Sunday School Party

A party was given at Mrs. Grace Stinson's home last Friday evening in honor of the Young People's class of the Methodist Sunday school. Games and music, followed by refreshments, were the pleasures of the evening. Twenty-four were present, including their teacher, Mrs. Frazier.

School Closed Wednesday

School was dismissed Wednesday evening for the holidays, to be resumed on January 4. Christmas trees and an exchange of gifts were featured in all rooms Wednesday. Miss Brackett's pupils entertained their parents and patrons of the school with a program in the auditorium of the Methodist church.

Heavy Mail This Year

Postmaster E. H. Dammarell states that the volume of mail handled this year is fully equal to that of last year and that on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week it was heavier than on any day last Christmas season. This speaks well for the amount of money evidently in the country, regardless of the cry of extremely hard times among the majority. A goodly portion of this hard-times stuff is in the head. There never was a time when there was as much money in the banks during a "depression" as now—and it's all worth 100 cents on the dollar, too.

Community Christmas Tree

The big Community Christmas tree has been lighted each night for more than a week and presents a very beautiful appearance from up and down Main street. The program will be held on Christmas eve (Dec. 24). There will be, as stated last week, a short program of Christmas carols, and the distribution of "treats" by old Santa himself. The old fellow will come in his big sled and will have a nice sack of "goodies" for each youngster. All are asked to come out and enjoy the short program.

Cantata Success

The Christmas cantata given at the community church Sunday evening, December 20, proved a decided success and was very much enjoyed by a capacity crowd in the church. It is seldom indeed that one hears as much assembled musical talent as that used Sunday night and we are safe in saying that it was indeed a success and a real treat to all.

Cannot Alter Tax-Paying Date

County commissioners who propose extending the date for payment of taxes are doing so at the personal risk of the tax collector, Attorney General Fred Babcock advised O. W. Witman, Twin Falls prosecuting attorney. Witman said he understood many counties were planning to postpone the date for payment of taxes, and further were planning to permit payment of personal property taxes in installments. Both procedures were declared improper by the attorney general, who said in each instance the tax collector was personally liable.

SPOTLIGHT BE TURNED ON STATE TAXING BODIES

A foundation for a thorough-going study that will put the searching light of publicity on all revenue collecting bodies, from the smallest drainage district to the state government, was laid by the State Chamber executive tax committee at its first meeting held last week in Boise. The forefront of the investigation will be devoted to determine ways and methods of saving the taxpayer's money by reducing expenditures rather than to the consideration of possible legislative reforms, members of the committee pointed out. "Our first purpose," Chairman R. E. Shepherd said, "will be to assist state, county and municipal officers in reducing governmental expenditures, then we will consider tax legislation reform possibilities. The investigation in the various counties will be carried on by county organizations to be set up by county-wide tax conventions, which the executive committee recommends to be held as soon as practicable. The county seat chambers of commerce have been requested to take the initiative in the work in their respective counties. Forms outlining the information which the committee feels to be the most important to be supplied the county organizations for use in the investigation. Different forms will be provided for the different classes of taxing units. The organization in the various counties will be left entirely to the conventions, but it is anticipated that committees will be appointed to help handle each phase of the work. The county organizations will report to the state executive committee, which will be engaged in a similar investigation in state expenses. The investigation will seek to determine, among other things, the financial status of the taxing unit, the kind and character of the service rendered and the cost of operation and maintenance. Chairman Shepherd was authorized to appoint state-wide sub-committees, subject to the approval of the executive committee, to attend to various details of the investigation work as becomes necessary. Sub-committees for which a need is anticipated are: general revenue laws, education, highways, judiciary, banks and financial institutions, timber and timber land taxation, constitutional amendments, exemptions, state government and fees and licenses. All of the members of the executive committee were present at last week's meeting with the exception of D. A. Callahan, of Shoshone county, who was in the east.

WHAT WILL 1932 BRING FORTH IN OUR STATE?

Swiftly the time approaches for tearing another sheet from the calendar and that sheet will say, "1932." As we ponder this fact and realize how fast time is flying we cannot help but wonder what it will bring for us in the shape of roads, taxes, wheat, bean and lumber prices, business conditions and what not. We cannot help but wonder if it will bring a continuation of the "curve elimination campaign" of our state road bosses, so popular the past year or two, or a safe and sane program of farm to market and feeder roads to help our farmers. And at present prices, our farmers need help the most. One or more of these feeder roads is badly needed right here, right through the town of Kendrick and on into the farming section. So far we have received nothing. The thousands of dollars that go from this section annually in gas taxes have been used to build tourist roads and connect large centers, for the benefit of merchants, freight and bus lines—and we get nothing! One cannot help but wonder what will happen to our taxes—will they go up, as advocated by President Hoover, or can some method of economy be worked out in our villages, school and road districts, county and state and national affairs, so that taxes may be lowered—well only time can tell!

Much Wheat In Farmers Hands

Forty-five per cent of the 1931 wheat crop of the Pacific northwest is still in the hands of farmers, according to Henry W. Collins of Portland, vice-president in charge of the western division of the Farmers National Grain corporation, national co-operative sales agency. The estimate is made as of December 1. "Farmers National experts estimate that the 1931 crop for the North Pacific area, including Washington, Oregon and northern Idaho, was 60,000,000 bushels, or about 20,000,000 bushels less than normal," said Mr. Collins. "As of December 1, about 45 per cent of this crop still was in the farmers' hands." "All of the old stabilized wheat in the Pacific northwest will be cleaned up by the time we have completed shipment of the 15,000,000-bushel sale to the Chinese government." "About one-third of the total sale has been shipped to date; over 5,000,000 bushels. We expect to reach the half-way mark by January 1. "By the end of the present crop year, July 1, 1932, we believe the carry-over in this area will be the lowest in years, and that the Pacific northwest will be in good shape to go into the new crop season, with no surplus on hand. The use of wheat for feed this year, is the heaviest ever known in this territory. "California has been a constant buyer for mills and for feed all during the current season, and will look for supplies from the Pacific northwest on through the balance of the crop year. This is due to the drought and the resulting short crop this year in California."

Do Road Work By Hand

Return of the pick and shovel and the temporary shelving of thousands of dollars of Whatcom county, Washington, road equipment is contemplated under a joint unemployment relief program being considered by the board of county commissioners and 23 townships in the county. Under the plan the county will match dollar for dollar with the townships for road work to be done by hand labor. With a joint township-county program for relief in operation approximately $100,000 will be available for road work.

Talk About Summer

Tom Blevins, Gus Blum and Otto Rauske succeeded in capturing a big red and black butterfly Monday morning near the farmers bank. The "animal" had lots of pep and led them in a merry chase for a short distance. Where it came from at this time of the year is indeed a mystery.

"CO-OPERATION" IS THE FARMER'S BEST FRIEND

It is interesting to note that of all the plans that have been suggested to aid the farmer, only one has been given anything like unanimous approval by experts—the farm cooperative. Cooperation, both in producing and marketing, must be the dominant factor in any program designed to restore prosperity to agriculture. It is sound in economic principle—a fact that has been proven by American manufacturing industries, as well as by the long-established farm cooperatives—and it produces definite results. It cannot be too often pointed out that the individual farmer, when he goes to sell his products, is at an inescapable disadvantage. He must take what is offered or fail to sell. But when he bands together with ten or fifty or a hundred thousand other farmers, the shoe is on the other foot. He has become "big business" himself, and he can bargain and make fair terms. It is said that one barrier in the way of successful cooperatives, in the past, has been the virtual refusal of many farmers to cooperate when times are comparatively good. Then, when bad times come along, they are without the organization and machinery for taking decisive action. If the present severe agricultural depression has taught farmers that they must cooperate at all times and under all circumstances if they are to prosper, it will have done a great deal for the American farming industry.

Winter Only Started

Everyone in this entire locality will be terribly surprised to learn that "winter" did not begin (officially) until 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, December 29. So states an article in Tuesday morning's Lewiston Tribune. It also says that spring will begin on March 21 at 6:07 a. m. All this, of course, is according to the calendar, but from the looks of the fuel bin, winter has been upon us for the past several weeks. The article further says, regarding conditions: Sunrise this morning is at 7:41 and sunset at 4:13. The day hours will total 8:32 while there will be 15 hours and 28 minutes of night. The north pole today is tilted 23 degrees and 27 minutes away from the sun. In December the heat received by day fails to make good the loss by night, and it is not until January or February that gain and loss become equal and the thermometer ceases to show a downward tendency.

Peculiar Winter Weather

We have been having rather peculiar winter weather here these past few weeks. First of all we received a bit of snow, later we had a nice spell of warmer weather, with it a rain, which turned the streets and roads to slush, which in turn froze solid, making a very attractive sheet of ice over everything. This in turn was followed by another thaw and rain and again freezing weather and more ice, till it's almost worth your life to venture onto a sidewalk on the hill, regardless of how much care that walk has received. All in all, it's rather unusual weather for this section.

Taxpayers League Meeting

A meeting of the Latah County Taxpayers League was held at Moscow Saturday afternoon. The meeting was addressed by Gov. P. Mix, State Senator B. C. Rowe, Erick Oller and others. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Erick Oller, president; Jim Nelson, vice-president; J. H. Felton, secretary; Oscar M. Anderson, A. S. Lyons, Ed. Snow, William Smith and A. C. Linehan, were chosen as directors. The next meeting of the league will be held January 16, 1932, at 1 p. m.

Elk River Bank To Close Doors

A notice was posted on the door of the Elk River State Bank last week by Cashier C. H. Belideau that the bank would close its doors on January 1. The bank stock has been transferred to the Potlatch State Bank. The bank had deposits of about $180,000. It is expected that all depositors will be paid in full.

Taxes Rolling In

A report given out Wednesday at the office of the Latah county treasurer is to the effect that more than $120,000 in taxes has been paid to date, against $114,000 at this time last year.

Gaspipe Guns

A little more than a century ago—way back in 1813—a blacksmith in London joined old gun barrels together to make the first gaspipe line. And now the gaspipe lines would reach many times around the world. That may be all right, but it is evident that there are still a few "gaspipe" guns left in Kendrick. We are not mentioning any names, but there are evidently several of them still in use at the gun club shoots that take place here and other places semi-occasionally.

KENDRICK MERCHANTS ENJOY FINE CHRISTMAS TRADE

In making the rounds of the town it was learned from business men that the stores, almost invariably, have enjoyed a very good Christmas trade this year and are duly appreciative of the same. Of course a considerable amount of money always goes out of town, but much of it has remained in Kendrick this year—and this is as it should be. Kendrick merchants are entitled to first consideration from the fact that they make it possible for Kendrick to be here. They pay taxes and make it possible for a public school to exist; they help support the church; they make it possible for you to have the advantages of a near-by trading point that saves you many miles and much inconvenience when in need of the necessities of life—and many of the luxuries. While outside stores may have a little better selection of some articles, from a quantity standpoint, yet they do none of the thing enumerated above—for your benefit. Think it over! Just how much does the mail-order house do for your convenience and the betterment of the community in which you live? Nothing! The only thing they are interested in is your dollar—and when they once get hold of it, none of it ever comes back for any purpose whatsoever. You do not make or even take in a dollar from the mail order house but you do accumulate it in your community. Then, is it any more than right that most of it, at least, should remain at home, where you will, perhaps in another way, get a portion of it back? If not in cash, in benefits one way or another. When you are ill and your income has stopped, or you are temporarily short of cash, to whom do you apply for credit, for financial aid? Is it the home town doctor, merchant, lawyer, every time? Why? Because it can't be gotten out of town!

Journey To Orofino

Last Sunday, Dec. 20, four members of the Kendrick Gun club, Wade Keene, Walt Bigham, Eddie Deobald and Bill McCreary journeyed to Orofino to take part in a turkey shoot with that club, an invitation having been sent over to Frank Rider by that club. During the course of the day the local boys entered eleven events, and brought home seven turkeys out of it all. A total of twenty-one turkeys were shot off at Orofino, Kendrick, represented by four men took a third of them, so we don't feel bad about it at all, especially considering how little shooting we have done and none at all this year.

Bridge Clubs Hold Sessions

The Afternoon Bridge club met Thursday of last week with Mrs. E. A. Deobald, when the game was played at three tables. High score went to Mrs. H. B. Thompson and second high to Mrs. F. H. Rider. Two invited guests were in attendance—Mrs. W. A. Watts and Miss Rilla Davidson. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. J. B. Helman, January 8. The Double-Six Bridge club met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvie Cook and a very pleasant time was had. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson made high score during the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostess after play. The next meeting of the club will be at the apartment of Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Christensen, and will be in the nature of a New Year's party.

GRAIN MARKET FIRMER—LIGHT OFFERINGS CAUSE

Grain markets turned slightly firmer during the week ending December 18, with light offerings the principal strengthening factor, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Reduced acreage and the relatively poor condition of the domestic winter wheat crop was an additional firming influence in the wheat market. Feed grains were firmer largely because of the limited market receipts but the reductions in the official estimates of this season's harvest, also tended to strengthen the situation. Rye markets were stronger with wheat.

There were no outstanding changes in the general wheat market situation during the week, but the condition of the winter-sown grains and prospective outturns are exerting more influence upon the market. The relatively low condition of the domestic winter wheat crop was confirmed during the week by the official estimate which places the condition Dec. 1 at 79.4 per cent of normal, which was about 3.8 points below the ten year average Dec. 1 condition. Fall seedings of wheat totaled 38,682,000 acres, or 10.4 per cent below the acreage seeded in the fall of 1930.

Winter wheat acreage in Europe has been increased about 1,400,000 acres, according to trade estimates. Seeding in several European countries was somewhat delayed early in the season, but this was largely offset by favorable weather conditions during the latter part of the month, which permitted the completion of seeding and favored germination. Seeding in the United Kingdom was still in progress at the middle of December, with trade advices indicating an increase in acreage. The condition of winter wheat in Belgium and Holland was satisfactory, while Scandinavian crops at the beginning of December were reported in normal condition. In Germany, Austria, Hungary and Czechoslovakia mild weather prevailed well up into December and the condition of crops was above average at the first of that month, although germination of late sowings in Germany was irregular. Seeding made good progress generally in countries of the lower Danube, although some reduction in acreage is reported. The condition of the crop is fair, with a partial snow covering now prevailing. Seeding in Italy was interrupted by wet weather, but conditions are now reported fairly good. Wheat seeding has been satisfactorily completed in Greece, where the acreage is 15 per cent larger than a year ago, according to an official estimate. Increased acreage is also reported in France, with the condition of the crop favorable. Spanish crop conditions are reported up to normal. Russia is reported mostly under a good snow cover, with total grain seedings approximately 95 per cent of last year. Indian seedings were practically completed at the beginning of December. Satisfactory moisture conditions as a result of favorable monsoons have resulted in good germination and the condition of the crop was reported satisfactory at the middle of December. Crop conditions in North Africa were for the most part satisfactory, although some reports have indicated dryness in parts of Liberia.

Foreign wheat markets held about steady during the week. French millers were authorized to apply for licenses to import 10 per cent of the milling requirements for the time being, but previous milling regulations were unaltered. Russian shipments were again increased and totaled 1,238,000 bushels. Trade reports state that the director of the Soviet Grain Export department has announced that the Russian government intends to continue forcing the export of grain and that the original plans will be carried out, because the Russian foreign currency plans are based chiefly on receipts from exports. Southern hemisphere shipments increased with Argentine exports at 1,715,000 bushels and Australian shipments at 1,529,000 bushels. At the close of the market Dec. 18, Argentine Rosafé wheat was offered in London at 59 3/4¢ per bushel. Importers were reported paying 53¢ C. I. F. English markets for new Argentine wheat and 59¢ for new Australian wheat. U. S. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at Liverpool for December shipment from the gulf at 58 3/4¢ and No. 2 Manitoba from Atlantic ports at 60 1/2¢, all in terms of U. S. Currency.

Basketball Game

At 4:50 o'clock the basketball boys left for Moscow to play the Comrades. After a pleasant trip on the train they finally arrived at their destination. The game was called at about 7:30. The boys were leading with a score of 19 to 14 at the end of the first half, but the Comrades settled down to work and after the score sawed back and forth during the last half the Comrades won by a score of 31 to 24. Jack Plummer was high point man for Kendrick with 10 points, and Karl Emery second with 7 points.

GRAIN MARKET FIRMER

LIGHT OFFERINGS CAUSE

Pacific Coast markets were relatively firmer than Eastern markets, although export demand was lacking and mill inquiry was confined mostly to high protein milling types. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river markets were relatively light and consisted mostly of deliveries of wheat to marketing agencies on previous sales to China. Domestic mills at Portland lowered flour prices 10c per barrel during the week but trading remained of small volume with the larger buyers apparently well supplied for present needs. No export sales of either wheat or flour were reported, since prevailing prices were well above an export basis. Big Bend bluestem No. 1 hard white was quoted Dec. 18 at Portland at 80 1/2c and other varieties at 65c per bushel, sacked. No. 2 Manitoba was quoted at Vancouver in terms of U. S. currency at 54c per bushel. Vancouver shipments for the season to date, according to trade estimates, totaled 16,586,000 bushels, compared with 23,983,000 bushels exported during the corresponding period last year. California wheat markets were steady to somewhat higher, reflecting higher quotations on wheat from outside markets. Prices on local wheat were about unchanged, with No. 1 hard white quoted at San Francisco at $1.45 and No. 1 soft white at $1.32 to $1.35 per 100, sacked. Domestic cash wheat markets were strengthened with futures, influenced also by light offerings. Primary receipts for the week totaled only 3,479,000 bushels. Revised official estimates increased the domestic winter wheat crop to 784,465,000 bushels, but reduced the durum crop to 18,395,000 bushels and other spring wheat to 86,411,000 bushels, making a total crop of 892,271,000 bushels, compared with a revised figure of 858,160,000 bushels for the 1930 crop. Adding the carry-over, gives a total wheat supply this season of 1,190,985,000 bushels, or about 51,000,000 bushels over last year's supply. This season's crop however, appears to be passing into consuming channels less rapidly than usual, since exports of wheat and flour this season are about 13,000,000 bushels below those of the corresponding season last year, and millings of the first four months of the current crop year are about 11,500,000 bushels smaller than last season. Market stocks are remaining unusually large, totaling approximately 228,000,000 bushels, at the middle of December. This compared with about 200,000,000 bushels in store a year ago. Prices in domestic markets were advanced 2c to 4c per bushel on the principal classes of wheat. At the close of the market Dec. 18, ordinary protein No. 2 hard winter was quoted at Kansas City at 50 1/2c to 52c.

for ANY BABY

Castoria
We can never be sure, just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy is always the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't you should call a physician.

Peasant Farming Doomed
Complete elimination of the individual peasant farmer and adoubling of Russia's crop bearing area are contemplated by the second five-year plan which will become effective in 1933.
A preliminary draft of the agricultural phase of the new program provides for complete collectivization of the land with 75 per cent in collective farms and the remainder in state farms.
Less than two-thirds of the area under cultivation this year was tilted by the collective and state farms.

WOMEN: watch your BOWELS

What should women do to keep their bowels moving freely? A doctor should know the answer. That is why pure Syrup Pepsin is so good for women. It just suits their delicate organism. It is the prescription of an old family doctor who has treated thousands of women patients, and who made a special study of bowel troubles.
It is fine for children, too. They love its taste. Let them have it every time their tongues are coated or their skin is sallow. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is made from fresh, laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.
When you've a sick headache, can't eat, are bilious or sluggish; and at the times when you are most apt to be constipated, take a little of this famous prescription (all drug stores keep it ready in big bottles), and you'll know why Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite laxative of over a million women!

 Has New Bulldozer
 We have often heard of "bulldozers" of various kinds, but Ben Cummings has a brand new one that he uses on the front of the highway tractor for clearing the road of snow, rocks, or what have you—and he says he designed it himself. It was manufactured by Frank Crocker, who also "knows his stuff." It's a good rig and Ben knows how to use it.

Little Girl Slain
 It doesn't seem possible that there is a human being so low as to take the life of a six-year-old child, yet the body of little Marion McLean of Cincinnati was found in the basement of a tenement house that was deserted. The little face was tear-stained, but the fiend had ignored the pleas of the little one for her life. This is almost a parallel case with that of the Parker girl at Los Angeles only a few years ago. The worst possible fate would be too mild for such a fiend.

BEWARE

Smooth-worn tires skid on winter roads

Don't wait for accidents—get new rubber on every wheel now. New tires mean safety—you need them more right now than at any time in the year. It's a fact, good tires show almost no wear in cold wet weather—they'll still be "new" next spring. * * * * *
