Colorado and Nebraska with nearly a million lambs passing through the feed lots of the eastern section of these states and Minnesota. Thus has the old wheat empire of the Red River changed its face."

Large Newspaper Collection
 What is said to be the largest collection of newspapers in the world has been opened to the public in a newspaper museum at Aix-la-Chapelle, Germany. Among its collection of 150,000 newspapers are curiosities from all over the world, including an Eskimo paper from the middle of last century.

Headwork
Is Easier With Electricity
 "USE your head and rest your hands" is a maxim which has helped many a man to carry a farm to success.

With most of the trying handwork and backwork done by motors and other electric equipment, the farmer has time to do the better part of his planning and constructive work before he is tired out.

Lights, running water, milkers, and washing machines of themselves earn farming profits. But it is the help that electricity brings to better management that is the real foundation of success.

SCRUB BULL IS HAILED TO COURT
 Placed on Trial for Hindering Development and Prosperity of Dairy Industry.

Indicted for robbery, larceny, and a few other such charges, Scrub Bull went on trial for his life at Laurel, Mississippi, recently. It seems that for some time people had suspicions that Mr. Bull was hindering the right and lawful development of the dairy industry, thereby "maliciously and wilfully lowering production and decreasing profits in the dairy business," says the Bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission in commenting on the case.

This, it says, was the first trial of its kind ever held in that section and was attended by several hundred people. The jury, representing every vocation within the boundaries of the Laurel trade territory, rendered a unanimous verdict of "guilty." The death sentence was pronounced, "but during the night, before the sentence could be carried out, friends of the convict secretly spirited him away and he has not been seen since."

The arraignment came during the Milk Products Show sponsored by the banks of Laurel. People attending the show had the opportunity of also attending the bull's "trial" and went away firmly convinced of the seriousness of lax and out-of-date methods in the pursuit of dairying. The purposes of both the Milk Products Show and the trial were threefold, namely: to develop public sentiment for more and better Jerseys; to foster a more cooperative spirit for dairying and livestock growing, and to promote tick eradication.

The banks of Laurel entered into a cooperative arrangement in their efforts for fostering agricultural development and successful farming in the community, offering $2,165 as premiums to the outstanding farm workers throughout the territory during 1929. An instructive booklet has been issued, showing the agricultural activity of the banks, together with announcements of contests for farmers, exhibits in the bank lobbies and prizes offered.

BANKERS DEVELOP NOVEL INSTITUTE

The Georgia Bankers Association in cooperation with the State College of Agriculture has sponsored a series of farmers' institutes in various parts of the State of an entirely new character. The principle feature is a large and comprehensive exhibit transported in four large trucks, and set up at each stop. When set up it fills a space 40 by 60 feet and consists of panels, charts, and models on practically every phase of agriculture, including agronomy, horticulture, agricultural engineering, poultry, animal husbandry, soils and fertilizers, home economics and marketing. A large electrified farm model, showing the use of electricity on the farm, model farm buildings and the ideal layout and landscaping of the farmstead, is one of the most elaborate and attractive exhibits.

Local bankers in each locality visited gave the money to cover expenses for the transportation and installation of the exhibit in their territory and assisted in the preliminary advertising and publicity. The College of Agriculture assembled the exhibit and conducted the tour through its various extension specialists.

Key Goes With House
 A key reposing in a coat pocket 100 miles away from a house is as much a part of the house as the roof on it and should be handed over to the new owner in the event of sale, says the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

COOK ROASTS SLOWLY TO PREVENT SHRINKAGE

When a housewife cooks a rib roast of beef or a leg of lamb she must consider how much loss there is likely to be from shrinkage. Naturally she wants the meat to "go as far" as possible. Dietitians have the same problem on a larger scale; they must be able to estimate both the number of servings and also the nutritive value of each serving. Shrinkage of meat during cooking means a dollars and cents loss to the manager of a restaurant, cafeteria, or hotel dining room, or to a delicatessen where cooked meat is sold. The shrinkage affects the appearance, palatability, nutritive value, and the quantity of meat available for serving.

In the last four years the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture has been accumulating meat-shrinkage data in connection with the nation-wide cooperative study of the factors that influence the palatability of meat. There seems to be a close relation between shrinkage and oven temperature; that is, when meat is roasted from start to finish in a very hot oven the shrinkage is greater than when the meat is first seared at a high temperature and then finished slowly with the temperature rapidly reduced. For example, if, after beef ribs have been seared in a hot oven, the temperature is rapidly reduced so as to finish the cooking very slowly, the shrinkage of the meat when rare is only about one-eighth of the fresh weight; whereas, if the roasting goes on to the end in a hot oven the shrinkage is about one-fourth of the amount of the fresh weight.

Well-done beef shrinks more than rare beef; other things being equal. Well-finished, high-grade beef and lamb roasts lose more fat and less water during cooking than very thin meat of the same kind and cut.

Did You Know

That truthfulness regarding merchandise and honesty in advertising win trade and keep it?

Mail order houses thrive through the neglect of retail merchants. They get their largest business from sections where merchants neglect to advertise in local papers.

Every merchant must sell goods in order to stay in business. Advertising brings business. Newspaper advertising brings more business than any other form of advertising.

Business concerns should use plenty of newspaper space.

Newspaper advertising is a builder of good will, for the good will of the people is needed in order for any business to exist.

Advertising is a business builder. Every business must keep building.

The merchant who is a persistent and consistent advertiser is always on the road to success.

Business concerns should show the people through local newspapers that they can obtain better values from local concerns than from outside concerns.

When To Prune Flowering Shrubs

The University of Idaho department of horticulture suggests that flowering shrubs should be pruned just after blooming to allow flowering branches to develop before the next blooming period. Some shrubs need pruning in the spring, others in the summer or fall, depending on their time of bloom. Shaping to correct undesirable growth habits may be done at any time during the growing season.

Explained at Last

A contractor friend says that three questions have troubled him ever since he learned the difference between a Fresno and a steam shovel. He has just found the answers: Noah and his crew in the Ark were sailing along nicely... the two dogs were down below, playing, when they discovered a small leak. One dog put his nose in the hole while the other dog yipped for help. (That's the reason a dog's nose is cold.) Pretty soon Mrs. Noah wandered in and saw that the hole was getting larger, so she stuck her elbow in the hole and called for Noah. (That's the reason a woman's elbow is always cool.) Noah came along, but forgot his hammer and saw, so he sent Mrs. Noah after them... and sat in the hole until Mrs. Noah returned... and that, my friends, is the reason a man always backs up to a fire!

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method in MOSCOW WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY APRIL 29 and 30 at the MOSCOW HOTEL from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time. The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable. Stomach troubles, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear. Bring your children. According to statistics 95% recover by our method. NOTICE: All whom we have treated during the past ten years are invited to come in for a free inspection. Evening appointments by telephone only on the first day.

New Concept of Education

A new conception of the duties of education will be presented to the nation for the first time at Spokane at the time of the Inland Empire Education association convention, April 8 to 10, according to James A. Burke, secretary of the organization. "The importance of the meeting this year," Mr. Burke said, "can be judged by the fact that the United States department of the interior is sending Dr. H. A. Barnard, specialist in industrial and educational work, to participate in the conference. "Dr. William J. Cooper, federal commissioner of education has evolved the principal that schooling should not be merely a series of drills in abstract science. He will present his finding at a series of six conferences with educational and business leaders of the nation, with the one he will conduct in Spokane, in April as the first."

Grow Your Own Gardens

All vegetables are better when fresh, suggests the home economics department of the extension division of the University of Idaho. The sugar in peas and corn begins to turn into starch as soon as they are picked. Lettuce withers, beets and carrots shrivel, and beans lose their snap. This is an excellent argument for growing your own garden products. You not only have them fresh, but can choose the varieties which you like best.

BUS COMPETITION HITS RAILROADS

Bankers Association President Asks If Unfair Aid Is Given Motorized Transport—For Rail Mergers.

NEW YORK.—Fair treatment for the railroads in respect to highway motor competition was called for by Rome C. Stephenson, President American Bankers Association, in a recent address here. He also strongly endorsed "sound economic railway consolidation" and praised President Hoover for his initiative in this respect. "I am very strongly of the opinion that one of the measures which would help materially to put back business where it ought to be is the Eastern four-system plan of railroad consolidation as announced recently following negotiations instituted by President Hoover," said Mr. Stephenson. "Its adoption by the Interstate Commerce Commission would tend to stabilize the transportation industry, facilitate operation and exert a favorable influence on business in general. "It is a fact well known to business leaders that our railroads are now facing a crisis. Not only do they need protective laws to meet competitive situations arising from increased use of our highways and waterways by other carriers, but they need unification such as the proposed four-system plan provides. Our President has acted wisely in assuming a leadership in this respect and his move deserves the support of every clear-thinking citizen."

Mr. Stephenson declared that the railroads have served this country "so superlatively well that we are prone in our public affairs to overlook our dependence upon them and our obligations to them. The past, present and future progress of the United States is inseparably bound up with their welfare. In neglecting just consideration for them we are even more neglectful of the public's best economic interests."

A Question of Public Interest "We are confronted with the question as to how much more the public economic interest will stand an invasion of the welfare of the railroads by forces and difficulties not of their own creating and not within the scope of their own unaided powers to combat," said Mr. Stephenson. "I refer especially to new competitors that are undermining the hard-earned position of the railroads, not only with the aid of natural economic forces but also through the aid of government policies which, positive or negative, tend to give these competitors undue advantages over the railroads."

"It goes without saying that the railroads have no right, nor claim any, so far as I have been able to discern, to complain at legitimate competition in the field of transportation, for the public is entitled to the best possible transportation at the lowest practical cost. But equally does it go without saying that this cannot be fairly brought about by using, or by failing to use, the taxing powers of government to enable competitive methods of transportation to do things they could not otherwise do as unaided private enterprises, particularly when such action impairs the invested rights held in good faith by great masses of our people in established enterprises that are serving the public well."

Mr. Stephenson said it was not his purpose to argue against such competitive transportation as the highway passenger motorbus and motor truck as such, when conducted under proper conditions and in keeping with public welfare and benefit. He declared, however, there is need for serious consideration whether such competition is being developed under conditions that are unfair to the railroads, because either the outright or obscure aid of government policy is the deciding economic factor in that competition.

Would Investigate Bus Traffic Railroad rights of way, he declared, represent tremendous capital investments, on which the railroads have also heavy current costs to meet. "They pay every day a million dollars in taxes and most of this is on their rights of way," he said. "Also they spend daily over two million dollars additional for the proper maintenance of way." He asserted that the motorbuses have not had to pay for their rights of way in any sense that the railroads paid for theirs. "They have simply taken possession of public highways built by public funds, both state and national," he continued, "and they have extensively made those highways vastly less comfortable, less safe and less serviceable for private motorists and others who are contributing chiefly to their creation and maintenance."

Mr. Stephenson declared that all these matters should be thoroughly inquired into by competent public bodies, both state and national, with a view of determining the equities and basic public economic interests involved, "particularly in respect to their effects upon the nation's railroads. "I venture to say," he added, "that such inquiries would show whether it is to the public interest to let things remain as they are, whether the situation calls for a new basis of motorbus and truck taxes to satisfy the equities of the case or whether it would call for such drastic action as the exclusion of this traffic from our public general highways, and the requirement that, even as the railroads, it provide as a part of its own private capital investment its own maintenance of way out of operating income."

Employed at W. W. P. Office Miss Allene Rider has accepted a position as office girl at the local Washington Water Power office, having assumed her duties on Wednesday of this week.

This will be good news to the many patrons of the company at both Kendrick and Juliaetta, who have long been of the opinion that the office should be kept open during working hours.

Wife—Tomorrow is the tenth anniversary of our wedding. Shall I kill the turkey?
Husband—Why, the poor bird not to blame for it.
