CLOUDBURST NEAR COLFAX
DOES $50,000 DAMAGE

A cloudburst struck with terrific violence last Thursday night on farms along Union flats, the little Penewawa and little Almota creeks near Colfax, washing buildings away and causing property and livestock damage estimated at $50,000.

Walls of water 8 to 12 feet high swept down gulches in the storm area, carrying farm buildings, garage, machinery, and fences down stream. The water at Almota, on the Snake river, was reported the highest since a disastrous flood in 1910.

Mrs. William Cochran, whose home on Union flats creek was swept away, was said to have been seriously injured. Reports reaching Colfax did not tell of any casualties.

Three cars were washed off a highway where it crossed Union flats creek, and a highway supervisor said more than 75 automobiles were stalled for two hours in water reaching floor-board levels. Mud a foot deep was left on the road.

At Almota a new concrete bridge, just completed by the county, was swept away.

Several families on Union flats creek escaped the flood on horses that carried them out of the swiftly rising waters.

Many telephone lines into the storm region were down and definite information on injured persons and damage was hard to obtain. The storm was concentrated over the valleys of three small creeks, with no rain at all in neighboring districts.

George Luther, a Union flats farmer, said the creek rose so suddenly that livestock could not get out of the way. He said his hogs were carried off in the water, along with his garage, automobile, and barrels of oil and gasoline.

A number of ranchers told of seeing their hay stacks and farm machinery hurled away by the sudden impact of the flood.

Teacher's Exams. - August 13-15

Teacher's examinations for certificates will be held at the county courthouse August 13, 14, and 15, starting at 9 o'clock, it was announced this week by Miss Ellen Peterson, superintendent of public instruction.

It will be the first examination of the year and will cover all subjects. Miss Peterson said very few will take the examination as nearly all teachers now have normal certificates or the required university training for teaching.

A special examination will be held September 26 for teachers who have been endorsed by certificates from other states. Subjects include Idaho school law and manual. The last examination of the year will be given in the latter part of November.

AT THE CHURCHES

Kendrick Union Services

There will be no morning Union service at the Presbyterian church Sunday due to the fact that the Rev. Oaster will be out of town.

An out-of-door service is planned for Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The Rev. Clapp will speak on "Your Neighbor." Plan to spend your Sunday evening in the Park and join in the song service and fellowship hour.

The two church schools will meet at 10 o'clock. There are classes for all and the officers and teachers plan to carry on the work of the bible school.

The young people are starting a union young people's meeting, the first of which will be held Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church at 6:45. Miss Doris Emery will be the leader.

Southwick Methodist Church

At the Southwick Methodist Church at 11 o'clock the Rev. Clapp will preach on the theme, "The Christian's Boundary Line."

Plans are being made for a Daily Vacation Bible School. Some announcement will be made about it on Sunday. This will be of interest to every boy and girl in and near Southwick.

Aged Man Dies

W. O. Humphrey, aged 84 years, died at the home of his son, R. E. Humphrey, in Kendrick Tuesday night at 12:35 o'clock, the cause of death being old age and complications. He had been a resident of Kendrick for the past two years or more, during the most of which time he had been in poor health.

Funeral was held from the Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Philip Clapp conducting the services. Burial was made in the Kendrick cemetery with J. J. Pickard in charge.

Both Parties Must Be Dry

So says a newspaper heading setting forth the demand by the W. C. T. U. It doesn't seem to make much difference whether they are wet or dry, for sometimes when they are wet, they are "dry", and when they are dry they are "all wet".

Still Has Faith In Wheat

Over at Dodge City, Kansas, ten bushels of wheat were tendered as Frank Craig's wedding fee to Judge S. E. Evans and accepted. He will take the bride, Faye Marie Rinehart of Augusta, to a home on a 700-acre wheat farm in Kearney county.

Gone To Conference

Rev. David Oastler left Thursday morning for a conference with church missionary executives at Caldwell. There will be no morning union service in the Presbyterian church until his return, about August 18, or earlier, if possible.

EAVES SAYS BARLEY PRO- DUCTION AID WHEAT

Growing of barley for export trade was advocated as a partial solution to counteract overproduction and low prices of wheat by E. W. Eaves, vice president of the Vollmer-Clearwater Co.

Mr. Eaves said that prior to 1914 the Pacific northwest was an exporter of barley and he is of the opinion that the cereal could again take its place in world markets if properly produced and steps taken towards acquainting barley dealers with the product.

He called attention to the fact that barley culture had been taken up in the Pacific northwest prior to the World War when wheat had fallen 18 or 20 cents a bushel and declared that something should be done to relieve the present condition of the wheat grower.

"Wheat has sold here before as low as 18 cents a bushel," he said. "Farmers then turned to growing barley and for a number of years crops were raised on higher ridges in the Nezperce and Grangeville areas and more especially on reservation lands.

"At that time crops were 75 per cent barley and 25 per cent wheat. A large export market was developed and for a long period of years the north Pacific coast exported barley in large quantities. It was also marketed in the east. Under prohibition the domestic consumption of barley has been limited to making of malt extract for non-alcoholic beers.

"With the opening of the 1931 harvest season there has been considerable talk of the development of a market for what little barley is grown in this section and the possibility of export. This was brought about by high prices paid in California for export barley.

"California's 1931 barley crop is quite short because of hot weather. In spite of that there was quite a percentage of high class barley grown especially of some of the new varieties developed during the past 10 years. This new barley has found a more acceptable market in Europe than many of the older varieties of the Pacific northwest.

"Since the beginning of the World War the Pacific northwest has exported practically no barley. The result is that European buyers are not familiar with our barley.

"During the export period prior to 1914 the larger part of the barley grown was blue barley, a spring sown variety. Owing to the fact that the land is not as fertile as it was then little spring barley has been grown during the last 15 years.

"European buyers are very particular and will not buy unknown barley except from samples that have been tested for malt qualities. The barley must be guaranteed to come up to certain standards.

"Lack of export market during recent years has resulted in farmers becoming careless as to seed. The crops contain too heavy a wheat mixture and are more or less smutty. Nor are they properly threshed.

"Barley which had been skinned or broken in threshing is not acceptable to exporters. That does not mean that the beards should be left on. But it must be threshed in such a manner as to have the beards broken off close to the berry without breaking or skinning it.

"Whether or not we develop barley for export markets remain to be seen. Should barley be grown it will take some time to get buyers adjusted to receive our product.

"As to the future situation of this country concerning barley, I strongly recommend that a much larger acreage be planted, especially of the fall sown white variety. The seed should be selected free of wheat and treated for smut before planted. A strong solution of formaldehyde is best. If bluestem or vitrol is used the solution should not be too strong.

"While there can be nothing sure regarding the outcome of growing export barley, the situation in regard to wheat raising is so desperate that we certainly should consider some other crop. It would seem that the growing of high class barley acceptable for export is our best possible substitution for wheat."

Our Own West

Early hotels, so-called, were in every mining community from 1849 onward.

They weren't the finest places imaginable, but their rates were. The most squalid surroundings brought palatial prices.

One author describes a hotel at Sonora, Calif., as a "one-story structure built of unwhewn saplings, covered with dirt. It had one undivided room in which tables, berths, and benches were all placed. Here we slept, ate, and drank."

When miners went to bed it was optional whether they removed their boots or clothes, "but it was looked upon as an act of ill-breeding to go to bed with one's hat on," says the author.

Self-praise may be half scandal but it's better than none.

PRESIDENT HOOVER NOW HOPES FOR WAR CUTS

Having now gained his objective of a war debt moratorium, President Hoover is concentrating on the coming general disarmament conference with hopes of securing drastic arms cuts among the allied nations, it is revealed by Washington press dispatches.

The president is steadfast in his belief that the current financial depression is largely due to the expense of maintaining armies and navies by the European powers, which is now 60 percent greater than just before the War. Disarmament is, perhaps, the key problem of the world's ills.

Aside from the undoubted benefits of the moratorium, President Hoover, by taking the lead in the war debt postponement proposal, has won for himself a strategic position where he can bring both power and prestige to bear in behalf of disarmament at the coming conference. Such maneuvering suggests sagacity rather than accident.

It is to the credit of the Democratic party that its leaders, with a few minor exceptions, have joined with the rest of the nation and with Europe in unstinted praise of President Hoover's courageous action in taking the lead in the war debt moratorium proposal.

Especially does this credit become apparent when it is remembered that the Democratic hopes for political success in 1932 were largely based on the business depression, the ending of which Hoover's principal objective in proposing the moratorium. Though perhaps robbed of their most promising issue, the Democrats have displayed the essential spirit of American patriotism in a noble manner.

Said the New York Times, the nations leading Democrat paper: "Nothing can take from Hoover the credit of having the mental grasp and moral courage to step forward as a leader out of discouragement and fear into a brighter day."

Big Motor Travel Indicated

With prospects for motor travel in the natural playgrounds of America this season indicating a record-breaking volume, the Conoco Travel Bureau, operated by the Continental Oil company, is preparing to render its unique free service to multiplied thousands of tourists.

The Travel Bureau, inaugurated by the makers of Conoco germ processed motor oil and Conoco gasoline last year, met with tremendous response from motorists throughout the nation.

To take advantage of the Conoco Travel Bureau's offer, it is only necessary for the motorist anywhere in the United States to write the Conoco Travel Bureau in Denver, indicating the points which he may wish to visit anywhere in America, and he is issued a Conoco passport.

Identified as traveling under a Conoco Passport by an attractive windshield sticker, the traveler then is the recipient of a variety of helpful and expense saving services. To begin with, he receives, before he starts his journey, a complete, individually charted road map, on which the individual route he is to travel is carefully sketched in, from his home to his destination, with due regard for road conditions, repairs, detours, etc., all kept up to date by daily reports from the thousands of Conoco stations distributed throughout the West and Middle-West.

In addition, his Conoco Passport and windshield sticker enable him to obtain from all Conoco stations information and advice as to local recreational facilities in any locality, fishing waters, hotel and tourist camp accommodations, guides, laundry, doctors and dentists, scenic side trips and many other details which add to the pleasure and convenience of his motor tour.

He may also arrange to receive telegrams, mail or long-distance telephone calls, or have them forwarded to practically any point on his itinerary.

No obligation whatever is attached to the issuance of the Conoco Passport, and service is given absolutely free to motorists who plan such trips.

Words of Wisdom

The Saturday Evening Post, in a recent well-worded, calm and deliberate editorial, points out a real danger from communist activities in the United States today. It shows that there is no reason for hysteria, but that there is definite reason for curbing this menace within our own boundaries.

It believes in neither a fool's paradise type of indulgence on the one hand, nor violent suppression and reaction on the other.

In concluding its comment, it says: "It takes effort, even for a nation as great as this, to remain sound and whole."

"The United States should quit being a bump on the international log."—Newton D. Baker, ex-secretary of war.

CONSTRUCTION RECORD SET

Just 37 days from the day a steam shovel crew broke the ground for the foundations, wheat was being stored in this new elevator built by the Farmers National Grain corporation at Lewiston. It is believed to be a record in elevator construction speed in the Pacific northwest. Crews worked night and day to have the big structure ready for wheat now being harvested throughout the Lewiston region.

The elevator has a capacity of 135,000 bushels of bulk wheat, while the adjoining warehouse will hold 130,000 bushels of sacked grain. It is planned to double the elevator's capacity next year.

The elevator and warehouse are on the banks of the Snake river in south Lewiston and will be served by highway, railroad and boats. The Western Inland Waterways corporation, with headquarters at Lewiston, is now financing a barge line project to give service from Lewiston to Portland and lower river ports on the Columbia.

The wheat crop in the Lewiston region is estimated at 65 to 80 per cent normal this season, with yields averaging 25 to 30 bushels to the acre. About 9,000,000 bushels will be produced in the territory tributary to Lewiston.

A Little Moral Story

The Lake City (Minn.) Graphic Republican says:

"To the business man who thinks the public does not need to be constantly reminded of who he is and what he has to sell, the often told story of Pyle's Pearlline will bear repeating.

"In 1904 Pearlline, a cleaning material, was used by a large percentage of the housewives of the country, and the company spent about $500,000 in advertising that year.

"Later the advertising was curtailed and about 1907 it was discontinued altogether, as the company thought the product so well known that it did not require further advertising.

"Sales fell off rapidly, but the owners persisted in their non-advertising policy until 1915, when the whole concern, including good will, was sold for $12,000. Pearlline was dead.

"Many other products whose names were household words a few years ago are not heard of today because they failed to keep up their advertising and consequently the public forgot them.

"Business men must remember that new generations are coming along all the time, and these new buyers must be personally sold on a product or a store, as their fathers and mothers were sold before them. The only time it is safe to stop advertising is when one is ready to go out of business."

New York Grabbing Laurels

In a racket gun-war in New York the other day a gun gang shot into a crowd of children, killing one, mortally wounding another, and slightly wounding three others in an effort to "get" their man. Chicago will have to look to her laurels. New York has been playing in the limelight for the past few weeks and has been the cause of many unfavorable remarks because of Chicago's seeming neglect to keep things going.

Where's the premium?

Will you be asking this question of your dealer this summer, Mr. Dairyman? If you do his answer will probably be: "You need better cooling equipment?"

Much of your profit, sometimes all of it, is represented by the premium. Milk producers who use electric cooling invariably command the highest prices because of low bacteria count.

Let electricity put up your ice. Electric cooling is the answer.

Traffic Cheat Termed Menace
Make cheating in traffic as unfashionable as cheating at cards and Americas' automobile accident problem would be solved, according to Sidney J. Williams, public safety director of the National Safety Council, says the New York World Telegram.
This is one of the "fundamentals" which Mr. Williams has boiled down from the thousands of highway safety suggestions which interested persons make annually for the betterment of the traffic situation.
There is no one cause of motor vehicle accidents, Mr. Williams points out. "We may say there are three elements in any accident," he says; These are the car, the highway, and the driver. Each of these three elements some times predominates, but, in general the car is a lot safer than the highway, the highway is a lot safer than the driver.

"The shortcomings of the drivers themselves are varied and complicated. They may be classed as, first, defects of body or mind—failings that really are not very common; second, ignorance, lack of skill, or lack of instruction; third, faulty attitude, such as failure to recognize the rights of others and the seriousness of an accident. The last is unquestionably the most important factor—and the most common."

GRAIN MARKETS LOWER AS DEMAND SLACKENS

Cars were received at Kansas City and shipments were of moderate volume.

However, public elevator stocks at that market increased to a new record total of nearly 33,000,000 bushels. The reduction in freight rates, effective August 1, has tended to cause a holding tendency on the part of the growers and country shippers. Mills, on the other hand, were apparently waiting until new rates became effective to accumulate additional stocks. In general, however, demand was sufficient to absorb most of the current offerings. Storage interests and shippers were in the market actively at Kansas City and bought high protein wheat in good volume, following the decline in protein premiums which took place during the week. The current week's inspections averaged 12.2 percent protein, compared with 12.16 percent for the previous week. At the close of the market July 31 No. 2 Hard Winter up to 12 percent protein was quoted at Kansas City at 41-42c, 12 percent protein at 41-42c and 13 percent protein at 42-43½c per bushel. No. 2 Hard Winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Omaha at 42c while wheat testing from 14½-15 percent protein was quoted at 44c per bushel. Northwestern and local mills were the principal buyers at that market. No. 1 Hard Winter was selling at St. Louis at 47½c per bushel. Receipts of Hard Winter wheat were light at that market but demand was also of small volume. Export buyers were mostly inactive and export bids were reduced to 45c for No. 1 Hard Winter, basis Galveston export rate, for wheat with 13 percent protein.

Harvesting of wheat made further progress in Inter-mountain States but marketings were not of large volume. Growers were selling slowly at current prices and country shippers were awaiting freight rate reductions effective August 1. 98 cars of wheat were received at Denver during the week and were taken principally by local mills. Prices held about unchanged in the Denver territory, with No. 2 Hard Winter quoted FOB shipping points at 24-33c per bushel. Harvesting of wheat is about 75 percent completed in Southern Utah, about 50 percent finished in Northern areas, and just starting in Southern Idaho. The quality of the new crop is reported generally good, with protein averaging higher than a year ago but test weight slightly lower. Drought has reduced yields. Because of the poor range conditions throughout the West, a material increase in the feeding of wheat is in prospect in that area.

Demand for Soft Red Winter wheat continued dull and prices of this class of wheat declined 2-3c along with Hard Winter wheats. Mill takings have remained below trade expectations and storage space at terminals is becoming well filled. No. 2 Soft Red Winter was quoted at St. Louis July 31 at 41-47c, and at Kansas City at 42½-43½c per bushel. Receipts were fairly large at Cincinnati and showed the effects of recent heavy rains. A larger percent of the arrivals graded No. 2 and No. 3 than earlier in the season. Farmers are threshing slowly and the marketing season will probably be longer than usual. Mills were taking the bulk of the offerings, but elevator operators were filling available elevator and warehouse space. No. 2 Soft Red Winter was quoted at Chicago at 50-51½c per bushel.

Marketings of new crop Spring wheat increased materially and premiums for cash grain were lowered 3-4c per bushel at Minneapolis. 1,316 cars of wheat were received at Minneapolis during the week and 151 cars at Duluth. Minneapolis inspections for the period July 23-29 inclusive, included 369 cars of Winter wheat, while the week's receipts included 125 cars of new Spring wheat. New and old crop wheat were bringing about the same price as at the close of the week. Mills were the principal buyers, but with protein tests averaging uniformly high, more attention was given to test weight. At the close of the market July 31 No. 1 Dark Northern Spring with 12-15 percent protein was quoted at 5-8c over the September price of 53½c. No. 1 Hard Winter was selling at the September price to 6c over. The protein of the cars tested during the week by the Minnesota Grain Inspection Department averaged 12.62 percent. The Duluth market was rather dull, since new crop had not reached that market in volume. No. 1 Dark Northern was quoted July 31 at 57½-63½c per bushel. Canadian Spring wheat markets declined around 3c during the week as a result of a continuing dull export demand. No. 1 Manitoba Northern was quoted at Winnipeg July 31 at 53½c per bushel.

Pacific coast wheat markets reflected the weakness in Eastern markets and the slow foreign demand for United States wheat. Prices at Portland and Seattle declined 2-3c per bushel. Weather in Washington and Oregon was favorable for harvesting and threshing during the week, although there was some delay because of the extreme heat. Spring wheat, which was not irrigated, suffered further from the drought. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia River terminals were of good volume, but were still mostly of old wheat being moved from country points to these terminals for storage. New crop offerings continued light, but growers not inclined to sell at current prices, although buyers were basing their offers upon the new freight rates. Takings by domestic mills remained small, while demand from export mills was also light because of dull export flour business.

There was some increase in export sales of wheat, however, and one cargo and parcels amounting to about 10,000,000 tons were made during the week to the United Kingdom. 15,000 to 20,000 tons were reported sold to Shanghai, which is the first export business done with the Orient for some time. At the close of the market July 31 Western White wheat was quoted at Seattle at 49c, Western Red at 47c, Hard Winter at 48c, and Bluestem at 58c per bushel sacked basis No. 1 grades. No. 1 Dark Northern Spring from Montana was quoted in bulk at 84c per bushel. Export sales at Seattle were reported at 45-46c per bushel for Red and White wheats and 46-47c for Hard Winter. Big Bend Bluestem Hard Winter wheat was quoted at Portland at 55c, Soft Western White at 49½-50c, Hard Winter, Northern Spring and Western Red at 46½-47c per bushel sacked, basis No. 1.

California wheat markets were dull, but prices held about steady and were mostly unchanged from a week ago. Both mills and feeders were supplying their needs principally from outside areas. Feeders and industrial buyers were taking only sufficient wheat for immediate needs. At the close of the market July 31 No. 1 Soft and Hard White wheats were quoted at San Francisco at $1.05-1.07½ per 100. No. 2 Soft and Western White from Washington and Oregon were quoted at $1.00 per 100, sacked delivered dock San Francisco, while No. 1 Hard Winter with 13 percent protein, from Texas and New Mexico was quoted at $1.02½-1.05 delivered California points. No. 2 Hard Winter from the Inter-mountain States was offered in bulk, for 30 day shipment, at the same price.

No. 1 Western White from Portland was quoted at Los Angeles at $1.07½, while No. 2 Dark Hard Winter, in bulk, ordinary protein, was offered from the Inter-mountain States at $1.07½, and 13 percent more protein, at $1.10-1.12½ per 100.

Will Try Tin Streets

Some cities may have streets of gold, but Sacramento is going to do the best it can with tin streets.

As an engineering experiment, certain streets in the city parks will be given a base of leavings from the city incinerator, made up mostly from tin cans and other metal reduced to powder.

The only trouble, motorists believe, is that it will be difficult to know which is doing the rattling—the car or the road.

LEGION COMMANDER BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Ralph T. "Dyke" O'Neill, national commander of the American Legion, will be honored guest and principal speaker at the Thirteenth American Legion convention to be held in Lewiston August 13, 14, 15.

Telegraphic information that Commander O'Neill would be there for the first two days of the conclave was received last week by State Adjutant Les Albert. O'Neill cancelled his Wyoming engagement to appear here.

Commander O'Neill will be made a Nez Perce Indian chief, the first white to be so honored, at ceremonies the second day preceding the drum and bugle corps contest.

His appearance has given impetus to all convention plans and he will be principal speaker at the big opening public meeting and the banquet the first day, honored guest at National Commander's ball that evening, and besides the Indian ceremonies the second day he will occupy a prominent position in the big historical parade the second evening.

Commander O. C. Nelson, Bonners Ferry, and Adjutant Albert met with the convention committee in Lewiston last week and received encouraging reports. Max Yandt, program chairman, reported a completed three-day program. Reuben Johnson, chairman of the housing committee, announced over 100 reservations. Eight state and three-out-of-state drum and bugle corps and two women's corps have signed with Felix Funke, in charge of drum and bugle contests. The financial drive started July 14 to secure $2,000 from Lewiston business men to complete the $5,000 budget for the show, finance chairman Clay Halley announced.

Year-Round Roads Necessary

It may be the opinion of the average city dweller that the United States is pretty well provided with good roads. But such is not the case. Most of the good highways lead from city to city and over trunk routes from state to state.

Five million farmers, according to an authoritative survey, are cut off from their markets during a large part of each year, by impassable roads.

One very definite way to secure a practical kind of farm relief would be to set apart a specific portion of all available road funds to be applied to the building of low-cost, water-proof-surfaced, farm-to-market highways connecting up with through roads and enabling residents on outlying farms to do their shopping and marketing easily and conveniently at all times of the year.

A man in Philadelphia worth $100,000 committed suicide because he couldn't get a job.

Where Fault Lies

The only way taxes can be controlled is to limit the functions of government.

It is an ironical fact that millions of voters now complaining of high taxes have been responsible for increasing taxes by broadening official functions and increasing the number of departments. Many who oppose paternalism in theory support it in practice because of personal prejudice and selfish bias.

When government goes into business individual rights are abrogated and public expense increased. In condemning bureaucracy we must condemn ourselves for fostering and encouraging it.

We get as good government as we deserve by our actions. If democracy fails the responsibility and the blame belong to the people for not curbing officialism. We talk of freedom and tax reduction and individualism—and, when action is necessary, most of us fail to uphold our cherished ideals in casting our vote.

Didn't Know

Rock—I drove 75 miles an hour on a trip in my new auto.

Fishe—Did your car ride easy on the return trip?

Rock—I couldn't say. I returned in an ambulance.

TEAKEAN GOSSIP
Mrs. Claude Burrows and children, Glen, Dale and Jean from Colville, Wn., are visiting at the home of Mrs. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Butler.

Many Suicides In Idaho
Suicides in Idaho increased 600 percent in the first six months of this year over a like period a year ago, a report of the bureau of vital statistics stated, declaring the increase "may be due in part to the economic conditions of the present time."

"Hoppers" Visit Ancient City
Not only are the central west states of this great and glorious country visited by a scourge of grasshoppers, but the ancient city of Rome is reported to have been visited by untold millions of the pests and that they are cleaning trees and shrubs and every growing thing of every vestige of green.

"Twisting"
The public is being warned that in certain parts of the country persons purporting to be "life insurance experts" are indulging in a systematic campaign of "twisting." In other words, such a person will approach a life insurance policyholder with a proposition that he drop a present policy and take in its place another form of contract in some other company, presumably for the sake of saving money.

Was The Goat
A New York store is said to have a boy regularly employed to act as scapegoat for the firm. When a stupid blunder in delivery or other service is made by someone, this boy is brought before the complaining customer, roundly bawled out, and fired. He meekly takes his hat and leaves, returning later by the back door to be ready for his next "discharge."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Travis of Southwick were callers at the J. H. Butler home Sunday.
Mrs. Wm. Groseclose lost several young White Giant rabbits during the warm weather, the heat proving too much for them as there were several together in the hutches.

Deaths for six months totaled 2422, an increase from 2271 in the six months of a year ago. Increases in deaths in every classification except automobile accidents was shown, such as diseases of the heart, pneumonia, cerebral hemorrhage, cancer, homicides, suicides, and infancy diseases.

Trees in the "war zone" were stripped and bare. Motorists reported the highways thick with the insects. They crunched through roads deep with the pests, while their windshields were black with grasshoppers and radiators caught hundreds.

Don't be misled by such alluring tales. No policyholder in any established legal reserve life insurance company can drop or exchange an existing legal reserve policy without loss to him. The person who recommends such a change is doing it solely for personal profit.

Paul Baugh is working up on the mountain for Chas. Kime this week.
Mrs. Jas. West and children went back to their home at Orofino Tuesday.

In the same periods, 2564 children were born in 1931, a decrease from 2634 a year ago.
Deaths of infants under one year totaled 292 and still births 109, making a total of 401 infants under one year of age dying in the state in the last six months.

Peasants set fire to their fields in an effort to halt the advance of the grasshopper armies. They reported acreages burned, destroying hundreds of thousands of the hoppers but without an apparent effect on the march of the insects.

Simon Baugh has rented a house at Orofino and is moving some of his household goods down. Mrs. Baugh seems to be somewhat better at present.

Deaths of infants under one year totaled 292 and still births 109, making a total of 401 infants under one year of age dying in the state in the last six months. Seven infants of every 100 in the state, the report said, fail to reach one year of age.

Peasants set fire to their fields in an effort to halt the advance of the grasshopper armies. They reported acreages burned, destroying hundreds of thousands of the hoppers but without an apparent effect on the march of the insects.

When BABIES are Upset
BABY ills and ailments seem twice as serious at night. A sudden cry may mean colic. Or a sudden attack of diarrhea. How would you meet this emergency—tonight? Have you a bottle of Castoria ready?
For the protection of your wee one—for your own peace of mind—keep this old, reliable preparation always on hand. But don't keep it just for emergencies; let it be an everyday aid. It's gentle influence will ease and soothe the infant who cannot sleep. It's mild regulation will help an older child whose tongue is coated because of sluggish bowels. All druggists have Castoria.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS
Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily, half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.
That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

Shall the Board of Trustees of Independent School District No. 43, in Latah County, Idaho, be empowered to issue the negotiable coupon bonds of the district in the amount of not exceeding Thirteen Thousand Dollars ($13,000.00), bearing interest at a rate not exceeding six per centum per annum; said bonds to bear date corresponding to the date of their issuance, due and payable twenty years from their date and written on the amortization plan, for the purpose of building or constructing a school house and other needed buildings in said district and to provide and furnish the same with all furniture, apparatus and equipment, including lighting and heating, necessary to maintain and operate the school in said district?
Each qualified voter of said district shall vote upon said question by secret and separate ballot whereon shall be in print, type, or other legible writing, the question above submitted, and said ballots shall contain the words "Bonds, Yes" and the words "Bonds, No," and shall indicate his approval or disapproval of the question submitted by the marking of a cross (X) opposite the group of words on his ballot which expresses his choice.
