SUNDAY'S SHOOT BEST HELD IN CLUB HISTORY

Sunday's Gun Club shoot was one of the best ever held, in fact the best ever held, by the Kendrick Gun club and the turn-out was a large and enthusiastic one. About thirty were present at the shoot, and eighteen different shooters participated in eight different events.

The new grounds, on the Byrns' flat, one and a half miles up the Sperry grade, are splendid, with a skyline view and wonderful light for the shooters. The grounds are easily accessible, provide a splendid parking space for cars and worlds of room for shooters. They are also clean and just the right amount of shade and wind-break is provided by a large clump of pines just back of the pull station. With the acquisition of these grounds the Kendrick Gun Club possesses a grounds second to none, and one of the finest that we have ever seen.

As witness to the fact that the grounds and light are better, the score of almost every man who has ever shot was greatly improved, two perfect scores being made. E. A. Deobald was the first man of the club to make a perfect score, made Sunday in his second squad, and in so doing won the box of shells offered by the club for the first man to make a perfect score.

O. W. Henry was a close second, he also making a perfect score of 25 out of 25 in his third squad, but inasmuch as Eddie was the first man to make a perfect score, lost out by a hair.

In the shoot-off of the handicap, held over from before the flood, Dr. McKeever was the winner of the necktie offered by Long's store, but in Sunday's handicap, O. W. Henry was the winner of the box of stationery offered by the Kendrick Gazette for the best handicap score made Sunday.

The sport of trap shooting is one of the finest ever invented, requiring speed, quick thinking and perfect coordination between eye and hands and is a sport that is getting a better and better hold in Kendrick and all over the country for that matter. Some of the high scores for Sunday's shoot follow, basis, 25 birds:

E. A. Deobald	25
O. W. Henry	25
Frank Crocker	23
Wayne Herres	23
Wade Keene	22
Ira Bolon	22
W. F. Behrens	22

Many other good scores were made too, running from 21 birds down. If you do not make a good score the first time you try it, do not be disappointed, for it takes practice to make perfect, nor need you feel discouraged, for we can't start at the top, in this game we must all start at the bottom and work up. The length of time it takes, depends on you individually; no one else.

Since the acquisition of the new grounds the Club feels in a position to invite visitors. We want everyone to come and take part in this sport. If you do not care to take part, come as a visitor and watch. Bring the family, too; let them see the sport. There is lots of parking space, good shade and lots of room. Come and see for yourself this sport that is taking the nation by storm.

Now that the flood damage has been repaired and the Club permanently located, the Kendrick Club extends to every gun club in the country a cordial invitation to come and shoot with us. If your town has no club, gather up a carload of sportsmen and come anyway. We can assure you a hearty welcome. These shoots are held every other Sunday, the next of which will be May 4.

If it is possible for your club to come we ask you to notify Frank Rider, Kendrick or W. L. McCreary, Kendrick. But if not convenient to notify us, come anyway.

Remember, visitors are always welcome to come and shoot, but if you don't wish to shoot, come and look on.

Kendrick Has Heavy Wind

The Kendrick section was visited by a heavy wind storm starting on Tuesday night, which continued all that night and through Wednesday, but we were more fortunate than most any section of the country, for we had no dust. Practically every other community reporting told of severe wind and blinding dust.

Verily, we still say that the Kendrick country is a protected section and favored by the gods.

Have You Registered?

This is the last week in which you can register for the village election to be held on Tuesday, April 28, for the election of three village trustees. No matter how long you may have lived in Kendrick, unless you register, you cannot vote.

The registration office is at the Gazette office and you may register any time until Saturday night at 9 o'clock. If you are not allowed to vote, it will be because you have not registered and you can blame no one but yourself. Do it now.

JULIAETTA CANNERY IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Fire breaking out a few minutes after midnight Tuesday destroyed the Juliaetta cannery, owned by F. W. Dustan & Son, of Clarkston, and caused a loss of approximately $7,000. The origin of the blaze has not been determined, but there is a strong suspicion that it was the work of incendiaries.

The plant was not operated in 1930 and plans had not been perfected for opening it in 1931, Burnham Dustan, manager, said, when reached at his home in Clarkston. He said that much of the machinery had been removed from the plant but that the boilers and much other equipment remained. He could not say what the exact loss would be. Mr. Dustan said that partial insurance was carried. The building, a one-story frame and more than 100 feet long, was erected in 1914.

The building, a one-story frame and more than 100 feet long, was erected nearly 20 years ago. The original part was built by $1,000.00 being raised by popular subscription, and the help of the town. It was later sold to W. F. Mahon, who operated it for several years, then sold it to Dustan & Son.

Mr. and Mrs. Horst Gunther and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bigger, who were just returning from Lewiston, reported seeing a dim light in the cannery at 11:15 and about 5 minutes later, seeing the whole inside lit up by flames. They immediately turned in an alarm and notified Marshall Miles Pierce of seeing a car drive from there. The Lewiston police were notified in the hopes of catching the car, whose tracks were easily seen in the vicinity of the cannery.

No effort was made to subdue the blaze as it broke out in all parts of the building simultaneously and the whole collapsed after burning but a few minutes.

KENDRICK STUDENTS WIN THREE EVENTS IN CONTEST

The following is the Lewiston Tribune's version of the commercial contest, held in that city last Saturday: Students of the commercial departments of the high schools of Lewiston, Kendrick and Culesac vied for high honors in a competitive match held at the senior high school from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Saturday. Kendrick winning in three of the events and Lewiston in two.

The contest was of a sub-district character and was more in the form of practice for the district competition to be held at Moscow May 1. Lewiston was represented by 12 entrants, Kendrick by 15 and Culesac by three.

In advanced typing Floy Thomas, Lewiston, won with a percentage of 90; Irene Davis, Kendrick, was second, with 83½, and Wilma Isbell, Lewiston, third, with 83 per cent.

Typing for beginners was won by Hazel Reid, Kendrick, 71; Erma Gustin, Lewiston, was second with a percentage of 62½ and Bernadette McConnell, Lewiston, third, 50.

Kendrick entered the advanced shorthand contest without opposition, first place honors being carried away by Eleanor Herres; second, Bessie Blevins, and third place by Marie Schwarz.

In bookkeeping George Chisholm, Lewiston, with a percentage of 59 was first; Robert Yrberry, Kendrick, second, 52, and Herb Kester, Lewiston, third, 59.

Competition was sharp between contestants in the beginners' shorthand class. Edna Bolon, Kendrick, winning with 97 out of a possible 100; Kathryn Minden, Lewiston, was second, with 97, and Bernice Whisler, Kendrick, third, with 93.

The judges were Mrs. O. A. Peterson, Mrs. Ruth McDonald, Miss Montazella Pringle and Dean Thornton of Lewiston, and Mrs. Mary Jarvis, Kendrick.

In the district contest at Moscow participation is not limited to those winning in Lewiston, but is open to as many students as the schools care to send.

Leland Store Is Looted

Thieves entered the DeWinter & Goudward store at Leland Sunday morning and escaped with loot made up of shoes, sox, cigarettes, knives and sundries.

Clerks who visited the store Sunday morning found the back door had been jimmied with a crowbar. Several shoe boxes were scattered about the floor but there were no clues, according to Sheriff Harry Dent, Lewiston, who came to Leland to inspect the store. The ground about the rear of the store was dry and did not indicate that the thieves were traveling by car. No other robberies have been committed about recently.

Shoes, both dress and high topped, were taken by the robbers. The missing items were in sizes 7, 7½, 8 and 9. That several pairs had been tried on seemed to indicate that more than one man aided in the break. Fifteen cartons of cigarettes were taken and about 12 pocket knives. Tooth pastes, brushes and toiletries taken seemed to indicate a desire to possess the more refined accessories of living.

The back door was secured by a bar reaching from side to side. The door had been sprung to admit one of the men and he admitted the other members, it was believed.

Speaking of Roads

Some people may think the road from here to Arrow is somewhat rough and rocky. Well, just make the trip up the Lewiston Hill highway and see what you find. The washout between Juliaetta and Arrow is a boulevard compared to what one has to go over near the top of the Lewiston hill, where they are rebuilding several miles of the highway, abandoning much good road that we would be mighty glad to have.

It would seem to the ordinary layman that it would be much better to use some of those hundreds of thousands of dollars the state is using in straightening out curves to build a few miles of farm-to-market roads. Give the farmer some roads so he can get his grain and other produce to market without traveling in mud up to the hubs, instead of using it to build a new road where a good road already exists. It is safe to say that not far from half a million dollars is being used in north Idaho alone for straightening out curves. This would build a lot of good farmer roads.

NEW FISH LAWS PECULIAR—CAN'T CARRY MINNOWS

As a guide to fishermen the state game department has compiled a brief synopsis of the fishing laws, revised in conformance with enactments of the last legislature, says the Lewiston Tribune.

Lewiston Cherryblossom Festival

Lewiston will again this year put on their Cherryblossom festival, which is an annual event. It is expected to make this year's one of the best ever held in the city.

A queen and her royal attendants has been chosen in Lewiston to reign during the festival, which will occur this year on Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9. There will also be princesses chosen from each community, as has been done in the past, generally chosen from high school girls.

Harry Haynes, chairman, says: "We shall be glad to welcome again this year, princesses from every community."

Junior Prom Tonight

The Junior prom will be held in the new High school gymnasium tonight (Friday). It is a strictly invitation affair and it will be necessary to present your invitations at the door in order to gain admittance. The invitations and programs were furnished by the Gazette.

Valley Is Beautiful Now

Anyone who has the least love of nature in them cannot help but get a thrill every time they go down the canyon, especially toward Juliaetta and Arrow Junction. The hills are a beautiful green, the trees are all leafed-out and practically all the fruit trees are in full bloom, while there is a profusion of wild flowers of all kinds.

The person who fails to see any of these things and admire them—well, we think there may be something wrong somewhere.

NELS MATTSON PASSES AWAY SUNDAY MORNING

Nels Mattson, one of the pioneers of the Linden section, passed away at his home Sunday morning, April 19, at 7 o'clock after an illness of about two and a half months. He suffered a paralytic stroke February 2, and a second attack Friday morning, April 17, which was the immediate cause of death.

Mr. Mattson was a native of Sweden and was about 72 years of age at the time of his passing. He was a naturalized citizen, having received his papers October 15, 1896. He had owned a farm in the Linden section since October, 1899, where he had made his home since that time.

Deceased was a bachelor. He leaves a brother in Sweden, besides many friends at Linden and Peck, where he was quite well known.

The funeral was held from the Gold Hill church Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, with Rev. L. E. Taber in charge. Burial was in the Gold Hill cemetery, with W. S. Herres, mortician, in charge.

The pallbearers were: Bud Harris, Arlen Allen, Axel Bohn, Edgar Bohn, Lew Alexander and Ben Smith.

Lamphere Loses Appeal

In his appeal from the decision of the county commissioners making the Genesee News the official county paper, which was tried in the District court at Moscow last Friday morning, George Lamphere, publisher of the Idaho Post, failed to show that the commissioners had exceeded their authority or used improper discretion in the awarding of the contract to the Genesee News and the case was dismissed by Judge Huff for lack of evidence to prove the contention of Lamphere.

This is not the first time such cases have been brought in the state, with the same result.

Lamphere says he will appeal the case to the State Supreme court, which will settle the question of whether it is any use for county boards to call for bids and use their discretion in making awards.

The School Election

The school election held in the Kendrick district last Saturday afternoon does not seem to have netted any settled results, there having been 18 votes cast for Dr. O. J. Morehead and 21 votes cast for W. B. Deobald, with several scattering votes for various others.

Some interpret the law to read that a majority of the votes cast at a school election are necessary to elect. That being the case it has become necessary to leave the decision up to the county superintendent for settlement. Therefore we are unable to give any definite result of the election at this time.

Locates At Orofino

W. S. Herres, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Herres, has recently purchased the Orofino Mortuary, formerly operated by Mr. Pinson, having taken charge of the business on Monday of this week.

Mr. Herres is quite well known in this section, although he has been employed at Twin Falls for the past two years. Before going to the south part of the state he was employed by the Brower-Wann Undertaking establishment at Lewiston for three and a half years.

His many friends here wish him much success in his new location.

Albrights Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albright entertained very cleverly at a "victory party" Sunday following the baseball game, when a delicious 6:30 supper was served.

Bridge was played until a late hour, the following guests taking part in the play: Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Behrens, Mrs. Chas. Austin of Twin Falls, Mrs. Fred Van Horn of Pheonix, Arizona, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Albright.

GRAIN MARKET STEADY—WHEAT SITUATION FIRMER

Domestic grain markets were generally steady during the week ending April 18, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Continued dryness in North American spring wheat areas, together with increased takings by important consuming countries, strengthened the world wheat situation and this was reflected in a firmer tone in domestic wheat markets, where offerings were smaller and mill inquiry fairly active. Feed grains were mostly firmer under an active industrial and feeder demand. Rye was steady with wheat, while flax remained firm as a result of reduced marketings and a continued fair crusher inquiry.

Domestic winter wheat continued to make favorable progress. The crop is beginning to joint in southern Kansas and is making good growth in other sections of the hard winter wheat belt. Conditions remain unusually favorable in the Pacific northwest. Conditions for spring wheat on the other hand became somewhat less favorable, with continued lack of subsoil moisture. Seeding is general in the United States, with moisture sufficient for the present.

European grain crops are developing satisfactorily, with weather more seasonable in most areas. Spring seeding in the lower Danubian countries have been delayed by cold weather and occasional reports indicate some damage to winter grains. Cool weather is also retarding growth in Germany and the Netherlands, but is favorable to good root development. Conditions in Spain are generally favorable except in the extreme south. Prospects in Italy are excellent and the condition of the French crop has improved. Spring seeding in Russia has been resumed with the arrival of warmer weather following the hard freezes at the first of the month. The preliminary forecast of the Punjab crop, which last year accounted for nearly 41 per cent of the total Indian wheat production, places the outturn in that area this season at 135,000,000 bushels as against 157,000,000 bushels last season.

Most European wheat markets were fairly active during the week, reflecting the shortage of domestic supplies in important deficient areas, influenced also by the increase in the percentage of foreign wheat permitted in French milling mixtures which is now 15 per cent, compared with 10 per cent, the previous allowance. Prices of native wheat in European markets have held fairly steady, with German wheat quoted at Hamburg April 17 at $1.93½; native wheat at Paris at $1.90; at Milan at $1.56½ and at Copenhagen at 80c per bushel. Foreign wheats were being offered freely in Liverpool and other European markets. Southern Hemisphere shipments for the week totaled about 8,400,000 bushels. North American shipments slightly less than 4,000,000 bushels, and Black Sea shipments about 1,200,000 bushels. These, with exports from other countries gave a world total for the week of approximately 14,000,000 bushels. On April 17, 63 lb. Baril afloat from Argentina, sold at Liverpool at 63½c and 63 lb. Rosafe for July shipment at 64½c. No. 1 Manitoba sold at London at 81¼c, No. 2 Manitoba for April shipment at 76c and 63 lb. Rosafe at 64½c per bushel. No. 1 hard winter was offered CIF French ports at 76½c to 77¼c, while No. 2 hard winter afloat sold at Antwerp at 75c per bushel.

Domestic cash winter wheat markets held firm, as a result of the strength in the general situation, moderate current offerings and a continued active mill demand. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal southwestern markets totaled 1,953 cars, which was slightly more than for the previous week and about double that of a year ago. Mills and shippers were the principal buyers.

At the close of the market April 17, No. 2 hard winter up to 13 per cent protein was quoted at Kansas City at 73¼c to 73½c and the same grade with ordinary protein at Omaha at 73 to 73½c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter at Chicago at 83c to 84c. No. 1 hard winter at St. Louis at 81c to 82c and at Fort Worth at 82c to 83c, delivered Texas common points. No. 2 hard winter was selling at Denver at 54c to 56c per bushel. Soft winter wheat was in relatively better demand than hard winter and was quoted at 1c to 2c higher than

ARROW JUNCTION AIRINGS

Mrs. G. H. Gibbs spent Saturday afternoon visiting with the neighbors and shut-ins.

Mrs. R. F. Douglas has been on the sick list for several days.

Many of the friends of the Cook family will be interested to hear that little Wanda, the little girl who was so badly burned at Juliaetta last summer, has been taken to Spokane to a hospital for an operation.

Nevlin and Dolly Whybark spent the week-end with Chet and Ella Douglas.

Work on the railroad near the Raleigh Albright place is progressing rapidly. The bridges damaged by the high water have been repaired and the grade is rapidly taking shape.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Elver have been quite busy the past week making flower gardens and transplanting trees near the depot. This will greatly improve the appearance of the depot and its surroundings.

H. S. SENIORS "SNEAK" TO LAKE WAHA TUESDAY

It was 3 a. m. Tuesday and all was quiet until the class of '31 awakened from their peaceful slumber and marched to the village park. It was not long until cars could be heard driving up and down Main street—possibly disturbing some of our citizens. We are indeed sorry if we interfered with your sleep.

The class decided to go to Lake Waha and spend the day picnicking, hoping to return to Lewiston in time for a show. Our plans were not completely fulfilled. The facts are, we did start at about 4 a. m., arriving in Lewiston at 5, at which time we had breakfast at the Majestic cafe. We journeyed on to Waha, arriving there about 6:45 a. m. Some of the students enjoyed themselves boating, others playing ball, running races of different kinds and generally having a good time. Bessie Blevins won the girls' race, while Nellie Woodward was second. Edna Lohman won the baseball throw, Alcie Ingle was second. Winners in the three-legged race were, boys, George Bailey and Hugh McDowell; girls, (not given). Ivan Craig and George Bailey won first in their respective heats in the boys' races.

After the sports a fire was built and lunch was served. Everybody enjoyed sitting around the fire eating ice cream. While we were eating, it started to rain. Immediately everything was packed in its place and the gang journeyed back to Lewiston. Two shows were attended and everyone arrived home safely at 10 o'clock p. m., somewhat disgusted with the day, but claiming to have had a good time.

We are all sorry to see the Juniors sneak out after us, since they will not have anything new to look forward to next year. Last year, we remained and worked at our school duties while the class of '30 enjoyed themselves.

Mr. Jones, our class advisor, went along. It is always the custom for the Seniors of the various high schools, in company with their advisor, to take a day off from school duties and sneak away for a picnic and general good time sometime during the spring semester.

Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Crocker of Lewiston are the proud parents of a son; born March 31. The little fellow has been named Cleveland Delane.

Mother and babe are doing nicely according to last reports.

CONDENSED DIGEST LAST WEEK'S IMPORTANT NEWS

Last week will go down in history as a critical period in the existences of three widely separated countries. Its news events chronicled the forced abdication of the king of Spain, a revolution to overthrow the government of Honduras and bloody insurgent and bandit warfare in quake-shaken Nicaragua.

The week's news review:

King Alfonso, only living monarch who was born a king, abdicated the Spanish throne and went into exile in France last week when, in the first election Spain has had in eight years, the people hurled an avalanche of Republican ballots against the crown. The fall of the Spanish throne marks the eighth kingdom that has fallen since 1910. The others were: Portugal, China, Russia, Austria-Hungary, Germany, Turkey and Greece.

A bitter revolution seeking to overthrow the government broke out in Honduras last week, with one important town reported captured by the rebels. The revolution is said to have been caused by unrest resulting from business depression and unemployment.

In Nicaragua the U. S. government last week warned Americans to leave or stay at their own peril. Bloody fighting had occurred and more was in prospect between the insurgents and bandits under Sandino and native troops and U. S. marines. Eighteen Americans have been reported killed. Many others have fled the country.

The National and American baseball leagues opened their 1931 seasons last week with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Philadelphia Athletics picked by the dopsters as the outstanding favorites to repeat their 1930 victories.

R. J. "Two Gun" Hart, famed Indian agency policeman who "always gets his man," was last week dismissed from the Indian service because of refusal to "co-operate." Hart asked for a hearing, intimating that the dismissal was the result of charges lodged against a superior.

Frank Milton Driggs of Ogden was elected governor of the fifth district (Utah and Idaho) of the Rotary International last week to succeed Reilly Atkinson of Boise.

A new irrigation project, which would put 250,000 acres of land in western Twin Falls and northern Owyhee counties in cultivation at a cost of 18 million dollars, was last week proposed by I. B. Perfine, one of the originators of the highly successful south side Twin Falls tract.

The first move of what might be an Idaho mining revival took place last week when plans were completed to reopen the old Golden Chariot-War Eagle group of mines in the Silver City section. Prior to the time these mines were closed in 1913 they produced ore valued at 12 to 20 million dollars.

Card Party Success

The card party given by members of the local Rebekah lodge Tuesday night was a decided success, especially from a social standpoint. The crowd in attendance was not overly large but what they lacked in numbers they made up in a good time. Eight tables were at play. High bridge scores were made by Mrs. E. H. Emery and Wade Keene while Mrs. C. A. Oppenborn and Kenneth Frazier made high score in the pinocle games. Wade Keene was again lucky, having received the door prize.

Delicious refreshments were served by a committee of ladies during the evening.

MAGPIE CONTESTANTS ARE BRINGING IN TROPHIES

H. B. Thompson has received good news for the boys who may enter the magpie contest this spring, having received assurance from the Moscow Izaak Walton club that they would look after the bounty, supposedly on heads and eggs of magpies, crows and hawks. This will be in addition to the nice prizes that will be awarded, as has been done for the past two or three years.

The proper thing for the boys to do is to get busy gathering these trophies just as fast as they possibly can. While it is not definitely known just what the reward will be, it is safe to say that that it will be well worth your while. It is more than likely that we will be able to furnish the desired information in a short time.

Mr. Thompson will have charge of the counting and keeping the record of heads and eggs brought in, the same as last year, so get all you can and take them to the Kendrick State Bank and you will be given proper credit.

The following boys have brought in eggs and heads and have been given the following credits:

Jas. Bolon, Ralph and Fred Reid	167
Paul Dammarell and Junior Ramey	147
Elmer Emery	66
Oscar Hartung	67
Bud Carlson	58
Chas. Candler	73

It would be appreciated very much by Mr. Thompson if contestants would bring in the eggs and heads as often as possible—before too many accumulate of they get too old.

Junior League Entertainment

An entertainment, consisting of three short playlets and piano solos, will be given at the Methodist church Wednesday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock by the Junior Epworth League.

"The Square Deal," will be presented by Joe Watts, Paul Dammarell, Tommy Keene, Harold Ellis, Keith Dammarell, Joe Cardinal, Frank Rider and Quentin Dammarell.

"The Sick Baby," by Margaret Davis, Darline Cardinal, Marie Sloan, Wilson Bolon, Esther Aiken, Inez Aiken, Cleota Bolon, Jean Bigelow, Lucille Humphrey, Maxine Bigelow, Beatrice LaHatt, Geraldine Clark, Lida Jane Carroll and Joe Cardinal.

"How Some Little Dollies Came To Go As Missionaries," Arlene Deobald, Annabel Deobald, Darline Cardinal and Gayle Bolon.

Arlene Deobald and Joe Watts will give piano solos and Bobby Watts a recitation.

A small admission fee will be charged, which will be given to the fund to help old retired preachers of the conference.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

The J. H. Hunt home was the scene of a happy reunion on Tuesday, April 14, when Mr. and Mrs. Hunt celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Several of their children, together with their families, were present to help them remember that day.

The daughters were: Mrs. John Gentry of Deary, Mrs. J. Butler of Teakean, Gertrude Pendland of Lewiston, Mrs. Clark of Spokane and one son, Ramey, who lives with his parents.

There were also two granddaughters present, Mr. and Mrs. Jim West of Teakean and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Smith of Spokane, their families representing the fourth generation.

When you are in Kendrick, stop at the Hotel Kendrick—clean beds, and good things to eat.

CAUTION

This year's bean crop will be a big one and many companies will undoubtedly be in the field buying beans. There is but one way to get the top price and that way is the clean bean way.

Be very careful of the seed you plant, see that there are no red beans in your white bean seed. If necessary, hand pick your bean seed. We want to help you get the top price and there is no surer way than clean beans.

WEED ERADICATION DEMONSTRATION AT LEWISTON

The inroads being made on the cropping areas of this and many other counties of the state by morning glory and Canada thistle are being felt by many farmers and they are seeking methods of eradicating these noxious weed pests. Plowing and cultivating these weeds have not proved successful even as a control measure and many farmers are turning to the use of chemicals as an effective means of removing these weeds.

Chlorates are being used extensively over the country for weed control and County Agent J. W. Thometz of Nez Perce county announces there will be a public demonstration of this means of weed eradication at W. A. White & Son's place, Top Hill, Lewiston Orchards diagonal road, on April 29, at 9 a. m.

All the modern equipment being used will be demonstrated. The truck carrying this equipment will show the latest nozzles, guns and boom sprayers, both for liquid and dust. The knapsack type duster will be specially demonstrated.

Experts will discuss the weed problem with farmers and will gladly give information on chlorate control measures. Various types of weeds will be shown and the county agent urges those who are having trouble with any weed to bring a specimen along that it may be identified and control measures prescribed.

Methods of application have a great deal to do with effectiveness of the control and have been known to vary the results as much as 50 per cent. The chemical kills the weed by being absorbed; therefore, the more chemical absorbed by the plant the greater the killing power. This means that the best time for spraying is when the plant presents greatest foliage. However, in the case of Canada thistle the spray may be applied after the weed is cut, but here again the method of application and concentration of the chemical are the governing elements over results obtained.

The use of chlorates in weed eradication effects not only control of the pests but, if properly applied, will positively eliminate weed patches from the field and garden.

Weather and Roads

So far this month we have had the usual variance of April, with perhaps a little unseasonable coldness. It seems that a day or two of sunshine is about the limit and then the rain comes down for a few hours, but at that we cannot complain, for things are popping from the ground as though drawn by a mustard-plaster. Shrubs are in full leaf, flowers of many kinds are blooming and trees are leafing fast, with many in full bloom, some of which were nipped in spots by some rather cold nights.

The roads are being whipped into better shape, but they are still far from boulevards and thousands of dollars worth of work must yet be put on them to repair the flood damage as well as the usual spring shaping up that all roads seem to need. Nothing has been done on the road between Arrow and Juliaetta and the ford must still be used. It is thought, however, that with the permanent railroad grade in place the water will be shut off and the present ford will only be a dip in a mighty rough and very rocky road—truly a hard road in more ways than one.

Much progress is being made on the other roads, however, the Cedar creek and Brady gulch roads being put in shape as rapidly as possible and the other roads coming in for their share.

Mrs. Hull Entertains at Dinners

Mrs. H. P. Hull last week gave a series of three small dinner parties which proved to be very pleasant affairs. The first was on Wednesday evening, when Mrs. Edgar Long and Mrs. Jessie Callison were guests. PRIMITIVE AREA TO BE PRESERVED IN IDAHO

The proposal of a primitive area in the middle fork of the Salmon river in central Idaho to be preserved in its natural state for the edification and pleasure of outdoor lovers has met with the approval of the U. S. forestry department, it was stated by H. R. Rutledge, regional forester.

"The forest restrictions proposed for the area are in force, at present and will continue to be," he said. "The plan to segregate one million acres of central Idaho in its primitive state is approved by Forester R. Y. Stuart of Washington."

The area will be maintained in its present state of undefiled naturalness by being closed to the construction of public roads and to permanent improvements and buildings, according to the report. The only improvements will be those necessary to the protection of the area from fire and other enemies.

"The area is therefore established," the forest service report reads, "to conserve primitive conditions and environment, habitation, subsistence and transportation for the enjoyment of those who cherish the early traditions and history of this country and desire to preserve in some degree the traits, qualities and characteristics upon which the nation was founded; to make it possible for people to revert to simple types of existence in conditions relatively unmodified nature and to afford unique opportunities for physical mental and spiritual recreation."

The primitive area consisting of 1,087,744 acres, is located in almost the geographic center of the state. It is bounded on the north by the main Salmon river, on the east by the Big Horn and Yellow Jacket ranges, on the west by the western watersheds and on the south by a line paralleling the Middle Fork to Rapid Creek.

Only the most necessary restrictions will be placed upon recreational use of this area, the forest officials state. Summer homes, stores and other private buildings will not be permitted, nor may the lands therein be privately exploited. However, the general recreational use of the territory by the public will be encouraged.

The area is described as being one of great natural beauty, the topography ranging from upland mesas and towering peaks to deep valleys and canyons, many parts densely wooded with giant evergreens. It is reported to be a veritable paradise of fish and game. The lakes and streams abound with game fish and there is wild life of all kinds, including deer, elk, moose, bear, mountain goat, mountain sheep, wolves, coyotes, foxes, lynx, bobcats, cougars, martin, mink, otter, badger, wolverines and beaver. Also birds of all varieties are plentiful, many of them beautifully colored and others of excellent table qualities.

Conoco Listeners' Hour

The popularity of Peggy and Pat—radio couple featured on the Conoco Listeners' Hour—has been proved in an unusual way. Since they mentioned during one of their weekly broadcasts a short time ago that they planned a motor tour of the Northwest for their vacation this summer, they have received scores of invitations to visit other sections.

"It would take all summer to visit all the places we'd like to," Peggy said. "And we only get two weeks. Besides we wouldn't change our plans now—the Conoco Travel Bureau has already sent up our maps and passports. Maybe next year we can visit other sections."

Other motorists who are planning vacation trips will be interested in the next Conoco program, Pat has announced. A real "variety" program has been arranged by the orchestra and the quartette.

Idaho's Population

Final figures of the Idaho census, revealed last week, show that the state has 25,654 more males over the age of 21 than females, which should be cheerful news for the ladies and prospective feminine divorcees.

The state has a total population of 445,032—237,347 of which are of the masculine gender. There are in the state 686 negroes and 6802 of other races. The population 21 years of age or older is 246,770, or 55.4 per cent of the total. The white population shows an increase of 2.8 per cent over the 1920 census.

The report shows that there are in the state 1278 Mexicans, 3638 Indians, 335 Chinese, 1421 Japanese, 97 Filipinos, 21 Koreans, seven Hindus and five Hawaiians.

Baseball Schedule

A very good baseball team has been organized in Kendrick and the first regular game of the season will be played on the home diamond on Sunday, April 26, when the Potlatch team will come here for a game.

The Kendrick team is made up of local boys and there will be no outside players hired, making the sport of more interest to baseball fans of this community.

The boys played Juliaetta at Juliaetta in a practice game last Sunday and lost to the tune of 4 to 3. The game was a splendid one, however, it was unmarred by any bickerings or arguments of any sort whatsoever and proved a very good game to see. The boys thank Juliaetta for their hospitality.

Following is the schedule of games to the middle of June:

- May 3—Juliaetta at Kendrick.
- May 10—Kendrick at Potlatch.
- May 17—Lapwai at Kendrick.
- May 24—Kendrick at Juliaetta.
- June 7—Kendrick at Genesee.
- June 14—Genesee at Kendrick.
- June 21—Open.
- June 28—Open.

The Tax Situation

The spreading tendency among Idaho counties to reduce their tax valuation during the coming year is likely to prove embarrassing to the smaller taxing units, according to persons who have made a study of the tax situation.

The general opinion seems to be that very little savings will be effected by tax valuation reductions at this time and the smaller units, such as school districts, highway districts, improvement districts, etc., may be seriously inconvenienced by a lack of funds.

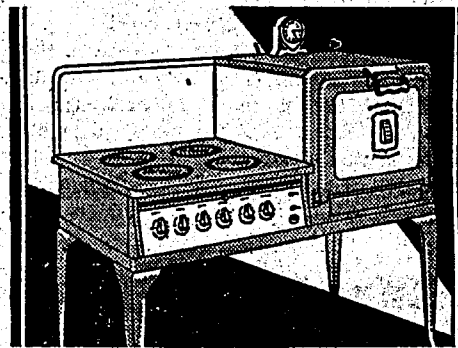

Reductions in tax valuations, it was pointed out, will merely result in an increase of state and county levies in order that the necessary governmental funds may be raised. On the other hand the small units, tax levies of which are limited by law, will be unable to make such increases and the result will be that these units will suffer.

Divers' Perils Overcome

The greatest peril of the deep sea diver is that of his connections becoming entangled whereupon the diver is helpless until he gets himself aloft or to signal for help. This danger is entirely overcome by the use of a diving apparatus which has been tested in England with entire success. It dispenses with the helmet and other impediments of the usual diving gear. The operator has a tank secured to his belt from which a supply of oxygen is obtained and a device for absorbing the carbonic acid gas of the exhaled air and thus the necessity of pumped air to him is disposed of.

Moliere's Death Dramatic

Moliere's last play was "Le Malade Imaginaire" and the story of that play is the history of his death. While critically it is one of his best comedies, around the figure of a man who was sick only in imagination. When it was produced he played the part of the man with the feigned illness. The night of its fourth production found Moliere much worse. He refused to disappoint his audience and went on. During the performance a convulsion seized him which he covered with a laugh. At the end of the evening he died.

Cradle for Baby Oysters

Paper cradles are being employed with success in the artificial culture of oysters. The cradles are cardboard lattices like those used in partition egg crates, in which the baby oysters are kept. The system has been found to develop even-sized oysters, while eliminating the loss due to crowding and producing greater quantities of seed oysters from a given area than by the ordinary method of shell-planting.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Manganese in Steel Making

The steel industry takes approximately 95 per cent of all the manganese consumed in this country. The percentage of the metal which goes into the steel varies from around 1 per cent to as high as 12 per cent in steels in which particular hardness is desired.

Manganese has long been used in removing oxygen from molten steel, but it is only of late years that its value as a hardening agent has been realized.

Odd Tropical Fishes

The most beautiful of tropical sea-folk is the moonfish, often called the ghostfish because of its paper-thin form of a silvery color. The angelfish is as gaily colored as the rainbow and with long, trailing fins of contrasting tints. The squirrelfish flaunts a deep coral shade and great dark eyes. The parrotfish attracts attention as much by its gorgeous colorings of turquoise blue, plum purple, or bright green as by the peculiar bony beak.

Death From Electricity

The amount of electricity required to cause death may be stated both in volts and amperes. Experiments at Sing Sing have resulted in the conclusion that no human body can withstand an alternating current of 1,500 volts and that 300 have produced death. For continuous current it may be necessary that as much as 3,000 volts are required to bring about fatal results. In such cases the ammeter usually shows from 7 to 10 amperes.

Mount Vernon's Fronts

There are two fronts on the Washington mansion at Mount Vernon, as there always were in Colonial times when a home was built on the banks of a river. The phrases "land front and water front" run through books on the subject of Colonial homes.

Greatness in Simplicity

Nothing is more simple than greatness; indeed, to be simple is to be great.—Emerson.

STANDARDIZED TRAFFIC LAWS ARE NEEDED

During 1931 extensive revision of traffic laws will take place in many states. It is an unfortunate fact that legislation probably will, as in the past, vary from state to state so that the motorist who crosses boundary lines will be in a quandary as to what is legal and what is not in the matter of driving an automobile.

This lack of state cooperation has unquestionably been largely responsible for the barriers in the way of accident prevention. Various organizations have sought to create a national traffic code suitable to the needs of all states. A federal traffic ordinance has been suggested. This would not only be a violation of the state's rights principle of government, but would lead to the creation of another great federal department, extending into every community at the public expense.

The proper way out is for the states themselves to pass legislation which is satisfactory to the greatest possible part of the nation. Varying speed and right-of-way laws, different systems of traffic control, unequal standards of qualifications for drivers' licenses—all contribute to the accident chaos. The experience of the past, in which fatalities and injuries have increased by leaps and bounds, gives us a foundation on which to advance highway safety on a national scale through uniform state legislation.

London's Oldest Bank

London's oldest bank is Hoare's, the age of which cannot be certainly stated; but there is in existence a receipt dated 1633 for money deposited there in that year with Lawrence Hoare, who was in business as a goldsmith.

My Favorite Stories

Both Sides of the Proposition

DOWN in the Black Patch along the line between west Kentucky and west Tennessee where the heavy dark tobaccos are grown, a prominent planter grew dissatisfied with the marketing arrangements. It seemed to him he was not getting a fair deal from some of the large European buyers and from the American shippers who acted as the middlemen. He decided to make a private inquiry as to conditions.

For his emissary in this matter he chose his overseer or crop manager. The latter was an expert in making the earth yield of its bounty and regarding the curing and packing of the weed he had no superior in the South. But he had never been farther away from home than Louisville and had never seen a larger city than Louisville. Trusting, however, to the man's native shrewdness the planter put him on the train with instructions to go to New York, conduct a personal investigation and report back by telegraph.

Upon his arrival the visitor went direct to one of the larger docks on the North river where several ships were being loaded with the product of the Black Patch for shipment abroad. Next he visited a warehouse where tobacco for domestic consumption was stored and immediately sent his principal this telegram:

"Better sell this year's crop for any price you can get. I've done seen more tobacco already than the whole world can use in the next twelve months."

After this he took a stroll uptown. When he reached Broadway and Fortieth street he hunted up another telegraph office and wired his employer as follows:

"Disregard first message. Hold all the tobacco you've got. There's enough folks in this town alone to chaw it all up inside of the next twenty-four hours."

Mechanical Toys Seen as Scientific Wonders

Among African negroes, a doll is supposed to have magical powers, and may be used to ward off evil, or offered up as a sacrifice.

Not so many years ago it was believed that to overcome an enemy it was only necessary to fashion a wax doll resembling him and melt it slowly before the fire, when he, too, would waste away with illness.

Toy animals, like those in Noah's ark, miniature picks, shovels and household articles, such as miniature tea services, were buried with the dead or were offered to the gods as imitation sacrifices. Thus a farmer would present at his temple little wooden sheep or horses; the housewife would offer small reproductions of household utensils.

Mechanical toys, such as trains, dancing bears and swimming ducks, had quite a different origin. They were produced as scientific wonders, by the great experimenters of long ago, and were regarded as playthings fit for a king. The more ignorant people believed them to be miraculous and sometimes the makers had narrow escapes from execution as wizards.

"Roses of Old Virginia"

Praised by Englishman

In old Virginia there were many kinds of wild roses. As soon as tobacco and cotton plantations were established and houses were built and there was time for beauty, a rose garden was planned, laid out and planted with native roses and the fashionable roses of the Seventeenth century which were brought over from the old country.

These rose gardens are an important and very beautiful feature of every Colonial place. They are very often walled in, and low-clipped box hedges formally divide the beds. The box may be planted in most intricate fashion, as at Mt. Vernon, George Washington's home, or it may be simpler, but it is always well trimmed and cut, as the new owners of these historic old places which were left derelict for long after the Civil war take a great pride in restoring and preserving their beauty and tradition.—Correspondent of the London Times.

Cremona Violins

Carlo Bernini of Cremona was an Italian violin maker. He lived from 1690 to 1748. This master has always been considered one of the best pupils of Stradivari. He made several models usually fast, giving to the interior part of the body of the instrument in width whatever the superior lost or gained in length. The sound holes, rather far apart, are very near the edges. The scroll lacks roundness, but at the same time has character. His varnish, always rich and transparent, although thick in places, varies from light red to brown red, sometimes amber yellow, and has a tendency to crackle slightly. The tone is particularly beautiful, combining refinement and power, and any violins made by this man are superinstruments.

Commemorative Stamp

The Battle of Fallen Timbers commemorative stamp issued by the Post Office department is a memorial to Gen. Anthony Wayne, and to commemorate the one hundred and fifth anniversary of this battle. "Mad Anthony" Wayne of Revolutionary war fame was called upon to end the Indian trouble at the frontier, when Harmar and St. Clair had failed. He began his campaign in Ohio in the fall of 1793. In 1794 he was active on the Maumee, and on August 20 defeated the Indians decisively at Fallen Timbers, and in August, 1795, he and 127 of the Northwestern tribes signed the treaty of Greenville, by which the United States acquired a large tract of territory.

Ancient Mulberry Gardens

Probably few of the guests at the king's garden parties at Buckingham palace associated the beautiful grounds with an attempt to found an English silk industry. In the reigns of Charles I and Charles II, these grounds were known as the Mulberry gardens, a place of fashionable resort mentioned by both Evelyn and Pepys. Dryden, it is recorded, used to repair here to eat mulberry tarts. The mulberry trees had been planted by James I to provide food for silkworms, one of his whims having been an attempt to encourage the production of silk.

History of Harpers Ferry

Harpers Ferry, W. Va., was named for Robert Harper, who founded it in 1747. He was born in 1703 at Oxford, England, and emigrated to America at the age of twenty. He bought the site of Harpers Ferry for 50 guineas—about $260—for the good will of a squatter named Stevens and a patent from Lord Fairfax. It was purchased from Harper's heirs by the government in 1794 for the purpose of founding a national armory of 125 acres. Later the site passed under the control of the new state of West Virginia.

New Game

After his second week in school, Billy came home with the announcement that an older boy was going to show him how to play a new game.

"And what is the game?" asked his mother.

"Hokey is what he calls it," responded unsuspecting Billy.

GRAIN MARKET STEADY—WHEAT SITUATION FIRMER

a week ago at the principal markets. No. 2 soft red winter was selling at Kansas City at the close of the market April 17 at 74c to 75½c and at St. Louis at 82c to 82½c and at Cincinnati at 82c to 83c per bushel.

Marketings of spring wheat decreased during the week, but mill demand also slackened as the market strengthened. The best inquiry was for low protein, heavy weight wheat and light weight grain sold slowly. No. 2 dark northern was being quoted at Minneapolis at the close of the market April 17 at 79c to 80½c and at Duluth at 79c to 82½c. The Winnipeg market was firmer and higher, with No. 1 Manitoba Northern quoted at 62½c at the close of the market April 17. Durum wheat markets were firmer, influenced by less favorable prospects for the new crop and by a somewhat improved demand for cash grain. The July future price at Duluth advanced 3¼c and closed April 17 at 70½c. No. 1 amber was quoted at that market at 74c to 76c and at Minneapolis at 70c to 71c per bushel. No. 2 red durum was quoted at Duluth at 64c and No. 2 mixed durum at 69c to 72c per bushel.

Pacific coast wheat markets also strengthened during the week, influenced by the firmer situation at Eastern markets and by the unfavorable new crop prospects in California. Marketings in Washington and Oregon were of moderate volume but went mostly into storage. Export demand for flour was lacking and domestic demand was dull. Milling inquiry was therefore limited. An export sale of 1,000 tons or about 33,000 bushels of wheat to the United Kingdom was reported during the week at around 61c per bushel F. O. B. loading port. At the close of the market April 17 No. 1 hard and western white wheats were quoted at Seattle at 71½c and western red and Montana hard winter and 67½c per bushel, sacked. 14 per cent protein, No. 1 hard winter from Montana was quoted in bulk at 77c and 14 per cent protein No. 1 dark northern at 78c per bushel. Big Bend Blue-stem No. 1 hard white was quoted at Portland at 70c, No. 1 soft and western white 69c and No. 1 hard winter, Northern spring and western red at 66c per bushel, sacked. The Vancouver market also strengthened, with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted on April 17 at 65c, No. 2 at 61c and No. 3 at 57c per bushel.

California wheat markets advanced around 2½c per 100 during the week, largely as a result of unfavorable prospects for the new crop, which is being affected by drought. The April 1 estimate placed production this year at around 10,000,000 bushels, compared with 13,000,000 bushels last season, but the crop has deteriorated since that date. Local holders of wheat were selling slowly because of the uncertainty of next year's supplies, and mills and feed manufacturers were obtaining most of their supplies from Washington and Oregon and the inter-mountain states. No. 2 soft and western white wheat from Washington and Oregon was quoted delivered San Francisco April 17 at $1.27½ to $1.30, and No. 2 hard white, 13 per cent protein, at $1.30 per 100. New No. 2 soft white for July and August shipment was being offered at $1.17 to $1.20 delivered. No. 2 dark hard winter, with 13 per cent protein from Idaho and Utah, was selling delivered California points at $1.33 to $1.35, and No. 2 hard winter at $1.27 to $1.30 per 100 in bulk. No. 1 hard and soft white local wheat sacked was quoted at San Francisco at $1.27 to $1.30 per 100.

No. 2 dark hard winter in bulk was selling at Los Angeles at about $1.33 to $1.35 for 13 per cent protein wheat, while No. 1 hard and soft white were quoted at $1.36 to $1.38 per 100. The demand for feeding wheat was somewhat improved as a result of the sharp advances in prices of barley and mill feeds.

Imports Cottontails

Ben Callison on Tuesday received a crate of Cottontails from Rago, Kansas, and took them to his farm, where he turned them loose, in the hope that they would multiply and later furnish some good hunting and eating.

Teh crate contained ten live ones and two dead ones. The live ones looked as chipper as you please and will have a great time in the brush, piles that Mr. Callison has for them.

LAWN NEEDS SPRING TONIC TO HELP OVERCOME WEEDS

A good way to fight weeds in the lawn is to feed them. This is the seemingly paradoxical advice of turf specialists, of the United States Department of Agriculture. Feeding the weeds gets results, the experts say, because the fertilizer that feeds the weeds also feeds the grass and stimulates such vigorous growth that the grass, which thrives with frequent cutting, will run out the objectionable weeds.

For lawn fertilizer the specialists say, it is hard to beat well-rotted manure. For the spring dressing it is a good plan to compost manure with leaf mold and sod or other vegetable wastes, and then sift it with a coarse screen to remove all lumps or bunches. A top dressing is a spring tonic for a lawn. In the fall it is not necessary to compost manure or to remove lumps and undecayed matter.

The forage men advise an application of 4 or 5 pounds of either the muriate or the sulphate of potash and 10 to 15 pounds of superphosphate for each 1,000 square feet of lawn. This should be repeated every two or three years.

A good nitrogen fertilizer for early spring is composed of cottonseed meal and either nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia. Use 4 or 5 pounds of the meal, to each pound of the concentrated fertilizer, and scatter the mixture over the lawn at the rate of about 15 to 20 pounds to each 1,000 square feet.

Like a Symphony . . . the best Gasoline is Blended

IT'S primer knowledge to the orchestra conductor that each group of instruments in the ensemble brings a necessary influence into the symphony's finished blend of tone. In the unaccompanied "oompah" of the bass horns the melody provided by singing violins and mellow woodwinds is lacking. All must be blended by the baton of the conductor according to the expert formula of the composer before the perfection of the symphony is achieved.

CONOCO long has realized that harmony is as necessary to gasoline as to music. So CONOCO gasoline is blended—and balanced. One type of gasoline is no more satisfactory than is an orchestra of bass horns. So CONOCO refiners take the three types containing the elements of the perfect fuel and deftly combine them until they blend in absolute harmony.

That's why CONOCO contains Natural Gasoline, for quick starting . . . Straight-run Gasoline, for power and long mileage . . . Cracked Gasoline, for its anti-knock qualities.

No single type of gasoline can contain all these qualities. They are present, though, in CONOCO Gasoline . . . blended there into a symphonic, harmonious whole, with CONOCO's master refiners wielding the baton. For, after all, it's in knowing how. That's why some musical directors, as well as some refiners, achieve fame.

You'll find this triple-test gasoline with the balanced-blend wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

Those High School Numerals

On Wednesday morning of last week the numerals of the senior class of the Kendrick high school were quite prominent upon one of the high cliffs of the canyon east of town. The Seniors left for the designated spot about 4 o'clock Tuesday evening and by 7 o'clock had a large "31" painted on the rocks. The Juniors, thinking that they could change the "1" into a "2" visited the Seniors but their plans failed. After an all-night watch the Seniors returned to town, triumphant over the Juniors.

RUPTURE EXPERT HERE

C. F. Redlich, Minneapolis, Minn., will demonstrate without charge his unequalled method in MOSCOW WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY APRIL 29 and 30 at the
from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says: The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time. The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable. Stomach troubles, backache and constipation, nearly always a consequence of rupture, promptly disappear.
Bring your children. According to statistics 95% recover by our method.
NOTICE: All whom we have treated during the past ten years are invited to come in for a free inspection. Evening appointments by telephone only on the first day.

HITCH-HIKER STABS MAN WHO GAVE HIM LIFT

H. F. Davidson, 62, of Madras, Oregon, president of the Oregon Canning Company, was taken to a hospital at Portland Saturday night, suffering from an abdominal stiletto wound inflicted by a hiker who had been given a ride by Davidson.

Davidson told Hölger Christoffer-son, chief criminal deputy sheriff, he was enroute to Newberg, where the canning company is located, when he overtook a hiker limping along the highway with a pack on his back.

Davidson offered the man a ride and as they neared a vacant house near Rex, Oregon, the man ordered him to stop, and threatening him with a stiletto, took him to the basement of the house and robbed him of about $5. The stranger then demanded his watch and ring. Davidson was carrying a low priced watch instead of his usual one and the robber cursed him in disappointment and ordered him back to the car.

As he entered the car Davidson accidentally sounded the horn and the bandit struck him over the head and delivered a blow to the abdomen and ran. Davidson did not realize he had been stabbed until he had resumed his drive. Then he became nauseated and discovering the wound, turned about and drove eight miles to his home where a physician and an ambulance was called.

Dumbbell

A guy that sits up all night because the washwoman has his pajamas.

Yes, we think so too, but it's almost as bad to do without that needed hardware, thinking the price high, for prices at this store are way down. Come in and see.

Sunday School Teacher—Now what happens to a man who never thinks of his soul but only of his body?

Eddie—He gets fat!

Yes, that's a fact, but why not fatten your purse this fall by raising a garden? We have the finest of seeds and priced so low they sell themselves.

Oh Boy

Dandelions are here, which means a change of greens without additional expense!

Why not beautify your table at no additional expense. Set it with tinted water and beverage glasses at the cost of common ones—89c per dozen.

Flapper (in car): Are my dimmers on?"

"Cop (blushing), "Lady, I wasn't even looking."

Electric light globes, good ones, in every desired candle power, and priced so that you will want several.

Male salesmen may have their faults, but one never holds up a Number 42 stout suit and calls it a "Sweet Little Thing."

Yep! And it takes more than words to hold a wagon bed or hayrack together. See us for bolts, lag screws, screws, nails and tools to do that job.

Now is the time to do that job of painting, kalsomining and varnishing. The little bit of cost will soon be saved in added appearance, serviceability and satisfaction. Let us help you with your problem.

Pat: Why do the traffic lights flash amber before they turn green?

Mike: 'Tis a warning signal—it gives the Scotchman a chance to start his motor.

Scotch or no Scotch we want to sell you your hardware for every need and purpose—and remember we give and have always given 5% off for cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lyle brought Dr. Truitt out to attend Grandma Martin Wednesday evening.

Our school came to a close last Friday, April 17. We had a picnic and all started for the timber, but it was so disagreeable we returned to the school house, had lunch and played games. All the parents that were able to attend were there.

The honorary scholars for our school for the entire school term were: Milton Wilkens and Jessie Martin, neither being absent nor tardy during the term.

Miss Mildred Gibler left for Moscow for a short visit before returning to her home at Stites.

THESE PEOPLE WERE ALL "CAUGHT SHORT"

The customary quiet was broken by the raucous cries of newbies crying extras.

A man leaped out of a barber shop half shaved.

A chauffeur deserted his car in the middle of a traffic intersection.

A woman tore from a hair-dresser's shop, her coiffure done up in the funny pins that bring "permanent waves."

And that was the manner in which Chuck Reiser expressed in "Caught Short," his first version of what happened on that fateful day, "October 23rd," when the bottom fell out of the stock market, which is to be shown at the Audian, April 24-25 and 26.

"Caught Short" is a Marie Dressler-Polly Moran talking comedy, based on the famous security debacle.

The settings of the picture are reported to be a relief from the excessively modernistic interiors seen in recent productions, the scenes of "Caught Short" being laid chiefly in the Washington Square "Village" district of New York City.

The boarding-house atmosphere will be further carried out in scenes laid in tenements, meat markets, old-clothes emporiums, pawn shops and similar localities of the class of humanity represented in the picture. It is only when the stock-dabbling landladies come "into their own" that the scene shifts from the lower class districts to a luxurious hotel in Atlantic City and more elegant quarters.

Musical touches of the picture include a travesty called "I'm Spanish Now," sung by Miss Dressler in a party sequence; and "Somebody," which Charles Morton sings.

Regrets

If any unfaithfulness was indicated in the divorce papers of Mrs. Frank Boyd against her husband in his infatuation for Marguerette Flaig, it was unintentional and groundless.
