STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

A favorite source long standing of governmental funds is loans on public credit. The written certificates of debt are commonly known as bonds; the debts which they represent are known as bonded indebtedness.

Bonds issued by a corporation generally constitute a lien or mortgage upon the corporation's property. Government bonds do not carry such a lien, their value being based upon the soundness of public credit and governmental integrity. As evidence of such value, it might be noted that government bonds have long been considered choice investments.

Issuance Regulated

Issuance of bonds by subsidiary governing units in Idaho is regulated by state law to protect the people against temporary periods of unwarranted enthusiasm. It is a moral obligation of the state to protect public credit against abuse.

The bonding method of raising governmental finances has been of tremendous value in the development of this state. To it we are indebted for our good roads, our paved highways and our excellent public buildings. Without bonding, such improvements would have been seriously delayed, in some instances for many years.

Place To Stop

On the other hand, there is undoubtedly a place, as several Idaho communities have good cause to know, where the continued issuance of bonds ceases to be good business. When bonded indebtedness becomes so heavy that interest and liquidation is a galling burden upon the taxpayers' shoulders it seems evident that a halt should be called.

Idaho resorted early to government bonds as a method of producing public funds. In 1865, after some four years of rather difficult navigation upon the sea of government finances, the territorial legislature, spurred into action by the seeming impossibility of collecting sufficient taxes from the shifty, hard-fisted population to defray running expenses, decided to bond the territorial indebtedness. The bonds were issued to run over a period of 10 years and the interest was 12 per cent, the high rate being a significant comment on the commonwealth's credit rating at that time.

State Assumes Debt

This initial venture was apparently taken care of satisfactorily, however, for we find that in 1891, at the time territorial days terminated and statehood started, the territory had managed to accumulate a bonded indebtedness of about $150,000, which was assumed by the state and had a physical representation in several miles of dirt road and a few modest but needed public buildings.

Nor did the state forswear the practice; on the contrary, it embraced wholeheartedly the idea and the bonded debt grew so rapidly that it was indeed fortunate that the state's taxable wealth mounted by leaps and bounds.

However, the situation has been saved, whether fortuitously or not, and Idaho's bonded indebtedness is now well in hand.

Bonded Debt Totals

The state's outstanding bonded indebtedness on June 20, 1932, was $3,878,800, a very encouraging figure—and, by the way, considerable less than it has been—when compared with a taxable wealth of 428 (1931) million dollars. Interest rates range from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent, which is also significant.

Highway bonds of the second, third and fourth issues, make up the larger portion of our present bonded debt, totaling $1,608,300. Capitol building refund bonds total $995,000. Educational improvement, state institution improvement and state institution improvement refund bonds amount to $853,000. State hospital construction bonds amounting to $250,000 are outstanding. The Lava Hot Springs improvement total is $105,000. General and state highway refunding bonds compose the remainder, $107,500.

Looking at the other side of the picture, we find that in exchange for this bonded indebtedness we have an excellent hard-surface and improved highway system extending into almost every part of the state, a praiseworthy state capitol building and a number of well-established, well-housed state institutions which are indispensable to our social and educational welfare.

Dinner Success

The church basket dinner at the American ridge church last Sunday was a decided success, the dinner, originally planned for the church, was, by invitation, eaten in the C. W. Jessup grove, not far from the meeting place.

A large table was put under the trees and some eighty people partook thereof.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

Senator Bill Borah has qualified his statement regarding the European debt situation by saying that there should be no cancellation unless Europe disarms. He says there will be no recovery until debts, reparations and the arms questions are settled.

An obscure rag collector died in Chicago the other day and left stocks and bonds amounting to $1,000,000. Secretary of Commerce Lamont has resigned his cabinet position to enter private business. The place will be filled by Roy D. Chapin of Detroit.

Eddie Tolan, a negro from Detroit, Mich., walked away with the 100-meter and 200-meter sprints at the Olympic games at Los Angeles on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. He is declared to be the fastest running human in the world.

A body believed to be that of R. A. Robertson of Boise, missing for two years, was found by a woodsman last week. He was found by the body by a pack rat, which he saw carrying bits of a leather shoe.

The northwest salmon pack is said to be heavy and shipments are reaching Seattle daily. More than 200,000 cases arrived on one ship the latter part of the week.

Both democratic and republican leaders are making every effort to get together the necessary funds for their respective campaigns. They both assert that the campaigns this year will be run on a reduced budget as compared to former campaigns.

Libby Holman, young widow of Smith Reynolds, tobacco millionaire heir, and Albert Walker, chum of young Reynolds, who was found shot to death early last week in his palatial mansion after an all-night party, have been arrested and charged with murder.

Canada has offered Great Britain preference on about 150 industrial products for which she spends $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 annually, much of it in the United States.

Lydia Southard, Idaho woman blue-beard, has been returned to the penitentiary at Boise—and says she is glad to get back—but refuses to tell how she is able to get so many husbands. She said a prison guard furnished her with saws with which she freed herself in May, 1931.

Babe Didrickson, Texas woman athlete and marvel of the world, has captured four world records since the opening of the Olympic games. She has been defeated in but one event, the high jump, and that by one of the American team.

Farm Home Burned

The farm home of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Taber and family, on Fix ridge, was completely destroyed by fire on Wednesday, August 3. The fire started in the woodshed and rapidly spread to the seven-room dwelling.

Most of the furniture was saved, but it is so badly damaged that it will require refinishing. A few dressers, bedsteads and rugs were consumed, as was much of the clothing of the family. Most of the family larder was also destroyed, including two sacks of sugar, two sacks of flour, sack of salt and much other stuff naturally kept on hand, as well as all cooking utensils.

Everything in the basement was destroyed or ruined, including some 300 quarts of fruit and vegetables, 100 gallons of vinegar, a case and a half of eggs, can of cream and many other articles.

The loss is only partially covered by insurance. They will rebuild as soon as possible, when a modern bungalow will take the place of the house destroyed.

Installing Gas Tank

The Kendrick Rochdale Company is busy installing a large storage tank above that of the Deobald Brothers, and by the 20th of the month expect to be selling gasoline.

W. J. Morrell of Craigmont has the construction and installation contract. The brand of gasoline has not yet been determined.

SCHOOL DISTRICT IN GOOD FINANCIAL CONDITION

The Kendrick school completed the year $305 in arrears, according to figures obtained from the county treasurer at Moscow, says B. B. Brigham. This is an improvement over the figure of last year, which was $625. Considering the fact that some school districts in the state are a year or more behind on warrant payments, this is an exceptional showing. The Kendrick school district was assessed at $265,000 which figure is one of the lowest for towns of its size in the state of Idaho. The good financial condition of the district is due largely to the heavy enrollment of tuition pupils last year, says Mr. Brigham.

In view of the fact that a large reduction has been made in the budget for the coming year, school finances should be on a sound basis for the 1932-33 term. A large enrollment of tuition pupils is predicted, though the school census, upon which money received from the county apportionment depends, will perhaps remain about the same as last year.

It has been predicted that school moneys would be greatly reduced on account of delinquent taxes. This, however, was not the case. Only $217 in tax money was delinquent when the county treasurer closed her books in July. It is probable, also, that a major portion of these delinquencies will be taken up before January 1, says Mr. Brigham.

Temperature Races Upward

Sunday, August 7, proved to be the hottest day of the year to date, when Old Sol uncorked his best and gave us "the works," the temperature at the "official station" (Deobalds garage) reaching 103 degrees. This reading followed a few days of heat, with the mercury sliding up and down from 91 to 97 degrees, starting last Wednesday.

At this same time Lewiston recorded a reading of 107 degrees at the official weather station, with reading on down town streets going as high as 112 degrees.

Spokane as usual, brags about their temperature, the mercury having gone to only a modest figure, 97 degrees. It is reported that thermometers there on the downtown streets reached as high as 104, but the other reading is official.

We're Innocent

We were in receipt of two long distance telephone calls Tuesday afternoon anent advertising soliciting of the so called "high pressure" type, to appear in a Potlatch paper, and we want to say right here and now that we have absolutely nothing to do with the matter, not only that, but we do not allow any such advertising to appear in our paper, nor allow such solicitors to use our name.

We deal only in legitimate "by the column inch" advertising, and if any one was using our name in such a soliciting campaign they are doing so without our permission and knowledge.

Swimming Holes Passe

Both of the swimming holes in our local creek are passe now, a green scum having formed on both the one by the Vollmer-Clearwater and on the Jacobs' hole.

Perhaps with a bit aeration they could be brought back to life, but the creek is quite low at that.

At no time has the creek ceased to run this year as it did last, and in all probability it will continue to run for the balance of the season, we have hopes of it, anyway, and as we want trout from the fish and game department the longer it runs the better chance we stand of getting them.

Grain Coming In

Grain is coming in at quite a steady clip these days, the largest movement starting on Monday, say the managers of both warehouses.

Barley has been coming in for nearly ten days now and some wheat started moving about a week ago.

The tram at the Vollmer-Clearwater is going full blast these days as is the elevator of the Kendrick-Rochdale Co., who report that considerable wheat is being brought in in sacks and then "cut-in," the sacks being used again.

A number of trucks are busy hauling, but the price is said to be low. One farmer said his was being hauled so cheaply that he couldn't afford to license his truck and haul it himself for the price.

FOREST FIRES BREAK OUT IN MANY SECTIONS

Nearly 600 acres of of National Forest was ablaze as the result of the severe electrical storm of Sunday evening when nearly 25 fires were started from lightning.

The worst fire of the lot, that of the Willow creek watershed, near the boundary of the Clearwater and Selway, some 70 miles from Orofino, was blazing late Tuesday on about 500 acres.

More than 160 men were battling the blaze at the last report.

A 100-acre fire was burning on Moose creek, 75 miles east of Kootenai and 40 men were fighting it.

A twenty-mile wind Monday night whipped the flames in fierce activity and blazing brand were carried for several miles, starting scores of smaller fires and adding to the work of the fire crews.

Officials said that the warm wave of the last two weeks had sapped the natural moisture of the forest and low humidity added to the hazards and difficulty of control.

The five-acre fire on Maggie creek was trenched and slowly burning itself out.

Newly constructed forest roads were used for the first time in the control of the fire when men and supplies were carried to the Willow creek fire, going from the Selway forest over the Sutter creek road and then to the Musselshell and east to the fire.

Motor trucks from Orofino were carrying pack mules and supplies to the fire zone and trucks were rushed to the Selway and Nez Perce areas for emergency.

Plows were being taken to the fire zones as they have proved useful in trenching operations and more were put into use this year than formerly. The Selway suffered most from the fires, 10 blazes being reported in that area, but all were under control but two.

Eight strikes were reported in the Nez Perce area. No fires have been reported to date but a sharp watch is being kept of the situation.

Fire fires were the total for the Clearwater, all of which have been corralled and almost no acreage was burned over.

An announcement from from the Clearwater forest Monday stated that forest officials did not expect to hire any outside men this year for fire work, but if they did, employment would be made through the federal employment offices in this region.

Many Swimmers Sunday

Many swimmers were in the water at the various Clearwater and Snake river beaches Sunday, and especially was this true of the Clearwater, all the available sand being occupied by bathers.

One swimming party, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and family, Mrs. Lucy Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Flaig of Orofino and family, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey and family and Ailene Rider, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McCreary and daughter and Miss Edith Dammarell swam and picnicked at a beach a short distance above Arrow.

A swimming party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albright and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilcox, besides numerous others, were at the Arrow Beach as was a swimming party composed of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Flaig and daughter, Miss Margaret McDowell, Nettie Mae McDowell, Mae Freytag and Neva Ware.

Entertains at Bridge

Mrs. W. L. McCreary was hostess to four tables of bridge last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. D. A. Christensen won high score and Mrs. Wm. Watts received low.

Those in attendance were Mesdames F. H. Rider, E. H. Emery, Helen Boyd, R. H. Ramey, Wade Keene, Harold Thomas, Lester Crocker, Geo. Leith, A. K. Carlson, Wm. Watts, H. B. Thompson, D. A. Christensen, W. J. Carroll, F. B. Higley, Miss Edith Dammarell and the hostess.

Refreshments were served at the close of play.

For Police Dogs, Maybe

Virginia's dad was pointing out to her different things in an old picture of Camp Knox. At one side was a group of small tents which he told her were "pup tents." She seemed very much interested and said: "Why, dad, were they for the police dogs in the army?"

Rattlesnakes As Pets

Because they allowed themselves to be fondled instead of biting her two-year-old son, Mrs. Lillian Michael Ledbetter is going to keep two large rattlesnakes she found the child playing with.

Returning after a brief absence she found the child seated on the ground with one rattler in his lap and another allowing itself to be petted as it lay on the ground beside him.

COMMERCIAL CLUB HOLDS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Commercial Club was held at the Raby Hotel at 6:30 o'clock, Monday, January 8, with a small but very enthusiastic crowd present.

Following a delicious fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings the meeting was called to order and the two visitors, Mr. Wells and Prof. Smith of Moscow, introduced by the chairman, Mr. Wells, a director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education at Moscow, told of the growth of the Institute, the purchase of its fine home and class rooms and of the growth of University education in the nation, saying that it had doubled itself in every decade from 1880 to 1930, and that the U. of I. had proved no exception to the rule, and told of the need of religious education more than ever before in our universities.

Mr. Wells was followed by Prof. Smith, who spoke further on the subject of Christian education and told of their need for funds if they were to continue with this work.

Following these talks the regular run of business was taken up and ways and means discussed for caring for the tarantulas who drift through our town, and it was felt that the club could hardly afford to go on paying the bills for meals, as the funds of the club would be needed for local relief work during the winter months.

It was decided to ask the city council to erect signs at each end of town reading "Entering Kendrick", as visitors from a distance who are unfamiliar with the country, are often in doubt as to what town they are in. These signs would appear with the speed limit signs, which the town has on hand and which are to be put up shortly. There was also a discussion of the speeding situation, but it was felt that the signs should be given a trial before asking the city to take any further action in the matter.

N. E. Walker reported on the progress of the rock work on Bear Ridge, saying that some mile and a half had been completed. He stated that as originally planned it was thought that 880 cubic yards of rock would cover a mile of road, but that to date slightly more had been put on, 1,500 yards having been put on and the road built slightly over a mile and a half, but that the road showed every indication of being a good one, and that every mile built saw us that much nearer our dream of rock roads and highways. Mr. Walker further stated that it was thought funds sufficient to construct another mile and a half or possibly more were available and could be spared and that the road would be extended as far as possible. The only bar being a possible failure of the quarry to yield enough No. 1 rock.

Discussion was then taken up of the possibility of state aid in the construction of rock roads about Kendrick and the adjacent territory. A slight casting up of figures showed that some $50,000 in gasoline tax had left Kendrick and vicinity in the past few years of high gas taxes, and that we had not received a penny from the state in return. On adding license money, the total amounts to a large figure and all could not help but feel that we are entitled to something in return.

After considerable discussion of "Pork Barrels" and political methods it was decided that the highway committee should be given full reign in the matter of attempting to secure state road help of some sort and the backing of the club, financially and morally to a man was pledged the group.

Rev. Edward J. Smith of the Community church gave a brief talk on the success of the bible school and stated that it was hoped that it would be possible, with the aid of coming entertainments, to make the venture entirely self supporting and no contributions necessary from the business men or the church board.

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER BUT FEED GRAINS WEAK

Domestic wheat markets were very slightly firmer at the close of the week ending August 5, under the strengthening influence of advancing security markets, delayed harvests in Europe, uncertainty as to the final outturns of American spring wheat, and relatively light marketings of new crop grain, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Feed grains were barely steady under a continued dull demand. Current offerings remained of only moderate volume, but the season's prospective large supplies of corn, oats and barley, were a depressing influence. Rye strengthened with wheat, while flax advanced slightly despite a quiet crusher demand.

Crop prospects remain a dominant factor in the general wheat market situation. Winter wheat outturns in the U. S. are now fairly definitely known, but the outcome of the spring wheat crop is still uncertain. Private estimates as of August 1, forecast a crop of spring wheat in the U. S. of about 275,000,000 bushels or about 30,000,000 less than the July official forecast. Such an outturn if realized would be about 170,000,000 bushels more than last season's harvest. Private estimates place the Canadian wheat crop this season at about 450,000,000 bushels, or about 150,000,000 bushels larger than the 1931 crop. The Canadian crop suffered materially from hot, dry weather during July and rain is still urgently needed in many sections. Wheat harvesting will soon be general in the Prairie provinces and threshing and combining have already begun.

In Europe, crops in the lower Danubia countries have suffered severe damage and latest advices indicate an outturn of only 257,203,000 bushels against 367,834,000 bushels produced last year. Heaviest reductions have occurred in Roumania and Yugoslavia, although countries in the Danube Basin show losses. Harvesting in Russia has been delayed and the area harvested to July 25 was placed at about 49,000,000 acres as against 72,000,000 acres to that date a year ago. Conditions of the winter wheat crop in areas near Black Sea ports are reported to be fairly good. In the spring wheat areas, which normally produce around two-thirds of the total Russian crops, prospects have been materially reduced by recent hot, dry weather.

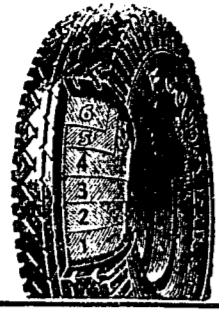

Pacific Coast markets were, relatively firmer than eastern points, reflecting light offerings and some improvement in local demand. Export bids remained below a working basis and no export sales were reported. Harvesting of the new crop has become general in Washington, where yields are somewhat below earlier expectations. High protein is indicated but the test weight is light with the early samples grading No. 2 or 3 on that factor. Growers continued to show firm holding tendency and marketings were light. Receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaled 634 cars for the week compared with 759 cars for the same week a year ago. At the close of the market August 5 bluestem hard white, new crop, was quoted at Portland at 57c, soft and western white at 52c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 51c, sacked, basis No. 1. Western white and western red wheats were quoted at Seattle at 53c, hard winter at 54c and Baart hard white at 59c, sacked, basis No. 1. Only a few cars of Montana hard winter were received at Spokane during the week, since Montana wheat is moving largely to eastern markets where protein premiums were higher. The Vancouver market was reported quiet, with No. 1 Manitoba northern quoted, Aug. 5 and 58 1/2c, which is equivalent in U. S. currency to 51c per bushel.

California wheat markets advanced 2 1/2c to 7 1/2c per 100 and prices at San Francisco reached the highest point since early June. The strength in northern and eastern markets and increased demand from local feeders and dealers were the principal factors strengthening the market. Light offerings were also a steadying influence. Mills were generally working on earlier purchases and buying only sufficient wheat to cover current flour sales. Demand from the poultry industry was also a strengthening factor.

Domestic cash wheat markets have mostly reflected the firmer situation

WHEAT MARKET FIRMER BUT FEED GRAINS WEAK

In futures although the unusually high protein content of winter wheat offerings have resulted in a sharp reduction in protein premiums. Marketings were relatively light during the week, primary receipts being less than half those of a year ago and totaling less than 10,000,000 bushels. Receipts at the principal central and southwestern markets totaled 5,999 cars of which 1,811 cars were received at Kansas City. Elevator stocks have reached a new record of nearly 41,000,000 bushels and storage space is becoming scarce. Mill demand at Fort Worth was fairly active, where No. 1 hard winter up to 13 cent protein was quoted at 55c to 56c per bushel. No export sales were reported during the week.

Soft winter wheat markets were fairly steady. Mills were competing for the limited offerings at St. Louis, while interior mills were buying at country points. No. 2 soft winter was quoted at St. Louis Aug. 5 at 52c to 53c per bushel and at Cincinnati at 53 1/2c to 55c. Growers in that area were holding for 50c per bushel at country points and marketings have become smaller. Local stocks, however, are large and elevator operators were reported seeking outside storage. Demand at Chicago was more active with No. 2 red quoted at 53c. Soft white wheat was in good demand at Kansas City from local mills and limited daily offerings were readily taken. Prices declined slightly, however.

Intermountain wheat markets were about unchanged. A fair milling demand was reported at Denver where local mills provided the main outlet for current offerings.

Dr. Simmons Coming
Dr. Charles Simmons, Eye-sight Specialist of Lewiston, will be at the Raby Hotel, Friday, August 12th, from 9:00 until 5:00. The demand for the doctor's services has increased to such an extent that he finds it necessary to make his visits at more frequent intervals than formerly. He plans to be with us each month instead of every sixty days. He also reports a decided increase in calls from this section at the Lewiston office, located over Schiffer's Store, 512 Main Street. 33-1

"Your wife has been delirious all day," said the nurse, in a worried tone, "calling for you and crying for money."
"Hah!" snorted friend husband. "Delirious, hell!"

We Wonder How Come!

Word has reached this office that there is at times a paper circulated in and around Kendrick called "The Yellow Jacket," published at some place in one of the Carolinas, but the name of the town we do not know. The paper is said to be of the "rabid" republican type. We have just barely seen one or two copies, shown us by a party, but have never read one of them.

It has also been stated that these papers are mailed to the Gazette and that they are then placed in the post-office by us. This is really amusing. We have no right, and cannot, mail any paper in the postoffice other than the Gazette, without first affixing a one-cent stamp.

We do not know who started the story—and care less—only to deny it—for we have nothing to do with the said "Yellow Jacket" in any way. In fact, we do not take any stock in such rabid utterances as are said to be in the publication, whether they be republican, democratic, socialist, or what-not.

There is reason in all things—except politics, love and war.

When in Kendrick, stop at the new Raby Hotel—newly finished; clean beds, and good things to eat. 42-

Beach Party Tuesday Evening

Arrow beach was the scene of a very delightful beach party Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Emery and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thompson and family and their house guests, Mrs. Skidmore and daughter of Spokane, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family and their house guest, Ray Thompson of Orofino, nephew of Mr. Deobald, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cummings and family picnicked and swam. They said the air was quite cool along the river and that a fire felt unusually good.

Gasoline Kills Lawn Pests
Plantain, troublesome lawn weed, may now be "painted" out of a lawn with gasoline, the United State Department of Agriculture says.
Weed-eradication specialists of the department suggest daubing plantain, either the broadleaf or buckhorn, with gasoline to kill it. A paintbrush and a small can of gasoline are all the equipment needed. The gasoline is daubed on the leaves at the center of the plant. The crown of the plantain is somewhat cup-shaped and holds the gasoline until it soaks down to the roots and kills the plant.
The best time to daub the plants is when the ground is dry. Tying the brush to a long stick takes some of the ache out of the job.
Plantain are commonly killed by digging them out and cutting the roots about an inch below the surface of the soil. The gasoline method lessens the work. If the lawn is overrun with these weeds, however, it should be dug up and remade.
The above information will come handy to the residents of Kendrick as there is considerable of this weed in lawns about town.

Stabilized Grain All Sold

C. E. Huff, president of the Farmers' National Grain corporation of Chicago, was in Spokane during the past week in connection with the new wheat crop of the Inland Empire and announced that 2,000,000 bushels of this had already been sold for export.

He added that not one bushel of stabilization wheat remains unsold in the Pacific northwest, and that the stocks throughout the nation have been reduced from 257,000,000 to 25,000,000 bushels.

According to Henry Collins, Portland, vice president and manager of the Pacific coast division, who was in Spokane to confer with Mr. Huff, the Washington, Oregon and northern Idaho wheat crop this year was set at an estimated 68,000,000 bushels.

Department of agriculture forecast figures for July 1 set Washington's crop at 46,000,000 bushels, Oregon 21,000,000 and northern Idaho 10,000,000 bushels.

Mr. Collins declared the Oregon crop would not go more than 15,000,000 bushels and estimated the Washington crop would not harvest more than 44,000,000 bushels. He also discounted the north Idaho crop figures.

Snow Survey Aids Water Users

Farmers and ranchers who depend on irrigation for their water supply need not lose any sleep this summer over a threatened water shortage or flood. Surveys made by the United States Weather Bureau last winter and early in the spring showed that the snow pack this year in the Rocky and Sierra Nevada mountains is the kind that can be counted on to give a steady supply of water throughout the season.

Last winter's snow pack, according to M. W. Hayes of the Weather Bureau, was solid, with a high water content. Fluffy snow, which has a low water content, is largely responsible for floods and water shortages. It melts quickly so that great torrents flow down the mountain sides, causing much damage as well as depleting natural storage reservoirs.

The true nature of a snow pack can be determined only by examining samples taken at the highest altitudes, where the ice fields remain unmelted until late summer or fall. Snow slides make this a very hazardous undertaking. One member of the weather bureau lost his life a few months ago while making a survey. The surveyors push sample tubes down into the snow and weigh the cylindrical sections thus obtained. From the relation of the height of the sample to its weight the water content of the entire snow pack can be calculated.

Even a solid snow pack sometimes causes a flood, if the weather turns unusually hot or rainy. A slight flood early in June in the Colorado River Basin, where work on the Hoover dam is now in progress, resulted in such conditions. Warning sent out by the weather bureau, however, make it possible to take proper precautions, which prevent any great damage.

Double Wear For Shoe Soles

Double wear for leather boot soles is claimed as the result of the discovery by British tanners of a new way of treating leather. By the new process the internal fibers of leather soles can now be toughened so that they form a core of great strength.
It is claimed that the leather so prepared rivals the wearing power of certain composition material soles. Like rubber soles, it is waterproof but unlike them, it is not slippery when wet. As a result of the discovery one of the biggest tanning firms in north England, which for many months had been working on short time, now has sufficient orders to operate day and night.

There will be a charge of 5c per helping, per article. 33-1

Vacation Soon Over

Vacation days will soon be over and the children will be back at their school work. Parents should see that the most important equipment for a successful school term is not overlooked, a pair of properly fitted glasses where needed. Nothing will retard a child more than poor vision or eyestrain. And remember—the eye that is well cared for early in life is strongest in old age. Bandits Take Savings

The day before a failing bank closed George Grakos drew $6,000 from his account in a Chicago bank. And he was fond of bragging about his cleverness. So he explained to neighbors that he had put the $6,000 in bills right in his trousers pocket, where it would stay.

Then two men carrying revolvers came to his room.

"Give us that $6,000 in bills you've got in your pocket," they said. Grakos obeyed.

Dad: "Look here, my dear. I don't mind your sitting up with that young man of yours, but I do object to him walking off with my morning papers!"
