STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

In 1907 the state legislature decided that Idaho should have a Board of Health, the purpose of which, presumably, was to look after the physical welfare of the growing population. For the succeeding biennium expenses of this board the sum of $5,000 was appropriated, sufficient to pay the salary of the secretary and a few incidentals that were expected.

The duties of the board, as set forth in the act creating it, included general supervision of all matters pertaining to health and life; keeping vital statistics and health records, making sanitary investigations and probes, and regulating heating and ventilation in public buildings.

From that year on we find that this matter of public health and welfare has been holding the increasing attention of the succeeding legislatures and as a result of which the board has had a rather remarkable growth and development.

Appropriations Increase

In 1909, two years after the creation of the board, it was found expedient to increase its biennial appropriation to $15,000. The 1911 appropriation was $25,100. A reduction in 1913 of slightly more than $7,000 would indicate that the board had reached the limit of its financial needs and the 1915 and 1917 appropriations of $11,720 and $23,655 respectively, strengthened that presumption.

However, by pursuing the records farther, we find that except for this slight lapse the bureau has run true to governmental form. Its expense requirements for the current biennium amount to $109,060. In other words, the cost to tax payers for public health service has been multiplied 21 times in the past 24 years, which seems to be a significant comment on how the burden of governmental expenses has increased.

Expenses Itemized

The 1931 appropriation for the department of public health, successor to the old board of public health, was apportioned as follows: administration (salaries, wages and expenses for regular employees), $66,160; venereal disease control, $5,500; board of eugenics, $5,500; child hygiene, $1,400; vaccines and anti-toxines, $2,500; and tuberculosis treatment, $25,000.

The records reveal, however, that the various legislatures have added to the duties of the department of public health as well as increased its appropriations. There is no question but that there is little resemblance between the board which spent $5,000 in 1907 and the extensive department that spends more than $11,000 at present.

Many Duties

Let us look into some of the department's activities. Under it are: The public health advisor; the bureau of vital statistics; bureau of child hygiene, the state bacteriologist, the state chemist, the division of sanitary engineering, the division of food control and sanitary inspection, the division of venereal disease control and the state board of eugenics. In addition the department has supervision over the two insane asylums, the state school and colony, the soldiers' home and the Lava Hot Springs establishment.

During the biennium of 1929-1930, a total of 7440 inspections of stores, cafes, bakeries, markets, hotels, barber shops, beauty parlors, confectionaries, pool halls, dairies, creameries, schools, jails, resorts and tourist camps were made by food and sanitary inspectors in the interest of public health. In the same biennium the state chemist made and reported on 3704 analysis of samples of 28 different substances. The state bacteriologist made 43,768 examinations.

Heavy Responsibility

From the foregoing it becomes apparent that a heavy burden of responsibility for public health has evolved upon the department of public health; and also that our citizens, collectively and individually, have come to be more and more dependent upon its various functions and the services it performs. None but the most radical would advocate the abolition of the sanitary and food inspections, or criticize the department's practice of assuming the leadership in control and eradication of infectious and contagious diseases—yet, these things all cost money and are, in their respective proportions, responsible for the increase in the expense of government.

Remodeling Office

The Farmers' Union Warehouse Company has just finished remodeling their office and it indeed presents a very neat appearance.

The whole was lined with Celotex and then tinted and painted, the walls and ceiling a cream color and the baseboards and trim a light grey. The new improvements will make it cooler in summer and warmer in winter, besides adding materially to the appearance.

Teachers Departed for Homes

Mary Grace Brackett, intermediate teacher, goes to her home in Rubens. Agnes Eckermann, Junior high, will spend the first part of the summer in Cottonwood.

The Thunder Roared

Ominous thunderings are heard in the distance from our own Bill Borah, who threatens to start another party if our Uncle Samuel don't take his advice about a great many things. It would seem that Bill fails to remember the fate of every "third party" that has ever started. Bill seems to say: "Gimme what I want or I'll drop this bomb."

JOSEPH THORNTON DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

Joseph Thornton, aged 65, pioneer of Nez Perce county and for about 40 years prominently identified with the farming industry of the Southwick and Potlatch ridge sections, died of heart disease at his home on the outskirts of Juliaetta Tuesday morning. He apparently had been in good health.

Mr. Thornton was born in Calaway county, Missouri, February 24, 1867. He came west in 1884, settling in Asotin county, Wash., moving to Latah county in 1885.

In 1890 he was united in marriage with Miss Cora Della Ellis. To this union eight children were born, all of whom survive him with the exception of two, who died in infancy.

Mr. Thornton moved from Latah county to Nez Perce county and homesteaded on the Big Potlatch in 1898, making this his home until a year ago, when he moved to his place between Juliaetta and Kendrick, where he resided until his death, at the age of 65 years, two months and 29 days.

Those left to mourn their loss are his wife, and six children: Henry and Lawrence Thornton, both of Ashwood, Oregon; Mrs. Bertha Fry of Deary; Mrs. Opal Southwick, of Southwick; Mrs. Nellie Danforth of Missoula, Montana; Jay Thornton of Leland. Also two brothers, William Thornton of Spokane, Wash., and Albert Thornton of Leland. There were 18 grandchildren.

He was a faithful member of the Odd Fellows lodge for 30 years.

The funeral was held at Leland Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Nabors and interment was made in the Leland cemetery.

The pallbearers were John Stalnaker, Roy Southwick, Chas. Johnson, Chas. Larson, Jeff Buckles and Milton Woodward.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our many neighbors for their kindness in our bereavement and sorrow at the loss of our dear husband and father.

Mrs. Cora Thornton and Children, W. H. Thornton, Albert Thornton.

STATE LIFTS BAN ON NEZ PERCE CHERRIES

The following, taken from Sunday's Lewiston Tribune, will undoubtedly be good news to the cherry growers of Juliaetta as well as those at Lewiston: Announcement was made Saturday by state authorities that Nez Perce county has been released from the quarantine on the cherry fruit fly, imposed in 1927. The following statement was received, signed by F. Lee Johnson, commissioner of agriculture, Gov. C. Bea Ross and Fred E. Lukens, secretary of state:

"After making a thorough investigation of the cherry industry of Nez Perce county and records pertaining thereto, the fact has been determined by the commissioner of agriculture that an insect, a species of trypetidae, known as the cherry fruit fly, has never been present in this county. Therefore Nez Perce county is hereby released from quarantine order No. 4."

The order was forwarded by W. H. Wicks, acting director of the bureau of plant industry, to a group of cherry growers who had conferences recently with Mr. Johnson, Mr. Wicks and Governor Ross when they visited Lewiston, and urged them to take such action, in view of the fact that the quarantine should never have been placed in Nez Perce county.

A preliminary investigation of the situation was made here early this month by Director Wicks, who reported as follows:

"Upon making a thorough investigation of the cherry industry of Nez Perce county, Idaho, we find no cherry fruit fly has ever been present in that county."

"Professor Claude Wakeland, entomologist, University of Idaho, the writer, many growers, shippers and the inspector, Mr. Dick Ryalls, who has inspected the cherry crop for the past ten years, conducted the survey and study of the records and have arrived at the conclusion that the quarantine, issued August 4, 1927, was a mistake on the part of officials at that time."

The removal of the quarantine releases the Nez Perce cherry industry from a restriction that might at any time have had disastrous results in outside markets.

Improving Property

H. B. Thompson has joined the ranks of those who have improved their property this spring by having a new coat of paint put on his bungalow. A few gallons of paint, properly placed, adds many dollars to any property and improves the looks 100 per cent—which is a big gain.

Just A Warning

Bobby Clark, aged 11 years, died at Seattle Sunday from lockjaw, caused by a powder burn when he fired a toy pistol.

Those little things are harmless to look at, but sometimes extremely dangerous. Many youngsters have lost their lives from powder-burns caused by one of those innocent-looking toys. Better be safe than sorry. The Fourth of July is not far distant.

FEW UPSETS RECORDED IN TUESDAY'S PRIMARY

There were very few upsets in the primary election of Tuesday in Latah county, the entire election, so far as the republicans were concerned, at least, went about as was scheduled and practically all the "old guard" will be returned to their present offices, unless it should be perchance, a democratic upset, as some predict at the November election—which is hardly probable in Latah county.

John L. Woody was nominated as commissioner in this district, defeating Geo. C. Hoidal, present commissioner.

In case democrats are put into Latah county offices, it will have to be done by republican votes—just the same as Governor Ross was elected two years ago.

Following is the vote for Kendrick precinct and the total county vote, with the exception of Cora precinct, which had not yet been heard from at the time of going to press:

WHEAT MARKETS FIRMER—WITH FEED GRAIN STEADY

Domestic wheat markets strengthened slightly during the week ending May 20, influenced by further deterioration in winter wheat, firmer foreign markets and lighter offerings of cash grain, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Rye was slightly higher, with wheat, while feed grains were mostly steady as a result of a fairly active shipping demand and relatively light receipts. Flax remained independently weak and prices continued their downward trend.

Pacific Coast markets did not follow the advance of eastern markets because of the dull local demand and lack of export inquiry for wheat and flour. Futures prices at Portland on May 20 were only 1/4c higher, while cash prices showed an advance of only 1/2c for the week. The market movement continued light with but 336 cars received at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals, compared with 1,173 cars for the corresponding week last year. Terminal stocks are comparatively small, with the bulk of the remaining northwestern wheat still in storage in country warehouses held by producers who have shown no inclination to sell at current market prices. No export business of either wheat or flour was reported during the week, but current prices were above an export basis. Inquiry from California was not active, because of the improved crop prospects in that state. Demand from local mills was of only fair volume because of the slow domestic flour demand. At the close of the market May 20, Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 72c to 73, soft and western white at 62c to 63c; hard winter, northern spring and western red at 61c to 62c, sacked, basis No. 1. Western red, western white and hard winter were quoted at Seattle at 63 1/2c, and No. 1 bluestem or Baart hard white at 75c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted at Vancouver at 64c and No. 3 Manitoba northern at 59c, which is equivalent in U. S. currency to 56 1/2c and 51 1/2c, respectively.

California wheat markets were somewhat unsettled but trading was of small volume. Generally favorable prospects for the new winter wheat crop, harvesting of which has already begun in the Imperial valley, and is expected to start about June 1 in the early districts of the San Joaquin valley, caused buyers to confine their purchases to immediate requirements. Demand for milling grades was of only moderate volume, while inquiry for feed wheat was very dull. Low prices of feed barley have increased the use of that grain by feeders and materially reduced the feeding of wheat. Prices of local wheat declined 2 1/2c to 5c per 100 at San Francisco during the week, but held steady at Los Angeles. No. 1 hard white wheat was quoted at San Francisco May 20 at $1.22 to $1.25 and No. 1 soft white at $1.15 to $1.20 per 100. New crop wheat from the Imperial valley was quoted at Los Angeles at $1.17 to $1.22 per 100. No. 2 soft soft and western white sacked, was selling at $1.30 to $1.32 and No. 2 hard winter in bulk, ordinary protein, at $1.25 per 100. No. 2 soft white wheat, 10 per cent protein, from Washington and Oregon, was quoted at San Francisco at $1.30 and No. 1 hard white, with 13 per cent protein, at $1.40 to $1.43 per 100 in sacks. A few cars of Idaho-Utah wheat was quoted in bulk at $1.45 per 100, delivered San Francisco for No. 2 hard winter, 14 per cent protein.

New crop prospects remained the dominant factor in the wheat market situation and reports of further deterioration in the U. S. winter wheat crop, particularly in Kansas and Nebraska, were the strengthening influence in domestic markets. The crop suffered severely from dry weather during the week in Texas, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. Damage from Hessian fly infestation was reported in Texas and Kansas. Trade estimates now place the Kansas crop at only 70,000,000 to 80,000,000 bushels and the Colorado crop at 4,000,000 bushels. Spring wheat, on the other hand, made excellent progress both in the U. S. and Canada. Seeding is now practically completed in Canada, with moisture ample for germination. Winter wheat in Europe made exceptionally favorable progress

The rooms of the Herres bungalow were beautifully decorated with large bouquets of wild flowers, which presented a very pleasing sight. The ladies reported a wonderful day.

After the games had been finished it was found that Mrs. Wade Keene had made high score and Mrs. H. B. Thompson second high. Following the awarding of prizes Mrs. Herres, assisted by her daughter, Miss Eleanor, served sherbet and wafers, the ladies leaving for home about 5:30 in the evening.

Kendrick Team Playing Pall

The Kendrick ball team, under the management of Geo. P. Barnum, met the Southwick players at Juliaetta last Sunday (courtesy of Manager Jack Heacox) and proceeded to play ball as they had not played before this season, seeking revenge from the Southwickers for the recent drubbing they had received at their hands, the score ending 9-4 in Kendrick's favor.

The battery for Kendrick was Dammarell, Blevins and Davis. For Southwick, Triplett and Brammer. Travis and Bolon were umpires.

The Kendrick tossers will go to Lewiston Orchards on Sunday, May 29, where they will meet the Apple Pickers on their own grounds.

Mr. Barnum says the local team has improved 200 per cent and that they hope to give a very good account of themselves before the season is over.

Experimenting With New Crops

Several farmers on Big Bear and Potlatch ridges are this year experimenting in new crops—chick peas and lentil. There have thus far been planted about 20 acres of the peas and 70 acres of lentil. The former is said to yield an average of about 1200 to 1500 pounds per acre and the latter from 1000 to 1400 pounds per acre.

The seed for these trial crops is being furnished by a Moscow seed company and they have contracted to pay 3c a pound for the peas and 2½c a pound for the lentil.

Both the peas and lentil are used practically the same as ordinary garden peas and beans—for baking, soup, and table use.

Further information regarding the above may be obtained from the Kendrick Rochdale company.

Odd Fellows To Troy

A delegation of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs went to Troy Monday to attend a district convention of that order and a very pleasant time was reported. Dinner was served at 6:30 in the basement of the Methodist church to more than 160 people.

Those going from Kendrick were Mesdames R. H. Ramey, B. F. Nesbit, E. H. Emery, Edgar Long and Lester Hill, who went over on the morning train. They were followed in the evening by R. H. Ramey, N. E. Walker, B. B. Brigham, E. H. Emery, B. F. Nesbit, L. B. Hill, Ed. Long and Joe Davis.

Tuesday Busy Day

Tuesday was quite a busy day here with quite a few coming to town to vote, besides the townspeople. Quite a large vote was cast, but as usual not equalling the registrations.

When in Kendrick, stop at the new Raby Hotel—newly finished; clean beds, and good things to eat.

INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF OLD OREGON TRAIL

One of the most interesting accounts of the long and tedious journey from the East to the Northwest in the early days was that left by General Joel Palmer, young Indiana statesman who made the trip in 1845, keeping a careful record of the events and writing down good advice for the adventurous spirits who were to follow him over the trail of the covered wagon. In an interesting story of Palmer and his adventures in the current issue of the National Republic Franklin F. Korell writes:

"As we skim over smooth concrete highways or negotiate the journey to the Pacific in a comfortable Pullman, it is difficult to realize that less than a century ago the western half of the country was an almost unbroken wilderness and that the change has come about not by some upheaval, but slowly and painfully by the forward march of heroes who are now half forgotten. Yet many of these pioneers who took the trail to the West, unmentioned though they may be in the annals of history, have left their mark on the country, and left behind them, too, records of their exploits.

"Among those half forgotten men who have left behind an interesting record of their adventures is Gen. Joel Palmer, whose journal of his early western travels is almost unknown to the present generation of Americans.

"Palmer, like many of the pioneers of the Northwest, was born in Canada, the year of his birth being 1810, although his parents had gone to the Dominion from the state of New York. While he was still young the future pioneer's parents moved to the then western state of Indiana, locating in the hamlet of Laurel, in Franklin County, not far from Cincinnati.

"The future adventurer's first step before the public was political. He was well thought of by his neighbors and friends and when he was thirty-four years of age they elected him to the state legislature. But Palmer came of a pioneering family and he determined, before settling down to a life of Hoosier politics to take a trip to the Oregon country. Consequently, early in the year 1845 he traveled by easy stages to the Missouri frontier, where he joined a body of emigrants and helped in the organization of one of the important caravans of 1845. The wagon train moved forward to Fort Laramie, thence to Fort Bridger and Fort Hall by way of Soda Springs. The next stop was Fort Boise, then the main caravan went down the Umatilla and Columbia, finally arriving at the Dalles in September.

"Palmer spent the winter of 1845 and 1846 examining the resources of the new country and so favorably impressed was he that in 1847 he took his family to the new country in what was called at the time 'Palmer's wagon train.'

"The next historic event in the new country was the deplorable Whitman massacre and in the organization of militia to punish the Indians. Palmer was chosen quartermaster and commissary general. From then on he was known as General Palmer.

Palmer next acted as a commissioner to visit the Indians of the region and treat with them and he was so successful that President Pierce in 1855 appointed him superintendent of Indians for the Oregon country. Soon afterward Indian warfare broke out in Southern Oregon and after the trouble was put down a reservation system was organized by Palmer and the Indians of the southern region were moved into the Grand Ronde reservation. Later Palmer had difficulty subduing the Indians east of the mountains, who were wilder than those of the south. He retired from the office of Indian commissioner when his office was merged with that of Washington territory, returning to his home in Dayton, a town which he had laid out in 1850."

The Case Was In Danger

A Georgia lawyer tells of a darkey charged with theft. His lawyer decided to put him on the stand in his own behalf. The magistrate, being doubtful if the darkey understood the nature of an oath, undertook to examine him on the point.

"Henry," he said, "you know what will happen to you if you tell a lie?"

"Yes, sah," said Henry, "I'll go to hell and burn a long time."

"Quite right," replied the judge. "And now what will happen if you tell the truth?"

"Yes, sah," said Henry. "We lose the case."

Dorothy—"Get, but that date last night was fresh."

Herman—"Why didn't you slap his face?"

Dorothy—"I did, and take my advice, never slap a guy when he's chewing tobacco."

How Old?

He doesn't look a day over fifty. And feels like forty. At the age of 62. That's the happy state of health and pep a man enjoys when he gives his vital organs a little stimulant!

When your system is stagnant and you feel sluggish, headache, half-alive—don't waste money on "tonics" or "regulators" or similar patent medicines. Stimulate the liver and bowels. Use a famous physician's prescription—every drug store keeps. Just ask them for Dr. Caldwell's syrup-epsin.

This appetizing syrup is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. One dose will clear up almost any case of headache, biliousness, constipation.

But if you want to keep in fine shape, feel fit the year 'round, take a spoonful of Dr. Caldwell's syrup-epsin every few days. You'll eat better, sleep better and feel better. You will never need another laxative.

Give the children a little of this delicious syrup two or three times a week. A gentle, natural stimulant that makes them eat and sleep the bowls from clogging. And saves them from so many sick spells and colics.

Have a sound stomach, active liver and strong bowel muscles that expel every bit of waste and poison every day! Just keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup-epsin on hand; take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. See if you don't feel new vigor in every day.

MORE THAN 4,000 SEED LOANS MADE IN IDAHO

Seed loans in Idaho under the national reconstruction finance corporation have amounted to approximately $796,500, reports E. J. Iddings, director of the University of Idaho college of agriculture extension division. Four thousand and forty-eight farmers received loans from this fund. The extension division assisted in designating the county committees which passed on the applications.

Loans were granted in every county in the state, ranging in numbers from one loan each in Valley and Shoshone counties to 551 in Twin Falls county. The 34 counties in the southern Idaho district, loans for which were handled through the Salt Lake office of the department of agriculture, administration agency for the seed loan fund, showed 3,711 loans for $657,650.73. The 10 northern counties, loans for which were handled through the Spokane office of the department of agriculture, reported 357 loans totalling $39,931.

There was a total of 24 loans made in Latah county, amounting to $2,370.

Why Not Extend a Good Thing

Why should Uncle Sam sell a commodity or service such as printing in competition with local, privately owned, tax-paying printing plants.

Why should 15,000 post offices be used as order takers for a service that is not an essential function of the Post Office Department or a necessary service in handling the mails?

The reason for raising these questions is that Uncle Sam offers to print return cards on stamped envelopes. With a "local dealer," or sales agency in the U. S. Post Office located in every center of population in the land Uncle Sam does a volume of printing business that enables him to offer customers a ridiculously low price. The orders for printed stamped envelopes total a billion and a half a year—over 4,000,000,000 for each of the 365 days in the year!

The purchasers of this service offered by Uncle Sam are not the "common people," some or whom address letters improperly and thereby contribute to the cost of maintaining the Dead Letter Office. Banks, retail merchants, professional men, manufacturers, the public schools, colleges, fraternal organizations—all dependent upon prosperous towns, home trade, local pay rolls, taxpayers able to pay their taxes—these constitute the customers who take advantage of Uncle Sam's bargain prices on printed envelopes.

If it's O. K. for Uncle Sam to sell printing why not extend a good thing and insist that he add to his line and thus serve a much larger number of post office patrons? Why not sell breakfast food, evaporated milk, butter, shoes, drugs, dry goods, clothing, et cetera, over the Post Office counter?

Unless Uncle Sam quits the printing business, printers should obtain signatures from post office patrons to a petition demanding that the Post Office Department sell not only printing—that accommodates only a very limited number of customers—but other products. Think of the saving in price that would be possible thru enormous volume and frequent turn-overs! And Uncle Sam is lucky; he doesn't have to pay taxes!!

From the Doctor's Dairy

On the way home from school, Tommy looked sad and worried.

"Dear me," exclaimed a sympathetic old lady, "what's troubling you, my little man?"

"Dyspepsia and rheumatism," replied Tommy.

"Oh, surely not," said the old lady "How can that be?"

"Teacher canned me 'cause I could not spell 'em," answered Tommy very dismally.

WHEAT MARKETS FIRMER— WITH FEED GRAIN STEADY

in most sections, but the crop is later than last season in several countries as a result of the late cold spring. Additional moisture is needed in Poland, Czechoslovakia and Spain. Russian seeding of spring wheat was only about one-half completed at May 10, with 32,536,000 acres reported seeded to that date.

Supplies of native wheat are reported low in the deficit areas of Europe and demand for foreign wheat has increased. Shipments from surplus areas of Europe however, have decreased, with only 168,000 bushels shipped from Black Sea ports during the week. Southern hemisphere offerings were less pressing, but shipments totaled 3,541,000 bushels from Argentina and 4,741,000 bushels from Australia. And smaller offerings of other areas turned European inquiry more to North American wheat and the week's sales were estimated at 2,000,000 bushels, of which about 300,000 bushels was winter wheat, sold from Gulf ports to Greece. At the close of the week, No. 1 hard winter for May shipment was offered at Liverpool at 61½¢, compared with 58½¢ for Argentine Rosafé. Samples of Argentine wheat recently received by the department tested 60 to 61½ pounds per bushel, according to U. S. standards and graded as high as No. 1 dark hard winter. Australian wheat sold at London during the week at 62¢ and No. 3 Manitoba from Van-cover at 62¢. Continental European markets were generally steady, with good milling native wheat at Hamburg at $1.82, French wheat at Paris at $1.80 and Italian wheat at Milan at $1.70. Italian durum wheat was quoted at Naples at $1.87 and African durum, C. I. F. Marseilles at $1.63. American durum, C. I. F. Marseilles was quoted at 74½¢ and at Naples at 70½¢. The American wheat, however, is subjected to an import duty.

Domestic cash wheat markets were strengthened along with futures, except on the Pacific Coast. Marketings were relatively light, receipts at the principal winter wheat markets totaling 1,087 cars, or about half the number a year ago, while receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth totaled 605 cars. Demand was principally from mills and current offerings from most points were hardly sufficient for needs, with the result that some grain was taken from elevator stocks. Protein premiums held steady at Kansas City, where ordinary protein, No. 2 hard winter, was quoted May 20 at 55½¢ to 56¢.

Quotations at Omaha were largely nominal, with No. 3 hard winter being quoted at 51½¢ and No. 2 hard yellow, smutty, at 51¢. No. 2 hard or dark winter, with 12 per cent protein, was quoted F. O. B. eastern Colorado shipping points at 39¢ to 40¢. No export business was reported at Fort Worth and mill demand was limited since most mills had sufficient stocks to meet requirements until the new wheat is received next month. No. 1 hard winter was quoted at 61¢ to 62½¢, delivered Texas common points.

Offerings of soft winter wheat were very light and prices advanced 2¢ to 3¢ per bushel as a result of rather urgent mill inquiry. The new soft winter wheat crop was reported to have deteriorated materially during the week in the St. Louis territory and this was a strengthening market factor. No. 2 soft red winter was being quoted at St. Louis May 20 at 57¢ and at Cincinnati at 56¢ to 58¢ per bushel. At the latter market, mills were taking only moderate amounts and most of the country movement was being absorbed by elevators.

Cash demand for spring wheat was sufficiently active to maintain steady premiums. July wheat at Minneapolis advanced 2¢ and No. 1 dark northern spring was quoted at 3¢ to 5¢ over the July price of 62½¢. No. 1 dark northern spring sold at Duluth at 66½¢ to 80½¢, depending upon the protein.

Durum wheat was independently firm as a result of light offerings and fair milling demand. July durum at Duluth advanced 3½¢ and closed May 20 at 58¢. No. 1 amber was quoted in that market at 64¢ and No. 2 red durum at 55½¢. No. 2 amber, ordinary protein, sold at Minneapolis at 55¢ to 60¢ and high protein milling lots at 71¢ to 78¢ per bushel.

Canadian spring wheat markets held steady under the influence of an active export inquiry. The higher prices brought out an increased movement and receipts at Winnipeg were considerably larger than for the previous week. No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted at Winnipeg May 20 at 64¢, which is equivalent in U. S. currency to 55½¢.

Life's Darkest Moment

The return to the home town of the "local boy" who has made good in the big city is rarely, we have understood, what it might be. In connection with this we have to report the particularly sad experience of a young banker who, after eight years absence, alighted at the station of the town of his birth. There was, despite his expectations, no one on the platform he knew. No one. Discouraged, he sought out the baggage master, a friend since boyhood. To him at least he would be welcome and he was about to extend a hearty greeting when the other spoke first. "Hello, George," he said. "Going away?"

Safety Rest With Driver

In commenting on the staggering number of deaths due to traffic accidents on some of the highways in Oregon, the Portland Oregonian has the following very practical things to say:

"The automobile is not the pleasing toy so many of us appear to consider it. Its terrific potentialities annually realized in this country are as dread as those of war.

"It is the human factor that makes motoring alike perilous—and safe—and the best of all commonplace rules is to watch the road.

"Drivers of motor vehicles whose speed limit on the highway is tentatively fixed at 45 miles an hour, but who may drive at greater speed if prudence suggests it, have no time to view the landscape or turn their heads for a word with someone in the rear seat.

"We do not believe the traffic problem ever will be solved—that is to say, that ever we shall be quit of it. But relief lies as surely in public education as in law."

The constant increase in deaths and accidents from automobiles from 1927 to 1930, inclusive, based on the average loss cost per car, has forced the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters to make a marked increase in automobile liability rates in 14 leading states. The insurance companies undoubtedly regret that such action is necessary, more than does the average car owner.

The car owner controls the situation and insurance companies are practically helpless to do aught but pay the bills. If accident increases continue as steadily upward for the next four years, automobile owners can blame no one but themselves for further increases in rates.

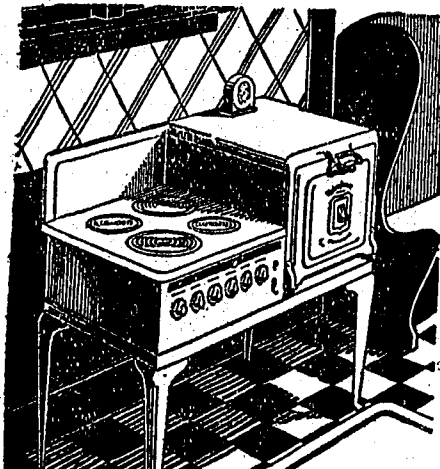

Strict Enforcement

A small town resident owned a goat which was worth possibly $150. The goat was belligerent and his battle ground was Main street.

When the tax bill appeared the owner found the goat assessed at $20. Indignant he made his complaint before the assessor who took down a well worn copy of the town ordinance and read as follows:

"Property abutting on Main Street shall be assessed at $10.00 per front foot."

POTLACH WHEAT SPOTTED BUT ALFALFA IS FINE

(By T. O. Green, field representative of the Lewiston Tribune)

A four-days' drive began at Juliaetta, covering Big Potlatch ridge, Cream ridge, to the river at Lenore, up the Clearwater to Ahsahka and back to Juliaetta.

Considerable wheat in the district traveled over suffered damage from last winter's "heaving," and some of it had to be reseeded. Much of the wheat that is left appears rather thin and a large proportion of it even this late in the season is somewhat yellowish in color — resulting from the late season and the unusual heavy spring rains. It now appears that the wheat yield in the Big Potlatch section this year will hardly equal an average crop for that district.

While there will be a diminished acreage planted to beans this year—owing to the lowest price offerings ever known here—yet there will be thousands of acres planted. One farmer summed it up this way:

"We have to summerfallow our land anyway. Bean straw makes excellent hay for our work stock, especially our mules. This team of mules was put through the winter on bean straw and water, except a half bundle of wheat hay to each day, until two or three weeks before spring work season, when I began "graining" them to prepare them for the season's heavy work." The mules were fat and wore smooth coats.

The copious rains caused much washing of surface soil, some showing ditches from to one and a half feet in width and six to 12 inches deep.

This spring has been highly favorable for the growth of alfalfa and clover of which there is the largest acreage ever seen in this section. The alfalfa shows a fine stand, and is now from ten to 18 inches in height. Le-Baron brothers, at Cavendish, had just finished seeding 100 acres of clover, a crop they have been growing successfully for a number of years. Alfalfa and clover not only constitute excellent food for livestock—especially milk cows—but, being nitrogenous plants, are fine soil builders.

The "period of depression" is having noticeable effect on the "pulling" power of the farmers' implements. There are about nine teams to one tractor—and gasoline salesmen report their sales of gasoline and oil for tractor use are shrinking rapidly.

About a mile north of Teakean rises Bald mountain—some 300 or 400 feet above the surrounding country. Near the summit of that butte is a farm hewn out of the forest by George Crabb, a pioneer of that section. By some freak of nature, it is much warmer there than on the "flats" several hundred feet below. Tomatoes and other tender vegetables can be matured and ripened at the Crabb farm while Teakean and Cavendish have to ripen their tomatoes in their cellars. There seems to be a warm current of air that sweeps over the south side of "Old Baldy" and moderates the climate there.

From the mouth of Big creek canyon, opposite the town of Peck, to Orofino and as far up as Greer, crews of men and teams are engaged in repairing the highway that was undermined by the recent floods. Heavy yrock is being hauled and dumped where the road grade has crumbled or caved in from the high water and blasting is being done for the removal of rock slides at points along the Lewis-Clark highway. Work is to be started at once on building of the seven and a half miles of highway between Ahsahka and Cavendish.

Behrens Has Fire

Night marshal, Edgar Dammarell, about 1:00 o'clock last evening, heard the crashing of glass and suspecting burglars, aroused Marshal Ed. Long, and W. J. Carroll, who, arming themselves and expecting to meet burglars, arrived at the Behrens building, to find that the rear of the building was on fire.

It is evident that the fire must have started from the ignition of gasses in some manner, caused an explosion which blew out the front plate glass windows and smoldered for some minutes before bursting into blaze. It may be that air circulating from the broken glass through the building, gave it sufficient air and draft to start into flame.

But a very short time elapsed between the discovery and the arrival of the volunteer fire department, and the new six-inch water main certainly proved its worth. The improved pressure gave power enough to not only break the glass of the windows and lath in the ceiling but to push the very window frames from their sockets, which indeed requires pressure.

It has been reported that the loss is partially covered by insurance.

"The final solution for unemployment," says Mr. Coolidge, "is work." It certainly is a caution how that man thinks things out.
