P. L. ORCUTT PASSES ON THURSDAY, JUNE 12

Peter L. Orcutt, veteran newspaperman of Latah county, died of Bright's disease Thursday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock at his home, 224 West A street, Moscow. His wife and a son were at his bedside. Mr. Orcutt was 59 years old at the time of his passing.

Mr. Orcutt learned the printing and newspaper business with his father on the old Palouse Republic, one of the earliest papers established in this territory. When a young man he entered the newspaper business for himself, first publishing a paper at Mujan.

After returning to this section Mr. Orcutt purchased the Troy News at Troy in about 1904. Several years later he returned to Moscow and was associated with John Yost in the Star-Mirror, launched by these years later Mr. Orcutt purchased the two as a daily paper in 1911. Two years later Mr. Orcutt purchased the Clearwater Republican at Orofino and it was here that his health began to fail.

Mr. Orcutt has been in poor health for more than ten years, living at Lewiston, Moscow and Spokane. He returned to Moscow a year and a half ago to take a position with the Idaho Post, leaving this publication last fall following the campaign.

Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Raby returned Monday afternoon from a trip to south Idaho, where they attended the O. E. S. Grand Lodge session at Montpelier.

Following lodge they decided to complete their vacation and motored on up through Blackfoot and on to Salmon, Idaho, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Knepper and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. MacPhearson. Here they report one of the most wonderful times they ever had. They were taken fishing, where the first trip out they secured a fine large salmon and promptly proceeded to have a salmon bake. Next day a fine lot of trout were caught and a trout fry the order of the day.

Mr. Raby says that the fishing is all that the Kneppers and MacPhearsons claim for it and that their hospitality is even finer.

Leaving Salmon they drove by easy stages to Hamilton, Montana, thence on to Missouli, here striking the continental highway, going through by way of Lookout Pass and over the Camels' Hump. Thence by way of Wallace, Coeur d'Alene, Spokane and so here.

They stated that the roads averaged fair, some of them being excellent and some of them terrible, one ten mile detour in the south having to be negotiated in low gear because of the hub deep dust and ruts.

They spent two nights and one day at Salmon.

AMERICAN LEGION CON- VENTION IN LEWISTON

The largest and most ambitious street parade Idaho and the Inland Empire has ever seen are to be staged at night with flares and electric lights and to include in pageant form all the historical wars of the nation from the Revolution to the World War, will be a high-light of the Thirtieth American Legion convention to be held in Lewiston August 13, 14 and 15.

This event, in charge of E. M. Brower, one of the best parade men in the Pacific Northwest, will fall on the second night and will attract thousands from all over the Inland Empire as well as central Idaho and the state. The convention promises to be one of the best and most spectacular in Legion history.

Besides the war pageant, which will employ a dozen or more sections and 500 persons in special uniforms and formations depicting the various wars, battles and incidental characters of the time the parade will include the dozen or more drum and bugle corps attending and 40 to 50 floats by Lewiston business firms and Legion posts of the second district which have pledged 100 per cent participation.

The noted Fort George Wright military band, of Spokane, will lead the parade and sections of the war pageant will be interspersed with drum and bugle corps and floats. Lewiston's two mile main Street will be brilliantly lighted with flares.

Kendrick Drops Game Sunday

Kendrick dropped a very loosely played game to Genesee Sunday to the tune of 20-0. Genesee's playing was featured by exceptionally hard slugging on the part of their team, two home runs being made by that team, one by Tony Eichner and the other by E. D. Pederson.

Two and three base hits were common, the Genesee boys placing the ball with great accuracy. Base stealing also seemed one of their great features, a number being stolen with an ease that showed good coaching on this phase of the game.

There were a good many cars of Genesee folks on hand to cheer their team and a right good time they had of it.

No score book has been turned in this week so we have no record of the score by innings or the strike outs.

Cook, Chamberlain and Davis formed the batteries for Kendrick, with Olson catching for Genesee. The pitchers name we did not catch.

The pen is said to be greater than the sword, but many of our most learned people can't make any legible marks with the first named instrument.

Pierce and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spencer and family, Mrs. Leola King and daughters, Ruby and Ethel, all of Moscow, and Orine Hardeman of Peck gathered there for a picnic dinner.

The event proved a very delightful one and everybody expressed a delight with the Kendrick park.

SOUTHWICK POSTOFFICE ROBBED TUESDAY NIGHT

Sometime Tuesday night or Wednesday morning bold but rather thoughtless robbers broke into the Southwick postoffice and obtained about $26.00.

Entrance was gained by forcing the east window up with a crowbar and crawling in. The robbers cut open one sack of mail, and then discovering the mail keys, opened the rest with them. They opened many packages in the sacks and laying on the desks of the building, taking the contents of some. It will be very hard to obtain an estimate of the value of things taken, however, as the contents of the packages was, of course, unknown.

After thoroughly looting the inside of the postoffice, obtaining about $26.00, they took the postoffice safe over to the garage, broke into that place to obtain tools, and proceeded to break open the safe. Nothing of any value was in the safe, however, so nothing was gained by this labor.

At the present time it is said that no money order blanks or stamps were taken, and several rolls of small change were also overlooked.

In opening of letters and mail the robbers left several checks scattered about, as they were of no value to them. At the garage, though broken into, nothing has as yet been discovered missing.

The postoffice inspector has been notified and is expected shortly. Sheriff Harry Dent of Lewiston was called and made an examination of the scene, but no comments were forthcoming on clues or other information.

That Needed Rain

The first installment of our much needed rain fell on Tuesday evening, and up until about 3:30 Wednesday morning, following light showers on Tuesday. This is a fine installment of crop promises and the bean and wheat men are all wearing a large smile.

If only our products were of some value, prosperity would be insured for the season.

CHARLES HILL PASSES ON TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Charles Hill, well known pioneer farmer of the Potlatch region passed away at his home on the lower Potlatch Ridge Tuesday afternoon June 16, at 5:00 p. m.

Mr. Hill was born near Keokuck, Iowa, Jan. 26, 1858. At the age of 4 years he moved with his parents to Central Kansas, remaining there until 1880, at which time he came west, settling at Wasco, Sherman County Oregon. It was here that he met and married Miss Hannah Rayburn, to which union two children were born, Sherman, who passed away at the age of three years, and Lester, who survives him.

They left Oregon in 1899, locating on the lower Potlatch ridge near Juliaetta, where he was engaged in farming until the time of his death.

Mrs. Hill preceded him in death by four years, having passed away in March of 1927.

Mr. Hill was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, being a member of the Kendrick church at the time of his death.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the M. E. church with Rev. C. D. Bell in charge. The pallbearers were Albert Heimgartner, John Glenn, Robert Heimgartner, Eril Woody, Ony Walker and Roy Morgan.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hill the deceased is survived by five brothers and two sisters, John, George, and Frank Hill, who are located in Kansas, and Ira Hill of Dallas, Oregon and Ray Hill of Weippe. The two sisters, Alice and Dolly, are located in Kansas.

Ray, George and Ira Hill were in attendance at the funeral, the others being unable to attend.

Burial was in charge of J. E. Pickard of this place.

Take Fishing Trip

Ben and Nora Callison and Ernest Roberts returned Sunday evening from a fishing trip in the Big Island country, but minus the fish, the three catching but four trout all day.

They report that the Clearwater timber company blasted the river channel to permit easy passage of their logs and incidentally killed all the fish. They say it is a beautiful place for a camping trip but the poorest in the land for fishing.

WHEAT MARKET WEAK WITH FEED GRAIN STEADY

Domestic wheat markets were unsettled during the week ending June 13th. New crop deliveries remained weak but old crop cash wheat advanced sharply with current arrivals at most markets below trade requirements, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Rye held generally steady under the strengthening influence of unfavorable prospects for the new crop. Feed grain markets were not materially changed from a week ago with moderate offerings generally equal to trade needs. Flax held about unchanged with the influence of unfavorable prospects for the domestic crop largely offset by a weak market situation in Argentina.

WHEAT: Harvesting of the new domestic winter wheat crop is in progress in the Southwest and has extended to Northern Texas. A crop of 649,115,000 bushels of winter wheat was indicated by the June 1 condition of 84.3 percent. This is a reduction of about 3,000,000 bushels from the amount indicated by the May 1 condition, but is around 45,000,000 bushels over last year's crop. Of the total amount approximately 402,000,000 bushels will be hard winter wheat, 208,000,000 bushels soft winter, and the remainder fall-sown types of white wheat. The condition of spring wheat at the first of June was the lowest ever reported on that date and was only 67.9 percent of normal. Lowest conditions were reported in the important spring wheat areas of Dakota, Montana, and the Pacific Northwest where lack of moisture has caused serious deterioration. The condition of the Canadian crop was also officially reported as the lowest for which records are available. Dry weather has damaged the crop beyond recovery in some sections of Saskatchewan. Crops in the Peace River District were reported excellent but there had been no material relief from drought in the large central wheat producing area from Brandon, Manitoba, through central Alberta. Light rainfall over widespread areas since the first of June has temporarily checked further deterioration, but is urgently needed in most areas.

European crop conditions outside of Russia held mostly unchanged during the week. German crop conditions continued above average, although winter killing was slightly heavier than earlier reports indicated, with a loss of 3.8 percent indicated June 1 for winter wheat. Harvesting in France is being delayed by rainy weather but trade estimates place the harvest at 276,000,000 bushels, or about 45,000,000 bushels over last year's output. The Italian crop is unofficially placed at 240,000,000 bushels. The quality of the new crop is reported generally good. Russian spring wheat seedings to June 1 were placed at 55,000,000 acres as against 48,000,000 seeded to the same date a year ago.

World wheat markets weakened slightly during the week despite the unfavorable prospects in the American Northwest and Canada. July and October futures at Winnipeg declined around 3c. Liverpool prices were down about 1c but the market at Buenos Aires registered a fractional gain. Cash wheat markets in Europe were somewhat irregular. French markets advanced with light offerings of domestic wheat and the maintenance of trade restrictions. German wheat was slightly higher although the activity apparent in the market at the beginning of the week slackened toward the close because of the dull flour trade. The German duty on flour was reduced to 4.69 a barrel effective June 10, but the wheat duty remained unchanged. Prices of foreign wheats at Liverpool fluctuated slightly with Argentine 63 pound Rosafé quoted at 60 1/2c or about 2 1/2c lower than a week ago. No. 1 Manitoba afloat was quoted 1c lower at 75 1/2c; No. 1 Hard Winter for June shipment was quoted at 66c and Australian wheat at 69c per bushel. The Chinese wheat crop is reported to be about the same as last year although the output in surplus areas appears around 5 to 10 percent under that of last season. Stocks of foreign wheat in China are reported to be unusually heavy and materially offset the smaller commercial crop. Stocks of old crop native wheat appear about normal. Chinese mills have been unusually active for this season of the year because of the year he-

CHERRY PACK NOW ON— CROP PROMISES WELL

The Bing cherry-packing season opened in Clarkston Monday and is expected to start in a small way Tuesday in Lewiston Orchards, with some fruit still coming from the lower river. Several carloads were being loaded yesterday for shipment, and were probably sent Tuesday.

The cherries have been developing and ripening very rapidly during the past two weeks, and the usual difference of a week or ten-days between Clarkston and Lewiston Orchards does not appear to be seen this season, the difference probably being not more than three or four days.

There already are seven packing and shipping centers for cherries on the Lewiston side and three in Clarkston, besides several on the lower river.

In the Lewiston Orchards packing will be done by the Lewiston Orchard Cherry Growers association which opened on Thursday morning, and by the E. A. White Fruit Co., the former using the new packing house of the Lewiston Orchards Producers association and the latter, that of the former Lewiston Producers association. General packing is not expected to start until the latter part of this week.

The cherries are larger than usual and are better colored, being much superior in marketing qualities to those of last season. While there are more doubles than usual, the culls are not expected to be heavy, unless a rain comes under unfavorable conditions and cracks the fruit.

The market opened favorably, but it is subject to many changes before the last of the shipments reach the eastern buying centers.

ELECTRICITY, THE FAITHFUL HIRED MAN

The times of economic stress and pain with all farm products strong-competitive are the times when the keenest minds in the farming business search, like other manufacturers, for every possible economy that can be made toward lowering the costs of the items produced.

Labor is a large part of the cost of any manufactured article. It is extremely desirable, therefore, to cut labor costs on the farm as much as possible. Electricity as a hired man who works for very low wages and is always on the job. Every electrical application on the farm has to justify its existence on a dollars and cents basis. If the task could be done better or cheaper by some other method than by the use of electricity it would surely be done that way, and so it naturally follows that the widespread and increasing employment of electricity as a hired man on the farm is a work of recognition on the part of the farmer that it pays him best to make the widest possible use of electricity.

It is the expectation of the farmer that his occupation can be reduced to the muscular effort necessary to throw switches or plug in appliances. He merely considers the work that electricity can do for him as that much less help that he has to hire if his operations are large, or that much of his own time is thus released for other work if his operations are smaller.

In planning his farm enterprises he has to decide on not only what they shall be, but to operate those that he decides upon on a large enough scale to justify the electrically operated equipment which will accomplish the most with the smallest unit cost. Furthermore he should adopt the farm enterprises that will fit in best with one another. By so doing the hazards that are part and parcel of farming are reduced to the lowest possible minimum.

The laborer is worthy of his hire. In fact he has to be more than worthy of his hire or his employer cannot afford to hire him. The farm labor problem, therefore, is not how little but how much use can be made of electricity, the hired man.—By Waldo W. Skuse, Agriculturist, The Washington Water Power Company.

Wolves

The American gray or timber wolf was once common in Idaho. A determined fight has been made against him; in a recent two-year period the State paid bounties on 184 scalps, and the animal is now as rare as the grizzly.

The typical gray wolf was five feet long over all, nearly three feet high and weighed a hundred pounds, a lank long-legged creature of great speed.

The prairie wolf or coyote is still common. Idaho paid on 20,000 scalps in a recent year, and coyote skins make up 25 percent of our fur exports. The present price per skin is around seven dollars.

Present day hunters recognize only one variety of coyote, but early writers insist that every band contained leaders larger and otherwise different from the rest of the pack. An early Idaho hunter describes the coyote method of hunting the wild horse:

A lone pony, separated by chance from his fellows, is peacefully grazing in a little clearing. He picks up his ears at the sight of a couple of wolves at some distance, chasing each other, rolling over and over, almost laughing in their innocent play. They are so entirely oblivious of him that he returns the compliment. He goes on nipping the grass at his feet.

Even when a circle of smaller wolves forms around the edge of the clearing, the pony is only mildly surprised; not at all alarmed.

It is a beautiful day in early spring; just a little snow on the ground. The playmates roll and frisk about, their field gradually narrowing. In the outer circle, the pack is on its haunches, eyes gleaming, flaming tongues protruding, all quietly expectant. A couple of buzzards float overhead, suddenly come from nobody knows where. The pony's grazing is the only sound.

The merry play goes on; in the game the two wolves arrive at exactly opposite sides of the narrowing circle of which the horse is the center. There comes an instant when one is at his head, the other at his tail.

They spring at precisely the same moment, the one at the pony's throat the other to his flank. He attempts no defense; turns wildly around and around. Now both are at his hips; the sinews are cut; ham-strung, he falls.

The pack comes in. The buzzards circle watchfully overhead.

A Useless Waste

In addition to the state road authorities wasting hundreds of thousands of dollars of the people's money eliminating curves from already good highways, they still have a crew of "speed cops" that travel over some of the roads.

There are many portions of their already famous "oiled" roads that it would be impossible to exceed a speed limit of any kind and stay in the seat, hence the waste of more good tax money in paying for a speed cop where it would be impossible to get your car out of a walk.

We need more farm-to-market roads instead of so many fancy highways for tourists. We favor good roads for all points, but why waste money rebuilding roads that are already good, just because they happen to have a few curves in them?

Sixteen miles of perfectly good road is being abandoned on the N. and S. highway between Cottonwood and Craigmont, just because it happens to have a few curves in it—and this is only one instance of the woeful waste.

There is plenty of work for our speed cops to do, however. A short drive at night would show anyone just what a car after car with only one headlight, literally hundreds more with one headlight pointing in the approaching drivers eyes, tail lights out, if not off altogether, stop lights on the "blink" bad brakes, and hundreds of other things the matter.

This light and brake law was passed just last year and my, oh my, what a fuss was made at first, but now, it seems to have passed into the limbo of forgotten things.

Modern Music Made No Hit With Lord Balfour

In music Lord Balfour took a great delight and was an enthusiastic lover of the old masters, especially of Handel. Modern music had little charm, if any, for him.

"I remember how patiently he would sit through dinner at his favorite restaurant in Paris until most of the clients had left and the noise of jazz and jungle had ceased," recalls Sir Ian Malcolm in his personal memoir of Balfour. "and would then ask the chef d'orchestre (a very gifted young Polish violinist) to play him some eighteenth-century French music."

Then during the nine months Lord Balfour remained in Paris for the peace conference his house was the scene of many brilliant musical evenings.

"I remember one evening," says Sir Ian, "when Charles Hendl was going to sing, he inquired delicately whether anybody present objected to German songs. The chief (Balfour) promptly replied:

"I don't. I will take them as part of the reparations that they owe us." —Kansas City Times.

Ingenious Methods of Making Use of Suction

Some of our readers probably are old enough to remember the first vacuum cleaners and the interest aroused when it was found that a carpet could be cleared of dust without a broom being used. Coal is now unloaded by suction. The pipe used is made of steel and is 12 inches in diameter, the nozzle is a box three feet long and something more than a foot wide, and the most ingenious part of the invention is an arrangement to prevent the whole thing getting choked by coal dust. The latest invention in this direction is a marvelous fish trap. In this case, a pipe of great size is lowered, from the fishing vessel deep into the sea, the air is exhausted, and the water rushes up, carrying with it the fish. The fish are kept, the water goes back. One more use for this kind of device is in the war against locusts. In Palestine, where there is a plague of these ravenous creatures, gigantic vacuum cleaners fixed on motor vehicles were used and the locusts drawn up by the million.

Royal Friend of Dogs

Queen Victoria's love of animals (a characteristic inherited by all her descendants) is shown in several passages of her recently published letters. In August, 1886, when everybody in London was infected with an unreasonable fear of mad dogs, she wrote a long memorandum on cruelty to animals which might almost be described as the Magna Charta of man's four-footed penitents. "As regards her poor dear friends," runs the first clause, "she would repeat that no dogs should ever be killed by police unless the veterinary surgeon declared they were mad. That dogs, who were close to their masters or mistresses or their house door, poor quiet dogs should be left alone and not molested."

Gallant

Mrs. Mabel Williams contributes a charming little episode in the life of a three-year-old Patty who was visiting her grandparents near Riverside. She watched her grandmother plucking a turkey and finally asked:

"Granny, what are you pulling those hen leaves off the turkey for?"

A little later in the day, Patty was shown the big flock of turkeys and in passing among them, accidentally stepped on a big gobbler's foot. Little Patty looked the big gobbler in the eye and said contritely:

"Pardon me."—Los Angeles Times.

Roughness on Oceans

The zone of greatest storm frequency lies between latitudes 45 degrees and 55 degrees. The most severe storms are the hurricanes that begin in the tropical portion of the Atlantic. The North Atlantic lies in the path of the great procession of cyclones and anti-cyclones of the middle latitudes, and also in the path of the West Indian hurricane over its lower latitudes, and counterparts of these atmospheric disturbances in the South Atlantic. The Pacific is subject to sudden and violent storms, especially typhoons, but the frequency of storms is not so great as in the Atlantic.

Log of the Great Western

The original log of the Great Western steamship, which crossed the Atlantic in 1838, and only missed by a few hours being the first steamer to do so, came to light in Bristol. The log was found by an old sailor employed in the Bristol Corporation's offices among a lot of rubbish. An expert recognized the name of Lieut. J. Hoskin as that of the captain of the Great Western, and other experts have pronounced the log as genuine. The first steamship to cross was the Sirius.

Prehistoric Art Gallery

The London-Italian scientific expedition in South Africa found in a rock shelter not far from the Congo border a large number of ancient rock engravings which appear to depict human figures in a procession. Professor Dart, of Transvaal university, the discoverer of the Taungs skull, a member of the expedition, declares that the discovery is a most important one, the period of the engravings being between four and six thousand years B. C.

The Part Cork Plays in Shoes

It serves a multitude of important uses unknown to the wearer—an interesting product has peculiar properties that give it prominent place in shoe industry. — When you settle down on leather upholstery you are at once aware of the comfort of the padding and spring beneath. But when you put on a pair of shoes you are very likely to think of them in terms of leather alone. This is only natural because, with the exception of rubber heels, leather is practically all that is visible in a pair of shoes. However, in most shoes, including in many cases the all-leather type, there is an invisible material which means added satisfaction to the owner. This material is cork.

Love is when a girl wearing a long white dress will ride to a formal in a fellow's rattle-trap moth-eaten dust-laden topless automobile.

Yes we think so, but folks, we just love to tell you how cheap our hardware prices are, and we'd even ride in that car to tell you. Better still, come in and price things for yourself.

"Why on earth are you building a three-car garage for that bantam auto of yours?"

"I want to do a little indoor driving this winter."

So do we, but speaking of garages, why not paint yours with Bass-Heuter paint? See how well it covers, feel its texture, and priced—so you can afford it. Paint the house too. We have the supplies.

"You say you have driven a car for ten years and never had a back seat driver?" inquired the weak-chinned gentleman.

"Yeah," asserted the sad-faced man. "I drive a hearse."

Say, now that the busy season is at hand, let us supply you with canteens, water bags, oil cans, grease cups, hard oil and what have you. Oh, we almost forgot—we've got some real buys on tubs, buckets, washboards and other household and washroom necessities.

What's one way, these days? A rumble seat. You can't get the same guests to ride both ways in it!

Well, there's no two ways about it, we have the hay necessities. Rope, forks, fork handles, bolts, screws, nails, everything to fix the hay rack. Just see us.

Speaking of "Pioneer Hardships," remember way back when every well-dressed motorist wore goggles?

Yes we do, but our furniture is not of that style. It's right up-to-the-minute in every way, including last minute low prices on everything. And say, that applies to our hardware stock too. Quality at a fair price—not a price—fair quality.

Now that trap shooting is over for the season, come in and let us sell you .22 shells for squirrel shooting. Priced right.

Copy of letter sent to stockholders

Spokane, Washington. June 15, 1931.

To Our Stockholders:

The enclosed check represents your regular quarterly dividend on our $6 Preferred Stock. Similar dividend checks are being received today by our 6,743 stockholders, who hold 100,415 shares of this stock. Of these stockholders, 97% reside in the Inland Empire and they will receive the major portion of this $150,622.50 dividend.

In addition, there are 830 customers and employees who are purchasing shares on the partial payment plan. This total of 7,573 stockholders and subscribers is the largest in the history of the company. Your company is engaged in furnishing electric, steam heat and water service to 67,343 customers and has a payroll, including its transportation system, of 1311 employees.

The recent decision of your company to reduce its uniform residential and uniform commercial lighting rates in the territory outside of Spokane, prompts us to offer some statistics showing how the increased and increasing use of electric service has warranted, from time to time, reductions in the price per kilowatt hour.

In 1910 the top rate in Spokane for residential and commercial lighting purposes was 10 cents per kilowatt hour. Since then it has steadily decreased until now it is 5 1/2 cents.

1910—10 cents.
1931—5 1/2 cents.

In 1910 the ordinary top rate in the Inland Empire outside of Spokane, for residential and commercial lighting purposes, was 15 cents per kilowatt hour. It has decreased steadily and after July 1st it will be 7 cents.

1910—15 cents.
1931—7 cents.

The residential rate for the second step—all current in excess of 32 kilowatt hours used each month—is only 3 cents per kilowatt hour. The new commercial lighting rates decrease by steps as increasing amounts of electricity are used each month—the lowest step being less than 3 cents per kilowatt hour.

cause of the liberal offerings of cheap foreign wheat and the larger consumption of flour at the reduced prices. The April imports of wheat and flour amounting to 3,112,000 bushels, were the largest for that period for a number of years.

Domestic cash wheat markets advanced sharply during the week for old crop grain with current arrivals below trade requirements at the principal markets. Heavy marketings during May reduced farm and country stocks so that the principal winter wheat markets totaled only 1,296 cars or only about one-third of those of the previous week. Competition among mill buyers advanced prices 7 to 8c per bushel at Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, Fort Worth, and other markets in that area. At the close of the market June 12, No. 2 Hard Winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Kansas City at 75½ and 12½ percent protein at 76c per bushel. No. 1 Hard Winter, ordinary protein; at Omaha at 72½c; at St. Louis at 82c and at Fort Worth, delivered Texas common points, at 79-80c per bushel. No. 2 Hard Winter was quoted F.O.B. shipping points in Colorado at 40-45c per bushel. Quotations on new wheat did not follow the advance of old crop grain. The first car of the season arrived at Enid on June 12, graded No. 3 Hard Winter weighing 62 pounds with 14.5 percent moisture and sold to a local mill at 52c per bushel. New wheat was being quoted at 68-70c per bushel at Fort Worth, basis No. 1 delivered Texas common points. Soft Winter wheat advanced with Hard Winter with offerings very light and well below current requirements. No. 2 Soft Red Winter was quoted June 12 at Kansas City at 75½-76c and at Chicago at 84c; No. 1 Soft Red Winter was quoted at St. Louis at 84c and at Cincinnati at 82c per bushel.

The Spring wheat market also advanced sharply on old crop grain and good milling grades at Minneapolis were quoted June 12 at 7 to 8c Minneapolis and Duluth totaled 1,514 cars but mills competed actively for higher than a week ago. Receipts at the offerings and premiums were advanced. No. 1 Dark Northern was quoted at Minneapolis June 12 at 1 to 4c over the June delivery which closed at 76½c. The same grade was quoted at Duluth at 77½-80½c. Durum wheat did not share in the strength of bread grains but declined 3½c as a result of a continued dull demand from domestic buyers and the absence of expert inquiry. At the close of the market June 12, No. 1 and No. 2 Amber were quoted at Minneapolis at 58-65c and at Duluth at 64-65c. No. 1 Durum was quoted at the latter market at 62-63c; No. 2 Mixed Durum at 56-62c and No. 2 Red Durum at 56c. The Winnipeg market weakened under the influence of an unsatisfactory expert demand. No. 1 Manitoba Northern closed at that market June 12 at 61c.

Pacific Coast markets were weak and slightly lower but new deliveries declined less at Portland and Seattle than at Eastern points. Cash wheat prices, however, did not share in the advance in the Central West. Soft and Western White wheat was quoted at Portland at the close of the market June 12 at 59c per bushel, Hard Winter, Northern Spring, and Western Red at 56c per bushel, basis No. 1 sacked. Receipts at terminals continued large but were going largely into storage. Domestic mills were taking only sufficient wheat for immediate needs and export mills were also supplying only immediate needs. Export flour sales for the week totaled around 3,000 to 4,000 tons and export sales around 1,500 tons to South America and 3,400 tons to Liverpool. Rains and cloudy weather checked drought damage in the producing areas of Washington and Oregon but the condition of the crop is below average. The spring wheat condition in Washington at the first of June was 68 per cent of normal and in Oregon 78 per cent. The condition of winter wheat in Washington June 1 was 78 per cent and in Oregon 81 per cent of normal. A winter wheat crop of 54,545,000 bushels was indicated in these two states by the June 1 condition.

California markets were mostly weak and lower despite the prospective small harvest. The June 1 condition was 54 per cent of normal and indicated a wheat crop of only 5,400,000 bushels, compared with approximately 13,000,000 bushels produced last year. Harvesting of new wheat made rapid progress under generally favorable weather conditions during the week. Growers were not pressing sales upon the market but current offerings were easily equal to the light trade requirements and prices at San Francisco declined to the lowest point in 25 years. At the close of the market June 12, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.17½ and $1.22½ and No. 1 soft white at $1.15 to $1.17 per 100. Offerings of old wheat from Washington and Oregon were too high to have any effect on sales except for a few cars for mixing purposes. New wheat for July to September delivery, however, was offered at $1.12½ per 100 delivered docks at San Francisco for No. 2 soft or western white. No. 2 dark hard winter from Idaho and Utah was quoted in bulk at San Francisco at $1.35 and at Los Angeles at the same price. Local soft and hard white sold at Los Angeles at $1.22½ and No. 1 Baart at $1.25 per 100. Note: No grain review will be issued next week because of the absence of the Market News personnel at a staff conference.

Many Flood Visitors
Even at this time, with our flood history a matter some six or seven months old, many people from other towns still come in and drive about to see the flood damage, and when they see the mighty piles of logs and poles, great uprooted trees, stacks of wreckage and long stretches of abandoned railway track on the opposite side of the creek from its original bed, their wonder grows that so small a creek (as it now appears) could have done all the damage that their eyes see.

Had those people been visitors in our little city the day and night of that big event, they never would have forgotten the sight and then the wondering would be on the other side, they would wonder how we escaped with as little damage as we did, for truly it is a wonder.

Had it not been for hours of hard work by section crews, city men and volunteers, our little city would have been under three feet of water and mud and thousands of dollars worth of damage done. But we are lucky and are glad that they see only what they do, as it might have been far worse.

3 RULES
big help to BOWELS

What a joy to have the bowels move like clockwork, every day! It's easy, if you mind these simple rules of a famous old doctor:

1. Drink a big tumblerful of water before breakfast, and several times a day.
2. Get plenty of outdoor exercise without unduly fatiguing yourself.
3. Try for a bowel movement at exactly the same hour every day.

Everyone's bowels need help at times, but the thing to use is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You'll get a thorough cleaning-out, and it won't leave your insides weak and watery. This family doctor's prescription is just fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin, and other helpful ingredients that couldn't hurt a child.
But how it wakes up those lazy bowels!
How good you feel with your system rid of all that poisonous waste matter.

pear in "Sit Tight."

Those who have seen the "Gold Diggers of Broadway", "Hold Everything", and "Going Wild" can have a slight conception of what would happen to the patients unlucky enough to elect themselves inmates of the "health" institution which the two run in cahoots, as Dr. Winnie O'Neil and Jo Jo in "Sit Tight."

There is an exciting love story, too, in "Sit Tight," which runs its rough course, not because of, but in spite of the pseudo-physicians-in-charge.
Claudia Dell is the pretty little rich girl, Sally, who through her father secures a better job for Tom Weston, played by the handsome Paul Gregory.
Weston refuses to take an unearned job, and after quarreling with Sally, leaves her father's office, which is in the same building as the "institute."

On the way out he meets the in-grating Jo Jo and hard-swattling Dr. Winnie, who induce him to train for the championship as a wrestler.
Sally, infuriated, hires a tough to whip Weston, thereby hoping to force him to give up. Jo Jo falls a victim to the fighter with results not promising to the former. Sally's father tries to bribe Weston to give up the game, though Dr. Winnie has staked all her money on his winning the big fight. Failing, he has Weston kidnapped—and with him and Sally sets sail for Florida in the family yacht.

This is the beginning of a series of hilarious and really thrilling complications which whirl by in lightning speed and bring the comedy to a climax which is a classic in slapstick buffoonery.

New Timber Giant Born
A new timber giant has been born in northern Idaho with the recent announcement of the consolidation of the Clearwater Timber company of Lewiston, Edward Ruthledge Timber company of Coeur d'Alene and the Potlatch Lumber company of Potlatch and Elk River into the Potlatch Forests, Inc., capitalized at $19,500, 000.

The new company controls the largest stand of white pine timber in North America and under a plan of selective cutting its timber resources will be practically perpetual. The Clearwater Timber company owns a strip of densely-grown forest land 25 miles wide and 50 miles long, mostly drained by the north fork of the Clearwater river, about 80 miles east of Lewiston. The Ruthledge and Potlatch holdings adjoin it on the north.

Headquarters for the new company will be in Lewiston and the Lewiston plant, largest white pine sawmill in the United States, will be the center of operations. Officers of Potlatch Forests, Inc. are:

J. P. Weyerhaeuser, Jr., Lewiston,
president; Laird Ball, Chicago, R. J.
Richardson, St. Paul, and Wayne C.
Gilbert, St. Paul, vice-presidents; G.
F. Jewett, Coeur d'Alene, treasurer;
George R. Little, Winona, Minn., secretary; H. L. Torson, Lewiston, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer, and C. J. McGough, St.
Paul, assistant secretary.

"This consolidation was made principally because of operating economies to be effected," Mr. Weyerhaeuser said. "The new company will be the largest producer of western red cedar poles in the United States indigestion. It results in pain and sour-ness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which will neutralize acid. The best corrective is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods once you learn how quickly this method acts.
Please let it show you—now.
