western white and 46c to 46½c for hard winter, northern spring and western red, sacked, basis No. 1.

California wheat markets remained dull, with prices on local wheat at San Francisco and Los Angeles 2½c to 5c lower than a week ago. Mill demand was reported of about normal proportions and there was a fair inquiry from industries and feeders, although all classes of buyers continued to take only sufficient wheat for current requirements. Receipts of wheat at San Francisco since June 1, have totaled slightly over 12,000 tons, three-fourths of which was of northern wheat. This compares with about 15,000 tons received during the same period last year, of which less than one-half was northern wheat. California growers continued to sell slowly at current quotations, which averaged 75c to 80c per 100 F. O. B. Sacramento valley points. Local wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.02 to $1.05 for No. 1 hard white and 97½c to $1.00 for No. 1 soft white. Northern wheat was still being offered below local prices, with No. 2 soft and western white from Washington and Oregon quoted at 92½c per 100, sacked, delivered San Francisco docks, No. 1 hard winter, 13 to 14 per cent protein, from Texas and New Mexico was quoted at 99c in bulk, delivered California points, and No. 2 hard winter from Idaho and Utah at 93c to 95c per 100. No. 2 hard winter in bulk, with 13 per cent protein, was quoted at Los Angeles at $1.07½ and No. 2 dark hard winter at $1.15 to $1.18 per 100. Western soft white wheat sacked, was quoted in that market at $1.05 and No. 2, hard white at $1.03 per 100.

Spring wheat markets strengthened materially when new crop offerings fell below trade expectations, as a result of the short crop and rainy weather which delayed threshing. Receipts at Minneapolis totaled only 1,088 cars and only 237 cars were received at Duluth. Of the Minneapolis inspections from July 30 to Aug. 5, winter wheat comprised 561 cars. Meager offerings of cash spring wheat were in active mill demand and premiums were advanced 2c to 3c, which together with a 3c advance in future prices, made cash prices of the best grades about 6c more than a week ago. At the close of the market August 7, No. 1 dark northern with 12 to 15 per cent protein was quoted at 7c to 11c over the September price of 56½c. Quotations on winter wheat did not follow the advance in spring and No. 1 hard winter from the southwest sold at 3c to 4c over the September price, with northwestern winter of poorer quality selling at 4c to 5c under the September. Protein of the week's inspections averaged 13.16 per cent. The Duluth market was dull, with movement small and local demand rather inactive. Higher bids from other markets at diversion points were principally responsible for the light offerings. No. 1 dark northern sold at Duluth August 7 at 60½c to 64½c and No. 1 Northern at 59c to 63½c per bushel.

Crime Causes Beyond Laws

The causes of crime are almost infinite in number.

The pressure of social forces, racial influences, poverty, false standards of education, even climatic conditions, all these are responsible to some degree for law breaking, serious or otherwise. And so are the better known causes such as drug addiction, alcoholism, illiteracy, the gang spirit, and blood taints like insanity.

The very complexity and number of crime causes is an unanswerable argument against the effort to subdue the criminal by passing more laws. The penologist, the criminologist, the psychiatrist—in their hands lies the true future of crime prevention. Mere legislation prohibiting the use of various instruments or chemicals which might be used to commit a crime, cannot overcome the conditions, physical, emotional, and mental, that are responsible for making thieves and murderers.

A Business Lighthouse

History shows that after every period of depression the business upswing which is as sure to follow as daylight after darkness, carries living and economic standards to new high levels. We all know that this process takes place but during the recession period we are too much inclined to become panicky as businesses built upon poor foundations are swept away.

Injury, loss, and tragedy result from ignorance or inexperience in dealing with the forces of nature on sea, on land, or in business.

A lighthouse along the ocean shore is built to warn against danger. Ships at sea look for it to guide them. It stands on a foundation of solid rock. It has strength and enduring qualities.

There is a similarity between the lighthouse and stock fire insurance.

Insurance statistics throw the clear white light of knowledge and experience on the fire hazards which business and individuals must meet in daily life, in good times and in bad times. These hazards are just as definite as the rocks which the lighthouse guards against.

But insurance renders a service beyond pointing out the danger; it provides for indemnity after losses occur.

In times of business depression, as in times of storms at sea, losses increase and security values decline. Then it is that insurance service stands out in its strength like the rock upon which the lighthouse is built. If there were any weakness in its foundation, it would crumble like the house built upon the sand.

Times of stress emphasize the fact that insurance does in reality stand as the basis of credit and that stock fire insurance, built upon the rock foundation of rates, based upon the law of averages, renders its indisputable service without interruption at all times.

Ben Gibbs took a load of melons up on Craig Mountain Wednesday.

Monday night of this week a group of young folks enjoyed a swim at the Arrow beach. The party was composed of Archie and Cecil Phillips, Charles Davis, Pete Blevins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flaig, Mae Freytag, Neva Ware and Nettie and Margaret McDowell.

GRAIN MARKETS STRONGER WITH IMPROVED DEMAND

of those of a year ago and also of better quality. Italy, Germany and France report a combined outturn of 684,000,000 bushels against 563,000,000 bushels a year ago, with the quality better than last season. The harvest in the lower Danubian countries is smaller than that of last season, with further deterioration recently reported in Hungary as a result of the drought. Harvesting has been completed in Roumania and although the outturn is officially placed at 112,000,000 bushels against 131,000,000 bushels a year ago, the quality of the grain is excellent.

Domestic winter wheat markets strengthened materially toward the last of the week, when the expected increase in marketings as a result of the freight rate reductions, failed to materialize. Receipts at the principal central and southwestern markets totaled only 8,471 cars as compared with 10,234 cars last week and 10,961 cars a year ago. Mills became more active buyers, as offerings decreased and premiums were reduced 2c to 3c per bushel on most grades and classes of wheat. No. 2 hard winter ordinary protein was quoted at Kansas City at 42c to 43½c and 13 per cent protein at 44c to 44½c per bushel. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, sold at Omaha at 44c and No. 2 Yellow hard winter with 10 per cent protein at 43½c to 44c per bushel. Mills at Fort Worth were paying up to 48c per bushel for No. 1 hard winter, on the Galveston export rate, while exporters were bidding 45½c F. O. B., for the gulf for the same quality. Offerings were hardly sufficient for current demands but growers and country shippers were offering relatively small amounts at current prices. Wheat receipts at Denver were more than twice as large as last week but below those of a year ago. Demand at that market remained dull and prices failed to show the advance at western points.

Soft winter wheat markets strengthened along with those for hard winter under an improved demand from mills and feed manufacturers. Prices at Chicago advanced around 3c from the low point reached early in the week, with No. 2 quoted at 48c to 49½c. Mills were competing actively for the limited offerings at St. Louis and prices were 1c to 1½c higher at the close of the market August 7, when No. 1 soft red winter was quoted at 48c to 49c and No. 2 soft red winter at 48c per bushel. Offerings from farmers and country dealers have decreased and much wheat is reported being fed in that territory. Receipts at Cincinnati were of good volume, but demand from mills and feed manufacturers was more active and offerings were readily taken at some advance in prices. Feed manufacturers are substituting wheat for corn and an unusually large percentage of the sales made by the Cincinnati trade was reported being taken for feed purposes. No. 2 red was quoted at that market, depending on freight costs.

Pacific coast markets were weak and unsettled most of the week, although prices at Portland and Seattle strengthened slightly toward the close, following the advance in eastern markets. Relatively light offerings of new wheat, together with an active export inquiry from the Orient, were the strengthening factors. Only 79 cars were received at Puget Sound and Columbia river ports during the week, or less than one-half the amount received during the corresponding week last year. Growers were reported to be selling at prevailing low prices. Wheat harvest is well advanced in Washington and Oregon but delayed somewhat by hot weather during the week in eastern areas in these states. Mill demand for wheat, both from domestic and export mills, was only of moderate volume, because of the dull flour market. Foreign buyers are taking wheat rather than flour and export demand for wheat has increased materially. Sales of around 75,000 tons of wheat to China are reported, making the total approximately 100,000 tons during the past two weeks. The sales were for shipment through September, October and November. At the close of the market Aug. 7 western white wheat was quoted at Seattle at 49½c, western red and hard white at 48c and bluestem at 58c sacked, basis No. 1. Montana dark northern spring wheat in bulk was quoted at 80c. Cash wheat at Portland was quoted at 57c to 58c for B. B. bluestem hard white, 48½c to 49c for soft and
