KENDRICK, LATAH COUNTY, IDAHO, FRIDAY AUGUST, 26, 1932

NO. 35

STATE CHAMBER TELLS IDAHO TAX HISTORY

Of the 28 or 29 million dollars which the state of Idaho receives biennially ($27,870,292.28 in 1929-1930), only about seven millions comes from the counties. The remainder is composed of fees, licenses, gasoline tax, federal aid, endowment fund earnings, interest, rentals and returns of other special sources of revenue, most of which have already been touched upon in this series.

Turning our attention to the more than six millions coming from the various counties, we find that the largest individual item is the state tax which the law requires to be remitted at specified times in lump sums. For the biennium of 1929-1930 this item amounted to $5,823,747.44.

Ada Pays Most
Of the counties, Ada paid the largest amount, $481,097.01. Bannock county paid $367,323.19; Twin Falls, $330,930.70; Canyon, $300,054.44; and Shoshone $296,284.61. Other counties whose payments ranged from two hundred to three hundred thousand dollars were: Bingham, Bonneville, Kootenai, Latah and Nez Perce.

Counties paying more than one hundred thousand dollars and less than two hundred thousand were: Bear Lake, Benewah, Bonner, Cassia, Clearwater, Elmore, Franklin, Fremont, Idaho, Jefferson, Power and Washington. The remaining counties, 22 in all, paid less than one hundred thousand dollars each.

The smallest amount paid by any county was $36,348.61, remitted by Butte county.

Motor Licenses
The next largest item of remittances from the counties is motor vehicle licenses, which totalled $464,906.78 during the biennium. Again Ada made the largest contribution, $45,312.80; with Canyon, remitting $38,968.21, next and Twin Falls, sending $37,349.2, a close third. The smallest motor vehicle license remittance, $1,315.32, came from Camas county.

The state received $67,131.65 from the counties in the form of inheritance taxes, 35 of the 44 counties remitting this character of collections. Court fees, collected by the district courts, totaling $23,314.00, every county but one, Butte, contributing to this amount.

Total fines collected by the counties and paid to the state during the biennium amounted to less than two thousand dollars, $1,968.54, to be exact. Fine remittances came from 29 counties. A total of $5,036.01 in escheats estates for which there were no heirs became property of the state during the biennium, seven counties remitting in sums ranging from $7 to $3,556.23.

Protection Fees
Eight counties contributed a total of $57,767.48 for forest protection, this amount being collected from private owners of timber lands within their respective boundaries. The sum of $429.85 was remitted from three counties for pest abatement purposes. And "forester's special" remittances totalled $2,163.71.

Levies from four irrigation districts, American Falls, Mountain Home, Hillsdale and Sunnyside, collected by the counties and remitted to the state totalled $407,384.04. Of this amount, the lions' share, $351,397.10, came from the seven counties located in the big American Falls reservoir district.

Many Special Funds
It should be pointed out that the moneys collected from the various irrigation districts are not used for governmental purposes. These funds are irrigation district (not government) levies and are handled by the state and county only as a convenience to the respective districts. They are expended in retiring the district's bonds and in paying federal contract obligations and interest.

It is likewise noteworthy that fines, escheats, pest abatement and forest protection remittances do not go into the general fund for general state maintenance but are allotted to specific uses.

The state received, during the biennium in question, a grand total of $6,857,907.21 from the counties, including taxes, fees, fines, licenses, escheats and payments of all kinds. Of this amount, a total of $4,700,503.89 went into the general fund for state maintenance and the remainder, $2,157,303.32, was credited to the special funds created for special uses.

Relic of Bye-Gone Days

Lester Crocker was exhibiting a relic of bye-gone days on Tuesday on the ventilators at the school house on the other day he chanced to find a very empty pint whisky bottle cached in one of the ventilators, near the top of the building, which had undoubtedly been put there when the school house was built. The label was of the "O. F. C." brand (whatever that means—or meant) and was marked, "Made in the spring of 1903 and bottled 1911."

KENDRICK AT LAST WINS LONG BATTLE FOR ROAD

The Kendrick Commercial Club and the highway districts of this section and Deary have at last won their years-long fight for state road aid, and a farm-to-market highway, constructed by the state, will be graded this summer and fall from Arrow on the North-South highway, according to information by Norris Walker, chairman of the Kendrick Commercial Club highway committee and one of a committee of four who conferred with state highway officials at Boise this week regarding the designation.

Thorvald Nelson, A. K. Carlson and Lt. Gov. G. P. Mix were the others who made the trip and discussed the project with J. H. Stemmer, director of highways, and Governor C. Ben Ross.

The route to be followed between Kendrick and Arrow will be largely along present grades where they exist. Tributary to the Lewis-Clark highway, the new road will probably bring a large influx of traffic from the farming territories of Deary and Bovill to Kendrick and Lewiston. Graveling will not be done until next year.

From Arrow to Kendrick is about 12 miles, four miles of which is in good condition, the rest fair to very poor. The good link is the portion passing through Kendrick and Julietta. From Kendrick to Deary will be fairly heavy construction work. Three ridges, with their rich farm lands, loom in this territory to be crossed and construction of this route, to serve the most people, has long been a problem to local road enthusiasts because of the expense involved. It will be approximately 30 miles from Arrow to Deary by the new route.

Engineer Dave Jones has had a crew of four men in the Kendrick-Deary country making surveys of the system.

According to Mr. Walker, the construction of the route will start very shortly with hand labor and local men used wherever possible. Engineer J. J. McCready, district supervisor at Lewiston, was in Kendrick Monday conferring with Mr. Walker relative to the project, on which work is expected to start in two weeks or less.

The Arrow end of the highway, already located, passes through what was formerly the Clearwater highway district but which has since been taken over by Nez Perce county. The road from Kendrick to Arrow is very rough, on the whole, and in need of reconditioning. What part the county will take in this work has not been discussed by the Nez Perce commissioners, although the proposition has been submitted to them.

Kendrick has long been a booster for good roads in northern Idaho but until the present "has not been able to bring about recognition of the region as worthy of farm-to-market roads into the ridges."

Following a visit of Gov. C. Ben Ross, J. H. Stemmer and Lt. Gov. G. P. Mix to Kendrick early last spring, and the promise of Gov. Ross to see what could be done, a survey crew was sent in to survey the Deary end of the route, (that to Arrow being already complete) and following a pep-meeting of the Commercial club the delegation obtained an audience with Gov. Ross and the designation told above obtained. Long have we battled for good roads, and we are all mighty thankful for what we have been promised and are sure of obtaining, and the residents of this section extend a vote of thanks to those who gave of their time and money that these roads might be brought to pass.

It has been said that the road from Arrow to the further limits of Kendrick will be oiled, but it is not known definitely, we can only say one thing, "we hope so."

People tell more lies over the telephone than face to face.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE WEEK'S NEWS DISPATCHES

A lone sailor, Capt. P. A. Riggs, was picked up alive on Saturday, Aug. 20, after tossing on the ocean for more than four months, having left Dutch Harbor, Alaska, on April 18. He subsisted the last while on fish and rain water.

A hail storm at Athol, Idaho, destroyed from 80 to 100 per cent of the crops in that section. Hail stones were piled a foot deep near the sides of the building.

A shortage of apples, forcing the nations crop prospects down to approximately half that of last year, has improved the prospects of a fair price to the apple men of the Northwest.

The forest fire situation in Idaho appeared much better, due to cooler weather and absence of wind. However, wind or more extremely hot, dry weather, could again make the situation mighty serious.

After being lost in the mountains near LeGrande, Oregon, for two days, Mrs. J. C. Vinzelberg was found Saturday, and when asked how she felt replied that she was "a little tired." She subsisted on huckleberries and water.

A new highway is to be built up the North Fork from Pierce, via the Bungalow, to Kelly creek, and it is thought the road will eventually be extended on into Montana. It will be a standard forest road, 11 feet in width.

The cotton donation of the U. S. government to the Red Cross has proven insufficient for relief purposes, and more is being asked for. This will bring the amount to about $1 worth of cotton for each person who applied from Red Cross flour aid.

The Federal government is taking a hand in the Chicago gangster-police graft situation and action against a large number of officers and gangsters is expected to start soon.

Britain has given the Dominion of Canada a 6c per bushel preference on their wheat and wheat products over that of other countries of the world. Just what result this will have on American marketings and prices will remain to be determined.

China is negotiating for some 20,000,000 bushels of American wheat for delivery soon. It is expected that the sale will be made and most of the wheat shipped from the Pacific Northwest.

It is claimed that the Farmers' Strike is proving a success, and that prices have already been forced upward in Iowa, the state of its origin. Farmers in the Genesee section have joined the movement, and they in turn have been joined by the Cofax-Pullman farmers, giving a total of more than 5,000,000 bushels of wheat in the strike. They hope to get others to join them in the movement.

Bandits murdered an eccentric New York money carrier August 20, and robbed him of money he carried. He was in the habit of carrying from $5,000 to $20,000 on his person. Three people have been arrested in the case and charged with his murder.

In Butte, Montana, four people were killed, when dynamite, being used in excavation work, broke a gas main and the workers killed by breathing the gas.

Fred Henrichson, 42, died last Friday evening on the farm of Mrs. Florence Roberts, five miles southwest of Oakesdale, when his foot caught in the gearing of a combine thrasher. He suffered a fractured skull, a mangled leg and bruises on the face and arm.

Miss Marjorie Fletcher, 32-year-old school teacher, despondent over failure to find employment, used $25 of her dwindling funds to hire an open cockpit plane from the Washington-Hoover airport, Washington, D. C., and from it made a fatal jump of 1,800 feet into a wooded section near the Maryland capital.

Al Smith became a magazine editor Tuesday. With a grin on his face and a cigar in the corner of his mouth he sat in his new office and announced that he had been signed up as editor in chief and monthly contributor to the "New Outlook."

Catching Fish

The boys in town have been having lots of sport fishing in the deep holes in the creek these days, and catching an assortment of fish, too. Their luck ranges all the way from rainbow trout to suckers and chubs, and several catfish have been caught in the deep hole near the Vollmer-Clearwater warehouse.

TWO SOUTHWICK PIONEERS PASS TO GREAT BEYOND

George W. Jones

George W. Jones, pioneer blacksmith of Southwick, and a democratic leader in Southwick precinct for many years, died at his home there Monday morning at 4 o'clock of paralysis. Until stricken on August 14, he was active at his business.

Born at Troy, Iowa, October 29, 1848, Mr. Jones located on Potlatch ridge in 1889. He returned east for several years and in 1912 returned to Southwick.

He is survived by a widow and five children: Mrs. A. R. Garlinghouse and Albert Jones, both of Lewiston; Henry Jones and Mrs. O. L. Mahaffy, both of Elk River; Richard Jones, Southwick; also a sister, Mrs. Frances Hick of Lewiston. He was an uncle to S. O. Tannahill and R. L. Pennell, Lewiston; J. L. Tannahill, Sweetwater; G. C. Pennell, Nezperce and Mrs. A. R. Locke, Leland.

Funeral services were held from the Community church, Southwick on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Edward J. Smith of Kendrick conducting the services. Burial was made in the Southwick cemetery.

The pallbearers were Gordon Harris, Gus Ziemann, Ben McCoy, John Stalnaker, Russell Smith and L. J. Southwick.

Joseph Kazda

Joseph J. Kazda, 47, for 35 years a resident of Southwick, died at 9:45 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's hospital, Lewiston. He had been at the hospital since last Thursday.

He is survived by a widow and four children, Catherine, Anna, Evelyn and Louis, all living at Southwick; four brothers, Charles, Sylvester and Matthew Kazda of Southwick, and Rudolph Kazda, Lewiston; and two sisters, Sister DeChantell, at the St. Joseph's hospital here and Sister Francis, of St. Paul, Minn.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Stanislaus church. Interment will be in Normal Hill cemetery.

Rains Reduce Fire Hazards

Rains in the forest areas of Idaho on Monday night and Tuesday reduced the fire hazards to a minimum when practically all fires were out or brought under control, although several small fires were started by lightning strikes.

The rain varied from a light sprinkle to .43 inch, and .25 inch fell on the Fish creek fire that had reached proportions of near 4,000 acres. This help clinched the battle for the Selway crews. A total of 250 men were paid off yesterday and more will leave today.

So satisfactory was the fire situation Tuesday night that it was decided to reopen several forest roads that had been closed and others will remain open.

Eight fires of incendiary origin, all set in dangerous places, burned hard but were brought under control.

An official statement of the forest service for region No. 1 said yesterday that 45 per cent of all man-caused fires which started in the forests of the region during the last 15 days have been caused by careless smokers. It was stated that if such carelessness continues "the forests may be closed to entry except by special written permit."

Hail Hits Camas Prairie

A hail storm that broke over Camas prairie Monday night starting at 9 o'clock devastated 2,000 acres of spring wheat as it swept a giant path three miles wide and 15 miles long.

Had the storm struck a week earlier it would have destroyed between 30,000 and 40,000 acres of fall and spring grain, with many times the damage incurred. Most of the fall grain had been harvested.

Buildings were damaged greatly by the storm, roofs torn off or punctured by the stones and windows shattered.

Near Winona the barn and sheds on the Dave Yates farm were burned after being struck by bolts of lightning. Heavy hail damage to buildings was done in the Denver section. The storm began near Cottonwood at 7 p. m.

His Good Deed

The amateur gardener was showing the beauties of his greenhouse. "This," he said, pointing to a flower, "belongs to the petunia family." "Does it?" commented the sweet young thing. "I suppose you are minding it while they're away."

Gasoline Be Brought By Boat

A combined boat-truck service which will distribute oil and gasoline to all points in the Inland Empire and as far east as Idaho Falls was announced at Kennewick this week-end by C. W. Brown, Seattle, general manager for the Inland Tank Service company.

The petroleum products will be brought to Kennewick by water and distributed from there by a fleet of 16 to 20 tank trucks.

KENDRICK PUBLIC SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 5

The Kendrick schools will open on Monday, September 5, with the following faculty in charge: B. B. Brigham, Superintendent; Josephine Deagen and Nina K. Newman, instructors in high school; Arthur Dawald, seventh and eighth grades; Edna Ferguson, fifth and sixth grades; Elizabeth Cook, third and fourth grades, and Mary Adams first and second grades.

Following the trend for economy, the trustees, even after slashing salaries, decided to drop one teacher in the high school, leaving only three in that department for the coming year. However, this will not interfere in the standing of the school in any way and it will still be a four-year accredited school. This step was taken under the advice of the State high school inspector in giving the instructors their regular load to carry in regard to the number of scholars taught, there being only two subjects dropped from our regular course, shorthand and bookkeeping. As these classes have been small, this procedure was taken until a demand is made for them. However, in case sufficient demand is made for these classes after school takes up, the trustees will be glad to make arrangements whereby these can be offered.

Arthur Dawald will have charge of all athletics with the exception of the girls' basket ball team, of which Edna Ferguson will be coach. Boys' athletics should make a good showing this year with the able assistance of Coach Dawald back at the wheel. The trustees are in hopes that the gymnasium will be used every day this year for the instruction in physical education for all ages of children, as some of the younger pupils need just such training, even more than the older ones; who have nearly reached their maturity.

Miss Deagen will have charge of the typing classes, where there will be first and second-year courses offered for those wishing to take this subject. Lester Crocker will have charge of the instruction in manual training classes, of which two fifty-minute periods a day will be offered. This will be carried on in connection with his regular work as janitor. This is the first year the school has tried this arrangement and it is just another economy measure put in practice.

As members of the school board, we are asking the patrons of the school to co-operate in every way with the board and instructors to make the coming year one of the best, both financially and educationally, we have had," said one of the members.

Wheat Moving Slowly

Both of the local warehouses report that the wheat is coming in much slower than usual this season, due in part, it is believed, by the tendency of farmers to keep the wheat on the farm and haul it as they have time, rather than to hire hauling done. Both local concerns are busy, but in sharp contrast to former years when long lines of trucks and teams were waiting to unload.

It is thought that a lot of the wheat this year will not be hauled to market until the price suits the producer, or until forced to do so by financial stringency.

One of the local managers remarked that the farmers here might as well be taking part in the Farmers' Holiday movement, so far as selling went.

Moscow Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Deobald and family, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schupfer and family, Mrs. W. B. Deobald and children and Mrs. M. A. Deobald motored to Moscow Sunday, where they, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Belhol and family, picnicked in the Moscow park.

They said the weather was fine and cool there and a very enjoyable day passed.

GRAIN MARKETS WEAKER WITH SLOW DEMAND

Domestic grain markets remained unsettled during the week ending August 19, but weakness predominated toward the close of the period, with prices mostly below those of a week ago, according to the Weekly Grain Market Review of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. A continued dull demand featured the markets for both bread and feed grains. Receipts of wheat were relatively light, but with the lack of an export outlet, offerings were easily sufficient for current trade requirements. A continued slack shipping inquiry for feed grains weakened corn, oats and barley markets, despite only moderate offerings. Rye was featureless and mostly followed wheat. Flax was independently firm under the influence of unfavorable prospects for late-sown fields and a fair crusher demand for current offerings of seed.

No outstanding changes occurred in the general wheat market situation during the week. Preliminary estimates of northern hemisphere wheat crops indicate outturns about equal to that of last season. World wheat stocks, which have held at high levels since the abnormally large accumulations of 1929, have been reduced and at the first of August this season showed below those of a year ago. The record North American stocks appear more than offset by reductions in other areas, particularly in Continental Europe, where supplies are reported at a minimum.

Pacific Coast markets were weak, but price declines were less marked than at Eastern points. Threshing became general over Eastern Washington during the week with yields below expectations but quality about equal to the average. Marketings remained relatively light, with receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals totaling only 764 cars, compared with 1,201 cars for the corresponding week last year. In addition to the car receipts, over 27,000 bushels of wheat were received at Portland by river boat and nearly 17,000 bushels by truck. Demand was fairly active from local mills but inquiry for export grades was rather dull. No export sales of either wheat or flour were reported during the week since local prices were several cents above export bids. At the close of the market August 19, Big Bend bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 62c, soft and western white at 55c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 54c per bushel, sacked, basis No. 1. No. 1 dark hard winter sold at 58c per bushel, sacked No. 1 hard white was quoted at Seattle at 62c, western white and western red at 55c, sacked, basis No. 1.

California wheat markets were quiet and slightly lower than a week ago. Offering of local wheat continued light with holders in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys asking about 10c per 100 over terminal market bids. Milling demand was of fair volume at San Francisco but supplies were being obtained principally from northern markets. Use of feed barley continued to restrict feeding of wheat so that demand for feed grades was limited. At the close of the market Aug. 19, No. 1 hard white was quoted at San Francisco at $1.15 per 100, sacked, and No. 1 soft white at $1.12½.

Harvesting of spring wheat in the United States is practically completed except in Montana and is well under way in Canada. Weather during the week was almost ideal for harvesting in that country but a further decline in yield prospects occurred as a result of dry weather and high temperature. Trade estimates now place the Canadian outturn at around 425,000,000 bushels. Harvesting in Russia continued backward with only a little over half of the harvesting plan completed at the 10th of August. Serious rust damage was reported in Czechoslovakia and along the German-Polish border as far north as East Prussia. Harvesting made good progress during the week in Germany and most of France and the yield in central Europe is generally above that of last season, according to late trade estimates.

Foreign markets have been more unsettled than domestic markets. Unusually heavy marketings of new wheat in Germany and France have lowered prices of native wheat more than 20c per bushel in those countries since the first of August. On August 19, good native milling wheat

Floating Breakwater
Costly stonework to make a breakwater, behind which boats may seek shelter, is obviated by the use of a string of metal pontoons, which have the effect of quieting a boisterous sea as effectively as a bulkhead of stone or piles. The units consist of metal structural shapes of an openwork character which are supported by air-filled tanks and are chained together in strings of six or eight, each end of the string being secured to a substantial pier. The action of the waves dashing is effectually checked by the open character of the metal work and their force broken so that the water behind the barrier is quite still for the purpose of a safe harbor.

evening for A. Wilmot, Miss Jean Dunkle and Billy Wilmot, who have been visiting at the R. H. Ramey home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leith, Mrs. Wade T. Keene and children, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schupfer and daughter, Mrs. Clarice Flaig and children and the guests of honor, Miss Jeanne Dunkle, A. Wilmot and Billy Wilmot, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Ramey and children.

Must Advertise To Make Good
The retail merchant who economizes on advertising and who "sells his credit terms rather than his merchandise might as well close shop, turn out the lights and lock the doors of his store," Frank T. Caldwell of St. Louis, Mo., field secretary of the National Retail Credit Men's association, said in an address Tuesday at a membership luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce, at Spokane.
Mr. Caldwell, when interviewed later, expressed his confidence in advertising as a merchandising necessity.
"The merchant who does not advertise has no part in modern merchandising," he said. "He must consistently maintain contact with his customers by placing before them the picture of the goods he has to sell, and he needs all his ingenuity for this. We can't run any part of our businesses as our grandfathers used to run them. All those who tried to do so are out of the picture."

Mr. Caldwell thinks that conditions are much better in the west than they are anywhere else in the country.

Defenbach To Visit Kendrick
Byron Defenbach, republican candidate for governor, will be in Kendrick at noon on Monday, September 12, when it is expected he will be met by many republicans and democrats alike, who will want to learn what Mr. Defenbach will have to say regarding present political conditions.
It is probable that a dinner will be given at noon in his honor, particulars of which will be announced later.

Shipped Two Cars Stock
Dave Gentry on Saturday shipped one car of stock from Kendrick and one from Bovill, on the same day.

Had Tonsils Removed
Paul Dammarell had his tonsils removed Wednesday morning, Dr. D. A. Christensen doing the work.

When in Kendrick, stop at the new Raby Hotel—newly finished; clean beds, and good things to eat.

GRAIN MARKETS WEAKER WITH SLOW DEMAND

was quoted at Hamburg at $1.39½ compared with $1.57½ August 5. Native wheat was quoted at Paris at $1.22½, compared with $1.43½ on August 5. Italian prices strengthened slightly during the first three weeks in August, with native milling wheat quoted August 19 at Genoa at $1.38, compared with $1.34 on August 5. African durum was quoted at Marseilles, France, August 19, at $1.15½ compared with $1.27½ August 5. Wheat for September delivery was quoted at Buenos Aires August 18 at 62¼c, compared with 58c the first of the month. The decline of prices of native wheat at Continental markets was reflected in part at London and Liverpool. At the former market, German wheat was offered Aug. 19 at 51c per bushel, while Argentine Rosafe was quoted at 58c and Australian at 58¼c. No shipments were reported from Russia or Black Sea ports and offerings of Russian wheat were reported withdrawn during the week. North American shipments are now comprising more than three-fourths of the world's total, but these shipments were principally Canadian wheat.

Domestic cash markets were relatively firmer than futures, reflecting the relatively light marketings. Receipts at seven southwestern markets totaled only 3,197 cars, or about half the receipts of a year ago. Quality continued relatively high.

Parents of Daughter
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kloster of Crescent are the proud parents of a bouncing baby daughter, born on Thursday, August 18, weight 8¼-pounds. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Madam! Do you know that it's clever to be a clipper? Here's a habit you can readily cultivate, and you'll find many of your best friends following it.

To become a clipper at one clip, so to speak, just see that the shears are handy when you sit down to read your newspaper. As you spot an advertisement of something that interests you . . . especially some item that you want to examine when shopping next time . . . clip out the notice and take it with you.

The merchants who advertise with us are glad to have you ask for specific merchandise. And sometimes it's helpful to refer to the advertisement when you're right in the store.

At all events, a clipping pinned to your shopping list helps you to remember this particular errand. It simplifies and shortens a shopping-trip so much to know what you want and where to get it!

POPULAR ASTRONOMY (By Wickliffe R. Smith)

Since a total eclipse of the sun will occur next Wednesday, August 31—let us learn something about the causes of such eclipses. To do this it is necessary to learn the meaning of a few terms used in astronomy.

The ECLIPTIC is the apparent yearly path of the sun through the sky. Or, in other words, it is the yearly path of the earth around the sun. Let us imagine a great disk, like a circular saw, nearly two hundred million miles in diameter passing through the center of the sun and also cutting through the earth at the equator. Think of the sun as being at the center of the disk, and of the earth traveling around the edge of the disk. Now the disk will represent the plane of the ecliptic, or as we sometimes say, the plane of the earth's orbit. The moon also is traveling around the sun in an orbit about as great as the earth's orbit, but the plane of the moon's orbit is inclined about five degrees to the plane of the ecliptic. The moon travels around the earth, and its orbit is not quite in the same plane as the earth's orbit it is necessary for it to cut through the disk twice each month—the time required for the moon to make one trip about the earth. The places where the moon passes through the disk, or ecliptic, are called NODES. The place where it goes through from north to south is called the descending node; from south to north, the ascending node. Now if New Moon occurs at or near one of the Nodes there is an eclipse of the sun. If the moon happens to be full at or near one of the Nodes there is an eclipse of the moon. If the moon's orbit were in the same plane as the earth's orbit there would be two eclipses each month—one of the sun, the other of the moon. If an eclipse occurs when the moon is near its descending node, the big shadow sweeps down from the north; if it occurs when near its ascending node, it comes from the south polar regions. The one next Wednesday will come from the north. It will begin about eleven o'clock a. m. and last nearly two hours in this section of the country. A little less than half the sun's face will be obscured. The path of totality will pass through Canada and the northern part of our New England states.

Sometimes the moon is so far away from us that its shadow does not reach the earth. It is then said to be in apogee. If an eclipse occurs then it is called an annular eclipse. The longest total eclipses occur when the earth is farthest from the sun and the moon is closest to the earth, but no total eclipse can last longer than about eight minutes. One of the longest ever recorded will be seen in the Philippines on June 20, 1955. This will last nearly eight minutes; that is, the entire disk of the sun will be hidden for that length of time.

During a total eclipse of the sun some of the brighter stars may be seen; chickens go to roost; birds stop their singing and fly to their nests; the air is cooled suddenly and the grass becomes wet with dew. Every living creature seems affected in some peculiar way. The people of ancient times believed every eclipse to be the sign of some angry god's displeasure, presaging some awful calamity. We now know an eclipse of the sun is only the shadow of the moon sweeping over the earth.

Fine Beans and Wheat

Ben Callison has about as fine crop of beans as will be found in the entire Potlatch country. The vines are full of pods of good size and it is estimated that they will go at least five sacks to the acre.

There is another thing or two about Ben's bean field that impresses one as they go through it and that is the straight rows and freedom from weeds. The rows are a straight as an arrow and weeds are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. There are 95 acres of beans and the ground was worked from eight to ten times before they were planted.

Ben also has 150 acres of as good wheat as will be found in this section of the country. This, too, is comparatively free from foul stuff and the smut is negligible.

Swimming Season About Over

Since the advent of cooler weather the past few days, the passing of the local swimming holes, the art is being forgotten, the beaches at Arrow and Spalding being almost entirely deserted the past few days.

A few case hardened swimmers are to be seen, but on the whole, no crowd as in the past.

If one wants to tell a lie, he has an awful struggle not to.

CRESCENT CLIPPINGS

(Last Week)

A crowd of relatives and friends helped Andrew Dorendorf celebrate his birthday Sunday. At noon a sumptuous dinner was served, cafeteria style. The afternoon was spent in visiting, games and music. Besides the forty or so from this neighborhood there were the following other guests: Mrs. Elizabeth Keeler, Miss Geraldine Gropp and brother Alfred of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riley and children of Texas ridge, Elsie Darby of Moscow, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Winegardner and family of Cedar ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lockhart and family and Blanche and Earl Harris of Linden. Everyone had a very good time.

Mrs. Elizabeth Keeler of Clarkston is visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Rose Farrington and family. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Swanson returned home with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riley Sunday.

Miss Geraldine Gropp and brother Alfred of Clarkston motored up to visit at the Rose Farrington home and with other friends here. Miss Gropp stayed with Helen while Mrs. Farrington and Lloyd and Evelyn went back with Alfred on Monday. They will visit with Mrs. Edna Miller for a short time.

This Week

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kloster are rejoicing over the arrival on Thursday, August 18, of a little Miss who will make her home with them.

Mrs. Rose Farrington and Evelyn and Lloyd returned home Friday from visiting with her sister, Mrs. Edna Miller, of Ahsahka.

Mary and Herman Loeser visited at the Kimbley home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Darby and daughter attended the funeral services held for Mrs. Darby's aunt, Mrs. L. D. Arnold of Moscow, Thursday.

Mrs. Kimbley visited with Mrs. Bill Dorendorf Monday afternoon.

Sunday visitors at the Bert Kloster home were the Welkers of Lewiston, Mrs. C. L. Trail, Mrs. Anna Kimbley and Mrs. Rose Farrington and children.
