Frost Damage Slight

Frost damage during the past week in Idaho fruit sections is reported to have been slight by the state department of horticulture. However, the department qualified its report with the explanation that the exact damage cannot be determined at this time.

Elizabeth Carlson Chosen Princess

Elizabeth Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carlson, a junior in the Kendrick High school, was chosen to represent the school as Princess at the Lewiston Cherry Blossom Festival, to be held Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9. This is a signal honor and Miss Elizabeth is to be congratulated upon her popularity among her fellow students.

There will be Princesses from many towns in this section of the country and they will be royally treated by the Cherry Blossom management. It is expected that a large delegation will go from Kendrick to take part in the festivities.

In addition to the many other attractions, there will be a floral display that will be well worth going to see—and there will be dancing at Dreamland Park, and other places—the big parade of floats, etc.

HAROLD THOMAS SELLS HARDWARE TO DEARY MAN.

A deal was closed on Monday whereby Harold Thomas sold his hardware store to F. S. Curtiss of Deary, the ownership having passed to Mr. Curtiss on Monday, but Mr. Thomas was in charge until Thursday, when Mr. Curtiss took over the active management of the store.

Mr. Thomas has been actively connected with the business interests of Kendrick for the past ten years, either in the hardware or implement business. Last fall Mr. Thomas sold his implement business to Geo. Brocke, devoting his time entirely to his hardware business, which he has conducted for the past year.

Mr. Curtiss sold his hardware store at Deary, where he had conducted the business for the past seventeen years. He is a thorough hardware man and will no doubt do a nice business at his new store.

Mr. Thomas has a piece of timber land that he expects to look after, but will continue to reside in Kendrick.

Mr. Curtiss, it is understood, will not move his family to Kendrick until later—when he may be able to secure a desirable place to live.

While we regret to lose Mr. Thomas from Kendrick's "business family," we welcome Mr. Curtiss into our business circle.

It Gives Us a Good Laugh

We read the other day where the state highway engineer, J. J. McCreedy said that all roads leading into Lewiston were in fine shape for the Cherry Blossom festival, and really, it gave us a good laugh.

We wonder if Mr. McCreedy ever tried to drive a car over our road from Juliaetta to Arrow Junction. If not, he should try it. We guarantee it's the most rock road he ever drove a car over. It is surfaced with rocks, but now it would make the Rocky road to Dublin look like a paved boulevard. Why we have everything on that road, including a ford and chute-the-chutes.

Yes, Mr. McCreedy says all roads are in good shape, that is, the state's pet boulevards, on which they are spending hundreds of thousands to eliminate curves and cut down one per cent of the grade, while we, and our farmers, can sit in the mud and rocks and get our produce to market the best way we may. It almost seems as if that famous remark—"The People Be Hanged" fits the road conditions we have.

Our highway districts are not to be blamed, in fact they are to be complimented on what they have accomplished on almost nothing, but still, under present conditions, our gas tax money eliminates curves for someone else's town and we sit in the mud and boulders, helpless.

Odd Fellows to Genesee

A delegation of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs went to Genesee on Wednesday to attend the district convention of the order, held there on Wednesday.

Those attending the Rebekah convention at Genesee Wednesday night were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nesbit, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hill, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Emery, Mrs. L. S. LaHatt, Mrs. Thos. McDowell and Mrs. Edgar Long.

Appointed School Trustee

Word was received in Kendrick Wednesday from Miss Ellen Peterson, county superintendent of public instruction, that she had appointed Wm. Deobald school trustee, to serve for a term of three years.

KENDRICK HIGH WINS DISTRICT-STATE COM. CONTEST

A year of hard work on the part of both students and instructor was rewarded Friday when Kendrick High school took first in the District-State Commercial contest held at the University of Idaho, when they brought home two loving cups and two medals.

Edna Bolon was the outstanding student at the contest, taking first in Shorthand I with a grade of 99 plus, and third in bookkeeping. Eleanor Herres won first in Shorthand II with a grade of 97; Bessie Blevins, second, grade 94, and the girls won the small cup for first place as a team.

While they may not have meant to be biased, yet it was stressed in write-ups of the contest that there was no competition in Shorthand II. It might be well to say here that the grades made by Eleanor Herres and Bessie Blevins were both higher than the grade made last year by the Lewiston girl who won first place in the district contest.

Marie Schwarz and Robert Yriberry, although not placing in the upper three in bookkeeping, nevertheless had such excellent papers that second place as a team of three members came to Kendrick in this event.

Five points were awarded for first place to individuals and also to the best team, second place counted three and third place one. Kendrick High school won with a total score of 22, leaving Lewiston second with 17, just the reverse of last year when Kendrick took second.

The cup which was awarded the winner becomes the permanent possession of the local High school commercial department.

The department under Mrs. Jarvis may well be proud of the results attained in the last three years. A letter received from Dewey Briscoe, secretary of the State association, Burley, Idaho, commended her and the school on the exceptional work done by so small a school and its results in comparison with the other high schools of the state. Had a cup been given to the school ranking first, in all probability Kendrick would have won it, as one of the students from here, Doris Emery, won first in bookkeeping, second in shorthand, and both teams placed third and fourth in the state ratings, in 1930.

The winning papers at Moscow last Friday will be sent to Burley, where the best papers throughout the state will be compared and the results announced. Word from this contest will probably be received before school closes.

Many Magpie Eggs Brought In

That the youngsters of this section are really interested in the magpie contest that is now at its height is shown by the large number of eggs and heads that are being brought in each week.

There will be a good array of prizes and they will be well worth working for.

The standing of the contestants to date is as follows:

Sherwin Schmidt	820
Bolon, Reid and Reid	432
Adolph Denner	251
Dammarell and Ramey	233
Candler and Candler	168
Emery and Hartung	157
Bud Carlson	58
Floyd Crocker	41
Irvin Malnarich	21
Laurence and Jimmy Kuykendall	6

Mr. Thompson urges the contestants to please bring in their "finds" before they get too old. It is no fun handling these things when they are ancient.

Entertained at Bridge

On Wednesday afternoon of last week Mrs. H. B. Thompson very pleasantly entertained the ladies of the Bridge club in honor of Mrs. Jessie Callison, who was visiting here. Three tables were at play. Mrs. Geo. Leith won high score and Mrs. Callison was given a guest prize. Delicious refreshments were served during the afternoon.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Visits

Deputy U. S. Marshall West was in town Monday serving subpoenas for witnesses to appear before the U. S. grand jury at Moscow, and the trail court, which convenes at Moscow on Monday, May 11.

Not Much Shipping

The Kendrick-Rochdale company reports that they are doing very little shipping of either wheat or beans at this time.

14-INNING BALL GAME JULIAETTA-KENDRICK

Perhaps one of the longest—and best—ball games ever played in Kendrick was pulled off on the local diamond last Sunday between Juliaetta and Kendrick, when a 14-inning game was played, the final score being 1-0 in favor of Juliaetta. This was perhaps the longest scoreless tie game ever played in Kendrick—and there are few on record that have last Sunday's game beaten, either amateur or professional.

While we are unable to give the boys the proper "write-up," it is safe to say that it was a real ball game, and one that any bunch of players might be proud to have taken part in.

It is not often that a 14-inning game is pitched by any one pitcher, but such was the case last Sunday when Ed. Dammarell pitched the full 14 innings for the Kendrick team and Tilden pitched the full 14 innings for Juliaetta—and not a man was walked by either pitcher, something else that rarely ever happens, even in a nine-inning game, and only five men got as far as third base during the entire game.

The battery for Kendrick was Dammarell, Davis and P. McCormick. For Juliaetta, Tilden and Gruell. Umpires were Bolon and Albright.

Following is the score by innings:

Death of Mrs. Humphrey

Mrs. Charlotte Ann Humphrey passed away at the home of her son, R. E. Humphrey, in Kendrick, on Friday, May 1, 1931, the immediate cause of death being pneumonia. She was 70 years of age at the time of her passing.

Charlotte Ann Baxter was born September 12, 1856, in Wisconsin. On December 6, 1872, she was married in Minnesota to Wilmot O. Humphrey, who survives her. They came west in 1888, locating in Spokane, later going to Medical Lake, Washington, going from there to Lake Chelan, where they resided for nine years. They came to Kendrick in the spring of 1927, and have since been making their home with their son, R. E. Humphrey.

Besides her husband, Wilmot O. Humphrey, deceased is survived by four children—R. E., Kendrick; A. W., Pateros, Wash.; L. H., Bayview, Oregon; and Mrs. L. E. Horton of Hanford, Wash. Thirteen grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church on Sunday, May 3, with Rev. L. E. Taber in charge. Burial, under the supervision of J. E. Pickard, was made in the local cemetery.

The pallbearers were James Emmett, Ira Foster, C. G. Compton, Nick Brocke, Thos. McDowell and J. F. Brown.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Humphrey of Pateros, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Horton of Hanford, Wash.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation of the help and kindness our friends and neighbors extended to us during the illness, death and burial of our dear wife and mother.

COMMERCIAL CLUB MEETING

Next Monday evening, May 11, will be the regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial club at the Kendrick Hotel. Dinner will be served at 6:30.

All members, and others, interested in the progress of our little city are urged to attend.

These meetings are held for the sole good of Kendrick, and it is your duty to come and help solve our problems. Much good for the town has been accomplished by the Commercial club and more can be accomplished by the same means.

Don't be selfish. Come out and join with your fellow townsmen and do your part.

GUN CLUB HOLDS ANOTHER "WHALE OF A SHOOT"

Last Sunday, May 3 saw another large an enthusiastic crowd of marksmen out on the Kendrick Gun club grounds and the trap going steadily from 10:00 a. m. to 1:00 p. m. If the present rate of increase holds out the club will soon have to erect another trap house and install the other trap, which it now has on hand.

A number of the boys took part in the handicap shoot held at Lewiston a week ago last Sunday and interest since that time has increased steadily. The next regular shoot is scheduled for Sunday, May 17, but it is thought that a number will go up the 10th, just to keep in practice for the regular shoots.

Quite the surprise of the shoot, and the "fastest one yet pulled" on the grounds was administered to a group of high score men when Harold Thomas stepped into the line with a slight handicap and pulled down a neat 24 to win the prize the boys were shooting for. It was indeed a jolt to many of the seasoned guns and hurt the pride of a number, but somebody or other Harold "put it over and walked off with the bacon." High score was made by both O. W. Henry and E. A. Deobald, who turned in scores of 24. Walt Bigham and H. Schupfer tied for second with scores of 23. Wade Keene was third with a score of 22 and many of the other scores were well above the twenty-bird mark.

Had our group of high score men shot at Lewiston as they shoot on their home grounds they would have come home from Lewiston with their expenses paid, and then some. But they all said they had to stand with their knees well apart to keep them from knocking together, so perhaps that accounts for it. Anyway, for the length of time the boys have been at it, their performance is mighty good. Remember the date of the next shoot, Sunday, May 17, and another thing—remember you are welcome to come and watch us and to take part in the shoot if you like.

Man Injured by N. P. Train

A man believed to be Coy Perkins of Sumas, Wash., about 70 years old, was struck in the back by the Spokane-bound passenger train of the Northern Pacific about a mile west of North Lapwai late Tuesday afternoon. His injuries were believed to be serious although the extent of his hurts had not been determined at St. Joseph's hospital, where he was rushed by ambulance, says the Lewiston Tribune.

Perkins did not remember walking along the right of way, he said, although he knew he was walking east. He was returned to Lewiston by the afternoon train reaching there at 2:30 o'clock, slightly less than an hour after the accident.

Stone deaf, Perkins, if such is his name, told physicians at the hospital that his address is "right here" and refused to tell his name. Coy Perkins was written as the addressee on several letters in his pocket, however, with the address Sumas. A receipt in a pocket was made to C. N. Perkins of Okanogan. He had $77 and was well dressed.

Automobile Burns

A Ford coupe, carrying Idaho license 84-449, thought to be of the series allotted Bonner county, was found burning in a canyon near the Wayne Talbott place, near Lapwai, Tuesday. After leaving the grade the machine had turned bottom-side up when it stopped in its course. No signs were found indicating anyone had been injured.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER WITH FEED GRAIN SLOW

Domestic wheat markets strengthened during the week ending May 2, with prospects of increased takings by deficient areas, an unfavorable spring seeding conditions in the American and Canadian northwest more than offset the weakening influence of the favorable outlook for domestic winter wheat, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Feed grains were weak and lower, reflecting the slackening of demand as a result of improved pasturage and unsatisfactory returns from dairy and poultry products. Rye continued weak, but the moderate offerings of flax were readily taken at steady prices.

The new domestic winter wheat crop continues to make favorable progress and is now jointing in southern and western Kansas, with the second joint appearing in some fields. Private estimates at the first of May averaged around 10,000,000 bushels over the April 1 forecast. Spring wheat seeding on the other hand, continued to be retarded by dry weather and unfavorable soil conditions. High winds have already dried out the limited moisture received recently and rains are needed for germination and growth of the crop.

Spring wheat seeding in the Canadian prairie provinces is also being retarded by lack of moisture, according to reports to the Manitoba Free Press. Seeding in Manitoba is slightly in advance of last season and was about 90 per cent completed at the first of May, compared with 80 to 85 per cent May 1 last year, and 65 to 70 per cent two years ago. Seeding is about the same stage as last spring in Saskatchewan, where about 60 per cent is done, compared with 65 per cent last May and 35 to 40 per cent in 1929. The new crop is going into the ground a week to 10 days late in Alberta, where seeding is only about 50 per cent completed as against 65 to 75 per cent a year ago and 25 to 30 per cent two years ago. Moisture is lacking generally through the Canadian spring wheat area, with the exception of the territory across to Northern Saskatchewan and extending into Alberta, where the heavy rains and snows were received last fall. Little or no reserve subsoil moisture is reported at many points, and rain is needed for the germination of the seed in numerous places. Soil drifting has delayed seeding in some areas in all three of the Prairie provinces.

Conditions in Europe are most seasonable and spring work and seeding are now proceeding rapidly. Although still backward, growth has been retarded somewhat by cool weather throughout most of the northern and eastern Europe, but is now more rapid since the weather has become warmer. Conditions in Spain and Italy are favorable and prospects in France are satisfactory, although some abandonment of winter wheat acreage is indicated. Conditions in North Africa are still favorable and the outlook in China is reported to be good.

Prospective modifications in import tariffs in some European countries and recent changes in milling regulations favored increased takings of wheat by deficient areas. French inquiry has become more active with a further increase to 25 per cent in the proportion of foreign wheat allowed in milling mixtures. A reduction in the German import tariff is in prospect which would tend to increase takings of foreign wheat by that country. A new law, effective April 1, requires the German government to prevent any increase in the price of bread above the average price for the six months ending March 31, 1931. Prices of native wheats in Europe were not materially changed during the week, but were slightly lower in Germany and slightly higher in France and Italy. Purchases of several parcels of American hard winter wheat were reported in France during the week, at 76½c to 78c per bushel, C. I. F. French ports.

India has again appeared on the world wheat markets as an exporter, with new crop choice Karachi offered for May and June shipment at 73c per bushel C. I. F. Liverpool and the United Kingdom. 63 lb. Rosaf Argentine wheat was offered C. I. F. Liverpool May 1 for May shipment at 67c and Australian wheat from New South Wales at 71½c per bushel.

Dolled Up Blacksmith Shop

Joe Cardinal has been busy during the past week or more repairing and dolling up his blacksmith shop. When the high water came along a few weeks ago it went under the floor of Joe's shop and when it went out it took some of the "filling" with it and left the ground rather soft. Joe got busy and blocked up the rest of his shop, put in water and other conveniences—and now he is painting the exterior, which adds very materially to the appearance of the building.

A few gallons of paint properly applied adds much to the appearance of any building.

INLAND EMPIRE SPORTS MEN'S SHOW, MAY 11-16

What is the Spokane Sportsmen's Show, May 11 to 16—rather the Inland Empire's Sportsmen's Show, for this event, the biggest outdoor one held anywhere in the country, is contributed to by the Inland Empire and is sponsored by the Spokane Chamber of Commerce to bring a realization of its outdoor wealth to this entire section, and to introduce this wealth to the outsider. Snakes are sent from the coast, from the rock hills; fish from mountain streams and lakes in every direction; game birds and animals from every direction between the Rockies and the Cascades; fine mounted specimens from this town and that, and this year, as a new feature, the Inland Empire is also represented by its wild flowers.

The shell pinks, delicate blues, and daffodil yellows that bloom in the meadows and valleys are going to be transplanted to a garden which will slope away from a rustic cabin with flower bordered walks, to the banks of a winding stream just below a dashing waterfall. The plants will be named, an idea in keeping with the Sportsmen's Show educational objective.

The birds this year will also be of considerable interest as many of them are rare. Woodducks, Pintails, White Calls and Black Calls, and Egyptian geese will be included, in addition to the usual ducks and geese with their several families of cunning little swimmers.

The fish village in twenty-seven great glass aquariums will occupy the center of the grounds, with fishermen able to glean tips about baits and reels, and haunts other than those they already know.

Letters from Montana, from the coast, from here and yonder are coming in, offering the committee bear cubs, which are so necessary at least to the young visitors to the show—and there are sure to be a good number of the funny fellows about.

The United States Forestry Department is staging a variety of demonstrations which will have to do with the havoc of forest fires, and reforestation. This group is again bringing its popular packhorse train as well.

Inland Empire towns report district displays which indicate that there will be rivaling for the "biggest and best."

All contributing to the forest land which cannot be imagined unless it is seen. It does not seem possible that trees that are not trees can appear to "grow," that lakes and streams and canyon walls can be so well produced. But with help and ideas from every source they are, which explains the amazing growth of the popularity of this sample "vacation land." In 1926, the first year that the ten cent admission fee was charged, 30,000 attended; in 1927, 49,000; in 1928, 59,000; in 1929, 75,000; in 1930, 87,000; while at least 100,000 visitors are being prepared for this year, between May 11 and 16.

Canada's Wheat

If you are worrying about the immense quantities of wheat the Farm Board bought up and is holding in storage, consider Canada's surplus of nearly 400,000,000 bushels. Two years ago a big wheat pool was formed to hold up the price. Last year the pool bought a lot of $1.50 wheat, which it still holds, and the price at Winnipeg now is about 50 to 60c, which is approximately 25c below the Chicago price. WHAT IS OLDEST TOWN IN UNITED STATES

If asked for the name of the oldest town in the United States most people would answer either St. Augustine, Florida or Santa Fe, New Mexico, had that distinction. But Louis H. Warner, Chairman of the Pueblo Lands Board, writes in the current issue of the National Republic that the distinction should go to the Indian village of Acoma. It is located near the famous "Enchanted Mesa" and has never been moved since its beginning, which is shrouded in tradition.

Writing of this interesting village, Mr. Warner says:

"Less than a half century after Columbus discovered America, the Spanish were exploring the pueblo area. After Zuni came Acoma. From 1540 on, its doings are a matter of history. Prior to that date, we have to rely on tradition. In the early days, many Indian villages were built on inaccessible mesas. Other situate in the lowlands along river courses were readily accessible to mountain retreat to which they could quickly go in times of stress. As time went on, most of these villages on the high ground were abandoned. Raids were less frequent and protection more stable. However, there was one outstanding exception. Acoma alone throughout its known history has continued on the Mesa top. To be sure, many Acomans today live and cultivate their fields along the San Jose river to the north but the headquarters, the county seat as it were, is still on the penon of the south end of the mesa near the south boundary of the grant. Therefore, I claim for Acoma the longest continued habitation of one people upon one spot to be found in this country. Other pueblos have been and are now practically on the same ground that they were when the Spanish came. But in each and every case there is a break, a shifting of location which severs the chain of continuity. So let St. Augustine, Tuscon and Santa Fe withdraw.

"There is another distinction. This continually occupied citadel of the sky was for a long time established before even the Spanish heard of it. Appearance and tradition are our authority. But there is still more. A few miles, three to be exact, to the east and south looms the Enchanted Mesa. It too had been previously occupied and without doubt by the same people. When the change came, from one mesa top to another, not even tradition can tell. But it was no doubt, long before the days of Columbus. A very spirited controversy raged, between Lumis who wrote much of the Southwest and an Eastern university professor as to whether or not the Enchanted mesa had ever been inhabited. The result of the investigation satisfied most, if not all, that Lumis was correct.

"But to go back. Spanish soldiers first saw Acoma in 1540. In 1599, because of certain infractions a sortie was made upon this Gibraltar of the plains. By almost superhuman effort a small party of Spanish soldiers, by a devious route, had gained the top. For three days the struggle waged. Finally, the Spanish won and exacted a terrific penalty. I wonder if all that history says they did can be true. Anyway the village partially destroyed, stayed on. Wonders were worked there later. One reads of the remarkable ancient structures of sgypt. He justly marvels how they could have been accomplished with the facilities then available. I marvel as much in the accomplishments at Acoma."

BUSINESS PITFALLS IN FARM DISTRICTS

Bankers Point Out Hazards of Unsound Practices and Help Farmers to Avoid Them.

WAYS in which bankers may discourage unsound farm practices are described by President F. D. Farrell of the Kansas State Agricultural College in the American Bankers Association Journal. He says:

"In Kansas in connection with the importation of dairy cattle, a large shipment of very inferior animals came into a county to be sold at auction to local farmers. The county agricultural agent informed the bankers that the cattle would be a detriment to the community. The bankers refused to finance the purchase of the cattle and the sale was abandoned. The cattle were shipped to another county. The county agent and the bankers there did as was done in the first instance and the second county escaped.

"A year ago creamery promoters began trying to capitalize the Kansas farmers' desire to improve his markets by inducing communities of farmers to purchase creamery plants before production and local conditions justified them. Informed of this by the State Agricultural College, the bankers association sent warnings to every bank in the state, leading many to refuse to support the creamery promoters until the college approved the plant for the community concerned. This saved many communities loss from the premature establishment of plants.

"A third way bankers can discourage unsound practices is to refuse to finance farmers who wish to pyramid their enterprises, a temptation difficult to resist. This is illustrated among farmers who buy cattle for feeding purposes. A farmer feeds two or three cars of cattle one year and makes a good profit. This induces him to buy twice or three times as many the second year, still more the third and so on until he finally loses more by having too many cattle on feed in a year of bad prices than he made in several previous years with smaller numbers and better prices. When bankers discourage bad practices their action is a positive benefit to the farmers concerned."

WHAT A KEY BANKER DID FOR HIS COUNTY

The farmers of one county in Tennessee are receiving $400,000 additional annual income from new farm enterprises started since 1926 through the efforts of a "key banker" and the county agent, according to estimates from the Tennessee College of Agriculture. A "key banker" is a part of the state bankers' association voluntary field force cooperating with the American Bankers Association in its nationwide plan for bringing about better agricultural conditions through combined banker-farmer effort. New projects started in this particular county are tobacco, Irish potato and cabbage production for cash crops, and dairy and poultry raising for livestock.

The key banker, looking for something to do to better his community, first attempted to procure a county agent but was unable to get the county to make the necessary appropriation, so he and other leading citizens made up the requisite funds through private subscription among farmers and business men and an agent was employed.

Up until 1926 grain was the principal farm production in the county. The banker recognized the disadvantages of this. It afforded a low cash income, and the land was too hilly and rough for profitable grain raising. His idea was to introduce cash crops that offered more return per acre and were better fitted to the county. It was decided that the county should standardize on the Green Mountain potato and to market it in carload lots. Through his bank he sponsored the buying of a car of certified seed potatoes. He likewise bought some high quality tobacco seed and several hundred settings of purebred eggs. These supplies were distributed at cost through the banks to the farmers.

After considerable effort a market for dairy products was assured the farmers when in 1928 a national cheese company located a factory there. A county appropriation was secured for county agent work in 1928.

In 1929 the cash crop program resulted in farmers selling $45,000 worth of milk, $150,000 worth of tobacco and fifty-five carloads of potatoes and cabbage, mostly through cooperative sales. "This was some step from the $25,000 worth of cash crops in 1926," the county agent says, "and indications are that this amount will be doubled."

Banks Favor Diversification

Emphasis was placed on the strategic position the banker holds through the use of directed credit at a recent meeting of the Alabama bankers' agricultural committee. Alabama is confronted with the problem of over-production of cotton. The committee recommended to banks that credit be extended on the basis of a twenty-five per cent reduction in cotton acreage. The value of growing other crops than cotton was strongly stressed and county outlook meetings are being planned with the thought of bringing about a more balanced agricultural program in the various communities.

Attribute Quakes to Earth-Shaking Giants

In southern Italy, where earthquakes are of frequent occurrence, old peasants have many queer legends which have been handed down for centuries. In the neighborhood of Mount Etna one of the strangest of these is widely believed.

The peasants will tell you that centuries ago their ancestors won the land from a race of giants. They compelled the giants to take refuge underground. There they remain and cannot escape, but from time to time they cause earthquakes, showing that they have not forgotten and that they still take their revenge upon mortals.

No one knows what really causes earthquakes, though it is believed that some distance below the earth's hard crust there is a plastic layer in which tides, just like those of the sea, are set up by the attraction of the sun and moon. The crust is strained by these tides, and one day a part of it, deep down, gives way. Then the surface trembles and widespread havoc occurs as buildings rock and fall.

Riley "Checked Up"

Hamilton Garland has a new James Whitcomb Riley story in his reminiscences, "Roadside Meetings." Years ago Garland was visiting the Hoosier poet at his home and had praised his fidelity to farm life. Riley smiled.

"Sometimes a country boy gives me a round turn by criticizing me on my farm poems," he chuckled. "For instance, one youngster came stepping up to me. 'You never lived on a farm,' he says, 'Why not?' said I. 'Well,' he says, 'turkey cock gobbles, but he don't kyouck as your poetry says he does.' He had me right there! It's the turkey hen that kyoucks. 'Well, you'll never hear another turkey cock of mine kyouckin', I said to the boy."—Kansas City Star.

Odd Religious Sect

The word "abecedarian" is derived from the first four letters of the alphabet and is applied to one learning the alphabet; hence an Abecedarian is a tyro or beginner, says an article in Pathfinder Magazine. As an adjective the word means rudimentary. The Abecedarians were a sect of extreme Anabaptists in Germany during the sixteenth century. They were so nicknamed because they maintained that the holy spirit would grant the elect all the knowledge necessary to truth; they despised all learning, including theology, and regarded knowledge even of the alphabet as sinful.

Time Sense in Animals

Some people have the time sense, but the vast majority of the human race is sadly deficient in this faculty. But many of the lower animals possess an extraordinarily keen time sense. Note the way in which the animals at the zoological garden become restless at the approach of the feeding hour. On the farm the horses and poultry know exactly the times they are due to be fed. Ducks are particularly clever in this way, and they will raise a small riot if their evening meal does not arrive to the minute.

Saves Wear on Stockings

Every time Charley Payne, Jr., played marbles in Brooklyn his mother wondered how much longer she could go on buying stockings for the lad. Surely, she argued, there must be an inexpensive way of playing marbles without the fear of torn stockings, and so she began to work out an idea. With the aid of her husband, there presently appeared an object which was subsequently patented. It was a "device for projecting marbles and the like" and could be operated by a boy who stood up while he played.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER WITH FEED GRAIN SLOW

Domestic cash wheat markets were strengthened with futures, but were also influenced by a steady demand from mills and moderate purchases by domestic marketing agencies. Receipts of winter wheat at the principal Southwestern markets continued fairly large, totaling 2,055 cars, compared with 1,876 cars for the corresponding period last year. Receipts of spring wheat were smaller, totaling 526 cars at Minneapolis. Prices were advanced slightly and at the close of the market May 1 No. 1 hard winter up to 12 1/2 per cent protein was quoted at Kansas City at 74c to 74 1/2c and 13 per cent protein at 75c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter up to 12 1/2 per cent protein was quoted at 73 1/2c. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Moaha at 73 1/2c and No. 2 hard winter at 72 1/2c to 73c per bushel; and No. 2 hard winter at Colorado shipping points at 48c to 51c per bushel. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Fort Worth, basis Galveston export rate, or delivered Texas common points, at 81 1/2c to 82c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter was selling at Chicago at 82 1/2c to 83c and No. 1 hard winter at St. Louis at 80 1/2c per bushel. Soft winter wheat was in rather slow demand, with prices practically unchanged from a week ago. No. 1 soft red winter was quoted May 1 at St. Louis at 81 1/2c, No. 2 at Cincinnati at 79c to 82c and at Chicago 81 1/2c to 83c per bushel.

No. 1 dark northern spring sold at Minneapolis May 1 at 2c to 4c over the May price, which closed on that date at 78 1/2c. The same grade was quoted at Duluth at 79 1/2c to 82 1/2c per bushel. Durum wheat shared in the strength of bread wheat and advanced around 1 1/4c per bushel. No. 1 amber being quoted May 1 at Minneapolis at 72 1/2c to 77 1/2c and at Duluth at 75 1/2c to 76 1/2c. No. 1 Durum was quoted at Duluth at 74 1/2c and No. 2 red durum at 64 1/2c to 65 1/2c per bushel. Canadian spring wheat markets also strengthened during the week, as a result of continued dryness in the Prairie provinces and the generally firmer world situation. No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted at Winnipeg May 1 at 60 1/2c per bushel.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were firmer, following largely the advance at Chicago and other eastern markets. High winds damaged the late seeding in light land districts, but the loss was comparatively small, according to trade estimates, and the situation is now more favorable with cloudy weather prevailing. Receipts at terminals in the Puget Sound and Columbia river districts continued fairly large, totaling 613 cars for the week, most of which went into storage. Demand for domestic milling wheat continued rather dull and of limited volume, but export mills were grinding wheat obtained from domestic marketing agencies and reported flour sales to the Orient of around 10,000 tons. Export sales of wheat were larger than for some time and totaled 12,000 tons, consisting of a cargo and several parcels to the United Kingdom and of several parcels to Japan. Cash prices were very slightly higher with No. 1 western white wheat quoted May 1 at Seattle at 71c, western red and hard winter at 68c and B. B. bluestem hard white at 72c per bushel, sacked. No. 1 dark northern spring in bulk from Montana with 14 per cent protein, was quoted at 81c and No. 1 dark hard winter at 75c per bushel. No. 1 B. B. bluestem sold at Portland at 70 1/2c, soft and western white at 69 1/2c and hard winter, northern spring and western red at 67 1/2c per bushel.

California wheat markets were quiet but steady, with prices unchanged from a week ago. Both milling and feeding demand was only of fair volume and trading was principally in wheat from Washington and Oregon. Recent showers improved the conditions of the California crop a little, but much of the late sown wheat was too far gone to be materially helped. Growers were not offering freely because of the unfavorable prospects for the new crop. Northern wheat, however, was supplying most of the current trade needs and of the April receipts at San Francisco of 7,894 tons, 7,150 were from Washington and Oregon 56,900 tons of Northern wheat were received from June 1 to April 30 at San Francisco this year, out of total receipts of 84,756 tons. This is nearly twice as much Northern wheat as was received the corresponding period last year. At the close of the week, new crop Northern wheat for August and September shipment was quoted at $1.17 1/2 per 100, delivered docks San Francisco, and at $1.25 per 100 delivered Petaluma for No. 2 soft white wheat. No. 2 soft and western white wheats for immediate shipment were being offered from Washington and Oregon at $1.27 1/2. No. 2 hard white with 13 per cent protein at $1.30 and red spring feed wheat at $1.25 per 100, sacked, delivered docks, San Francisco. 13 per cent protein No. 2 dark hard winter from the Intermountain states was quoted at $1.33 to $1.35 delivered California points, and No. 2 hard winter at $1.27 to $1.30 in bulk. No. 1 hard white and No. 1 soft white local wheats were quoted at San Francisco at $1.30 per 100. California Baart wheat for milling was selling at Los Angeles at $1.37 to $1.38 1/2 and No. 2 soft white at $1.32 to $1.36 per 100. Sonora feed wheat was quoted mostly at $1.30, while No. 2 hard winter from the Intermountain states was quoted at $1.35 to $1.37 1/2 per 100 in bulk.

Weather And Roads

Now that the weather has settled itself down to an occasional shower now and then and eliminated the long hard rains, the roads are fast being gotten into good shape, indeed the dirt roads are in very good shape, about as good as one can hope to find them. The gravel roads are being put in shape and the flood damage repaired as fast as it is humanly possible to do so, but many days of labor are yet needed to put them into as good a shape as they were preceding the flood. However, everything possible is being done and in the future they will be better.

The weather for the past two weeks has been ideal, not too hot nor too chilly, just so one is very comfortable in shirt sleeves and just enough to bring many cases of spring fever into the serious phases, the phase where vacations are talked about, maps consulted and fishing streams discussed. Well, anyhow, it's mighty fine weather and gardens are just popping out of the ground.

Ain't It The Truth

A firearms expert has invented a pistol which shoots gas and stuns the victim for half an hour without harming him. These ought to be popular at banquets when the hour arrives for the after dinner speaker.

World's Great Debt to Copper and Electricity

The Siamese twins of science as though conscious of their interdependence upon one another, marched on the world hand in hand. For instance, Capt. Jonathan Carver caught sight of the famous "Ontonagon boulder," a nugget of pure copper weighing six tons, in 1705; Alexander Henry, a visionary Englishman, tried in vain to remove it and to mine in Ontonagon county during the three years from 1771 to 1774, Russell Gore writes in the Detroit News. In 1786 Luigi Galvani—whose name is enshrined in the amber of our language in the word "galvanic"—discovered that electricity applied to the dismembered legs of frogs convulsed them with the appearance of life. In fact, he thought he had discovered the life force—the elan vital of the French—the energy that animates alike the unicellular activities of the amoeba or the complicated mental processes of a Dante or a Voltaire.

Alexander Volta, professor of physics at the University of Pavia, wrote the magic word, "volt" into the language of electricity, by carrying the Galvani experiments to the climax known to electrical historians as the Voltaic Pile. In the year in which Doctor Houghton was born, 1809, the great English scientist, Sir Humphry Davy, foreshadowed the age of electric light when he exhibited a voltaic arc based on the discovery of Professor Volta.

Early Samplers Called for Expert Needlecraft

At first "samplers" were long, narrow bands, on which had been worked out patterns for delicate lace, cut and drawn work, and stitches both simple and intricate. It is recorded that the famous Italian "punta tagliato" was introduced into France by Catherine de Medici, and this gives us a new sidelight on the activities of that historic courtly lady. Also, Mary Stuart, while an exile at the French court, learned to do the "punta tagliato" and brought samples with her to England. Many royal women of early days were skilled in needlecraft as well as in court intrigue.

Thus we learn that the original sampler was a pattern sheet having the latest and most popular designs for millinery's workbasket. But in the seventeenth century there came a change: Orderly rows of stitches and designs; then letters, names of workers and dates of birth, and often sentiments or lines of verses were added; all this giving evidence of originality, skill and patience, which made the sampler a thing of beauty highly prized by its maker, who could be rightly proud in adding her name and date of birth. The body of the sampler was linen or canvas, and when the former was used the work was more delicate and intricate.

"Rome, of the North"

The country which today seems to stand at the crossroads of Europe is Czechoslovakia. To many this name is a "terra incognita," but when the eye picks out Prague, Carlsbad, Marienbad, Franzensbad and Pilsen, it is immediately recognized as an old haunt of tourists. Prague was a favorite city with Goethe, Chateaubriand, George Sand, Prevost and Brandes, who praised it as "the Rome of the North." Here is the famous Hradcany, ancient seat of the kings of Bohemia and now the residence of the President. Here also is the majestic Gothic cathedral of St. Vitus and the beautiful Charles bridge over the Vltava. The most striking natural beauty of the land is the resorts in the Tatras mountains.

Surely Champion Optimist

You simply couldn't depress Smythe. He'd come home from a rotten game of golf or a barren day's fishing full of beans. He'd back the whole program without getting one placed horse and exude good humor. When business got so bad that he had to move into a smaller and cheaper place, much to his wife's disgust, he tried to console her with the fact that she hadn't such a big house to look after.

The first wet night she met him at the door with the news that the roof leaked and water was dripping into the dining room.

"That's all right, dear," he said; "put your aspistras under the drip, and it will save you watering them."

Football and Chemistry

Football was indirectly responsible for making Sir William Ramsay one of the world's greatest chemists. When as a youth his leg was broken in a gridiron scrimmage, he read Graham's Chemistry through, partly to relieve the tedium of convalescence but more particularly to find out how to make fireworks. On his recovery he became a passionate chemical experimenter. For the next four years his bedroom was full of bottles and test-tubes and often of strange odors and startling noises.—Gus Logic.

English Weather

During the World war, at a party given by members of a London church to some Australian soldiers, one of the hosts offered a prize for the briefest and best description of the English weather. Immediately one of the men jumped up and gave the following reply to the challenge:

"Weather you have none; samples many, none up to standard."

P. S.—He won.

We don't sell Germ-Processed Oil on claims...we just show you the test results, figured out in fractions...

IT'S comfortable to know that the oil you are using will result in gasoline and oil economies. A prominent southwestern bus line (name on request) wanted to know. They put Germ-Processed Motor Oil to the test in a 25-passenger bus. Competent engineers checked every detail of operating cost and maintenance during 7,488 miles of regular passenger service, comparing the results with an equal test of the competing oil.

When the test ended it was found that Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil had reduced oil consumption by 13% and had lowered gasoline consumption by 14.3%.

Such economies are also possible in your car. And there are other advantages which soon become evident to the user of Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil, each proved by authoritative tests. Your own test-through-use will be most convincing. Have your crankcase filled today with Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil at the nearest sign of the Conoco Red Triangle. All grades 35¢ per quart.

Revolution? Says the Washington Post: "There is one thing to be said for America's insurgents. They haven't ever boasted that heads will roll when they come into power. Maybe not but the voices will continue to roll in the same old way." Prominent Factor Among the other reasons for spring optimism is the fact that Congress will not meet until December.

north through western Canada. They catch up with him when Keith takes refuge on a stranded whaler in a frozen bay and capture him although O'Toole is slightly wounded in the leg. Keith proves to be an exact likeness of Conniston who has dogged him down, except as to disposition, the captured man having the better of it on that score.
Conniston dies on the long trip back, and O'Toole, who is only a guide and who believes Keith innocent, persuades Keith to wear Conniston's clothes to the first outpost, pass himself off as Conniston there,
report Keith dead and then escape.
Keith agrees to this and is drilled by O'Toole in the habits and peculiarities of Conniston. These had included hopeless love for Miriam, the daughter of the post commander, who does not return the affection, and Conniston's friendship for Mickey,
O'Toole's neglected son.

GOOD-BYE

Well folks, you will find elsewhere in Mr. McCreary's newspaper where we have disposed of our business to Mr. Curtiss, of Deary, who takes charge this week. Mr. Curtiss comes to us well-known and well recommended and we are very sure he is going to give you a mighty fine store. We just want to tell you how much we have enjoyed serving you and editing this little paper for you, and it is with sincere regrets that we bid you goodbye in a business way.

What finer gift can you give the graduating boy than a fine fishing rod, a reel, a good rifle or a good knife. We have them all and they are priced mighty reasonable.

"Is that all the work you can do in an hour?" asked Sam's new employer.

"Well, boss," said Sam, "I dussay I could do more—but I navah was one fo' showin' off."

Neither are we, but we do claim our prices can't be beat.

An agitator was addressing a band of strikers.

"Only $12 a week!" he yelled. "How can a man be a Christian on $12 a week?" "How," yelled a voice, "can he afford to be anything else?"

True and you cannot afford to use a cheap paint when the finest (Bass-Heuter) costs only a few pennies a can more and goes so much further that it is really cheaper!

'Tis said that Ye Editor stole a march on the Gun Club boys Sunday when he copped the prize shoot, but we plead not guilty. It was the U. S. shells that did the work. We sell 'em, you bet!

The teacher was explaining to a class of boys and girls the meaning of the word "collision."

"A collision," she said, "is when two things come together unexpectedly. Now can anyone give me an example of a collision?" "Twins," said the class idiot.

Be that as it may, it's a surprise when you find out how cheap you can buy really fine paints, enamels, kalsomine and varnishes at this store. When doing over the house, let us help you with your problem.

School closed last week with practically all of the children happy because of the "promotion" on their report cards. Miss Hazel Steelsmith of Troy, who taught our school this year, was very well liked by both children and their parents and they are hoping to have her for their teacher again next year. Every parent and pupil at the picnic dinner Sunday voted for her for next year and some parents who had no children in school this year also voted for her. The picnic Sunday was attended by nearly every family in the neighborhood and a very enjoyable time was had.

Show Me a Leather That Stands Up Like Wolverine Shell Horsehide

"I've never found a leather to equal the heavy duty of Wolverine Shell Horsehide. It's the only work shoe leather that contains a reinforcing shell. When the outside skin wears down, that shell smooths off and shows no sign of wear for a long time."

"I like Wolverines, too, because they're easy on the feet. The soles flex comfortable and the uppers dry soft and pliable after soaking."

"And if you're looking for a work shoe that always looks neat, here it is. Wolverine tops don't scuff. The seams never rip. And they're unequalled for resistance to acids."

Special This Week!
This week we are featuring the shoe illustrated here. Come in and compare it, feature for feature, with your present work shoes.
Wolverines cost no more than any good quality work shoe.

A committee was also appointed to investigate the cost of dust oiling in Main street and report at the next meeting.

Had Weiners But No Fish

H. B. Thompson chaperoned a crowd of young anglers up Bear creek Tuesday after school. Their luck at fishing wasn't so good, but was excellent at roasting weiners and marshmallows over a bonfire. From the hilarity of the returning car at 8:30, we judge they had "one big time."

Mr. Thompson would be an excellent candidate for scoutmaster for our local boys.

Kendrick Has Dust Storm

The worst dust storm that has visited the Kendrick section for a year was in progress Wednesday evening and covered the countryside like a dense fog, causing housewives a lot of trouble.
