

KENDRICK TO HAVE ANOTHER COMMUNITY TREE

As stated in last week's Gazette, the Kendrick Commercial club will sponsor another community Christmas tree this year. The tree will be placed in the middle of Main street and the entertainment will be held around the tree on Christmas eve (December 24), to which every youngster in the entire community, under high school age, is invited and they will be given a nice treat. Of course everyone is cordially invited to attend the distribution of treats, but the younger children will be served first with the compliments of the business men of Kendrick.

There will be a short entertainment of Christmas carols and short talks, the whole taking up only a few minutes. It is expected that old St. Nick will be there in person at 7:30, or thereabouts, to distribute the bags of "goodies" to the youngsters. So, kiddies, if you want to get a glimpse of that good old fellow, just be on hand at the big Christmas tree, which is to be located in Main street and will be covered with colored lights—just to let old Santa know where it is.

All children under high school age, whether they are old enough to attend school or not, will be given a treat. It is for all children of the entire community—country as well as town—and they are cordially invited to be present. In case children are detained at home from one cause or another, if the parents will so state, a treat will be given to each youngster so detained at home. There will be ample packages for all, but only one for each child as the packages will be quite liberal in quantity.

The entire enterprise is being sponsored by the Kendrick Commercial club. No one is receiving a penny for his time and all candy, nuts and other goodies are being furnished at cost. The entire enterprise is just to show the good will of the business and professional men of Kendrick toward the entire community, and for the mere joy of celebrating the occasion and seeing the glowing faces of the youngsters as they receive their treats from old Santa Claus.

Oyster Supper and Bridge

One of the very pleasant affairs of the winter season was given last Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carroll, when a number of their friends were invited to partake of a 6:30 o'clock oyster supper, followed by seven tables at bridge, the event being in the form of a Christmas party.

Those taking part in the evening's pleasures were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Rider, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Dr. and Mrs. Geo. W. McKeever, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Long, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Carlson, Miss Rilla Davidson, P. C. McCreary and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll.

High family score was made by Mr. and Mrs. Ramey. The ladies' consolation went to Mrs. McKeever and that for the gentlemen went to W. L. McCreary.

Julietta Has Pretty Tree

The good people of Julietta are to be complimented for the way they have made their little town a place of beauty. The big Christmas tree erected in the center of the town is a very pretty sight and can be seen for a long ways, when coming from the direction of Arrow. There are four smaller trees, one at each corner of the street intersection, connected to the center tree with festoons of evergreen, making a beautiful sight. There is also a large lighted sign on each side in Main street wishing everyone a "Merry Christmas."

It all makes one remember that Christmas-time is again at hand and that it really is a time for good wishes, such as the lighted sign bids you.

Odd Fellows Surprise Rebekahs

Members of the local Odd Fellows lodge gave the Rebekahs a real surprise Tuesday night, when they went in force to the lodge room.

Cards, and a lunch served by the men made the evening very pleasant.

Miniature Sulce Box

John Schwarz, who spent some eleven years in the Klondike, still has the mining idea. He has on exhibition at the Kendrick Rochdale office a miniature sulce box, such as he used when taking out gold in the frozen north.

Of course the contraption is all greek to the average layman, but Mr. Schwarz understands it thoroughly and knows just how it works.

The little model is neatly made and shows that Mr. Schwarz is no mean hand with a jack-knife and a few other tools necessary to its manufacture.

Don't miss Santa Claus, at Community tree Christmas eve.

Masons Elect Officers

At the regular meeting of the Masonic Lodge on Thursday night of last week, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing term:

Dr. Geo. W. McKeever, worshipful master; H. B. Thompson, senior warden; C. A. Oppenborn, junior warden; E. T. Long, secretary; Wm. Freytag, treasurer; Oscar Raby, senior deacon; Manford Nutt, junior deacon; M. O. Raby, marshal; B. F. Nesbit, chaplain; Wade Keene, senior steward; Ed. Taylor, junior steward; N. Brocke, tyler.

Idaho Objects To Losing Air Mail

Washington state has an idea that they are going to have the air-mail routes changed to leave Idaho out, and Idaho is putting up an objection that will be heard all the way to Washington, D. C., before it is finally settled. Senators Dill and Jones of the State of Washington are at the bottom of the "conspiracy."

Putting Up Ice

The "firm" of Watts and Leith, ice dealers (for their own use) are putting up ice this week. They report it from 7 1/2 to 10 inches in thickness.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION IS ORGANIZED

The Kendrick Parent-Teachers' association was definitely organized for the year, at a preliminary meeting held Monday evening in the schoolhouse. B. B. Brigham, superintendent of schools, called the meeting to order and presided throughout the evening. He was assisted by Mrs. Dick Johnson of Lewiston, a parent-teacher worker from Lewiston, who came especially to help in the first organization. Approximately 25 parents and teachers attended.

Officers elected for the year were Mrs. W. B. Deobald, president; Mrs. A. K. Carlson, vice-president; Mrs. Wm. Jarvis, secretary, and Mrs. E. H. Dammarell, treasurer.

Plans for the year were formed, following the adoption of the constitution and the assignment of each member to a committee. It was decided also that the local organization should join the state and national organizations of parents and teachers, with dues amounting to 25c a year.

"Interest shown in the meeting was very encouraging," Mrs. Johnson declared after officers had been installed and complete organization effected. "I am sure you will have a fine organization this year, and I think it is a distinct compliment to your city that such an association has been formed."

The organization was sponsored by B. B. Brigham, E. H. Dammarell and H. B. Thompson, who compose the education committee in the Commercial club. The meeting was arranged, following a resolution passed by the Commercial club to sponsor and support the organization.

Regular monthly meetings will be held from now on. Programs will be presented by students of the public school.

Christmas Cantata

The Community church will give a Christmas Cantata, "The Holy Child," by Carrie B. Adams, Sunday, December 20, at 7:30 p. m., under the direction of Nina Newman.

The soloists are: Mrs. D. A. Christensen, soprano; Mrs. Mary Adams, mezzo-soprano; Mrs. R. H. Ramey, contralto; B. B. Brigham, tenor; R. H. Ramey, baritone; W. A. Watts, bass. Mrs. E. H. Emery is accompanist.

The Men's quartet, including Mr. Brigham, Mr. Ramey, Mr. Walker and Mr. Hill, will sing.

The choruses will be sung by the choir.

The public is cordially invited.

Shipped Ton Dressed Turkeys

There are not many places in this section of the great Pacific Northwest where there are more turkeys raised than in the territory within a few miles of Kendrick.

On Tuesday of this week Herman Meyer shipped more than a ton of dressed turkeys, 1100 pounds of the birds went to Kellogg and the remainder to the Spokane market.

E. L. Whisler is said to have more than a thousand fine turkeys still on hand, which will not be ready for the market until about February, it is said. There are also several others who have many of the birds that will grace the tables at Christmas time.

Blackmailer Arrested

J. D. Stewart, formerly a resident of Troy, but more recently of Kooskia, has been arrested for threatening to blow up C. V. Lack's drug store at Troy if Mr. Lack did not leave $200 at a designated place.

Mr. Lack received several threatening letters but treated them as a joke, but in the meantime authorities were put to work on the case and resulted in Stewart's arrest. He admitted writing the letters, but claimed it was done as a practical joke. It has turned out to be a rather serious one—for Stewart.

Oregon Gives Genuine Tax Relief

A reduction of more than four and a half million dollars in the state tax levy against Oregon property will be made in 1932, the state tax commission announced last Monday.

The total state tax on real property, based on the 1931 valuation, will be $2,185,614. The 1931 levy was $6,842,949.

Governor Julius L. Meier recently announced elimination of all state taxes on real property, except the elementary school tax, during 1932.

What Next?

In line with the Culbertson-Lenz-Jacobey bridge battle now on in New York, over at Grinnell, Iowa, two exponents of different "systems" of crap shooting are demonstrating the efficiency of the "cotton roll" as against the "African twist." The pair are in their sixth day of a ten-day session with the galloping dominoes, as they are termed by the followers of the game.

And over at Seattle two-poker fiends are starting a session to demonstrate one system as against another. We suppose the craze will extend to every conceivable game before the contests are over, just like those who went crazy over tree-sitting, pole-sitting, chimney-sitting, and a few other "sitings."

Old Santa On Job

If youngsters don't believe there is a Santa Claus, all they will have to do is to look at the top of the Kendrick Rochdale elevator—and then they should be convinced—for there he stands in the window, all ready to go back after his sack of toys and put them on the tree.

The TRUTH ABOUT SAINT NICHOLAS

by A. W. CALLISEN

FOR hundreds of years children everywhere have loved Santa Claus. And no wonder, for Santa Claus is a real person, as real as Captain John Smith, General Grant, or our beloved George Washington, only his real name was Saint Nicholas.

Ages ago the Germans called him Sankt Niclaus, which their children turned into Sankt Claus—the Santa Claus of today.
Saint Nicholas, the patron saint of children, was a Greek who lived in Asia Minor about sixteen hundred years ago, and his life was so spotless and his good works so enduring that he is even now beloved in all lands. Many churches have been named for him.

The parents of Saint Nicholas were rich and respected and lived in a city called Patara at the southwest corner of Asia Minor. Long they dwelt together, childless, but at length their prayers were answered and the little son Nicholas was sent to cheer their loneliness. It is said that from the very first he was the wonder of all friends and neighbors, so different was he from other children of his age.

At school he was one of the brightest and best scholars, and so great was his love for the church, and so anxious was he to serve Christ, his master in all things, that his father and mother willingly allowed him to study for the priesthood. Thus it came that he was sent to the home of his uncle, Bishop Nicholas of Patara, under whose loving care he was instructed in all the wisdom of the church as known in that day.

And now we come to the story of how Nicholas, from the kindness of his heart, first brought gifts to children while they lay asleep. It so happened that in the city there dwelt a very good and learned man with his three young daughters. This man had at one time been very rich, but by taking bad advice from one he thought his friend, lost all his wealth. Now he was bitterly poor, and as he was too proud to beg, the family had no longer a crust of bread to eat. Good Nicholas heard of this and his kind heart was greatly troubled. So he filled a purse with gold and went by night to the poor man's house though he had no idea how he should deliver his gift without being seen. The moon was shining brightly and by its light he saw a trellis which was built against the house for a grapevine to grow upon. This he climbed, and peeping through the window saw the three hungry children asleep on their bed, their cheeks still wet with tears. It made his heart ache to see their distress and tears came into his own eyes. Gently dropping the purse of gold on the floor he climbed again to the ground.

The next morning the poor man rejoiced greatly when his daughters brought him the purse of gold, and for a time the family's troubles were at an end.
When the money was at last all spent, Nicholas again climbed the trellis by night and dropped a second purse, and later a third. You can fancy how astonished the poor man was at this unexpected help, and after the second purse he determined to watch for the generous giver. This he did and the third time caught Nicholas in the very act. The poor man fell upon his knees and thanked him with tears for his act of mercy, but Nicholas earnestly begged him never to tell who had befriended him.

Through the children, however, the story became known in the town, and as the kind-hearted Nicholas continued to help the needy in secret, giving away the entire wealth he had inherited from his parents, people soon learned to say whenever a gift had been left during the night: "Saint Nicholas brought it!"

Nicholas continued as he had begun, and devoted his whole life to the good of his fellow men. He visited the sick, and helped the needy both with money and good advice.

Six hundred years later when King Vladimir of Russia came all the way to Constantinople to be baptized he heard the splendid story of Saint Nicholas. And from the king and his Russian people the story spread to the Lapps in the far north. These simple folk believed that the good saint lived at the North pole amid the wonderful northern lights, and that he came to them with gifts in a sled drawn by reindeer, the common way of travel in their country. So has the story come down through the years to the children of today.

Yes, indeed, St. Nicholas, or Santa Claus, as he is better known, was a very real person! A very good and loving friend to all who needed him!

Nature Provides Things That Make Nice Presents

The birch, when it gets too big for its clothes, cracks the bark a few layers at a time, and the wind pulls off long, thin streamers of exquisite tints of silvery white or dusky brown, from which boxes and baskets may be fashioned for Christmas which are out of the ordinary. Rustic looking place cards may be made for the friend who gives unique luncheons, says Nature Magazine. The camper friends might find napkin rings made of it convenient. The locust thorn which is found in the Middle West makes a good stiletto, in fact, it is sharper than one made of silver. You can make it a bit more decorative by having a silver band fitted to it by the local jeweler on which initials may be engraved.

 But think what a big Christmas tree that would require! And think how much money it would take to give each of these poor people a toy, a red and white stick of candy and an orange! More money than is spent in a year for missions in China! And think what a big house it would require to hold these people! So I cannot take them up in my arms, but I can take them up in the arms of prayer and carry them to our Christmas Jesus, and ask Him to give them each a present better a thousand times than toys, fruit and candy. And you can pray with me that these Chinese girls and boys may have a part in that great Christmas tree "whose leaves are for the healing of the nations"—that Jesus may take the Chinese all up into His arms and bring them to His Christmas home, which is big enough for all.

You can do more than pray. You can show that you want your prayers answered. You can help answer them by giving. You can give Christmas gifts of dimes and dollars to send the Gospel to your brothers and sister in China. They really are your brothers and sisters. Even the unsaved Chinese learned men have said, "All on earth are brothers." How much better can we, who love Jesus, say the Chinese are our brothers, and then act as though we truly regarded them so. I know that when Christmas comes near you say to yourself, "Now I must get a present for Charlie and Willie and Mary and Papa and Mama." You would feel very much disappointed if you could not give each one at least a little present. Now, next Christmas just remember that you have other brothers and sisters who need a Christmas gift, and give them a share of your spending money. Do you think you can do that? In the next Christmas missionary offering in your church give them at least enough to buy a small Bible. Is that asking too much of you for your brothers and sisters in China?

May Santa Claus visit you all and give you a Merry Christmas and Blessed, Prosperous New Year.

GUARD YOUR TABLE— ALWAYS READ THE LABEL

Housewives will find new words, printed in bold-face type, upon the labels of some canned peaches, peas, pears, tomatoes, cherries and apricots packed this season and going on the market now. These words are, "Below U. S. Standard; Low Quality But Not Illegal."

What do the words mean and what should the housewife do when she finds them on a particular can?

The words mean that the national pure food law has been amended to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to prescribe and formulate quality standards for all canned foods save meat and meat products and canned milk. The Secretary has already announced official standards for peas, peaches, pears, tomatoes, cherries and apricots, and these standards are now in effect. The amendment, popularly known as the canner's bill, further authorizes the Secretary to prescribe a designation to be printed upon the labels of canned foods that

The canners' bill also gives the Secretary authority to define a standard fill for canned foods. Canned foods shall be considered as of standard fill if the entire contents occupy 90 per cent or more of the volume of the closed container. If a buyer finds the words, "Slack Filled," on a can, she will know that the food in that container does not occupy 90 per cent of the volume.

"A housewife with a limited amount of money to spend will be greatly aided in making her purchases of canned foods within the coming months if she will carefully read the labels on the containers," says Dr. P. B. Dunbar. "Nor need she fear that if she buys a can of food labeled with the substandard designation that she is getting an unwholesome product.

"If the food actually were unwholesome, it would of course be illegal under the food and drugs act and subject to action under that measure. She need not hesitate to purchase a food branded, 'Below U.

S. standard; low quality but not illegal,' because that food will carry the nutritive, if not the esthetic, value of standard canned goods."

The housewife need not look for the wording indicating a substandard product on any canned goods, save the six mentioned for some time to come. The standards for canned peas, peaches, pears, apricots, cherries and tomatoes are all that have been formulated and officially announced to date. The Food and Drug Administration will work out standards for other canned goods as rapidly as possible, however.

Fine Deer Head

John Woody was exhibiting a fine five-point buck mule deer head in town the first of the week, that he had killed up on the Selways this fall. It was as perfect specimen as one would care to see.

Our own idea is that if farmers were as well organized as labor, the question of farm relief would not be as unsettled as it is.

A Good Samaritan

It would seem at this time that Marshal Ed. Long should be placed under the heading of "good Samaritan" for having put salt on the icy walk leading up the hill to the school house. It has saved many a fall and perhaps broken bones. The cost is small and the benefits many. We hope the supply of salt holds out all winter.

POISON

in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that headache, sluggish, bilious condition: coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to people of all ages. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstores sell.

REV. HALLOCK WRITES OF CHRISTMAS IN CHINA

The following letter has been received by the Gazette from Rev. H. G. C. Hallock, who has been a missionary in China for more than 25 years, his address being C. P. O. Box No. 1234, Shanghai, China:

I am writing this letter for the boys and girls who read your excellent paper. I hope it reaches you in time for your Christmas edition. If it finds a place, please send me a marked copy.

As it is almost Christmas, let me tell you a bit about Christmas in China. Do you think the Chinese have a happy Christmas? I seldom hear the Chinese say anything about a Happy Christmas. "Happy?" they would say, "Happiness is not on earth." They do not know of Jesus' becoming a little boy, of the Star in the East, of the wise men, or of the angels' song. They know nothing of all the happiness and peace that Jesus brought. The children have no Christmas tree and no Santa Claus. They do not hang up their stockings on Christmas eve. If they did, poor things, their stockings would be so full of holes that a present would fall right through. Indeed many little "China Chink" boys and girls do not have a stocking "to their name."

Sometimes on Christmas Day, I feel like taking these people all up into my arms and telling them of Jesus, and then getting a great Christmas tree, big enough to hang five hundred million presents upon, have some candles and other pretty things to make it look attractive, and then carry the people in and, as papa does the baby, let them see their first Christ-

INDUSTRY SEES HOPEFUL SIGNS, BANKERS TOLD

Leading Automobile Unit Expects to Employ More Men
This Winter Than Last

MOTOR SUPPLY IN HANDS OF PUBLIC FALLING OFF

Twelve Million Years Less Transportation in Nation's Car Inventory Than Considered Normal, Manufacturer Tells Financiers

ESTIMATING that transportation in the form of automobiles now in the hands of the American public is twelve million "car-years" below normal, and that this deficit will eventually have to be made up, Richard H. Grant, vice president of the General Motors Corporation, recently told the American Bankers Association convention that employment in his company may be greater this winter than last year.

"Employment during the winter months is a very important thing," Mr. Grant said. "So far as our corporation is concerned, in November, December, January and February we will be employing at least as many and probably more men than we did this past year."

In order to gauge the outlook for next year's market his corporation, he said, attempts to set up sales indices based on intensive scientific studies in addition to observation and common sense.

"We are in the habit of looking upon an automobile not merely as an automobile but as transportation," he said. "We figure each automobile produced as six years of transportation. Then by following up records of production yearly, we get a graph which indicates what ought to be a normal inventory of transportation in the hands of the American people, and whether there are more or less miles than might be expected. According to our figures, there are about twelve million years less transportation in this inventory at the present time than has been considered normal since 1925.

The Outlook for Business

"Consequently, if we retain the same purchasing power in this country, it is quite evident that on the first upturn of business there will be a rush to replace that inventory. In developing this graph, it has come out very strongly that every third year is a big automobile year. The biggest automobile year was 1929 when 4,100,000 cars were produced for American consumption. This year the industry will produce somewhere between 1,800,000 and 1,900,000 cars. As 1932 is three years after 1929, if economic conditions were normal we could be sure we would do a tremendous business, because the third year is the time when the bulk of the replacing takes place."

He added that there are factors at work that make it uncertain how big the year will be, instancing that "money is being hoarded from lack of confidence and this takes away some purchasing power that we would otherwise have, while family budgets are being cut on account of changes in income conditions, which again means that purchasing power for the automobile, like a good many other things, will be knocked down." As a result, he said, it was necessary to measure what statistically would be a big year against a practical consideration of the curtailment of expenditures which is going on and determine how big the year will be under these circumstances.

"From a long haul standpoint, regardless of how many automobiles are sold in 1932, we are storing up a big business for the future," Mr. Grant said. "There will be fewer automobiles sold in 1931 than will go to the scrap heap. With 12,000,000 car-years out of the inventory, nine percent more gasoline was used up to August 1, 1931, than was used in 1930. With fewer automobiles, the people must have been running them faster and longer to consume the additional gasoline. This means that we have some 22,000,000 people working hard to make a fine business for our industry when there is an economic recovery."

No False Optimism

"I am not attempting to create any false optimism—I am not speaking without a statistical background. Using the best sense we can, we have drawn conclusions from the figures we have, and I am willing to make the statement that as far as the conduct of our business for the first half of 1932 is concerned, we shall set the indices somewhat higher than the actualities of 1931. We are willing to set our advertising budgets and our selling expense on that kind of indices. With economic conditions as they are, and since the obsolescence is so great and we have sunk so low in this year's sales, we figure that the first half of 1932 must necessarily be better than was the first half of 1931."

GRAIN MARKETS WERE WEAK AND UNSETTLED

Grain markets continued weak and unsettled during the week ending December 11, influenced by slow demand, declining securities and the uncertain world-wide economic situation, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Wheat was sharply lower early in the week, but strengthened slightly toward the close, with private estimates indicating a relatively low condition of the domestic winter wheat crop and reports of unfavorable harvesting weather in Argentina. With export demand lacking however, and domestic inquiry dull, prices remained 2c to 3c per bushel under those of a week ago. Feed grains were mostly lower with wheat, but corn continued independently weak because of the very light shipping demand prevailing at the principal markets. Rye and flax declined along with other grains, but influenced also by continued light takings of these grains.

World wheat markets also continued irregular, largely under the influence of changing national policies and fluctuating values. Trading in British markets was somewhat restricted by a further decline of about 6c in the British pound sterling. Stocks in the United Kingdom have held at high levels in anticipation of an imposition of an import duty and prospective adoption of a milling quota system, which, however, is being protested by British millers. Continental European traders were reported to be buying sparingly and actual sales were small and prices generally lower. French markets strengthened slightly and while those in the countries of the Lower Danube were relatively steady, inquiry from Czechoslovakian mills was of small volume, as they were mostly well supplied for immediate needs. Austrian markets were steady with offers limited to the weekly allotment of foreign currency for grain imports. At the close of the market December 11 native milling wheat was quoted, at Hamburg at $1.46, at Paris at $1.60½ and at Milan, Italy, at $1.43 per bushel.

Harvesting in the Southern Hemisphere has progressed rapidly and so far no serious damage has been reported, although recent unfavorable weather in Argentine suggests some lowering of quality and shippers were offering 64-lb. (Imperial bushel) wheat more sparingly on English markets. The Australian movement has increased and yields in Victoria are reported heavy. The combined Southern Hemisphere production, including the new Argentine estimates, is now placed at 389,000,000 bushels as against 449,000,000 bushels last year. No official forecast of remaining stocks of old wheat December 1, are yet available, but estimated exportable stocks at that date based on supplies, less shipments, were around 50,000,000 bushels, compared with about 24,000,000 bushels a year ago. Most of the increase in stocks is in Argentina and is comprised mainly of low quality wheat, according to trade reports. Australian stocks are only moderately above those of a year ago. Southern Hemisphere shipments during the week were of only moderate volume, totaling 1,176,000 bushels from Argentina and 1,437,000 bushels from Australia.

Pacific Coast wheat markets were also weak and mostly fluctuated with Eastern markets. The general situation remained about unchanged in the Pacific Northwest, with local prices above an export basis. Country offerings continued of moderate volume and around 50 per cent of the season's crop remains to be marketed in Washington and Oregon, according to trade estimates. Wheat and flour shipments from Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals for the season to date, have totaled about 28,459,000 bushels, compared with 26,997,000 bushels in the corresponding period last year. Shipments to California and the Orient this year are well above last season, while shipments to Europe are sharply lower. Active competition from lower prices Australian wheat in Oriental markets and of Canadian wheat in European markets has restricted demand for wheat from the Pacific Northwest this season. At the close of the week No. 2 Manitoba northern was being offered from Vancouver at prices equivalent to 47½c in U. S. money, while the principal classes of domestic wheat were quoted at Portland at 61½c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1 wheat. Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at 78½c per bushel.

California wheat markets ranged from unchanged to slightly lower. The San Francisco market was quiet but steady. Trading was seasonally dull, with both milling and feed grades in slow demand. Offerings of local wheat were light and current requirements were being filled largely from outside markets. Mills were mostly using supplies accumulated in the season and industries were reducing stocks preparatory for the inventory period. The low prices of feed wheat have caused some increased feeding of wheat at the expense of barley. Trading in California what was confined almost entirely to sales to feeders where freight charges increased the cost of imported grain. At the close of the market December 11, No. 1 hard white local wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.45 and No. 1 soft white at $1.32½ to $1.35. No. 2 soft western white wheat was quoted delivered docks San Francisco from Washington and Oregon at $1.17½ to $1.19, and Big Bend bluestem hard white at $1.45 per 100 sacked. 13 per cent protein, No. 2 hard winter from Texas was quoted at $1.29, delivered California points in bulk.

The Los Angeles wheat market declined around 2½c under a slow demand both from millers and industrial buyers. No. 2 hard winter in bulk, with ordinary protein, was quoted in that market December 11 at $1.20 to $1.22½ and No. 2 dark hard winter, 13 per cent protein, at $1.40 per 100. No. 2 soft and western white in bulk was selling mostly at $1.20 and bluestem and baart, 13 per cent protein, at around $1.45 per 100. Receipts were largely from Washington and Oregon; by water, although some grain was received from Colorado, Texas and New Mexico, with occasional offerings from Utah and Idaho.

Domestic cash wheat markets mostly followed the decline in futures during the week, but reflected also some increase in marketings and a less active milling demand as a result of seasonal dullness in the flour markets. Receipts of wheat at the principal central and southwestern markets totaled 2,057 cars compared with 1,493 cars during the previous week and 2,046 cars a year ago. Marketings however, usually increase in December, when growers dispose of grain to obtain holiday and tax funds. Cash prices of winter wheat declined 2c to 4c during the week and premiums for protein were slightly reduced. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at Kansas City at the close of the market December 11 at 47½c to 48¾c, 12 per cent protein at 48¾c to 50¾c, 12 per cent at 50¾c to 54¾c, and 14 per cent at 62¾c per bushel. One car of No. 1 dark hard winter wheat, 18 per cent protein, sold at 87c, which was a record price for the current season at that market. This car contained the highest protein ever sold in that market, according to available records. The average protein of the week's receipts was 12.4 per cent. Mill demand was less urgent but the shipments were larger than in recent weeks.

Receipts at Omaha were relatively large, mostly of wheat from Kansas and Nebraska bought on earlier contracts and sold to northwestern mills. Current demand was light and prices declined, with No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, quoted at 47½c, and 13½ per cent at 58c per bushel. Receipts at Denver were of only moderate volume, with demand principally from western mills. No. 2 dark hard winter, 13 per cent protein, was quoted at 45c and No. 2 hard winter, at 49c per bushel. Northern spring wheat was bringing about 3c premium over hard winter. Domestic mills at Fort Worth were offering 59c and 59½c for ordinary hard winter, basis Group 3 rate points. 13 per cent protein wheat was bringing a premium of 2c per bushel and each additional ¼ per cent protein about 1c premium.

Soft winter wheat markets were weak and lower. Receipts at St. Louis were slightly larger, with country shippers marketing a little more freely. The lower price brought out increased mill buying which caused an improved demand for track offerings. Prices declined however, along with futures and No. 1 red winter was quoted in that market December 11 at 57c, and No. 2 soft red winter at 56c and 57c per bushel. Demand at Cincinnati was less active than the previous week but elevators absorbed the light offerings at prevailing prices around 2c lower than a week ago. No. 2 red winter was quoted at 58c to 60c at the close of the week. No. 2 soft red winter wheat was quoted at Kansas City at 53c, a decline of about 5c for the week. Mill demand was of fair volume and sufficient to absorb the small offerings of this class of wheat.

Marketings of spring wheat continued relatively light, with receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaling only 600 cars. Of the 559 cars received at Minneapolis, 127 cars were winter wheat. The protein of the cars tested averaged 14.8 per cent, with a high of 18.1 per cent and a low of 10.9 per cent. While mills readily absorbed the current offerings, demand was less active because of the slow inquiry for flour. Many bakers and distributors were requesting delayed shipments on their contracts until after the new year and new orders were very small. Cash wheat premiums were reduced about 2c, which together with the decline in futures, lowered cash prices about 4½c at Minneapolis during the week. At the close of the market December 11, No. 1 dark northern, 12 per cent protein, was quoted at the December price of 68¾c to 3 over, 13 per cent protein at 2c to 4c over, 14 per cent protein at 3c to 6c over, and 15 per cent at 4c to 7c over the December price. Premiums at Duluth advanced about 1c per bushel, with No. 1 northern quoted in that market at 71½c to 74¾c.

Canadian spring wheat markets were weak earlier in the period, but strengthened toward the close under an improved export demand. At the close of the week No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted at 60c in Canadian currency, which would be equivalent to about 50c in U. S. money. This compared in a general way with quotations of 72½c to 75½c, prevailing in Minneapolis for wheat of similar quality.

Durum wheat was firmer than bread wheats, although demand was of only moderate volume. Offerings were very light and premiums for high protein grain were well maintained. No. 1 and No. 2 amber durum, ordinary protein wheat, was quoted at Minneapolis December 11 at 62¾c to 67½c, with choice milling quality quoted at 84¾c to 89¾c per bushel. No. 1 amber was selling at Duluth at 69c to 85c, depending upon protein; No. 1 durum at 65c to 68c, No. 2 mixed at 60c to 80c and No. 2 red durum at 57c per bushel.

Wrap Christmas Packages Well

Postmaster E. H. Dammarrell asks that all who mail Christmas packages wrap them well and address them plainly. If you are in doubt about the mailing of any package, ask for information at the postoffice, which will be gladly given.

Addresses should be complete, with house number and name, of street, (if any), postoffice box or rural number, and typed or plainly written in ink. A return card should be placed in the upper left-hand corner of every piece of mail. If a tag is used, the address and return should also be written on the wrapper for use if the tag is lost, and a copy of the address should be inclosed inside the parcel.

The use of a special-delivery stamp will assure delivery on Christmas day, if mailed at the proper time. Special delivery service means the handling and transportation of parcels with the same expedition as first-class mail, as well as immediate delivery at office of address. It is obtained by affixing a special delivery stamp of the proper denomination, or its equivalent in ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage. When ordinary stamps are used, the words "Special Delivery" must be written or printed on the envelope or wrapper immediately above the address. Special delivery is for speed and not for safety. Valuable mail should be registered or insured.

Better Hurry

Husband—The doctor has ordered me to observe the greatest possible quiet.

Wife—In that case, dear, don't you think it would be an ideal time to get back into business?

Modern Roads For Farmers

There are millions of farmers in the United States who, when winter comes, are almost as completely cut off from the outside world as if they were in darkest Africa. They have the vehicles—but the roads serving them have not been essentially improved since the days of the horse and wagon.

The world of today is largely dependent for its social and economic progress, on quick and certain transport. What the railroads mean on long hauls, good roads mean to the farmer on short hauls. They allow him to sell his goods at the best possible time, to buy supplies on short notice, to get quick medical aid when needed. They aid small town merchants by bringing them business that otherwise could not reach them.

States and counties will not have done their duty to the farmer until every farming area is provided with mudless, weatherproof feeder roads. Modern road building and surfacing methods make such roads available today at moderate cost.

High School Christmas Tree

At a student body meeting last week a committee of boys was appointed by the president to secure a Christmas tree for the High School. The committee decided to combine sport and work, planned a party to take place Sunday afternoon.

The afternoon began with a sleigh ride, the group being chaperoned by Miss Newman. After several hours of hilarious riding the group adjourned to the High School where the boys put the tree up and the girls prepared a sumptuous meal. When the painful task of dishwashing was over, the assembly was the scene of much activity. The tree was decked with much tinsel and artificial snow. The doorway was adorned with evergreen boughs while upon the blackboard were inscribed the words "Merry Xmas" and "Happy New Year."

After a last look at their handiwork they made their homeward journey.

Those present at the grand affair were Maxine Keene, Rowena Ramey, Elizabeth Carlson, Jane Plummer, Ellen Woody, Nettie McDowell, Nona McAllister, Johnnie Kite, Otto Herman, Kenneth Brocke, Ralph Blevins, Karl Emery and Robert Smith.

Christmas Program

A Christmas program will be presented next Tuesday evening at 7:30 by the music classes of the grades and the High School Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs.

The program consists of old carols, sung by the students, a tableau with music accompaniment, still pictures of the first Christmas, music from the grades and High school and from the men's quartet.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. No admission will be charged. Everyone come.

Student Manager and Critic Elected

At a student assembly a short time ago the committee appointed to remodel the constitution made its report and submitted the revised constitution for the approval of the students. Most of the amendments were accepted.

Miss Deagen was elected critic and Ralph Blevins was elected student manager. These two elections were made necessary by the failure to elect persons to those offices at the regular fall election.

Sophomore Taffy Pull

Friday, the eleventh, the members of the Sophomore class met in the Domestic Science room to spend the evening pulling taffy. In addition to pulling taffy they had a punch-board which commanded them to do various things. The most comical of these was that Mrs. Jarvis, the class advisor, was to turn a cartwheel.

An enjoyable time was reported by all in spite of the fact that some of the taffy was a failure.

Club Organized

A club was organized November 23 among the seventh and eighth grade girls. Ada Candler was elected president and Ione Thomas reporter. The activities carried on in the club will be in the form of sewing, reading and when weather conditions improve, hiking will be taken up. The girls have had several delightful meetings and are looking with great anticipation toward the coming meetings.

Basketball Boys Lose

After a seemingly endless ride to Southwick last Saturday, the almost-frozen Kendrick basketball team put up a sleepy front to the Southwick five, being defeated by a score of 40 to 28. It seemed that the boys could not get warmed up until it was too late to hope for victory.

Short News Notes

Last week the High School students drew names for the annual Christmas tree.

On account of the Parent-Teachers meeting the dancing club did not have a meeting Monday night.

The Dramatic club will be postponed because of conflicting engagements.

Ernest S.—Is there any difference between the meaning of sight and vision?

Walter K.—Yes, my girl is a vision and yours is a sight.

The following answer was found on Morton B.'s American History paper: General Braddock was killed in the Revolutionary War. He had three horses shot under him and the fourth one went through his clothes.

Heavy Snow

The entire Potlatch region was visited Wednesday night and Thursday by a heavy snow, adding from seven to ten inches to the depth.

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! As harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

WHEN FOOD SOURS

ABOUT two hours after eating, many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly! It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia, the kind physicians prescribe to correct excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drugstore.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

FUNERAL OF LINDY L HAMLEY HELD WEDNESDAY

The funeral of Miss Linda L. Hamley of Spokane was held in the Methodist church in Kendrick, Wednesday afternoon, the services being in charge of Rev. Edward J. Smith, pastor of the church, with burial in the local cemetery.

Linda L. Hamley, daughter of Wm. and Phillipa Hamley, was born in Ripon, Wisconsin, February 26, 1863. There she spent her early childhood. In the year 1900 she, with her parents, moved to Kendrick where they made their home for a number of years. In 1920 Miss Hamley moved to Spokane, where she lived until the time of her death, Sunday, December 13, 1931.

Linda, as she was known to her friends, was a woman of gentle and kindly disposition, a member and a willing worker in the church, and will long be remembered by a host of friends and acquaintances for her many kindly acts and deeds.

For several months she had lingered in poor health until God, in His wisdom, relieved her from her suffering and took her to her home beyond.

Her father, mother and brothers, Henry, have gone on before to welcome her, leaving two brothers—John J. of Pendleton, Oregon, and Pierce of Spokane to mourn their loss, besides a host of friends who will miss her kindly presence.

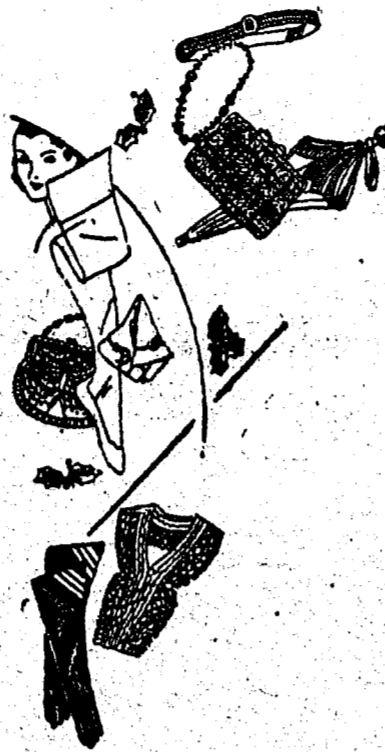

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our kind friends for their aid during our late bereavement, at the funeral of our late beloved sister.
John J. Hamley.

Special Christmas Show

You may not be interested in golf, as a game, but you will surely be interested in what happens when Nancy Carroll, beautiful blonde actress, and Charles Rogers, a professional golf player, tee off in "Follow Thru," the special show to be given at the Kendrick Theatre on Friday and Saturday nights, December 25 and 26.

In the golf season Nancy has discovered that she has a new interest in life—that she has fallen desperately in love with Charles Rogers.

"Follow Thru" is essentially a comedy, but the entertainment value is considerably heightened by the introduction of several snappy song numbers. Among them "Button Up Your Overcoat," "A Peach of a Pair,"

"It Must Be You," and others. The picture is 10-per cent technicolor.
