STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

A favorite indoor sport of long standing among American citizens is that enticing game commonly known as "tax evasion." This practice is one of the reasons for the size of present tax bills. Evaded taxes, instead of reducing governmental income, simply revert to some form of property unable to escape the penalty. In other words, tax evasions by some persons mean tax additions for others.

Tax evasion has never come to be regarded as an essentially criminal practice. Popular opinion seems to hold that it is all right if you can get away with it. In fact, successful tax evasion is regarded as something of a feat, indicating wisdom and shrewdness. Also, the officials are very lenient in punishment and penalties. In view of these circumstances, it is not strange that the government suffers, or rather, to be more exact, those persons who, either because of the type of property they own or because of lack of ingenuity to evade tax payments, suffer.

A Prevalent Practice

There is a certain amount of atoning amusement in the fact that frequently the men who condone and congratulate a successful tax-evader are the persons who in the final analysis pay the taxes he evades. If this were more clearly realized, tax evasion would doubtless become a less popular diversion.

The practice has been prevalent for many years, not only in Idaho but throughout the nation. An enlightening and entertaining bit of information in this regard is contained in the 1893 report of Silas Moody, Idaho's first state auditor. At that time the poll tax was one of the principal sources of governmental revenue, and the law carried a proviso exempting, among others, all members of volunteer fire companies. Large fire company rosters were noticeably apparent.

Regarding this, Moody wrote: "It is within my knowledge that many members secure the placing of their names on company rolls for the purpose of securing exemptions from poll tax and jury duty, and they, as a rule, seldom, if ever, perform duties connected with the fire department." Such was a method used by early tax evaders.

Gas Tax Evasions

Perhaps the most striking examples of tax evasion at present have to do with the gasoline tax. Numerous ruses are used to evade this tax. Gasoline is "boot-legged" into the state, fuel sold for agriculture purposes and therefore tax free is surreptitiously burned in automobiles, and "export gas" is not exported but is used in Idaho.

Regular interstate tank car drivers are reported to have a unique method of evading the gas tax. Before crossing state lines, they fill their tanks with "export gas", tax free since it is to be immediately transported from the state in which it was sold. This gas is burned on the highways of neighboring commonwealths and neither state receives a tax.

One law that caused Idaho auditors considerable grief was the inheritance tax, passed in 1907, a measure full of legal loopholes. Numerous references to its ineffectuality are made in the various auditors' reports. The law was amended by a recent legislature.

Assessors Human

Another class of taxes difficult to collect is that on migratory livestock, which is assessed by each county in proportion to the amount of time spent in that respective county. Assessors sometimes find, when they check up, that certain bands were for tax purposes—in existence for only six months of the year.

The dog tax, imposed by municipalities, is one frequently evaded. Old numbers are sometimes repainted in an effort to evade paying automobile license fees. Low-priced license plates for small cars are sometimes used on heavy machines.

Also, it must be remembered that tax assessors are necessarily human, subject to human limitations and more or less subconsciously influenced by individual circumstances and personalities, a condition that is unquestionably reflected in tax rolls and collections.

Much intangible property escapes taxation because its very nature makes it difficult to find and assess. This class of holdings has increased many fold during the past quarter of a century. Tangible property, on the other hand, is easy to find and bears the brunt of the tax burden.

Road Still Closed

The road between Kendrick and Arrow Junction is still closed, and closed with a vengeance, there being about three miles of impassable roads between the reservation border and Arrow, further, the load limit has been reduced to 200 pounds per inch of tire width, vehicle and load inclusive, which behooves all truck owners to watch their step when they have a load of any kind, likewise with a car, to which the same applies. The speed limit is also being enforced.

The safest thing is to do your trading at home and let time take care of the roads.

Saturday Good Trading Day

The merchants of Kendrick say that Saturday was a splendid day for them; that many farmers came to town to do their trading and stayed a while in town. One business man remarked that his business Saturday reminded him very much of 1929—when there really was some business. Here's hoping things keep right on picking up and that the farmers will not forget that they can buy their needs in Kendrick just as cheaply as elsewhere.

The Kendrick merchants make it possible for Kendrick to be here, where you can buy your needs without having to go many miles for them.

Mrs. Jessie Callison Married

A. F. & A. M. AND O. E. S. HOLD WASHINGTON PARTY

Last Thursday evening, February 25, the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges gave a delightful Washington party, when they held open house, inviting all to come and spend the evening with them.

The program given was as follows:

Song—"America," and flag salute by the Audience.

Minuet by four little girls—Lida Jane Carroll, Paula McKeever, Viola McCoy and Marie Sloan.

Vocal solo by Miss Taylor of Juliaetta.

Violin solo by Miss Nina Newman, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Roy H. Ramey.

Song—"Star Spangled Banner" by the Audience.

Following this two old square dances were given, C. A. Oppenborn calling the first and A. E. Wilcoxon of Juliaetta the second.

All adjourned to supper and after the bounteous repast, returned to the dance floor and danced until midnight.

The music for the dancing was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and A. K. and Bud Carlson and everyone said: "Why bring in an orchestra for a dance when we have as good a one as this right here at home?"

Truly, it was a delightful evening and all who did not avail themselves of the opportunity to attend missed one of the best evenings of their lives.

Death of Jacob Michael

Jacob Michael was born in Jasper County, Missouri, December 31, 1854 and passed away near Linden, Idaho, February 29, 1932, at the age of 78 years, one month and twenty-nine days.

Mr. Michaels had always lived alone until about three months ago when his health began to fail rapidly. He was then taken to the home of Joe Perry, who gave him the best of care until the end came.

Mr. Michaels was one of the early pioneers, having come here with his mother and brothers in 1891 and homesteaded in the Crescent neighborhood. He is survived by two brothers, Jesse and John, both of Crescent.

Death was due to old age and complications.

Services were held in the Gold Hill church, Rev. B. W. Pressnell of Southwick officiating.

He was laid to rest in the family lot in the Gold Hill cemetery.

Shipped Car of Beans

The Kendrick Bean Growers association on Tuesday shipped a car of white beans to Tacoma, the car containing 600 bags. Two hundred bags were also shipped to Portland and Pendleton during the past few days.

While the shipments are not heavy, nor the price high, Ira Havens, manager of the association, says they are receiving many inquiries, which shows that outside buyers know the association is in existence and the demand with undoubtedly be greater later on.

Entertained at "Bunco" Party

The members of the Rebekah lodge entertained the brother Odd Fellows at a Bunco party Tuesday evening. High score went to Mrs. Frank Curtis and C. A. Oppenborn.

Refreshments were served by the committee in charge of the evening's entertainment.

MARKETS WEAKENED BY HEAVY RECEIPTS

Domestic wheat markets declined slightly during the week ending February 2, under the influence of heavy receipts, mostly shipped prior to the advance in freight rates February 20, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. An improved European demand however, as a result of diminishing supplies of native wheat and some relaxation in milling restrictions, gave the market a steady undertone. Feed grain markets continued dull. Corn and oats declined 1/2c per bushel under very limited demand, but barley held about unchanged. Rye remained featureless and closed practically the same as a week ago. Flax was steady with receipts very light.

Domestic cash wheat markets declined 1 to 3c per bushel, largely as a result of the sharp increase in receipts, reflecting the heavy shipments prior to the increase in freight rates February 20. Receipts for the week at the principal Central Western markets were the heaviest since August and totaled 5,583 cars. Receipts at Kansas City alone totaled 2,527 cars. The protein of the cars tested averaged 11.67 per cent. A large proportion of the arrivals at Kansas City was applied in previous sales or was shipped in for storage, so that cash offerings were not burdensome. Mill demand slackened however, since most mills had replenished stocks prior to the advance in freight rates. Elevator interests were active buyers and elevator stocks increased sharply and totaled 35,000,000 bushels at the close of the week. Prices declined 1c to 3c per bushel, with about half of the reduction accounted for in the higher freight rates. No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted Feb. 26 at 52c to 53c.

Mills and elevators were active buyers of high protein wheat at Omaha, where a car of sample grade dark hard winter with high protein sold at 70c per bushel during the week, or the highest price paid at that market this season. A good milling demand was reported at Fort Worth where No. 2 hard winter, ordinary protein, was quoted at 61c to 62c, delivered Group 3 or Galveston rate points. Some new export business was reported during the week with exporters bidding 62c for No. 1 hard delivered Galveston.

Increased offerings were also a weakening influence in the market for soft winter wheat and prices declined 1c to 2c per bushel. No. 2 red was quoted Feb. 26 at Kansas City at 52c to 53c and at St. Louis at 58c per bushel. Mills were rather slow buyers in the latter markets and elevator storage space was nearly filled.

The loading of barges during the coming week, however, was expected to provide additional space for both wheat and corn at that market. Receipts at Cincinnati were the largest for some time but consisted principally of wheat shipped from other terminals to local elevators. Milling inquiry was only fair because of the slow demand for flour.

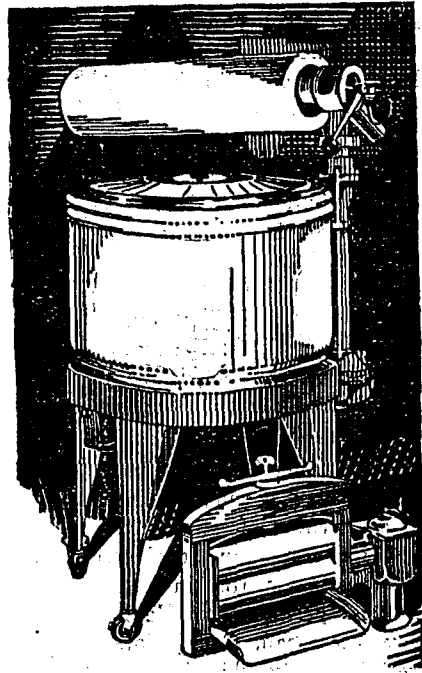

Spring wheat markets did not share in the increased movement and receipts remained comparatively light, with only 418 cars received at Minneapolis and 43 cars at Duluth.

Pacific Coast markets held fairly steady, although receipts at Northwestern points were heavy and export demand was lacking. Arrivals at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 1,003 cars for the week, compared with 433 cars during the corresponding week last year. The increased arrivals were the result of the heavy shipments prior to the increase in freight rates. With Australian, Canadian and Argentine wheat being offered at several cents per bushel below domestic grain in foreign markets, no export business in either wheat or flour was affected, but a steady although limited demand prevailed from domestic mills. Premiums on milling grades have been gradually lowered from about 15c above prices of soft white wheat at the first of February to 10c at the close of the current week. At the close of the market on February 26 Big Bend Bluestem or early Baart hard white was quoted at Portland at 72c to 72 1/2c, soft and western white at 61c to 62c and hard winter, northern spring and western red at 60c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1 wheat. Western white wheat was quoted at Seattle at 62c, western red and hard winter at 60c and bluestem hard white at 72c, sacked, basis No. 1. No. 1 dark northern spring from Montana, with 16 per cent protein was quoted

OVERALL CLUB ORGANIZED BY KENDRICK BUSINESSMEN

Perhaps preparatory to spring work—or mayhap for lack of anything else to do—Roy Ramey and Jack Carroll are the instigators and "incorporators" of the "Overall Club" among the business men of the town. This is, in a way, a very laudable "enterprise" in that it has made the sale of some 19 pairs of overalls possible, thereby aiding in local buying—we don't know of anyone who sent "out" for theirs. Marvin Long acted as "tailor" for the bunch, and while his yardstick may have slipped while taking the measure of some of the members, all seemed to have gotten the worth of their money in the purchase, for some of the victims have a trousers "cuff" of at least a foot. Marvin says he always did believe in giving good measure—and has proven it in several cases while fitting the members of the club out with uniforms.

Roy Ramey is the Chief Mogul, Kingfish, Grand Sachem, or sumpin', of the order and delivered to this office a copy of the "scroll" upon which is written the dictum, as follows:

Know all men by these presents, that we, the undersigned, do hereby form an association, known as the "Overall Club" of Kendrick, Idaho, said Association to last for a period of 30 days, beginning March 1st, 1932, and expiring on March 31, 1932, unless by mutual consent and agreement, the life of such association may be extended by a vote of two-thirds of the members, extending such time as they may see fit to determine. We accept and swear allegiance to:

First—Wear overalls during each work day in performing our daily tasks.

Second—The purpose of this association is to enable its members to give more efficient work, enjoy life and show loyalty to our town.

Third—Our duties shall be the performing of our daily tasks as well as enabling us to save time by allowing more time to be spent in cleaning our premises, gardening and beautifying them, by removing all rubbish and unsightly objects located thereon.

In Witness Whereof—We have set our hand and seal this 29th day of February, 1932, and by accepting such allegiance will accept any penalty imposed upon me by said members by my failure to keep my promise.

Signed—Geo. Leith, Frank H. Rider, Ira Bolon, F. M. Long, Esq., A. K. Carlson, I. Morgan, Frank Curtis, E. A. Deobald, C. H. Daugherty, W. J. Carroll, R. H. Ramey, H. B. Thompson, E. H. Emery, N. E. Walker, Silvie Cook, M. O. Raby, Harold Thomas, Wm. Watts (who has nothing else to wear) Bill McCreary and B. B. Brigham.

Bill Watts and Harold Thomas take exception to the statement that Roy Ramey and Jack Carroll were the instigators of the idea of wearing uniforms for everyday work. Bill claims to have been wearing this particular uniform for many years (that is, the same pattern), because he had nothing else to wear. Harold Thomas likewise is indignant at Ramey and Carroll for trying to "swipe" all the glory when he, too, has been a wearer of this uniform for many years for the same reason laid down by Watts.

It would seem that here is a chance for an argument and we sincerely hope it will be threshed out at the next meeting of the club and the glory duly placed where it belongs.

Results of Cake Contest

At the cake contest held at the Ellis store for the benefit of the high school student body, the first prize of $2.00 cash went to Nona McAllister, who entered a Lady Baltimore cake. The second prize, a package of cake flour, went to the Ramey girls, who entered an orange cream cake. The cakes were judged according to texture, baking, frosting, flavor, general appearance, etc. Mrs. Jake Berreman, Mrs. C. A. Oppenborn and Mrs. Frank Crocker acted as judges.

At 7:00 o'clock Saturday evening the cakes were auctioned off. Not as many cakes as were expected were submitted, and the size of the receipts disappointingly small. It is rather remarkable that high school girls could win the prizes from experienced cooks. Perhaps this reflects some glory on the school's Home Economics class.

Kendrick Defeats Southwick

In a fast-running game last Wednesday evening the Kendrick boys squad defeated the Southwick five. At the beginning of the game the home boys got the lead and continued to hold it throughout the game. When the final whistle blew the score stood 21 to 36. Long and Emery tied for high point tossers from Kendrick and Triplett and Ziemann made high score for Southwick.

Cosmos Club Serves

After the basketball game Wednesday evening, February 24, the Cosmos club girls served both the Southwick and Kendrick basketball teams with refreshments of sherbet, cookies and coffee. The lunch was furnished by the boys' service club and the junior high school team.

Kendrick and Culesac Tangle

Last Friday evening the high school basketball team journeyed to Culesac, where they were defeated by a score of 25 to 11. Losing this game cost them their chance to attend the tournament, which will be held at Lewiston some time this month.

Short News Notes

Last week the Senior class ordered their play, which will be presented soon after the Junior play. The Juniors are working hard on their play—"The Blossoming of Mary Anne."
The Troy Junior High School boys

and the seventh and eighth grade girls intend to tangle with the Kendrick Junior high school and seventh and eighth grade soon.

Work on the Glee Club operetta is progressing swiftly. Now that the basketball season is over the students are turning their efforts to trying to gain a place on the commercial teams. We have a good chance of winning the contest again this year, and consider ourselves fortunate in having Mrs. Jarvis for our coach.

The dancing club did not meet this week. The high school students underwent the painful process of taking the six weeks' quizzes. They are rejoicing however, that they will only have to repeat this procedure twice more this year.

Jokes

Miss Deagen: Why, are they stiff?
Ruby: No—but I am.
Jo. Davis: Sakes alive! I don't believe any woman could be so fat.
Maxine Keene: What are you reading now, Jo?
Jo: Why this paper tells of an Englishwoman who lost two thousand pounds.

Tournament Sketches

A high school with 33 pupils enrolled, 17 of them freshman, produced a team that finished second place in the Valley conference this year. That team is Southwick, coached by Ben P. Cook, graduate of the Lewiston Normal, which secured entry in the district basket ball competition, when he took over his duties four years ago.

The majority of the season the high school boys have had to work out against graduates as there were not enough boys turning out for a second team. The gymnasium, built five years ago has seen the Southwick lads grow steadily in athletic prowess until this year the team reached a peak in turning back both Kendrick and Genesee, who were making strong bids for the runner-up position to Lapwai.

While our boys may not burn up the maple in the district tournament starting Wednesday night, they will have players of power who will merit consideration on any tournament team.

—for instance: there is Frank Triplett, playing his third year of basket ball with a total season's score to his credit of 221; Warner Ziemann, guard, has made 159 points in the 8 games; Rollin Armitage with a score of 57; Kenneth Hoduffer, center, who has scored 43 points and Stewart Smith, guard, who has made 59 points.

Verl McCoy is the first sub selected and grades will determine which two of George Kent, James Cuddy, John Cuddy and Earle Kime, will be represented on the squad.

Potlatch Running Much Water

Potlatch creek is running at a high level these days, but as yet no danger of a flood such as we had last year will be repeated. While there is much more snow on the level and in the hills, yet it is thought that the water will keep cool enough to hold back the flood. It is a month earlier this year than the flood occurred last year, but it is always a good idea to be prepared for any emergency. Many people in the lower end of town were sitting on "the anxious seat" Saturday night and Sunday, fearing that the flood waters might reach their homes.

Will Give Play

The Young People's society will give an interesting and instructive play in the church Sunday evening at 7:30.

Everybody is urged to attend and enjoy their service and to assist them in sending delegates to a district institute to be held at Moscow March 12 and 13, at which noted instructors will speak, which will mean much to ward character building to our young folks who can attend.
